Lenin honor comm and Lenin honor films come be sure to check them out ladies and gentlemen welcome to what on earth is happening mr. Lennon or letter it's a pleasure to have you here with us today oh thank you so much mark I do appreciate you allowing me to come on to your show of course we had long laughs oh yeah last week and if you just blessed it so so for me to be on your show here I am so very thankful and I'm also thankful to all the listeners with me and at this time absolutely it was really fun to do the interview on your show this past Friday and as I said I'll be putting that interview up on the what on earth is happening website as as quickly as I can get it up there so Lennon won't we get started by having you tell our listenership a little bit about your personal background and how you got started in doing the very important work that you're currently involved in sure yes it goes back many many years I always when I have really need to get on I always ask the question you know what is your background because in many cases people have a misconception that where an individual is at when they meet that individual is where that individual have always been yes yes but there are it's a journey and there are challenges there are obstacles there are failures there are successes there's blitz there's pain there's suffering there's goodness all throughout life that gets one to where they are at and my journey from the beginning has been a remarkable one I think everyone on the planet you have all each and every one was we've had a remarkable journey up to where we are at today and I was born and raised in San Diego California here in 9 States of America and I had I have five one brother in for assistance and I was raised as a musician so at a very early age my father was a musician has no I had a lot of family members were musicians so my outlook on life really revolved around music sound and vibration later on as musician out in the Borna college at University of California Irvine while steady music performance there during that time I was also actively involved in community groups I was the president of the African American Student Union so there was a lot of political movements if you will that I was involved with and even at that time I was asking critical questions about the nature of reality here on planet Earth and I should say the collected reality that we all are connected to to some degree some of us are able to unplug on different levels but the general consensus reality I had a lot of questions even been coming out of college as a musician I continued to perform and toured in the States and also outside the states and that was a wonderful experience as well and by the time I was 25 I really had some critical questions and I was always asking questions about you know spirituality you know questions about my life purpose questions about the significance of bohemian species on the planet and throughout my life I have so many spiritual experiences what we would call the spiritual experience that I had I just could not quite understand but by the time I was twenty five things began to come into place and that was when I was doing the most amount of personal work and refining myself as a human being as a young man and I met my wife in Oakland California when I was 25 and that was really the beginning of the next phase of my life and about two years later after in my life we were pregnant with our first son and I say we because I take a collective approach when it comes to the masculine feminine male and female it was interesting because at that point my wife and I we really had to think critically in terms of our children's future and what we were going to expose them to or allow them to be exposed to so then again all of those questions that I had about this collective consensus reality and all of the various degrees of manipulation that takes place this manipulation designed to stagnate the spiritual progression of the human species on planet Earth so that the spiritual the spiritual quality and nature of the planet would also be devolved my wife and I we had critical questions about that how much were we going to allow our children to be exposed to this type of thing I remember that once my my second son was born we had gone to the library and this is how I got into the world on film work and analysis got into the occult got into the alternative information got into know certain spiritual ideas we went to the library and there were some films that were available in DVD and there was one called angels in the outfield of the film that was produced to Disney and one of my sons he likes to play with balls like many young boys do and I said maybe he can check this out I brought it home in my wife and I even then we scream he's green everything we did not vaccinate our children we had our first two children again this is going against the consensus reality because we wanted our children to come onto and materialize and manifest onto this world in the most pristine blessed uplifting high vibration level possible that we were able to manifest and provide for them this movie I put on because we screen everything I should also mention that our last four to last three children we actually did home birth here at home and I brought them about with my wife and they were born into my own hands unassisted this is what I mean by when you talk about uplifting the human species and getting us back on track to what I call cosmic respectability there are things that we can begin to do ways that we can begin to think actions that we can begin to take and one of the things that we must do is be very careful in terms of the manipulation of the mind of human beings especially our children so I was walking watch this movie we watched probably about the first 15 minutes maybe 20 minutes of it and it was called demons in the outfield and by the first 15 minutes my wife and I realized that there was something wrong about the 20th minute we said there is no way that we are going to allow our children to watch this film what I did after that without took the film I even took it out of the house and put in the coop and only ones inside my home and up the tamam taking it back to the library what we found in men and not already been studying different people you know I had already been into Jordan max rod Bennett today that I got been to various individuals I mean I can give a whole list of individuals who you know their information had caused you to begin to question this consensus reality Michael tipps Arion being another one there's so many different people what we found in that video was that there was a lot of subliminal programming subconscious programming that was being projected through the film that had a connection to what people call pedophilia and for my wife and I as we watched the film we were just thoroughly disgusted by this and I just said to myself how is it possible how does this Disney film that it's very well known I remember even watching it when I was a child how is it that this could could even be on a DVD and the Dean but it's all along it's a conscious enough but most people do not realize it so I remember once I hit the film back I told my wife I said you know one day I want to start to do analysis because I'm really big into taking an intellectual approach to things and doing analysis breaking things down doing the research look at the symbology look at the occult aspects of things which means as you stated so eloquently it just needs a secret aspect the things that are hidden that most people do not proceed even though it's in plain sight and I said one day I'll come back and do this to a doc and ready to take on share with it because I think people should be aware that they can protect their children's mind that's so very important and it wasn't until about a year later that I had read a book by dr. Wilson Brian key we titled the age of manipulation what he deals with subliminal messages and it's the impact of the secod in fact it's a little messages have on subconscious mind and I got into him because I read it read one a big actually read all David Ickes books except the last three but in one of David Icke book he talked about the subliminal aspects of manipulation and then he gave reference to dr. Wilson Brian key I wasn't got a whole bunch of his books read his book and in one of them he gave reference to Michael Jackson beat it and he did not go into analysis he just made it as a proposal that there was a subliminal message that was embedded within that song and video that has do with homosexual male masturbation and when I read that I get that guys absolutely insane not that there is no where I've seen that video so many times on your song as a child I knew the dances there's no way this is Michael Jackson is just music this shatters my reality because one of the things about me even if someone makes a proposal that is absolutely ridiculous to me at the time I do do I do my due diligence to look into it do the research do the analysis and come to my own conclusions or my own conclusion and all of us we should do this yes which do this if markets of any information do your due diligence do the work do the analysis do the research trying to find things that confirmed what he said is I propose something you should do the same you have to train ourselves to do this because the consensus reality tells us to accept whatever someone says at face value without any critical thinking this is mind control so the more and more I looked into because often I'm going to look into this I listen to Michael Jackson beat it and everything that dr. Wilson Frankie has proposed and his book was absolutely true that shattered Maserati get it hurt as a musician it hurt that someone of a child seeing this song over and over again beat it beat it beat it well this is they're talking about male group homosexual masturbation this shattered my reality and at that point I said I have to do what I have I have to do something so my first film was part of what lies in plain sight and I do an analysis of Michael Jackson's needs to show people how the degrees of the methylation see most of us we think that the war is a physical war we think that the war is bombs explosions martial law we think it's someone coming and taking your children from you because you didn't vaccinate no the war is psychological it is about the manipulation of the mind it is about if I can say the manipulation of human consciousness on planet Earth that was how I got started on this journey and since then I've produced many many documentaries I started my own radio show going back years ago and I've just addressed so many different topics because the depth of the manipulation as you know mark is quite profound yes it is I mean they know more about the human psyche and how it operates than almost anyone on earth this dark cabal that we're talking about that is doing this mental manipulation this psychological warfare on the human public and the the real key that we what we need to do is we need to understand ourselves more much more to the extent that that knowledge will help us to steal ourselves to protect ourselves against such manipulative efforts without that knowledge we're defenseless but with a deep knowledge of the human psyche we can protect ourselves against these mental and psychological manipulation techniques yes absolutely and that means that we have to study we have to research we have to understand aspects of human psychology we have to understand the manipular technique there are so many when you're aware that there are relieved I mean we can go category by category trivial effects we can look at religion and the indoctrination you know procedures that people are in document into accepting these belief systems that if you really think about it intellectually they make no sense I mean even if you want to look at it spiritually it makes no sense because ultimately it causes this individual to externalize their power they feel weak they feel helpless they feel like something out there in space is going to save them and in the process they don't do their due diligence they don't do the personal work they just externalize their power onto something else which is just part of the control network as long as we external eyes power we will continue to be as a species we will continue to be oppressed it's really that simple we can look at educator education system my wife and I we do homeschooling you didn't vaccinate you homeschool this is another area if y'all remember y'all for those off was born and raised in the public education system that is not a place where individuals are given information that we can use to protect ourselves from the various key people immigration in point of fact it is merely an indoctrination procedure that we engage in for either public education so we go down so many different levels you outline so many different levels and that's why it's so important that each and every one of us we have to study we have the research we have to look into individual like Mars past or some the other individuals I've already mentioned and there's a whole host of other folks that we can get into and it's not that we simply accept what mark says or what I feel would anyone else is the idea is that to do your due diligence you research you educate yourself you begin to think critically you ask critical questions and then you come to you you draw your own conclusion and based upon what you have learned you use it to empower yourself once you use it to empower yourself the suffering in the manipulation in this to say that all the degrees of manipulation because we can we can go over a list I mean it is it is so profound what I call the super structure in the very degree the manipulation regardless of the degrees of manipulation it always comes back to the individual in the end we have the power in the end we either consent via ignorance or the understanding to a particular reality it's up to us we are the content all we don't we choose to create something different my wife and I we are choosing to create something different and that's why I try to I'm trying to inspire folks adjust reclaim your power at first it's about reclaiming your sites you can see the various degrees of manipulation but a lot of fun gets stuck there that was my whole model reclaiming your site see the manipulation see the various degrees of manipulation whether it's in government whether you know the politicians whether it's an education system whether its vaccine whatever the case may be see that yes see it for what it is but ultimately come to a place of personal empowerment we're and now you begin to create a reality to transform the nature of our collective reality on planet Earth that is a creative process but as you say that we have to do the research and we have to be you have to study and we have to take the time to think to ask critical questions and if we do that we can set ourselves on course to where we can begin to make appropriate decisions and we can make the best decisions for our children as well that's exactly right and again that is all only possible if we do our own due diligence if we do our study and if we do our research into human psychology again if we remain in ignorance we're going to be open to all those manipulation tactics not only for ourself but then we're going to be exposing them to our children as well and future generations are going to be growing up with the same problems that lead to all of the self-inflicted suffering that we are currently experiencing yeah absolutely it perpetuates itself see we all have to understand it this system has been here for a long time it's not anything new in ancient it isn't it absolutely it is ancient we have this misconception once we begin to see it again we reclaim our site we have vision we think that it just started no it has been on planet Earth for such a long time so what that means is that unless we begin to transcend space and time meaning that we can transmit information cross generationally that will empower the next generation it will continue to perpetuate itself so as you stated we have to we have to engage in the process of educating ourselves researching but then also passing it on to future generations that's what you're doing us and I'm doing and I'm doing it over the Internet but I'm also doing it inside my own home can you imagine mark if we were born your mother and father no knew what you know now oh wow it would be hard to imagine the past that my life would have taken if that were the case oh my and I can only imagine myself I could brother I can only imagine myself so we have to put that in context for those who are with me in that we are all we have an exit opportunity that if we so choose we can take what we have learned continue to learn but take what we have learned and an idea is to use it to benefit ourselves it's not enough just to know it's not enough if we have to it has to become practical that's one things I appreciate about you is it's not just about a lot of giving people the lens through which they can begin to perceive that there is to be the manipulation you also give solutions see that that's it it's about the solutions what can we do with this information to empower ourselves and it must transcend space and time we must reach into millennia into the future we have to reach into the future not to simply holding back to the past see the way forward is never to be in the past the way forward is to have vision for the future and one of the things what my wife and I was very clear we have made so many sacrifices we have made so many commitments that a lot of folk are simply unwilling to make but we recognize that our objective is to raise whole children who will be beacons of light on planet earth and they can carry the information we will bill upon into the next level and then they can be so that upon their own to invent in the process other people this is what it's all about and imagine what kind of impact people who have been raised in a holistic environment in a truly holistically intelligent environment can have when they grow up themselves to begin to spread information and awareness such as this I mean the the impact would completely snowball it would just build and build upon itself and that's what we need that's the service that we really need to do if we're bringing children into the world I know this has been such a huge important part of your work conscious parenting and you know working with people to help them to understand techniques of how to help to raise children so that they can themselves grow up to be conscious adults would you like to speak a bit about of that work that you've been doing yes absolutely and we've had some wonderful radiantly if you get some spoken about this the one that comes to mind off the bat is denise barceló another one is mary cocoa you came on and spoke a couple of days ago there is a need and we can get into spirituality and metaphysics there is a need for this species to come back to the realm of cosmic respectability there and you talk about this there are spiritual laws absolutely yes there are spiritual laws that govern this particular dimensional reality and when you come to understand these spiritual laws you realize that you have as you eloquently stated you we have free will but then there are also laws that govern the direction of our experiences here and you gave quite you gave a couple of examples of fastening to all the fine I like to say yes we're in a free will zone but there's no such thing as free will without consequence we choose we make behavior we are you know act and then there are consequences for those behaviors absolutely that that is the consequences and one thing that have happened is that the human species has become so devolved I'm saying collectively and I'm part of this we are all part of this I don't say like someone left someone greater is I'm talking about the speech if you want whole orientation it's how do we get this whole species back on track the cosmic respectability this is when you know as a species we come into a level of understanding as to particular spiritual laws and one of the spiritual laws that governs this particular dimensional reality is that we must be responsible for all that we create and so when I say responsible that is absolutely but you are speaking of that there are consequences and we are responsible for what we do and the consequences of what we do now let me tie this to because two children because the greatest greatest creative acted an individual asset as a human being that we can create do I on planet Earth is to bring forth another life so therefore if we bring forth another life there is a search a law that says that we must be responsible for that life you must care for that light we must raise that like we must educate that like we must nurture that life we must love that life you must give it we must give to it all that it needs so that it can flourish and become its maximum potential you see the manipulation that we find is what takes away that sense of we're reaching towards our maximum potential it is the maximum potential that we call true ascension on planet Earth we this is going to get back into the realm of college of respectability so part of what I'm saying is that when we really look at it that way when we conceive children it is serious business as a matter of fact whenever you create anything it is serious because not only is what you're going to create be something that you must be responsible for but what you create is also going to impact future generations here on planet earth it's going to impact the quality of life on planet or so struggle through your your lecture series when you do your radio show this is your creation your creation is manifesting in the physical people are listening to it is impacting human consciousness it is transforming that vibrational field here on planet Earth you are responsible for that's right so see so whatever it is that we create we must be responsible for it and when you talk about conscious parenting which above all else when we have these beautiful beautiful children who are symbolic representations of ourselves we must be consciously aware of all that we are doing from conception to birth and beyond and guess what ladies in order to come on to that level of understanding this is what we have to do the internal work the person responded am I the best man that I can be am I the best father I can be can I become greater see these are the critical questions that we have to add the power structure that we find ourselves under it stagnates our progressions in life to such a degree that we don't recognize our true power it's all about externalizing talent see that's what this whole system is about it is about externalizing your power so instead of you raising your creation you externalise your power to raise them and educate them and then you hand your child over to the state to be raised within the school system instead of feeding your children nutritional foods the system is designed to have you externalize your power so now it's about McDonald's in Burger King see this is the externalization instead of coming into your own spiritual understanding you externalize your spiritual abilities and your spiritual potential to offend you externalize that into a religious institution that tells you what spirituality is see it's all about the external instead of you transforming the nature of your reality you external I to a politician expecting them to change barack obama to change your reality that's all about externalizing times so when we calm weather with conscious parenting whether it's coming into a level of human consciousness where and you begin to make the choices to empower yourself in the first place you must we all must not externalize our problem see this species is far more profound and powerful than we have been told eternity when we begin to understand this all things I have this saying this this whole power structure when we understand our true power as human beings as spiritual beings when we embrace the spiritual component of ourselves the control network in the power structure becomes nothing more than a faint mist surrounding a Blazing Sun you are the raising fun all you have to do is shine when you shine that faint mist begins to dissipate and then you shine your light onto the cosmos but we have to get to the point when we stop externalizing all power stop seeing ourselves as these being who are lowly who are birthed in sin no we will burn in love see the transformation of our whole orientation as it relates to the cosmos must take place if we're going to get this species back on track the cosmic respectability very very powerful what what a term cosmic respectability I mean that's ultimately what it all comes down to it has to begin with respect which is taking another look at oneself if we are unwilling to do that we can never truly reclaim our power and reclaim our personal responsibility for that which we create absolutely and you talked about spiritual law this is one of the primary ones so I'm saying this to everyone out there you must be responsible for all that you create and if you're going to be responsible you also have to have a level of understanding prior to creating a thing as to what is the intent of that which you are creating we have to be very clear about this because sometimes we may create things and we may think that it's going to benefit someone else but in actuality there are consequences it brings a backlash we have to be more consciously aware of what we are bringing onto the planet this includes children documentary work music etc coming to a level of consciousness to whatever it is that we create it is a conscious choice the system the manipulation has people making decisions not consciously but based upon programs all the subliminal manipulation all of the subconscious programming see there is this this biological you can be called human being this is why when we talk about the power structures they are individuals who are very very clear you can call them think tanks who are very clear as it relates to the psychology of this species yes and they understand that the species itself just like all things that pure lies in this particular dimensional reality is comprised of two parts that are married together there is a biological component let's learn an honor that you're all here who's working here here okay that's mark castle here right that you can listening that is your biological component and then there is the spiritual component this spiritual component is where your true power lies and that is where consciousness lies in the first place it is not a material thing it is a several thing the biological component is a physical thing it is married they're not separate they are not in opposition they are part of the whole that's right just like me this particular creation screen design decided to extend itself out into existence it separated itself into masculine and feminine and in separating itself though they were still whole now it could perceive the masculine perception of reality and the feminine perception of reality she goes who will manipulate human consciousness they understand these basic principles so part of what has happened to the human species is to deny our awareness when I talk about ruling consciousness we're dealing with the mind of the human being to deny to our mind the awareness of our spiritual component we call that the soul this soul is transcendental it is it is beyond time in space if it's wisdom transcends the normal human experience it goes deep into time where time was no longer was not even present its understanding of the nature of reality is more profound than as simply a biological issue we can even begin to conceptualize so let's deny the human species this aspect of their being let's make them go on jury to find out their true power let's make them believe that they are simply biological and that they must become somehow spiritual not realizing that there spiritual in the first place y'all see the manipulation you know if I go and people say I want to become more spiritual no you just simply want to know thyself train but we say I want to become more search of what we're saying is that we are suffering from spiritual amnesia we do not know the full breadth of ourselves what am I getting at here to make a short story long is this human species just as there is a masculine feminine there is the visible and the invisible there is also the biological and the spiritual and it is about bringing into balance both parts of ourselves not just a biological part but also the spiritual component now this directly relates to the consciousness of the human beings the consciousness of the human being is comprised of two parts we're all comprised of at least two parts ladies and gentlemen we are all comprised at these two points we are multi-dimensional this mind of human beings there is a higher level of this mind or human consciousness and we can call that conscious awareness and then there is a lower quality here and it's not that it's less than because it's all for the whole that is the subconscious mind and there's that line in the middle that is the subliminal it is liminal below that limit of liminal is below the normal auditory or visual perception of the human being what has happened is that the vast majority of the here in species has been programmed to operate based upon their subconscious programming not based upon their conscious mind the conscious mind is closely associated with spiritual consciousness the subconscious mind is largely associated with our based carnal reality here on planet earth that's why all the various degrees of manipulation if you already take a look at it it's directed toward causing us to have particular emotional responses that are tied to our lower nature exacting exactly fear it's all about death destruction carnage sex it's some of the most graphic pain and sexual projections that you can even imagine pornography comes into the picture this is appealing to that base level in speak of human being ladies and gentlemen the biological agent we called him being its biological nature is that of an animal the spiritual nature is illumination it is elevation it is transformative the idea is that when you begin to operate based upon your conscious awareness you begin to ascend the workings of the biological entity that we call living you see this is true spiritual illumination this is what folks had called her in octet or the Sphinx in ancient Egypt or ancient Kimon you have the head of a line in the head of a human being in the body of the line the body of the line was the lower nature racially holistic quality of the human being that's exactly right yes and I know you know this because you probably did the head means it is it is conscious now it is a human being that is reaching to its higher nature you can even look at the chocolate system going up the same rule apply so what has happened is that move because we've been manipulated to deal with the scope of our lower nature and when we talk about getting the species back on track of cosmic respect decision so it can't come that way see the espiritual agreement that was made between that which created the human species which was a physical entity in and of itself I know we want to believe that somehow is this God being out in space not the whole nother topic for another time it's to his externalization of power in creating this human species on planet Earth there was an understanding that it operated initially as nothing more than an animal that's why most of us we operate just like animals we have these autonomic functions we don't even have to think about we don't have to tell ourselves up heartbeat we don't have to tell ourselves open and close your eyes we don't have to tell ourselves ok greenie because this is all part of the autonomic nature this is part of our autonomic functioning it tied to our biological biology are physiologically all of the to be encoded within our DNA this dynamic in terms of the human species in terms of it progressing beyond its current it's a condition when it was first created it would not provide for its elevation spiritually so there was a and I'm using it symbolically speaking ladies in a spiritual contract which was made if you will we're in now there were spiritual beings it went into contract with the biologically that we called me being that spiritual being is the other half of you ladies and gentlemen this is consciousness itself which does not exist in the earthly domain it is projected from the Asaro through what we call spirit into the material which animates this biological entity so that it can begin to reach beyond its autonomic functioning what has happened is we have been locked into a prison of autonomic functioning how so because we have been programmed to operate based upon our subconscious programming and see that is why all the degrees of manipulation it is designed to impact natural consciousness because your consciousness reaches beyond this domain it is not to manipulate your soul being if you will it does not have the power to do that it is in it is issued so as to manipulate your subconscious mind which is told it we can tie to your animalistic nature so this is to say that in many cases we believe we are making choices conscious choices but it's nothing more that than programming that was was embedded into our subconscious mind until we come into a level of consciousness as it relates to our perception of reality as a human being when we begin to operate based upon our higher mind if you will nothing is going to change see so long as we operate based upon our subconscious programming we will continue to operate as animals see when we talk about cosmic respectability we cannot operate like animals because you're up like animals we're just going to basically be perpetuating what we find here in nature but the great earth mother herself wishes to continue to grow see this is in part why we are here on the planet we're not here to suffer we're not here to create and then abandon our children we're not here to have horrible male-female relations we're not here to be put in fear about the Unruh Minotti and the Freemasons and all this but that's not why we are here we are here to help that with which which gave us life in the first place we are here to help to ascend that beam which bestowed upon us life in the first place but we can't do that if we operate like animals because nature works in this way nature functions to maintain nature and is and this is fine however once the that was created something wants to reach beyond that and lets you become something greater we can no longer simply operate within the scope of our natural tendencies as a biological entity this is the say ladies and gentlemen that if you are a human being and you are not consciously aware of what you are doing then you are simply operating like any other animal on planet Earth and this is what the species was doing from the beginning right once coming to a level of conscious awareness now you begin to transform the nature of your engagement on planet Earth now you can begin to make conscious choices now you can begin to do those things that will get this reaching back on track to cosmic respectability and she's that um subconscious manipulation programming that uh the Cabal is constantly projecting at us it's all designed for ultimately one purpose and that's to get us to identify with that lower nature which you were speaking of if we are identified with that and we believe it is our perception that that is who we are that is our overarching fundamental worldview then we're going to continue to elicit all of the responses of that lower nature and the conditions that we're going to generate or create in the world are all going to be geared toward an animal existence as opposed to a higher existence and one where we're creating consciously and not experiencing enormous amounts of self-inflicted suffering yeah absolutely and if he and this is one things that I really appreciate you appreciate about you mark is you put it in the terms were in ultimately we materialize the suffering right that is so very true it's not it's not that there's someone else out there who is making anyone else suffer you know if that's not it it's whether or not we accept that base level perception of reality that is being indebted of and to our subconscious money we can either make a choice to accept it or to reject it it really comes down to that it's not that someone else is causing us to suffer right it is based upon our Schwarzer that's right and if we make conscious choices well then we would have conscious results if we make unconscious choices and we will suffer we will basically buy into whatever the program is and then we will materialize without even thinking about that's what these animals to see they run a particular program every single day they've run the same program everything all day if we're going to assume the species back into the realm of cosmic respectability we have to spirit spiritual eyes the biological components unsoundness dynamic so we think that somehow we got to go find spirituality no you are spiritual eyes the other half of you the objective is to change your orientation to the cosmos you are not just a human being that is subject to all this manipulation you are a conscious being that is far more profound and we have ever been told that is bestowing spirituality unto yourself you fulfill that upon yourself this when you come to a level of consciousness this means that you make conscious choices now that reaches beyond the autonomic marking of the human being this is a say that there are people who are walking around that are basically operating even if you took away consciousness from the biological entity spiritual consciousness because if you take spiritual consciousness away from the biological entity it will still function passing it will still reproduce it will still eat it will still do everything they were still breathe was to do all the things that any other animal would do see all responsibility me and what it means is that we have to connect make the connection it is a spiritual connection between one half of our existence that we have been led to identify with which is being so manipulated over time right make the connection between that half of ourselves in our spiritual self when we do that we can also take it to the next step and say what am i cool em I is letting honor this biological entity talking with y'all here but what am I I am a cosmic being that is bestowing upon this biological entities spiritual consciousness so this is biologically you can begin to reach down on its autonomic function and as it reaches beyond its autonomic functioning it becomes more spiritual eyes it begins to do those things that are in line with that which needs to be done for cosmic respectively yes the true challenge here so powerful I mean I just can feel the energy of what you're speaking of because that's really what this is all about that's the entire way out is to reach down deep into ask ourselves that ultimate question of who are we and make the connection that you're talking about between the physical aspects of ourselves which are of course important we don't want to abandon that because that's what helps us to have an experience here in this domain but to ultimately go even far deeper and pass that and to make that connection to the spiritual reality of ourselves as cosmic beings and when we do that the entire worldview that we previously held completely changes and as a result we are empowered we step outside of that identification with that lower self and we make that connection that bridge to the higher aspects of the self from there all possibilities become possible and the the program that we were running this lower nature program does no longer maintains control over the totality of the being absolutely empty it's instant because as you stated this understanding this is what the occult is yes yes is that all it is you know and I mean you you Berkut broken it down you know it just mean that it's hidden its secret yes if there are those who would call us a cultists Lenin and while that may be the case we have studied the principles of the occult and occultism in general I like to refer to people like us as do cultists we are taking that which has been hidden from humanity for all too long and revealing it to the light of day so that people can put it into practical applications in their lives and therefore heal themselves and create a better experience in their world and that's what it's all about you know and as you say there's this uh there is this misnomer if you will you talked about you know etymology and the manipulation of words and how people they may hear one word but it means something totally different yes people have this reaction whenever they hear that River just means secret what is the secret knowledge that has been denied to the human species that will allow the species once understood to begin to move beyond its autonomic functioning in a very degree the programming much of which is subconscious you know dismissive psychology that's all it comes down to what is the it's psychological warfare what the secret recipe to know and we can go through I mean there's so many different levels to this if we can get into it when we talk about you know what people were considered to be the occult but fundamental to this is the realization that we are much more powerful than what we have been told you as long as the externalized power we and this is part of Berkeley and documentary okay you must external eyes your power you go to school and while you're at school you're told what you need to learn you're told when to go to class you're told when to go eat winterville to resist it's externalization to power whatever the person says that's teaching you you cannot question it you cannot ask any critical questions and then if you get through school if you like to go into you know a higher education then you've got to find the same dynamic play itself you get to get mind control to the next level to the next degree yet they say so the more degrees you have that just means that you've been indoctrinated further along into the system it's all about externalizing power we go to the church and there's some dude sitting up there on top of the pastor and telling people what spirituality is how is that possible how is it possible if we are infinite beings how is it possible that one person can tell you what spirituality is to use their faith are the secrets it's your work that's your work to do to discover within yourself absolutely if there's more empowering see but then what happens is that as soon as someone hears the word of cool but something means secret or hidden people start to dig this without no what you're doing is you're reacting it is based upon the subconscious programming it is based upon the manipulation calling the individual to react this way it not realizing that that which was hidden from them with what they need in order to progress analyzes from full blinding human beings they have a spiritual connection to confidence itself that's the secret lathe engine that is exactly right exactly and that's all the occult is its ancient psychology psychological knowledge that has been hidden from humanity which is really its birthright this knowledge is humanity's birthright and we are simply trying to unveil it to unmask it to take it out of hiding so the people can grow and prosper as a result of holding that knowledge within themselves yeah absolutely absolutely and as you know mark and those in any of anyone out there who've done this kind of work you know that that we give so much resistance from people we can we can try to help people in certain see it's all sincere it's not like we have ulterior what we just want to help the species to continue to spiritually evolve right you see that's that's the whole calling yeah I have this understanding that this species is here to assist that which created it so that would create it can continue to progress spiritually so in this sense we have to be very careful when we have children our children are there to assist us and growing spiritually did you all know that see we've been told the opposite we've been told children are a burden you know there'd be cost too much you know you know children's are going to take up all your time you're not going to be able to do your life is over other people see things like this about creation itself you know your life is over once you have children what a testimony as to the level of ignorant see this is the this is the antithesis of the secret this is the programming that we have been given this is the total disempowerment of the human being because when we are able to materialize a new version of ourselves we are extending ourselves beyond our space in time as a single human being now we're reaching into future generations and that's what my children all they are me much my daughters they are the feminine representation of me my sons they are the masks and representation of me I am moving forward through them in time when I leave this body I will still be here in their form this is the secret but we've been told the opposite we've been told the children you know they're they're just going to take away from your life all these different types of things and it becomes apparent at a certain point whilst their parent not a parent but it becomes a parent at a certain point but the various degrees of manipulation would initialize so that we will deny ourselves of this capacity to reach into the future and impact the future in profound ways I have this understanding that if we can get this species back home on track of cosmic respectability we can begin to serve that which created us and assist that which created us in its spiritual progression let me say this that which created this biological entity was not some masculine projection of power and domination out there in space somewhere who has a beard that's not what created this human this union station if I ask you people who are listening here to this that I'm talking about we've talked about in power that they're lettin profound words hold on we're gonna take a quick station break for two minutes I'll give you a chance to compose that thought and finish it and we'll be right back ladies and gentlemen with our special guest today on what on earth is happening mr. Lennon honor stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Oracle broadcast and I'm your host Mark Hasse oh my website what on earth is happening calm today my special guest on the show is hugs and father musician video producer talk-show host personal consultant lecturer and writer mr. Lennon honor and we're going to get right back to Lennon in just a moment I want to give the call-in number for the show because if time permits I'd like to take a few calls for Lennon from the listening audience the call-in number to join us is eight six six eight four one one zero six five once again the the guest is Lennon honor if you want to call in with a question for Lennon the call-in number to join us is toll-free eight six six eight four one one zero six five I see we already have a few people on hold in the calling queue so please be patient we'll get to your calls are later on in this second hour of the show Lennon you were talking about that ultimately we're really here on earth and we're serving our Creator through the very expression of our lives and what we create here on earth so would you like to continue with that line of thought yes see thank you so much Margaret thanks again for having me out there anything absolutely a pleasure to have a guest of your honor and your wisdom here with us today oh thank you so much when we talk about the occult one of the things that have happened in terms of the subjugation of the species is to have the species externalized its power into space somewhere and this is a Pitta mies with what we call the god concept now I have an understanding also that all things exist somewhere I mean even non-existent exists someplace there are things that exist simply in a person's mind but that is real to them and reality is relative in the end in distance it is relative one person can have a particular reality stream going in their life and someone else may have another reality going on and there like one person may be experiencing a glitch the other person may be suffering and not know what this is and then there is a collective consensus reality that we abide to so the complexity of it all goes on on and on but part of what I'm saying is that when we externalize our power to some God being out in space and not saying that it does not exist what we are doing in essence is we are denying our true creator now when I say creator I'm talking about the biological components of ourselves the spiritual component that the whole nother topic for a whole nother show if I ask anyone who's listening here if I ask you now if I could think about beige critically and just use adequate discernment if I actually what created you multiple and some people always say most but some people say it was a god being out in space but God being out in States has nothing to do but raiding you and when you do that you deny that creative force that actually created you so it is a form of disrespect unto that which created you see all things that you create are materialized and manifested to help you in your own spiritual progression if they deny you if they say you did not create me then they are no longer serving their purpose they are no longer assisting you in your spiritual progression so we thought about cosmic respectability we have a whole species on planet earth that was created not by a god being and many of these many of the individuals in this species are externalizing their power to this mask of and projection of power and domination just prove out there in space and waiting to judge you at some point you understand this and I'm talking about the base level interpretation that we have especially in religion centric arena when we get into the quote aspects in terms of what's really taking place in the Bible that's a whole nother topic for a whole other time right our base what I'm talking about is I want to make that clear here Astro theology if you will I think I'm talking about the manipulation here so for though y'all were in the know when we talk about the ancestral our theological aspects I understand where you're coming from so please bear with me Hugh and I'm talking about to the vast majority we talk about the manipulation to have people externalize who this mask and being out in space and this mask and being is saying things like you were born in sin and therefore at a certain point I'm going to judge you to see if you get into heaven she would what religio centric of entire view of the creator is all about is that it is in itself a projection of the current conditions of humanity incarnated in that worldview you know we're living in this totally male-dominated society this you know society based on domination and control and that is actually that that vision of God is actually a projection of the current conditions here on earth in people's minds as God absolutely and this is to say that some of you all you are creating your God based upon your mentality you give power to it this is in some of my earlier work to talk about this see you know being has any more power than you do in existence no being does only to the degree that you externalize your power unto it using even a subversive use of symbolism seem like you understand it once you understand the symbolism it no longer impacts you right because you're bringing that out of the subconscious level you know that animalistic level of programming and you're bringing it up into the conscious mind which directly connects with the higher self absolutely profoundly faded you see so when we will be externalize our pound we say that some godly math is being out there created you this is an abomination why I want to I want to ask the question what if ever as a masking being materialized in the physical doing anything of an organic nature it has never the mask and project it cannot and this is okay because it has a compliment called the feminine that it works with in order to create in the material when I'm talking about of an organic nature sure we can make us guyscraper sure we can you know make a house we can build so I'm definitely I'm talking about of an organic nature the biological Anthony it is a the violence is a recording and being it is an organic nature whenever in this dimensional reality have a mask and being created anything of an organic nature anything so below as above so below why didn't we expect some mask and being out in space to be able to create something of an organic nature here Oh Leonard it cannot be done it's impossible if you as a man can't do it then this God being Matthew projected on a face can't do it either because the same law applies that nothing in this material realm that is masking can create anything of an organic nature we can go on to the we can go into the laboratory trying to create things but everything that we use as men to create it comes from something else that created it that was of an organic net in that which we use is of an organic nature and that was sourced from something else and I asked a critical question what it was it sourced from this is where it gets deep eerie nothing of an organic nature exists here on planet Earth irrespective of that which created these things and it was not a massive being out there in space that created that meaning but we externalize our power to love your soul we are held in such low regards in the cosmos right now to speak because we have denied that the Creator if I actually what created you you people looking here let me out there god no it was your mother who did it it was your mother who created you who held you and formulated you literally in her womb for nine months gone through the process of creating you putting you together giving you the head giving you the arm giving the legs in your circulatory system living in the heart she bestowed this upon you not some God it's such a disrespect to that which created you I'm talking about you you human beings it was your mother again will it ever have something that is of a mask and quality created anything of a organic nature in the system it's a real never but we can say in point of fact that that which is feminine in nature casts and continues to create things of an organic nature here on planet Earth if this was not true then you would not exist here right now everyone who's listening here it was your mother your mother creates you open we have to understand this lesson because we're going to get the species back on into cosmic respectability we have to transform our orientation there's no wonder it's not by coincidence that all of the various degrees of disrespect and brutality exhibit towards women is still some the basic principle that we do not realize that that creative was not announcing being it with a filament being in essence that went into connection with a napkin being an imagined being being the initializer not the Creator but the initializer there's a difference between the two so if we can say now that it was your mother that created you and this is the logical and you can look at the spiritually metaphysicians take a scientific approach with your mother that held you in your room in her being a physical being now we take it to the next level what is it then therefore they created the human species itself and I'm going to tell you all that that would create it the human species is that which gives you air to breathe which gives you water to drink just like your mother did which you brought you up to her breast to suckle that gives you all of the materials that you need or to live and then to create things so if you can have a house and a roof over your head understand this ladies and gentlemen when you create when we talk about that basic principle spiritual law that you must be responsible for all that you create your mother is responsible for you every single day by providing with the urge to breathe watching using the food that you eat the water that you drink the food shelter all that she provided I'm saying she she does it and what is she she is the great Earth Mother just like the fruit on the tree this species was spawned by the earth when we understand this ladies and gentlemen we began to restructure our whole orientation on planet Earth and instead of projecting the appreciation on to the God being out in space that is waiting to judge you someday and be a brute and it's all about war death and destruction I'm talking about the base level interpretation of things when we talk about the religious centric programming when we come to this understanding and stop externalizing power now we get back on track toward cosmic respectability we are here as a species to grow learn and become more spiritual why because as we spiritual eyes our biological experience here on planet Earth we spiritual eyes the nature of the great Earth Mother experience that's why we were creating responsive beat up in other words to make a short story long ladies and gentleman we were not heat we didn't come here in sin so that some day we can be judged so we therefore can go to heaven to go to hell that's not it I mean come on look at that Fanta call come on that's not that is that it's okay that's not why we're here we're simply here to help our mother to spiritually of all that's in all Z and all of the manipulation is designed to get a side track from this all of the manipulations that we've talked about and we can go into even more all of it is designed to get us off center so that we are not dealing with our higher nature and higher consciousness this higher nature in higher consciousness allows us to move beyond their autonomic function and therefore we can become more spiritual eyes and as each one of us becomes more spiritual eyes what takes place on planet Earth is the energy field of the earth itself continues to grow in spirituality this is the marriage this is the physical earth and the spiritual domain coming together this is what it's all about the union of America infinity you will have a hidden in the scene the union of the biological nature and the spiritual nature the union of the lower nature and the higher nature and yet the union of the earth and her spiritual component when they are brought together she calms it's a wholeness and completion and on that day we will be able to say that we have common to a level of cosmic respectability absolutely profound you know and ultimately that that cycle at a lower scale of us helping the earth to spiritually evolve and progress has a fractal dynamic on the even wider scale because the earth will help the solar system to progress in the solar system that the galaxies in the galaxies the universe yes yes yes mark you are so wealthy thank you so much thank you so much you I mean you are so on if you I've been on toes I've talked about in their people they sit back like okay it got crazy but you know now I totally understand what you're saying and it's it's so profound sitting here like in all and I really I just appreciate that bro you know and see I didn't even have to say that but you know it expands out into the universe it seems it extends out into the omniverse and it made it just extends out into all the existence and that's why we can't to take this life experience a lot more seriously better than if we don't enjoy cuz that's part of it I'm talking about the value of ourselves as human being like this is we are so powerful we are creating ripples in space and time we are creating ripples into the solar system we're creating ripples into the universe into the Omni birth we are creating ripples that go all the way back to existence when it's a mistress pond itself out into NASA and inform us how powerful you are I mean we you talk about cosmic responsibility there's there's no better way of explaining it than what you just laid out there we are more powerful than we think and we ultimately responsible for more than we even think that we are absolutely absolutely well fed line Lennon before we go to some callers um would you like to talk about the the books that you have already written and the book that you have are basically in the works and I also want to talk about some of your videos as well and your website but can we start with you giving the listeners a little bit of information about the books that you've already written and the one you have in writing currently yes absolutely John one of the books and what I'm sorting a lot of information I'm talking about here at this time dealing with spirituality consciousness metaphysics and cosmic respectability all this is outlined with charts and graphs as well in my book deep in the garden of consciousness and this is a book that I was so hesitant to write because there are certain of information that we were seeing some information we kind of find along the way and we study release or something there's also information that we actually receive from the cosmos you will end when I say cosmos I'm talking about your soul self projecting onto your mind and this is done to what I call bio spiritual interfaces these levels of understanding that is projected through spirit and this spirit is actually received by the bowels which interfaces within the biological music all human being and then this is it this is code within sauce field we decoded as salt now so a lot of what I talk about and what I've been talking about this is information that stems from this orientation however you can also find validation about all this if you look into what a lot of folks would say is our cold information it's just hidden and it's hidden for a reason and it's out there in the ethers it's not like anyone no one it's not like you can't access it yourself as a human being it's just a matter of connection to spirit if you will so in this book I outlined on this relationship between the human species and the earth also outline the spiritual significance of our existence here I talk about consciousness also talking about 2012 and ascension all these different concepts that I authorized you know that I've talked about over the years I have it inside of this book it's called deep in the garden of consciousness and I've also written a book for fathers it's kind of writing for the fathers of the world of tomorrow and for the women who love them because as I stated one of the primary spiritual laws that govern this particular dimensional reality is that we must be responsible for all you create and I must say that men we are so very important as it relates to getting a species on track to college with respect to distance because we are to be the front line of defense of all of the manipulation that is taking place that is our responsibility as a masculine being weak and that's a hole on top of a hole at a time I mean I've done I've done so many radio shows on that particular topic and I'm going to be starting back my radio show visions of manhood in 2013 to address more of that you can find both of those two books on my website linen or calm just look under products and then there's a link there that's a books so that's a short wrap-up of those and then I'm now working on a book and I actually had hope to have it done by September 11th this past year but there are so there's so many things that I've been working on but I plan on having it done before April because that's what I'm going to be coming through your mind actually the conference that you're putting together now yes so I will be there in the lower depths in Pennsylvania right Philadelphia yes so I'm going to have it available for that event and this book is dealing with a 911 fear-based mind control program and this is a fascinating dynamic it's really getting deep into the human psychology and the manipulation of human consciousness in use the use of failure because that's one of the major mechanisms of domination and control I propose that one of the mostly and you talked about this one that's the most powerful means of controlling someone is simply put them aside fake a fear and then they externalize their power they look for someone else I mean everyone who goes the vote is because it's out of fear they have a problem that Excel you can't solve their fear they expect someone else to solve it sort of not some fear-based mind control programming it is initialized every single year about four months prior to September 11th and we get particular stories that are issued on the news again this is psychological warfare that are dealing with playing problems bombs explosions Al Queda Osama bin Laden the same type of rhetoric that was presented on September 11 2001 and then you get the images of September 11 you get all of the stuff you know dealing with terrorism and it's done everything what you have been tracking is over time and what has happened and I talk about this is inside the book is that on September 11 2001 as an act of psychological warfare people were traumatized on a subconscious level because most people could not process the event of September 11 2001 in real time and what happens in terms of human psychology is when we are really experienced a traumatic experience what happens is our subconscious mind kicks in in order to protect our conscious mind from living and experiencing the trauma and that trauma is submerged therefore and let me go through a process of hitting it continue to be submerged and if your psychic self inside of it the project monitor you understand all this stuff okay but for those y'all who are listening in so what has happened is that the human speech itself on September 11 2001 it was it was it was given programming that initialize a level of mind control control via fear by putting the global population into an extreme level of fear that initializes the conscious mind and the whole experience has been submerged within the global population subconscious mind now what a vision is this is the same technique by which trauma-based mind control and operates except this was done on a mass scale Nathan perhaps for one of the first times I mean not the first time but in the biggest way in modern times we witnessed a mass trauma-based mind control event absolutely or so on it mark absolutely it's trauma-based mind control it's psychological warfare so what happens that in that most people didn't heal and see until you have clarity after the event you're not going to get to a point of killing the actual Tron itself and see most people we just don't have clarity enough we don't we have another orientation has been so emotional there's a reason why bring up September 11 people are still getting emotional all these years later it's because there is trauma associated with it it is that goes to the submitted embedded within the subconscious mind now what has happened is the manipulators this what I mean when we first start off the show they are they have their understanding of this biological entity and the psychology the volunteers if they got it down to a science what has happened is that in order to reenact the love same levels of fear in and around September 11th every single here is the same type of programming is issued to media and what happens is it functions here we go again the channel based market so it functions as a trigger people are triggers on a subconscious level to relive the death and destruction they do with every single year and what does it do it causes people to again relive the fear and then they externalize power all over again this is done every single year since September 11th it is simply the triggering I call it a 9/11 fear based mind control reinstallation program and it's on my book I outline how this is being done by outlined the psychological mechanism to check various techniques that we use to do this so this was saying that if anyone if you're out there and whenever September 11th comes around you start to feel as if it's September 11 2001 understand that this is because you are in the state of mind control and you have to be you have to have courageous enough to admit that because once you are able to admit it and you realize it now you can go to the process of healing yourself so that you won't be put back into a state of fear that mind control on September 11 that fear based mind control it was so profound it was a global phenomena and what better way to subjugate the human species then to give this mass death ritual as a fear-based mind control program submergent within to the goal population subconscious mind where they're not even aware of it and then in order to continue to dominate them because they externalize their power at the event simply tremor in them the trauma it's called triggering the trauma over and over again what happens now therefore as people every single year trip are triggered the trauma is triggered to the externalized power and they are maintained serving position aside been done September 11 2001 and it shows you that they have to continue to reinforce that manipulation through that triggering technique that you're speaking of in order to keep people in their grip in order to keep them in the throes of manipulation where they want them yes absolutely one of the fascinating dynamics of human psychology that even the mind-control victim if you allow them time in space to where they are operating without being without their mind-control being reinforced right they will normally and naturally begin to break their mind control programming and that is why the programming is initialized over and over again that's right yes fascinating absolutely spot-on point and not just so great to hear somebody with a profound understanding of what this ritual which is indeed what the events of 9/11 2001 was ultimately all about so uh Lenin would you like to take some calls from our listeners afternoon I love you thanks I'm like mark alright great here we go color from the six zero two area code your vibe what on earth is happening especially desk London on welcome hi mark this is Ivan from Phoenix when Ivan vofled thank then lemon nice to hear you on the show I'll be seeing you in April I'll be going to Philadelphia for the conference oh great house is it you know think we're in this city always seems to pop up now that I'm aware of it because a week ago I came across this book by Ken named the most dangerous book in the world 9/11 at the mass ritual and here you are but just as I call in talking about 9/11 being a mass ritual yes so all this information that's out there I it's starting to take some get some traction because like I said you're talking about it there's another book that came out about it mark patios talking about it and now learning this language I kind of can see the numerology and the geometry about it and it's pretty scary how things that are about us all the time China talked to us you know but nobody's really listening and the ones who are listening nobody's listening to them so I really appreciate the work that you're doing and Mark is doing and a few others out there trying wake people up as to the world that we're actually living in so thank you so much and having said that that puts me kind of like in our interesting situation because having this information now the netbook that I mentioned predicts upcoming events for Christmas in Phoenix Arizona which is where I'm at and now that animalistic instinct tri stic again telling me get out of Phoenix for Christmas but then the awakened part or the spiritual part tells me no you be responsible and start speaking this spreaded not like a madman but point people to the information and maybe prevent it instead of you know like I said just running and hiding and then oh it did happen the information was right kind of thing yes and I know that I'm sorry go ahead knowing and not yeah I know that something Marcus talked about many times about knowing and not doing is not to not know or not to care so this is kind of like Tigers my test now and whoever else is you know let this book and just you know like okay this guy's crazy you know but if the informations there investigated and you know bring it to others attention you like to comment on that sure you go right right ahead I'm gonna I'm gonna meet you up for a minute and get on Lennon's response to that yes yes and first I want to say thank you for a synchronicity that is some serious stuff there because it happens it's a once we when we work on a particular area of our lives if we work on our mental condition you will find that individuals will come into your life who resonate on that level whatever level you are on and as you progress and I have the thing that is that there are forces in the universe that will help you as long as you're in the process of working on yourself the we'll work with you as you are working on yourself so this happens all the time it's good that we are completely aware of it because it shows that there's more going on on planet earth and justice human experience but I want to say this that there is a lot of information out there and I've talked a lot about this I call it fear based mind control program you notice trauma-based mind control president is in love with mind control but there's fear one is something that's probably and I've quite a bit and one of the things that I coined and I stick to it at that time always tell people have heard me say it's a long time at the time we'll always tell the truth and one of the things that happens is more instead of fear the anxiety and we're running and we don't necessarily think okay let me be patient and let me see what happens and this to say that if someone proposes something to you and say that on this date something is going to happen we can use it now for 2012 December 21st etc whatever you want you know you can use so many different examples we get going to get the double witnesses in 1913 I believe others 1950 and projections and all these these they were being baked are coated with saying all the stuff it's on this date I've been hearing they puts people in a state of fear and for some of us we hold on to that and we're not patient enough and we don't allow time to tell the truth and when time tells us we ignore the truth and then we fall back into the next fear based upon control program for instance without our programming in dealing with the Olympics were in people were expecting some terrorist attack and bombs explosions and Al Queda attacks and etc a lot of people inside of us they fear well this is no different than that 911 phase mind control programming with the exception that it's not a globalized ritual it is more individualistic but it's still impacting human consciousness and the reason I'm saying is is that at some point this species you have to stop living in fear now we have to stop living in fear and we have to be willing to take a step back and relax up another one of my sayings but if someone says it's something horrible is going to happen in hurricane irene is going to kill billions of people as if billions of people live on the east coast or if Hurricane Ike the same program was issued a couple of years ago it's repetitive the leader puts things out and books are written to put people in the state of fear or they don't you know there's going to be this new age of Ascension coming up here short think so time always says if you these types of things that say over and over again and I'm not saying that we should not be aware of what people are proposing what I am saying is that we have to the intellectual fortitude to be patient enough and then also to have a level of discernment so that when time tells the truth on this individual or on the media or we're all on this book or on this author that we can say you know what this individual was wrong and in some cases this individual lied to me with malice intensity if you put a person in fear this is a form of what is the best term I can use without being too strong if you put someone in fear if this is a form of psychological assault emotional assault so I'm very clear about this that I you know there is nothing out there that puts me in fear you know and and this doesn't mean that I have not been because I was always fearful apart reptilian shapeshifters I was fearful of you know female death can occur but when you get to a certain point you have to act oppression time always does work time till the truth moment and time and time again time has told the truth and when you get to that level of awareness when the next program calms you can have a level of your sermon just because someone says if something horrible is going to happen does it mean that it's going to happen sometimes horrible things happen because people believe them into existence if we change our mentality we say you know what okay they may be saying something horrible is going to happen but I'm going to use my conscious awareness coming to a level of spiritual spiritual responsibility comes with of cosmic respectability and I'm going to materialize the opposite see there are a lot of things that are transpiring on the earth that are transpiring because we are thinking on particular levels and this fear gets us thinking on those levels and if we didn't think on those all these things would not materialize so I'm saying this just to be clear I'm not saying that nothing is going to happen in Arizona but I want you to be clear time will tell the truth and if nothing happens you got to be clear about that and then when someone else supposes that there's going to be the doomsday experience that you face you can say well you know I've heard this before see one of the dynamics that takes place not all staying by anything that the caller is in the state of mind control on just I am using this as an example individuals who are in a state of mind control lose track of time if you want look at trauma-based mind control problems one deal with 911 fear-based mind control that's why anything September 11 people think that it's a 10 11 2001 they still have the same reactions that they had on September 11 2001 even though we're 11 years later they've lost track of time what better way to keep continue to subjugate the species then they have math and lots of people lost in time you can't progress when you're stuck in the past you can't regret that it's because you can't come into a level problem expect ability so to make a short story long I'm going to say dear brother just be patient and let time tell the truth and if when time tells the truth when that day passes because some people right now they're very antsy about you know there's 2012 an age of Ascension coming up here shortly once it passes act yourself that I believe in something that was not true and then acts the net take the next step to say was this that was proposed what it proposed with malice intent and if or suppose and malice intent and you have an active vertical question about the individual promoted it and then if need be you have to stop looking into that in the person's information why because if you are put inside of fate of fear if any information put you inside of the state of fear then understand that your spirituality has been compromised if we have to have courage and part of what we have to do is to purify our information stream anyone that is put you inside of a state of fear whether it's this alternative information ball that makes you it's no difference if you go on to eternal FoxNews it's all fear-based mind control programming in the alternative news to a great degree it's all fear-based mind control program I'm not saying do not look into it what I am saying is make sure that you allow time to tell the truth and once you learn the lesson that time tells you use that to empower yourself and move beyond that paradigm excellent response Lennon so let's go to another call area code two six seven you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark and Matt lament great show ladies and gentlemen Jay Parker one of the speaker's are coming up how for for your mind to here in Philadelphia in 2013 Jay welcome to the show great to hear you trio discussing these very important concepts and we're going to be hearing more and more about individual responsibilities and how we broadcast into the field and attract each other and we will learn about these are thinking where we self in power and they realize that the awkward Bob system is just simply a non control disempowerment and I'm looking forward to the conference with bated breath definitely learning your response yeah and that is so important what you spend about taking things to the next level when it becomes about personal responsibility and mark I'm sure you're aware of this you probably have this experiencing when we get into the alternative information and there is a there is a progression you know and it starts from birth really it's not like you know all of a sudden you start to realize something's wrong with the world's really it's the progression that we take throughout our lives I never at the time when I was under so much fear I mean I was and while I was in that fear I was externalizing powers Moreno loominatee did it it was the reptilian changsha's thats why I can't succeed you know it was you know it was harmed someone turned on harp and that's why it's not raining today I mean I was so I was externalizing power to such a great degree and I was not productive during that time I was so fearful but I just want people understand that even if you're at that point and it's just part of the process and it's okay it's okay and don't get just don't get stuck there because a lot of people wherever we always see for instance 10 years from now mark will be on a level that is that it you mean he's already for found but in 10 years now you know oh wow can you believe this frankly with me 10 years now I'm going to addressing because the idea that it's all about reaching to a greater height you know every program and part of this deals with coming to a level of personal responsibility I think that now on planet Earth this is the most important thing for us as a species to come into a level of personal responsibility that's exactly right I was actually going to ask you what you think is the number one solution the most important thing and I guess you just answered it before I even ask the question it's all about individual personal responsibility and the choices that we make and in the behaviors that we choose absolutely and you said the same thing thought yes yes I just wanted to add one thing you guys touch upon this that when I realized that I came from Illuminati family 12 years ago one of the persons did was i forbade my father to have any contact with me whatsoever because I realized that he was rebooting the mind-control program hmm all I have to say is if you have any kind of situation in your life where your and this could be a personal relationship a business relationship or religious relationship there you in your core are unhappy you need to get away from the nipple action you need to take a step back and be your own person make your own decisions find out who you are know thyself and one of the things I went through the worst culture and trauma that you can go through as a child and it's all yeah murder is fear-based agony but now that I wrote truth I fear waffle mmm that's right that's it and that knowledge will also grant us a layer of protection to continue to do our work and to get the truth out there for other people that fearlessness is such an important aspect of doing this kind of work you can't be worried about what might happen what you know somebody might do to you that getting the truth out there is has become the purpose for what we're doing and in accepting that role and accepting that purpose and that work I personally believe that there is a layer of protection that is granted to us by the cosmos itself absolutely absolutely well fair I'd like to also add one other aspect since we were talking about personal responsibility and you know connection with fear that maybe being injected by people who want us to uh you know go into a shot-down mode of consciousness based on what might be coming or what might not be coming hand-in-hand with that we also have to look at certain individuals and certain lines of information that deal with the the polar opposite of like bad things and cataclysms and catastrophes happening we need to look at people who are talking about um you know cosmic help coming to us in the form of you know other beings you know that are going to just basically come down and rescue us you know from the situation that we have created ourselves and you know take us into their protection you know and basically we get off the hook without really having to do any deep work or introspection upon ourselves I think that's almost equally as dangerous to buy into as some of the really you know destructive or or cataclysmic prophecies that we hear so much about yes absolutely and it is no different in essence in terms of the programming because it also causes people to externalize power no one's coming to save any of us ladies and gentlemen and if you think that there's some offworld being that's going to save you that's not you in the first place then you have been dismissed mislaid in other words you have suffered from a level of spiritual amnesia because you are in essence it's the other component of you you are that spiritual dynamic that has the power to influence consciousness here on planet earth is nothing being out there that means ethereal eyes them you know being out on another planet or the group of you know solar beings there's no that's not it at all and one of the things that has happened especially as we get closer to this horrible 2012 age above you know what suspension etc and spiritual lumination is that this program has caused people to really shut down their efforts to do the personal work they're simply waiting on the day I call it date based ascension right and it's getting a paradox in essence and the reason lies the paradox is because consciousness itself does not exist as a physical thing it can materialize through the work that you do physically but consciousness itself is not a physical thing it isn't a zero thing this in India theorem there is no time so to us and we get to the point and it's just take a lot extreme I think it to a point when we take that somehow at a particular day or a particular date that content is going to be illuminated all of a sudden it's a paradox because constant itself transcend space in time the people understand this I mean it's I mean it's basic logic it's not associated with time we have to do the work with we wait on a date based dissention no we have to do the work so one thing that has happened with a lot of this quote unquote spiritual information healthier and it's called people to get complacent and simply wait and if they expect someone else to save them or their finish date they wait for the date and all of a sudden all the problems are solved they're gonna send into the fourth fifth sixth seventh in this book some sort of a biological purgatory everyone else who does not assess and and read and I'm just thinking to myself what if you have children if you have children and you were sitting in your children's on the sand and what does that mean I mean there's so many ways of looking at this so in other words it can be it can be problematic when we begin to externalize our power that it's based on what I call and I hope it's not a too strong of a term sooo those spiritual concepts because spirituality is not about externalizing your power and expecting someone to come saying gee that's not good spirituality is recognizing that you are spirit in the first place and that if there is anyone that is going to say to it is you you can look at it at the biological component of you or that still biological component is married to your spiritual component so in other words stop projecting your own spiritual consciousness out into someone else out there in space and waiting for them to come to save you save yourself how do you save yourself you save yourself like the caller said know thyself know that you are just not biological that you are spiritual too and it has nothing to do with time 2012 has nothing to do with the Ascension Ascension and comic respectability have to do with what are you willing to do here on planet earth to uplift this spiritual spherical species so that it can be spiritual life and it can come back to the realm of cosmic respectability and once it does that it can contribute to that which created the great Earth Mother that's what spirituality is it's not from being out there in space it coming to thank you that's exactly right London that is just so profound I could not agree more that is that is perfect Jay did you have anything else for us today well that's one guys and uh that's a walking that all your endeavors oh absolutely like love to you okay great call so far let's take another call Richard from Washington you're live on what on earth is happening with our special guest Lenin honor welcome yeah great show great show my problem is I'm a generation earlier I was late seventies early 80s I also delivered for my four kids in the middle of nowhere Oregon by myself and you know you go through cycles that's what what I want to interject the the path for spiritual development is not linear it's cyclical and we have to learn from that and as a generation ahead I've already gone the same path you were and explored it just like you're exploring it now you have to understand that you then go on the downward side of the cycle have you read genesis of the cosmos no no no I have let you know and I would recommend that book highly and there's another book called the parable of the tribes by Andrew schmuck ler that would be another excellent read but what you find when you get to my grand old age that I have a lot of what we think is truth is really brainwashing how they keep you in fear one of the primary ways and I know Marc doesn't want to acknowledge this is by feeding its vegetation that makes us dependent on fermentation and sugar and that gets us addicted to the fear scenario the sympathetic nervous system if you study the body chemistry and you don't have to kill animals to use their their benefits you can ferment you can you print key through you can partake of the eggs or the chicken you can do a lot of things to get the carnivores perspective I'm actually I am actually vegetarian not a vegan so I do partake in dairy products and you have to understand everything cyclical so you want to eat the vegetation during the day when you're in sympathetic automatically and then at night you only want proteins and fats and support that digestive capability that you as a carnivore have to experience to regenerate in the parasympathetic system you guys are right on top of it but like I said it's a cyclical thing and you guys are going to get old just like I did and you'll find out that some of the things you were talking about when you were younger have to be re-explore Daz we get to the down cycle the catabolic state of our life but keep up the good work enjoy the show as always and you know great presentation Rick thank you Lennon your response oh no I have no respond okay let's go to Nathan in Arizona Nathan you are live on what on earth is happening with our special guest today Lennon on or welcome oh gosh hi guys there today well not here not here in Phoenix at Nathan and I've had some weird dreams happen in my life and you know when I hear about things playing towards you know Phoenix Arizona and and growing up that definitely you know next new you know scared initially but I think everything's looking like we're going to stay here and continue what our plan and you know what we made of what we decided to do and we're going to worry you're going to do this I just you know we're definitely going gone through it though because there has been some weird we're doing good that have happened and that's just you know the things that I'm battling with and I got so many videos that was in the Valley of Phoenix that's a lot of curveball so if anything I would just say if you have family at Lawrence or something like that you know maybe spend Christmas with more perfect because you know I mean why not be safe in a certain situation like that you mentioned the Olympics and the ceremony at the beginning you know went up in flames and I think I was one of who are the things that this can't boom the points out and then got the it's all good I think I think we'll just stick it out and and continue on right you've got a lot of plans for the next two months with ground up here so you know we'll have to take that risk education and Garrett I definitely I think it's a time of action no matter what and and that's that's what I'm going to finally do in my life is see and follow through with what trying to get people to talk about and yeah it just initiates things to like you guys you're talking about it so hard only actually doing something when you when you know you've got the planet definitely and not going to tuck tail and run sorry I don't know I feel I just wanted to put that out there that you know you do have to relax you do have to you know make sure you see the whole picture first before you you just react you have to respond and that my tax responsibility so I'll leave it at that and in taking for those wonderful conversation kids and putting out into the air absolutely thank you Lennon your response the same thing I said earlier uh time always tells the truth and we have to keep that in mind I'll use a quick example I remember here in United States of America and California when the Fukushima power plant it was a disruption there and there were people here who were in such a level of fear that it was staggering and they believed that there was going to be a nuclear fallout here somehow the radiation was going to come over to see and that means that people are going to die and on the news of course there were a different I guess you could say solutions and one was to make sure that you lost your car because you get all of radiation off in the car and then you can drive to work and there were people out here in California who were washing their cars trying to wash off radiation expecting some doomsday catastrophe none of it was logical and in the end time told the truth so we got to just be clear about that once you learn that lesson then the next time the fear-based mind-control program comes along you can simply make the conscious choice not to engage it's not to succumb to fear right it's just like the the paranoia about a possible radiologic attack and people going out and buying plastic rolls of plastic and duct tape to try to insulate their house from you know fallout and things like that hiding under the table that was the program the nuclear bombs its hide under it's a nuclear bomb yeah tuck and roll you'll be fine time always felt icky let alone I wanted to one of the things I really didn't ask you much about and that I wanted to get your take on and find out how you got involved in what you do was your music now you said you grew up in a family that um really expose you to music and you kind of grew up in a musical environment but can you tell me a little bit about the specific kind of music that you yourself have composed and written and put out there into the world how what kind of style is it maybe some of the influences yes yes in there's different kinds because I've done that vocal music that was more in line with I guess you can say someone like Stevie Wonder ah those type of that type of the found come more recently if feeling more you know like the title in Orlando the ancient one soul vision it's many more with a more meditative spiritual quality and tapping into consciousness if you will so there's been progressing over time and I play so many different styles of music and one of the ones that I study for price sometimes was willing to call traditional jazz people like Miles Davis John Coltrane Charles Parker I go on and on but these days when I do engage the music it is more dealing with consciousness and that's probably where you know once I began to pick me back up and deal with it even more than I having over the last four years it was the musical we still be in line with that because ultimately I have a sense that in order to help people we're going to help people musically than the vibrations the vibrational quality of what we produce has to be in cosmic alignment and therefore their particular styles of music that can tap into that cosmic lemak alignment and then as you know there are also particular styles and downloads of music that are the antithesis of that cosmic life exactly not what instruments do you play my main instrument is flute that's what I studied as a child and in college and I also play other instruments like piano saxophone and I know the fundamentals of a lot of other instruments not cause you know at school that private private music schools etc but my main instrument is the food fantastic yeah I actually played in two bands in my you know earlier years and I was always a vocalist of the frontman in the band so I think of in many ways you know the performance art doing music kind of prepared me in a lot of ways to be out and you know speaking in front of people you know getting over fear of being in front of large groups etc and always using the voice has been the central focus and theme throughout my life yeah yeah and it does and I just go to show you that everything is in perfect alignment there is a cosmic order and we make choices like you said in the beginning and there are consequences and every choice we make even though there's some of them may not be the best choice they always fall back in line so you know for me as a musician a lot of what I learned how to position especially as it relates to sound and vibration I have certain spiritual experiences by law performing and spirituals by while practicing and you look back later on in life you look at your experiences as a musician or to whatever capacity whatever image whatever an individual has gone through you realize that everything was there for a purpose and it all leads up to where you're at now and the idea is can you take where you're at now and move it to the next level that's right and I'm going to say this that regardless of what one may believe that each and every one of us we never have to come down we never have to descend and we never have to simply give up and say I'm going to succumb to the mind control programming I'm going to come to succumb to the fears okay well you don't have to do that this is the favorite we can always be on it continuous crashing towards our highest high it is a choice in as a matter of mentality and if there was one thing that I can just bestow upon everyone just recognize that wherever you are at right now you can become something random and it is a matter of your mentality it is a matter of your focus it is a matter of your motivation if you wish to move yourself beyond zircon Paragon you never have to go back you never have to come down you never have to give up you can move and continue to move to higher and higher heights this is what this planet means right now no stagnation right stagnation there are cycles that tap into new cycles and those cycles tap into new cycles and into new cycle the next one cycles going to different in Italy because it's not a circle it's a spiral yeah up and up and up and if you look at it from the perspective of overhead you might be looking at it as if it's you're going around and round and around but really you're going around and up simultaneously in a spiral direction it is all creation extends itself not in a cycle but in a spiral either England or outward the inward being the feminine the outward being the mass and bringing the two together you got completion and you can ascend and definitely it is about the balance ladies and gentleman be it be clear about that thank you so much for saying that too much she left us all into perspective we have to be clear about these spiritual walls and understand that as a species we can continue to progress and there is no need to backtrack it is a progression as you said so eloquently and in the word progression there's progress yeah thank you so Lenin arm we're coming down to the end of the show we have about two and a half minutes left I want to give you the floor for the end of the show please give the listeners any information about radio shows that you do give them your website what they can expect to find on that site and now the floor is yours until the end of the show okay they can get them you can go to my website Renan on comm on there that's all of my more recent work we have radio shows lined up there I have radio need to get everything on Friday at 6 p.m. Pacific Standard Time 9:00 p.m. Eastern on Saturdays we also have rate of you get on a case and there's a calendar on intercom that I just started yesterday initial titled metamorphosis transforming our perception or our vision of male-female relationships on Sundays my wife and I we do a live video stream at 6 p.m. Pacific Standard Time on lynda.com we talk about male-female relationships raising chosen family love etc come join us today we're going to be having a very special show today because it happens to be my birthday and I want to say this mark I cannot think of any other experience right now in my life at 37 years old then to spend two hours on my birthday with you I am so I'm saying I am I did not even know that I'm ever surprise happy birthday in the friendship thank you and last year I was on my birthday and he did not know overall in a cold science radio I've replicated I was on his show do you think are the stages yes is beautiful so I just want to say that I don't want to say anything else and promote anything else thank you so much more it has been an absolute honor to spend this time with you I appreciate you and I have so much respect to you and what you're doing and I'm going to continue to support you and I will see you in Philadelphia next year at the free your mind to conference ladies and gentlemen you've been listening to a phenomenal interview with a profound individual with lots of wisdom to share mr. Lennon honor Lennon thank you so much for being on the radio show and sharing your profound insights with us today oh my pleasure better much lucky you take care absolutely ladies and gentlemen there he goes Lenin honor and that brings us to the end of this edition of what on earth is happening cosmic breeze eight four one one zero six five once again eight six six eight four one one zero six five your calls coming up on this edition of what on earth is happening as we talk about grassroots solutions to affect real positive and lasting change in our world I have a few event announcements and thanks to go over I want to thank Len and honor first and foremost for coming on the show last week and doing one of the best interviews that I've personally ever done with anyone Lennon was just phenomenal and if you haven't heard the show definitely go back into the show archive and listen to that one because it was a great show that's show number 130 in the podcast archive on the what on earth is happening dot-com website I'd also like to thank all of the people who helped organize the end the Fed rally in Philadelphia yesterday including Mike Salvi Michael heist Michael hice Bob Gardner and Darren wolf it was a vent that was definitely light on turnout because we had pretty cold weather yesterday and I would really have liked to have seen a lot more people there for this and the Fed rally but the people that did show up were very well informed high energy and it went well overall and we did some outreach to people on the street which I'm going to touch on a little bit when we jump into the topic for tonight because it was you know Black Friday weekend the day after Black Friday it was yesterday Saturday and you just see the the general state of consciousness on the street in a place like Center City Philadelphia and it was just as far as the people we interacted with on the street practically deplorable I mean people really are walking around like zombies literally it's you know during the holiday shopping season it seems to be worse than ever um just people with glassy eyed you know a glassy eyed look you know stumbling around just not really paying attention there's no alertness in their eyes I want to just briefly touch on that dynamic when we start the show start the topic of discussion and just see where other people you know sense consciousness being at do you see it uh you know progressing do you see it getting better or do you see it really really taking a turn for the worse and descending at an even faster pace so um thanks to all the organizers of the I and the Fed rally yesterday for their efforts and outreach and I want to thank Larkin Rose for appearing last night at truth freedom prosperity live TFP live Larkin did a great job and he was the featured interviewed activist at TFP live last night at underground arts so of course ladies and gentlemen the free your mind to conference coming up here in Philadelphia in April it is just going to be an incredible event we're really excited about the speaker lineup and I have a new announcement to make for it today so free your mind to a conference on consciousness mind control and the occult here in Philadelphia Pennsylvania April 25th 26th and 27th free your mind returns to Philadelphia in 2013 with a three-day conference featuring top caliber whistleblowers from across the country who will shed light upon our world's problems and bring forward empowering solutions the location is the beautiful Arch Street meeting house at 3:20 Arch Street here in Philadelphia in the historic district of the city the doors will open at 8 o'clock a.m. each day with the program beginning at 9 a.m. each day the featured speaker so far are Alan Steinfeld Alfred Webber Andrew basiago Ben Stuart Bob Tuscan Cathy O'Brien Curtis Davis dr. dream freighter X Freeman fly Yan Irvin Jay Parker Jim Fetzer Larkin Rose Laura Eisenhower Lennon honor Lauren Moray myself mark passio Mark Phillips Marty Leeds Randall Carlson Ross Ben and Sonja Barrett we'll be adding one more speaker to complete the lineup the advance ticket prices for the Thursday conference $30 for the Thursday meet and greet $20 and I can announce today confirmed after the speaker meet-and-greet we will be having a theremin concert the divine hand ensemble that has been known to play at the Tesla celebrations of the Tesla energy independence celebrations when we have those in Philadelphia the divine hand ensemble center around the therm played by mono Davina and his 8p string ensemble will be playing after the meet-and-greet in the main hall at the Arch Street meeting house we're really excited to have the divine hand ensemble on board we are not going to increase the price for the meet and greet everyone who buys a ticket for the meet-and-greet will get to go into the concert for free so for $20 you get the meet and greet with a meal of vegetarian and vegan cuisine served at the meet and greet plus the concert featuring the divine hand ensemble I mean you can't beat that anywhere that is just an incredible deal and we will also be offering just admission to the concert featuring the divine hand as a separate ticket so even if you don't have a ticket for the meet and greet you can purchase a ticket to just see the divine hand ensemble play at the at the Arch Street meeting house as well so for the Thursday meet and greet with a meal and with a concert afterward $20 the Friday conference $40 and the Saturday conference $40 for all three days plus the speaker meet-and-greet and concert featuring the divine hand ensemble $120 are very very reasonably priced the best way to help support this conference is to buy an advance ticket the advanced ticket sales we are counting on to help offset the costs that we need to put up up front to bring all of these speakers into Philadelphia we have to pay their round-trip fares into the city and then back to where we're bringing them in from so that's all you know that is very expensive and we really need advance ticket sales to help cover those costs so if you're planning on coming to the free your mind conference for your mind to conference please get your tickets now now is the time to pick them up pick them up in advance we have to cover the all the travel arrangements by no later than mid-february at the very latest so we're really hoping to have a lot of advance ticket sales come in over the next couple of months so an advanced ticket sale is better than a donation if you could make a donation help support the effort that's welcomed and encouraged but an advanced ticket sale is even better than a donation so that's the free your mind to conference coming up April 25th 26th and 27th 2013 here in Philadelphia first speaker BIOS and ticket information and venue information and much more please visit the conference website at WWF renew our mind conference calm I want to thank Franco you word of h2o radio network in Montreal Canada for agreeing to run an ad for the free remind conference on his website so for those who listen to the h2o network in Canada you'll be hearing the ad spot for the free your mind conference if there's anyone else that would like to run the ad spot that we had made for the for your mind to conference please get in touch with me and I can send you the file for running it on whatever radio network you happen to have if you want to take part in helping us to promote for the free your mind to event I'd like to announce that I will be appearing on these changing times a radio show out of the United Kingdom I was invited by Tony Calvert to appear this Wednesday November 28th from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. UK time that's 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Eastern Time and the website is these changing times radio times is spelled with a Z so these changing times with a Z radio Ning comm you could check out that radio station out of the United Kingdom also the truth freedom prosperity documentary night the documentary screening and discussion evening will be taking place as it always does on the last Thursday of every month this Thursday November 29 2012 at a scene food market a scene food market is at 719 south fourth Street that's the corner of 4th and Monroe streets in Philadelphia this month we will be screening the documentary the turning point which is a documentary about the Bilderberg Group it exposes the Bilderberg Group what this international think tank of high finance years politicians media moguls etc is all about what their agenda is and why it is so important for alternative media to cover this since the mainstream media refuses to do so so the turning point documentary our featured documentary this Thursday night November 29th at 6:30 p.m. at a scene food market fourth in Monroe in Philadelphia for more information please visit truth freedom prosperity org one other quick announcement about the documentary night this Thursday is that we will be joined by a special guest who is coming in to Philadelphia for a few days this uh this weekend this weekend and appearing at the documentary screening and discussion evening at a seen market on Thursday will be my friend freighter x from the american freedom radio network so freighter x will actually be joining us in person for the documentary night and he will be getting involved in the discussion as well so if the the break documentary we're showing isn't enough you want to come and meet freighter X and maybe even get in a discussion with him about the movie and about anything else that's going on in the world come on out to a scene food market this Thursday evening at 6:30 p.m. the ad-free chip in effort for the what on earth is happening radio show currently stands at $350 donations are steadily coming in slowly but surely so thank you so much for that effort to keep the show commercial free for the two hours that were on the air with only the small to out two-minute break at the top of the hour of the station break at the top of the hour we do need to raise 1000 by January 31st in order to keep the show ad free on the network through the February March and April period so again it's a ad free chip and effort and it goes for a three month period at 350 so we're over a third of the way there so good job to everyone who has donated and I'll keep up those great efforts okay let's jump into our topic which is solutions and just as a very brief review I'll go over the ten grassroots solutions that we've covered in depth on the one on earth is happening radio show over the past several months these are basic grassroots things that people can do and put into practice in their life to help to heal themselves in their own worldview and ultimately to bring others to a balanced state of consciousness as well to help to bring others to that balanced state of consciousness which we so desperately need in this world before we encounter disaster head-on so we've talked about ten basic overarching solutions of course you know we can get into uh you know different sub solutions within these and there are other things that kind of fall under the umbrella of these solutions we didn't get really in-depth into but we've done that over time like free energy you know again you know getting off of the polluting and unsustainable we're currently addicted to I guess you could say that even falls under the detachment from our current monetary system because it's just basically acting as a form of energy but we need the real thing we need to tap into the real unlimited energy supplies that are actually all around us in nature we've talked about many different solutions the healing of one's own worldview getting out of the poisoned worldview the poisoned paradigm the way of looking at the world that we've been fed through the media and through indoctrination and manipulation techniques over the years really since we've been born were continuously fed this poisoned worldview you know that there's too many people that were always you know going to be low consciousness beings that that's just human nature and that you know there's nothing you can do about that and looking at the individual as you based on their role in life or how much money they have in their bank account you know these are all completely low consciousness ways of seeing oneself in the world and it's you know something that real really needs to be overturned through the process of world we world view healing and some people call that process shamanism which is the ability to see in the dark what has been done to the human condition so that one can actually envision solutions and then help to put those solutions into practice in our lives so the healing of world view is where it has to all start and that's why we took that as the very first solution we went over the change in the quality of our attention how we have to get off the poison stream of media and get out of the indoctrination that we've been put through really overturning fundamental axioms that we've been fed and that we've grown attached to and that's all about getting on to positive empowering streams of information in the alternative community we talked about the development of true present moment awareness not a lot of the concept of you know tunnel vision that we often get when we hear the term true present present moment awareness in the New Age movement but what true the development of true present moment awareness actually is being in the moment and actually using all of your attention your care and your will to affect change to affect the outcome to actually make a difference in the in the physical world it's not just about you know focusing on minutiae or hoping that something better is going to come but it's actually about being truly present so you could put your full energy behind creating change as a true change agent in the world we talked about changing our diet as the fourth solution getting off of the poison um uh so-called sustenance that we take in the so-called food that we take in on a daily basis which is really nothing of the kind it's basically been poison and tainted and we need understand the importance of high nutrient density organic fresh locally grown foods and how that can really help to change not only our body but of course our mind and ultimately our connection to spirit because it's all interconnected it's all you know one in the same system it's a holistic interlocking system the mind the body and the spirit so changing the diet is such an important part of that process of coming out of low consciousness and helping to purify oneself it's a process of alchemy as we talked about the fifth solution we went over with the detachment from the monetary system which has such a stranglehold over humanity and humanity's mind we talked about money as a religion and one of the three uh aspects of what I call the unholy trinity of religion government and money and we talked about how difficult it can be to detach oneself from the existing immoral monetary system that is in place we went over you know talking about some briefly some alternatives to the current monetary system we did a series of shows on the sixth solution that I've talked about in depth which was the non support of dominators probably what I consider to be the most important understanding that there is no such thing as authority and to stop bowing down to it and accepting it in our lives thinking that these people somehow are justified in doing what they're doing when all they're doing is taking other people's rights and they have no right to do so they're not in the right and it's time to stop showing them what we call respect which is really just again cowering to them and their demands they don't deserve respect because they haven't showed any respect to themselves first of all by being a controller and a Dominator and not understanding that you have no right to control anything except their own thoughts your own emotions and your own actions and you're not in control of anything else and get out of the headspace of even talking about the people who do these jobs with any sort of respect or with any kind of you know bowing down and putting yourself on in a lower space and them up on a pedestal and or you know worshiping them is some kind of heroes or people who are doing something that's good instead of unknowingly serving evil in their ignorance harsh words absolutely true absolutely so we went over the concept of getting out of the support of dominators stop thinking about them in the ways that we've been conditioned to think about them over many weeks and of the tail end of that was talking about how we our dominators in our lives even through the practices that we engage in through food so carnism was a part of that talking about how that's the ultimate form of domination the killing the taking of another's life without need without necessity and uh you know eating there the flesh of dead animals so that was part of the non-supportive Dominator section that we went over we talked about the development of mindfulness which is essentially a brain balancing technique it's a way to come to a place of balance in the mind in the brain through forms of different forms of meditation and just general watchfulness and becoming the observer of your own actions in your life a simple yet very effective and powerful solution we also talked about the use of entheogens in a conscious context this is the last chronologically the last solution that we went over in recent weeks and we talked about how these substances these spirit helpers which is more what they are than just simple substances or compounds they can help us and help to guide us and take us out of this left brain form of imbalance that many of us are trapped in and help us to heal our worldview if they're used in a conscious context we also talked about the solution of true positive thinking not again what is goes around in the new-age circles as positive thinking just envision it and you'll get with what you want but this is more in the sense of believing in yourself and not being negative about what's going on just continuing to push forward and push ahead with sustained effort and sustained willpower not getting into such a funk about what's going on in the world that you just stopped your effort and say oh it's not worth it you need to believe in yourself and you need to know that what you're doing is helping to put the truth forward and in doing so engage the will completely and not give up so of that aspect of true positive thinking we covered as one of the solutions and then the final the tenth solution was to help others to go through the same process of awakening that we all have in coming on to the truth from the hypnotized and manipulated state of consciousness that we've all come out of now that we are aware of what's really going on in the world so helping others to awaken is the process of ourselves becoming a teacher becoming that world teacher that worldview healer that shaman if you will the one who sees in the dark and helps others to make that journey through that darkness so important to do that work and I would argue that that is indeed why we're in the situation that we're in that we have so few people that are willing to do that great work of becoming that teacher because um it really takes a lot of energy to do it it takes a lot of effort sustained willpower belief in oneself and study and knowledge to know the truth and have enough confidence in yourself to come out and speak it and communicate it and not everyone is at that level of consciousness of course but um it is important to understand most of all that knowing is not the end it is the beginning and then we have to do something with what we know we have to put it into practice in the world and help others to come to that same level of knowledge and awakening in themselves so that was the tenth solution and that complete a brief outline of the things that we've talked about in the grassroots solutions section which I call the way out of course the related images for the show are always posted on the what on earth is happening radio page during the show and then with the podcast after the show with each related podcast so um you could take a look at the list of grassroots solutions which I have just been going over the outline of its image number three on the what on earth is happening comm radio show page okay let's go to the phones your calls this entire edition of what on earth is happening the topic any solutions that we have covered our fair game if you want to bring up new solutions you go right ahead and propose what you think would help humanity to move forward in these troubling times let's go to the phone lines area code six zero two I believe this is Ivan in Phoenix you're live on what moments what's happening okay I'd like you I'll just go back I don't know if it's popular I keep Denise well so you know what I'm going to go ahead and call you back after four o'clock your second hour where you're licking these machines and I'll put in my information at that time okay I'm fine thanks okay bye-bye a little bit of background noise there or maybe a little bit more than a little bit but give us a call back when you're a little bit of a choir location and we'll doubt definitely always a pleasure to hear from you and you bring up a lot of great points and interesting things to consider on the show when you call in so call back and I'll bring you right up all right let's go to another caller the calling number again eight six six eight four one one zero six five toll-free eight six six eight four one one zero six five let's go to another caller caller from the 9:05 area code you are live on what on earth is happening welcome a little mark awesome to talk to you yeah hearing me okay you're coming through loud and clear what's your name awesome okay my name is Ron and first of all I just want to say lots of love owed to you and lots of love up to the listeners they're listening now first of all just a little bit about myself I've been going through about a five-year process and it takes time and I managed to deprogram myself of the military because I was a soldier for 15 years and also as a child I was raised as a Jehovah's Witness so I carried a lot of religious guilt all my life and I find that now the things that I've gotten rid of are suicidal thoughts no more self-loathing my consciousness level is through the roof it's like I'm on a rocket ship right now I've been listening to your show since last last summer and I'm now a vegetarian and that's even taking my consciousness higher and higher and it continues to go higher and higher the one thing that I realized before I even started listening to your show is that you know what I've spent all these years now gathering this information gathering knowledge from hundreds of different sources hundreds of hours and I said to myself you know what I got to do something like this I can't sit on this stuff it would be wrong to not try and speak to people if I can't and for quite a while I would say I was banging my head with people but now I sort of learned that you know there's there there's some certain words I can apply to this and I would say the first word is in get engaged engage people engage them wherever you can and whatever you can and you don't have to stand there and talk for hours I've engaged people for five minutes just on any topic you want to talk about that's relevant to what's going on whether it be I you know I I get my water from the country a countryside spring and I come back to the city and and and somebody in my building she's bringing it up and right away over laughing oh you got water blah blah blah and it's like yeah I don't drink for days water you and this is why blah blah blah I've talked to him for like two minutes right over weight you can see if shaking something in their head that hey they're going to go look on the internet or something there and check this out well I just told them plan is a little that seed can grow a future point and your words cannot be unheard at least they hear it even if they don't readily understand it right at that time it can it confess her in there as a seed which can eventually sprout yeah and that's a that's another thing like for instance now I've got a woman at my gym she asked me out for coffee because she had trouble sleeping I talked to her well he ever tried meditation she goes no I'll look into it check it out right and you know so she wants to check it out she wants to hear more so I'm actually going to go out with her right and the other thing is you know keep keep momentum going I mean once you've got it keep it rolling like don't don't just stop like it's and there's places you can engage people that are are more aware and one example for me is uh the organic market I go to when you go there there's people there they're already either awake or on the verge of being awake just because that they're being responsible about their eating right away I have engaged so many people there and and it just you know it just goes on and on and on like don't feel frustrated if you can't stand there and talk for hours about you know mind control and all this stuff just little bits here and there and and refer people to the Internet you know just tell them hey go go look this up on the internet bla bla bla you know so you don't need to be an expert in every aspect of this it's even pick some to actually do understand well and focus on that with people and and try to bring that to them if they're unaware of it it's whatever your personal strengths are or what you're good at communicating and everybody has that's different in everybody I mean for me of course it's the mind control techniques and natural law those are the you know what I consider my specialities or Forte's to communicate to people but you could do you know anything as long as it's something that you feel comfortable talking about and you can communicate well get out there and do it like you said um just don't stop just don't give up like you know even if someone persons unreceptive to it another person will be receptive to it and you'll make a difference in their life even if it's a small one and as you say etymology is a great weapon because people actually love like people like to hear when when you go you know what this word means you know what this word means you know this is what it actually means they go oh wow right and then they're like you know a little bit stunned right and this sort of thing now just on the other on some other point I want like when you talk about empty Oh gins well as a young as a young man I went through all of those stuff but in a recreational way so I kind of know what it's all about but some other suggestions that I would make the people along the same lines if you don't want to try the anti-aging thing is hey I tell people you know what go on say YouTube and type in native elders speak okay and and you listen to native elders and what they've got to say amazing stuff another thing is eight is if you got the money you know what's just as good as an entheogen is go travel to India okay and then see how the people live there and how you can humble yourself that way and just the other thing is have you ever heard of Ormus oh of course I will delete rearranged monoatomic element ironic element yes okay I've been on it now for about a year if you want to raise your consciousness and do it seriously and you have the money to afford it I highly recommend it I've been on it and it's helped with my emotional healing too so exactly right for listeners that aren't aware of this it's a monoatomic elements often gold and other trace minerals that are order orbitally rearranged to make them into mono Atomics mono atomic gold maybe one thing that people are somewhat familiar with and you take small amounts of this powder gnorm of mono atomic elements and allegedly there is a benefit to the balance of the brain the creative capabilities and again emotional healing as well it's been shown to affect so I do engage also in taking a monoatomic gold I usually I think it's a product called aetherium gold and I found that it kind of helps with sleep as well it the sleep cycle mark mark market helps with everything I mean and the reason I know that it was working right away like it took it it's taken about a good eight months to kick in like full but the first thing it did to me believe it or not I had an old like I used to play sports and I had a bad ankle injury that would wouldn't heal my might my ankle was screwed for for a couple of years and then all of a sudden everything came back to my ankle so I knew something was up this stuff actually does repair things in your body too and but like I said now I have knows more self-loathing I had that all my life okay and my emotions are so much better and and and you become so positive guess what you're attracting all the positive people a positive energy and those are the people you can engage as your as your consciousness Rises your going to notice that your going to be around whole new groupings of people that are going to help that process accelerate even more and even faster yeah exactly I'm attracting like people that I would never have attracted before and you know what there's no negative people coming towards me either and it's really it's really I don't know it's it's beautiful you know a little bit bizarre but it's beautiful so it's really provided the more we are in tune with higher consciousness and natural law that's that is proof of the law of attraction that that is what is ultimately governing the quality of our experience in life so yeah so you know more conformity with that the quality of your life is going to get better I guess as a final note I just like to say to people out there don't be discouraged I mean it you can get down you can you can bang your and and I've done it myself plenty of times but when you do start to engage people and you get the good feedback then that's where the satisfaction comes from yet you know I fall into those states myself a lot of times um although my you know best efforts to attempt not to it still happens and all I can say is you have to really shift your your focus to uh you know not so much dependency or you know total hinging everything on just the outcome but realizing it's about the work itself it's about doing the right thing for the sake of the right thing not necessarily whether it's going to definitively have an overall impact on the masses again I have told people what I do isn't even geared toward the masses I'm looking to try to build up the other teachers that are latent that are out there but are not you know have reached the full expression to a point where they want to come out and really start speaking this out in the open I'm in I'm in I'm in that category exactly and like I said it took my own process took like about five years by night but to where I am now it's like it's like like I said it's like I'm on a frigging rocket ship well that's absolutely fantastic and I want to congratulate you for doing that work upon yourself to get yourself to the place that you're at now thank you so much and the other thing is I'd like to say do look look to the natives you know there they have some wonderful knowledge absolutely absol great caca near you to go okay great caller Oh what he was saying is so true and appropriate and it's great here of someone who has made that transformational change from someone who had undergone a lot of heavy programming I mean heavy religious programming heavy military programming and still came out of it and healed his worldview and is on that rocket ship ride that you know ascending rocket ride to higher consciousness and you know in his own words and it's so true it's it's a stepwise progression once you make it once you set foot on that path you know they say the journey of a thousand miles begins with the first step once you set foot on that path there's really no turning back you know once the process of the breaking down of the big lie begins it's just in an it's inevitable it's a matter of time before it all crumbles away once you're on that path of truth as well you'll notice that synchronicity will develop in your life things that didn't happen or that we're cumbersome and you know took so long to happen before will happen faster at a more accelerated rate the pace of awakening and the discovery of truth will also accelerate almost to a point where you'll wonder how can I take it all in you know how can this is coming at me so fast how can I even take it all in and that's why you just need to maintain that openness and that receptivity and that may just make a decision within your mind that you're not going to stop that you're going to go forward and go all the way to the end of the journey and like you know there is really no end you know but you're going to go all the way in this world to where it takes you to the inevitable end that it takes you to which is really getting out of all of these fundamentally flawed axioms and worldview poisoning that you once held attachment to in your life once that all breaks down you can see the truth as it actually is and then once you you know develop some uh you know a true deep self respect and true uh deep confidence in yourself which is really what we're talking about here is courage then you're going to put yourself out there for other people too so they can learn from what you have already had the benefit of learning and experiencing and then you're going to help them make that same journey that's what this is all altum Utley about and again that's what I've said repeatedly that's why I do the show I don't do it to try to reach the Walking Dead you know as the the saying goes the the zombies that are part of the zombie apocalypse um and there those people are out there I mean you know as harsh and you know unfriendly as that can sound saying it uh all you need to do is just look at people's actions on a weekend like this you know where the holiday shopping season is in full effect and all these deals are being made by these merchants and you know people are just you know treating each other like animals acting like animals over physical goods that you don't even really need you know consumer electronics and smartphones and you know games and DVDs and it's just it's so ridiculous that we've come into this level of identification with material consumerism that people are willing to maim and even kill trample people to get a thing to get hold of a thing for cheaper than they ordinarily would you know it just is it's an indictment against the human species in a lot of ways but you know while there are many people who act that way there are many people who are on the higher path such as the gentleman who just called so um I just want to briefly touch on that before we go to the next caller I mean we saw people on the street yesterday I mean my heart just goes out to some of them because they have been degraded to a point of it's it's almost can you call this being a human being can you call them truly human I don't even know what to call them they have been turned into some form of creature that is somehow less than human they've been turned into like a golem literally um it's like there's no responsiveness and some of their eyes at all it's like they're just looks staring off into the distance like they're looking through you like they're not even there there's hardly any personal engagement at all you could tell they have their mind a mile into the future they're not present in the moment at all of what's going on around them you can tell they're focused only on themselves obsessive self-focus obsession with the self and I'm not talking about the higher self I mean the lower case ego identified five cents physical world is all there is notion of self and it's so sad to see because these people are just being there being soft killed they're being murdered and don't even understand that they're being murdered they don't understand that there's a war on them they don't understand that their food is poisoned they don't understand that all the media they have access to in their life is completely untrue and just you know laden with poison that that can only do harm to them if they take it into their mind they don't understand that they're being you know hit with radionics and you know chemical spray in every other form of poison against the mind the body the consciousness that these sick twisted Psychopaths can throw at them they don't understand that any of that's taking place they're at war and they're casualties of war and don't even understand that they are and uh you know we need to try to figure out some methodology of snapping these people out of this state because there is way very down down deep buried deep within them a spark that possibly if ignited could heal them and again you can even hear the hesitation or doubt in my voice when I say that because you know some of the people we came across yesterday you could not even imagine and it's like you know they're all out there - feeding into this whole uh you know feeding frenzy of go out and consume go buy prices are lowest they're going to be you know and you know even handing people a flyer on the March yesterday was even difficult because so many people had bags in their hand in both hands you know could couldn't carry anything else and those are the people who would like the least receptive the people who are the most crazed with all of the you know physical goods and all the consumer items were like totally wrapped up in their own stuff and didn't have a moment then that didn't have a second to even divert the attention to a flyer for five seconds you know and say oh then let me just take it I'll read it later not even that can't be bothered so it was a big dichotomy from the last March which I saw a lot of receptivity so it's very possible that changes during the course of the year depending on what season is depending on what kind of energy is out there to be maybe even depending on what the weather is like we had really cold dreary cloudy weather yesterday it was the coldest day in a while and I think that affects the energy system of the mind and body of people unless they're at a high enough level of consciousness to kind of counteract that and you know sustain themselves through that low energy point but most people who aren't at that level of consciousness they you know take the brunt of that energy hit on their their allowing themselves really to be victimized by these herbs and flows in in the quality of time that many different researchers have talked about you know over time and they really don't have the the consciousness energy the muscle if you will to really offer any resistance to that you know it's like a weight that's upon them and they don't have the strength to lift it and you just saw that yesterday on the March at least I did I don't know if anybody else that was involved in the and the Fed rally in March here in Philadelphia or in any other cities saw that same level of just energy depletion and overall lethargic miss in the public we again have to renew our efforts to somehow combat this and get these people to engage because they are under attack this is a war that we're waging it's a war in consciousness you know and it's a war against the people of the earth and we need these people involved in the battle this is a spiritual battle that's being waged whether anybody wants to admit that or not or understands it or not that's what it is and we need these people to engage on that battlefield of life so if anybody wants to offer some suggestions or talk about the dynamic that they see playing out in their area especially if they're at activist I would definitely like to hear from you once again the toll-free number to join us to talk about solutions is eight six six eight four one one zero six five I briefly talked a little bit about the dynamic I saw on the march to hand out information about the Federal Reserve System yesterday and I'll have another little anecdote when we have another Mullen callers but we have another caller on the line so let's go to the phones again David in Idaho you are live on what on earth is happening welcome David a market of David and thanks for having a show and I just had a question in reference to an older show drama we were talking about the pentagram and how it increased in its ability to influence the user if he's good in the middle and then it was open had an open side and I just wondered how that related to the Pentagon on 9/11 and being the fact that yes we did briefly bring that up and again this isn't unnecessarily my belief it is simply something that I was covering about what the beliefs of a cult this happened to be and how they view the pentagram as a symbol and its capabilities and what it what they use it for so uh you know I I don't want people to say that's my belief system it is something I'm making people aware of that is a belief system that is out there and is deeply held by people who are into the occult especially the dark aspects of the occult to summon beings and use them for their purposes for their egoic selfish purposes um they feel that that can be done that is part of their belief system whether it can or cannot is up to each individual to decide for themselves but uh we talked about this as being part of a summoning to summon an energy from a higher dimensional space and that is very very possible indeed why the entire events of 9/11 played out the way they did with one aspect of the pentagram they Pentagon which is the hub of the central hub of a pentagram being bro we talked about the broken pentagram in that symbolism B as being in the occult world especially the world of ritualistic magic as being a symbol for a pact with an extra dimensional entity or a demon if you will okay so the broken pentagram is often called the sign of the cloven whom for the pentagram of pacts and I do believe this was the symbolism that was invoked on 9/11 it is part of the entire ritual that 9/11 was and that breaking of that one side of the Pentagon as being an aspect of the pentagram is definitely an aspect of invocation to what entity to what form of energy that's you know anyone's call but I would suggest what they're really invoking is the force of fear itself and if you want to call that Satan you know I've you know explain to people that Satan is derived from the Hebrew term Satan which simply means the adversary or the opposer and our adversary an opposer added the at the ultimate level is fear itself because this ritual was an injection a mass injection of fear an invocation of fear summoning it and then injecting it into the mass consciousness of people so that they can be more easily controlled and are more apt to give up their inherent freedoms for so-called protection so that's my take on what that was about and I I think you know I also covered that in the section that we did on symbolism when I talked about the pentagram of Pax I'm not sure off the top of my head what podcast number that was but you can go back and pull it up in the archive on the podcast page of the website you know I've been missing much of the information that you've been giving out and it's just a pleasure to glean from your knowledge and clean this a little bit here and there and I mean you reference a book I can go find it and I read in it and then I'm able to share with people around me and then if you groves and the solutions that he put forth on curing this ill or in and carnism all the corners and it affected me more than and you know I reflect on it each time I read and I think try to decrease my meet by 75% and so I don't have very much further to go I wasn't meeting that much before and it's just kind of a goal that I have in my line of obtaining that peace within and having no fear and I appreciate your show mark thank you so much I appreciate you sir thanks for the call all right great callers as always to the show your calls for the rest of the show coming up on this edition of what on earth is happening to call a number to join us toll-free 866 eight four one one zero six five I want to hear from people specifically to talk about what they're doing to try to wake people up what they're doing to help to affect change at a grassroots level I want to talk about the dynamic that people see playing now in the world where do you see it at what do you see our chances as being to turn this thing around in this late hour eight six six eight four one one zero six five yeah the last caller brought up some great points it is all about just continuing to go down that path and it becomes easier as it goes personally of course the work that we have to do on a world scale does not really become too much easier maybe at one point that will accelerate and become a lot easier too once we increase the numbers of people who are actively doing such work but on a personal level the awakening process you know it begins like anything else you need to exert a lot of effort and momentum at the beginning to get it rolling but then that momentum takes over and it becomes easier to engage that effort and sustain it over a longer period of time so yeah when you're engaged in something like changing dietary habits at first it can become difficult you're attached to the way that you used to eat the way you know might have made you feel in the past the the flavor and taste profiles the shopping habits all of it you know they become habituated and ingrained and therefore there's momentum built up to those and stopping something that momentum is already built up to four can be difficult you know because you have to exert a lot of force to break that momentum it's like a train that's already been moving at a high speed you have to exert a lot of force to slow that thing down less force than you would to keep it simply moving at that pace so again momentum is a key thing to keep in mind here the acceleration of any given process whether it be toward the negative or toward the positive toward the awakening process again then you have a lot of momentum behind their efforts to shut people down and that's why if none of this information reaches many people's eyes and ears and they don't take it into themselves they're not receptive to it they're going to be shut down at a faster and faster pace because that momentum that is working toward the dominators side toward the mind controllers side they have a lot of momentum built up behind that and it's going to be easier for them to sustain that process or even accelerate it that's why it's so critical now at this time at this juncture in history for people to really fully awaken themselves and get involved in the process of helping to awaken others it isn't just about listening to the sound of people's voice it isn't just about hearing what I have to say it isn't about just listening to other radio show hosts or watching videos you need to take it in but then you need to put it back out there you know I was doing the same thing at one point that a lot of people are on the edge of saying well should I step forward and make myself you know publicly known and start doing this or that and reaching out to people and you know they have all these doubts in their minds well what if I'm not accepted what if people don't want to hear what I have to say what they don't believe me what if I'm not an effective communicator etc etc etc and there's a million different excuses that the Evo is going to come up with for why you should stay silent and why you shouldn't get involved in the battle why you shouldn't take your knowledge to a higher level by putting it into practice on this field of battle okay the ego will try to come up with a million different reasons for not doing so and I was there at one point myself and I told this anecdote before and I'll briefly tell it again we went Barb and I went to a meeting in Virginia the state named after the virgin the goddess okay and a woman there said you have all this knowledge what are you doing with it and I say well not really much just kind of you know still building on it and she said what makes you think you're allowed right back [Music] welcome back ladies and gentlemen you're listening - what on earth is happening you're on the Oracle broadcasting radio network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we're live into the second hour of the show I apologize for completely missing the station break as it was coming in it was very low in my headphones and I talked right over it so I want to go back and reiterate this the anecdote that I was telling about how I waited a very long time to really get involved in opening my mouth even with all the knowledge that I had and the personal things that I had been through in life and I kind of still kicked myself or beat myself up about that from time to time because I feel like I waited too long and I should have gotten involved in doing it a lot earlier but um how it really manifested or how it I realized that I couldn't stay silent any longer is Barb and I went to a lecture in Virginia and during the lecture um a woman who was attending I got in a conversation with her name was Pat and you know I started basic we started talking about a lot of different things and some other people were you know in and out of the conversation as well and during the course of this conversation this woman packed kind of just said to me you're knowledgeable about so much I can tell you've done so much study and had a lot of personal experience what are you doing with what you know and I said well not much not really anything really because I'm just continuing to take in more I'm amassing information I'm you know a a reading listening watching and that's basically it and her answer like made me take a step back and you know do a double-take because she said what makes you think you're allowed to do that you know and it was like kind of a go or a punch you know that hit me and I really thought about it in the days and couple of weeks following that and had to say yeah what does make me think I can just sit on all of this info and not do anything with it because having this knowledge inherently implies a responsibility to do something good with it to put it out there for others so that they may benefit from it and that's what really kick-started me gave me that kick in the rear end you could say to start doing what I'm doing now to make a presentation to you know eventually do a radio show and put all of this information out there for other people to take in so that they can really accelerate their own personal growth and their their journey and consciousness and their discovery of self so that's some you know an anecdote I wanted to reiterate again just to tell people even I started with that same attitude that I'm just going to hang back and watch and wait and listen and learn more and more and more you can't stay in that position forever you know that that's that's hurting the overall dynamic what you know well you got to come forward and start bringing forward to others even if you don't have the whole entire picture no one has the entirety of all of it of all the pieces that would mean that there would be nothing left for anyone to learn that for that person to learn no one has that everyone is still learning you know all the good teachers of this world included so it isn't about having to vet every single detail of every single piece of information that you've ever heard it's about having a good enough piece of the picture that you can see it clearly enough where you can communicate that to someone else to help them heal that's all it's about and that is a act of courage ultimately it's an act of hair of course that goes without saying you have to care enough to want to get involved but ultimately it's an act of courage to step out of the shadows to step out of you know anonymity and start doing something out in the open with other people so that's what's ultimately required is courage and willpower and again no one is perfect no one needs to be perfect to do this work you simply have to have the care the knowledge the care and the will to make the effort and again as I've said many times over the last several weeks many hands make slight work the more people that get involved in this effort the more the awakening process for others is going to accelerate and we can make that happen faster and faster if more people will get involved in bringing this information to people we have to raise our voice as a course no one can do it alone no matter how popular they are individually it has to be ultimately a group effort all right we have some more callers on the mind so let's go to the calls all right let's go back to Ivan and Phoenix and see if he's been able to clear up the noise issues on his line Ivan are you with us yeah I'm here at mark Ivan much better we can hear you well now okay well I'm in the break room so I'm away from the machines already have worse today I got quite a bit hopefully I can get it all in here doubt first of all to help the listeners understand when I'm reference referencing if I can just give up my website again that I gave you a few shows back free your mind az.com so that's free your mind av calm the abbreviation of Arizona and on that website I posted a audio reading of a book that I got from John Irving topic media website called no treason Constitution something about the Constitution by Lysander Spooner I don't know if you're familiar with that from like 1860 something he kind of breaks down the Constitution how it really kind of doesn't apply to us because like every other contract is everything that everyone signs today is a contract but yet none of us alive today trying to out the suture is simply a set of restraints on government employees that's all it really is typically right right like all right somehow all it is is a set of it's a set of what people in government are being given the ability to do by the citizenry granted the right to do by the citizenry and what they may never do a list of restraints on what they may never do quite simply my problem with it is that it tries to grant or delegate rights that don't exist that's why I'm not what you would call constitutional list but I understand the general um intent that was put forward for a limited state of government that that was birthed by the Constitution but I happen to think no matter how small government you start out with it always grows into tyranny because government itself is a fundamentally flawed axiom all forms of government except in drag uh direct by the individual you know control over one's own mind by the individual is true government its internal government sovereignty and that form of government I think Israel and we do need to enact within ourselves but no one can do that from an external place which is why I say I only accept two forms of government monarchy and anarchy monarchy being the state of internal rulership by the one by the self so I own myself I am a kingdom of one and I am the monarch of that Kingdom and my rulership extends only to the kingdom of one I rule over no one else and I understand that every other being in this world is also a sovereign being and they rule themselves and therefore I don't intrude upon their inherent sovereignty and they should not intrude upon my inherent sovereignty that's what a monarchy a true monarchy is not an external monarchy that's an internal monarchy and I believe in external anarchy which simply means the absence of masters that's all anarchy means uh right now what we have is the opposite we have internal anarchy within people which means they have not mastered themselves and therefore we have external monarchy this uh globalist uh you know elitist hegemony called the new world order if you want to call it that you know the global elite quote-unquote you know the psychopathic masters of the world the money masters etc the occult overlords you know the darker cultists who ultimately are in charge of the earth in a de facto sense because people do their bidding because they think they're doing something good when in fact they're serving these evil Psychopaths uh that is the form of external monarchy that is really reigning over us right now as people we need to flip that all around so that we have internal monarchy and external anarchy right and there are two phrases or two words that using your what is it uh green language that I mentioned to you before free Dominion and wise Dominion freedom and with wisdom so that's I guess the same as anarchy and monarchy and there was another thing also on the website you were talking about being out and about this weekend and how the zombies or excuse me the public within a day's with their shopping on the website okay I wish I would have really taken some video footage I didn't because I was busy handing out flyers and engaging keep trying to engage people in conversation but uh you should have just saw it it is sad to witness and I really don't know what we can do to turn it around at this late stage but if you have any suggestions go right ahead oh yeah I know what to talk into my opinion in the past those hordes of people at midnight waiting to get in to buy the $20 DVD player yeah I see I've seen those before but on the website I posted an article that came out in 2009 that I was forwarded in Facebook by Peter Joseph and it's called the gospel of consumption and that is a very good detailed article breaking down how in the early 1900's the workweek was only 30 hours six hours a day how a little bit of money that the population earned they were able to make it you know last was a little food they needed the clothing they needed and you know shelter and then gradually would be a you know growing of the industrial you know society more cars more productivity so everything started changing and the powers that should not be gradually started changing society's perception that oh we need more money where you can buy more stuff and that's where we're at now that everybody thinks oh I need the new iPhone I need the 50 inch TV I need this year's new model car and so that article breaks down very detailed and very succinctly how we got to where we're at now and then it's very very good article I recommend people checking that out on the website excellent and um Ivan your site I've checked it out really good job on everything you put up there this is a great example of someone who's getting involved and you know putting information out there for other people it's it isn't as difficult to do as people might think and the more voices that join the stronger that course is going to be and the more effect that is ultimately going to have so Ivan great job on your site as always I'll give that give the address once again for people WWWE your mind a.com for your mind a commas in free remind Arizona you know we should have a cleaner find every state you know everybody should I was thinking about that yeah you know boosting our efforts and you know information and form a meet up etc then just do it nationwide and don't wait for orders from headquarters just get out and do it that's it there is no leader back centralized effort you took the initiative to do that you know on your own and just go ahead and do it that's all it's about and that's the kind of efforts of truth will and true courage that we're talking about here right I have one more thing and this stems from last week's show that you had a Leonard hammer on and I caught in and brought up something about an event and things um it gets a little touchy cuz some people I understand Lenin Lenin the point of view about fear and that time will tell we're sorry I'm also applying what I've learned from you about symbolism and I picked this up listening to Microsoft Aryan you know synchronicity again I listened to some of it separately we get into this my take on the whole thing with false flags is very clear it isn't about giving in to fear it's about understanding what the possibilities are based on patterns that we witness and I think if we write enough about that we can change the outcome so um you know there's got the possibility of something doesn't necessarily mean we're giving in to fear about it or empowering it it's talking about potentials possibilities and it's I think creating awareness of how these people think in their patterns of thought and behavior so that we can become more conscious of you know how they operate and work to avoid these scenarios so with that being said go ahead and offer this scenario exactly exactly a couple of weeks ago listening to a few other shows the author of this book his name is uh Kent Bane and the book is called it's the most dangerous book in the world 9/11 as mass ritual he's been on a local show here called Maria hazard show he was on red-eyes and he was on beneath wood so I downloaded the book and I'm about halfway through but even before Ivan did we lose you I'm here there you go oh you come here come on milk you can continue oh okay maybe I'm about to say something some people don't want me to say and they're trying to cut me out yeah anyway okay so basically I started applying what I picked up from your show about pattern recognition and symbol literacy so I broke down Phoenix Arizona and Phoenix it's seven letters that was only seven letters there's your seven seven and then for the Christmas holidays we have December 21st 2012 and we see how and uh you know 40s and 50s they really narrow down this gates of get pinpoint December 21st of 2012 when you take the December that one and two that's three the 21st two and one that's three and a year twelve that's another three so we got three there add them up you got the nine you're playing around with these numbers I was like holy cow well everyone's out there thinking about the mine and the end of the world or celebrating a new consciousness or celebrating maybe into the pain whatever December 21st represents for them the darker coaxes will use all that energy and possibly do something somewhere and you know use all this energy and focus it in their negative direction that's what I came on my own not to mention you know from all the other conspiracy quoting for websites and you chose talking about you know homeland security purchasing seven hundred some odd million rounds social security games and 400 something million rounds my FEMA planning for mass funerals and all these little pattern recognitions let me to think maybe something can be in the works not not on the fear but more of a awareness and maybe this needs to be pulled out there so that the consciousness we can do a what is it apophysis and you will know to bring apart upon the positive but note this is not going to happen we will not let you do this gallery see that's what they want people focused on a particular thing that they can then I guess you could say direct that type of energy that attention that's why they want people focused on the you know all the possibility of a negative outcome or a negative a cataclysm cataclysmic event or a destructive event of some kind that that's what they're counting on they're trying to inject that into the public consciousness I never looked at 2012 as anything that was cataclysmic or destructive I always looked at it as I said really when we started the year here on this program and talked a little bit briefly about the the quote-unquote prophesied year of 2012 that it was about a window of opportunity that we're already in we've been in it for many years and we'll probably continue to be in it for many years after 2012 but it's this window of opportunity in time by which all of the circumstances and the the unneeded things that we have in our life like the internet like all these different forms of electronic devices that we can use to better our minds and to take in all this information that is around us now this would be an opportunity for us to amass all of this information the knowledge of truth that has has always been all around us but now we can aggregate it in a way unlike we've ever been able to do before in human history and concentrate it and focus it and send it okay we're able to send directed information at and in a more targeted and focused way to receive it and to send it in a more targeted and focused way than we ever have before as human beings that is a unique golden opportunity to reach people and help them to awaken first of all it's a golden opportunity to awaken ourselves and come out of the mass mind control techniques that are used against us on a daily basis but then it's an incredible opportunity to help to awaken other people so if we this window of opportunity is all about what are we going to do with all of these capabilities at our disposal are we going to use them wisely now we're going to put our full care our effort our willpower behind it in an act of courage and in an act of love and transform consciousness with all of these tools at our disposal or are we going to squander that opportunity and at some point I believe the universe would arrange a very negative scenario or outcome for Humanity if it decides even with all this opportunity around us we're not we're going to do nothing or we're going to lay down and take what you know whatever default condition is handed to us or we're just not going to do anything with all of this information we're going to ignore it we're going to ignore it if that's the case we're in for a really rough time on the other side of this window of opportunity but if we take this window of opportunity and we leap through it you know a full a full steam ahead on the other side we can see a world again that like I said that we could barely even envision at this point it is so trance transformed it has been transformed into some something that is so empowering and so amazing that we can even barely envision something like that from our current you know condition our current place in consciousness and the current conditions that are around us in the world that's what I see 2012 as again that window of opportunity so I think the whole fear mongering type thing the whole injection of fear and the all the putting forward of all these you know horrible dastardly scenarios of you know destruction and Cataclysm and you know poles shift etc can go on and on and on all these different scenarios Planet X that people talk about having an associated with 2012 that's all planned by the dark aspect the dark elements involved in this in this chess game in this battle hey that's planned by them to try to instill fear in everybody if they can get everybody on that page of fear they only need to maybe press button you know just doing some small act around that time and it would set off that fear bomb you know so to speak uh you know allegorically or you know as an analogy uh that they have rigged that they have already pre-programmed and that's what I feel that all of the negative and cataclysmic stuff for the 2012 time period is all about it's all they're doing again to try to plan for a false flag event of some kind we need to say we're not going to fall into that level of fear we're going to understand this is an opportunity to do the work that we need to do here to change consciousness for the better and we're going to do that and not have any fear about what these possible potential outcomes might be we're going to do the work that we know we need to do here get involved and step out on the real spiritual battlefield but I think all of this other stuff about 2012 is simply a distraction for to take people off the path so they're out of the game they're there they're sitting on the sidelines just watching it this isn't a movie ladies and gentlemen it's not there to be watched life is there to be engaged in not to be watched from the sidelines so take an example from Ivan in Phoenix get out there and start doing something with the information that's out there don't just say oh I know it and that's it that's the end no that's the beginning you need to take this information and bring it to other people who need to see and hear it so I rewrite the great points on the whole concept of this 2012 prophesied time period and for bringing up that you know are those numerological significance is but you have anything else for us today now that that should be about it for today I gotta start getting back to the noisy area so I'll do in you to listen to your show here through the phone and talk to you next time on watching work with your side my friends all right thank you you can take care bye mark [Applause] all right great always great to hear from Ivan in Phoenix all right let's see let's go to another caller here we go Richard in Washington you're live on what on earth is happening welcome yeah great show I was going to just present a cyclical perspective and have you consider this in the 20th century every 20 years is a cycle that's directed toward the youth in the tens it was Upton Sinclair with the jungle and Frank Norris with the pit which is the today's version of the Earthlings in the 30s we had the Victorians with a George Bernard Shaw and Eleanor Roosevelt the 50s The Beat Generation Allen Ginsberg 60s my generation or 70s my generation the hippies 90s to save the planet PETA Al Gore John Robin spans the slop we've got to save a small planet etc and then today we have and I'm including you in here as a bastion of this we have the same cycle coming around and now we have John McDougall talking about the all starch diet and why I'm bringing this up is the body is also cyclical we start out being anabolic and in a growth stage up until about the 30s or 40s and we start hitting the catabolic downhill slant so in that cycle of things we start dealing with issues we didn't deal with that we were when we were in the anabolic stage and why I kind of harp on this a little bit and you know I know you you've caught my my what carping is the fact that when you're in a vegetarian perspective when you're young when you can run on sugar you're actually setting yourself up for a earlier problem when you get into the catabolic state because you can't run on the sugar in that state you hit what I call hitting the wall and my last ten years of my kind of productive life was dealing with people much like and you read the book linearities people that got older we're following the cyclical perspective and all of a sudden they hit the wall and and that's all I try to bring out is the fact that you know everything is variable depending on which stage of the cycle you're in and and what you can do in your youth sometimes doesn't even seem possible or likely when you hit the older cycle and in conjunction with what we talked about when I called your show last the spiral upward either Yin or yang is always balanced by the spiral downward the yin of the yang so it ends up to be a totally cyclical perspective and and that's something that I just wanted to push bring out to people to think about okay great thanks Richard my response to that is if this is true there are cyclical progressions and what I would say and how I would slightly add to this or offer a slightly varied viewpoint regarding this is that it's not a cycle in the sense of a circle it's a tendency toward a certain outcome or an ebb and flow okay so there's a current that is somewhat pushing things in a particular or specific direction what I would say is that that is not an assured outcome it is not a sight cycle in a sense that it always goes in a circle I said last week with Lenin that it is a spiral progression and there's always an upward movement and of course there can be a downward spiral movement as well it's not to say that it's always going up but if we're alert to the changes if we're alert to these tendencies of progression and the ebbs and flows that come forward in time okay that we can use that knowledge we can use that consciousness to even transcend some of these tendencies of flow this is what is called in the ancient mystery teachings the mystery school teachings as the laws or the principle of rhythm the principle of rhythm it's based in the principle of polarity that things have a tendency to sway from one polarity to another okay there is an ebb and a flow all right there is a tendency toward a particular outcome but that outcome will only sweep you up in it if the consciousness is low if the consciousness is high you can transcend that tendency this is what's called raising yourself above the law lowercase L you are raising yourself above what is generally seen as being something that is inescapable as a law or but it's not a law capital L law which is truly an unbreakable inherent condition in the universe that is what I call natural law you will not rise up above natural law by right raising consciousness raising consciousness will get you to a deep understanding of natural law and keep you there but raising consciousness through availability of information opening oneself up to possibilities opening oneself up to truth is going to help raise conscious your consciousness up to a point where you can transcend this lowercase l law and by that I don't mean man's law either I'm talking about things that people see as it's inevitably going to go that way it has to go that way you know it's a cycle it comes it's always happens this way a good book to check out regarding this that and I don't agree with everything this gentleman says but I think that he has a good point regarding the spiral and fractal flow of time is Gregg Braden I definitely recommend his book fractal time because in it he talks about these ChoicePoint moments and we're in one right now that this is a massive choice point and the beginning of my show at the in the very introduction I say you know as humanity approaches its critical moment of choice that's what this whole thing is about we're in that window of choice that window of opportunity tunity right now based on this seemingly cyclical but actually fractal and spiral Evan flow of tendencies okay so there's a tendency that comes around every once in a while every cyclically so often within time but it's an opportunity for growth and development if we're receptive and are willing to get the message so that's my response to that where I don't see it as cyclical in this flat two-dimensional graph with a circle on it that you go up and then you go down and then you go back up and it just repeats over and over and over again that is not how I see the progression of consciousness in the universe I see it as something that is like a coil of a spring that is cyclical and we can progress upward and as we go around and reach that same degree point okay which let's say it's a you know of 45 degrees on the on the spiral there's going to be a tendency at that point which is going to give us an opportunity to learn and grow in which case we can go up the spiral and then maybe there'll be a tendency at that same point that deals with similar issues but at a higher level and we can work there and go up higher if we fail to do that we're going to be sent back down and around that spiral until we and maybe even have to face something that is even darker and that that's the time period that we're in right now and perhaps we can jump levels in that in that spiral without having to go through the entire cycle over again you know you go up to a higher step of the spiral and because you got the lesson that that choice point presented and you don't need to go through the entire revolution again another turn you know within that that spiral that looks like a circle but really it either sends you up or it sends you down so that's my take on the sickness cycles again is this something that exists yes teachers throughout history have been talking about cycles of time is it something that is flat two-dimensional cyclical that it always just comes around and then repeats in a different form no it's a tendency and consciousness will determine the outcome consciousness will have to do with the level of consciousness you're at will have to do with whether you learn and grow from that tendency being presented to you or whether you're taken down and ratcheted down a notch or given the hard lesson or the whipping if you will and unfortunately I think Humanity is kind of rejecting the lesson that we're all here to learn at this choice point that we're at and I think it's going to take the whipping personally again I want to hear from people on that point do you agree do you disagree do you think we can turn it around and change it and have and be able to avert that negative outcome I'm not so sure after seeing the kind of people that I saw on the street yesterday and I want to so moving on from the the topic that Richard brought up on cycles I want to touch upon some a couple of other things regarding things that I witnessed yesterday on the street during the street action with the end of Fed rally and it's it's kind of telling where people are at because uh and this could even be seen as a controversial dynamic and after this I'll get to some other callers but all of the seemingly well-to-do individuals on the street not super rich people by any stretch of the imagination but you know upper middle class seemed to be the least receptive you know people who you know by the way they dress the items that they may be carrying etc you know are have money put away they haven't they have a job obviously where they have a lot of savings they have a lifestyle that is very comfortable they're not they're not needing for anything for certainly not for physical things or for money there's certainly needy in the spirit but that's another issue these people are are the most the least receptive to the message they think they're okay because they have some money they think that's the only determining factor for whether you're okay quote-unquote in the world or not and you'll hear this phrase you'll hear the phrase no that's okay I'm okay no I'm not interested in that I'm okay they'll actually say the phrase I'm okay and this is like an art almost on our title phrase that is coming out of their mouths out of the subconscious that the ego has them believing that they're okay they don't even understand they're in a war they don't even understand they're not okay they're destroyed they're actively being destroyed at all times and places their spirit is devastated their spirit is almost completely destroyed and yet they are using this phrase I'm okay I talked about this with some other people including Barb who has said no that's that's what they all continue to say oh I'm okay you know like oh I don't need to know anything you could possibly have to show me there's no information you could possibly put in my hands that I need to know where I'm at I have it all figured out I know what the world is I'm in a good place because I'm covered as far as my physical need needs go right in this particular moment and I'm okay and I think that is the most arrogant ignorant just diseased thing that could pour out of a person's mouth who is a complete no nothing a no nothing again these are the people who I say have negative knowledge and believe me if for a couple of them that do give you the two seconds that they're willing to grant to have a very brief interchange or dialogue with you know that they know nothing you know because they have no idea what the Federal Reserve is they don't know what fractional reserve banking is they have no idea about the all of the machination that went into creating this financial crisis that is plaguing this country and will continue to plague it and they think because they're in a position right now with have a little bit of cash that somehow they're quote-unquote okay and all I have to say to these people if this information probably won't reach their ears but if it ever does trust me you're not okay you're in a very bad way whether you understand it or see it or not right now you are most definitely not okay and again the dynamic that you see always has to do with the people who seemingly are comfortable in the job or money-making role that they play in life you know they have a cush job and therefore nothing else is of any import whatsoever their information is meaningless knowledge is meaningless to these people and one of the things you see when you engage them is a smirk on their face there's this smug smirk as if to say what could you possibly have to tell me what could I possibly be able to gain from hearing one word that comes out of your mouth or one thing on a slip of paper that you have to hand to me possibly this arrogance and smugness is ultimately what's going to be these people's downfall they're not going to transcend the cycle they're not going to transcend the law capital I'm sorry lowercase L let alone opera no one's going to there is no such thing as transcending the uppercase L law but this lower form of law this F this sick seemingly cyclical flow that is an ebb and flow of tendencies throughout time they're going to get crushed by that wave crushed and they've done no preparation mentally psychologically spiritually definitely obviously not physically for the eventualities of this wave that's coming to run them over like a tsunami and you could say hey that's really harsh talk yes it is because I can't even imagine how someone this agree and poor in knowledge and poor in spirit can be so smug and you just see it over and over and over and over again like what I don't even know what that is what is this thing this thing that calls itself a human being that you would like try to make a degradation of someone else's will and effort that you're not doing anything you're sitting on your ass watching television not getting involved in anything to make the world a better place totally self-absorbed totally in your own head and you are dare to scoff at the efforts of someone else to bring solid reliable information to other people whether you agree with the cause or not I want to go and scoff at someone else's political cause you know I'm not scoffing at the people who go in march against cancer in these anti cancer walks these March for the Cure walks their intentions are good they just don't understand that tours for cancer are already in existence they've been with us for a hundred years under actively being suppressed you know that this this whole medical paradigm this model that we have of what real science and medicine is is never going to give us a cure for cancer because it's only addressing symptoms and not underlying causes and they're just misguided they're well-intentioned but misguided but these people are a whole nother animal and I use the word deliberately there are a whole nother animal they're not even a human being they're like an animal that is so obsessed with its own self and its so obsessed with only what it can get out of something my own selfish interests you know my own little worldly desires that that they actually have a smug laugh you know this smug smile you see it over and over and over again and not just toward me just toward everyone who's on the March you see someone I'll watch someone try to put a flyer in someone else's hand say here you go sir here you go ma'am would you like some information on you know why we're marching and what the Federal Reserve is doing the financial situation of the American people and they just not only won't take it won't even bother you to even engage you with speech but they'll just have this smug smile like oh god you actually think that information is important you actually believe that there's some there's something that that you could give me that I don't know about how life works and I just find it totally disgraceful and in a lot of ways it's like you almost are rooting for the negative outcomes so the people like that just get smacked by the Mack truck right in the face you know just so they never even see the blindsiding coming and experience the deepest aspect of suffering that could possibly be experienced because the whole world is going to be toppled on top of its head and they saw none of it coming and they're going to be in total psychological in a psychological sewer worse than they are now because they thought that they were okay and insisted that they were okay and you know I have to try to fight with myself with the lower aspect of myself to say no we don't want to see that outcome we want to continue to try to press forward and bring the effort forward to try to truly educate these people and get them out of their mind-control stupor but it's very difficult when you see people with that kind of an attitude literally not only not wanting help but scoffing at people who are trying to help them it's amazing that people are that degraded I mean these are literally troll goblin creatures they're not even like I said they have much much much much work to do to get back to being a base human being getting back to base consciousness they're in total D monic consciousness demonic consciousness they're in a place that's so low there's nothing lower than it beyond death you know beyond physical not you know non-existence of you know the animated body to have an experience within consciousness just go back to the void you know that's about the lowest layer of consciousness in the physical world that you can get is to think you have it so figured out that no one could possibly put any information forward that you could gain or benefit from in your understanding and that's the worst place you could possibly be at and I saw the biggest number of those individuals yesterday because of the timing of this event right after Black Friday this sales craze and to continue this anecdote before we go back to the phones I just want to say that there was one other encounter that I had old two other actually in front of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia we handed out many flyers about the Federal Reserve and there more people were receptive but even there you had people do the same attitude you're standing in line to see one of the symbols of the American revolutionary spirit one of the symbols of the founding of this country which attempted to enshrine sovereignty in the hearts and minds of the people and combat and fight against tyranny and Beyond eternal vigilance against it and you don't even have the dignity to say when an activist is coming up to you saying these people are destroying America and you need to know about it the mainstream media is not going to tell you about this that people standing in line to go into and see a physical artifact okay the Liberty Bell thinking that somehow they're participating in freedom you know by just going and visiting in person a physical object from that time period I'm not no disrespect against the whole concept of the Liberty doll fine whoever wants to go and see it and you know get a glimpse into our you know past American history I have no problem with that but I'm saying the people in line many of them did engage in taking the information from our hands but many had that's the same mocking or skull scoffing attitude and a lot of them you could tell have this attitude of these people are just troublemakers they're just malcontents they don't they think they have it so bad why don't you go live somewhere else I'm not saying there aren't worth places in America of course there are but there's no good places in the world the whole planet is a prison essentially the whole planet doesn't understand sovereignty the whole planet doesn't understand truth the whole planet has no conceptualization of what real freedom is doesn't matter where you go you're just going to a worse place within the global tyranny the whole place is global tyranny so this whole attitude of America love it or leave it people can take that attitude and cram it up their ass sideways as far as I'm concerned and I'll say it that harsh ok because I'm not going to leave this place I'm in here for the long haul whether it comes to a physical revolution or not I'm going to continue to wage the revolution in spirit and in mind and if it comes to a physical revolution I'm still not going anywhere I'll be here and I'll be fighting on the side of truth and freedom so you know don't tell me where I need to leave because this place is where I was born it's my birthright and it's where the people who founded this country fought and defended human freedom with blood so again anybody that has that attitude about real Patriots people who are really trying to free the minds and hearts of the people in this totally brainwashed mind controlled country you know what you could do with that attitude ok so that's all I have to say about people like that one other quick thing I want to bring up is in front of the Constitution Center ok now just think about this for a minute in front of the building that is represents having a you know land that is about We the People there was an entire family with tons of packages seated on the steps of the Constitution Center waiting for a tourist trolley and maybe they weren't from the United States I don't even know ok but I went up to him me and another activist and attempted to hand them a flyer and the they said what's this like a barb said you know commented that it was as if you tried to hand them a recipe for cooking babies as comical as that sounds and the ridiculousness of the notion it brings to the mind it was like that was the mental that was the physical look on their face just taking out a single slip of paper and attempting to put some information into their hand it was like you had you know attended them to look at the most the grossest atrocity that has ever been committed by humanity you know like this look came over their face like yeah like you're trying to hand me something with words on it and they're like what's this about the the father the mother and the children all with this you know how dare you stranger approach us you don't speak to us on the street we're a busy about our shopping and tourism or whatever you know how dare you attempt to hand us a piece of information and I said well you know this is a march to raise awareness of what the Federal Reserve System is doing that's completely immoral and basically making the American people destitute with a complete Ponzi scheme which is what they're fractional reserve banking system is we find that's immoral we're speaking out against it we're trying to raise awareness of what they do and here's some information about it and I said then this is also a rally to end the illegal wars of aggression that are made possible by funding the federal by the funding of the Federal Reserve System it makes all these illegal Wars offshore wars of aggression that are pre-emptive possible been able to continue for so long and they said we have better things to do with our time than to waste our time with junk like this literally that's exactly the response we have better things to do with our time then to waste our time with junk like this and I said junk like this like what's really going on in the world you'd rather remain ignorant about it and do nothing about and you're sitting on the steps of the Constitution building in Philadelphia I said enjoy your slavery that's you can do nothing for someone in that state of consciousness they are a golem they have no consciousness they're not really a human being there are there are there are an animal in human form calling themselves a human being but they're there they are the dead the dark occultists call these people the dead for a reason they are the dead someone like that is beyond help now I'm not trying to say get discouraged and stop the effort but someone like that ultimately needs to be drowned by the chorus of truth that we need to raise we need to have so many people speaking the truth that it is impossible to ignore and that they are uncomfortable in their bubble of ignorance we have to make it uncomfortable for people to remain ignorant than to go to the truth regardless of how uncomfortable that is that's how many people need to see people disagree with this approach that they think no pressure is involved let me tell you something to make a diamond pressure is needed we need the pressure applied to create something that is good it's not going to happen without willful effort and pressure people say the truth doesn't need to be a defendant it doesn't need to be defended but it does need to be spread it does need to be spoken into existence and in doing that you are creating a pressurized effect that eventually it's like walls closing in and no one can escape it unfortunately it's that dynamic is turned upside down and the pressure is all coming from the mind control syndicate they have more they're applying all the pressure not the truth the real truth activists not the my freedom activists I'm talking about people who really know what's going on we need to apply more pressure folks and do that in an unapologetic way so you know I took some time to relate some negative experiences that went on yesterday but I think it's very telling about where we're at in consciousness let's go to the phones to wrap up the show here we go caller from Philadelphia you're live on what on earth is happening welcome is this Jay Parker yes Jay what's up I just wanted I just wanted to say mark that you know this spring with the free mind conference and the end the Fed and the wars I mean I I believe we're going to start to see some real activist groundwork in Philadelphia so don't just bear well it's certainly what that's right it's certainly stay with me for a moment Jay if you will let's take let's take this call out to the end of the show since you've called in we can hype up the free your mind conference a bit for the listeners as well but I want to touch on what you were saying I do think it's true that there's a lot of activist work going on here in Philadelphia most certainly okay there's a lot of groups here I mean you know what what on earth is happening is here armed truth freedom prosperity is here the through your mind conference is here the Tesla Science Foundation is here we have a lot of stuff going on here in the city you know arm so there's no shortage of events that are promoting truth and freedom most certainly the thing is simply not coordinated it's not only that it's not coordinated isn't it the same people involved in all of these groups it's a tiny core group that's really involved in all of these groups they're the same people that you see over and over and over again regardless of where you go you know they call Philadelphia it's a small metropolitan city it's one of the small big cities you know it's like New York it's it's you know Philly is its younger brother and it seems like it's a it's a big town but it's a small town as well and you see the same people coming out over and over and over again you know so what do you think can be done to engage more people to get involved in all of these efforts so that we can start spreading this in a more targeted way but we've had this discussion before and also with Michael falsetto and and basically the outreach of free your mind this April is going to incorporate an entire room of over 30 vendors dedicated the healing arts and also information that's going to empower people psychologically and financially and that's where we have to start in just the street level you know grassroots and build organizations that are truly grassroots that's right the problem with campaign for liberty and the Ron Paul organization was basically they wanted to be Republicans and the truth is neither Democrat nor Republican it's it's the truth they they want to become the new establishment instead of ultimately removing the quote unquote establishment you know the establishment if we have a revolution then the oppressed become the oppressor right exam and I'm really hoping that you know I know this is going to sound the new age cornball but I'm hoping that you know the Mayan calendar and actually we get a small fundamental energy shift in in frequency here on the planet and it helps open people's minds up to new ideas excellent Jay great way to take the show out and wrap it certainly very possible ladies and gentlemen Jay Parker one of the speakers for the upcoming free your mind to conference in April of 2013 great to hear from you Jay that's all the time we have every Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m. East Coast time that's for 2 p.m. Central Time we have a good show lined up for you here today we are going to be getting into a discussion on human psychopathy today on the show what is a psychopath what is psychopathy what are the kinds of psychopathy what are the characteristics of a true psychopath what are the defenses against a psychopath and I want to open up the phone's later to talk about a dynamic that many people are loath to begin to talk about at what point do you have to physically deal with a psychopath I want to ask a question and open up the phones today for the listenership to ask were the actions of the people who actually founded this country and had to physically beat back the British had to physically take action against what was oppression against their natural inherent human rights was their actions what they felt they needed to do and then ultimately did an act of hate or was that an act of love that's coming up on what on earth is happening today I want to give the call in lines right at the beginning of the show so people can get in the queue to take calls the call-in number to join us on what on earth is happening is eight six six eight four one one zero six five once again the toll-free number to join us is eight six six eight four one one zero six five we're going to be talking about human psychopathy and about when it is time to lay down trying to convince somebody and pick up arms against an oppressor so I have a couple of quick event announcements and thanks to give out here at the beginning of the show I want to thank fraida Rex for coming over and hanging with me the forum Ian barb for the weekend and attending the truth freedom prosperity documentary night he led the discussion for that evening that just passed this past Thursday and for attending in person the for your mine organizational meeting for your mind to organizational meaning that we just had this weekend so thanks to fray directs and I want to thank Christopher Gordon who made a great for your mind to promotional video for the for your mind to conference and people can see that on YouTube by simply typing in for your mind to conference and they could watch that promo video oh I will probably be linking it up on the for your mind to conference webpage as well this week I was on the uk-based radio show called outside the box with a host Kate of Gaia and Tony Zee that this is on the freedom reigns radio network out of the United Kingdom and I was on this program on November 28th the mp3 of the audio the podcast can be found in my news section at what on earth is happening calm so I want to thank Kate and Tony for bringing me on to their fine program the free your mind to conference ladies and gentlemen coming up meet-and-greet so that will be forthcoming on the conference website as well as right here on what on earth is happening for more speaker information for speaker BIOS for views of the venue for ticketing information please visit the your mind to conference website at WWF raw - calm the ad-free chip in for what on earth is happening to keep the show commercial free currently stands at $400 we need to raise 1000 by January 31st in order to keep the show ad free through the February March April a three month period so please keep the kind donations coming in for that effort it's really been very effective in doing the job and I thank everyone who has made a contribution to that goal okay so that having been said the topic the main topic of discussion for today is going to be psychopathy we want to talk about what it is and we want to talk about the types of psychopathy that exist now the first thing I want to get out of the way here is I'm doing this show because I have brought up the concept the idea that there are many people who are completely resistant and are in psychological denial about the condition known as psychopathy now this condition is now euphemized and has been termed sociopathy by medical professionals and healthcare professionals and mental health professionals I feel that that's a softening of the term they're basically the same condition and sociopathy is simply a euphemism for the term psychopathy some people say it more accurately describes the condition because it is someone who is basically breaking down the fabric of all of society and it's a sociological pathological condition while that is true I think it far too much de-emphasizes the psyche aspect of this disease because the biggest problem of human psychopathy is not the first type which we will be talking about primary psychopathy the biggest problem is secondary psychopathy and as we make the distinguishment between these two different conditions you will understand why the bitten far larger problem in society is secondary psychopathy now the denialists about this condition people who want to try to put their head in the sand like a good New Age little boy or little girl and stay in their condition of childish naivete they don't want to believe that this condition exists at all they don't want to believe that there is such a thing as primary psychopathy that there is an inherent condition in humanity that is with us called primary psychopathy and that exists from birth this is too horrific for people to comprehend and it's horrific for a number of reasons which we're going to get to on the show namely because of the implications of that fact see the implications that it forces one to look at and to recognize and to struggle with are far too uncomfortable for most people to deal with so they'd rather put their head in the sand and pretend like it doesn't exist and this is arguably more atrocious than the condition itself that the level of psychological denial that people are in that there is a different if you will species with us on this planet than just what we consider regular human beings because regular human beings have a capacity to experience human emotion unlike a psychopath that is part of a great part of what makes us truly human being able to feel being able to express emotion being able to actually feel in the physiology as we take action the REE precaution of that action that we take with or upon someone else a psychopath does not have that capability let me re-emphasize that it's not that a psychopath has num that a true psychopath has none that capability out of themselves and is just suppressed it's not there and never was there we're talking about primary psychopathy primary psychopathy defers from secondary psychopathy in that the conditions the characteristics are there from birth and are not generated by any conditional factors it has nothing to do with environment it has nothing to do with a worldview it has nothing to do with how they were brought up by their parents it has nothing to do with the influences that they were around a primary psychopath is born with an amputated capability namely the ability to feel for others they cannot feel they cannot empathize with others that ability is not present at all and this is because of a degradation in the brain it is actual brain damage and I this is one of the reasons I find it so difficult for people to believe that certain people can be born with brain damage I mean different brain damage conditions happen at birth this happens all the time maybe conditions in the womb contribute to the malformation of certain characteristics of the brain what one thing I want to emphasize is I'm not a neuroscientist nor am i a medical doctor but the whole point is that I have put a great deal of study into the condition of psychopathy and even more so than that I have really truly sat down and wrestled with the question of why it exists at all why is it here why does this exist and those implications are why most people want to run away from this issue and don't want talk about it they don't want to truly understand that humanity is not here alone we're here with a different form of animal than us something that is far less than human they see themselves as greater than human because they look at the conscience as any kind of a moral code as being something that holds them back from doing what they really want to do in life no matter who it hurts but the truly discerning and that those who truly have some wisdom will recognize that a primary psychopath is something that has something that is there something that is far less than a true human being they have an amputated capability that a true human possesses and the psychopath lacks it's like being born primary psychopathy is like being born without arms okay the the capability to manipulate objects with hands isn't there because you don't have hands that's it it doesn't matter how much you want to develop it it doesn't matter you know who could show you you know how to have dexterity with the hands you don't have that physiological mechanism to engage that task at all so a secondary psychopath is completely different than a primary psychopath the characteristics which were going to list in a few moments are the same but they were created over time they weren't born like that secondary psychopathy means you weren't born like that you have the physiological mechanism to experience emotion but it has been numbed out through trauma through abuse through conditioning through a poisoned worldview so we have to understand that there are two types of psychopathy primary and secondary and let's just look at the word psychopathy so we even get a clearer definition of what it is psychopathy okay psych in Greek means the mind and one of the things I want to also tell people is I didn't prepare slides for today's show I want to get people really to look at the the ideas here the concepts to really deeply understand without absolutely any distraction perhaps I will add some slides for this show in the future and put them on the podcast to just break down some words and things like that and maybe point out the areas of the brain again to people we've covered that extensively on the show but you know perhaps I'll make a slider or two or three just to as a review to go with the podcast but to go back to what I was talking about secondary psychopathy is a created condition created by the conditioning factors the environmental factors that the person has undergone in their life worldview impressionable circumstances that of an events that have taken place to them in their life that are that have colored their conditions but again what we're talking about here is if we look at it from the word an etymological point of view the word psychopathy means sickness of the psyche or sickness of the mind this is a mental condition the the word psyche in Greek means mind and pathos in Greek that's this is the word that we get pathological or pathology from illness sickness okay a depression of the mind something that has suppressed the true self the higher self and this is what a great deal of humanity is actually suffering from the condition of secondary psychopathy the numbers of secondary Psychopaths are far far far greater far in excess of primary Psychopaths primary Psychopaths the number is debated amongst clinical psychologists and clinical psychiatrists you know the number is numbers different numbers are kicked around and some of them will push the number as high as up to four percent of the human population which I've always felt is drastically overinflated drastically I don't feel that the number of primary or in other words born Psychopaths and yes there is such a thing as a born psychopath I don't put that number as anything higher than 1% and that's a estimation what I would call well educated guests but nonetheless I wouldn't say it's definitively that number but I would think it's something less than that I think if it's point five percent that that's a lot and you know different people will argue the number I don't think the number is what is important I think the understanding of the difference between a primary and secondary psychopath is very important and I think the character understanding the characteristics of a psychopath to know what we're dealing with you have to understand what the enemy is and yes there is an enemy the New Age movement when they want to tell you that these people are not the enemy of humanity are are frauds and charlatans quite frankly real simply that's what these people are these New Agers who want to tell you that oh no no that they're just ill they're not that's you know that has nothing to do with the problem humanity is experiencing they don't want to admit these people are in control of humanity they're running all of the social institutions that humanity believes in and continues to support and prop up and they're at the highest levels of all of them primary Psychopaths are and they have their hoard of secondary Psychopaths doing their bidding and people still in denial of this condition and so totally ignorant of it excuse me they're ignorant of it let's get the pronunciation of that word right I'm going to stop saying using the pronunciation ignorant and and totally conditioned myself to constantly saying they are ignorant because of the emphasis of ignore the population who would say oh we don't want bad conditions here amongst humanity you know we want to prosper we want to thrive you know we want to have true freedom etc these are the very people who are ignorant of the actual condition that exists in their midst they don't want to look at it because it makes them uncomfortable oh we don't want to look at the negative god forbid you might learn something and you might be able to come up with a strategy to protect yourself and you might know when it's time to actually physically rebel against captors that have no right to do what they're doing so let's look at what a psychopath actually is what is this condition what is this sickness of the mind that we're talking about this illness this mental illness that unfortunately while I don't want it to be the case that's irrelevant what I want to be all of our suffering is generated from us refusing to accept that which is and then dealing with it it doesn't matter what I want of course I don't want psychopathy to exist but it does it is real it does exist in the world and being ignorant of that fact isn't going to change the conditions that are being perpetuated by the Psychopaths of this world because they are the enemy of humanity and this evil does exist here and it is real and you is evil because and that's why people want to ignore it they want to ignore it because they would have to wrestle with the one overarching all-powerful question called why that's the question they don't want to look at that's the question they don't want to deal with they don't want to look at the why because if you start wrestling with that question you open up a huge can of worms and it will extend into the things we're going to start getting into here on what on earth is happening that question of why does this condition exist here with humanity at all and we're going to enter some speculative realms in future shows you know maybe I'll have to temporarily call the show what on earth Maeve Airy well be happening because none of us have definitive proof about some of the speculations we may cover in the future on free on future shows here up to this point I've dealt with facts things that I can confirm definitively do exist and are happening here on earth but when it comes to psychopathy we're talking about something that has been with us since time immemorial prehistory the ancient past the dawn of human antiquity and a lot of that knowledge of what happened during that time period is lost to humanity because of different cataclysmic events and deliberate purging --zz of information that have occurred in the ancient past so we need to get out of our ignorant when it comes to this condition everyone should understand this condition and its characteristics and everyone should also have an understanding that you have a right a natural inherent right to defend yourself I'm talking even about the lower case as self in this instance your physical self from the influence of Psychopaths and how they want to manipulate society you have an inherent right to physically defend yourself against these animals because that's what they are a psychopath is not really a human being a psychopath has all of the characteristics as we're going to list here as an animal in their behavior they are no different than any animal any vicious brutal animal that may attack you in the wild so for all intents and purposes they are not human beings try to rationalize that however you wish you can go and do all the kinds of mental gymnastics that you want to just try to see these people as sick okay now the secondary psychopath is is sick they can be reformed and we have to continuously make this distinction there are those that can be helped and then there are those who are simply come into the world broken there is a tiny fraction of people that are born like that now if you didn't have the in there influence if you didn't have people allowing them to grow up and not isolating them not containing their influence right if there were so many people that would be willing to contain their influence because they knew about this condition and they were on guard on vigilance and defending against it then then these people wouldn't be such a problem they would be negligible because they would be telling people hey do my bidding do this do this do that and people would say you're sick that would be the immediate response I know that you're sick you're broken you know you're something other than what we are you're not really human truly you're just a broken computer that somehow not get infused with the capability that other humans are infused with and no I'm not gonna listen to one thing you have to say because you are just the influence of evil in the world amongst us that's it but too many people are willing to follow them to do their bidding to follow their orders to accept money in return for the evil acts that they tell people to go and commit and so we do it to ourselves for them and that's done through secondary Psychopaths their hoard as I call them the hoard of the primary Psychopaths who are really in control they give orders down to their hoard of other animals that have the capability of becoming human what whereas the primary psychopath does not and they they issue these commands and then these other pseudo animals called secondary Psychopaths that just follow orders carry out their commands and do their evil for them so what are the characteristics of all Psychopaths whether they be primary meaning that they are simply born like that those are their actual broken computers the body computer is broken is damaged they're there they come into the world inflicted with a virus that cannot be purged from the system that's it and again I don't care who's unwilling to believe that that's the way it is and it's the way it has been really it's the way it has been since we've been here that this tiny percentage has always existed among humanity and again then we get to the implication of that fact why why has there always been this influence here among us this condition this other species if you will that looks and sounds like a human being but is not a human being why we're going to talk about that maybe on future shows we'll address that question that may maybe several shows but let's look at what psychopathy actually is its characteristics the personality traits and characteristics of a psychopath whether they be primary or secondary a genetic psychopathy or in other words one that isn't a psychopath from birth created that way made that way from birth or one that has been influenced to become a psychopath which is called secondary psychopathy through conditions worldview poisoning external factors in life you know buying into certain fundamental axioms and and belief systems etc so here are the characteristics aggressiveness okay that's number one they they are willing to engage the aggression principle which is basically attack even if they have not been attacked initiation of violence in other words is something that they're willing to do to have their way callousness total disregard for the feelings of others doesn't matter what what amount of suffering they cause for others they don't care they don't care how it makes you feel they don't care that it does harm to you the complete absence of conscience no conscience perhaps that should be better stated as the complete absence of the exercise of conscience a psychopath may even in their own intellect know whether an action is right or wrong but they don't care they'll do the wrong they'll willfully choose the wrong over the right if it means more for them and then getting a tactical advantage and power over someone else a complete absence of empathy no regard for the feelings of other human beings if they're being harmed if they're being hurt doesn't matter I'll do it anyway we're already seeing that this is a big bulk of human behavior this can account for a whole lot of the way people act a whole huge portion of humanity the way they act this is also the characteristics of just about every institution on the face of the earth that you could possibly imagine or think of banking education corporations medical industry in many respects they claim to be people of care when in fact it's all about the pharmaceuticals you know it's all about making as much money as we can reel in on sickness government so more characteristics of the psychopath cunning thinking a very sharp cunning intellect not holistic intelligence but left-brain intellect these are intellectual people but they're not truly intelligent they don't have holistic intelligence because they lack the right brain aspects of consciousness and we're going to talk about the physiological mechanisms that actually are responsible for you know bringing forth these characteristics in an individual what part of the brain is malfunctioning what what part of this body computer that we call the brain and the central nervous system in the physical body what part of it is broken and what conditions does that create in the the personality and the psyche of the individual another characteristic of psychopathy is a willingness to engage in strongly immoral conduct even criminal conduct to get one's way see these are willful individuals willingness to engage in strongly immoral and criminal conduct if necessary so they have intellect plus we'll but what's missing is the spirit the Sacred Feminine is gone it's missing the emotions aren't there they're the emotional system the developed emotional system of the human being oh I shouldn't even say human being in the secondary psychopath yes it's there's still a human being the primary psychopath is again a different animal you want to speculate about what that animal may be why it may be among us go right ahead but the conditions are the same there they have a strong intellect very sharp keen cunning intellect and a very strong will but the emotional development is stunted from birth they don't have the normal range of human emotional capacity and therefore that makes them for all intents and purposes not human it's it's a different species than human beings what when whatever genetic factors and conditions come together to create the material for this being in the womb and and you could even speculate perhaps womb trauma may have something to do with this the conditions of the development of the fetus in the womb I'm willing to open up the floor to tons of speculation when it comes to this condition scientists don't really know truly where psychopathy came from but again that problem that speculative problem is why so many people don't want to look at it because they don't want to wrestle with the implications more characteristics to be listed the willingness to take what they want and do as they please at any time regardless of who is hurt or who is wronged willingness to take what they want theft isn't a problem for them they'll take your right to remain safe they'll take your right to remain unharmed they'll take you right not to be stolen from they'll take your property they'll take your rights they'll take your freedom they'll take your life if necessary they're takers a psychopath is a taker they don't care what they have to hurt to take more more is their only goal because they operate in the reptilian brain with the left brain the left hemisphere of the neocortex totally overactive completely chronically over engaged those are the only two parts of the brain that are really truly working properly in the psychopaths the are complex and the left brain the right brain almost nothing happening you put a true psychopath into a high-tech brain scan like a SPECT scan or a PET scan or something like that you looked at the right brain hemisphere the neural activity in the right brain and in the prefrontal cortex as a whole is going to be almost non-existent or significantly diminished and you can do this online go look at the brain scans of a psychopath maybe I'll post a couple of them with the podcast as well you'll be amazed at how different it is from a normally functioning human being because it's not a human beings brain it's some other thing it's some other animal an automaton robot animal that looks breathes talks walks like a human being but is not a human being and I know people say oh those are strong words Marc you're saying that there are people here among us that aren't really human yes I am absolutely saying that because it's true these people are broken irrevocably the primary psychopath they aren't human and they're never going to be human ever ever ever they cannot be reformed there's a reason for this and we'll get into that we need to focus our attention on attempting to reform secondary Psychopaths and see here la in lies the problem you have to know you know you'd have to have a case history you'd have to have examples from their youth that their parents or maybe perhaps willing to bring forward you'd have to talk to a Psychopaths parents where they always like this or did they become like this over time what kind of behavioral characteristics did they display as a child you know you know what a great television series that is an allegory about all of this it's called Dexter I highly encourage people to watch this television show if you don't watch any other television download this series on off of BitTorrent or Usenet or something like that and watch it because this is what it's all about psychopathy and this particular Bourne site or maybe possibly not born psychopath but one who became a secondary psychopath very young in life decides to deal with the other psychopaths of the world that's all I'll say I don't want to ruin the premise for people it's basically a serial killer who only kills other killers that's what the show is about based on books that were written I believe by the author's name is Jeff Lindsey but to go back to the characteristics of the psychopath we have to understand that it doesn't matter to them who they hurt or wronged they're going to continue with their actions because they have a very developed intellect and a very developed will they're not going to back down Psychopaths don't back down they become like robots that are programmed to do a particular action so do secondary psych op Psychopaths they operate the same way it's like a robot you're not really when they're still in that condition you're not dealing with a real human being you're dealing with an animal robot that is programmed with code just like a computer is programmed getting you know angry about the actual condition or ignoring it it would be the same it would be the equivalent of getting angry at the way a a computer program actually then executes its code forget about getting angry with it you got to deal with it either you go into the code and you change the code or you still get the same result and for a secondary psychopath it is possible to change that code with enough work on the individual now with a primary psychopath at some point yes if we develop advanced enough technology and we could talk about that in a little while would it be possible to develop a mechanism for dealing with primary psychopathy we could speculate on how what that technological solution or genetic solution might look like okay but I'll put that off to the side for a moment let's get back to the characteristics psychopaths all have a deceptive ability to appear to others as being benevolent as being the good guys as being caring and this is what they don't want you to realize the psychopath is only effective as long as they are concealed they have to remain hidden once their work and their their personality traits are brought out into the light of day game over for them because then people are going to be aware of what they're truly dealing with and unfortunately right now they're not they're not aware of it so beware of people that are you know excessively charming appearing outwardly benevolent but really that they have a hidden agenda and they'll never tell you about this possibility that we'll never talk about psychopathy you know they would want they're the people who would want to ignore this most of all forget about bringing that forward and putting that on the table as a topic of discussion they don't want anybody looking into this they want this condition well concealed and hidden and they want people to think of it only as a medical condition that is just dealt with at a you know psychological or psychiatric level when in fact these people are not only all around us they are in the highest levels of all worldly institutions running things running things in positions of quote-unquote responsibilities but it's not responsibility it's control they're in positions of control the psychopath has a deceptive ability to behave in superficially charming ways that's what that's what you have to keep in mind superficially charming ways but that's only to get people's guards to go down so that they can continue to advance their hidden motives they have ulterior hidden motives and agendas that they will do anything to get forward and it put make the public off guard to take their guard down they have to charm you they have to make you think they're out for their self-interests this is what all politicians do they need to make you think you need them most of all they have a willingness a total willingness to use intimidation and violence to control others that's no problem for them we have to kill how many people in order to get our agenda through 3,000 no problem do it that's it just like that just like that snap of a finger and people don't think that people like that exist in the world because they make a fundamental mistake they tried to graft on or attribute their moral sensibilities on to someone else and you can't do that you cannot make the erroneous and dangerous assumption that in a given situation other people will make the moral decision that you would make people will sell they wouldn't do that when real in reality what they're really thinking in their own mind is I wouldn't do that and then they're transferring that that's psychological transference onto another and they're making the erroneous assumption that they wouldn't do that and that again as I said at the beginning of the show that is the naivete of a child the naivete of an innocent child and that's a bad form of innocence in this case because we need to get street smart when it comes to dealing with a psychopath and again the psychopaths are in control of all the institutions on the earth government military police they this is who we're talking about they are the psychopaths bankers people in education even people in the New Age movement alternative religions and religious institutions themselves covering up sex crimes for pedophiles pederasts they're Psychopaths and religion they're willing to violate anybody's inherent human rights rights forget right your life doesn't mean anything to them you think your rights mean anything to them what right and wrong is means nil zilch nothing because if you just go back and take note of everything I've been saying aggressiveness apus absence of conscience absence of empathy cunning thinking okay strong will willingness to violate others with you know by initiating force and violence every one of these things is animal behavior every one of these things is descriptive of how an animal behaves and people still want to believe in their childish naivete that these people are actually human you don't want to believe that there's another species here with us amongst us again it's pure wishful thinking it's psychological denial it's cognitive dissonance and most of all it's unhealthy childish naivete more characteristics the psychopath has willingness to intentionally violate the inherent human rights of others they have the complete absence of any sense of guilt or remorse I mean if they have the willingness to go and violate people's rights and even take their lives if necessary you think they have any remorse or feel any guilt for what they do they feel nothing they feel nothing except the motivation to acquire more and more and more regardless of at whose expense it may happen to be because that's what a reptile does that's what an animal does that's an animal's behavior not a human behavior an animal behavior and before we even get any further into speculation on the part of people thinking that they understand what this is this is not what human nature is ladies and gentlemen I want to emphasize that right now but I'm going to go over that again a little bit later this is not the the the nature of the human being this may be the nature of a tiny tiny tiny tiny tiny fraction of humanity but it is not human nature quote-unquote human nature to think of this in that sense is such distortion and worldview poisoning and sickness of the mind itself that that's what's keeping us under the control of the psychopath is that think that's how human nature is and that's just the way it's always going to be and that's the thing that line of thinking that line of distorted reasoning is actually what allows them to keep controlling the bulk of humanity because people have that poison worldview well that's just the way it is that's just human nature no it is not at all what human nature is this is a condition that exists within the human genome for reasons which we can speculate on later that happens to be present and ultimately simply needs to be dealt with whether we try to figure out a way to get rid of it from the genome whether we try to figure a way to mimic human emotion through technology and use technology for the purpose of you know essentially building some kind of apparatus to make these people be able to feel and that would be a positive use of implantation of technology into the body or using technology in such a way to again through algorithms and software mimic the complexity of human emotion and then integrate that with the bio physiology of this small tiny class of people but again that's you know an speculation and an argument that we could talk about another time I want to continue to focus on the characteristics so we talked about that they have no sense of guilt or remorse at all zero they don't care they just don't care they have no care for other people they want other people not to care so that they can actually create this pecking order of them ruling the roost and then all of the secondary Psychopaths that they created to be like them doing their bidding for them rationalization is another one of their things justification in other words they're willing to justify and rationalize away their own immoral behavior to create rights for them that don't exist in nature justification deference psychological deference is another one of the characteristics of this condition that's making constant attempts to lay blame upon someone else for your own conduct passing the buck so to speak oh it's but you know I did this because this person did that I behaved like this transference deference psychological denial is another part of the condition of psychopathy itself you're denying your own outright wrongdoing not claiming any responsibility for your own actions that's not my fault you know oh it caused tons and tons of harm to other people and it was a direct result of what I did but I bear no moral responsibility for it I'm not responsible uh turd denial utter contemptuous nests are the feelings of other beings contempt they look at people with a conscience in contempt you're lower than me you're less than me and you could say hey you're doing the same thing yeah I am I'm saying these people really are the ones without completeness they are the ones who do truly lack something that other people have the ability to feel again they look at that as a detriment that they're pleased not to be burdened with oh I'm so pleased not to be burdened with the ability to feel anything in the physiology as a result of my behavior therefore I'm unrestrained I can do whatever I want no matter who it harms why wouldn't I want to be like that that makes me better than somebody else wrong it makes you infinitely less actually incapable of even perceiving the entire purpose of human existence which is to develop the essence of the spirit and that's only possible through the gift of human emotion that's only possible through the heart and again I'm saying things that are going to be harsh and unapologetic and things that people do not want to deal with they don't want to bring up they don't want to acknowledge them they don't want to talk about them because they're in denial themselves the people who don't want to look at this condition are in cognitive dissonance high-level psychological denial and that's a mental illness in and of itself back to the characteristics pathological lying or does that sound familiar that goes hand in hand with psychopathy pathological lying again every one of the leaders of every institutional in the face of the earth comes to mind politicians people in government people in banking high finance ears every corporation on the face of the earth they lie pathologically to get what they want or to manipulate other people into doing what they want them to do they don't care if they have no allegiance to truth no care for the truth a bit they'll say or do anything without concern for accuracy without concern for truth in order to advance their agenda they have a totally distorted sense of the consequences of their actions they think they can continue to do things and get away with them endlessly the consequence for my behavior that's rubbish that's some religious rubbish that's what a true psychopath thinks when somebody is on the verge of psychopathy secondary psychopathy okay primary Psychopaths just think there's no consequence for anything they do they can continue to do things and get away with them forever that's part of their distorted logic process well you talk to a person who's even developing beginning to develop secondary psychopathy and you'll encounter that same total denial oh there's no consequences for what I do no none whatsoever ladies and gentlemen we're at the 2-minute station break at the top of the hour we'll be right back we'll be continuing to talk about psychopathy on the other side stay with us [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on the Oracle broadcasting radio network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we're talking about human psychopathy what is a psychopath what are their identifying personality characteristics what is the difference between primary and secondary psychopathy and at a future point we'll look at speculation on why psychopathy even exists at all that'll be for another time I want to get back into the identifying characteristics of psychopathy we talked about pathological lying we talked about a severe least or distorted sense of the consequences of their own behavior of their own actions now here's a another one is the total failure to accept any personal responsibility okay that goes hand in hand with the distorted sense of the consequences of their own behavior they have a strong belief that they'll never be brought to justice okay contempt for other people that for their will to do anything about it they think they'll continue to abuse others endlessly and no one will ever do anything about it and let me just emphatically state this here on the air under no uncertain terms they are wrong very wrong just so that is stated for the record you're incorrect about that they will be brought to justice and I would like to see them brought to justice here in the physical domain regardless they're going to be brought to justice one way or another but I think we should bring them to justice the people who do truly have the ability and the capacity to feel and to know right from wrong and to know truth I feel that's our responsibility we have an ability to respond to this condition and it would be right for us to respond to it it would be right for us to do what is necessary to purge this condition from humanity once and for all and I think we need to do that by working with people who are either in or on the borderline of secondary psychopathy constantly you know a one-to-one basis if necessary or in a group setting if necessary to bring them in some form out of this cult that they're a member of that keeps them psychopathic regardless of what institution it is military police government banking etc education medicine these are all cults for all intents and purposes they are operational cults that only care about their own continuation the continuation of their own existence their own survival and all they're doing is continuing to condition people to get them to comply behaviorally with the factors that are necessary for the institution's survival regardless of who is being harmed in the process and that's more characteristics of a psychopath the survival of their themselves and their agenda is paramount to everything else that's the number-one tenet of all dark ocultism Satanism dark luciferianism the number-one agenda Satanism dark luciferianism dark cobble ISM dark masonry every one of these things the number one thing is self-preservation above all else survival no matter who needs to be harmed in the process I go forward whether I'm doing what's right or wrong or not if I'm doing what's wrong it doesn't make a difference regardless of what has to be done I go forward and self-preservation is my highest instinct which again is an animal instinct that's not people think oh that's human instinct that's human nature no that's animal instinct that's animal nature and people will say well human beings are just another animal there's where you're wrong again human beings are not just another animal human beings are an animal with the capacity to grow to so much more than that base animalistic nature because we have more than one type of nature there is an animal nature that dwells within us but that doesn't have to rule we have to develop a true human nature and people confuse that with our conditioned nature and condition are not the same thing we needed to develop true human nature the current human condition has nothing to do with human nature it has to do with animal nature that is ruling the human condition I hope people can grasp that and grasp what I just said to you really sit and think about it so one characteristic I haven't gotten to is perhaps the most important ok Psychopaths have the ability to feign to fake the normal human emotions even though they're not real feeling them this is because they grew up with this condition a primary psychopath grew up with this condition when they were young they interacted with people and recognized very early in life that they were different drastically different than other people and they knew that if they were exposed as being completely different they would be recognized for being something that is less than human or in other words being a full animal having no true human nature looking as a human having the guise of a human being able to walk breathe talk you know like a human being but really not being human they recognized they were something other than a normal human being another species if you will and in order to go through life unrecognized to hide in plain sight if you will they became very very good actors they watched human normal human emotion at displays of normal emotion in context in society and then practice that literally practice it to try to fake it and you know I would go so far as to say well if you're thinking well what do they do standing in front of a mirror and actually practice different emotional responses yes yes they actually did that and may still actually do that they practice literally to try to make their responses as genuine seeming as possible when in fact in the heart they feel nothing in the body there is no physiological response going on and there's a reason for that the part of the brain that actually generates the ability for the physiology to feel emotional responses in in the body when certain conditions are present when certain situations are taking place that part of the brain that puts those neuropeptides and meters into the bloodstream okay is not functioning properly in the Psychopaths and from in the case of the primary psychopath that part of the brain is actually broken from birth it is not functioning this is the limbic brain the midbrain the middle chamber as it is called an in the esoteric sense is not functioning now we could speculate about why that's the case but in the case of the primary psychopath it's important simply to understand that that condition exists from birth in a secondary psychopath the same basic thing is taking place but it is because the being through their conditioning and through their bad choices okay and not working with the brain not working with the psyche not doing psychic cleansing to clean and maintain sanity sanitized conditions within the psyche okay had that part of the brain has atrophied the midbrain has actually atrophied and the r-complex of the brain is actually ruling the individual and this is also happens because the left brain is chronically over engaged and the right brain creative thinking heuristic thinking in other words big-picture thinking has not been engaged peep someone has only focused on individual physical tasks everyday physical tasks they need to do for whoa here's the word here survival that's all they've been focused on they haven't been focused on any abstract thinking they haven't been focused on anything creative music hasn't been a part of their life art hasn't been a part of their life they're only about money I need money to survive so I got to do this physical task to survive and that's all my entire existence is about that's the path to becoming a psychopath a secondary psychopath I want constant lyrium ffice eyes the difference between the two you have to get clear about the difference that a secondary psychopath has created through conditions and factors in life in other words the culture creates the secondary psychopath the culture that they're in the cult that they're in that they're identified with that they believe in unquestioningly you can break them outside of the cult cure then you can change the thought patterning and conditioning that created this like secondary psychopathic condition I don't care what you do with a primary psychopath you are not going to change their condition because they are let's for all intents and purposes call them a midbrain amputee the midbrain is there it's just broken it's like look it's like if you put it's like if you put a component in a computer that doesn't really function in the computer there's no driver for it okay you put a video card in a computer and you don't have any driver for that card it doesn't make a difference you could plug a screen in you're not gonna have the manifestation on the screen because you while the driver may be present which is what we're talking about in the mid I'm sorry while the physical card may be present in the computer which is what we're talking about talking about the midbrain if you don't have a driver I don't care what's gonna happen when you turn on the computer I don't care if there's a card in there I don't care if you have the nicest monitor you're not going to display an image because the driver isn't there so for all intents and purposes the functioning between the software and the hardware is broken that's what a primary psychopath is so therefore again you can speculate about what might we do to solve this condition that's even if you don't want to wrestle with what put it that way they begin with you know like I said you might find what created that problem in the genome and correct it at an atomic level if we ever get to that advanced level of genetic understanding may that would work maybe you could again build some kind of a biofeedback device in the for the physiology that mimics through software and algorithms the normal range of emotions and I'm totally against putting any technology in the body I'm not a try I have no transhumanist leanings I don't want to see anything you know like that done to normal human beings but again technology exists for a reason and this what I would look at as a possible positive use of technology that operates with the physiology look bionic limbs for people who may be an amputee I don't have a problem with that that's not wrong that's the positive use of an advanced technology hey if you're going to give someone a functionality that is there that they're lacking and suffering as a result of not having there then fine do it and I'm saying this would only be necessary for a tiny tiny tiny tiny fraction of the the bulk of humanity I'm not saying that all the people who are currently psychopathic would need you know any kind of a technology put into them to correct that condition that's not what I'm saying so don't get it twisted okay I'm saying for the the person who is the amputee from birth the primary psychopath you're not going to solve this by working with the individual you're not going to even solve it by changing the conditions they live in you can go and take a primary psychopath and put them in a Tibetan Buddhist you know a ashram and have them chant with the Buddhist monks until they the day they die they're still going to be a primary psychopath they're not going to feel anything as a result of that it's irrevocably broken the midbrain of a primary psychopath barring any kind of physical intervention or interaction through technology is irrevocably broken and never going to generate human emotion in their physiology get over it get over it that's the case that's true that exists among us the end if you're in denial of that you yourself have a psychological condition called cognitive dissonance you don't want to look at what reality actually is you're ignorant ignorant ignoring reality thinking you're going to somehow prosper in that condition which is a psychological pathology itself so understand the difference the primary psychopath has the actual midbrain there's no driver driving it therefore there is no ability for them to feel so if human human 'ti got technologically advanced enough maybe to write a driver quote-unquote maybe we could help those people but right now we're not at that level of technological expertise and know-how because to be able to write an algorithmic program that would be able to mimic the full range of human emotions would probably take more super computing power than all the computers on the earth multiplied by a thousand times that's how complex interaction with you know the interaction of human emotion actually is and maybe that's not the point of trying to solve it that way maybe the point is that these people just need to be identified and mitigated they need to be dealt with they need to be isolated I would prefer them just being here and being a mild annoyance and every once in a while when they raise one of their ridiculous immoral notions people just brush them off because there's at such a level of higher consciousness and they say you are mad and sick I feel bad for you that you were born like that but go away now and they're there they would be no problem if people as a whole came out of their mock or secondarily psychopathic conditions started actually Haring healed their own worldview and decided we're not going to do the bidding of the primary psychopathic animals that are here running things and that's wishful thinking in many ways because are there enough people to counteract the psychopath the primary psychopath I would say not even close folks and if you think there is I would also say you're pretty delusional and you're probably on a very new age you know bent in life and you you think that things are much much much more promising or positive than what they really are I tend to look at things as a realist and not try to put my hopes and projections on what's really happening but instead of actually look at what actually is happening what actually is occurring hence the name of the show what on earth is happening not one on earth I want to be happening deal with the reality the truth as it is and then make a decision what are you going to do about it so so one of the things that people have termed psychopaths is an interspecies predator and it's it's somewhat accurate but in many ways I won't even use the term interspecies predator I would simply refer to them as a different species that's preying on humanity okay they lacked the actual qualities that allow for human beings as a body of people to live in social harmony as long as these people are running things there will never be peace there will never be social harmony in humanity this is the problem and the problem is that we continue to let them rule that we won't say no to them the problem is that there's a whole other subspecies of you a subsection it pardon me a subsection of humanity that is do doing the bidding of the primary psychopathic animal that is ruling over the body of humanity they're saying yes animal psychopath I'll do your bidding for you what do you have for me you have a nice paycheck for me oh great I can get my widescreen television I can get my my house out in the suburbs with a three-car Garage and Alexis great I'll destroy my own people in their future for you for this other species just I just need a big enough number in my bank account let's go let's start the work unfortunately that's the animalistic nature that most human beings display they don't care they don't care they're so jaded and they've become so lowered in consciousness through all the food they take in through all the the poisonous media that they watch the poison worldview that they've taken into themselves the horrible things that they are willing to listen to come out of other idiots mouths that has nothing to do with reality trivia inane banter sports nonsense you know entertainment that has nothing to do with allegory or or morals and there's a few things out there that do you know try to put the moral tale in with the entertainment it's a it's a desperate attempt to get people to comprehend allegory to be entertained by something and then oh whoa I see what he was saying there it works on so few people it's not enough that's not doing enough folks it works on too few I'm not knocking allegorical fiction I personally love it but the bulk of humanity is not getting the message they don't understand something like Dexter they don't grasp what's being said they don't understand something like Lord of the Rings or Star Wars or Harry Potter or you know The Walking Dead another show that's a highly allegorical because they're the walking-dead themselves how are they going to comprehend what's really being said in an allegory you need a certain amount of brain development you need a certain amount of psychological development to even grasp what an allegory is let alone what it's saying to you so an interspecies predator is how many people have viewed the psychopath eye again almost look at them as an extra species predator they're outside of the the real humanity they're not really truly human there's something else altogether that looks human but is not the condition of psychopathy is at the root of the problems in which we find ourselves and very few people are even talking about it IRA I talked about a quote on the last couple of radio shows that I was on that there are more people in the world adults living in the world that would rather believe in Santa Claus that would rather condition their mind to continue to believe in Santa Claus okay then there are people who are willing to turn their attention and deal with the reality of psychopathy particularly primary psychopathy and there's a reason for that and not not only just to recognize that it exists but to recognize that it actually that the the primary psychopaths are who is actually ruling humanity as our masters more people would rather believe in Santa Claus then address that truth the main reason for that is they would have to wrestle with the uncomfortable implication of why does this condition exist in the first place and again I said we'll get into that not for today's show however I want to go back to a couple more things regarding the psychopath and then I want to pose a question and open up the phone lines so I 'kathy is not human nature as some people would lead people to believe this is just not how people are don't be misled into that don't be misled by the opposite the New Age movement doesn't want people to look into this or focus on it to learn more about it they don't want you to understand this is who's ruling you because there are responsible largely for putting a lot of the New Age material into existence this cult of Psych psychopaths so you know it's very dangerous to ignore this you ignore it at your own peril and at the peril of your own family your own freedom the peril of your own freedom and the freedom of your own family and loved ones but the opposite to think that this is human nature is also just as dangerous and poisonous again tiny tiny portion of humanity has this in them as a genetic psychological condition because the midbrain is AI is basically operating without a driver that's how you can look at the analogy it's there but the driver is missing the software code to actually activate that midbrain is not working properly you could look at it as not there at all or maybe infected with a virus however you want to look at it to make you understand the concept you know is is fine okay so psychopathy is not just a psychological disorder this is the other thing that we have to learn it is not just a psychological disorder it is also a learned behavior primary psychopathy is a psychological disorder that is inherent in the human genome but secondary psychopathy is a learned behavior you can actually acquire it over time by taking in the worldview of the primary psychopath it is a communicable disease as such it is it is able to be transferred from the diseased psyche of one person over some time to create disease or pathology in the site in the psyche of another individual and that's what a communicable disease is yeah it's not an airborne symptom it's an energy borne symptom it is an ether borne disease it's not an airborne disease it's ether born the psychopaths are putting their worldview out into the field of energy around us and we're latching onto it and taking it onboard ourselves and it's infecting our psyche so they'll tell you Oh psychopathy cannot be caught yes it can be caught it just happens over a long period of time by taking in a diseased worldview as your own so it is a communicable disease again the Psychopaths ability to remain hidden rests with their ability to feign a normal range of human emotions and that's what allows them to stay well hidden in the places that they operate once enough light is cast in their direction exposing them and their agenda less peep more people okay become wise to their ways to their methods of manipulation and eventually when that's done a psychopath scatters and their influence becomes negligible in society to perpetuate their control psychopaths are always skilled they're very adept at manipulating other people into thinking that they need to they need them that they need to continue to do what they're doing in that particular society otherwise the society would somehow collapse into mayhem and chaos so part of their whole MO is they need to convince you that they're necessary that their ways are sorry that their worldview is necessary and that society as a whole could never survive without them that's part of their main manipulation tactic that somehow they perform some vital and necessary service for Humanity and if they were ever to be exposed and routed out and society would be without them that total chaos would result and they're playing on that primal fear of chaos nested deep within the human psyche to get people to stand down not expose them and not ultimately deal with them in whatever way they need to deal with them to mitigate their influence okay one of the ways that they continue to reinforce this untrue notion okay is fear and dependency fear and dependency that's what they want to continuously re-emphasize they want you to always be afraid of something always be afraid of something that's how they can continue to manipulate if you're afraid their tactic of controlled opposition or I'm sorry of hegelian dialectic is also going to work because this is how they work through chaos through the fear of chaos okay and they're going to create chaotic situations in in our midst once they get people to have a fearful reaction to it you know this chaotic event happens and the people have you know a fearful reaction has been invoked on the part of the general population then the psychopath steps in they want to pose as the savior they offer their totally self-serving solution that advances their agenda that they already have planned for the very problems which they themselves initiated okay they have one overall objective they need to make others as similar to themselves as possible so they need people to take on their worldview if people don't take on their worldview their influence is completely stifled in society because there's so few of them they need the huge horde of secondary Psychopaths to be willing to take on their worldview to do their bidding or to simply accept reality as their vision of it dictates is you know they're they have a vision of reality that they want people to accept is the way things are and and for other people who just don't care which is a form of becoming secondarily psychopathic to just say well that's the way it is nothing nothing you can do about it and to stand down never attempt any change to affect any change in the world so many people are in this condition let me tell you something so many people in my family are in this condition and probably many listeners as well they don't care that the world is the way that it is they don't care that there's injustice they don't care that there are rights being violated constantly around every corner they look at their world view is that's other people's problem doesn't affect me and they're wrong they're just as wrong as the psychopath is wrong that they're never going to be brought to justice they're just as wrong see this can their rule can only continue when we're only focused on our own gain on ourselves that's it when we worship money greed selfishness okay we remain in ignorance in ignorance I'm sorry even amongst the incredible amounts of information that exists in our world we don't want to really learn about morality we don't want to really learn about what rights are and what they're not what we have a right to do what we do not have a right to we don't want to extend the non-aggression principle to others around us you know we don't want to take that into our own understanding and then extend it to all others and we don't even even want to understand that we have a right to defend ourselves against the psychopath physically if necessary humanity wants to remain in all of this ignorant and selfishness and self-centeredness and think we can somehow prosper and get out of the control that we're under and it doesn't work that way Psychopaths can only be contained when people refuse to start refusing to taking on their worldview and being like them in any way we have to stop basically exuding the same characteristics of the psychopath at a lower level until we can get above where they're operating from from a place of consciousness nothing's going to happen and if enough people can't do that I would make the very uncomfortable statement that the people who can do that the small group of people who can do that then it becomes their responsibility to physically act to move humanity forward regardless of what that may mean for them in a physical sense a sacrifice then has to be made if you will and this is exactly what the founders of this country decided they attempted to deal with the psychopath in the first way that is attempted that is stated that they can be dealt with escape go somewhere or leave the psychopath isolated or leave them where you're at if you if you can and you go someplace else either isolate them or isolate yourself from them and that's YP a lot of people came over here one of the reasons now of course are their hidden agendas within because Psychopaths infiltrated that yes okay they had right from the big that's why they wanted to control people's worldview that oh you can't cross that ocean they want to put notions out there oh that can't be done they know it could be all the time that knowledge was always there and hidden from the people to cross over to the quote unquote new world they wanted to keep that knowledge from them so people would just stay in their tyranny and then when people said no I'm gonna make the effort to go over the ocean to the other continent that we know is there and I don't care what that may mean how much of a hardship that may be to you know to build up from from nothing we're gonna do it anyway because we want to get away from these Psychopaths see the problem was consciousness still wasn't high enough they still couldn't really isolate the influence of the psychopath and prevent the psychopath from coming over there and then when the British decided we're going to come over here with our psychopathic hordes called the the British Navy you know and the British army and land troops on the shores of a people who simply wanted to be free and to be left alone those Psychopaths came over here and how did the founders decide to deal with them how did the people who wage the revolutionary war against the British decide to deal with those Psychopaths you want to know how they decided to deal with them they decided to shoot them that's it I'm sure they had many a conversation attempting to warn them about the error of their ways and ultimately the psychopath the secondary psychopaths that were the British serving the primary Psychopaths of the crown would not back down because you didn't have enough psychological influence presence you didn't have enough truly morally educated people present you didn't have enough people truly at a higher level of awareness and consciousness and so the only other option that would be available was exercised and that was to defend one's life liberty and property against incursion of violence through the use of defensive force and debate physically back there pressors by whatever amount of force was required to do it now I'm going to open up the phones for the rest of the show and the question that I want to hear answered from people first and then we can talk about psychopathy but this is the question that's going to be on the floor for this show the next show and probably the one effort because I'm going to continue to talk about this dynamic for the next two weeks minimum okay is did was what the the Revolutionary War fighters in America at the time of the American Revolution did was their actions were their actions acts of hate against their fellow man or were their actions acts of love for their fellow men that's and why do you think that I on my I'm sure people can easily extrapolate where I fall in this dynamic what what I feel it's probably no secret but I would like to know where the listenership is at with this and feel why and hear why they feel on either side of that dynamic so let's go to the phones and get your take on this here we go caller from the 6:02 area code I believe this is Ivan in Phoenix if I'm not mistaken you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark yeah it is Ivan okay Ivan let me pose the question to you directly do you feel that the actions of the fet of the founding fathers of this country and those who waged the revolutionary war against the British in you know 1775 and six do you feel that what they did were acts of hate or acts of love and why hmm that's kind of I don't want to see a loaded question because obviously to start killing you know the British is kind of hateful you know who using violence but I understand that yeah they wanted to be free I have a place for their kind the people I wanted to leave England to be free so that was an act of love you know to get out from under that you know tyranny so yeah it was that act of love but yeah I guess it's kind of twofold that yin-yang thing you know has the good stuff we have to make the distinction between was an action were actions already being done to them that drove them to take counter action in other words of course just just killing would of course be a violation of natural law you know Mert murder meaning the initiation of killing would of course be a violation of natural law the the the revolutionaries were not murdering the British regardless of what anyone thinks that was not an they were not acts of murder they were acts of Defense who are the aggressors who are the initiators of force were the revolutionaries the initiators of force or were the British revolutionaries of force in other words all things being equal would the revolutionaries who picked up their weapons and fought the British never have initiated violence against the British if they were left alone right yeah I see what you're saying yeah you're right you're right they would have been left to their own that everyone in no violence there would have been no usages of force the violence was initiated by the British they listened to a psychopath who gave them orders got on a wooden she wouldn't shift before there were actual bigger actual you know well-made ocean vessels like there are today with scurvy and disease and all kinds of you know poisonous deleterious conditions on a boat going across the Atlantic Ocean just to oppress people who they never met in their lives many of them and we're doing the same thing the United States people who are call themselves Americans are doing the same thing here to other countries listening to the whims of the psychopath who want to remain in who wants to remain in control getting on a ship or a plane going to a foreign land and oppressing people that they never met for resources and control it's a disgrace it's a total loathsome disgrace that these people should not even be called human beings they are so vile and I hold them in total contempt that's how vile these people are the nerve of them to think what they're doing is somehow their right you have nerve is all I have to say to those people and I'm talking about the military of the United States you have nerve thinking that what you're doing is somehow a right on your part when all you're doing is serving psychopathic interests just like the British were serving the interests of the psycho psychopaths of the crown of the King okay coming over here to oppress people and then you want to say that when they fight back physically against you you're gonna call them insurgents you're gonna call them terrorists well that's just like saying that the founding fathers were terrorists which was what is what these psychopathic police training manuals and training seminars want to try to condition and brainwash police into thinking that the founding fathers of this country were terrorists from wanting their freedom being a terrorist for not wanting to be a slave really you're a terrorist for not wanting to be a slave and for saying that if a psychopath keeps coming at me and refusing to acknowledge that I am a free human being and trying to make me be their slave that I have no right to physically defend themselves and kill that person if necessary they're out of their minds that is a human right ladies and gentlemen and the revolutionaries exercised it they said enough is enough and they exercised that right and they did what was required they took the secondary Psychopaths out just like we did in World War two we had to do it again unfortunately and I don't look at that as something it was a manipulation yes you can look at all the ways World War two was manipulated but to simply stand back and allow the product of that manipulation called the Nazis to just take over the world would have been a massive wrongdoing on the part of the people and they did have that we did have to go in there and wage war on these Psychopaths and in a lot of ways now were the new Psychopaths were the new Psychopaths America wait we're the new Nazis waging war on the other countries of the world to try to take their resources and control their people and this is what the imbeciles calling themselves soldiers who have never looked at the truth because they've never worked with themselves they've never done any psychic cleansing in their lives and God forbid if they've ever really opened up a book in their life okay don't want to look at the truth of because they don't want to understand that they're the bad guys because they're secondarily psychopathic and they've been trained to be they've been conditioned to be we talked about that on the show we talked about the techniques of cults the techniques of cults used against the military and the police these are occult techniques that have existed for thousands and thousands of years and are being used to great effectiveness in putting the police in and military into secondarily psychopathic conditions whether they were genetic or a primary Psychopaths or not so you know there has to come a time when we understand we always maintain the right to use defensive force against people who will not stop coming against our rights we have a right to exercise what is a right actions which are rights people don't have a right to stop us from exercising rights anymore than they have a right to do something to us that is not a right that is causing harm and and and is actually a wrong they have no right to initiate that force what you need to look at is who is initiating the force to know who's in the wrong and then the right always exists for a retaliatory response in the physical you don't have to engage that response but does the right exist absolutely yes it does if you are walking in open territory and you are accosted you have a right to defend yourself with physical force by whatever means you have at your disposal to do it a gun a knife a club fists feet anything doesn't matter a broken bottle a stone a stick whatever you have at your disposal that's your inherent natural law right okay and these Psychopaths want to convince you you don't have that right to respond to violence with defensive force they want to convince you you don't have that right that that's the that they have to act as an intermediary you need to go to the priests class called the police that's just like a priest as an intermediary claims being an intermediate or an intermediary between you and God the nerve of that claim a police officer claims to be the intermediary between you and those who had caused you physical harm that's and saying you don't have the right to use defensive force you have to go through us the nerve the abyssal the absolute unmitigated gall of a person who believes they have rights that someone else does not the right to prevent someone else from using one of their rights to defend their physical body imagine and for those who say I'm getting too three-dimensional and you know I'm talking too much about physicality here okay they need to understand there's no distinguishing between the physical and the spiritual this is another big lie okay the manifestations that happen on the physical plane are a result of what is taking place in the spiritual domain so if for all in effects it's just a cause-and-effect relationship and they are one in the same this is the whole problem with religion and science religion places the spiritual in higher context as as a super superior to the physical and science is place the the physical in a superior position to the spiritual and both are incorrect they don't have a holistic integrated view that the spiritual domain and physical domain are essentially one and the same through the relationship that they share which is what all of the great mystery tradition teachings of millennia have been trying to get humanity to understand so this is a huge problem in the whole worldview of people they're convinced that they don't have rights that they do and taking up arms when someone is an oppression is one of our rights as a matter of fact the founders really attempted to enshrine it in the founding documents of this country saying that you have a right and duty to abolish oppressive government saying that the only thing that they felt was necessary they used the word necessary one time in the Constitution a well-regulated militia necessary to the security of a free State the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed necessary because they knew firearms were for the defense of freedom against encroaching tyranny and that was their proper use firearms are not for hunting firearms are not even for just simple home protection or protection of for your physical body as you walk among society that they are ancillary or secondary mechanism secondary purposes for the defense of use through weapons of weapons the primary use is so that you have the ability to defend yourself from encroaching tyranny of government and the founders understood that and attempting to enshrine the right to use physical force in the founding documents of this country was not acts of hate or acts of terrorism regardless of what any distorted logic may get people to believe they were acts of love they were acts of higher consciousness understanding that freedom is a gift of the Creator and needs to be defended at all times and places regardless of how it needs to be defended so I think I want to make it very clear where I stood for people where I stand on this issue the founders of this country didn't kill didn't murder anybody they killed people yes they didn't murder anybody the British were the murderers and you know let's not get tied up in where people are from in the world people from the UK may be listening right now I'm not talking about you right now the people who did those acts were murderers who came over here and attempted to oppress the people on these shores were not killers they were murderers there's a difference between killing and murdering murdering you initiated the the force when you had no right to so it was violence murder is a result of violence killing can be either a result of violence if it is murder or if it is not murder if it is defensive use of force then it is not murder it is simply killing someone who would not back down coming at you with violence so the distinction is this simple I'm walking on the street I happen to be carrying a concealed firearm someone comes up to me with another firearm and says give me all of your property give me all your valuables your money your whatever jewelry you may have on you your wallet etc and I like those shoes while you're out of take those off in their mind - I take out my firearm and put right through the chest done there they're dead I murdered no one ladies and gentlemen as a result of doing that if you don't understand that you're under mind control that was a defensive killing because the other person come at came at me with violence and the intent to murder if I did not if my will was not if I did not agree to the usurpation of my will to his will and therein lies the act of coercion that I have a natural law right to defend myself against and this is what we're up against in the psychopathic condition of humanity and these Psychopaths want to try to condition us and brainwash us into believing that we may never fight back we may never actually physically take our freedom they want to think it can never be done like that well let me give you a pointer here let me give you a little piece of advice that's the only way that it ever has been done it's never been done any other way do you see human consciousness rising to the point before it needs to be done in that way such that humanity will just suddenly wake up and say no my god what are we doing were so wrong did the British do that were there enough people to convince them of the wrongness of their actions that the Nazis do that did any other oppressive regime did the Russians under Stalin under Lenin etc do that that the people today living in the United States are the people today living in the United States under the regimes that we're living under today calling themselves presidencies ultimately directed by high-level globalist think tanks the UN and other organizations directing the globalist agenda are do you see the people rising up in consciousness to no to this agenda do you see massive amount of military refusing to follow their orders in these illegal wars of aggression do you see massive amounts of police refusing their orders to continue to impress to continue to usurp the natural inherent rights of other people no you don't see it I don't see it I would love to see the evidence of it I would love people to come forward and bring this evidence forward to me and show me where this is happening at but I see no evidence of that happening that's why we have to really understand the reason that we have the ability to use defensive force if it was never there to be used we wouldn't even have the capability of doing it we have to understand that that's a sacred obligation and it needs to put into effect when there's not going to be any other way to preserve human freedom now that's as controversial as it gets and I don't really care who's listening I don't care who's listening no more than if I was in the Revolutionary War I would have cared that the crown was listening let me tell you something the people who put their signature on the Declaration of Independence knew that they were signing their death warrant in that very act they knew that they were either gonna fight and then their freedom or they were gonna fight and die and that's where we need to get to ladies and gentlemen we need to get to that deep of an understanding of human freedom that it doesn't matter who's gonna get it or who's not gonna get it we're gonna be willing to act take that for however you want to take it that's the truth ladies and gentlemen that's all the time we have on this edition of what on earth is happening next week we'll continue with this we'll continue talking about psychopathy and taking your calls on this very important question that goes hand-in-hand with an understanding of psychopathy and how to deal with it you've been listening to what on earth is happening here on the Oracle

Cal o Hill Street on Friday December 21st at 9 o'clock p.m. for more information check out www.cannainsider.com/trends [Music] hours that we're going to have this money bomb campaign for for your mind - it's going to be taking place on American freedom radio where a freighter X broadcasts out of and this is going to be taking place on January 13th ok so Sunday January 13 2013 it's going to be a 12 hour marathon from noon to midnight on January 13th on American freedom radio we're going to have different hosts hosting the event for the twelve hours and we're going to be interviewing some of the featured speakers at the free your mind conference and attempting to raise as much donation money as is possible so that we can help to support the effort to bring in US speakers from from out of town so you won't want to miss that Sunday January 13th from noon to midnight on American freedom radio the ad-free chip before I talk about that I want to alert everyone that I will be interviewed tomorrow Monday December 10th on the h2o show this is the new incarnation of the show that used to be called two guys one girl out of Montreal Quebec Canada hosted by Franco uard so the new show is called the h2o show it's broadcast out of the h2o radio network the website for that is Radio h2o dot CA and I will be interviewed tomorrow on the h2o show from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. Eastern Time so check that out on that great Network and I will also be posting that to the news section of my website if you check out the news section of my website there is also a couple of new things posted I was interviewed this past week by Vinny Eastwood and Frater ex on their new video podcast called dark oak halted mysticism this happened on Thursday December 6th of last week so you can check that out that is in my news section of what on earth is happening dot-com and that was a great interview where we covered topics of course ocultism but we also went deep into human psychopathy the non-aggression principle force versus violence and you know natural law so it was a great interview by two great gentlemen who I'm very happy to be on their show I believe this was the the first episode of dark occulted mysticism I could be incorrect it might have been the second one but it's a new show by Vinnie eastwood of the vinny eastwood show and freighter X of the middle chamber also in the new section and on the videos section of what on earth is happening calm finally I got posted the video was completed by Tim Smith who recorded and edited the video Tim is also one of the organizers of the freer mind to conference as well The Matrix trilogy decoded presentation that I gave as part of fundraiser number one for the freer mind to event we're going to probably be putting on some other fundraisers in the new year at underground arts I'm waiting to hear back from them to get confirmed dates but we'll probably have be having at least a couple of fundraisers a couple more fundraisers before the free remind to event so be sure to check out the video I am very happy with the way the video turned out Tim did a great job he edited slides from the presentation right into the video and I think I did a really good job decoding the Matrix movies allegorically you know explaining how these are allegories spiritual allegories and what the symbolism in the means for us in the modern world in which we are living so be sure to check that out the presentation called The Matrix trilogy decoded in the what on earth is happening news section and videos section it is also posted to my youtube channel at youtube.com slash what on earth 93 which is my official YouTube channel last announcement is that I the ad-free chippin to keep the show ad free here on oracle broadcasting currently stands at $500 we are halfway there and we are right about at the halfway time frame so we're right on course we need to raise a thousand by January 31st in order to keep the show ad free for the February March April time period so to those who have donated to that chip in effort I thank you very much the donations are very much appreciated and people who are making donations are doing a great job to keep the show commercial free with the ad-free chip and campaign okay let's jump into our topic for discussion today which is a continuation from last week and it is on human psychopathy and defense against the psychopath now I'm going to post a couple of videos with this week's podcast and I have do have some images last week I had no images because I really wanted to focus and hammer into people the characteristics of the psychopath the personality traits and characteristics of the psychopathic personality so I didn't even want any images to get in the way last week so that people can really focus on what this horrid condition that plagues humanity is actually all about this week I made a few images and you can find those as always on the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show page click the radio show tab and you will see listed underneath the player for the show images for today's show now that is when the show is live of course when the show is not live I take that off of the radio show page and it goes into the podcast with the show okay with each podcast so you can find the images also in the podcast section of the website under related images for each podcast that is posted there today we have five images the first image was of course the for your mind to event poster and the next image begins will do a review from last week which is the characteristics of psychopaths and I put some lovely imagery to go along with these couple of slow image number two shows definite Psychopaths that are basically involved in the daily administration of our world and I'm sure people are just thrilled to see such wonderful pictures here with such in-depth listings of the characteristics of these sick twisted individuals so let's to do a brief review let's go over some of the characteristics of the psychopath that we talked about last week and with the podcast I'm going to post a couple of great documentaries this week I think very important documentaries to see about the psychopath there's two of them in particular is defense against the psychopath which is a short documentary I believe it is under is right around a half an hour or something like that and this video really does a good job explaining what psychopathy is and what are the best defense strategies once we recognize that people certain people that we are interacting with may be or in fact are psychopaths we need to wake up to this on a mass scale because psychopaths are actually running all of the institutions the people place their faith in as a society and you know that's not a good idea any way to place your faith in institutional institutionalized bodies because they're all essentially corrupt and the main thing to keep in mind is that they are ultimately run by psychopaths at the highest levels Psychopaths have infiltrated the institutions of the world so that they can work their way into positions of influence and power and thereby hold power and influence over people who basically externalize their power through their belief in these institutional bodies and the belief that they should be directing humanity and taking care of humanity and so forth and so on we need to start to with draw our support from these institutions and specifically these so-called leaders the whole idea here is to get away from the collectivist mindset and understand we don't need leaders we need to be our own leaders so as a brief review before we start going into other material and into the phone lines let's take a look at the characteristics of psychopathy these include aggressiveness now I'm referring to what is listed on slide number two right now aggressiveness callousness the complete absence of conscience the complete absence of empathy toward other human beings cunning thinking now this isn't to say actual intelligence true holistic intelligence but cunning intellect would probably be even perhaps better left brain intellect only the desire to control ok adeptness at the manipulation of others very good at manipulating people the willingness to engage in strongly immoral criminal conduct to get their way the willingness to take what they want and do as they please regardless of who is hurt or wronged no care for whether someone else suffers and I know it's very difficult for most people to believe that this is a condition that exists within the human psyche of people who have absolutely no empathy and do not care how much anyone suffers as a result of their actions but it is the case and this is again split between two different categories of Psychopaths the primary psychopaths who it is a genetic disorder in the human genome and they are born that way it doesn't make a difference what environment they are put in they simply are that way it is a damaged computer from birth again something many people do not want to face and want to think does not exist and that doesn't make a difference whether they don't want to believe it or not this condition is here with us what created it we'll get into on other shows and and possibilities for that but they don't want to admit that this condition exists due to the implications that it actually means for us here on earth the implications are quite disturbing they're not comfortable whatsoever they're very disturbing implications because again we have to wrestle with that question of what put this condition here with us why does it exist so let's continue to list the characteristics the willingness to take what they want and do as they please regardless of who is hurt or wronged the a deceptive ability to appear outwardly benevolent oh yeah they'll make you think that they have your own interest in mind but they absolutely do not they have only their own selfish motives in mind so they can appear they can behave in superficially charming ways to hide purely selfish motives make you think they have your interest in mind when in fact they're not interested in you at all they have your interest not at all in mind only their own they have a willingness to use intimidation and if necessary violence to control others in order to satisfy their own needs so it's their own needs the their own gratification above all else no matter who has to be harmed in the process the willingness we're on slide number three now moving forward the slide number three they have the willingness to intentionally violate the basic inherent human rights of other people a complete absence of any sense of guilt or remorse so not only don't they feel empathy for what they do they don't feel guilty after the fact there is no guilt or remorse shown for the harm that their actions caused to other people none whatsoever they rationalize their own immoral behavior you know they try to basically its justification they try to create rights that don't exist and say oh well that was necessary I had to do that when in fact no they didn't they wanted to do that they revel in what they're doing and then they try to tell other people that it was necessary or needed or it was for the common good it was for it was for the long-term good when in fact all it was is to satisfy their own twisted sick depraved desires that they want to satisfy at the expense of anyone else they have denial about their own wrongdoing they'll deny it outright they'll just lie and say no I you know I'm not responsible for that that's not my responsibility I didn't cause that when in fact they were directly to blame or directly at fault or they were the direct cause of the suffering that was created an utter feelings of utter contemptuous Ness toward the feelings and desires of their fellow human beings so what your cares or wants or needs or desires are absolutely meaningless to them it does doesn't make a difference what anyone else may need or what may be important to anyone else that is completely irrelevant to them and they have utter contemptuous nassif act that you know they have needs once desires but at the same time what these psychopaths are doing is doing nothing but trying to fuel their own depraved desires to to satiate their own depraved desires so utter contemptuous nough splayed toward the feeling feelings and desires of their fellow beings willingness to lie pathologically they'll say anything without any concern for truth in order to advance their own hidden agendas they have the ability this is one of the biggest characteristics that people really need to understand and get a handle on psychopaths have the ability especially primary Psychopaths okay secondary Psychopaths can learn this over time but primary Psychopaths have learned this since they were very very young okay so this is more of a characteristic that is mostly attributed to primary Psychopaths they have an ability a well-developed ability to fake a normal range of human emotions and empathy see they watch other people's emotional responses and then they mimic it even though they're not really feeling those emotions they mimic it so that they fool other people into believing that they're just like them and you know then the question comes up well how do you identify these people you know that's that's a very good question and some people emailed me about that now these could be anybody these are basically any party in society I mean they're well hidden they're well entrenched and they're entrenched in positions of power it's very difficult to identify who these people are you have to know them by their behavior number one first and foremost you know the saying the axiom that you will know them by their deeds you will know them by their actions that's one of the main thing things to keep in mind you'll know who these people are by how they behave first and foremost we could get into speculation about other possible screening for the psychopath but again that would be much more difficult to implement we have to become streetwise about their behavior in order truly to identify them so that we can be on the defense against them and again none of this is to inspire fear or hatred in people this is about being informed about a condition that does exist is basically these people are predatory in nature they they are preying on other people they are referred to by many people as interspecies predators they're there within our species and again I don't really fully agree with that definition because I don't even consider them the same species I consider this a whole nother animal that looks like a human being walks and talks like a human being but ultimately is not really a true human being there's something else altogether because what truly makes a human human okay what makes the characteristics of a human being truly human is the ability to feel and if we lack that then we're not truly human we've become something that is degenerated from a human being then is less than a true human being and for anybody that wants to that's divisive or separatist or you know is a very dualistic go right ahead I I really I'm not interested in some new-age nonsensical interpretation of what is actual in the world okay instead of calling it what it is looking at it honestly people want to euphemized things okay so they don't have to actually acknowledge the horror of the current human situation you know it's all about euphemisms making things appear less bad than what they actually are and ladies and gentlemen what I'm doing I can't articulate how bad it actually is trust me everything I have done on this show is an understatement regarding how bad our current situation is in the human psyche it's so infinitely worse than what I could even articulate in words people have no idea and yeah you know people will call me a pessimist as a result of saying that out in the open but believe me it's worse than whatever I'm saying okay I'm actually under playing where we're at as a species you know uh for for some reason I want people to still accept the notion that we could turn this around if we worked hard enough to influence people in consciousness to come up and maybe maybe it's possible but you know in a lot of ways I don't really even know if I believe that myself and I'm just being honest with people I'm just being honest you know if that makes me a pessimist so be it I consider myself a realist regarding where the human dynamic and consciousness is really at based on what I see on a day to day basis in the world and I try to be as honest as possible about that instead of sugarcoating the situation and telling people what they want to hear but so many people will sell people on that telling them what they want to hear you know there's so many people who are so good that the New Age movements a big part of that you know telling people what they want to hear making them think it's better than how it actually is to sell hope hope is very sellable believe me it's sellable all you have to do is look at presidential campaigns and elections then people think that this you know a new guy getting in there is gonna mean new hope and they'll constantly sell people on that because they're just telling people what they want to hear I'm trying to be honest with people I'm not in this as a popularity contest alright I'm not interested in a who likes me or who doesn't like me that's not why I do what I do I'm trying to be honest with people about where we're really at so we need to understand that it's worse than what I'm saying and while I don't think that the numbers of primary Psychopaths are all that impressive I think they're very low I think they're lower than what a lot of clinical psychologists placed the number at I think it's far less than 1% you know the people who say oh it's the 1% I think it's maybe maybe the 0.5% and I think that might be a high number about how many true primary Psychopaths there are in humanity yet they're still running the entire show here they're still in charge because they have infected the rest of the population with their worldview that's the whole thing we think largely like the psychopathy to a certain extent their worldview is still infecting our psyche and so many people have become secondarily psychopathic meaning through conditions and through the acceptance of a particular worldview they are taking on the characteristic traits of a primary psychopath even though they are not and they were not born that way okay they're behaving that way because of fundamentally flawed axiom and belief systems that they have taken into themselves and are fundamentally attached to and letting go of those false fundamental axioms letting go of those dogmatic belief systems and engaging in new different information that is has the possibility to transform and elevate consciousness it by doing that it is possible to get one psyche out of that state that disease state that pathological condition that's why it's called psychopathy pathological based in an illness okay now other things are required in the physical domain as well you know we need to clean up the body the body has a lot to do with how we think we don't often associate that but the mind and body are intricately and inextricably interconnected so cleaning up one's diet is a huge part of how we think so that has to go hand-in-hand with disconnecting from the poison information getting on to a positive and truthful information stream eating better you know disconnecting from other poisonous influences around us meaning the other people with poisonous worldview infections that constantly feed us negative negative information about the worth of humanity and about you know who we truly are as a people so let's go back to some of the characteristics and wrap this up because I want to transition this into the defense against the psychopath and then start to go to the phone's Psychopaths okay again the ability to feign normal human emotions that's very critical and again the question then becomes how do we identify them again we need to know them by their actions and then we can speculate about possible other techniques to identify these people they have a severely distorted sense of the consequences of own actions see they don't understand that the universe is going to bring things to balance by one means or another it's going to bring it to balance no matter how catastrophic that may need to be depending on how out of balance things have become guaranteed the universe is going to balance the equation and these people don't want to understand or accept that aspect of natural law they refuse see they only want their own desires fulfilled and forget about what creation once you know forget about the will of creation you know the true evolutionary progress that is happening throughout creation true evolution in consciousness that's meaningless to these people they're trying to stop that from taking place because they want to rule the roost they want to maintain their positions of dominance and power illusory power over other people because they're being given that power by other people who are externalizing their power in an illusory sense and through this nonsensical illusory belief in authority which doesn't actually exist in man so this severely distorted sense of the consequences of their own behavior they have total failure to accept any personal responsibility for their own actions forget acceptance of responsibility they always want to deflect blame somebody else it wasn't my fault I refused to take responsibility for what they clearly have done and you know this is part of the human condition on a wider sense we don't want to take responsibility as a people for what we have allowed the psychopaths to do and what for what we continue to do because they're ordering us to do it see this refusal of responsibility to accept personal responsibility this goes our refusal as largely as a people is a reflection of the psycho paths refusal to accept personal responsibility because they don't want to accept responsibility okay they try to pass the buck down to the next person in other words if they could get away with it they would prefer not to actually do the behavior but to tell someone else to do the behavior that's how they think they're going to shield themselves or insulate themselves from the repercussions of natural law they're going to get somebody else to do their dirty work for them and then most of us will do that we'll just do it for a paycheck or do it to make our lives easier in some form or fashion okay because most of us don't have a developed sense of conscience we won't say no and this is the whole problem we continue to uphold the Psychopaths there are a tiny tiny tiny fraction and yet they're ruling billions of people because we can't continue to do their bidding and they have the hordes of secondary psychopaths in the police the military the government educational institutions medical institutions pharmaceuticals etc you name any institution in the world banking okay the secondary psychopaths largely are running these institutions just put your head down do what you're told do your job and you'll get your reward for doing it it doesn't matter who you have to hurt okay we'll try to shield you from seeing the suffering that you're causing okay they're really good at continuing to do that you know and most people will just go ahead and do that and in doing that they're numbing out their emotions and they're ultimately turning so very slowly it's a stepwise progress a progression over time turning into a secondary psychopath who is act are acting as the hordes that do the bidding of the primary psychopath masters that are ruling at the highest levels of the institutions and this is what we need to understand that the only way to stop the progression of this tyranny in our world is to stop be Hey like the psychopath meaning if you know that something is wrong and you know it's ultimately violating the rights of someone else you have to pull your actions back from that through the process of apophysis saying no the lost word the most powerful word in the universe say no to that which you know is not a right that to that which you know is causing harm to someone else and if that if more people did that the psychopaths could never possibly have their way they could never create the world that they want to create because no one would help them do it unfortunately too many people are willing to help these Psychopaths create the world in the image that they want to create it in because since they've worked their way up to the positions of power already and infiltrated those positions you know these institutions shouldn't even exist to have these positions of power that's the entire problem we believe that there is such a thing as power invested in institutions that is going to tell people how they should behave and act that's the entire problem that's a collectivist worldview and the whole problem is Psychopaths invariably unwaveringly will worm their way into those institutionalized positions of power take them over and then once they're entrenched it's very difficult to get them out they run those institutions generationally passing down their influence to the next breed of psychopaths and this is another reason that a lot of psychopaths especially in royalty are huge into inbreeding because they want to keep the characteristic traits of primary psychopathy which is contained in the genetic information to a large extent in the family so that their bloodlines can continue to stay in those same institutionalized positions of influence and power at all it may only make sense I mean if you just sit and think about it it makes perfect sense so to finish up the characteristics of the psychopath the final characteristic is that they believe that they'll never be brought to justice they think they can do what they're doing indefinitely and never be held to account and I said last week in a very strong forceful and no uncertain terms they are incorrect about that I know that they're incorrect about that because in one way or another whether it happens in the physical domain or not they are going to be held to account and so is everyone who is helping them just let me repeat that one more time regardless of where or when it is going to take place they are the Psychopaths of this world are going to be held to account for their behavior so is everyone who is helping them and you could not believe that if you want but your disbelief will never make that statement untrue that is how the universe functions to bring balance to creation now as to how or when I can't necessarily say but guaranteed it will happen the the universe will will that into existence at some point in time now I think the way that they should be brought to balance is through our actions to counter and defend ourselves against the psychopath I don't think we should leave it to the spiritual justice of the universe quite frankly I think that's a cop-out for our experience in the physical domain so I we have the right to bring these people to justice ourselves aya altom utley believe that's how the universe would prefer to bring these Psychopaths to justice through people who are acting within right behavior see if that doesn't happen oh that means ultimately there wasn't enough there wasn't a quantum number of people who were willing to get involved and make that justice occur so the universe is going to do it for us in a very unpleasant way and in a way that is going to not only bring them to justice but it's going to ultimately bring all the other people to justice for not acting on behalf of the universe and holding them to account in the first place and this is where humanity is almost at that point people will say oh that's alarmist you're inspiring fear and saying something Bad's gonna happen if people don't act well it's the truth you think that we can just let these Psychopaths do immoral behaviors forever and there's nothing that's going to result to us nothing bad is going to happen that this is part of what tyranny is ultimately all about because we're not be cause the causal factor that we are not bringing them to justice that we are not standing up for our inherent human rights the youth the world is slipping further and further into global totalitarian tyranny that's one of the ways that we're being punished by the entire you know construct of natural law because we're not doing what we're supposed to be doing in getting these people out of these positions of power stop externalizing our power to these so-called leadership institutions and start actually being our own leaders and live for what we know is right not enough people are willing to do that not enough people are actually engaging in that behavior so at some point the universe is gonna step in and say enough is enough there's been a stagnation here no progress is possible and that therefore cleansing is going to be required you know like when weeds choke a garden ultimately they're going to have to be uprooted and if we become like those weeds choking the garden which is evolutionary progression in consciousness which is what the purpose of the garden is for if we become those allegorical weeds then we're gonna have to be uprooted at some point when no further growth is possible and the universe will be all too happy to provide that service for us do we want that to occur that way I think it's a very bad choice personally but ultimately that's what's going to happen so the next part I want to get in into this is understanding that we already inherently have the right to defend ourselves against Psychopaths about people that don't care about right or wrong that don't care about conscience that don't aren't acting within conscience that are just doing what they want to do to get what they want and this is the whole let me just be very clear about this this is the whole dynamic the whole personality characteristic or the rationalization of I'm just doing my job okay that whole thing that people trot out as a justification ultimately it means here's what you're saying I want people to be very laser focus on what I'm saying here when someone is saying I'm just doing my job and the action that they're taking is actually hurting someone else or usurping their rights through some form of coercion that they had no right to initiate all right when that's happening and someone is saying I'm just do my job what they're basically saying is my collection of money or resources or acquiring a position that I might want usurps someone else's freewill to engage in their rights or to not be harmed not have initiatory force carried out against them when there was no right to do so okay they're basically saying I don't care about that person being harmed that is the definition of not having conscience of not exercising conscience you could even make the argument whether the person has the knowledge of right or wrong which is what conscience is knowledge con science to get to know together science the root of it being ski Oh ski are a the verb in Latin ski Airy which means to know and the prefix con being put in front of it which means together or with so to know together to know with everyone else common sense of right and wrong that's what conscience is common knowledge common sense knowledge whether they actually possess that or not they're not exercising it they're not acting willfully acting with in harmony with conscience with that knowledge so therefore they are abandoning conscience by saying I'm going to do what my job says I need to do to collect my paycheck or to maintain that position regardless of who it's harming by definition that is a psychopathic characteristic you are taking on at least one of the characteristics of psychopathy well its rationalization of your own immoral behavior okay its attempt to lay blame upon someone else for your own conduct you're saying the people who gave me these orders are ultimately responsible you're denying your own wrongdoing outright okay you're willing to violate the inherent human rights of other people you're willing to engage in criminal conduct to get your way and and it's all to just again have your needs satisfied or met at the expense of someone else's rights and I would suggest a large portion or if not the majority of people who are in institutions where they're saying I'm just doing my job and are ultimately violating the rights of other people have become secondarily psychopathic at the very least and what our job is people who understand the non-aggression principle who know that if someone else is not violating someone else's rights you do not have any right to initiate force against them that's what the non-aggression principle is it's all about statements in the negative if someone else is not usurping someone else's rights or using violence okay then you do not have a right to initiate force against them it's all apophatic it stated in the negative you have to understand what you don't have a right to do people think that rights that do not exist actually exist for certain groups of people they think that rights that no one on earth has a bunch of people can come together create that right and then grant it to another person or a group of people and that cannot be done there's no such thing as the delegation of a wrong this needs to be deeply understood by people you cannot delegate something that you have no right to do to someone else or do any number of people doesn't matter how many people believe erroneously believe you can do that it still can't cannot be done in nature you could do it in an erroneous construct that exists only within the diseased human psyche but you cannot do it in actual point of factory allottee meaning in nature it cannot be accomplished nature is not going to recognize creation is not going to recognize that as being real it's your illusion that you've given substance to by believing that you can do it and then acting within that illusory capacity but it's not real in nature it's an illusion in a diseased mind that you can delegate a wrong wrongs cannot be delegated to anyone because no one has the right to do them by definition they're in opposition to right they are in opposite opposition to morality and natural law than they cannot be engaged in by any justification or rationalization see this the only way people believe that they can engage in a wrong or delegate a wrong to someone else is if they accept the fundamentally flawed axiom called moral relativism moral relativism must be accepted somewhere in the person's psyche in order for them to believe that a wrong can be delegated because if you understand the absolute objective nature of right and wrong you understand it is impossible if someone does not have a right meaning if the behavior is wrong because it causes harm to others then and no one on earth has it as an individual that action can never be delegated to a group of people any other individual or group it's an impossibility to do in point of fact reality yet humanity does it every day in every corner of the world giving rights to police and military that the public that they'll say that the public doesn't have we need to understand we already possess the right to defend ourselves we don't need any institutions to exercise in herre rights to self-defense against people that would cause us harm who don't care and the institutions who are ostensibly doing that defense which they're not really doing they're serving the desires of the psychopath if you are honest with yourself that's what they're doing they're the army for the psychopaths the people who we say who we claim are actually you know the the defend defenders of the people they're nothing of the kind they're the army for the Psychopaths to defend the Psychopaths against the people against the bulk of humanity they don't have the rights to do what they're doing and rationalization and justification to say I'm only doing my job by usurping your rights doesn't hold any water and it shouldn't be accepted by anyone so moving to image number four we need to reexamine something that we talked about in the section that we talked about on natural law and that is the dichotomy the total polarization these are diametric opposites people that use these terms synonymously and they are not synonyms they are antonyms they are exact diametric opposites they are the antithesis of each other force and violence have nothing to do with each other people really need to deeply understand this from a natural law perspective violence has nothing to do with the proper use of force you can look at it in terms of use versus AB use use versus abuse you have a right to use force you have no right ever to engage in violence now what is the determining factor or characteristic between these two types of action the determining characteristic is the initiation who started it a big part of brainwashing particularly in American culture but I would probably suggest that this is this brainwashing goes on all over the world is that it matters who starts violence I'm sorry that it doesn't matter who starts violence the the brainwashing is that it it doesn't matter who starts violence what I'm telling people is all that matters is who starts it that's what defines it as violence when someone is breaking the non-aggression principle it means that they have initiated or started to use force that they had no right to initiate or use and they're using it in a coercive capacity they're not using it in a capacity which force is morally intended to be used in if there was no moral use of force we wouldn't have the capacity to engage in in the universe of course there are moral uses of force there is no such thing as a moral use of violence and see I want to give a couple of examples here I want to look at this dynamic what is force versus what is violence how are they diametrically opposed what are their characteristics I want to give a couple of examples and very clearly delineate which behaviors in the examples would be violent and which behaviors would simply be forceful which behavior if it is violent means it is a wrong and the person had no right to engage in that behavior versus what actions were simply the proper use of force and the person had every right to engage in that behavior okay and then I want to read the Second Amendment to the constant tution of the united states and again I'm not a constitutionalist I've made no bones about it that I don't believe in Authority I don't believe in government these are illusory contracts that exist in a diseased psyche I am an anarchist I understand that there are no masters there are no rulers there is only claims of authority and then the acceptance of those claims by dumb eeper we'll get into this on the other side of the station break stay with us ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] okay everyone we're back I want to hammer in a couple more concepts here because I want to get to the phones I didn't leave enough time to go to the phones last week I apologize for that again I want to leave plenty of time to get to the phones today so let's start delving back into the material by taking a look at the difference the diametric opposition between force and violence and again before the break I was saying there is no such thing as Authority there is only the claim of it the claim that you could do violence to someone else and be right in doing it okay the claim that you could be a master of someone and they have some moral obligation to obey your commands okay you can only make that claim and then that claim can be accepted by other people but it will never make it true in reality because it's not true there is no such thing as masters over others there is only people who are making the claim that they are an authority and then there's other people who don't know enough about themselves and the workings of nature who are willing to accept that claim in their ignorance and I just simply referred to them before the break very harshly as dumb people because that's what they are they're just dumb if you think there's any such thing as Authority and man you are dumb you are not holistically intelligent and you do not know the truth because the truth is there is no such thing as Authority anywhere in the 3 dimensional space-time continuum in physical form the only Authority is the boundary conditions of the universe which is natural law that's what the authority is and I don't mean the the fake Darwinian natural order that people think of as whoever's these the has the the most viciousness and the the biggest teeth and the sharpest teeth and claws wins that's not what I mean by natural law again I I feel I need to keep emphasizing that because of how hijacked the word natural is we're talking about the spiritual laws that govern behavior in the universe cosmic spiritual law another word we need to start really taking back and understanding more deeply just like natural what natural really means instead of this Darwinian notion this twisted worldview based in moral relativism and social Darwinism we really need to take back the word anarchy okay because believing that I'm sorry knowing that there is no such thing as authority knowing that there is no such thing as masters over others knowing that there is no such thing as rulership over other people needs to be called what it is the term voluntary us I don't like it's a euphemism it waters down what we're really talking about we need to take back the word Anarchy and help people to understand what it means not only in its etymology but in its actual real definition not the mind-controlled connotative illusory meaning that people have ascribed to it and accepted that it means anarchy comes the word anarchy comes from two greek roots the first is a or an in greek is the negation of or the absence of meaning not presence absent or just simply not not being okay that's a or an the prefix a or an in Greek so apathy no feeling present all right anarchy comes from a and not not present okay not there absent and then the second part comes from the Greek word Archon Archon in Greek means ruler or master okay someone who is a ruler over someone else or in other words the owner of slaves an owner of other people a master of slaves so when you put them together you have the negation of masters over others the absence of ownership of other people the absence of rulers who own other people however you want to put those words those concepts together that's what anarchy is it means that there are no masters and slaves well if you believe that there are masters and slaves then you're not an anarchist if you do not believe that there are masters and slaves then by definition you are an anarchist whether you know it or not if you advocate for any amount of the right the so-called right to coerce other people to coerce their will to usurp their free will and make them do what you want them to do even if what they want to do is a right then you are not an anarchist you are an arc honest one who believes in masters over others one who believes that certain people are masters with authority inherent in them and other people by definition are slaves who have the some he'll have the moral obligation to obey the whims of the master and there's no other there's no other grades of that people think oh there's there's variants and gradations of that in between your painting and as black and white and there's all shades of gray in between wrong absolutely incorrect there is no gradations there are no shades of gray there are either masters and slaves or there is not get that through your head any amount any amount of the advocate of the aggression principle and I want to wrap the word principle in quotes because aggressing against others is no principle at all but is not based in truth and it causes harm the aggression ideology let's call it forget aggression principle there is the non-aggression principle and then there is the aggression ideology that is based in violence meaning the violation of someone else's rights that's why is called violence violent it comes from the word violate to go to intrude a pond go somewhere where you do not belong you are thieving the the inherent rights and security of others by engaging in violation violence of their rights so we need to take back the word Anarchy and help people to understand it just means no masters and slaves to say that you're an anarchist means you understand that you are not a slave that's what being an a true anarchist means not this twisted connotation that people have that you play a word association game with them and they think it means chaos that's what the dominators what the Masters who want to maintain their slaves mindset so that they'll continue to lay down to their commands and be they're willing slaves want people to think the word honor kee means when it has absolutely nothing to do with chaos as a matter of fact chaos can only breed in our kana stick conditions meaning where there are masters then you have a condition of chaos when there are masters and slaves you have chaos when there is freedom you have order only when there is true freedom meaning the absence of masters a master/slave relationship no masters no rulers that what anarchy means and nothing else so let's take a look at one's inherent right of the use of force versus something that is never a right which is violence force is by definition the capacity to do work or cause physical change okay it is energy strength or active power power that is being applied we have the capacity to do work and then we're applying it in the world through an act of force we engage in force every single day of our lives if you build something if you clean something if you go from one place to another all of these our work is required energy is required active power is required you are engaged in force to do any of those behaviors once you use the ability or a capacity to cause physical change in an immoral way meaning that you're using initiation of coercion you have crossed the line from the application of force into the use of violence violence is the immoral usage of physical power to coerce compel or restrain when you had absolutely no right to engage in that behavior that's what makes it violence what makes it violence is that you initiated it you are not being harmed or attacked and then you initiated coercive force that's the definition of what makes it violent force is action which exists in harmony with morality in harmony with natural law for the very reason that it does not violate anyone else's inherent rights violence on the other hand is initiatory action meaning you started it it's core initial taury coercive action you started it and it is the action coerces someone else's free will when they were harming no one this is always in opposition to morality and always in opposition to the laws of nature because for the very reason that it involves the violation of someone else's inherent rights force is action that we always possess a right to take under natural law it is in harmony with natural law therefore we may take that action and this includes the inherent right to defend oneself meaning if violence is being done if initiatory coercive usage of force was initiated against you that means violence was done unto you then you inherently already possess every individual already inherently possesses without going to another human being you already have the right to defend yourself against that incursion of violence by applying whatever amount of physical force energy strength or active power is required to stop or negate that act of violence I don't know how much clearer I could be I think that's about as clear of a definition of what force versus violence is when you're engaged in violence you never are in the right there is no such thing as the right to conduct violence because that means you are initiating you are starting it but you always have a right to use defensive force when you're being attacked by violence and you know I think we've been under violence and the threat of violence for a long long long time not only in this country but throughout the world taxes are threats of violence pay us what we tell you you have to pay us or we're going to either take your property or put you in a cage it doesn't make a difference why someone is demanding that you can't demand that someone act and say you're not acting is a right you don't have yes you are allowed to sit there and do absolutely no action you don't have to take action now I would say if you're seeing violence being conducted and not taking action then we're getting into a very hairy moral territory because you're witnessing it and you have the capacity to to do something to change it and you're sitting back and saying let the violence continue let that person's rights be completely usurped and just allow it to continue now all kinds of rationalizations are used for why what's being done with that money is going to be a good thing this is how people rationalize the violence of tax collection away this is an example of violence okay it doesn't matter how you rationalize it you're saying you have no right to refuse that's coercion and if you do refuse and try to keep what you have earned then you're threatening the person with retaliatory force for simply engaging in a right which is to keep that which you have produced this is not a right taxation is not a right people think that it can be granted to a government or a group of people and that right can be delegated well there is no such thing as the right to collect taxes because it's based in violence and therefore it's not a right it's a wrong therefore cannot be delegated to any other human being or any group of human beings no nothing that someone individually may not engage in can be delegated to another I don't know how much more clear I can make that hopefully this is being understood and and really sinking in to people if it didn't in the natural law section but if you don't have a right as an individual to do something to another person to coerce them and say you have to give me this much of what you have produced or earned then no one can do that because no one has that right so no one can give it to someone else rights already exist inherently no new rights can be created rights cannot be changed their inherent forces in the universe that's it they're part of natural law which are existing conditions that are binding and immutable that's what rights are and rights are actually based in what is wrong they're they're based in the apophysis wrong doing needs to be understood so we can understand what a right is not first and foremost once you understand violence which is wrongdoing which is coercive action the coercive use of force which one had no right to take then you can understand anything that falls into that category is a wrong is violent behavior and is part of the aggression ideology everything that falls outside of that ideology is a right because it's part of the non-aggression principle do not initiate or start coercive force against anyone else so long as you were not being harmed if you're being harmed actively by an act of violence you have every right to respond with any amount of defensive force required to put down that attack and this is what the founders understood of this country and in men in many ways they didn't understand fully enough the non-aggression principle because they still put things into the Constitution like taxes you know they weren't perfect they weren't fully enlightened they were still in partial darkness they were very enlightened in comparison to where people are at today but in comparison that doesn't mean they were truly enlightened fully enlightened all the way this is why I end the show with the whole quote from Buddha many times that there are only two mistakes that one can make on the path to the truth not star and not going all the way well the founders had a good start the foundations of America were a good start into a deeper understanding of natural law and they enshrined those principles in the Declaration of Independence and partially enshrine them in the Constitution definitely took a step down from that you know one document to the next because there are things that are in opposition to natural law in the Constitution but and and I believe even in the Declaration of Independence the creation of government at all you know but the Declaration I see is a higher consciousness document than even the Constitution but at least they were partially enlightened and they were attempting to get people to go further along that path certainly coming out of the tyrannical States that government had existed in previous to the foundations of America so it was a stepping stone and we should have ratcheted up further and further instead we've gone slipped back down into tyranny because we didn't listen to the founders advice so please no one should think I'm a constitutionalist as a result of reading something that I happen to resonate with from the US Constitution I'm an anarchist it should be I'm I fully embraced that term I'm okay with that terminology I understand what it means I clarify to people what it means I embrace the non-aggression principle I live it in my life I don't believe that there is any such thing as masters or slaves that's why I'm an anarchist I live according to natural law and that's it meaning moral law doesn't matter what is legal it matters what is moral legality is the whims of flawed men and women moral law comes from creation or God if you like people want to get offended about that term go right ahead I'm comfortable with it I know that rights come from God period okay they don't come from man man does not get to get to make up what is right or what is wrong this is where man is sick because he believes he can do those things when he absolutely cannot so the founders tried to enshrine the inherent right for defensive force into the Constitution and let me be I want to be very very clear about this too it is the only thing in the Constitution that they said and they were very frugal in their words and they did not put extraneous concepts into the Constitution that they did not need to articulate upon they put these words into the Constitution and said that it was the only thing that was that they deemed necessary for the preservation of freedom let me say that one more time the founders only deemed in the Constitution of the United States one thing or concept necessary for the preservation of freedom they only deemed one thing necessary for the preservation of freedom okay think about how important that very concept right there is now the word necessary in the Constitution was used exactly six times but in the context of something being necessary within the the structure of America the it is only used in that capacity or that context that connotation one time and that is in the second amendment in the bill of rights to the Constitution now I want to read though the text of the second amendment as it was adopted by the Congress and put into the Constitution in the Bill of Rights and I want people to understand that in this older style of writing this part of the Bill of Rights which and all parts of the Bill of Rights are all parts of the Constitution actually are only intended to ever be restraints upon government people need to understand that about the Constitution it is not a listing of rights for the people it is not a restraint of anything for the people it is entirely a set of things that the people were going to allow the entity that they were creating called the US government the United States government to do and a much bigger set of restraints upon what the government could never do in anybody's life so it is written very much so in the apophatic sense the Bill of Rights is all about what the government may never do because these are actions which ultimately take away if done would take away freedom from people the First Amendment being the right to free speech free religion and free assembly and free press so the Second Amendment is about the right to inherently defend oneself against the incursions of violence and here's what it says and if we understand that this form of language is not really spoken today we need to understand how it would be written if it were written today then it becomes very much less ambiguous as to what the intent and meaning of the Second Amendment was and I'm deliberately bringing all this for see folks you have to understand there's a method to my madness so to speak I'm putting these things together okay psychopathy a deep understanding of it in the characteristics verb you know force versus violence and an understanding of what the foundations of this country attempted to enshrine about the inherent right of Defense and there's a reason I'm doing it now with all the things that are going on regarding false flag events mass shootings and then the justification is to try to take the ability of people to defend themselves thus leaving them completely defenseless against tyrannical government this needs to be understood now not at some future point we should already be at a level of understanding that someone like myself is at and unfortunately most people are not at that under level of understanding here's how they drafted the Second Amendment into the Constitution this is the exact text a well-regulated militia comma being necessary to the security of a free State comma the right of the people to keep and bear arms comma shall not be infringed now I personally think it's very clear right there and there's no ambiguity about it whatsoever but because it is written in this older form of English as far as sentence structure is concerned the connotation is not as clear as it could be in modern English so I've suggested that if we wrote this today I'm not saying we need to rewrite it I think it stands on its own as it is but if we were to attempt to get a better understanding of what was actually meant by the people who wrote this we could very simply rearrange a couple of words and I'm going to add a word and I'm going to change a form of a verb and that's it I'm gonna add one word and I'm going to change the form of one of the verbs the verb to be in the in the second phrase within the sentence being necessary I'm going to say is necessary I'm changing the form of the verb to be from being too is that's it okay here's how we might write it in modern colloquial English how we would speak today since a well-regulated militia is necessary to the security of a free State the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed now the meaning is perfectly clear and unambiguous now what did they mean by these terms since a well-regulated militia capital M militia that's that's some grouping of people isn't it what is that entity what is the militia and they're saying it is necessary to the security of a free state of being this this capital S state doesn't just mean the state of Pennsylvania the state of Rhode Island the state of New York the state of Delaware that's not what we're talking about the capital S state just like the capital M militia and capital a-arms means the totality of something militia is not small M militia one specific grouping of people in a specific isolated place the word militia has a specific connotative meaning to it that is defined right in the sentence later in the sentence of who that group of people is the word state is capitalized meaning state of being a state of life so they're telling you that this well-regulated militia capital M is necessary to the preservation the security of the continuance of a free condition a free state of existence meaning if you don't maintain this inherent right if you don't maintain this readiness to engage force if it is required you will not maintain the state of freedom that we fought to put in place to secure the right of the people to keep and bear meaning possess and brandish to possess and carry arms that doesn't just mean projectile weapons that means any defensive weapon capital a arms anything that can be used to defend oneself shall not be infringed under no circumstances period period period period at the end of the word infringe nothing after it full stop end of sentence shall not be infringed not shall not be infringed if people abuse this inherent right and then start using violence with arms No shall not be infringed period that's it it's absolute and this is what people don't grasp especially fearful little children fearful little Punk's who think they somehow have the right to disarm people from defending their physical body when someone is coming at them with violence imagine there are people in the world that actually believe that bullshit ok and let's just call it what it is out in the open that's what it is these are fearful little punk children who is the militia that is being talked about in the Second Amendment it's not a particular group of people it is the people it is defined in the sentence since a well-regulated militia is necessary to securing freedom to keeping us free the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed be cause the people are the militia able-bodied citizens who can pick up a arm a form of arms a weapon regardless of what it is arms capital a and have a right to defend themself with arms against the incursions of violence you shall not infringe upon that right the end it is so cut and dried it is so obvious it is so unambiguous that you have to be a total ass to think that it is in some way ambiguous or to try to interpret it in a different way debt is offended about that as you like say I'm harsh I'm unyielding I'm unapologetic and you're absolutely damn right so I'm going to open up the phone lines now after having gone through that analysis of the Second Amendment to the bill of rights in the United States that was put forward for very specific reasons by people who were far more intelligent than the bulk of humanity is today and understood what was required to keep freedom and defend it from tyranny and the question is going to be ladies and gentlemen whoever wants to call in the call-in number is eight six six eight four one one zero six five toll-free eight six six eight four one one zero six five the question is were the actions of the people who waged the Revolutionary War in this country against the British and they're mercenaries conducting acts of love or acts of hate and why do you think so either way that is the question for the rest of the show today so let's go to the phone lines and that is what we're doing if you're on on the phone that's the question I'm taking here I the other topics right now are set to the back burner we are talking about the question of I would say if someone wants to comment on psychopathy that's connected with this topic so I'll take calls on that as well but what I want each caller to do if they are willing is to say whether they think the actions of those who waged the Revolutionary War in the United States against the British and their mercenaries were engaging in acts of love or acts of hate and why they think so so let's go to the phones here we go Emily from Pittsburgh you are live on what on earth is happening welcome and what do you have for us I was actually just listening okay no problem I am a John I am enjoying the show I think it is I think it's an interesting topic really answer if you would like to join in on that while I have you on the line you are welcome but if you're simply listening don't feel compelled that you have to do so I don't want to make you feel uncomfortable but if you want to go ahead and chime in on that question you're more than welcome to do so okay I mean I would think it was like an act of love simply because I mean it's like you're fighting for your freedom you know what I mean I I think that you know it would be classified as an act of love not like an act of aggression now let me ask you a question you went toward the side that it was an act of love I'm in full concurrence with that I agree with you completely but let's look at what they had to do they actually had to kill other people they had to pick up arms and and snuff out other people's lives in order to secure that freedom like would you consider that hateful acts the devil's advocate here yeah I could give you my answer to that and why I think it's one way or another but you know I'm just interested in what some of the callers think about this so you know it well the British were coming over here to try to continue their reign over the people they sent their mercenaries and their armies to collect whatever oppressive taxation has stopped them from using colonial script you know to you know coerce and regulate the trade that they were engaged in and ultimately to basically tell them how they had to live here and it started turning into the these psychopathic British soldiers that were stationed here looked at it as well this is an open field day and you know since the King has our back and you know the king is God on earth we're just gonna start raping their women taking whatever we have because we feel like it you know setting up our shop in their house doing whatever we want and they'll just sit and take it he'll take it endlessly because after all the king is God you know and that's the kind of behavior that was started to be engaged in by these psychopathic lunatics called the British soldiers and they're mercenaries so um I go back to the original question that I posed you say it was an act of love many people you know might have ambiguity about that because they'll say well they picked up weapons and actually fired weapons or you know thrust bayonets into other people you know fired you know muskets and and and bullets and and killed people they actually snuffed out other human lives how could you say that that was an act of love so how would you frame that you know - if your answer is that is an act of love it is an act of love it entailed some very brutal things that they felt needed to be done so comment on that well I think that like in that entire situation you know I mean a lot of stuff was happening to lead up to you know that confrontation it wasn't just kind of some type of you know flippant decision you know made overnight or anything like that ignore you know you kept being pushed and pushed and pushed and pushed and pushed until you you know you have to decide it's me or them you know what I mean and I think that anybody can you know we relate to like a situation where if you and push that far and you have to make you know you know tough decisions it doesn't have to be like violent decisions but you know you can connect that to you know any type of difficult situation where you just cannot allow something to continue yes why what I'm trying to get at is there action can only be based in love if it was based in write an action cannot be based in love if it is based in a wrong so when I'm talking about that they were killing were they killing within their right to take a life is there such thing as a right to kill or a right to take a life I would suggest that there is there is never a right to murder no such thing doesn't exist murder is always wrong because murder is the initiation of killing someone when you had no right when though that when there was no in cursive act of initiatory aggression against you but if there is an initiatory act of aggression against your body or against your rights that is an act of violence and you have an inherent right to respond to that violence with an act of force so in other words the felt the the people who wage the Revolutionary War were not engaged in violent behavior the British and their Mercia mercenaries were engaged in the violence because they were initiating the force the revolutionaries were responding to the force they were responding to the violence I'm sorry with force and that resulted in the taking of life because the aggressors would not discontinue their immoral behavior which is an initiation of violence they had no right the British had no right to do what they were doing they were in the wrong there is a right and a wrong and it all that matters is who started did we start the attack during the Revolutionary War we did not now we're here and refusing to leave people alone and exist in there right we responded to that with force now you could say what is America doing today America is waging wars of aggression preemptive aggression against nations that did not attack us they are not over here waging aggression okay and yet we're waging aggression over there the roles are reversed we are the modern-day British army and mercenary waging war in other countries because ultimately you have to understand that that regime never fully went out of control they infiltrated their way back in and the British Empire still ultimately runs this country and the world along with other institutions psychopathic and a cult institutions but ultimately what I'm trying to get at is if the act is based in love it has to be based in right which means it could not have been an act of violence it was an act of defence of force so I think I thank you for your you know your your take on that and your contribution to answering that question and I'll I didn't want to you know add that you kind of you know disagree was like just kind of going back earlier like in the show with like the idea that you know psychology like being a psychopath or whatever it's like intrinsic to people I don't think that it's like a genetic thing I think that people just use that so flippantly and and and you know without really understanding genetics or how that works the vast majority of people who suffer from psychopathy are not primary Psychopaths we have to understand psychology is not one thing it is - that right there is primary psychopathy and secondary psychopathy what are you're referring to as not being a an inherent condition in a small tiny portion that expresses that genetic disorder is called Andheri psychopathy the vast majority of people who suffer from psychopathy you are absolutely correct it is not genetic in its origin it is not an inherent condition and it can be changed with enough work there is also another kind of psychopathy among us the primary psychopath so this is where the distinction comes in and what I would suggest is you not need not only to look into human genetics and the human genome but you really need to look into the difference between primary and secondary psychopathy I would suggest that there is such a thing as primary psychopathy but it is an infinitely small number compared in comparison to the whole of human the human population certainly much smaller much much much smaller than the amount of the population that suffers from secondary psychopathy so that's what I would encourage you to do is to look into the difference between primary and secondary psychopathy and to understand that there is such a thing as a difference between those two forms of psychopathy but as far as secondary psychopathy is concerned I'm in complete agreement with you it is curable well there is things that can be done to mitigate it or reverse it if enough will and effort is applied not only by the person who's suffering from it but by the community of people around him primary psychopathy although I cannot argue that III cannot tell you that it is anyway fixable curable not at least with the technology that we have now I do not believe that it is what I'm thinking is that I was actually thinking about like a study that was done that came out of Sweden probably like 25 years ago it's like not a very well known study or anything like that but it did show something interesting and like like human connections to you know different animal populations or and they found that you know human babies when they're born they're like baby birds they imprint on you know the first thing that they you know see like so whenever they open their eyes after their right after they're born that's what you know they they relate to and I think just because we live in such you know medicalised society you know just having like babies born and this is highly medicalised non like non I'm feeling non human type of situation I think that that actually breeds that type of madness rather kind of trauma can initiate it right at the the situation of birth right yeah it's very possible you know and I say at birth you know I don't mean it's a you know destroyed soul you know coming into incarnation from the very in its very inception you know there are conditions I talked about this briefly last week that possibly created in the womb and possibly birth possible possible birth trauma but again well you know we're kind of splitting hairs by saying well it's it's conditions created at birth that therefore the person is like that from the time that they were born maybe maybe yeah I'm open-minded to the possibility that maybe if we completely changed the environmental conditions that are actually giving form to the human being during the whole gestation period and birth maybe we wouldn't have primary psychopathy it's possible it's possible you know I tend to look at it more that it is a genetic disorder that is inherent to the human genome and there's reasons I have for looking at it more along those lines which I'll get into on future shows but okay but for now I will say I'm open to the possibility of that what you're saying may be possible then maybe it is also conditions prenatal in the womb or right at the time of birth that's very possible I'm not close-minded to those possibilities I happen to think that the answer to primary psychopathy lies elsewhere but I'm not totally closed to looking at that potentiality as to why it exists or at least exists in the prevalence that it does so thanks for those for those comments I'm going to okay thanks so much I'm good yes oh yeah yeah I'm saying I'm thanking you know I did enjoy the show absolutely thank you for the call all right I'm going to go too and I'll leave you on the line since you're listening by phone okay okay I'm going to go to another caller now let's move on to Ivan and Phoenix you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark can you hear me okay yes I can you sound good coming in loud and clear okay well I kind of already answered your question last week and right in the middle of it I guess you kind of changed my mind and woke me up that you're right it is out of love and the violence that comes of it it's kind of I would compare it to like if you're in your home with your family and some terrorist or somebody comes in with like a grenade are you gonna just stay in there and let it blow up and everybody get killed or are you gonna try and like force the guy out you know of your home and doing so you get blown up with them so it's alladhi and very disgusting and nobody wants to see it smell as an act of love yeah well you're absolutely correct see it's all about defense we're not talking about aggression aggression and defense are two different things one implies that you are initiating the force therefore it's violent behavior that's what aggression is defense is retaliatory or responsive force that is used to counter violence so again when people say you don't respond to violence with violence you know that's a wrong way of looking at it you're never going to respond to violence with violence if violence is initiated the response is enforced not in violence this is what people have to understand and I'm not just suggesting you know a total ideology of vengeance you know of you know an eye for an eye necessarily I'm saying if sorry it is coming at you in the moment attacking you and aggressing against you with violence you have every right to use whatever amount of defensive force is required to put down that act of aggression in the moment and you know right I agree the problem is people never look at what's going on in the totality in the aggregate of how our rights are being usurped and violated as an as acts of violence that are current and ongoing but indeed that is what's going on we are under violence and threat of violence daily on a daily basis just the fact that something called a property tax exists is violence that means you are existing in a constant level of the threat of violence because if you don't pay your tribute to you the master who is claiming ownership of your land and house then they can come and physically buy with violence they're saying we have a right to put you off of your home out of your home and make you homeless and people don't even conceive that this is what all property taxes are this is what all taxation is another examine let me give you this example right I tell pas people would you categorize the sport of boxing as violent would you describe boxing as a violent sport yes or no mMmmm now you kind of have me trapped I don't know what did it say yes or no let me jump it let me jump it for one moment okay subscribe clarify I want you to just give your instinctive gut response like don't don't overthink it at first what would what would you ordinarily say to that question is boxing violent yes or no got you know right away no okay why well because I looked at it from maybe I don't want say artistic but sporting because you got to think strategy you know hit whether it the body the weaken it like that strategy involved in things like that but that's not what makes it not violent I want to know why it isn't violent you're and you're correct boxing is not a violent sport and that people hear that and it sounds so strange when they hear it but if you really understand the difference between force and violence you'll understand that that's absolutely true but why right now I guess I understand what you're saying because you're not violating anybody's right there's no audience involved both of you are participating consensual I'm going to hit me because you're gonna let me hit you and there you go at it it is a contest of strength or active power or a contest of force that is engaged in consensually and there is why it is not a violent sport it is a forceful sport it is a competition writers but in the definition see this is where this is mind control ladies and gentlemen I want you to really pay attention to this mind control works through the obfuscation of the definitions of words when people don't understand the meanings of the words that they are speaking they could be made to think anything they could be manipulated to think anything that's how mind control works through a little bit mind control there well no I'm saying you you passed the test that in that respect you're not under mind control you get the distinction and the dichotomy between force and violence you said boxing wasn't a violent sport and when you were pressed to give an answer as to why that was your answer you gave the correct answer it's not violating someone's rights because the participants are engaging in the activity voluntarily they're not being coerced to engage in it no usurpation of freewill is taking place it is a consensual activity which is a competition of force you absolutely our spot on excellent ok so how many people how many people either were ivan how many people would have responded that yes it is violent and because by definition they do not truly understand the meaning of the word violence they don't understand because thinking of the blood and brain bouncing around and the trauma like are called hey that's violent know it but you know yeah yeah I smart choice to participate in that activity for a paycheck I would probably know because you know I understand the art form involved I understand the the training and the the strategy involved in it and and you know I can have appreciation for those aspects of discipline that's involved in that but to actually engage in combat when combat is not necessary but to me is you are you are not having enough respect for the greatest gift that you have which is that which exists within the temple of man right in the in the human head right behind the forehead which is the human brain which distinguishes us and makes us completely different than any other animal in the animal kingdom and I have too much respect for that wonderful piece of god-given machinery then to engage in unnecessary displays of force for for any reason that would be an abuse of your brain you're abusing it it could be construed as self abuse yeah I would go so far as to say that's probably the case but again that someone else is free will because it's their own body so I can't tell them not to engage in that behavior but I wouldn't think it's one of the smartest decisions to make well it's not one of the most intelligent decisions to make all right touching on the psychopathy real quick this is probably going to take you to the end of the show I had quite a few different ideas real quick and observations real quickly let me put them out here real quick while you were talking last show on this show and why the secondary psychopathic this I think this is like a cyclical self-preservation kind of thing and I say that because coming from the background that you come from I've seen a few videos with veena lebay and Nicolas Trek aha there's and there's a classic example of the psychopath I mean yeah it doesn't get any more obvious that you're looking into the eyes of a psychopath ladies and gentlemen Ivan just let me briefly tell the people if you want to look at into the eyes of a psychopath directly just type this name into Google or into a YouTube Nicolas Shrek Nicolas Shrek I believe he spells his last name schr EK aur shr EK nicholas shrek he was involved in the Church of Satan and then he and Xena lavae the daughter of Anton LaVey decided that the Church of Satan was not even hardcore enough for them and they got involved with Michael Aquino and the temple of set there are interviews and you absolutely enlightening to look watch and listen to these interviews and listen to watch Nicholas Shrek's eyes watch his responses his overall way that he carries himself and what he thinks what his ideology is and this is what the globalist ocultist the psychopathic globalist occultist are all about they have the same worldview and mindset Ivan thanks so much for bringing that up if you call in next week I'll bring you on talked about that a little bit more that's all the time we have for this week's this week folks thanks so much for listening remember there are only two mistake

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] freedom [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Mark Pascoe [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening here on the Oracle broadcasting radio network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com the network's website Oracle broadcasting dot-com today is Sunday December 16 2012 the show is live every Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m. East Coast time that's 4 to 6 p.m. Central Time we have a good show lined up for you here today we're going to continuing be continuing to talk about our inherent human right to defend ourself from violence something that is so pertinent and poignant in particularly today's times with what is is going on and has been going on with a continued effort to encroach upon that right and to take it away from American citizens and actually people all over the world the event that just took place in Connecticut everybody has been talking about usually I do not talk about just current event issues but I'm going to make an exception for the show today because it's amazingly synchronistic that this event would take place during the time that I have been hammering on the topic of self-defense the Second Amendment the inherent right to own a weapon and to use it in the defense of one's self when violence is being conducted against you we're gonna continue to talk about that here today on what on earth is happening before we get into the topic I also want to give out the calling number because I want to take calls on this topic I want to continue to ask the question that I've been asking for the last couple of weeks here on the show and that is were the actions of the founding fathers of this country and the others who waged the revolutionary war against the British Empire to begin the foundations of America where those acts acts of love or acts of hate and why do you think so so I'll give the call and number right here at the top of the show the calling number to join us toll-free is eight six six eight four one one zero six five once again the calling number eight six six eight four one one zero six five the topic is the inherent right to defend oneself from violence the grabs at taking away that right that are being made as a result of such orchestrated events such as these school shootings that we've seen over the last decade or more and gun control in general but I really want to get people's take on whether they think that the people who waged the revolutionary war against the British Empire to basically found this country were they engaged in acts of hate or was that an act of love and why do you think so so your calls coming up a little bit later on the show today I have a several event announcements there's a whole lot going on this is going to be the last show before the fabled Mayan calendar nd that everybody is you know making all kinds of predictions about I said at the beginning of the year coming into the year 2012 that the the thing that I see this time period as this prophesied time period as is simply a window of opportunity that the message of truth and freedom is either going to be accepted and integrated into the human mind and heart or it will be rejected that is what this and then wrecked cosmic retribution will need to fall upon humanity and I look at this whole time period when all of the truth is being unveiled and being revealed and spoken to the people of earth that this is simply a window of opportunity for them to either accept or reject the message of truth and that's what I've always seen this time period as since I became aware of all the prophecies associated with it I don't see it as necessary cataclysmic time nor do I necessarily see it as some time of sudden awakening that it is put forward by a lot of new-age channels and new-age devotees I look at it simply as an opportunity that the ugliness of the the truth about what's really going on in our world will be put out there so that people cannot claim ignorance of it I'm sorry that so people cannot claim nations of it I should say and they will either accept it and then act upon that information and change things for the better or they will stay in ignorance in willful ignorance and then they will reap the negative consequences of such willful ignorance that's what I've always seen quote/unquote 2012 as so I fully expect to be here next Sunday I don't think anything catastrophic where cataclysmic is going to occur between now and then so with that having been said let's talk about some events that are going to be happening over the next couple of weeks into the future the free your mind to conference of course the the huge event coming up here in 2013 we're all still going to be here I've said before there's no way we're going away because we have way too much work left to do so much work is left unfinished you know so plan on being around in 2013 and plan on being at the freer mind to the featured activist for the event truth freedom prosperity live tfp live always features great stand-up comics musical artists and local activists from the truth freedom prosperity activist group here in Philadelphia so for more information on that event check out truth freedom prosperity org and also check out TFP live.com TFP live.com the free monthly documentary screening and discussion night hosted by truth freedom prosperity will be taking place as it always does on the last Thursday of every month at a seen food market and cafe so this month it will be happening on Thursday December 22nd 27th two days after Christmas 6:30 p.m. sharp start time as seen market is at 719 South fourth Street that's the corner of 4th and Monroe streets in Philadelphia the film for

Thursday December 27th will be innocence betrayed innocence betrayed this is a documentary which demonstrates how gun control has been historically used to disarm citizens and make them helpless before governments commit genocide mass exterminations of the human population and this is a movie like this helps us to develop a long view of history by showing us what has always happened the inevitable pattern that takes place we're going to talk about this a little bit today whenever there's a mass genocide you can bet you can bet it was preceded by a mass disarming of the population in that region because people who have been disarmed cannot fight back against the tyrannical government and that is why we have gone rights that's why we have any right to own a weapon and defend ourselves it's not a right that's granted by government it's a right that's always attempted to be taken away by government it's an inherent right we need no permission to defend ourselves we have that right at all times and all places and people need to get that through their thick skulls because there's people who are so completely retarded when it comes to and and that's that word is not a slight against anybody that suffers from some debilitating condition it means that they're slow on the uptake that's what it means it means slowness retardation slow they don't get it it takes them a long time to understand and to get something therefore they have been retarded they have been slowed down and that's what the indoctrination system is all about in the in Western civilization really all throughout the world that's what it's all about it's too slow people's mental faculties and make them retarded or slow so that they cannot understand inherent rights that they already possess and don't need to ask anybody permission for to exercise so we're going to get into this deeply in a few moments but this film innocence betrayed is about how genocide has been committed by tyrannical governments in variably following gun control being put into place in that particular region of the world and it helps people to again gain that long historical viewpoint of understanding the pattern that takes place over and over and over again you know the old saying those who do not learn from history are condemned to repeat it they are doomed to repeat that mistakes of the past because they ignored the pattern they ignored the events that took place didn't want to see it didn't want to learn from it they wanted to stay in their ignorance and their retardation their slowness you know that's what we have to gain from the insight that this film has to put forward that long view of history and this film does a great job in breaking that down and explaining it to people who are otherwise really slow on the uptake okay so that's why I'm we're screening it this month as part of the truth freedom prosperity documentary screening and discussion evening so come on out to that again you could always check that out and join the meetup group for any announcements of future events for truth freedom prosperity that website once again is true freedom prosperity org my matrix presentation The Matrix trilogy decoded has been put online as of last week at what on earth is happening calm you can go into the news section to check it out it's still on the most recent news our it's also in the video section at the bottom and it is also on my youtube channel at youtube.com slash what on earth 93 what on earth the number 93 93 so I've been getting a lot of great comments back on the Matrix trilogy decoded presentation that I gave as part of the first fundraiser for the free your mind to conference if people find this information of great value I ask if you are in a position to do so make a donation to the free your mind conference this was part of a fundraiser effort you know I put this presentation together to attempt to raise some money for all of the transportation and lodging costs that have to be put up front and the building rental costs that have to be put up front for the for your mind to event this isn't done for free yes the name of it is free your mind but there's tons of activity and you know putting out of financial effort that needs to be made that mean needs to be done in order to host a conference like this people think that this just happens for free somehow magically people step forward and volunteer you know oh oh oh I see you're doing something good for Humanity so let me let all these people on a plane for free you know it doesn't work that way you know train conductors aren't coming out and train companies saying oh I'll let them on the train and come into Philadelphia for free just because we think you're doing something good for people that's not how it works folks there's tons and tons and tons of fees associated with putting something like this on to make something like this happen and bring all these people together you know yeah we would like to be able to host it completely for free but if people aren't volunteering the building space for free if they're not volunteering the transportation for free tons of money has to be put out to make something like this happen so we need to recoup it we need to recoup that in donations or in ticket sales so you feel the work that has been done as part of the effort for the whole free your mind to conference and the fundraiser effort that we just put on the featured this presentation the Matrix trilogy decoded if you're in a position to do so please make a donation for the for your mind to event and you could do that by just getting in touch with me and I'll let you know market what on earth is happening calm or mark at free your mind conference calm and I'll let you know how you can go about making a donation to the free your mind to call us any small amount any bit is appreciated you can make a donation as small as you want or as large as you want so if people found that matrix trilogy decoded presentation valuable to them and they gained a lot of insight from it please make a donation to the for your mind to conference alright I was interviewed on the h2o radio show hosted by Franco uard and Bo tracks on Monday December 10th 2012 that interview is now up in the news section of the what on earth is happening calm website we got in to carnism on that a little bit we talked about natural law we got into diet and nutrition and fasting we talked about willpower and of course we highlighted the free your mind conference as part of the interview so that is up on what on earth is happening dot-com news section right now check it out the chip in campaign to keep the water on Earth is happening radio show ad free currently stands at six hundred dollars we need to raise 1000 by January 31st in order to keep the show ad free through the February March April three month time period so keep the generous donations coming in for that effort you can click on the button on what on earth is happening calm on the home page to find out how to make a donation to the ad free chip in effort people will also see that I added a general donation button to the what on earth is happening calm website again if people find the information valuable and want to help support the general effort of what I'm doing feel free to make a donation to what on earth is happening by clicking the donation button and then emailing me and I'll tell you how to go about making a donation - what on earth is happening a general support donation again any little bit is welcomed and it is very much appreciated and it helps a lot to help me be able to continue the work that I do alright so that's all the event announcements that I have for today let's get into the topic we have been talking about on the show over the last couple of weeks psychopathy and we got into all of the different characteristics of a psychopathic personality we talked about the very very important distinction between primary psychopathy and secondary psychopathy primary Psychopaths are born the way they are it is a disorder in the human genome along with many other genetic disorders that exist in the human genome again we were going to get into in future shows why the human genome has so many disorders inherently within it and you don't see things like that in other species on this planet we probably have more genetic anomalies in our genome than almost any other species on this planet and there's a reason for that and it's a controversial reason and we'll get into that on future shows I happen to think that psychopathy is one of those disorders that has expressed in the human genome because of the underlying reasons that all of these different genetic disorders exist or have expressed okay I think psychopathy is one of them and it's a very difficult thing for people to accept because when you're wrestling with the question of when you when you it's hard enough to come to the acceptance that psychopathy exists in our world that there is something as deranged and crazy as the inability to feel emotions for any human being that you only care about yourself your needs being met and you could care less about any suffering that happens to any other living being it's it's difficult enough to come to terms with that that that this condition does exist it's even harder to come to terms with the question of why does it exist what put this here with humanity this condition why does it exist at all and again we're going to begin to shift slowly over into that question I don't want to take calls on that question today okay we're talking about gun control we're talking about the inherent right to keep and bear arms we're keep talking about the inherent right to defend oneself against violence and you know we can comment on this Newtown school shooting and then the subsequent gun grabs that are inevitably going to follow an event like that because that's what the whole thing is geared to do you know pin it on the lone not gunman and then justify gun control and gun grabs because oh you don't want to see this happen to more children do you you know it's always a play on human emotion and those who are under the most emotional mind control who think with the emotions instead of understanding the reasons that gun ownership is so vitally important for the preservation of freedom they'll just buy into the whole drama of it and say oh yeah guns need to be taken away from people and again this is because they've been so dumbed down and so indoctrinated that they have been actually turned into people who are literally retarded completely slow in their understanding of an issue as important as this which the founders of this country made so abundantly clear there is no place for a missive interpretation you literally have to be completely dumb not to understand or be to interpret their words their words were so clear so precise they were so frugal about their words that they did not want to obfuscate the issue at all they were so abundantly clear that it's impossible to miss translate their words unless you have been put through the wringer of indoctrination and obfuscation through the media and the so called educational system here in America one hope that I have when it comes to all of this is that America has the highest gun ownership rate per capita in the world by far than any other country on the earth Yemen is a very very distant second and that gives me hope that's one of the only things I take any hope in when I look at a gun ownership map of the world and I'll probably I didn't get a chance to post that maybe I will post that in the image section for today's show again you could always check out the images for today's show on the radio show page of what on earth is happening while the show is live after the show is archived I put that up with the podcast with each respective podcast the images go with each podcast on the podcasts page of what on earth is happening calm so the images for today were just basically a repeat of last week's images I of course put the free remind two poster the white Tesla matters event and then I had the characteristics of psychopaths relisted you could check those out I won't go into them again we reviewed that last week and then there was the chart of what force is versus what violence's the force versus violence dichotomy which people really need to understand I will review that this week and then the Second Amendment worded as it appears in the US Constitution and then also worded in a way that we might worry if we were writing it today in modern colloquial English which i think makes it even more understandable and unambiguous people need to understand that the Second Amendment was written with very specific intentions and it there is no room to interpret it at all it is very clear and abundantly specific and for people to think oh there's tons of room to interpret this you're wrong simply wrong there is no interpretation for this the founders were very clear by what they meant by all the terms involved in the sentence of the Second Amendment all abundantly over-the-top specific and we could get into you know a couple of quotes a little bit later about you know what they meant by specific terms in the Second Amendment and again this isn't just about the Second Amendment the Second Amendment does nothing folks it does nothing it's words on a piece of paper that are expressing an an idea a concept okay it doesn't grant one right or take a right away okay it's it's attempting to communicate that something should never be allowed to be done by the people that government should never be allowed to infringe upon anyone's right inherent natural law right to defend themselves against violence and that it that means whatever weaponry is at your disposal period I don't care from a stick from a pebble from some sand that you can throw in somebody's eyes up to a nuclear bomb let's let's go to that level of extremity yes people say well would you want people having to each individually carrying tactical nuclear warheads wonderful idea how about that okay so we get the the complete logical fallacies out of the way yes it doesn't matter the the extent of the weapon it's about your capacity to wield it and it's about nothing else meaning if you're put in harm's way if you're put in a situation of Jeopardy of life you have an inherent right to use your capacity for force to defend your life the end there is no internal stop nothing after it there is no interpretation needed or required and that means any amount of force necessary to put down that act of violence period I don't understand what people have such a hard time with about this it's so simple it's almost stupid how simple it is and yet see it's because people's mind goes to the fear place but what if always follows but what if somebody gets hold of this weapon and then what will they do well then if they use it in an abusive way that's violence and other people have a right to defend themselves so you come right back to the principle period guns exist if someone gets a hold of the gun and uses it for violence other people with weaponry have a right to defend themselves with force period you go right back to the defense principle there's two principles that need to under be understood the non-aggression principle and the defence principle that's it these are principles they're called principles because they are based in truth and they do not take away rights they do not use surprise you are not taking away someone's right who has attacked you with violence if you respond to that violence with force let me just say that again and be abundantly clear about this you are never taking away someone else's rights if you respond to their violence with force you have that right to do that and you're not taking away their right you're not responding to violence with violence that's impossible if violence has been done there already exists an inherent right to respond to it with force to put down that act okay you already have that right inherently and it cannot be taken away by man it doesn't matter what he writes down on a piece of paper it doesn't matter what other people who are willing to conduct violence will go and do the right still exists cops can try to take guns away from people all they want it doesn't make a difference you're not taking the right away somebody has a right to keep a gun for their defense and to brandish it if violence is being conducted against them and put a bullet in somebody to stop that violent act of aggression you have that right it doesn't make a difference what law is passed everywhere where there's gun control laws the rights still exist in those places it doesn't matter if there was written somebody can't say you no longer have this right to do this see people have to understand the absolute nature of rights rights are not relative they can't be granted they can't be taken away they always exist and they are forever is that an extreme position you absolutely better believe is an extreme position you better know that it is it's an extremity truth is extreme it is all one-way it is not black-and-white there are no shades of gray involved it's all one-way rights are absolute they either exist or they do not exist no shades of gray the right to defend oneself exists and it cannot be taken away by man the end that's it you either understand that because it is a law and you accept that you are under that law you are standing under that law it is above you because it is natural and inherent to creation you do not supersede or stand above that law either you understand it or you don't understand it now if you don't understand that it doesn't mean the right goes away it doesn't mean that nature has suddenly been changed and there's something that you think that it is because you're ignorant of what it actually is it still remains unchanged that's why it's called a law because it is inherent to creation and it is immutable meaning it is cannot be changed by anyone's whims or fancies it is it exists and it is inherent to creation it is binding at all times and places meaning there's nowhere you can go to get out of that law there's nowhere you can go to change that law as long as you're in the three-dimensional physical space-time continuum that we call our universe you are bound by that law an inherent law inherent natural law under inherent natural law you have a right to defend yourself against violence the end and this is what people who are all for gun control laws don't understand no man can write a law down that supersedes the laws of the universe and yes this is the laws of the universe it's not man's law this has nothing to do with man's law man's law cannot say in one place you don't have a right that exists somehow magically exists somewhere else so in New York you can't carry a handgun I mean imagine this they're telling people you don't have a right to inherently defend yourself from violence New Jersey you can't carry a handgun I mean this is this is Nazi gun control laws that's what it is it's Stalinist gun control laws it's Maoist gun control laws you know the this is Cambodian gun control laws North Korean gun control laws and we have the beginnings of this being implemented all over America and fearful little punk boys and girls who are know-nothings have never read anything in their lives don't read books don't don't ever think about right from wrong don't ever understand morality don't understand what inherent natural law rights are give their support to the government that wants to continue to infringe upon the natural inherent right to defend oneself it's disgusting these people are disgusting they're not even it's like they're not even people there there's some there's some kind of dumb degraded retarded animal who have no idea what a right is and what a right is not they think it's all relative and decide and based upon what some psychopath in a particular area calling themselves a politician what their whims are that somehow right and wrong can magically be changed they ought to be ashamed of themselves for even thinking that way it's sickening it makes me sick it makes me angry this is another thing I want to talk about this new age bunk New Age movement wants to tell everybody you should never get angry about anything Oh anger that means you're oh you're not exercising true self-control no folks there is such a thing as righteous anger when you see things that are being done that are being conducted and orchestrated to take away your rights if you're not angry there's something wrong with you you've been degraded in some way you're not a full human you're not expressing the full range of human emotions which includes the so called negative emotions you should hate what's being done in the world today you should be angry about it anger gets you up to the place of consciousness of being able to see the difference between truth and falsehood anger is one of the levels of consciousness that takes people up above to a higher level of consciousness it can if used properly if felt when it's supposed to be felt and not suppressed can take people up to a higher level of awareness I'm not suggesting you just simply stay and stay angry and I wrestle with that because because the condition is perpetually so bad I feel myself constantly being angry many times but the anger should be transmuted it should be channeled okay so you can hear the anger in my voice its anger should be there if you're paying attention if you're really paying attention to what's going on in the world folks and you're not angry there's something wrong with you so get over this complete bunk bull notion that there's never a time to experience anger that the New Age movement wants to sell you this is all to get you to lay down that's all it is it's all to get you to lay down so you won't take any action so you won't do anything and so you will accept your slavery if you're not angry you're going to accept your slavery use the anger to spur you on to a higher level of awareness and help you to understand what you should be doing should be advocating and we need to come together and speak out forcefully against this grab that is going to be going on and is going to be pushed harder and harder as they do more of these orchestrated events these total human sacrifice rituals and if you don't think this was another one of them the footprints are all over it folks all over it the fingerprints of this being a false flag event that just happened in in Connecticut in this new town okay by this look so called lone nutter gunman if you don't understand that this is an orchestration and it's being used to justify the continual erosion of people's inherent human rights to defend themselves because they want to take away the ability to defend yourself against tyrannical government that's what guns are for the ancillary thing that weapons are for meaning the secondary usage of them ancillary secondary usage or secondary reason is self-defense on the street against other citizens or self-defense in your home against intruders into your home those are ancillary and then for people that you know believe in the violence and aggression ideology hunting which I don't think is really all right I think you're just taking animals rights as a result of doing that you're going and you know engaging in violence against other beings not human beings and somehow people think that's acceptable or should you know be continue to be engaged in in practice you know that will set off a whole nother round of controversy but you know go back and listen to the podcast I did on carnism you know if you don't think that what we're doing so at the animal kingdom is being done to us it's one of the reasons that all of this this whole prison continues to perpetuate itself called the earth the conditions that were experiencing on the earth one of the main driving causal factors is what we do to animals if you don't want to understand that you're also completely ignorant that the correspondence principle the principle of Correspondence which is one of the expressions of natural law is actually going to work when we do violence to animals and it's going to rearrange the the end of the field energy that we exist in and it's going to ensure that ultimately violence is done to humanity which it is being done to us every single day until we understand we can't do that to our animal brothers and sisters and expect it not to be done to us we're not going to make any progress but again I'm not here to that's not the topic of discussion here today I'm talking about what gun rights are in inherently exist for the right to own and brandish a weapon against an attacker is an inherent right and an ancillary usage or an ancillary reason for owning guns is hunting home defense and self-defense when walking in open territory those are ancillary usages of weaponry in general the primary usage of weaponry is to defend your freedom from the encroachments of tyrannical government and get that through your thick skulls out there people that's the primary usage of weaponry to stop encroachments against your inherent freedom against your inherent rights as an individual by government regardless of what form that takes and you can look up tons of examples of what form it takes meaning how government goes and encroaches upon people's rights and ultimately wages genocide against them once they get them disarmed time and time and time and time again you know whether the dictators name is Pol Pot or Joseph Stalin or Adolf Hitler or Genghis Khan or Julius Caesar guaranteed they're gonna go and try to disarm the people that they want to conquer and they're gonna tell them you can't have weapons we can have them but you can't have them the people who conduct the violence are going to tell people who aren't being violent you can't have weapons you can't have guns we can have them were the authorities we're allowed but you're not and this is just no clearer example can be made of the acceptance of human slavery that's that's all it is you could color it up you could dress it up you can tie a nice bowtie on it make it look pretty but all it is no matter how you gift wrap it is the acceptance that someone else is your ruler and you are their slave that's what the acceptance of all gun control laws are and it's deplorable totally deplorable the nerve that other people actually accept I'm a slave meaning themselves they accept in their own mind that there are slaved someone else and someone else's their authority that may command them what they can do what kind of weapon they may own I mean it's just such a foreign idea to me it's so unimaginable let me tell you something I never thought that way when I was the darkest occult Satanist you know that you could have imagined I still didn't think that way that's where I don't even know where this is coming from you know it's so unfathomable to me that I can't even grasp what kind of degradation mind state you need to be and believe me I was in the past in a degradation mind state in my worldview I'll be the first to admit it openly when I was involved in the dark occult but I never had that mind state never I mean I don't I have no idea where that comes from I guess it's because my mind state was inherently more you know earlier in my life was just more imbalanced toward the left brain hemisphere the left brain when it goes chronically dominant the personality becomes dot more Dominator you know wanting to dominate other people so I never took the slave mentality I went into the left hand path of imbalance but never the right hand path of imbalance where I was okay with other people ruling me telling me what I can and can't do as long as I'm harming no one else and telling me that they're my authority and therefore I'm their slave to be ruled over that they have some kind of moral right to rule over me and I have some kind of moral right to obey their whims and commands I mean I I don't I have that's so alien and foreign to me I can't even conceive of where that comes from the only place that I can tell you that that comes from is self-loathing folks you have to hate yourself to think that way you have to absolutely hate who you are to think that way you have to be totally ruled by the emotions never understand that there's a time to defend oneself from violence and you have to be willing to say go ahead and do whatever violence you will to me I won't lift a finger to defend myself which is called a total coward that's what someone like that is a total coward and if you're a total coward that means you hate yourself because you couldn't love yourself if you're a coward you would never stand up for yourself and defend yourself if you're a coward you would just lay down and let people run roughshod all over you do whatever they want to you it has to come if you just think about it just from a psychological standpoint that level of that mind state has to come it must come from self-loathing being present within the individual psyche it has to come from a place of self-hatred if you truly love yourself you understand what freedom is you love those who you value in your life your friends family spouse children etc you're gonna be willing to stand up and defend yourself viciously if necessary if you're attacked and this is what people are daring to come out and say needs to be forcefully taken away from people really you're gonna take away my inherent right to defend myself against violence I don't think so not while I draw breath what gives you the right where does that right come from in your diseased mind not in this lifetime here the anger and know it comes from a righteous place if that turns you off then shut the radio off right now don't listen to it if it turns you off if you're some meek timid coward that is never going to stand up for your rights and defend yourself against violence then none of us want your help were needed okay we could go to the quote of Samuel Adams you know a brilliant philosopher who truly understood the inherent right to self-defense one of the founders of this country one of the people who because of his courage helped to foment the American Revolution which if it didn't occur believe me things would be a hundred times worse you want to look at where things are headed folks I'll tell you where things are headed go watch a documentary about North Korea that's where things are headed that's the human future a state exists right now that is arguably a hundred times worse than Nazi Germany ever was you want to take a look at that regime go look at it and know that's coming to America if we don't turn our mindset around and understand what real freedom is that's going to come to this country sooner than anybody realizes you know when samuel adams was talking to people about needing to set aside their own personal desires to come together and fight for the common cause of human freedom in the american revolution he was trying to explain to people that you can't love your life more than you love freedom if you love your life more than you love your freedom you're ultimately a coward if you love your job keeping your job more than you love freedom you're a coward if you love comfort comfort in your slavery more than you love freedom then you're a coward and I mean it's like we don't even barely have anyone today that really understands this to this level or can put it in such eloquent ways it's it's like something has been lost from humanity you know I'll read this quote from Adams you know and he's the person who I quoted for the freer mind - event that's you know last year I quoted from Jefferson and put that at the bottom the footer of the page and you know on the program for the for your mind to event about that Thomas Jefferson said I swear upon the altar of God eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man you know a quote about mind control he understood you have to control the mind to control the body you have to control the mind to take away people's inherent freedom get them willing to give it up this year I quoted Samuel Adams about natural law the natural Liberty of man is to be free from any superior power on earth and not to be under the will or legislative authority of man but only to have the law of nature for his rule that's it natural law that's all there is he was he understood there is no such thing as the authority of man there's no such thing as the rule of man of man being an authority on earth that true freedom is only to have the law of nature for one's rule natural law the founders understood this Adams understood natural law perhaps better than anyone I mean maybe with the acceptance of Thomas Paine who I feel had a grasp on it to a very very high level here's a quote by Adams he said if you love wealth greater than Liberty the tranquility of servitude more than the animating contest for freedom then go forth from us in peace we seek not your counsel nor your arms crouch down and lick the hand that feeds you may your chain set lightly upon you and may posterity forget that you are our countryman if you're not willing to defend your freedom with force if necessary you're a coward and the people who really understand freedom don't want or need your support or help that's what he was saying to them when they were responding for a call to arms to fight against invading attackers against America they wanted to take their inherent rights away they were saying well oh if we lose the crown might take my business away imagine that's what they were concerned about instead of the freedom for themselves and future generations so we're going to open up the phone lines in our to we're gonna take a quick two-minute break we'll be right back you're listening - what on earth is happening [Music] alright folks look back you're listening to what on earth is happening you're on Oracle broadcasting I'm your host mark Cassio my website what on earth is happening com we're talking about the Samuel Adams quote about loving wealth greater than freedom and this is something that unfortunately has spread like a plague in modern America you know we didn't take the founders words to heart we you know continue to love wealth more than Liberty it's it's a disgrace it's peak that this has become people's God you know money is people's God and if we don't come out of that mind state soon we're we're going to be the subjects of that God called money and that God called money wants to put everybody into chains and Adams was explaining this to people he was helping people to understand if you are putting a value on money and making and elevating that to a greater value than something like freedom truth and freedom you're going to that level of cowardice an inversion of values is going to put you into your chains literally he understood that that's how natural law worked see but there I want to read another quote that I think is very powerful from Samuel Adams and this is a quote about willingly giving over a couple of quotes actually about willingly giving over rights to other people so he said quote no people will tamely surrender their liberties nor can be easily subdued when knowledge is due used and virtue is preserved on the contrary when the people are universally ignorant and de botched in their manners they will sink under their own weight without the aid of foreign invaders so he was saying when morality and the lack of understanding of one's rights is on the decline you'll be conquered from within you won't even need to be conquered from without people in their ignorance will just give up their freedom and that's what is happening in the United States he prophesied it right there himself in that quote he said it doesn't take a majority to prevail but an irate tireless minority keen on setting brush fires in the minds of men I'm gonna maybe I didn't not make slides with these quotes for today but maybe I'll add them to the podcast so you could look for that in the podcast I'll definitely make a couple of these quotes that I'm going to read today as slides and add them as images and you know keeping hand in hand with this Samuel Adams also was quoted as saying that a general dissolution of principles will more surely overthrow the Liberty of America than the whole force of the common enemy when now listen to this here this is so powerful and important when while the people are virtuous they cannot be subdued but once they lose their virtue then they will be ready to surrender their Liberty to the first external or internal invader he understood that a dissolution a dissolving of principles and virtue is what's going to ultimately conquer America it's I'm not sure who it isn't might be Samuel Adams it might be another maybe it was Thomas Jefferson he said that the Constitution was written for a holy virtuous people and for no other meaning that if the people aren't virtuous doesn't make a difference what the so-called law of the land is they're not going to be living under natural law and therefore they're gonna be conquered by tyrants they're gonna willingly give themselves over to tyranny because they don't have any inherent virtue and their value systems are degraded and what they value in their life is not what they should be valuing if they're going to have any chance of protecting freedom so before we go to the phone's I have one more quote this is one of the framers of the Constitution who actually co-authored the second amendment to the US Constitution his name was George Mason and he said see what we we read last week the the second amendment in turn you know interpreted some of the words that trying to get people to the understanding of the true meaning of some of the words that are used in the Second Amendment and in getting down to some of the meanings of words that people have lost their understanding of the meaning of and the word militia was one of those words people have this completely erroneous notion of what the term militia in the second amendment means they think it means something that it does not mean okay and this quote by George Mason helps to completely remove the ambiguity of what that word is he said what is the militia quote what is the militia it is the whole people to disarm the people is the best and most effectual way to enslave them that's a quote by one of the co-authors of the Second Amendment to the United States Constitution what is the militia it is the whole people let me just repeat that again the person who wrote the Second Amendment here's the quote by him what is the militia it is the whole people what part of that is an ambiguous what part of that is open to miss construing or misinterpretation I'd like someone to explain that to me but people don't think that's what the militia means and then he goes on to say to disarm the people is the best and most effectual way to enslave them how could you be more clear and non ambiguous I don't think it can be done and yet people still think that this statement should be interpreted in some other form or fashion and that any amount of gun control is somehow acceptable because they actually believe other people have a right that doesn't exist you have a right really as an individual to take away someone else's ability to defend themself from violence well if you don't have that right no one has that right that right does not exist for anyone and therefore it can't be granted to another person it can't be granted to another group of people that you're calling government and somehow saying you're going to magically imbue with a right that doesn't exist it cannot be done you can claim you're going to do it and other imbecile moron retarded people can actually believe that you somehow magically develop that right they can accept your claim your erroneous claim that doesn't exist in nature but that will never make it true let's just be very clear on that that will never make it true it will never make that a right no one has that right that right does not exist in nature so with that quote let's go to the phones and see what people have to say again the toll-free number to join us on what on earth is happening is eight six six eight four one one zero six five again to join us the topic is the inherent right to defend oneself against violence the insane fascist / communist grabs that are going on and try to beat attempting to be justified by people to take away people's inherent right to defend themselves to take away people's guns and we're also asking the question today do you think what the founders what the American revolutionaries did alright not just the founders but the people who waged the American Revolution what they did was an act of love or an act of hate and why you think so so here we go let's go to the phones Ivan in fact you're live on what on earth is happening welcome Ivan Ivan I'm having a real hard time I've and I'm having a real hard time hearing you there's a lot of background noise I know you usually call in from your place of employment and there's some background noise sometimes but it's kind of over the top today so I'm gonna put you on hold you want to try to make a reconnection if you can get into a quieter place I'll put you to the top of the line all right Richard in Washington you are live on what on earth is happening welcome yes mark I hope we can have a short dialogue because I believe in everything as the concepts are saying but I'm thinking that as a practitioner of the Trivium and the quadrant a ssin what we have and I will defend is freedom to my death is we have the right to make a choice and and the the real word is choice we have a choice okay you only have a right if you have some find a foundational perspective and that's what quote unquote the Constitution gave us it gave us rights based on that Constitution but that's the next distinction natural law was a philosophy of man the law of nature is something that we can believe in as as the Trivium and the quadrivium so you know those those distinctions are really important a pacifist can make a choice not to use violence and not defend it I would make a distinction that the the that natural law is inherent there is a philosophy or an understanding based upon natural law which is philosophical but natural law is in is inherent it has to do with inherent rights and whether an action is a right because it does not cause harm or whether an action is not a right because it does cause harm so I would say it's not in itself a philosophy of man but the understanding of it is a philosophy that's the only distinction I would make but I agree with what you've said there well that's exactly why I want to make that distinction because if you use the term natural law that is the John Locke's philosophy as well as other philosophers but the law of nature is a physical objective reality of the Trivium and the quadrivium that because you can get people confused by the fact that you're not talking about gravity you're talking about a concept that is oriented around the egocentric perspective well I I I call it natural law as many other philosophers throughout time have understood these principles call it you could rearrange the term and call it the law of nature I'm not trying to split hairs on the term if John Locke called a specific philosophy natural law that doesn't mean it's the same thing I'm talking about when I talk about natural law I think I've been very specific about what the term that I'm using meaning natural law means that it is about only agree when you find it very adequately but but but that's it you're defining the laws of nature in the Constitution it says the god of nature yeah and nature's God right and these are no laws of nature god that's right they are mice correct but as you caught with Adams Adams referred to natural law because he was a follower of John Locke they agreed to the same philosophy but that same philosophy is not a law of nature and and we can we can point that out by by what Thomas Paine because you and I both agree that he was one of the most outstanding of the founding fathers knew if you Ramon I'll remind you that I was the person that asked you to rethink the founding fathers but in in Thomas Paine's time he said it is a duty of a patriot to protect his country from his government so I think because I believe now the times have changed I think it's the duty of a patriot to protect himself from all governments yes because we have evolved yep oh sure and it this is something that I I totally agree the founders did not have a total enough understanding of natural law true natural law they had somewhat developed understanding of it but they did not go far enough which is why again I keep bringing up the quote by the Buddha that on the path to truth you can only make two mistakes not starting and not going all the way the founders started the path to truth but they did not ultimately go all the way it's to us today to understand we need to go all the way and understand all government no matter what it is is inherently illegitimate because it is all based on the violence ideology and it is based on taking away choice from people and ultimately that is the equivalent of making them slaves exactly and the second quote by Thomas Paine and this will get to the heart of the question you ask it is my religion to do good ok I believe that religion was instituted starting with the Caesars the downfalls of the Caesars and and then picked up by the Holy Roman Empire because they want a continuation of subjection is the religion is being used to subjugate us and because of that we use that as a mistaken and fraudulent foundation to give definition to words and those words unless you use that religious framework don't have the same connotation excellent point I definitely agree and and that's why I'm so specific about using the term laws of nature right and if that then explains your question there's perhaps less ambiguity in that term than just natural law see what one of the things I've been trying to do instead of even using the term natural law is take it to a different level in the phrase the phrasing of the concept and call it the underlying spiritual laws of creation then it's very difficult to misconstrue what we're talking about and that this goes to the true meaning of the word natural the etymological meaning of the word natural comes from its derivation as an Egyptian word net tear a net tear meant spirit so when we're talking about natural not tear all it means spiritual so natural laws are the spiritual laws that ultimately govern the conduct of human behavior exactly and that's why it's so important if we're talking about spiritual concepts or philosophical concepts as humans or talking about things we have to deal with in nature the laws of nature and then to ask your question is that love or hate it's new that's a human concept the the choice I would defend my right to have choice because I believe that's what I have as a multicellular organism but the concepts of love and hate only exist if two or three people get together and we choose to agree to our terminology they don't they aren't laws of nature they're totally misleading concepts that get us away from the true thinking of what do we have to deal with in nature and that's why I've always recommended the parable of the tribes by Andrew schmuck ler if you read that that concept and the second title is the problem of power and social evolution you'll find that that sometimes we get confused and distracted because we don't distinguish between what we as humans egocentric lis called philosophy and what we as humans as multicellular real organisms have to deal with in nature you're talking about the difference between the map and the actual territory the actual landscape and that this gets into areas of you know definitions of words and semantics well I think people are clear enough about what I'm talking about the expression of love which I've talked about before as really something that helps consciousness to expand and to flower versus the expression of fear which is the counter acting force to that force that wants to unfold consciousness and make it expand and grow so in that context is what I'm asking people not in the context of what do you love what do you not like preferences or choices in that sense I'm talking about is this an act that has helped people to grow and move forward evolutionarily in consciousness or was it an act that should not have been taken because it you know makes that process that natural unfolding of consciousness move backwards or stagnate so again I you know I could clarify that a bit but I am putting that out there not in the terms of whims or likes or general preferences but in the true sense of those of those terms I would say that love is a force in nature is that force which actually helps consciousness to expand and grow whereas fear and then ultimately anything based upon that such as hatred will help to shut down that process so that's the connotation that I'm asking it in and I think most of the people who are within the sound of my voice and hearing what I'm generally talking about will not you know split hairs or go into a semantical argument but I agree it is important to clarify that because many people will not you know understand exactly what we're trying to get at when we're using terms like that so that's a valid point so thank you for that well that's why it's so important that we use the correct term of choice versus rights no organism has the right or a right all we have is choice all organisms have a choice now that choice can be to defend yourself but like I said the pacifist choice is not to use violence in any situation so you always have to make that distinction between philosophy and natural law of nature and that's a good point we could maybe talk about on a future show pacifism and I could get into all the reasons that I do not think it is a good idea and that why I think that it is something that actually goes against the laws of nature to remain completely non forceful in a situation where your rights are being usurped and violence is being done unto you or those around you I do not think that that falls into harmony with rights under natural law or under the laws of nature under cosmic spiritual laws of creation so maybe that's a good topic for a future show Richard and what in Washington thank you for the call great points that you've brought up let's go to Russ in Minnesota you're live on what on earth is happening welcome yes I know that Richard is quite a fan of this nuclear fellow anyway yeah and Richard you know Richard thinks his idea of a great launch is tackling a buffalo and eating its intestines I'm time making light here I'm not trying to be hypercritical but sure well did you have anything to contribute to the discussion on gun control in general the inherent human right to defend oneself or perhaps you want to chime in on the question of what do you look at the actions of the American revolutionaries as where their actions the proper ones that ultimately helped consciousness to move forward and or were they should they not have taken those actions and should they they have not responded to the violence that was being done onto them with force as they chose to do I think they made the right decision okay I do - what why do you think so well pretty I mean I think that you know when we wouldn't Richard turns to talk about nature versus you know and he says we don't really have rights you know well yeah rights or something you know that we create that humans do this but it's a human creation you know and it's like saying that you know a guy can't just come up to me and and take my money out of my wallet you know I I don't I don't agree that it is a human creation again I think a right is something that is inherent to creation because laws that govern creation Douce that govern our choices see our choices are governed this is what we have to understand we have freewill to make choices but not without consequence there are always going to be consequences for the actions that we take based on choices that we've made and those laws that govern that are fixed they're not mutable they're not changing they're not open to our interpretation or whims or dislikes or preferences or likes okay they are fixed laws that are inherent in creation that are always going to give us a specific type of result a specific energy and we're creating as a result of those choices in harmony with natural law or in opposition to it with a lot these laws of creation okay these spiritual laws of creation those laws have within them okay the inherent concepts of right and wrong the inherent distinction energetically of what is going to result if this action is being taken because it is not moral or whether this other action here what it's going to create because is in alignment with morality meaning did the action result in harm or did it not result in harm now when you talk about the actions of the founders people can look at them and say well their actions resulted in harm I'm not the founders I shouldn't use that term the revolutionaries the American revolutionaries and I'm being specific let's say the people who actually brandished weapons they brandished firearms they shot firearms and they killed other people who were coming over here to this land from England and other places in Europe to continue to oppress them at the the hands at the request of the British crown okay so the revolutionaries you could say well were they causing harm to the physical bodies of other people yes but what was the reason that that was that that that they chose to make that action well that's because first harm was being conducted to them they were being stolen from their rights were being stolen their physical safety was being stolen in many cases they were being put away for non crimes when they had not done anything except disobey the orders of the crown and their freedom was then being stolen so all of these things are acts of violence ultimately all transgressions against the laws of nature are acts of violence and they all involve theft of some kind whether you're taking someone's property without the right to do so whether you're taking someone's safety and you have no right to do so when you have when you're taking someone's life or freedom or rights it's all theft so the people who were here that from the at the behest of the crown the way they were taking people's rights they were taking people's property they were taking people's freedom they had none of those rights to do that and yet they were conducted in those acts of violence and aggression well that made us you know that makes you able under natural law to engage in a behavior that you ordinarily would not be able to do without negative repercussions or Consequences namely use force against that person's body the reason you then have the right to do that is because prior to that act you were already being you were already having violence conducted against you therefore that right already existed but see the only way way you have the right to engage it in other words you have the you reserve the right to use force but you then have a right to take force to actually use that force only if violence is being done unto you first when that's being done which was being done they then had the choice do I want to engage my right of this potential to use force and put it into actual physical manifestation or do I just want to continue to take this and let it go on accosted in the physical domain and this is what I'm trying to say I think when people make the choice of pacifism and there is violence continuing to being being conducted on a constant basis and their people's rights are continuing to be eroded and they're being put further and further into chains and slavery I feel that it is a wrong to continue to remain a pacifist you know if someone hits you in the jaw one time you know and then walks away you know I'm not saying you have a right five or ten years later to go and put bullet in that person okay you know the act has to be ongoing and continuous for you to respond with force what I'm saying is is if someone kept coming to you every single day and hitting you in the jaw and you're just gonna sit there and take it that's not a right I'm sorry that is a wrong you are now operating within wrong in that one instance when there was no pattern and it was just a wild random act perhaps you have a choice and you can say well I can choose to respond to this with force or I could let it go but if it keeps happening if there's a continuous train of usurpations and abuse as was the reason for the the Declaration of Independence being signed in the separation from the crown to begin with okay if there is a continuous train of usurpations and abuses being conducted and you still sit there and do nothing you are within the wrong you are not operating within the parameters of natural law at that point so the the the the ideology of pacifism I do not look at as a philosophy I look at it as an ideology that is not based in a deep understanding of the laws of nature of cosmic spiritual law at all it is based in an ideology that is ultimately based in some form of self-loathing that you will continue to take abuse and never respond with your right to defend yourself with force that is what the New Age movement wants to convince people is the right path to take in life and that is what religion is also in a big way trying to convince people through ridiculous notions such as turning the other cheek which I do not in any way feel that the teacher in the Middle East who is referred to as Jesus Yeshua yahushua whatever you want to refer to him as ever told people to do i feel that was added in to the bible it is one of those things that was added to the bible as a result of dominators in a given area wanting to control the minds of people and again that's even we're not getting into the whole Astro theology of religion even if you do accept there was a teacher or set of teachers that were teaching true deep cosmic principles about the laws of nature in the in the location of the Middle East in general around the time of the first century AD again I don't think that was part of that teacher or teachers philosophy I believe that that was added in post that era to the Bible to get people to stand down and never engage their natural law right to defend themselves with force if required and if set off if a perpetual train of abuses and usurpations against their rights were being conducted your response to that I mean in the Bible it's really sometimes difficult to figure out exactly who said what I mean I just read a verse the other day where it says God did not send his son to judge and then a few chapters later it says either says it was for judgment that I have come to this world right you know so yeah I mean the Bible's full of I think was written by a lot of different people and whatever one guy itself and one day he would say and another guy would say something else and you need a tribute quotes to Jesus probably we never made I think a lot of the conversations that Jesus has with his his followers you know like if you've read like the Socratic dialogues you've got Socrates talking with the MCUs and all these other fellows I think that's just Plato to put giving his views through Socrates who is just a fictional character interesting and I think Jesus I think Jesus said in the same way he's been being you sort of as a per neg protection elf peace right in a literary work yes it's it's quite possible and you know if you have anything else go right ahead I have a quote that I want to read about Jesus's idea about peace in the world about maintaining peace and what you know a quote attributed to him is about that I find I think is one of the most encouraging and one of the most profound statements that is made in the Bible philosophically so do you have anything else for us Ross well if I could just hold that and listen I'd appreciate that oh absolutely thanks so much for the call great points and you know here's a quote that I do take the heart that was written in the Bible in Matthew chapter 10 Jesus is quoting quoted as saying do not suppose that I have come to bring peace to the earth I did not come to bring peace but a sword for I have come to turn a man against his father a daughter against her mother a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law a man's enemies will be the members of his own household anyone who loves his father or mother more than me is not worthy of me anyone who loves his son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me anyone who does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me whoever finds his life will lose it and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it now I look at that as a totally beautiful spiritual allegorical statement that is talking about very similar to the same things that what Samuel Adams was talking about in his quote from I believe 17 74 or 75 that I read earlier on the show he's saying that the truth is not about peace Jesus always you know referred to himself as the truth this is the voice of truth and he's saying he didn't come to bring peace truth is here to stir things up it's here to create conflict he came to bring a sword because so many people have begun accepting that which is not true as the way things are you know accepting illusion and fantasy as truth and he came to turn people of their own family against each other those who would be willing to see the truth and go wherever it leads and those who would just stay in their ignorant continue to engage the illusion and that's going to create dichotomy it's going to create conflict especially in families see if you want to just maintain peace you're not on the side of the truth the truth is an uncomfortable process to go through to recognize the reality of the world it shouldn't make you comfortable it shouldn't make things tranquil it's a stirring up process it's here to stir the pot it is here to rock the boat that's what the truth is about you shouldn't be comfortable in the illusion and in coming out of it it's a a process involving turmoil and tumult it's it's a mulcher assess and he's saying if you love your family more than you love me meaning truth then you're not worthy of the truth you're you should have all of the negative things that are going to result as a result of your willful refusal of truth to happen to you that's what that's what's being said here it's just like you know if you love wealth you love your business because you have a business you don't want to fight against tyranny you'd rather be able to keep your little pittance that you make in your business than have real freedom you know you're not worthy of freedom then which is what Adams is basically saying to these cowards that he was speaking to and Jesus is saying if you're unworthy to go and fall with the truth wherever it leads take up your cross regardless of how uncomfortable it is going to be to engage truth and spread it to others if you're not willing to do that you're not worthy of the truth the way the truth and the light the way the truth and the life and he's saying whoever finds his life will lose it powerful statement a meaning if you love your life more than you love truth and freedom your ultimate ly gonna lose your life because what's your life worth you're it's not you're saying your life is worth more to you than truth and freedom so you would defend your life meaning you would stay in your shell stay in your shackles you would stay in your bindings as long as you might you wouldn't have to take a chance to endanger your life see that's what he means by those who finds his life who it also means those who loves their life loves if you love your life more than you love truth and again this is a connotation of the word love it means if you're willing to preserve just your life because you won't get your hands dirty in the fight for truth and freedom because you won't speak out out of fear because you will you're willing to stay in your shackles of safety and so-called security rather than come out onto the battlefield for truth and freedom then you're not worthy of your life you'll ultimately lose your life you're gonna lose everything that makes life worth living and he says whoever loses their life for my sake for the sake of the truth will find it they'll have true power they'll have true life their life will be imbued with meaning and purpose if you lose your life meaning you're willing to lay down your life for the truth you don't care more about your life than you do about truth and freedom just like many of the revolutionaries who fought the Revolutionary War did and they lost their lives physically literally in this engagement for truth and freedom I don't know if we're at that level of courage as a people I somehow and have a very negative stance when I look out the window when I walk down the street and I see these dumbed down golems that have been made into a retarded form of life they have been slowed down to a point where the mental processes are just not engaged enough to even understand what freedom is let alone to have the willpower to be engaged enough to fight and protect it but I do think there's that small irate that tiny irate minority that Samuel Adams talks about that may be able to put a dent in this and make a difference you know I still think it's possible as for the masses I think they are so hopelessly irreversibly dumbed down that I don't put too much faith in anything that they could do in the way of creating real change here but in that irate tireless minority if we really go even further go all the way and engage the will maybe we can make something powerful and positive happen let's go back to the phones Jane from Baltimore you're live on what on earth is happening welcome yeah mark I don't question your intentions your sincerity but I do have a problem with your idealized interpretation of the American War of Independence which really was a civil war and not a popular revolution and it was under to mystical II undertaken on the basis of securing support from other empires including the Empire of Spain the kingdom of France the Dutch Republic under the house of orange and Frederick the Great of Prussia both for against the British have explained those explained those reasons it is because the revolutionaries would not have had the ability on their own to be back a full invasion by the British of course they went to other ruling elites in England and made deals with them to get the support that they needed otherwise they would have been crushed you know they went to other ruling elites to fight against the crown by promising certain things to get the the resources reserves an actual physical men that they would need to command in order to to have any fighting chance you know III don't think that that means that their their intentions were necessarily bad I think it's they did what they felt had to be done in order to have any fighting chance whatsoever without coming in and being crushed with a swift stroke you know in the narrowest invasion they were in the middle of a world war and and to credit the cleverness and the brilliance of colonial diplomats like Franklin and John Jay were able to exploit and take advantage of this world war in order to get these other empires to gang up on the British and especially French money French troops and the French Navy which was pretty much completely responsible for the victory at Yorktown by bottling up the British so I mean this was strategically critical and this is the classical strategy of the enemy of my enemy is my friend of course they engaged in that I don't again I don't think that inherently makes them evil in any way or means that they themselves had any like motives to enslave the the American population well I think they were appropriately cold-blooded and cynical about it and that's how we should be when it comes to the Chinese Communists the Russian gangsters the Muslim

Brotherhood whatwhat about an other forces that exist out in the world what about the forces of communism and totalitarianism and fascism that artwork right here in the United States would I say we may find ourselves in a position of having to play them off against each other and we shouldn't have any illusions that somehow or other we're going to be able to adhere to some high-minded perfect principle it's going to be ruthless and it's going to be dirty now I and the problem you're pointing to is in the midst of all this blood and filth and betrayal and intrigue and subversion how do you maintain any integrity how do you maintain the honesty of your intentions this is the other thing either this is a revolution is ultimately failure all revolution if you let it get to the point where you need to do that is going to involve coming down a notch to go forward a notch so to speak so what were the failures of the American Revolution clearly they failed to abolish slavery right but you guys aren't out to be a disaster well there's a heavy first thing is in the signing of the Declaration of Independence they couldn't even get that through without making capitulations to the South to strike out the anti black slavery clauses that were included in the original dress that's one of the first things that was a failure that started I think that that moral failure paved the way for all of this coming back an encroachment of tyranny that's one thing another hair it is also the alter the question of the Native Americans and the limits of the frontier that they bring this land to begin with that it was already inhabited by people we didn't just Co inhabit it we came in and conquered it that's another thing that is that can't be ignored of course aren't the Indians weren't the Indians really losers in the revenue let me put it's like not all the but worth the charge that were aligned with the British which I think were the majority they really lost as a consequence of the American rule I agree and again in no way am I saying the American Founding Fathers were angels in any sense nor should my words be construed to be interpreted as such okay they were not fully enlightened they did not go all the way toward the truth in understanding high levels of how natural law operates nor did they understand the fundamental Unified Field aspect of reality of oneness from a deeper spiritual perspective they were not in non-duality they were still in certain levels of dualistic mind state in their mind and in their behaviors so they weren't perfect they were as good as what we had available at that time period in human history what I'm saying is we need to go far farther than what the Founding Fathers did to create the pocket or the level of the maintaining of freedom that they were able to accomplish by no means was it perfect that in many ways it was a failure because we won't be talking about the need for a possible second revolution if it was successful we would be truly free and really you know engaged in our natural inherent rights without usurpations on those rights and that isn't what occurred so ultimately when it gets to a point where it has to be done like this you have to recognize you've already not be doing the real great work of changing consciousness enough you didn't have enough people to get on board with that work and that effort and if you want that chance to be able to happen sometime in the distant future you're going to have to physically beat back the attack of aggression and violence that is actively being done to you because you weren't getting it done in consciousness all along the founders a major failure is that they did not properly put the the country I don't want to use the controls they did not properly put the force of philosophy into place in the re-education of the the public that was living here in the colonies and then in the States after the American Revolution they did not help to help those other people out of their lower mind state and consciousness and to get up to their level and to even go beyond it they did not do that enough they still took it upon themselves as well we're just gonna accomplish this physical task and things will be okay because we'll have this breathing room but they didn't exercise enough force and put enough effort into the re-education of the populace after that physical act was was completed and accomplished that I think is their major failure and that brings us to the question of sovereignty right because who really has it you children have it do minors under the age of 18 have it do women have it women were not accorded the vote until 1920 all people displaced were the slaves sovereign people know they were property were the Indian sovereign not land they negotiated treaties as nations but every one of those treaties was torn up the only people who had sovereignty in the beginning were property owners right and it took it took it took several generations in reality all people are sovereign there is no such thing as a being that comes into this universe that's not sovereign we all need someone who's willing to fight for their freedom only someone who's willing to fight for their freedom and kill for it and die for it is sovereign in my view I would say they're the people who are deserving of the painting of that freedom without it without them having to understand the importance the value of it without at first being taken from them I still wouldn't say that inherently that means that they are no longer sovereign see this comes to the point and I think you've made some great points Russ I don't want to uh you know say that the points that you have made aren't really worthy of considering but I think we have to understand the difference between what is someone who is inherently sovereign and that sovereignty can never be really taken from them even if they claim that they're ok with being a slave and this III want to let you go because I want to read a line to people I want to read a quote to people about I'm sorry uh this isn't Russ this was Jane I'm sorry I apologize I'm gonna mute mute you up and you can continue to listen but I want to read a quote another quote by Samuel Adams that really speaks to this point okay and it's it's one of his lesser-known quotes in that he was writing in some of his letters let me bring it up here because I think it's extremely powerful and it's a quote that I think is underrated and people really haven't been exposed to very often and here it is quote it is the greatest absurdity to suppose it in the power of one or any number of men at the entering into society to renounce their essential natural rights or the means of preserving those rights when the grand end of civil government from the very nature of its institution is for the support protection and defense of those very rights the principle of which as is being observed as is before observed are life liberty and property if men through fear fraud or mistake should in terms renounce or give up an essential natural right the eternal law of reason and the grand the sieve of society would absolutely vacate such a renunciation the right of freedom being the gift of God Almighty it is not in the power of man to alienate this gift and voluntarily become a slave now if you really sit and break down each individual component of that particularly in the last sentence of it if men through fear fraud or mistake through fear through fraud having things done fraudulent fraudulently to them and being put through the wringer of mind control and mistake should in terms that means over time that's an older way of saying in terms means over time should they renounce or give up their essential natural rights meaning admit you have the authority to do this to me even though it doesn't exist in nature the right to do such a thing and I'm going to accept you as an authority and I'm going to accept that I have to obey your authority meaning that I am a slave okay it says that such a renunciation of rights would be absolutely vacated by the laws of nature in other words you can claim all you want that you're a slave just like they can claim all they want that they are masters but it will never be so it will never actually be such in nature see this is where the distinction that Richard brought up earlier about what people perceive versus what actually does exist in nature has to be made very clear there is no such thing in nature as masters and slaves it will has never existed and will never exist in a diseased psyche there has been a condition created on the earth through the disease of the psyche of the experience of the relationship between a master and a slave but know that that is only an experience that as is a result of a diseased psyche in nature itself those people who were that the commander's or the masters were not really commanders or masters they're playing that role they're being perceived as such if you were a completely objective observer that could somehow exist independently of this universe and look in on it you would see these are just people having an experience that they that this side claims is a master and this side claims that they are their slaves or their subjects or servants and in reality that's not so nothing in nature makes that arrangement such these are just choices to believe in certain completely unfounded and poisoned worldviews that have no bearing in truth or fact or principle and to latch onto those diseased ideas and accept them as being true when in fact they are in no way true that that distinction has to really be understood that they're in in nature there is no such thing as a master or a slave because in nature there is no such thing as the authority of one being over another does not exist if you think that that exists in nature you are delusional d lusion 'l doesn't exist never has existed never will exist because no such right exists in nature under the laws of creation there is no such right as a right to to command as a right to be an authority as a right to conduct violence against someone else and have the right to do so the right doesn't that right doesn't exist you're always committing a wrong in engaging in that behavior so what Adams is saying here is since freedom is a gift from God and it exists inherently in creation it can never be separated from man nor is it in man's power to separate it from himself you cannot in nature in reality say I'm a slave and you're my master it cannot be done since that is against inherent laws of creation you can only make the claim but it will never make it true nobody can entirely be a slave if you're you think you can do that and accept slavery you are wrong meaning you are existing within wrong you are not in harmony with cosmic spiritual laws of creation no one can voluntarily say I am a slave and make it be so you are always free you are always sovereign you always have been sovereign you are sovereign now and you will forever be sovereign meaning there is no one above you natural law is the only thing that you stand under and cannot supersede cannot stand above that's it that's the truth of creation for all time not because I said it do I happen to understand it yes I do many other people have understand it throughout time many people after me will understand it there is nothing special about me except perhaps for the fact that I've been able to come out of the mind control to such an extent to understand natural law to the extent that I do other people are still in that retarded dumbed-down mind state who can't see this clearly so let's go to another phone call here we go area code 905 you're live on what on earth is happening we only have a couple of minutes left what do you have for us hi if you have someone that's totally intent on doing violence won't listen to reason or anything yeah isn't the most loving thing you could do for them it's in the to block then from doing that violence by whatever means I would agree and that's where we're at that's the decision that we have to make are we going to continue to allow people who are conducting violence to just continue to do it unchecked and it's that or up or is that that won't that won't make safety you can't just once reasons being rejected you can't make safety by just letting the criminals carry on actually right see the way you stop it the way you do provide a level of insulation against that negative eventualities is you make sure from the time that the being is young that you amer the understanding of the laws of creation of how we create our experience into them this is why shamanic and indigenous tribal cultures do not have the rates of violence by any stretch of the imagination even per capita even by numbers of population that we do in the Western world or again throughout the world really they teach their children the laws of creation they teach their children inherent natural law rights from very young ages and they are not really permitted to refuse those or they get ostracized from the society

freedom mat that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening to what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches its critical moment of choice and now here is your host Marc Pascal [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening here on the Oracle broadcasting radio network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com the network's website Oracle broadcasting dot-com today is Sunday December 23rd 2012 we have a great show lined up for you here today this show is live every Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m. East Coast time that's 4 to 6 p.m. Central today on what on earth is happening we're going to be continuing to talk about the inherent natural right of self defense against violence something that is been coming under increasing attack in the media because of the tragic school shooting that just occurred in Connecticut and we cannot allow emotional mind control to be used against us as a technique of manipulation because when such tragic events occur automatically we're in reactive mode and we're not thinking clearly about what is one of our rights that usurpers want to get us to surrender to them so that they can gain more control over us and that's what this is actually all about whether it's an orchestrated event or whether it's something that just happened the dominators always are there to take advantage of the situation and to try to turn it into their favor that's what the dialectic is all about never let a good crisis go to waste as they say and that's what they're playing off of that emotion this is a technique of manipulation that I have referred to as heart control we hear a lot about mind control but not heart control which is playing off the emotions and that's exactly what that's about so we're going to be continuing to talk about this on the show today I have a few event announcements before we get into that topic first of course the free your mind to conference coming up here in the city of Philadelphia April 25th 26th and 27th here in Philadelphia and just an incredible lineup of speakers that we have planned for this year at the free your mind to conference a conference on consciousness mind control in the occults the location is the beautiful Arch Street January 13 2013 on American freedom radio calm hosted by Freeman and Frater x2 speakers from the conference and they'll be interviewing various speakers from the conference as guests on the radio marathon this is going to be taking place Sunday January 13th from noon to midnight Central Time that's I inaccurately reported that last week I said it was Eastern Time it's noon to midnight Central Time that's 1 p.m. to 1 a.m. Eastern Time ok and that this has been posted on both the what on earth is happening comm news section and the free your mind conference webpage and you can also take a look at the poster by clicking image number 2 underneath the radio show player on the water on earth is happening calm radio show page or with this podcast so the freer mind 2 conference Money bomb radio marathon Sunday January 13th noon to midnight central time on American freedom radio hosted by Freeman and Frey directs don't miss it use this opportunity to learn more about the upcoming conference and to help the effort of bringing in all of these out-of-town speakers by making a donation to the freer mind to event I will be speaking at the Y Tesla matters conference this is a Tesla memorial conference taking place on January 5th 6th and 7th 2013 at The New Yorker Hotel 481 8th Street New York New York I'll be speaking on Sunday January 6th and this is going to be a great conference about Tesla's legacy it is being held on the anniversary of his death Tesla passed on January 7th 1943 so I'll be speaking Sunday January 6th for more information on this great conference hosted by the Tesla Science Foundation please visit Tesla Science Foundation dot o-r-g the free monthly documentary screening and discussion night hosted by truth freedom prosperity will take place this Thursday December 27th here in Philadelphia at a seen food market and cafe at 7:19 South fourth Street the free documentary screening is hosted by TF P always take place on the last Thursday of every month at a scene food market this month's film for December 27th will be innocence betrayed a documentary by Claire wolf which demonstrates how gun control has been historically used to disarm citizens and make them helpless before governments commit genocide dramatically covers major genocides in the Soviet Union Germany Uganda Rwanda China Turkey and other countries it shows how gun control in the United States has been used to victimize minority groups and erode civil liberties I could not agree more and that this is very synchronistic that I chose this film on December 13th the night before the tragic shooting in Connecticut so very synchronistic timing happening there because I've been hammering on this whole topic of the inherent right to defend oneself against violence which more people need to understand as an inherent natural right and just amazing that an event like this would pop up into the world just as I'm covering these such topics synchronistic to be sure okay I was interviewed as the featured activist at the last truth freedom prosperity live event TFP live hosted by Mike savvy and true freedom prosperity this happened on the big Mayan calendar end date of December 21st 2012 a couple of days ago on Friday and you know while the entire event was a non-event we reached a lot of not the TFP live event the Mayan calendar nd which you know I fully expected that that day itself would not really cataclysmic or catastrophic to the world like I said the whole 2012 prophecy in general I've always seen as a window of opportunity to elevate consciousness and get ourselves out of this situation of slavery that we exist in here on earth or to reject truth and go into an even worse place than we're already at it's a window of opportunity it is a it is a choice point in time that doesn't exist on one day but it's a period of time okay so while nothing occurred worldwide on the famed Mayan calendar end date we did get a lot of good information out to people that came out to TFP live so I'll be putting the video of the interview up on my website shortly but in the meantime if you go to TFP live.com you can see that on that website as part of the mics alvey's world website TFP live is a subsection within there but you can reach the TFP live section of mike's alvey's world by just visiting TFP live.com and the first video that's posted there right now is a video of the past TFP live that just took place this Friday where I was interviewed you'll have to skip ahead at least an hour or so to get to my interview but it is it is in there so I think Mike said that he was going to be making a clip diversion with just my interview so I'll be posting that to the website when he gets that over to me the ad-free chip in for the what on earth is happening radio show to keep the show commercial free during the two hours that it is on the air currently stands at $700 thank you so much to everyone who is donated to this effort you guys have been doing a great job continue the good work and we need to raise only 300 more by January 31st to keep the show ad free through February March and April also on the website you'll see a general support donation button if people have found the work I've been doing valuable and I feel that they want to make a voluntary contribution to help me continue this work please feel free to click on the general support donation button and make a contribution okay that having been said let's get into the topic here today what I want to do at the top of the show is give the calling number for the show because I want to have people in the queue because I'm going to be taking calls during the second hour so the call-in number for the show is 8 6 6 8 4 1 1 0 6 5 once again the calling number eight six six eight four one one zero six five the toll-free number to join us we are talking about we are continuing to talk about the inherent right of self-defense and how this has a long history especially in the United States this is something that the founders of the United States wanted people to deeply understand and they wanted them never to lose sight of it they wanted them to grasp this concept fully to grasp the understanding of this inherent right fully and last week you know I said we were going to review some of the things about natural law like force versus violence and the Second Amendment I didn't really get into that to the extent that I wanted to because I kind of went off on a tangent about all of the people who are calling for gun grabs at this time in a completely emotionally driven mind state in which they're not really thinking clearly and they're just listening to the suggestions of the state that is always going to propose the the solution quote-unquote to any problem any given problem or set of problems that leads to the greater amount of control over the populace for the state of course but there's a language barrier in place and another thing we have to really keep sight of is when we're talking about our inherent rights we can't get caught in semantics and start splitting hairs we need just speak very plainly and clearly about right versus wrong that's all this is ultimately about ladies and gentlemen and anybody that's claiming that they have a right to disarm somebody and make them a helpless victim is wrong period the end that's all you really need to understand about gun rights or gun control that gun control is people control it's not about guns it's about control and if you take away someone's right to defend themselves you're leaving them as a helpless victim that really has no option to do anything except lay down and beg for mercy guns are an equalizing force in society and again I am someone who advocates 100% fully the non-aggression principle I'm telling people violence is the entire problem of the world that there should not be violence that anybody who's conducting violence is in the moral wrong and should be dealt with that's what I've been telling people you know we don't have a right ever to use violence so I don't know where people come off with the idea that somehow gun ownership is connected with violence that's a state of mind that exists in each individual it has nothing to do with the ownership of a gun people will acquire a gun for many different purposes those who really understand what guns are for the their primary usage as opposed to their ancillary usages which I did talk a bit on last week the primary usage of gun of any gun is for defense of freedom when tyranny is encroaching that's the primary use of a gun to keep your freedom and the ancillary or supportive usages of guns or yes for protection on the street when walking in open territory against maybe just the average citizen psychopath okay not the government psychopaths and then the other secondary reason is for defense within your home against the average citizen psychopath but that doesn't mean that those are the primary usages again those are ancillary usages the primary usage of any arms is for the defense of your freedom when a psychopath calling themselves a group of psychopaths calling themselves government are coming to take your freedom away when they have no right to do so that's what guns are for and people say well what do you need a battle rifle in your house for why because the government has them that's the answer plain and simply the answer of why anybody needs battle rifles is because the government has battle rifles okay if you don't understand that you're a naive fool that if they have better weaponry than you there's going to be tyranny and they do that's why there is tyranny now and to give up more defensive use defensive capability through giving up guns is just plain stupid and it means you don't understand your rights you don't understand the primary usages of guns and you certainly don't understand the principle of self-defense when violence is being conducted against you I tell people I am 100% for peace I am peace filled I am filled with the spirit of peace because I live my life in the non-aggression principle of being I do not ingress against other people's free will I am NOT a Dominator I don't tell people what they can and cannot do so long as they are not hurting me or anyone else once you initiate force coercive force that's violence initiation of coercive force that's called violence no one has that right I am for non-violence does that mean I am a pacifist absolutely not I think pacifism is a totally loathsome ideology the is also morally wrong now how could I just make the statement

I'm totally for peace and considered that I am filled with the spirit of peace and yet I consider the ideology of pacifism loathsome and morally wrong well very simply pacifism is different than non-violence pacifism is different than the non-aggression principle combined hand-in-hand with the self-defense principle pacifism is the ideology is an a right brained imbalanced ideology chronic right brain imbalance is where the ideology of pacifism comes from and notice I do not call it a philosophy because it is not the love of wisdom a pacifist doesn't have any wisdom a pacifist is self-loathing because they will sit and take violence when it is being done to them and not respond with defensive use of force even if they tell the person you have no right to do this you can give them that chance to back off you don't have this right I don't wish this to be happening to me you're hurting me stop I'll even go so far as to say try that first sure but if they don't stop and you sit there and continue to take abuse ultimately at some level of consciousness that means you hate yourself quite simply quite plainly you have to have self-loathing within you to continue to act that way you have to believe somehow that that person has the right to continue what they are doing and I find that morally wrong I think that's not a right to sit there and not defend the self even if it is just the lowercase s self because by doing a disservice to that lowercase s self by letting people usurp your natural rights in this world do violence against the body when you don't wish it being done you're ultimately doing disservice to the higher self the true self the soul and the spirit if you will and I don't see anything right in that this is why we need to understand both the non-aggression principle and the principle or the inherent right that exists in nature to defend oneself against violence so we talked about the Second Amendment and how the people who founded this country and attempted attempted to put this understanding into the populace we're very unambiguous about it people think oh there's all these interpretations and reading into quote-unquote reading into the Second Amendment there is no reading into the Second Amendment ladies and gentlemen if you think there's reading into it you don't know what you're talking about there is no interpretation of it now not to say that this is somehow God's Word or anything like that it's not the law of nature it's not natural law it's not cosmic spiritual law it's common sense is what it is pure and simple and instead of trying to read into it and interpret it I have you know put forward the radically crazy notion that maybe we should just go to the words of the people who actually wrote it wouldn't that be something if you want to know what they meant why not ask the people who wrote it why not look at their writings and they were totally completely unambiguous about what they meant by it see it's a mind control tactic to tell people while it's open to interpretation no it's not open to interpretation you're wrong you not your wrong and stupid if that's what you think the second amendment is not open to interpretation very specific clear clear unambiguous concepts were laid down in that that the founders of this country intended and we're not ambiguous about in the slightest bit and their words will tell you how they were not ambiguous about it the problem is there's a language barrier here's where the the complications of human language come into play because they spoke a little bit differently in their colloquial form of language meaning that the the way that they spoke language on a day-to-day basis everyday colloquial usage of language and they wrote the same way people tend to write how they speak colloquially therefore there's this language barrier and people say well it was English then it's English now that is true but colloquial English is not the same today as it was in the late 1700s the herein lies the problem they they had different sentence structure and grammatical constructs in general they they used words in a different structure than we use them today yes they have the same words because it's the same English language but again the colloquial usage and the way that they wrote is slightly different than the way we speak and write today and therefore because of this divide in language from colonial English and early American English up through modern English we believe that erroneously believed many many people today that there is somehow a way that the Second Amendment can be interpreted through modern language and through misunderstandings of their form of colloquial English and therefore somehow it can be interpreted completely different than as the founders intended the actual writers of the second amendment as well intended it so I made this slide a few week weeks back to help people understand the difference how the second amendment appears in the Constitution as it was written by James Madison and George Mason it said quote a well-regulated militia comma being necessary to the security of a free State comma the right of the people to keep and bear arms comma shall not be infringed period and because of the sentence structure and the usages of commas in there in the way that it is is stated people feel that that somehow open to interpretation I've tried to explain to people that we might write this amendment slightly different in modern colloquial English if we were to write it today we might say quote since a well-regulated militia is necessary to the security of a free State comma the right of the people to keep and bear Arms shall not be infringed period end quote it becomes much less ambiguous if we write it in modern colloquial English people can make the connection because of the way it's written that the well-regulated militia that is being talked about is indeed the people because if it wasn't why would you say then the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed see these two these two phrases cannot be separated from each other and taken out of context they're together so then you have to understand well then what is meant by the militia what did the founders the writers of the second amendment actually mean by the militia and people think that that they can read their own interpretation into this I swear if I hear another moron saying that the word militia meant colonial militias back around the time that the Constitution was written the they're imbeciles they're complete morons that's not what the word militia meant it doesn't didn't mean that then and it doesn't mean that today and they think because the state militia in whatever state happened to have been dissolved the official state militia was dissolved in the past that means the militia doesn't exist anymore and again they're wrong they have no long view of history they don't understand anything that the founders of this country were trying to him to embed into people's mind and they warned them over and over and over don't let these ideas be lost understand them well and we didn't heed their words and that's why you have a bunch of socialist educated idiots out there today who actually believe the crap that they're taught in the indoctrination system called public schooling that there's somehow interpretation that can be applied to the Second Amendment when there is no such thing the word militia was very very very clearly defined by Wow magically the people who wrote the Second Amendment imagine that that you need to go no further than the people who actually wrote it George Mason James Madison and they would be all too happy to tell you and did tell you and did leave it to posterity in their writings what was the militia when I quoted I had a quote and it's also up this week on the image section image number five by James Madison co-author of the Second Amendment what is the militia it is the whole people which is why the phrase that follows since a well-regulated militia is necessary to the security of a free State comma the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed it's because the militia is all of the people that's simply what it it is all people that are capable of brandishing arms that's it of using arms for their self-defense that is who the militia is and if you think that it's not you're wrong that's it you're incorrect that is what it actually is it is not some sub entity of government it is not some paramilitary group it is the people that's it you are the militia if you can pick up a weapon aim it fire it you're the militia surprise most people don't know that because they've been lied to and misled and told it this is something that existed two hundred and some-odd years ago and it doesn't exist today wrong you're incorrect that's a lie that's a deliberate obfuscation or quite frankly just a lie George Mason the one of the people who wrote the Second Amendment said what is the militia it is the whole people to disarm the people is the best and most effectual way to enslave them to disarm the people is the best and most effectual way to enslave them ladies and gentlemen I want to know if anyone can call in and and propose how you could be more unambiguous please make a suggestion to me because I can't see how it could possibly be less ambiguous there's no statement that is less ambiguous than that that's about as unambiguous as it gets you cannot confuse that meaning with that statement what is the militia it is the whole people and if you take arms away from the people you're going to end up with an enslaved populace and if you want to see from a long historical point of view how that process has traditionally come about and only in really modern examples I mean you can go back even farther into the ancient world and see any time that a tyranny was coming in they tried to take away whatever arms were available to the people of that day this has been going on for thousands of years the same tactic you want to impress people and make them your slaves well they can't have weapons to defend themselves against your aggression your violence it only makes common sense which is unfortunately what morons who've been indoctrinated don't have because their state worshippers they are the worshipers of violence they don't understand the state is violence then it's not free will its violence it's the initiation of coercive force against free will that's what government is there's only two kind of people you either believe in the non-aggression principle and a truly free society in which there are no rulers and there are no master/slave relationships or you are what I now call I don't even like the term status I want to call the people who believe in the violence ideology it's not a principle it's not a philosophy it's an ideology those who believe in the right to violence okay the violence ideology the erroneous violence ideology okay I want to start calling them Arcanist s-- because that's what they really are there's anarchists and there's Arcanist s-- and i think that really explains the dichotomy even better than saying statist s-- because most people don't even grasp what that is and i understand while you're using an even less used word an arc honest what what what the hell is that most people will say but see it makes that distinction in the the etymological root of the language of the word the word Archon is where we get the word anarchie are arkhan means ruler master master over a slave a ruler over a subject that's what Archon means in Greek I mean you don't even take my word for it get a Greek dictionary go look up Greek translations online type in the word Archon a r CH o n it means master or ruler meaning one who has slaves or subjects and an anarchist is one that inherently rejects a master/slave relationship it does not mean chaos anybody that thinks that you don't know the meaning of the word you've been conditioned through mind control tactics of repetition and obfuscation repeating the same thing the repeating the same lie over and over again anarchy means chaos anarchy means chaos no it does not that's just the rep the repetitive lie you've been fed since the day you were born to get you to accept a totally contradictory definition of a term when that word absolutely has nothing to do with chaos Anarchy does not equal chaos Anarchy equals the absence of masters or rulers the word anarchy comes from Greek the prefix a or an in Greek means the absence of or the negation of and again don't take my word look it up if you tack on a or an in front of a word in Greek it therefore makes its negative or its opposite or meaning the absence of in other words this thing not being present the second part of the word anarchy comes from the Greek word Archon which I just told you meant master or ruler so if you put them together an Archon anarchie means the state of their being the absence of mass there is no master/slave relationship because there is no master there is no ruler it doesn't mean no rules there are always rules present in nature natural law the cosmic spiritual laws of creation that govern the consequences of behavior are always in place and can never be escaped you can never be free of that law you are a subject to that because you are in the universe you are a subject of moral law that is the only master that there is we have chaos because we're breaking that law which is about morality and not committing violence against others not usurping other's rights that's why we have chaos if we had true anarchy no one would believe in the inherent right of a master to own a slave or a subject they would reject that outright because they would understand all anarchy is is the condition where there are no masters present now if you write on a piece of paper and you do a sociological experiment with somebody who's not very aware and hasn't studied language and hasn't studied history and isn't truly awake you know break down on a piece of paper no masters no rulers do this actually do this don't just listen to me say it when the show is over go and take a piece of paper find a person who's asleep I'm sure there's you know that's an easy thing to do regardless of where you're at there's tons of them around ok write down on a piece of paper no masters comma no rulers and ask the person flip that piece of paper over and write the first word that comes to your mind word association first word that pops into your head that comes to mind when you read this phrase can only be one word and I will almost guarantee you 99.999% of people there might be one statistical anomaly here or there but I guarantee you almost 100% of people are going to write down the word freedom almost 100% and you just handed them a piece of paper with the definition of the word anarchy on it that is the definition of the word anarchy no masters no rulers and they'll tell you that it means freedom very quickly they'll write it down I will guarantee it you want to know why I can guarantee it I've done it many times and invariably not one person I've ever done it with has written down any other word except freedom on the back of that paper 100% of the time I've ever done this experiment with human beings they have written down the word freedom on the back of that piece of paper and what they don't understand is they just wrote down the word freedom as being equivalent to the word anarchy but-but-but here's the but this is how you know they're under mind control you give them a piece of paper with the word Anarchy written on it and again I'll give you a statistical average probably I would say 99.5 percent are going to write down the word chaos and again I've done this and I have gotten occasionally a different response when you write down anarchy and you say you can only respond with one word that's the key no phrase is no sentences don't try to write a definition down it's a word association game anarchy and then give me the word that first pops into your head and 99.5 percent are gonna write down the word chaos guaranteed again do it I'd like to hear people how about this here's a great here's a great social experiment how about next week we open up the phone lines for everybody who has done this social experiment and you give me your results you report your results on the air and tell me about the people's reactions when you tried to educate them about what the word really means because they have been conditioned and brainwashed into thinking that the state of no rulers and no masters called anarchy means chaos because that's exactly what our cons want you to think it means a master or a ruler wants his subjects to think there would be chaos if he wasn't ruling them anymore that's why they put this word obfuscation into the mindset of the people and contrived to convince them to believe that's anarchy look at that bad behavior that's anarchy no that's called violence violence is not anarchy violence is when there is this erroneous belief of authority and therefore you have rulership over somebody which is the coercion of their free will which is the definition of violence so I propose we start using the term arcanists which has much less ambiguity than the term statist because then you have to get into the whole concept of are you you know does the person even understand that the state is violence but that's the definition of what statism is and most of them don't understand that maybe we can get them to a better understanding of just the claim of rulership over them as a subject and a slave if we use start using the term archons Archon are you an arc honest or an anarchist there's no in-between either you believe that we have inherent either you know that we have inherent sovereignty that we are not the subjects or slaves of any other man woman or group of men and women or you advocate the violence ideology at some degree or another there is no in-between folks there's no real gradations of government either you're an anarchist or you are a narc honest either you know that we're already inherently free and sovereign and you don't and you advocate the non-aggression principle of non-violence or you are a narc honest that advocates violence and the erroneous notion of the authority in man and some some subset of humanity's right to rule and the vast bulk of humanity having some sort of a moral obligation to obey their commands that's Archon ISM otherwise known as statism there's really no in-between all it is is shades of violence you could call it that but you're still advocating violence and that's for men artists constitutionalists and otherwise if you advocate government you advocate violence because they're equivalent government is violence it's the claim of authority and other people being your subject under your jurisdiction you're their master you can dictate arbitrary commands called laws and other people have a moral obligation obligation to obey it and if you think that you're wrong you are wrong you are advocating wrong Nest's wrongdoing that's why you're incorrect see this when you're incorrect it leads to violence it leads to wrongdoing that's why it's important to understand the difference between right and wrong and the difference between truth and falsehood because when we believe in falsehoods like Authority invariably wrong is going to be done because we've accepted that into our worldview that's why we have to be right or correct we have to know the truth not believe in anything know the truth again for people who happen to come at this even from a religious perspective and I gave a quote from Jesus about last week from the New Testament the book of Matthew how he didn't come to bring peace he came to stir things up here because this world needs stirring up and to turn people against each other actually those who were for the truth and those who were for the violence ideology and again that doesn't mean that I accept Jesus as this historical figure I understand Ostrow theology you know people write and say oh you do understand you know Jesus was a you know a fiction it doesn't matter folks I get the philosophy of the words that's what's important you want to split hairs about whether somebody existed or not and that's what you want to make your whole you know energy spent toward go ahead I think that's useless if there's wisdom in something then I'm going to follow it I'm gonna put my energy behind that I follow where the truth leads that's the only thing I follow I'm not a follower except of the truth I don't follow anything that goes on in this world I follow the truth which exists inherently and independently of anything that's going on in this world the truth is simply that which is it doesn't change things that take place in this world this is the place of all change but that doesn't mean we can't understand truth and put it into practice in our lives it means it's not inherent to physical circumstances or conditions here it exists completely independently it exists inherently in and of itself regardless of what happens taking place so that's the force I follow the force of truth which leads to the expansion of consciousness which is love that's why truth comes first in the equation truth love freedom the true great work the threefold great work the three-in-one truth has to come first because your actions have to be based on correctness rightness you have to understand what natural law is and get it right and then base your actions on that then you're acting in harmony with truth then that is the expression of love to actually do that work is the expression of love that put it into action that's doing the will capital W and then the expression or the result will be freedom true freedom capital F it's a progression you can't take it out of order just like you can't take the Trivium out of order you can't take the great work steps out of order truth love freedom love doesn't come first truth comes first the acceptance of truth is the expression of love and then the manifestation is freedom so going back to the concept that either you're an anarchist or a Arcanist either you accept the non-aggression principle and sovereignty or you believe in master slave relationships and violence to keep it that way there is no in-between get out of the head cage folks of thinking that there are gradations when it comes to this there's not it's all one way the truth is all one way it's extremity people will say mark you're an extremist yes I'm an extremist because the truth is extreme you need to get out of all of the mind control if you're still believing any amount of government you're under mind control you're still in the head cage to a degree you may be in less of it if you believe in menarchy or you know constitutional republic then people who advocate you know socialism or communism or fascism or other forms of oppressive government regimes but you're still in the head cage you're still under mind control go all the way folks this is why I keep repeating the the phrase of wisdom given by the Buddha said Arthur got Siddhartha Gautama and again whether you believe this is a physical historical being or not that's not relevant here again I get what asteroid theology is I talked about it enough on my show I think I understand it pretty extensively actually we're not splitting hairs we're talking about the the wisdom the idea here the philosophy he said there's only two mistakes you can make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way for those who are already on the path don't make the mistake of stopping and setting up your tent halfway up the mountain go all the way to the peak all the way to the summit you'll get a better view from up there trust me don't trust me just do it actually just go all the way you'll see the truth as it really is the world as it really is from that peak that summit so again all of these statist s-- these are conness these ones who want to advocate the continuation of master/slave relationships basically they are advocating slavery if you advocate for the continuance of government you are an advocate of human slavery this is what people don't understand and they want to say that's an extreme point of view it is absolutely a an extreme point of view it's a point of view from having gone all away in consciousness not looking at it from a distorted lens of mind control go all the way to get out of the mind control and you will understand all government is inherently illegitimate because it is based in violence is there a right to conduct violence no there is not so all forms of government are inherently illegitimate when it comes to moral law the right to rule does not exist in nature the moral obligation to obey a ruler and their arbitrary dictates does not exist in nature no one has that moral obligation you have only a moral obligation to follow the moral law to follow conscience common sense of what is right because it does not cause harm to another and what is wrong because it does cause harm to another that's what you have a moral obligation to obey and again that means that those are the rules natural law is the rules cosmic spiritual law they're always the rules they're always in place anarchy is not the absence of rules anarchy is the absence of rulers understand the distinction it means there are no masters and no slaves here we don't have that state that's why we have slavery because we don't have anarchy externally again we can flip it over and look at the internal world within a person that's where there needs to be rulership that's where you need to be the Archon within not externally without trying to rule someone else you need to rule the kingdom of the self the kingdom of one that's what you need to rule we need seven billion monarchies mon one arkon ruler mon Arcon from greek roots meaning one ruler well if there's one ruler internally you are ruling your own house you are ruling your own kingdom that exists within you you are ruling your consciousness you are ruling your thoughts your emotions your actions it's called self control the only form of control that is real one ruler that's the kind of Archon I want to see self archons not archons who are trying to control others that's external Archon Archon ISM okay internal being the internal Archon means you are a self ruler you govern the self which is the only form of governing of control that is real self control meaning you control your thoughts your emotions and actions such that you live in the non-aggression principle do not commit initiatory violence initiatory force against others without the right to do so you never have the right to initiate force against others do you have a right to defend to use violence once to use force once violence has been conducted against you yes you do that's retaliatory defensive retaliatory you are responding to something that has already been conducted against you see when again when someone tries to take someone's right to walk on accosted on the street and keep their property hey I have my wallet in my pocket that's my property whatever is in there is my property I'm walking down the street my body is my property I have the inherent right to keep that property safe and protected and not have it be accosted and put under threat and jeopardy by another person who is going to initiate violence against my will if I respond to that act of violence when someone comes up holds a weapon up to me and says give me your wallet and I respond to it by taking the gun out of my other pocket and putting a bullet through their head I did not just commit any violence folks that's what you have to understand defensive force was used but that is not violence I picked this up on the other side of the station break we'll be right back you're listening - what on earth is happening don't go anywhere [Music] [Applause] [Music] okay we're back this is what on earth is happening on your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're talking about the inherent right to defend oneself against violence and how that should never be even attempted to be taken away from anybody here on the show today I ended the last part of the show by talking about if you respond to violence with force that's an inherent right you don't have to make that choice you can make a different choice you could sit there and take it you could ask the person to stop but we have to understand that the right is still there to respond with force if that's what we choose to do because the person has no right to continue to commit that act and the one who doesn't wish it to continue because they're being harmed by it has a right to put that act down by whatever amount of force is necessary to put it down up to an including deadly force so I had a couple of quotes by Samuel Adams that I read last week and I want to repeat one of them and break it down a little bit more and then we're gonna go to the phones Samuel Adams of course is who I quoted for this year's for your mind to conference I'm sorry next year technically you know it's going to be 2012 and about a week week in two days this year flew by it does really seem that time is accelerating but the quote that I put as the tagline for the free your mind conference next year was by Samuel Adams and he said that the natural Liberty of man is to be free from any superior power on earth and not to be under the will or legislative authority of man but only to have the law of nature or his rule so this expresses anarchy perfectly there's no superior power over man on the earth a subset of man does not constitute a superior power some supernatural entity that has hold sway over over man and that man has some sort of obligation to obey the natural Liberty of man is not to be under the will or legislative authority of man but only to have the law of nature for his rule again no rulers no masters but it doesn't mean no rules it means you will still have the law of nature for your rule you will still be ruled by that force and it's that those boundary conditions called the laws of nature cosmic spiritual law which ultimately governs the conduct of our behavior the consequences of our behavior is there as boundary conditions in the universe they it exists we are bound by it as long as we are in the universe this is what this is the ultimate lesson that needs to be learned if we're ever going to have a chance at real freedom and people will say well it's not real freedom if you can't break that without consequence wrong wrong it is real freedom because you no one has the freedom inherently to conduct violence against someone else and that's really all natural law the parameters of natural law are saying you don't have a right to commit violence you don't have a right to commit wrongdoing you only have rights to enact that which is one of your rights that's why it's called a right you have a right to do that which is right not to do that which is wrong otherwise it would be called a wrong you don't have wrongs wrongs are done to you or by you you have rights which means there are actions that are under your control that you can do that don't cause harm and that's called a right and this is what people need to understand quite simply the distinction the objective difference definitive and objective meaning it's not open to interpretation it's not open to a like or a dislike or a whim or a preference it exists inherently in nature a right exists inherently in nature a right exists inherently in nature by definition it is an action that does not cause harm to another being period that's it if you are coming with coercive force that's causing harm that's usurping rights and you have no right to do it Samuel Adams another quote I want to break down is he said quote the liberties of our country the freedoms of our civil Constitution are worth defending at all hazards again the right to defend freedom it is our duty to defend them against all attacks we have received them as a fair inheritance from our worthy ancestors they purchased them for us with toil and danger and expense of treasure and blood it will bring a mark of everlasting infamy on the present generation enlightened as it is if we should suffer them to be rested from us by violence without a struggle by violence without a struggle or to be cheated out of them by the artifices of designing men manipulation trickery that's what artifice means and that's what we're allowing to happen through emotional mind control heart control as I call it whipping people's emotions up into a frenzy as a result of a chaotic event and then jumping in and taking advantage of that situation by telling them the only way you can solve this problem and be safe is to give up your rights and that's what Adams here is calling being cheated out of our rights by the artifice of designing men and it will bring a mark of everlasting infamy upon this generation should we allow that to occur the founders of this country did their best to make sure that wouldn't occur by telling people about their inherent right for self defense and putting it down in a document that would hopefully get people's attention to look at what they meant by it study it deeper and understand it in a deeper way and unfortunately again you have idiots out there idiots out there I'm not gonna be nice about it if you don't understand that the right to own keep and bear and use arms of any kind is your inherent natural right to defend yourself you're an idiot I don't need to be nice about it I don't want to be nice about it there's no there's there you shouldn't be nice about this to people how about that how about we go that far and say anybody who thinks that shouldn't be treated nicely you don't deserve to be treated look nicely because you are advocating violence you are advocating that someone else may come and take away my right to defend myself and again yes I'm angry about it if you're a new-age idiot who thinks that should never be a time to get angry about anything please turn the show off and go listen to some guru a chanting or meditating in some ashram somewhere and go wait for the the modern-day Nazis and the modern-day communists to come and take your weapons away from you or just take your rights if you don't have weapons but if that's your definition of what you should do then I say your self-loathing you ultimately hate yourself at some level that's why this is all taking place anyway folks let's just get right down to it and be honest about it the reason all of this problem that humanity is going through right now is humanity doesn't have enough self-love ultimately people hate themselves we have so much self-loathing and people say oh no that's not it people are too much in ego yeah well being rooted in the ego is self-loathing ultimately if you don't understand the true self if you haven't expanded your awareness to understand the true self you ultimately hate yourself you can't possibly love yourself because that expanded awareness is true self love and true self respect it's taking another look at who you really are as opposed to who you think you are have been told that you are from the day you popped out of the womb the people who will sit and take punishment and abuse and not do anything in the physical domain ultimately our self-loathing individuals who will not stand up for their rights and you know what historically that's what most people are because the state constantly teaches people you're less then you're less then there's all this stuff that's greater than you you're so less than this you're so less than that you're less than us we have a right to control you you have the moral obligation to obey us your little you're powerless you're small they keep hammering and reinforcing these notions when the reality is we are everything we are ultimately all-powerful when we stand up stand in truth stand in righteousness say no to violence say no to evil and exercise our rights then nothing can stop us the full force of the universe is behind us is at our back be bold and mighty forces will come to your aid as jack blood says those forces inherent in the universe will have our back if we are bold and and in truth and stand-in right and this is what Samuel Adams was trying to impress upon people our inherent rights are worth defending in the physical domain with physical force if necessary when violence is being done and if we should suffer them to be rested from us to be taken away from us by violence without a struggle that is a mark of everlasting infamy this was a person who was actually enlightened he understood the spiritual is not different than the physical is not separate that's where the dualism comes from in thinking that spirituality is somehow operating on some different plane or domain than the physical this is the spiritual domain ladies and gentlemen you're in the spiritual domain this is a holographic construct in case you haven't figured that out or you're not up to speed on modern quantum physics they have proven it not not put forward a theory or a notion it is proven experimentally in carefully controlled conditions that there is no solidity to physical matter your existing in a spiritual quantum hologram that is a unified field of energy that reacts to the consciousness that we are actually generating that is expressing through us and then moving out into the field of energy and expressing as the physical events that take place around us in our society that's true it's not a theory so that a lot of the founders of this country were simply theists they believed in a spiritual reality but they didn't place any importance they weren't they didn't place the spiritual in a superiority to the physical nor did they put Northern where they met here ulis they didn't place materialism in superiority to the spiritual they understood that there needed to be these two seemingly opposite or seemingly polar polarized domains were in fact one in the same and they brought them together that's why they understood to allow your rights to be usurped and taken at the point of the threat of physical violence or the conducting of physical violence is really an insult to the soul it's an insult to the spirit because what happens here is the expression of spirit of the spiritual domain quote unquote if you will again these domains are not separate they are one in the same he understood the difference between force and violence force as we've defined it the capacity to do work or cause physical change violence is the immoral usage or the abuse of physical power and it is when it is used to coerce or compel someone to do something they don't wish to be done or to do to be done to them or to do so violence is the initiation of coercive action you're taking freewill away it's theft again all forms of wrong are ultimately theft you are taking something that doesn't belong to you someone else's rights to act as they will so long as they are harming no one else violence is always in opposition to morality always in opposition to natural law it involves the violation of other others rights all the time and no one ever possesses a right to conduct violence but if violence is conducted without right as it always is without right inherently there exists a right to defend oneself against that action we always have a right to respond to violence with defensive use of force always that is always present it is inherent in nature and it can never be taken away by man force is always an action that exists in harmony with natural law because you're not violating the rights of others you're responding to an action which has already violated your rights therefore to put that action down through physical force you're not violating the other person's right to remain unharmed they've just forfeited it by taking the violent action so let's just look at a simple example of theft someone on the street we're walking in open territory turns to me with an with a gun or a knife and says give me your property doesn't matter what it is give me your shoes your shirt your coat your wallet your handbag it doesn't make a difference if it happens to be a female walking down the street with her purse okay the person who is initiating this violent action has no right to do it no one has any right to do that that's their property they're using it and you don't have any right to it you have no claim of ownership on that and yet you're telling them either give it to me or I'm threatening you with physical force with physical violence I'm sorry I'm threatening you with violence I'm gonna conduct violence if you don't do what I say that's coercion of the will coercive action and threat has been initiated that is violence that person has just in doing that behavior forfeited their inherent right to remain unharmed they have a right to remain unharmed but not when they're conducting violence then someone else's inherent right to self-defense Trump's their inherent right to remain unharmed the person who's on the receiving end of the violence has an inherent right to put the violence down so that they may remain unharmed so if let's say for example the woman who's been accosted and the person who's demanded their purse okay she takes out a pistol shoots the person right in the head and they're dead it's hard for people to understand but that was a right action she possessed the right to do it and she acted did it kill someone yes it did did she have the right to kill that person yes she did and again this is so antithetical to the brainwashing of the New Age movement that they want to convince you there's never a time that you can ever rightly exercise force because they this is a controlled opposition movement ladies and gentlemen the New Age movement to try to get people to stand down and not stand in truth and stand and right and defend their rights that's what it is that's why it's out there so prevalently and they'll never talk about this they'll never talk about it because they're frauds that's why frauds who want to believe that the world is all peaceful and harmonious and ascending to a higher level of consciousness yeah in unimaginably molasses low rate maybe because some people are waking up to the real truth not the New Age bullshit that's out there that somehow you don't have a right to defend yourself against violence just because or that you don't have a right to defend yourself against violence just because it's calling itself government your master but then they'll never talk about that No we need to understand that when violence is conducted against us we have a right to defend ourselves with force up to and including the deadly use of force when a government comes to take your rights through violence you have an inherent right to defend your freedom against that aggression against that aggression of violence with deadly force if required I want to point people to a video that was made by Larkin rose after this horrific shooting in Connecticut and I don't want to take anything away from the suffering of these family members it is real it should be respected everything I'm talking about yeah you know if we really understood this stuff like this could be averted actually if we really understand this right there in basically victim disarmament zones you're making a victim powerless you're turning everybody into a powerless victim and these lunatics psychopaths on psychotropics and SSRI drugs they know this just cuz they don't have emotions doesn't mean they don't have any logical capabilities believe me their logic is probably more enhanced because their emotions are so numbed out they're thinking only with the left side of the brain so they're doing calculations like a robot like a computer and saying well this this zone has absolutely no guns in it better my chances of putting more holes in people before I get put down that's exactly the way these lunatics psychopaths are thinking their emotions are totally suppressed and wrapped up by the SSRI demon drugs that they're takin they don't care but they know where to go to conduct the the the biggest Killzone before they get stopped yeah they know they know exactly how to do that because that's exactly what gun control does but I want to tell people I'll post it with the podcast the video check out Larkin Rose's new video on YouTube type in gun control is gun violence by Larkin rose and he makes the perfect point when somebody is enacting gun control they are enacting violence they are coming to someone's property if someone doesn't want to give up their property their weapon okay because of some arbitrary dictate passed by a tyrannical government they don't want to give up their battle rifle if a gun control law against a battle rifle is passed and they're saying no you have no right to take this from me I'm standing within my right to own this and defend myself with it if necessary when tyrants come for my freedom and they're telling them we're gonna send people with guns to your property to take your property or to put you in a cage if you resist us gun control is by definition gun violence all the people who were think that they're doing such wonderful good work by advocating gun control are advocating more violence in the world things that people don't have a right to do and all the idiot police that actually believe they have a right to do this to any person are going out and conducting violence because they've been told they're allowed to do it oh you're allowed to conduct this violence you can usurp other people's rights you have rights that other people don't have you can go and take people's property and rights away from them the nerve the unmitigated gall that you actually believe your own bullshit finally before we go to the phones I want to read one more quote by Samuel Adams he said it is the greatest absurdity to suppose it in the power of one or any number of men at entering into society to renounce their essential natural rights or the means of preserving those rights okay when the grand end of civil government from the very nature of its institution is for the support protection and defense of those very rights I happen to sort of disagree with them on that I don't believe that the institution of government is for that purpose I think it's for control but he says the principle of which as is before observed our life liberty and property if men through fear fraud or mistakes should in terms renounce or give up an essential natural right the eternal law of reason and the grand end of society would absolutely vacate such a renunciation let me try to explain you know in fewer words or in less confusing terms again the the colloquial English used at the time is much different than the way we speak today so I'll try to clarify what he is saying is it is an absurdity to think that if someone says I'm going to give up a natural right that that is somehow valid that is never valid it is automatically invalidated by common sense is what he is saying no one can say can claim I'm giving up this right you can only make the claim in words but you can't actually do it in nature in reality you are stuck with your rights folks just like you're stuck with natural law you're also stuck with your rights you have a right because it's inherent to the actual universe you live in and once again ladies and gentlemen please call in write to me let me know if you have a method of getting out of this physical universe by all means please enlighten us okay if you know the way to leave the physical universe where laws of nature no longer apply I would love to hear about it but until you do this is where you're at so be here now and deal with this at hand natural law exists inherent to it is right and wrong therefore you always have your rights and you can never renunciation to someone else you can make the claim that you're doing it but in point of fact natural reality you are not doing that that's what he's basically saying so he says if men through fear fraud or mistake should in terms over time that means renounce or give up their essential natural rights the eternal laws of reason vacate that renunciation they mean that means it invalidates it completely it invalidates that person's renunciation of their rights and he concludes it by saying the right of freedom being the gift of God Almighty it is not in the power of man to alienate this gift and voluntarily become a slave let me just read that last sentence again the right of freedom being the gift of God Almighty it is not in the power of man to alienate this gift and voluntarily become a slave you do not have the right to choose slavery because slavery is based on violence and when you advocate violence when you are saying I feel it is okay for violence to continue that is not one of your rights you do not have a right to be the advocate of violence you are harming other people by advocating that their freedom be usurped and that their rights be taken away from them in the very act of advocating that violence the master/slave relationship so all statism no one has a right to advocate for government it doesn't exist in nature so you know in this way is Adams even contradicting something that he said earlier in the statement yes because he said that the grand end of civil government from the nature of its institution is for the support protection and defense of those rights and I believe he believed that but when you really get down to it whenever you're instituting a government you're saying here's where rights exist for these group of people that don't exist for the totality of of people and that's not a right you're trying to create something that doesn't exist in nature you're trying to make a right which is called justification so while Adams was very enlightened I don't think he was fully enlightened again until we're fully enlightened we're gonna continue to be conquered until we are fully enlightened as to our rights and fully enlightened to the non-aggression principle we are going to be conquered we are going to be enslaved and ultimately who's doing it we are by our ignorance through our lack of understanding of moral right and wrong definitively and objectively and through our lack of understanding of our inherent rights we are going to enslave ourselves so I think it's a powerful quote that deserve being gone over again re-emphasized what I want to do until the end of the show is start going to the phones and getting people's take on everything that we've covered up to this point in the section where I've been talking about the inherent right to use force to defend oneself from violence and your comments are completely open on that topic that's what I want to talk about I want that topic to be discussed when we go to the phones next week I want people during the week you have a homework assignment for what on earth is happening okay if you choose to accept it of course it's voluntary and you will not be penalized for not doing your homework but if you choose to do this homework assignment here it is take two slips of paper on one right down the term the phrase No master's no rulers all in big capital letters no masters no rulers okay write it down very clearly in print big capital letters print it out if you want and tell people who you feel are not very enlightened about this so you don't get skewed results because if let's face it if people are enlightened they're gonna get the right answer but you know use the average population maybe go in the center of your town as people walk by or even better yet how about a college location a college or a university all that would be great we'd get such great answers there wouldn't we the the indoctrinated brainwashed the youth of this country hand them the piece of paper and tell them give them a pat on the back write the first word single word that comes to your mind let them do that take the paper back and you don't even have to do it with the same person you can then go to another person just give them the other slip of paper okay so maybe they don't put two two two and two together so to speak just get their gut reaction in a controlled way you know in a controlled circumstance like a you know a laboratory control so to speak okay hand them a second paper with the word Anarchy on it written in all big capital letters printed not handwritten try to print the words if you can or you know write them print handwritten but in print style so they're very clear and easy to see and understand and you don't have to explain anything and then tell them first word one word has to be put on the back first word that comes into your mind that's how word association goes so you're getting their gut intuitive reaction to the word and you'll see that I'm I was correct about what the results you will get and at next week I want to take calls on this social experiment okay and we'll see what your results were you can give me total numbers we can calculate a percentage maybe at the end of the show so that'll come up we'll do that next week on what on earth is happening let's go to the phones for now and get people's take on the sex which is a solution I say we'll be continuing to cover solutions this is a solution ladies and gentlemen this understanding will go a great way toward putting the solution into effect in the world okay the the solution to getting out of human slavery and I consider this understanding one of the great solutions deeply understanding your inherent right to defend yourself against violence with physical force is a solution in and of itself so anything that's been covered on this solution section or anything new that anyone anyone wants to add is up for grabs in this call segment let's go to the phones Ivan from Phoenix you're live on what on earth is happening welcome there's a little bit of background noise if you could just speak a little bit louder into the phone I think we'll be okay okay which is essentially the same thing I mean you know true freedom is independence it's it's a splitting of orders but I would accept it as basically the same meaning so they all they all responded by saying that no masters no rulers meant freedom okay what about okay that's very interesting because yes no one would have the right to rule over others so all would be equal under natural law okay so great answers that came back from those people in that term what about the term chaos have you done that yet No here at the end I think I'm sorry not the word cast the word anarchy which of course many people want to write chaos you know what I meant though but yeah give us a call back next week and continue with that social experiment let us know what the results were and we'll we'll analyze the results on the air you have anything else you're really breaking up on me now and I'm sorry to say that the last part was really garbled I could kind of hear you when you were talking about the social experiment on paper but the last part of it kind of went downhill from there because of the background noise so I'm going to let you go and if you can call in a better location before the show ends I'll put you right through so but call me back next week if you can get into a somewhat quiet area and let me know the result of that experiment here we go let's take another call here on what on earth is happening caller from the five for one area code you're live on what on earth is happening welcome yeah how are you oh great yeah well uh so I'm doing your experiment right now I've got these two pieces of papers card here and I'm actually having a really hard time because I actually know the difference between the two sure and try as I might I can still look at the Anarchy card and and think that the two are totally opposed you know one is completely chaotic and destructive of course that's my social conditioning talking I'm sure it's amazing how long if someone says the same thing to us that we will gravitate toward just accepting that that's what it means and believe it with you know absolutely no truth to back that up and no understanding of where that word actually came from how was derived in the English language from its etymological roots and when people will say well you can't term you can't define a word based on its etymology you absolutely can that's what the makers the originators of the word use those etymological roots to put the word together because they had a very specific and non ambiguous meaning in mind for the word which is why they derived it or made it from derive means to make from the ancient languages that it comes from it absolutely is where the meaning of the word comes from and it is a very accurate way to pinpoint a definition or an original intent meaning of a word versus the completely obfuscated connotation that people believe it means today so we have to be clear about the definition of a word versus the connotation that the word has come to represent erroneously in modern colloquial colloquial English yeah I'm thinking about the word Anarchy right now I'm trying to source back as far as I can go to where I would think where I'm thinking my conditioning would come from and I'm thinking something along the lines of being eight years old watching CNN and right being the basically the end of the Cold War farce long TV and you know I some kind of association with some kind of communism or your Red Planet you're exactly is going to turn you off to this B's association through imagery is what solidifies words that the context or the connotation of words in our mind so whenever the word anarchy is used by the media they're always going to show scenes of violence and unrest and tell you that this is the equivalent because that's what their masters one associated in people's minds they want when you hear with your ears the vibratory of essence the vibe the vibration that the word anarchie makes in the mind they want the imagery to come up just like it's being pulled from a computer drive when you press a key on a keyboard you're opening a file they want all the imagery that they have associated with this obfuscation mind control technique with that word to come into your mind rather than the actual definitive meaning or the definition of the word which is no masters no rulers it worked on me no problem and I and I claim to know better too well I'll tell you what if you want to continue that experiment do so and call me back next week and I'll try to remember that you came in from the 541 area code and I'll put you through so if you want to do that with more people you know get a few results and like I said we'll analyze the results on the air and this will kind of give us an idea of where humanity is really at in understanding you know just through the power of words I've said from day one the work the world is controlled through words if we don't understand the words we are speaking we are going to go deeper and deeper into bondage because that's how it works through obfuscation if we think verbally if our thinking structure so to speak is based upon our words our word structure and we are ascribing definitions of meaning based upon words if they can change those definitions to suit their agenda and to suit their goals we are totally controlled and that is what the manipulators of language have done so L thank you so much for the call and if you want to do so continue that experiment and give me a call back next week and let me know your results okay you got it you take care bye-bye bye-bye great excellent call all right let's go to another caller caller from the six six one area code you are live on what on earth is happening welcome hello caller oh there yes I mark it's Bob from Cincinnati Bob my friend great to hear from you Howard have you been doing well I'm doing well how about you and Barb mark good we're hanging in there excellent mark am i coming in okay yes you are perfectly the great work as defined by you tonight truth love freedom you are reaching a crescendo of the what on earth has happened in cosmology after two and a half years of starting this radio show you have taken us to a giant step in consciousness by defining truth and sovereignty tonight as corollary to each other powerful my friend thank you Bob I want to make a slide with like you know the the archetypal image of the tree of knowledge you know the tree of life on it and you know incorporate this in a meaningful way you know like say something to the to the effect maybe I'll add it to this podcast or something or maybe next week freedom is the fruit of the tree of love whose roots are truth so if you picture that in your mind the roots of the tree are truth itself and from there it grows to the tree which is the expression of consciousness and love and then the fruit that is born of that tree of love is freedom that's how we have to envision that you know allegorically through symbolism you know symbolically I think maybe I'll make a slide with that phrase on it I think it's just a great phrase indeed and Mark staid quickly congratulations on scoring fridge Spring Mayer and an archetypal image in the world of conspiracy / alternative research he's got horrible mark thank you Bob he's gonna be really great he's someone I'm really looking forward to hearing speak because he's been doing this longer than most of us much longer and he's brought so much to the forefront about what takes place in the occult in the worlds of the dark occult so we're really thrilled to have him we're honored to have him come and speak and participate in the free your mind to conference Bob I know you're going to be there and really looking forward to it and thanks so much for the great points you've called in with and we have to get together Bob and talk about the possibility of another appearance on a cult empire because I'd really like to get into a fillet make falafel a some of Crowley's writings with you we briefly talked about it before but I think now would be a perfect timing so maybe we could set that up for early next month after the holiday season is over and we could do a January a cult Empire on a Crowley and thelema what do you think it it's set then there it is thank you again for your voice mark good night sir Bob thanks so much always a pleasure to hear from you okay well we don't have any more callers on the line right now if anyone wants to call in the toll-free number to join us we have about 15 minutes left in the show eight six six eight four one one zero six five once again toll-free the toll-free number to join us here on what on earth is happening is eight six six eight four one one zero six five we're talking about the inherent right to defend oneself against violence through physical force if necessary and why it is so important to maintain that right and never have it be usurped or taken away attempted to be taken away so in the remainder of the time that we have I'll just basically go over a few things regarding the impossibility of forfeiting one's rights again I think this is so important to understand because you'll hear a lot of people say well if somebody wants to be a slave that's their right I hear this all the time that somehow people have a right to give up their rights and voluntarily be a slave and I want to make sure people understand in no uncertain terms that that is not a right that no one inherently possesses that right when someone says I accept slavery they are committing a wrongdoing under moral law it is not one of their rights to say or to advocate slavery that I'm okay with slavery that I'm okay with being a slave that I'm okay with their being slave owners and slaves that's not one of your rights see you can look at it like this let's take a look at the slavery period the horrific you know times of slavery that we had here in America and not that we don't still have slavery but we had physical you know in your face slavery okay during the Civil War period and before did anyone have a right to say this is okay this can continue if a slave tries to escape I'm going to harm them and get them back to their master as soon as possible it was that within their rights ever well it was legal you know it was a league you know it was actually legal if you didn't capture a slave if you knew that they were slave and bring them back to their master or keep them until their master came to claim them because they were looked at as property imagine that just imagine that you the law of man was saying to you if we know that you are helping a slave to be free we'll do violence against you they were telling people if you do right by allowing a being a human being to be a free being we will come and do violence to you of course that right doesn't exist but moreover the right to even advocate that it was right to do this to people doesn't exist and people get offended when you tell them it is his it is a historically known fact that many slaves did not want their freedom we're okay with the situation they didn't want to go and be free and and live in society and make their own way especially after they were released because it meant a big shake-up in their lives and it meant you know they had to take more personal responsibility and they weren't being kept in the way that they were regardless of the violence that was used and again people can twist my words any way that they want to try to twist them that is the case many slaves were physical slaves kept during the Civil War period and before when release did not want to be free of course many many of them did and absolutely you know embrace freedom I'm not trying to tell you in all of them were like that but there were many slaves kept as slaves that were okay with the situation and wanted it to continue and again that's what we're seeing today we have Worldwide's human slavery it may be a softer form of slavery it's the threat of violence constantly being done to us but in many ways we're being held in debt slavery and our rights are usurped on a continual basis our property is constantly taken from us under threat of force threat of violence called taxation property taxes which is a oxymoron it's a complete contradiction in terms it's in a they're those terms are totally antitheses of each other and yet people believe that they can somehow exist you know in coexistence with each other we have slaves today the dull that are okay with slavery everybody advocating for the state and advocating for the continuation of any form of Lexa's any form of property tax you know any form of drug laws of telling you what you can and can't put into your body every single person who advocates any of this ideology is basically saying I'm okay with slavery and I feel that it should continue because every one of those things I just mentioned our forms of slavery taxation is slavery drug laws are slavery property tax is slavery it's telling you you may not own property outright for you to keep the usage or stewardship of this land or property you're going to have to pay an extortion thing otherwise we'll come with violence and put you off of it and I can't even fathom how anybody can see it any other way that they're actually that brainwash that they can believe that there is such a thing and it's morally okay to institute a property tax regardless of what you're going to claim you're going to do with the confiscated money that was taken under threat of violence they can't make the the jump in basic human logic that that was done under threat of violence or done under direct violence it's the same idiots who can't understand how gun control is violence you're coming and saying I'm going to take property from somebody that's used to defend yourself against violence and I'm gonna leave you victimless and if you don't obey me I'm gonna take your property anyway and put you in a cage that's violence I mean plain and simply that's violence gun control is violence taxation is violence statism is violence it's slavery what a novel idea that I'm advocating we not have slavery what a crazy idea that I'm advocating we not have violence and that we deal violence as it is something that no one has a right to conduct and put it down if we have to we can ask them we can even ask them multiple times I'm okay with using our words first I think it's abundantly clear that many people are using their words and telling people I'm not okay with violence and slavery meaning you're giving them a chance to stop you're saying stop doing this I've been telling people from day one I don't advocate violence I don't have a cait slavery I want people to stop conducting these practices if you don't stop conducting these practices against me or other people who recognize them as violence I feel every person who recognizes it as violence has a right to defend themselves and defend their rights and defend their property against these usurpations and against these violent actions with force with deadly force and that's the reason the that right exists in nature and it's the reason that gun ownership exists and should be continued to to exist and be defended and you know that's the answer you people should give when they're asked what do you need a battle rifle in your home for what do you need a semi-auto in your home for to defend my freedom against tyranny that's what I need it for because the government has it and they're tyrants and slave masters that's what they claim to be whether they say that openly or not that's what they are against people who claim authority over me when I have harmed none that's what I need a battle rifle for that's what you need a battle rifle for whether you understand it or not and again it's slave think to not even understand that you know I want to start using that term all the people who advocate for the violence of the state its slave think you know you know we have Orwellian doublethink and Newspeak but let's call it what it really is slave think is that harsh is that a harsh thing to say yeah it's harsh is it true yes it's true to say I'm not interested in being non-caustic caustic means it's dissolving it's breaking something down it's acidic it's vitriolic there's another term in alchemy vitriol which if you really break it down in the Latin it means visit the interior of the earth and by purification you will find the hidden stone or rectification by up writing and purifying the phrase vitriol vitriol means vicious speech caustic acidic speech I'm very vitriolic and I have no intentions of changing that I hear people say I'm patient and have a laid-back approach I'm surprised to hear that I feel the emotion in my voice when I talk about topics like this I expect that many people feel them as well I guess because I don't outright start screaming or yelling I will raise my voice occasionally but I guess because I don't you know raise my voice to the level of someone like Alex Jones or someone like that people tend to think I have a more laid-back approach but you know to to wrap this all up folks speaking of Alex Jones one of the best things I ever heard on that show is a gentleman who called in with a response to the question why do you need yeah he had fifty semi-autos on them and they call that an arsenal okay and they when when he came under threat of the state if they said why do you need fifty battle rifles in your home and he gave the greatest answer I've ever heard folks he said to hand out 49 and I'll leave on that note that's all the time we have on this edition of what on earth is happening thanks so much for listening and remember there's only two mistakes you can make on the path to truth not occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Mark Pascoe welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening here on the Oracle broadcasting radio network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com the network's website Oracle broadcasting dot-com this show is live every Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m. East Coast time that's 4 to 6 p.m. Central time today is Sunday December 30th 2012 this is the last show of the year hope everyone had a good Christmas I hope everyone's new year is happy and healthy and we have a great show lined up for you here today on what on earth is happening really it's going to be a call-in show we're going to take your calls throughout the show I do have a couple of concepts that I want to go over as a pretty much reviews but I want people's calls on where they see things headed in the next year and in the years to come where they see the human future had headed and in their own personal experience do they see Humanity waking up and understanding the control system that they're embedded in and doing something to help to free themselves or they see things rapidly progressively growing even worse and the human family headed into even deeper bondage as the years move on so you can call in and just give your take on that really anything that you want to talk about is fair game for today I would like to get some calls on people that took my homework challenge from last week that I asked people to do a little social experiment in words in showing how words are so obfuscated in our culture and the definitions of words are not clear in individuals minds whatsoever I did this experiment with a few people with a small group of people and I'll give my results on the air and if anyone else wants to give their share their results we can take a look at how people are doing as far as their general understanding so the calling number for the show let me give it out here at the top of the hour is eight six six eight four one one zero six five once again the calling number to join us here on what on earth is happening is eight six six eight four one one zero six five that's toll-free I have a few event announcements as always the free your mind to conference rapidly heading toward us only about four months out now coming up April 25th 26th and 27th here in the city of Philadelphia a conference on consciousness mind control and the occult for your mine returns to Philadelphia in 2013 with a three-day conference featuring top caliber whistleblowers from all across the country who will shed light on our world's problems and bring forward empowering solutions the location is the beautiful Arch Street meeting housed in the historic section of Philadelphia the historic district this is at 3:20 Arch Street doors will open at 8 o'clock a.m. each day of the conference the featured speakers Allen Steinfeld Alfred Webber Andrew basiago Ben Stuart Bob Tuscan Cathy O'Brien kertus davis dr dream freighter x freeman fly yan Ervin Jay Parker Jim Fetzer Larkin Rose Laura Eisenhower Lennon honor Lauren Marais mark passio Mark Phillips Marty Leeds Randall Carlson Ross Ben Sonya Barrett and last week I announced and I'll mention it again this week we just added Fritz spring Myer he's confirmed I'm working on getting his photo and bio up on the site and I will be adding his name to the conference poster as well I'll probably be taking care of that during this upcoming week the advance ticket prices for the conference for the Thursday conference $30 for the Thursday meet-and-greet and concert featuring the divine hand ensemble $20 the Friday conference $40 the Saturday conference $40 for all three days plus the speaker meet-and-greet $120 for more speaker BIOS and ticket information please visit the conference website at WWF reader mine conference calm that's the free your mind to conference coming up April 25th through 27th here in Philadelphia the free your mind to Money bomb radio marathon we're going to be hosting a money bomb radio marathon at 12 hour radio marathon to raise some funds for bringing in the out-of-town speakers for the free your mind to conference this will be taking place on American freedom radio at American freedom radio calm on Sunday January 13 2013 January 13th that's coming up in a couple of weeks and it will be taking place from noon to midnight Central Standard Time so that's 1 p.m. to 1 a.m. Eastern Time so we'll be telling people how they can make donations to the to the conference and how to get tickets advance ticket sales are as good if not better than a donation so if you can get your tickets now now is the time to do it we have to get the funds out to the speakers so that they can make their travel arrangements no later than during the month of February so please if you want to make a donation to the cause or if you want to get your tickets now is the time to do it we may even be setting up a Bitcoin address for the for your mind to donations Bitcoin is a new electronic currency I've been getting into it and understanding it more and more and I'm gonna start using it to accept donations as well both for the free remind conference and what on earth is happening so check out check that out look into Bitcoin it's very interesting it's a new digital currency that can help us to transition away from the you know horrific and immoral Federal Reserve System another event announcement event announcement the Y Tesla matters conference is going to be held by the Tesla Science Foundation on January 5th 6th and 7th in New York City at The New Yorker Hotel 481 eighth Street New York New York this is a Tesla memorial conference and Tesla Spirit Awards benefit conference ok marking the 70th anniversary of Nikola Tesla's death which took place on January 7th 1943 again at The New Yorker Hotel January 5th 6th and 7th I will be speaking at the white Tesla matters conference I'll be speaking on Sunday January 6th and I'm going to be giving a talk about Tesla's technology and how it relates to a an abundance paradigm versus the current scarcity paradigm that we have now when it comes to energy and what that is doing to human consciousness so that's gonna be my talk at the wide Tesla matter matters conference coming up on January 5th through 7th in New York City for more information on this great conference check out Tesla Science Foundation org that's Tesla Science Foundation dot o-r-g all right a couple of other other quick things the ad-free chip in for what on earth is happening to keep the show commercial free currently still stands at $700 we need to raise 300 additional dollars by the end of January in order to keep the show commercial free through the three month period of February March and April so if those who have made donations thank you so much it is enormous ly appreciated and everyone has been doing a great job keeping that up we still have a little bit more to go so if you want to make a donation just hit the make a donation to help keep the show ad free button on the what on earth is happening homepage actually that's on all the pages in the left-hand column and you'll receive instructions of therefore how to go about making a donation now I am going to be adding Bitcoin instructions to the what on earth is happening donation pages because again this is something that I been getting into more and more and I'm going to you know try to promote that effort for more people to get involved in the Bitcoin community truth for your and prosperity an activist group I work with here in Philadelphia actually just held the East Coast Bitcoin summit you can watch all that at Mike's alvey's world.com Mike savvy and truth freedom prosperity actually hosted a conference all about Bitcoin how it works how to get involved with it and that is actually up on Mike Salvi's world website so check that out if you get a chance I watched it and it was very enlightening and interesting so I opened up a Bitcoin wallet and again I think it's a good alternative in a form of an electronic currency of the type of fiat currency that we have right now promoted by the Federal Reserve System and basically keeping us in debt slavery so the last event announcement are not really an event announcement is there is also a general support donation button on the what on earth is happening website this is separate than the the effort for the chip in effort for keeping what on earth is happening radio show commercial free so those donation buttons are right on the left-hand column of what on earth is happening and if you are in a position to do so if you feel that there is value being given through this radio show and the work that I do if you want to make a donation any amount is welcome and very much appreciated so with that having been said let's jump into our discussion for today I'm only really going to review a few things and then we'll go to the phones I've been really hammering on self-defense the inherent right to self-defense and when I talk with people and when I really tried to put my finger on the pulse of where people's mind is at when it comes to this topic I have to say that their complete lost their completely destroyed and they have no idea what rights are what rights are not they have no definition of what rights are at all they don't know what wrong actions are okay harmful actions wrongdoing they cannot clearly define what a wrong is and therefore they cannot clearly define what a right is and this is the problem with humanity this is why we're in the cage that we are in and people can't even see that they're in there living in a prison that that the society you're already living in is a prison society they can't see that they can't accept that they won't accept it their their mind their ego refuses to allow them to see the truth about the world that they're slaves within it and now it doesn't have to be like that again that's not I'm not promoting a negative worldview I'm not saying that this is our lot in life and it can't be changed I'm saying this is how we've made the world we have done this to ourselves because we will not live in a moral capacity we will not understand what rights are we refuse as a whole okay as a society in general more people refuse to accept and live by what right is and will continue to engage in and support wrong actions harmful actions and condone harmful actions when other people are taking them as well and they do this constantly and will tell you no I don't do that because they don't know truly what a harmful action is they can't get to the definition because they have obfuscated understanding of words and when words are obfuscated your definition is lacking you can't make an accurate definition and what is a definition what is definition definition is clarity when we talk about the word definition okay from all of the possible things you are explaining what something actually is you're define knighting definite not infinite definite okay you our making something clear to understand better that which it is when you have a higher definition you have higher clarity that's why people want higher definition TVs so they can be brainwashed better through higher clarity okay now but seriously when we talk about definition a higher resolution a higher resolution monitor means that there is more clarity higher definition more clarity the resolution is better okay that's what we're talking about when we talk about definitions and I went over this last week that the the meaning of words is so obfuscated in people's minds that you can't even begin a philosophical discussion with them because they're operating on a completely different connotative meaning of what they think a word actually means versus what it's real definition is and you'll get people that even will insist there is no such thing as an actual definition of words people will actually say so one person's definition is as valid as another person's and it's all a matter of opinion these are salep society the dangerous poisoned worldview ideology that we covered in very early sections of the show right on on day one I talked about solipsistic worked dangerous ideology that there is no actual truth that nothing can be defined nothing can be you know pinned down to what it actually is how it actually occurred you know that it definitely exists this whole New Age crap that there is no such thing as truth you can never actually really know you can never actually really get down to the 100% definitive truth of something it's New Age garbage put out there to try to obfuscate meaning and when you can obfuscate meaning you can get people to believe whatever you want that's why we have people that don't understand the meaning of the words that they're speaking you can't even have a conversation with someone who can't grab what your how you're using a word they won't even let you get to the point of defining attempting to define what the word as we're using it means they have their own internal dictionary definition in their twisted brain matter and they are insistent that that's what it means because the meaning that is wrong that is the obfuscated meaning has been hammered into their mind through a process of repetition over and over and over and over what I want to do here today is it to just start the discussion is to suggest that what I think we need is we need to be repeaters ourself we need to keep repeating the same thing over and over and over and over again I joke around with with friends and with you know other activists in the area that I call myself mr. broken record that's what I refer to myself as because I just keep saying the same thing over and over and over and over and over and over again endlessly repetitively because there is nothing new to say there is nothing new Under the Sun as the old occult saying goes there is nothing new this the truth has always been here with us for eternity it will always be here it can never be destroyed that's why that's the last tagline on my website always love fear as illusion all beings are free truth can never be destroyed it is an impossibility truth is inherent to creation it is that which is it cannot be destroyed only an ignorant and ignorant mind set okay and an ignorant population can refuse to look at the truth but it's always there they're just ignoring it and that's what people who have completely obfuscated definitions of words are doing they're ignoring the truth and they refuse to their ego is so calcified it refuses to allow them to see the reality that they're already embedded in whether they want to accept it or not ego just wants to say no just keep believing what you believe don't look at what the truth is don't look at what's actually there it's all about beliefs it's all about opinions it's all about likes and dislikes okay and forget about what the real meaning here is to forget about what the real definition is keep believing your erroneous connotative meaning that's been put there through mind control repetition what the people who do know real meanings of words need to do need to do in mass is to keep repeating the right the correct definition of words over and over again for people and keep repeating simple axioms that are true over and over and over and over again we need to be endless repeaters of the truth endlessly putting it out there see when you have a repeater when you connect a wireless repeater for example a piece of technology it keeps extending it it gets out to a wider and wider range that's what repetition does is it a form of mind control yes it is a form of mind control it is probably the most effective form of mind control that exists in the world that's why we need to start using the same techniques to combat that the form of mind control that takes people away from the truth the same methodology can be used to take people toward the truth keep repeating the same thing if it's true over and over and over and over again we are already free inherently we are sovereign beings there is no such thing as Authority it doesn't matter whether you believe it is or how many people believe that it is that's the truth keep repeating it over and over and over and over again you already have inherently the right to defend yourself with force if you are attacked with violence or if you are under the threat of violence keep repeating the same thing over and over and over and over again that right exists in nature it is yours it is your property you cannot be alienated from that right period whether you want to or not you can't be no one can voluntarily choose to be a slave and advocate slavery and condone slavery being conducted to against others that's not a right keep repeating that over and over and over and over and over again that's the ad vacations of violence which no one has a right to do to say I think you can continue just continue to harm that person to take their rights and make them your slave and stand by and do nothing and watch it happen that's not a right no one has that right it does that right doesn't exist in nature you're committing a wrong just by advocating it keep repeating it over and over and over eventually it will stick into the mind it will go into the subconscious mind the truth cannot be unheard that's why it's so important to continue to speak it continue to speak it endlessly endlessly that's what this is all about willpower you've heard the phrase history is going to reward the ones with the loudest voice it's true the universe is going to reward the people who use the will to speak their message endlessly repetitively and it it's gonna come out on the side of whether the person is operating within right or wrong it doesn't matter the universe isn't even gonna make that distinction that's why evil is winning right now because they keep putting their message out there forcefully and repeating it over and over and over again as an act of their will the universe is going to ultimately reward that and I know people will hate me for saying that the universe is gonna reward evil yes it is it is it's not going to make a distinction it's about a quantum event a quantum amount whoever is the majority it's going to be rewarded that's why the world is the way it is because more people want it this way then don't believe it or not that's another thing people can't stand me for saying how could you say that mark because it's true the world wouldn't be the way it is we wouldn't have the slavery that we do if more people can don't didn't condone it more people condone wrongdoing theft acts of theft acts of slavery acts of violence then don't that's why the world is full of violence and slavery if less people condone that we wouldn't have a world based on that but we do because more people live that way and condone living that way and is that harsh absolutely it also happens to be true no one wants to hear that because they don't want to hear we're doing this to ourselves they want to hear this is something that is being done to us somehow and we're all victims in it we're not we're the ones doing it to ourselves I said before I'm not an apologist for Humanity does mind-control exist yes it does ultimately is that an excuse for what we continue to choose no it is not it is not an excuse it is it is a manipulative effort it is an influence upon the conscious and subconscious mind but that doesn't mean that that's what we must continue to choose you know you could call it mind influence more than mind control direct mind control is something very hard to put somebody under that exists to hard core hard-wired mind control like trauma-based mind control but when we're talking about manipulation techniques method methodologies of manipulation we're not talking about hardwired mind control we're talking about mind influencing mind manipulation and everybody has a will everyone has free will and if you choose you can see the truth you can step out of the darkness and into the light and you could choose to see that which is but the problem is people are comfortable where they're at as a whole as a society and they're just choosing to remain ignorant because it's comfortable in that place of ignorance it's very comfortable there it doesn't involve work where we're at right now to stay ignorant okay that just is the fault condition right now and you could just do nothing if you want to stay that way learning the truth requires effort you have to read you have to study you have to give up things make sacrifices meaning give up the things you are currently attached to do different actions than what you're doing now let go of other actions that you're doing now that are harmful or are condoning harm people don't want to do that they want to have their cake and eat it too I want to continue to do this action and yet I want a different result well guess what it doesn't work that way sorry but that's not how the universe you're currently living in operates hate to break the bad news to you you know that's like saying I want a poor I want to pour scalding hot water on my hands and I don't want them to be burned well good luck enjoy to enjoy what you get and that's what we're saying collectively as a species that's how retarded we are we are retarded meaning we have been slowed down our progress in consciousness has been retarded means slowed blocked held back stopped forwarded from forward progress that's what retardation is and that's what we are we are currently a species of retarded people we have been retarded held back because we've been held back from truth and who's ultimately holding us back we are because we won't give up the attachments the egoic attachments we want to have our way we want to say theft is OK that's and it's not going to affect me the continuance of theft and the condoning of theft isn't going to keep me in a cage we want to believe that we think that we can believe that and therefore it becomes true so what I wanted to do here is talk about just as a review at the end of the year harmful actions and what earth really is what earth has been come not what it is eternally not what it needs to be it doesn't need to be like this does not have to be like this it the the way that the planet is now is not an eternal requirement it can be changed anytime we want to step out of the ego anytime that we want to give up our ways that are attached to theft okay and stop supporting violence and stop supporting wrongdoing wrongful action which is all violent and all forms of theft okay and learn the one spiritual law the one law of all creation there is only one law all moral law all spiritual law all natural law they're all the same thing it comes down to one law all right so let's do a brief review and then I want to go to the phones and see if people did how to have any results about the little experiment that we were going to do regarding the word anarchy I'll explain that before we go to the phones but if you're taking a look at the slides that are posted with the on the radio show page and will also be posted with the podcast you'll see that slide number one was the free your mind to conference poster slide number two was a poster for the free your mind to Money bomb radio marathon coming up on American Freedom radio on January 13th slide three was the white Tesla matters conference and slide four is the slide that I posted with last week's show on anarchy okay and I'll go back to that as we go to the phones let me skip ahead to slide number five which is a review of harmful actions what I called natural law transgressions I've written it here in parentheses transgressions against natural law okay and you know I'm not gonna split hairs about and get into semantics about the word natural or the phrase natural law people can go back and understand four by listening to the podcast that I did on this topic what I am talking about when I use the term natural law and people need to stop being baby spoon-fed the meaning of terms as I'm using them first of all if you come in and you're listening to a show late in the game this is episode number 137 in this podcast series and on this radio show bad idea to start here obviously okay you need to go back to number one start from there and proceed in order because this show this podcast this series of information is a tapestry and it is not meant to be taken out of order it is very specifically tailored in a linear progression to build information upon prerequisite information that means you can't study chapter 8 until you've studied chapter 1 that chapter 1 is a prerequisite for chapter 8 well shows number 100 and shows number 1 through 136 our prerequisites for show number 137 that's how it works we're building on top of a foundation that we've already established and that's why as we move forward it's going to see more and more confusing to people who won't listen from show number 1 ok so I want to emphasize that and I want to continue to emphasize that that this is a progression that is built for those who are largely trapped in the sick worldview ok of statism and authoritarianism and it is meant for people who are largely in the left brain that's why it is organized in a logical sequence a linear progression to take people who are of that bent through the information in a logical stepwise progression that's how people come out of the mind control okay so with that having been said this is a form of a review of stuff that we did on natural law and again I call it spiritual law the word neck tear in Egyptian or Commission ancient Egyptian okay means spirit that's what net tear the word natural net tear all comes from the word spirit in Commission so we're talking about spiritual law and again the term natural law has just simply been used to mean the that which everything is governed by the natural world it doesn't mean your erroneous notion of the natural order as defined by Darwin and other eugenicist s-- okay that's not what we're talking about the natural order has nothing to do with natural law the fake natural order that of you know the most vicious rules the roost that has nothing to do with reality at all because that isn't how it works anyway in reality and it has absolutely nothing to do with natural law the term I'm using which means the inherent non man-made binding and immutable conditions that govern the consequences of all behavior in the cosmos that's what I mean by cosmic spiritual law or the term quote natural law unquote so when we look at the transgressions against natural law we see there is no form of wrongdoing that cat that is not a form of theft every single wrongdoing that exists that man is capable of taking every single solitary harmful action that any human being on earth and who are else is capable of taking is a form of theft just do this as a mental exercise sit meditate upon this don't meditate upon it contemplate upon a better choice of words contemplate this okay sit there and contemplate think of a wrongdoing think of a wrongful action think of an action that causes harm to another being every single solitary form of action that a human being is capable of taking that is harmful that is a wrongdoing that is a transgression against cosmic spiritual law is a form of theft every single one you you murder that's taking someone's life that life was not your property it did not belong to you therefore you stole it that's a form of theft you take a physical object from somebody that doesn't belong to you let's take a look at gun confiscation that's not your gun that's not your property you have no right to it it's someone else's you try to take it from them you engaged in theft wrongful action transgression against spiritual law taxation you're taking someone's labor the the fruit of their labor regardless of what it happens to be whether it's physical goods money a car or some form of currency you are taking something which you did not earn it's not there you have no rightful claim to it you're telling them you're my slave basically I'm gonna take what you have that's all it is I don't care what you're gonna do with it how altruistic or humanitarian this is the claimed purpose of you taking it is it's still a form of theft it's still theft period all taxation property taxes either some things your property or it's someone else's property I don't see how people can't clearly understand that because their mind is stuck in Orwellian doublethink they think a equals B and B equals C you know they can't understand the concept of a is a B is B C is C they don't get that simple objective reality does not compute with them because they just believe whatever the state says that's all it is there's brainwashed statist authoritarian estate they're an arc honest that's that's my new term for forget the term statist I mean don't forget it understand what it is and means but I'm supplementing that term you know authoritarian Astaire status I like the term arc honest to me that explains it more fully you support the archons the masters the rulers those who think they're an authority those who think they own other people imagine a scumbag psychopath who thinks they own another living being they you own me really you own anybody really you do for real well the time is coming when there's going to be more people who are willing to stand up and prove that you don't own anybody the time is coming we're getting we're not there yet but we're getting closer and that is going to be the real New Age you you want to talk about a new age movement that's gonna be the real New Age that we're gonna move into when enough people say no and mean it and back it up with teeth that's gonna be the new age now again I can talk about a quote where an idea that somebody else had and I don't have to subscribe to the way they lived or think that they were some kind of great person so I'm gonna do a show and I might even do shows here on Crowley's ideas and some of his philosophy and I might do a show on Thelema which grew out of Crowley's philosophies but one thing I happen to agree with on Aleister Crowley is the concept that he meant by the Aeon of Horus the Rising Sun the true will being born into creation and what that's going to look like in the world and people think it's gonna be some wonderful peaceful thing and it's not it's not it's gonna be the time when enough people decide to say no to living under slavery and you think the Masters and the ones that they have under their command are just gonna back down folks they're just gonna say oh sorry about that we were wrong let us make it up to you that's not how it's gonna go at all when the Aeon of Horus dawns it's gonna be really really ugly I don't believe in these new this New Age nonsense of some cosmic spiritual enlightenment that's gonna hit people like a big set Tory lightning-bolt all at once that's not there's no evidence for that at all at all what there's evidence for is that the will to power is growing stronger and stronger and yet there's an undercurrent of a will to freedom that's also growing stronger and stronger and that irresistible force and immovable object are going to collide at some future point that's what I see the future holding personally to give you my take at the beginning of a new year that's how I see this going and I don't see it being a pretty thing I see it being a bloody birth of something new and wonderful but bloody nonetheless because you got to understand the golems the trolls that these scumbag psychopaths have created the trolls that the slime they're not even human these statuses they're Psychopaths themselves they only care about themselves that's all they care about money is their God to a large extent they care about nothing they have no compassion for other living beings they condone violence and theft that's it whether they can see that that's what they do or not is irrelevant they're still doing it they're still taking the action they're still supporting violence and enough people eventually are going to rise and say no I will not continue to live like this see I tell people I'm not humanity's servant I'm not a slave to humanity I'm not their servant but see is a waiter in a restaurant a slave no they are a servant though that's the form of servant I am I'm not a servant in the form that humanity's my master and I'm serving them I am a bringer of information of truth to people it is up to them whether they take it the whether they take the plate from me and then serve themselves you can bring them the food you can't make them eat it think about it it's called a waiter and that's what I am I'm a waiter welcome to mr. broken record the waiter show that's what this is I say the same thing over and over again and all doing is waiting for other other people to catch up when they finally understand and think about it it means you're waiting a waiter a servant so in that sense I am a servant of humanity but I'm not I'm not that they're not my employees when you go to a restaurant you know your employees are the restaurant establishment owner therefore my employer is the truth and in this place called Earth I'm a waiter I'm a servant I bring the truth to people I serve that force that's it so that's what I'm here to do as far as attachment to the outcome of what the people are choosing on the menu whether they're accepting what's being brought to them or not that's not up to me that's their Karma and people think I am so emotionally invested in this just because I put some passion into my voice and I get angry that people are daring to infringe upon my rights and other free beings rights well I should get angry and so should you it's called righteous anger that doesn't mean I have emotional attachment to what humanity as a whole is choosing don't get it confused don't get it twisted that's other people's Karma not mine I've already made my choice and cast my dice okay the die has been cast for me I've chosen the right side I've already chosen the winning side whether anybody recognizes that it recognizes that or understands it or not the truth can never be destroyed it doesn't make a difference if humanity is going to be destroyed truth will still exist this is why the psychopaths hate themselves so much they hate the fact that they are living in a universe where truth can never be destroyed doesn't make a difference just like it said in that Twilight Zone episode I'm just a reminder to you that you can never destroy truth that's what the librarian in the episode of The Twilight Zone called the obsolete man says to the authoritarian dictator who is looking down at him at like you know it such content because he's a librarian and he dares to have books that can convey knowledge of truth he tells him I'm justi'm constant reminder to you that you can never destroy truth and that's all this is about serving truth and what people do with it is their karma that's their business so I don't have an emotional attachment to the outcome of this prison because that's the the other part I want to get to after we finish with the harmful actions okay and understanding every harmful action is a form of theft what earth in the current form is now and again it's not what it is eternally or what it has to be it is not made to be like this for eternity it's what we have turned it into perhaps would be a better way of putting it okay so do the mental exercise every form of wrongdoing is a form of theft whether you're stealing life freedom or property think about it that's why life liberty and property is what the Declaration of Independence was supposed to really be protecting and talking about standing up for instead they changed life liberty and the pursuit of happiness which is something that is a lot more ambiguous and people get into well what makes you happy and that's different than what makes me happy but property that should have been kept in there because that's about ownership ownership rights and there is such a thing the people think that there's no kind of no form of property you need to get your head out from up your rear end and understand there is property that's what this whole thing is about folks the whole thing is about property what property is what you have a right to own and what you don't have a right to take that's what this whole spiritual construct called the earth is all about pretty rights you own your life your freedom your rights and the physical things that you happen to be using your property and there is such a thing it's not a construct it exists in nature property is not a mental human construct it exists in nature it exists in nature because it's based upon rights and this is what people gotta get through the thick skull the the calcified ego that is just like it's like an 8 inch bone inside the brain you know it's just hardened into just stone instead of there being any real active gray matter there literally that's how that's what people thats why people are Blockheads they're blocked they've been made into retards retarded is that harsh yes it is it's extraordinarily harsh I'm not talking about people with specific you know genetic or degenerative conditions I'm talking about people who otherwise are in good health but their brain is burnt of their own design of their own choosing they have a burnt brain and again I'm not this isn't gonna get any more pleasant folks I'm not here to be your friend I'm not your friend I'm not here to be your friend it's not a popularity contest I'm not interested in being liked I don't care whether you like me I'm here to serve truth that's it I'm gonna be more increasingly vitriolic more vitriol I talked about that before that's an alchemical concept visit ah interior ah tear a rectification column lop Eden that means visit the interior of the earth and through rectification through making it upright again you will discover the hidden stone purification making it upright rectify it it means go within yourself go within that calcified ego break it down vitriol acid I'm not about pleasant speech in case you couldn't tell from day one we need to be more vitriolic stop being apologetic for speaking the truth two morons two idiots you need to pour the acid upon them vitriolic speech imbued with righteous anger that's the approach I think is going to be most effective forget placating their ego this is New Age folks placating people's ego baby spoon feeding them something that is true that they don't want to see and in the meantime advocating violence and the abuse and usurpation of other people's rights and you're gonna baby spoon feed them with nice speech where has that gotten us in the last 40 50 60 70 years nowhere into a deeper cage that's where it's gotten us folks into a deeper cage stop using the baby spoon stop being nice to people who have the case effed you need to tell them idiot you're an advocate of theft try to understand it I know your brain is totally burnt but think about it you're advocating something that isn't yours being taken this person's what they make doesn't belong to anybody else it's theirs it's their right to keep it they can voluntarily give to somebody but once you force somebody to give something to somebody else that's called theft and it's backed by violence stop advocating theft and violence stop condoning it if you look here's where it comes down to if you support government in any form no matter how little you're an advocate of theft because you're an advocate of authority government presumes to tell people we may take this amount from people that they make I don't care how small it is again I saw this thing on Facebook about slavery is often defined as one hundred percent of someone's labor and property being owned by someone else someone having a right to take somehow being magically imbued with a right quote-unquote to take 100 percent of somebody else's the product of their labor and then it posed the question at what percentage is it not slavery is it not slavery at 90 percent of taking some the product or someone else's labor or property let's say you leave them with 10 and you take 90 is that not slavery anymore how about 50% well we now call it slavery then what about it 20% I'm just going to take 20% you don't keep 80 but I'm taking 20 of what you earned or made is that not slavery anymore because it's only 20% what about 10% making a demand on someone else's property and telling them you're going to commit violence to them if you don't give it hand it over because I say I'm right with what I'm gonna do with it therefore I have the right to do what as I please with it and confiscate it from you by violence at 10% is it not slavery what about 1% does that suddenly magically make it not slavery anymore you gotta understand property rights property rights either you have the right to have property or you're a slave either you have a right to keep property or you're a slave and that's what we're living in we're living in feudalism slavery that's the all forms of government are all forms of government are feudalism slavery that's it that's all it is there is no such thing as an amount of government that will be good this magic number we're gonna reach this magic ratio of control and freedom yeah that's that that's that's gonna be constitutional republic over here on this imaginary uh you know political spectrum and that's just the right mixture of slavery and freedom please get out of your own head get out of the head cage because that's where you're at that's what you're in you're in the head cage deep in it too because the ego doesn't want to let it go and you want to continue to advocate and condone theft and that's all comes down to folks every form of wrongdoing is theft there's no wrong anybody here can claw up with a form of wrongdoing and I will explain to you how it's theft all you need to do is think it through and you will understand anything that you have no right to do is a form of taking something from someone else that's it and that's all you're here to learn so life is property rights or property freedom is property and I put this down on slide number five really study it that's a very very powerful message what is up there on slide five print it out look at it study it give it to other people ask them what they think about it you have to understand that you have to stand under these this principle the principle that is put forward here is above you it's above me it's above all of us it is natural law by definition we stand under it whether we accept that or acknowledge it or under store or recognize that or not we are understanding natural law meaning we cannot stand above it literally not figurative speech I'm talking literally you can't that's why this is above you in a cosmic sense as far as it binds you it binds your actions it is the only thing you are slave to and can never be free from if you won't even use that term I don't even look at it as it enslaves us binding and enslaving are two different things in this sense binding means holding together this is what actually makes us integral integrity holding together bound together slavery is coercion this isn't the universe's form of coercion it's the universe's form of making sure we are intact that we this is what actually keeps people is a form of taking something from someone else that's it and that's all you're here to learn so life is property rights or property freedom is property and I put this down on slide number five really study it that's a very very powerful message what is up there on slide five print it out look at it holding together this is what actually makes us integral integrity holding together bound together slavery is coercion this isn't the universe's form of coercion it's the universe's form of making sure we are intact that we this is what actually keeps people safe the understanding of natural law the understanding of what wrongs are so that you understand what rights are and then you live within those parameters set by the cosmic law and that is the gateway the pathway to true freedom the problem is we think we're above that we think we can somehow stand above natural law and somehow we're going to prosper well attempting to do that is what puts us into chains that's the very thing that level of calcification of ego and insistence that you have rights that you don't and insistence that you're going to conduct theft and advocate other people conducting theft is what puts us into bondage and people need to understand that's the dynamic that is the dynamic we need to grasp so what is the earth what is this place you know what have we turned the earth into is a better way of looking at what on earth is happening here on Oracle broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com I was just about to get into what we've created for ourselves here on the earth what we've turned the earth into in its current form in its current incarnation and I've listed this on slide number six for today's show earth in its current form is a prison for thieves a prison for thieves you want to know what kind of prison planet this is this is the prison for thieves it's a cosmic prison and it's where thieves go to work out eyes of humanity all the individuals when you put all of that together that forms a big we there is a finite amount of people living on the planet Earth and I'm called referring to all of those individuals as we've meaning every being that is a human being living on the planet the collective we quote-unquote we have done this to ourselves because more of us want to live a the aggression ideology they want to live in a way where they're still conducting violence against other people or condoning dialogue of violence against other people committing and condoning violence so human beings are confined to the earth you hear one of the things I do agree with with some of these strange new agey concepts is that the earth is quarantined absolutely true you're not going anywhere anywhere they say death is no cure for ignorant believe it know it you're not getting out of here till you get the lesson so you understand the law and again this has nothing to do with me folks nothing whatsoever it's not because I say it's this way I understand this that's all and I am in that sense I am absolutely not special I am not any more privileged I have no magical powers than anyone else lacks okay there is nothing that inherently makes me different that I can grasp this and somehow it is magically eludes other people I am NOT different in that capacity I just happen to understand it I happen to have a grasp of the non-aggression principle and the one spiritual single spiritual law that's it and the one law all natural law can be some down into one phrase two words two words nine letters nine letters with an apostrophe don't steal that's it that's it understand what your property rights are understand what they're not don't take that which doesn't belong to you the end the end I don't know I don't know if anyone has actually really condensed it down that succinctly if that's what natural law is that's what the whole earth right now in this current incarnation is about it's a prison for thieves all people who want to continue to be a thief who want to continue to steal who want to continue to advocate theft and you're all here to come to an understanding with creation with natural law understanding meaning you're going to continue to be held bound in in this prison chained here by your own freewill choosing nothing else is holding us in this prison nothing else is continuing to make this be a prison except our own erroneous use of free will that's it we don't know how to consciously create and therefore through our ignorance we're creating unconsciously we will continue to exist imprisoned on the prison planet called the earth the theft prison the thieve prison okay until we stop committing theft and stop condoning other people from committing theft stop condoning that action stop committing it ourselves and stop condoning that other people be allowed to be thieves with impunity that's it it doesn't really get any simpler than that folks that's about as simple as I can boil it down in simple English language terms if you can't grasp it there's something wrong with your brain it's because you can't ask for a simpler definition what is natural law don't steal that's it understand what's yours understand what's not yours stop taking things that aren't yours that's natural law that's it and because we won't live by that law we're in a cage that's why we're in jail we're in a cage we're in a prison collectively because we want to continue to be thieves and not understand that we're taking that which doesn't belong to us and we we want to continue to condone that act that's it so concurrent to this understanding last week we talked about one of the biggest groups of thieves in the world all governments all governments no matter what kind of government it is no matter where it's at on the face of the earth no matter what culture has brought it into existence no matter what time period of history every single government that has ever existed on the face of the earth external government let's call it okay because there is real government called internal government meaning that you control your own thoughts emotions and actions and that's real every sorry form of externalize government the claim of authority on other people every single person who is doing that or advocating it as a thief and their slave it is the ideology of slavery it is one of the two religions of slavery government and money the two religions of slavery fake money again you got to understand there's a real version and there's a fake version just like there's a real government which is internal there's a fake version which is external the real one eye is spiritual enlightenment the fake one eye is all forms of what we call currencies we talked about this group the arcanists the ones who accept that there is such a thing as masters and slaves all people who acknowledge government condone its existence can don't condone its continuity our arcanists we talked about what the word anarchy really means last week and I put that in slide number 4 the word anarchy comes from two greek words a prefix and a noun the prefix and in greek it's spelled alpha nu okay means when you tack it on to the beginning of a word without or the absence of not present in other words lacking not present absent okay without not having this however you want to word it or look at it that's what an A or an means so an at the beginning of an arc e means without or not presence or the absence of and then the second part a RC hyr key comes from the Greek word the noun in Greek Archon AR CH o n transliterated into English in Greek this would be spelled alpha Rho Chi Omicron new Archon okay so what is an Archon in the Greek language it means a Master as in one who owns and keeps slaves or a ruler as in a king who has subjects that must obey his whims that must obey his authority he owns other people he is the owner of other people that's all an Archon is if you believe in government you are an ark honest that means you believe certain people are masters other people are slaves certain people have rights that other people don't have and certain people have a moral obligation to obey the whims and commands of those who are their masters and that's what all government is if you're being honest with yourself if you want to be a liar if you want to be a person who is ignorant and who wants to ignore reality of what it really is go and tell yourself that's not what government is it'll never make it true you can go and believe whatever you want about what you think government is but what it is is a claim of authority on other people's lives that's it it's the simplest way of putting what government is and how it's perpetuated is right in the word caverna Luverne RA or goober negau burn re in Latin means to control men's mentis and yes that is the second part of the word etymologically whether you understand that or acknowledge it or not yes it is it means to control the mind men's mentis means mind so government literally is to control the mind and that's how they get people to believe this nonsense that doesn't exist that's an illusion in a diseased human psyche by controlling their mind by influencing and manipulating the mind so all anarchy means is the absence of masters no masters or you tell people well there's no masters here there's no masters and rulers there's no masters and slaves we don't have masters and slaves relationships here okay that doesn't exist here and what would people say well you know you have a free society then you have freedom you have a quality under under natural law everybody has equal rights nobody has rights that other people don't don't have that's called freedom people living according to the non-aggression principle natural law but no people think this means chaos it could never happen we could never have this condition that's crazy you could never have a state you can never have a condition on earth when there where there are no rulers and masters where there is no authority they actually believe this nonsense they actually believe their own nonsense that that could never exist that this is the natural spiritual condition of humanity everywhere no matter where intelligent life exists in the cosmos this is the natural state anarchy no masters no rulers the only thing the entire cosmos is ruled by is natural law that's it you are ruled ultimately by the all if you want to call that God go ahead I don't that does it it's meaningless to me that that term people get all hung up on it whether you want to acknowledge that that's the creative force the underlying unified field aspect of creative intelligence that is inherent to the universe however you want to word it it doesn't matter to me that's your business this is an intelligent creative field that we are living in it is the authority that's it that means the totality of everything has put natural law into effect along with freewill natural law is the deterministic component to the universe free well as the chaotic component to the universe that's it that which really cannot be controlled because we always have the ability to make a choice at any given time so you have the randomness component called freewill in conjunction with the deterministic component called natural law and that's what we create through do we guide our freewill in conjunction with the law of that ultimately governs and binds us and what the experience we get as a result of our behavior is so you could say well then free will becomes an illusion if you want to look at it like that does that mean you're a slave that you're ultimately you know somehow in a big cage called the universe I don't look at the universe like that this law exists because it is the balanced principle that is put here for our betterment and our spiritual uplift that's what it's here for it's not here to torture us natural law is here to care for us it's the only authority we need to bend the knee to to live according to the non-aggression principle stop putting your ego over over other people's rights stop believing that you can condone theft and somehow that's okay that's called justification you're trying to create a right that doesn't exist by saying it's okay for violence to be conducted here no it's never okay for violence to be conducted don't get that confused with the defensive use of force understand the non-aggression principle goes hand in hand with the self-defense principle if you're being accosted with violence you have an inherent right already to respond with defensive use of force that's it it's so simple it's stupid it's so simple you have to be such an idiot not to get it I mean people should be horrifically ashamed of themselves in don't pat something back go oh dear there there there it's just so good terrible that you don't get it No hammer them tell them it's not okay for you to condone this it's not okay for you to support violence you're not right you're not in the right you don't have the right you never had the right get out of your ego get out of your head start understanding what violence is start understanding you don't have a right to it start understanding what wrongdoing is start understanding you don't have a right to it stop acting like a child stop acting like an ignoramus it's not okay it's not okay this New Age approach needs to go folks it needs to go it's junk it's junk doesn't work people are not getting the message I'm telling you I went to them the this mind/body/spirit Expo here in Philly and there it's full of Satanists full of people who advocate the continuance of government and think it's okay they don't understand the non-aggression principle at all at all at all and they call them so spiritual they call them some spiritual they don't get it at all because they they've been they bought a lie they've bought this junk lie that enlightenment is all about my happiness it's all about me being as elated as possible at all times of the day and never letting anything disturb my field of energy around me so I could hold the space you know what to do with that you know where you can cram it okay it's it's bunk the whole thing is just all its I call it the last cul-de-sac before the gold gold mine they're not getting spiritual gold they think it's never about getting angry about anything they think it's always about being happy at all times let me tell you something enlightenment is not about your happiness folks if you believe that you believe new age bunk religion enlightenment is about getting pissed off when you see that we've built the prison here out of all infinite possibility that we could have created it's about seeing all the dirt that exists in the world and recognizing it for what it is and being honest about it and it's a destructive process it means the truth is coming in and destroying the lie and you're seeing as the room fills up with light that there's there's feces smeared oh all over the walls okay that's what enlightenment is this New Age idea of enlightenment is junk junk and it needs to be rejected the light is not here to make you feel so elated and happy that you're like a drug you're like you're on drugs because that's what these New Agers are like they're so dis grounded they're so floating in some spiritual coma that it's it's like and it literally is they're on a drug they're had they have been Dorf ins flooding into the brain from from constant meditation and this constant non engagement with true reality that what is an endorphin folks it's an endogenous morphine they are on drugs that's what in him right brain imbalance brain is all about you're pumping so many endogenous morphine's or endorphins into the bloodstream and in the brain that you're totally in a state of imbalance get out of this new-age bunk ideology it's not true it's not true it's another religion to get you to stand down and give up your rights and these people all believe in government and believe oh yeah we should have government yeah all add vaq 'it's of violence and theft every one of them and just because you don't have the imagination to envision a world of people living without this sick institution of violence doesn't mean it isn't possible that's your limitation of your imagination because it's been stifled and retarded it has been stopped from flowing that's the problem with the world is that the imagination has been retarded in people look up the definition of the verb retard the word retard is not a noun it's a verb it's an action it means to slow down to stop the forward progress of to hold back understand the real meanings of words instead of what you think it means so we did an experiment I know I've talked way more than I even wanted to I wanted to get to the phones let's go to the phones we have several callers hanging on that's all I'm gonna say that's my year-in-review okay how's that this is what people need to know and understand and stop being polite about it with people that that time is so far past so far past to be polite about this with the state of the world that it's in now that if you're still in the New Age baby spoon I'm on a baby spoon that these little candied apples you know candied carrots to the little baby if you're still in that approach I don't know what to tell you I think you are you have been retarded yourself you your spiritual understanding has been so slowed down if you think that's what we're here to do we are we need to be putting this in people's faces directly and unapologetically why because this position is the right that's why if you have the right do not be fearful to bring it forcefully to people not violently but forcefully to people forcefully full of force use your will to speak it into creation and say it over and over and over and over and over and over and over and over again and never stop saying it because it's true I want to hear if anybody did the social experiment that I gave people last week that I suggested do people have an accurate understanding of simple words or are the definitions and the meanings of words completely obfuscated in their mind now let me give you my result before we go to the phones I did this with four individuals around a table okay and I gave them a slip of paper with the word Anarchy written on it and I gave them a second slip of paper with the phrase no rulers no masters written on it and I asked them on each piece of paper just flip it over to the back and write down one single word that you equate in your mind word association you associate with this word or phrase don't think about it too much give me your intuitive gut response of what word jumps into your mind when you see this phrase or this word now not one person wrote down the same thing and that's what the experiment is actually all about it's to see if you know that when I gave you the slip of paper Anarky and then I gave you the slip of paper no rulers no masters I actually gave you the definition of anarchy so if you wrote down no rulers no masters or on no rulers no masters you wrote down anarchy you would be correct simultaneously you would also be correct if on both pieces of paper you simply wrote down the word freedom because that's what both of these states are so that the two correct responses but see you could you can't write down no rulers no masters on anarchy so you would have to phrase the absence of rulers or masters in one word which would be anti-authoritarianism which is a long word but that would probably be an acceptable response for both if you wrote down under Anarchy anti-authoritarianism and if you wrote down under no rulers no masters anti-authoritarianism you'd be correct but think about it what is the state of anti-authoritarianism that means there is no no rules and no masters there is no master and slave relationship that is this condition called freedom so the real right response here if we really want to be honest there's only one right response to write down for both pieces of paper and that would be the one word freedom that's it so that didn't happen for anything except no rulers no masters everybody writes different things for anarchy most people write down chaos one person wrote down guns one person wrote down like I guess it was something to the effect of like strife or it was in some sort of an equivalent to chaos like uprising that that was it uprising okay so I got a couple different words for for Anarchy - I got chaos I got uprising I got guns I don't know how they you know they sort of equate the word anarchy and guns in their mind and that's okay you know if you think that's what it's gonna take to get to that state maybe you know that's somewhat accurate unfortunately but almost everybody under no rulers no Verret no masters writes down the word freedom they seem to understand that intuitively enough but for the word Anarchy they can't make that equation because they've been conditioned through endless repetition to believe through the media and the mind controllers to believe that anarchy means chaos you know it does not mean mayhem there is no accurate definition of the word Anarchy that means chaos from a.m. so let's go to the phones if anybody did this feel free to share your responses that you got and if you didn't anything that you want to talk about about the future of humanity is fair game for today's show so here we go Ivan and Phoenix you are live on what on earth is happening welcome my friend hello mark can you get me good today yes you're coming in loud and clear thank you okay good I went ahead and held on so taking my break until now so that way I can make sure you can hear me clearly okay yeah I did do a social experiment yesterday ear at work I had about 36 participants awesome that is awesome I I broke it down evenly that way I could have 18 on each okay so what were your results all right there so no rulers no masters I had 11 that were pretty good answers and then the remaining like seven were you know the people who had no idea what sound like love selfish release school college you know okay let's say love isn't a bad answer for that not that's fine because I also agree that that is the state of love absolutely so that's that's pretty alright so how many rotated him how many wrote down freedom okay I had four who actually wrote down freedom out of eighteen wow that's bad you need to make it five you can make it five because one or found no slaves okay kind of went against the instructions but okay alright well I only show them basically just write down the first thing that comes to mind I instructed people to write down only one word when I did it so that Matt can find their answer on the other side but that's okay and one person wrote down love that's that's an interesting and what I would call a correct response what else what other responses then you get for that phrase okay under no rulers and no masters beat for I love together which were pretty interesting I got lost confusion whoa whoa hold on hold on take them one at a time lost in math Wow like a pet let's see how do you see the worldview of people yep some people literally like a domesticated animal that's the first thing that came to their mind they didn't even associate it probably with themselves but they tells you what they really think about themselves a domesticated animal and lost all and that's that is telling and that that's I feel very very my heart just goes out to somebody who's in that mindset no wow okay what other words another word will confusion why do you think thing of law Wow and see here here is the actual internal state okay that they believe you have to have an external master to keep from happening confusion is actually the result of internal no rulers non rulership when there's internal anarchy that's a bad thing you need internal monarchy controlling the self see and they equated the state of no and no masters with confusion externally in society there would be confusion everywhere if we didn't have rulers and masters imagine that this is where people's mind is at at least this was the majority these four people put things down light lightness what were the other two all right prevent crime of course you need an you need a master for there to be good behavior so you need a master for there to be non-violence absolutely didn't you know oh these people are sick sick the last one what again be put to work but yeah no brain so I guess brainless if brainless oh my god folks just I mean do you see this is a great example do you see where some people are at can you see where most people are at I would say I mean this is brainless you are brainless if you believe that you're not a slave wow-wow is all I can say you know folks another thing that people get very angry at me for saying in person often too is if I ever were reunited with some of the darker cultists that I work with in my past I absolutely would not in any way want to do anything violent to them I would absolutely not want to even speak harshly to them I would go up to them I would offer a hand of I would extend a hand of good greeting and friendship and I would say well done sir I never would have believed that was possible that is how I would greet my former occultist cohorts you know whatever you want to call it companionships associates however you want to look at it but that is what I would do I would just say where you have brought human consciousness or unconsciousness as the case may be I never would have believed that it was possible and I would shake their hand and I would say magnificent magnificent job you know just incredible incredible as far as just being standing back in awe at the work that they've accomplished horrific though it may be it is awe-inspiring and I would say I would simply say you have my respect as an opponent if you will and in you know this construct but I would not I don't hate them I do not hate these people at all now who you can say I harbor resentment and ill-will toward and who I don't think anything good at all should ever happen to is someone who thinks like that someone who thinks like that is a damaged animal a damaged animal and if I were there I would tell them that to their face and if anybody gave me a response like that I'd tell them to to their face that they are broken and what broken means is that you've been turned into a domesticated animal that's what the term broken to break an animal means to domesticate them and make them accepting of their slavery and that person is broken you could tell them I said so if you want you don't have to but that's what I would tell them if I was there and trust me I'd tell them to their face you want to put them on I'll tell them to their face okay I'll give them my address if they have anything to say about it so what responses that you get for anarchy well well finishing off this no rulers and no masters I only had two that gave the word anarchy and there was one of them which he brought a smile to my face when he said it because he knew really got he made he already knew government and though the governor terrible and this and people think that Ivan there's obviously and there's obviously an al-qaeda operative there I mean you know come on somebody who doesn't think don't slave you know put him away I mean that's a dangerous person in society so okay what so what else did people write down for anarchy alright so now for Anarchy I lump these five together and they're your regular response I had to that said chaos of one that said mayhem of course mayhem of course one that rebel or labelled okay that made one that's that's better than some okay at one set criminals Wow now the exact opposite of the meaning people who are advocating the non-aggression principle and not committing crime not committing violence not committing theft and they are calling them criminal that that's what they are in their mind because that's how effective the mind-control technique of the obfuscation of the definitions of words is ladies and gentlemen if you can manipulate language listen to this very carefully if you can manipulate language you can manipulate thinking if you can manipulate language you can manipulate thinking this is why these people cannot think for themselves because they do not have they do not hold in their own mind the accurate meanings of words they have no definition no clarity the world is made of words ideas are made of words if you don't understand the words you are speaking you are creating unconsciously and you could be led and manipulated into believing anything anybody wants you to believe or accept Ivan very illuminating very illuminating okay great I got more attention oh yeah well this one is more mainstream Media Cana because when I said anarchy or and gave them the paper with Anarchy right away two of them put down the word Sun s ons so they were thinking of the TV show Sons of Anarchy not yeah that's the word that they can equate with it is Sons of Anarchy as in a TV show as if that has a thing to do with the concept of Anarchy unbeli we are living in a golem that you talk about zombies the zombie apocalypse is upon us ladies and gentlemen it's not coming it's here you're living among them okay these are golem creatures they have been made they have been molded like clay and just infused with some form of animation that vaguely imitates true life these are golems these are creatures these are zombies that's what they are Ivan thank you only one person and I would shake that gentleman's hand if I were you and I would go and talk to him you know I would become friends with that person because he knows he or she was it was an old mineral woman I was a male already knew the act that he would put because of someone that we speak okay brilliant brilliant shake his hand for me tell him I said wonderful so right great man Ivan thanks man you put a smile on my face as horrible as some of that is that's what enlightenment is about that's what something that is truly enlightening does it shows you what's there that's all it does it's uh what you say on the show you can see it in the real world it's not just you talking on the show saying oh this is this now when you go out here and talk to people and bring these questions up you're like you know there's like wow mark wasn't kidding he's right this is well people think Ivan thanks man I thank you for doing that you know and again you've we brought it out there for people that allow them to see where other people's mindset is that this is where the world is right now so what you're talking about your little submarine here in the last power I would have to see we're talking about you made me think of this documentary it's little new agey but the tidal had this problem and the solution in the title is that Tom Shadyac documentary I am unfamiliar I don't believe I have seen this one I have to check it out oh okay yeah yeah it's a little new agey but yet the the the title is what got me because the problem is who is the maker of i'm chad yak oh come share yaki is a big Hollywood director he's the one who did a liar liar and few of the Jim Carrey movies now then he had some accident and life-changing experience and he started you know looking going into the direction trying to think whether I did see this at some point in the past but I'll check it out again I am okay great well I brought it up because but you were talking about is is answered right there you know the problem is I am what's the problem I am because people let things happen were that we just that's right what's the solution act solution is I I am different because when you start taking action and doing things differently that that changes things that came to mind when you were talking that's awesome yep let's go back into the negative real quick here I work at the post office and sorting with these machines that are loud and disrupt our shows all the time but I came across a magazine cover from be a Smithsonian magazine and on the cover it says born to be bad and it's about the the new science of morality and that cover picture is a little baby with horns playing with the pitchfork like it's erotic so that's when you find similarity born to be bad babies so this is what's being put out there babies was hard the pitchforks unbelievable trying to skew people into thinking that's what human nature actually is there were somehow born right waterborne evil and that's not what human name at all we may be people yep and when they born into horrible conditions but even that's no excuse for condoning violence and theft you know the truth is always there everybody knows what wrongdoing is because they've been on the receiving end of it and they know what it feels like and therefore you know that it's wrong to do that to others and that's all it really comes down to we have to stop making excuses for people Ivan phenomenal all as always my friend you have a great new year all right you too mark and I look forward to seeing you in April but I'm sure we'll talk plenty of times before and after you take care of my friend all right you too great let's go to another caller call her from the 9:05 area code you are live on what on earth is happening welcome hello yes what's your name from Canada welcome it I think and I asked two people this social experiment okay and I label farm they both Nobel to be world order and the control system that surround us and the first individual that I asked about the first word that came to mind when you say no rulers yes good freedom okay and the second one anarchy was chaos right so still in that internal state of contradiction because he does not know the true meaning of the word Anarchy so oh did you did you reveal the meaning of the word through the etymology to him oh yeah his response because that's like basically the contrary of what everyone in society things like a miniature on top yeah because that's a minor control technique through the obfuscation of the real definition of a word and did he accept that

that's what the word anarchy really does mean no rulers no masks yeah it shows you this contradiction exists even in people that are already aware that they're living in a control system because they don't understand how powerful the obfuscation of definitions are how powerful that is as a mind control technique and the second individual that I decided to ask was will in Toronto in Toronto Ontario he's like a pretty like I guess respected alternative media journalist or a whistleblower I guess you can I guess you can call him and I asked him first what is what's the first word that comes to mind with no masters and he said any group dynamic works like like works like that and there's always going to be someone who ends up on the top yeah he's creating hell along with many other people doesn't realize it but that's that mindset is the generator of hell you can let them know I said that to that very mindset is what generates a prison that's where we're at enjoy that's what I would sell somebody like that your mindset and because more people like you have that same mindset that's why we're living in a cage thanks that's what I would do unbelieva the second one when I asked about Anarchy he also had said he said no such thing can exist you might as well be talking about dragons fairies and unicorns it's a nice theory you know it all exists I'm gonna tell you one of those it's going to exist when there's no more people like that person in the world then it will exist chew on that let him chew on that that's exactly when it will exist and that's that state is going to exist it's going to happen nothing can hold it back from happening do you want to know why and you could tell him I said this because that's God's will that's what God's will is is the true anarchy come into being in the physical domain as a matter of fact it already is in existence and it was put there by the Creator the the thing is it's the will that it's the will of creation that humanity goes back to living in that natural state and this little peon actually believes him and other idiots like him can thwart the will of God he believes that he believes his ego is stronger than all of creation combined he's gonna find out how wrong he is he may live he may live to find out how wrong he is I'd like you to tell him that I said that that I told him that because somebody like this you're never going to convince them or get them to see the truth they just need to hear you will be here to see how wrong you are your consciousness will exist to find out the depth of your wrongfulness the depth of your transgression against right and the depth of your illusion your consciousness will be here to find that out you will know it whether it's in this this lifetime this reality this incarnation or another you will be experiencing the truth that your ego is not more powerful than the will of creation so good luck with that man I mean again that's he's a perfect slave you know let me tell you what he is the occultists the dark occultus I work with have a name for him they have a name for him like I told people they call people the dead you know that's their name for the general on a totally asleep member of the population just as in general they call the population the dead okay they have a specific name for somebody like that who is so totally wrapped up in the aggression ideology and that it must always be like that and that there must always be masters and slaves and that anarchy is impossible to to achieve okay they have a name for him because that is the end result of the the perfection of their mind-control techniques and the name for him that that Satanists dark Luciferians dark occultists call that individual is the new man that's their name for him they have a special term they call this individual the new man it is their creation they have made something that that the Creator didn't make they made it as the gods of this planet they made this ball of sewage that they fashioned into a golem okay and imbue it with thoughts that are in its own and tell it what is and what isn't and it accepts like a computer program this golem creature this complete ball of sewage that they have they've molded like clay and that's what he is he's the new man according to the dark occult that's a term understand that term that's essentially what it is you can do research on it to them other people have brought this out i've directly you know enacted with people who have used that term as as Satanists telling people we are making the new man he is being made as we speak in society that is what they call him he is their new man because they made him for all intents and purposes that's what the powers of a god small G are you can make someone in your image and likeness and they've made him in their image and likeness out of much much lower and less powerful level but his mindset ism is the baby fide version the little miniaturized version of their mindset and they made him and they call him their new man and that's what he is sad tell him sure please do and I ask them well you might if I expand on this sure okay I asked him what is the reason why you feel Anarchy would not work and he said basically how would everyone get along when there is no one you know basically telling people what to do because he has that wouldn't mega-structure ego no imagination as to how human beings could accomplish anything no masters have to tell us everything do we need to do in life yeah yep you want to know the real reason that's the reason he told you but let me tell you this and you can tell him this so let him listen to this show okay the real reason he does not believe quote-unquote or accept that this could be here's the real psychological under underpinning underlying reason the real reason is because he hates himself that's the real reason he looks at himself at as a slave and in his own subconscious he feels slavery is all he is worthy of and therefore so must everyone else live in that condition ultimately self-loathing is the reason why anyone thinks that way he hates himself and you can tell him I said so or let him listen to this show okay and just want to touch one other point here I was I got into a bit of an argument or a debate with someone who is a facilitator and one of the occupied Rana movements okay and I got into an argument with in the boat he was trying to advocate more more gun registrations for more gun restrictions because most people are leftist and you know they have socialist leanings that and think that the state should be in control of everything and you know it's a very hairy field of endeavor when you're dealing with the occupiers you know some of them get it very few and far in between most of them are very ignorant and lack knowledge and have not don't really have a long view of history it's a shame they they really not study in history very much at all and they don't understand what historically happens when guns are confiscated in any given vicinity you're creating victim disarmament and then a government can run roughshod all over the people and it happens over and over and over and over again and there's thousands of historical accounts for it and yet these people just turn a blind eye because they want to believe what they want it was actually when I posted the video of and it sends betrayed or anybody comments early and he probably water you probably didn't even watch it how are you gonna even debate that this happened to the Armenians to the Russians to the German people how are you been even debate this in Rwanda in Cambodia in Chile everywhere where gun control has ever been passed it has been followed by a genocide historically everyone and that these people are still gonna argue that the world is some way magically that they think it is when it is not that way and here's a couple points I like this person's a child a child who has no long view of history he's stupid you know that's all I I don't have patience for this that's all I tell people you're dumb your unread you're dumb your unread you're an unread person you have no long view of history you don't read enough books go read more books that's what I tell people like that I don't even waste my breath arguing with them they're a dumb person a dumb person is not capable of creating any change he thinks he's gonna go and change the world as a part of the Occupy movement he doesn't understand something like that retarded slowed down because he doesn't read enough I mean some of the justifications that he was trying to use were some some points that uh you actually talked about in some of your previous shows so first I said if anyone has no one has the right to disarm someone's last means of defense you know for self-protection right because that's an inherent birthright right and he says you you mix up you you confuse instincts with right no you basically what is what he doesn't understand is what property is and he is an advocate of theft of property he believes also that sir people have special rights and I tell people please explain to me how anyone gets a right that I don't have if this person over here can carry and wield that weapon and own it how can I not and no one could explain this mechanism to me maybe someone will enlighten me in the future how can a right be born into existence that some that someone else doesn't have either every single individual has the right or no one has it and they're all the same there's no special rights for special individuals every single person has the same exact rights and he doesn't get that he doesn't understand that because he's an advocate of theft that's all he is a simple advocate of theft he's condoning violence and he doesn't get it that gun control is gun violence it's people coming with guns saying give me your guns you don't need to practice another sickening deplorable ideology that if anybody is app I don't even want to hear from pacifists I mean if you that again this is more self-loathing if you hate yourself so much that you would say I'd rather be killed than defend myself with force I don't even know what you are you're not a human being you're some kind of a degraded animal I mean imagine this this this ideology the sick twisted ideology of self-loathing called pacifism you have to be joking joking you're gonna sit there and take violence conducted you we're gonna try to curl up into a ball you're gonna run away like a little boy please grow up and grow a pair you know I mean I that's all I would say to him you know he doesn't care about himself or his rights or anybody else's rights he there's no self-love it's all self-loathing self-loathing well thank you thanks for the call great points that you brought up I'm going to take one more caller before we end the show here we go I think this is Jay Parker in Philadelphia Jay you can take us out great show mark and Happy New Year and really looking forward to the Marathon on American freedom radio on the 13th of January definitely I know you'll be like reading mind conference that's right Jay we'll definitely that we're not going to uh send out some really interesting points and get people to start thinking this all comes down to the bacon control of information through the school systems and we're looking absolute as long as you program people with the big lie then then you get what we've got that's right Jay thanks so much for the call one illuminated - one not the number one spell it out oh and E ok BlogTalkRadio calm Curtis has interviewed many of the biggest names in the esoteric genre such as John Anthony West Robert Bauval dr. Carmen bolter LAN Milo Duquette and many others born and raised in Brooklyn New York Curtis began his study of the occult sciences at the age of 18 after having experienced christianity and islam his search for something more first led him to study silva mind control and the works of dr. Nathaniel Brandon Curtis his studies then took him further into the works of dr. Connie's wig and Aleister Crowley as well as the kinetic sciences he then decided to share this knowledge with the world via occult science radio which he launched in April of 2008 in the age of digital content Curtis then wanted to make this knowledge of the occult science take this knowledge of the occult Sciences to the next level and so he founded the occult Network Curtis Davis currently resides in New York City alright let me see if I could bring Curtis into the call [Music] [Music] Curtis are you with us yes I am okay I apologize for the technical difficulties that I was having at the beginning of the show but they are ironed out now so ladies and gentlemen welcome to what on earth is happening the illuminated one Curtis Davis Curtis welcome glad to be here my friend you know I listen to this show of faithfully every Sunday and I come away of always all the more smarter my friend and it's a real honor you know what a privilege to be on here well I appreciate you being here and taking all the time to be here with us today so I why don't you uh why don't we begin by having you just give other listeners a little bit of background information about yourself what led you to some of the information that you now share with people and tell them about your websites and projects that you have on the horizon excellent well are pretty much like you said you know in the intro of Marc you know I started my occult studies around the age around 1718 and much like yourself you know at a young age when I looked around me and I saw the crazy things that were going on in the world you know I asked myself what on earth is happening you know there's gotta be you know more to this than what my young eyes are seeing and so I began really looking into the occult studies and I also began studying a union psychology which led me to really study um you know vast portions of our psychology dr. Nathaniel Branden dr. Connie's Vigo dr. Jeremiah Abrams and in addition to reading Aleister Crowley and you know he really really fascinated me and then as I began to delve more into a union psychology and dr. and Nathaniel Branden along with what I was learning about Aleister Crowley and the occult I began to mix the two and the main thing that jumped out at me and I found that was very empowering and liberating was that Oh with regard to mind that in order for one to make changes in one's world it had to start from within you know or not without and I was really know also I was also reading a little bit of Neville Goddard back then and one of the things that I encountered in his writings was that where there's a difference between you know resisting evil and renouncing evil you know when you resist evil you give it your attention and therefore it keeps perpetuating in your reality when you renounce of what people may classify as evil you turn away from that and turn to what you want by your imagination via visualization and when you concentrate on that then that's when your reality will change and then when I went back it basically I'll turn the light on inside of me and so you know with my young eyes at the time I said you need to tell me that I'm not the victim of others that I can create my own reality and once I became aware of that that's when things begin to change you know so that's why when I look at this conference and the name of the conference free your mind you know one of the things that I'm going to be talking about is basically how to really free one's mind how to change your inner world in order to affect your outer world because one of the things that you know to fight or to try to change the outer world before you change your inner world is very futile that's exactly right and people have to really grasp that at a deep fundamental level that the external reality that we're experiencing is actually a consequence of what we are holding in our mind it's a consequence of our deeply seeded belief systems and our attachments to those belief systems and if we want to create external change in the world around us that starts with creating change in what we think and believe that's where the change actually begins then it progresses through our emotional makeup and ultimately into our behaviors and the the amalgamation of all of all of that internal for all those internal processes in the totality of the population is what ultimately creates that change at a grand scale at a mass level precisely precisely so now one of the things that I plan on well the main thing that I plan on illuminating at the conference is basically you know because when I look at what's going on around us you know I know you and I whereas you would say oh we're the new media and when I look at things that are being thrown around like the Illuminati and al-qaida you know and things of that nature those are all just fair tactics being used by the mainstream media to keep people in a state of powerlessness helplessness and when that's that when those feelings and emotions of powerlessness and helplessness become embedded in one psyche then that's what would be that's will continue in your reality so it's basically something to keep people really scared all the time and they want people to believe that you have no control over your reality as long as you believe that there's an Illuminati out there you know there's a hidden hand out there that's controlling things and this keeping you helpless then oh you will feel that well you can do nothing about it you know so basically you know that's what you and I and many other great speakers are here to do with regard to this conference to let people know that the Illuminati is not controlling your reality not al-qaeda you know or not or the bilderbergs that you are in control or your reality and the only way that these things are going to these evil empires you know if you will for lack of better way you're putting it the only way that they're going to be all brought down is if we empower ourselves right no work and the inside out that's it aptly right it isn't to say that they don't have influence in the world through the current power structure that exists they certainly hold sway of influence but what you're saying is we do not need to give in and do their bidding if if we understand the difference between right and wrong we can exert our free will to choose the right over the wrong regardless of what we feel the immediate consequences may be to our checkbook or our our bank account or anything else for that matter it's about stepping out of the mindset of I need to choose to do what's best for me in this given moment and into the mindset of I need to do what's right at every moment regardless of what the consequences may be you know that's what's gonna improve the overall situation of our reality on on a mass scale on you know ASIS on a societal scale so um this is an impact a message of empowerment it's it's about telling people while these people may hold certain influence based on where a lot of people's mindset is at right now it doesn't need to be that way it can change it can be changed if we make a decision to change the way that we think and the behaviors that we're going to take as a result of the beliefs that we hold in our mind so it's a message of empowerment that's absolutely correct mark you know because like I said I listened to your show or every Sunday faithfully and you know being in New York City and I see what's you know going on in the world around us and how they're imposing all kinds of laws on they are the populace and people are just going along with it and I ask myself why and then the answer came rapidly that people have that feeling of powerlessness of helplessness you know and when I look at but you know law enforcement oh yeah you you really all went in on several shows about them law enforcement the military you know many of those people unfortunately are brainwashed you know they think that they are doing the bidding of a cabal if you will that is just not realizing that the people that are giving them their orders as you are said so beautifully on your own several of your shows that oh well you guys are our goons you know you're our dogs you do whatever we tell you to do and I really would like it is my dream if this conference can be a broadcast to every home you know military personnel and you know law-enforcement personnel if every each and every one of them can hear this and really wake up to see what's going on then perhaps they wouldn't be so quick to do the bidding of those who really don't give a damn about the populace and it just you know using the ignorant populace as the pawns in their game that's exactly right and you know we did a great show on this on a cult science radio several months back it was on you know the enforcers of the the dark new world order system and how they're basically going against natural law at every turn and doing things that they really don't have any right to do and how they really need to understand that they're being used being used completely that the people who are using them really don't care about them or anyone else they only care about advancing their own selfish agenda that show that we did I felt it was a really powerful hard-hitting information and you know some people will say that you know I went into places that were kind of harsh toward these enforced quote-unquote enforcers but I think um it was it stated the truth and in no uncertain terms and I wonder how that was received by people who listened to your your radio show do you have any uh have you ever gotten any feedback about that oh absolutely yeah you know I mean when we uh when we had that show and I recall it quite vividly as a matter of fact that has to be one of our highest-rated shows and to this very day you know my listeners are asking me when is Mark coming back and I said that we're gonna be bringing him on quite soon you know very soon you know within next week or so but you know cuz so many things you said in that interview mark is what a lot of people are thinking but once again are afraid to say right because when you have a feeling of hopelessness of powerlessness you know and you're afraid that you know I well I don't want to say or do certain things because I don't want to lose my job you know I have a family thank you or you know to support well that's the main thing that oh the controllers you know really all play on that you know you're giving the illusion of freedom but of freedom within limits okay I mean and if as I heard you say so many times on your show when I totally agree when if people really take the time to really consider what freedom really is then they would look at the society that we're living in and realized that we're not really free you know that we are the we are being used by those who are occultists you know and one of the tricks and you know this as well as I do and one of the tricks them one of the main fix that have been played on the masses is to tell the masses that the study of the occult is something to be avoided ya know it's a bad thing you know I mean this is devil worship you know and walk to the light you know you know if you want to be a good human being then go to church and study Jesus so go to the mosque and study Islam or not realize these people aren't realizing that you know there's nothing wrong with the Bible the Bible is one of the greatest if not the greatest occult book ever written where people have gone wrong is their misinterpretation of the Bible a literal interpretation yes exactly you know I mean people have been brainwashed into believing that oh the Bible is literal and and historical and people like you and I you know I we've been we endeavor to let people know that know the Bible is neither liberal nor historical it's metaphorical and Adam allegorical you know the Bible teaches you who you are you know and the powers of the mind the powers of the occult so what the controllers want to do and they've been doing for a very long time is miss educating people as to what the how the Bible is to be interpreted and that's why the church has become so strong in our society on people's fear and mis-education that's exactly right and you know one of the things one of the quotes that you put forward I believe in your bio for the for your mind to conference was it that after you learned the truth about what the occult really was and how it was all about self-examination and self-knowledge that you couldn't go back to the world of what you called organized distorted doctrine I love that phrase that you've coined because that's really what organized world religions are they're they're something that is there to hold us back it's it's in the etymological definition of the word religion from the Latin relig re to hold back or to tie back to thwart from forward progress that's what the distorted literalist doctrines of organized world religions are doing instead of encouraging people to go deeper within themselves and find the true spark of the divine that lies you know at the heart of every individual and to explore the self at a much deeper level and that is indeed what the occult studies are all about it's about hidden knowledge and ultimately it's about knowledge deep knowledge of self and how to go within and understand that we are part of the totality of the all and that everything is ultimately a manifested part of the underlying Unified Field of reality and more over than that to bring forward that hidden aspect of reality so that we can understand the laws that ultimately govern the consequences of what we are choosing in other words how we create reality that's what the occult is ultimately all about it is the understanding of the self and the laws of nature so it's it's it's a synthesis of the the underlying information that deals with the self in connection to the all or the the mind of God if you will that's what occultism is all about the studies of the hidden laws of nature and the self and that is exactly what the controllers do not want us understanding because if we understand that we can't be controlled by them that's exactly right you know because once you teach people that their power is outside of them you know that they're their power is some guy in the sky or some bad guy in the ground then you already have you already have disempowered them because then once you know as above so below once you have people believing that even their spiritual power is outside of them then naturally what are they going to do they're going to look at man and various governments and this agency and that agency as having power over them and even the Bible tells you that once you begin to empower yourself and realize who you are that no weapon formed against you shall prosper so now as we begin to evolve as people begin to get this information that you myself and so many others are really trying to bring to the masses especially those are great speakers that are all going to be at the conference then these people the controllers they'll start shaking in their boots because now people are really coming into the true knowledge you know that there's no external God in the sky or no external demon in the ground that everything and everyone is within is within you know that what you're looking at right now is a reality that you create so now when we look at our reality and if we see that we are being controlled by outside forces or what we perceive to be outside forces it's because somewhere in our inner world in our psyche we believe ourselves to be powerless to be helpless and that something outside of us is stronger than us can conquer us so once we really get that into the minds of the people then there won't ever be a 911 bombing there won't be any more Wars you know then you know we will begin to see the changes here on earth that you and I dream of seeing every day and I just want to say a quick happy birthday to our beautiful friend Oh Anthony Michael Costello happy birthday absolutely it is Michael falsities birthday today and ladies and gentlemen let me tell you this is the driving force behind the free your mind to event and without Michael none of this would be happening everybody owes him a debt of gratitude for stepping forward in the capacity that he has to help to co-host the for your mind events and you know it's its unsung heroes like that that we we owe debts of gratitude to on a day-to-day basis and it's his birthday today so absolutely happy birthday Michael falsetto so um let me give the caller number for the show Curtis in case anyone has any questions for you the calling number to join us here on what on earth is happening we have Curtis for another half an hour is 8 6 6 8 4 1 1 0 6 5 once again the calling number if you have any questions for Curtis Davis the illuminated one from the occult network 8 6 6 8 4 1 1 0 6 5 call in with your questions Curtis uh it really is all about self respect you know it's about what humanity feels that it's worthy of you know you you ask so many people well you know can humanity truly be free and live without rulers without government that is about violence controlling them and so many people just have such a low opinion of humanity and themselves that they no human beings are too evil they're too bad this is our nature you know and that it has to always be like that a relationship of masters and slaves I mean I can't even imagine that this is how most people think but you know I I came on the air and I tell people it's true more people unfortunately think like that than not because if more people didn't think like that the world wouldn't be the way that it is today that we wouldn't have these power structures running our lives basically and you know threatening us with violence if we you know don't do as we as they say we must do so how give me your take on how you feel self-respect uh plays into that whole dynamic do you concur with that and do you see it that way oh yes indeed you know because Oh with self-respect when you have a high level of self-respect then that's gonna radiate out into the read into your your environment you know because then you're gonna have you're gonna have just as much respect for for the people and things around you right and you know when you have people thinking that well you know I'm helpless you know I can't do anything about what's going on around me I'm just a victim of it okay whatever laws they pass in Washington DC I just have to go along with it and the main thing here that has really gotten our society into the mess that it's that it's in now is that people unfortunately began to adhere to man's laws instead of universal law you know and in my mind you know when you talk about the fall in the Bible no it's not uh it's not God or casting Satan out of some mythical you know a fictional heaven to me I interpret the fall as when man began to follow the laws of man instead of following universal law yes absolutely I couldn't agree more I think that's a great take on what the fall is ultimately all about the fall into ego is when man started believing that that he was the maker of the law capital L you know and he wanted to subvert the the laws of creation with his own law you know that that was the beginning of the fall into a you know the prison society that we're living in right now today yes indeed I mean because when we look at our society I mean we look at let's take this on the good old US of A here now the good old US of A would have you believe I mean in god we trust' you know I mean and then oh the good old US of A supposedly lives by the Ten Commandments and you know when I look in our society today and what law enforcement is doing we're living in the society now we're basically if two people get into a skirmish on the street you know the law enforcement or personnel will take these people to jail but yet instill were also live that same system if you don't adhere to it or if you buck against it and believe me I had a guest on my show her name is uh cher until Jack s'en yes former IRS agent cheated her she could attest to this courageous woman oh yes oh yes and but this is the same society that if you don't go along with its laws it will hit it will not hesitate to commit acts of violence against you you know so now when we talk about freeing our mind you know one of the first things we have to do is get in the goal within ourselves and get to those feelings of helplessness of powerlessness and bring them to the forefront you know the first thing that we all have to do collectively is admit that we have been Mis educated you know we have been bamboozled we have been the hoodwinked and we need to talk us that's one of the reasons why you see all of this media coming out now their iPhones you know the three million channels on cable TV and all of this stuff that's being thrown at us on the Internet is to keep people constantly looking outward because when you keep people looking externally that keeps them away from themselves and going within and the controller's notice that if people turn from the external and go to the internal and begin to develop themselves from the inside out then what they're looking at now is going to crumble you know so basically when I look at all that's being done in society today with these are you know these mass shootings you know it's basically to keep people looking at out word you know so now in order to truly free our minds and I've learned a lot about how to do this from reading the works of dr. Nathaniel Branden and of and reading a great book romancing the shadow by dr. carnies why dr. Brandon has what and I'm going to share this at the conference I can I can't wait for that conference there's a he utilizes something in his in his own writings called the sentence completion technique and this is a technique where people take pen and paper and they basically do a send a series of sentence stems you know to really illuminate what's inside of them and then when you begin to bring to the forefront okay what was the origin of the current feeling of helplessness or powerlessness that I'm feeling now that has been constantly reflected back to me in my external world and once you get to the root of that and you can always change it through visualization and imagination and then when you get to the root of your helplessness of your powerlessness you know of your hurt and your anger then you begin to change and then your outer world begins to change so now people have been going about it the wrong way you know when they don't like something that the government is doing the first thing I want to do is march on Washington or protests or Occupy Wall Street or occupy this place that place but when you try to change things externally you're gonna fail every time right okay if you want to I tell people all the time okay if are the Illuminati if there's such bad people you want to bring them down yes then you're not going to bring them down with tanks and battleships and and it and aircraft carriers the way that you're going to quote-unquote bring the Illuminati down is to empower yourself right and and that that is a reflection of the principle of cause and effect you're talking about going past the effects that we see in the external reality that we experienced going deeper than that layer of effect and getting down to the root to the causal factor then the the realm of causality because those causal factors are what generate the effects and it's like a projector and a screen you could look at the screen as the effect but the projector is the generator it's the causal factor that is putting that image on the screen if you don't like what you're seeing on the screen you have to go back to the projector and change the projection from there from the source and that source is what's going on within ourselves that's correct you know I mean let's look at what's been going on recently in our society we had the situation in Connecticut you know we had the situation in Colorado where you know it the mainstream media wants people to believe that these were people who went off the deep end and picked up firearms and slaughtered many people but and I'm gonna and I have no problem saying this out loud and in public for as long as I've been doing this mark and you've been doing this a long time too you know let's go back to the scare tactics that the oppressors used once again as we always talked about to keep people looking outward in my estimation I believe that when we hear about these shootings where somebody picks up a rifle and goes into some mall or some school and kills several people that these are all things that are orchestrated by the oppressors you know once again and you know what's their objective once again to keep people fearful and once you keep people fearful you know then that just magnifies they're there they're already having feelings of powerlessness and helplessness and so when you have people fearful now what's going to happen now this is a reason to bring in their or nonsensical laws and if you look at many of the laws in this country yes they have no basis in reality and they are very nonsensical so now Obama just passed um laws where they're going to be are possibly confiscating people's guns on making it difficult for people to purchase firearms but now what's really going on here let's look at this deeper okay you want to disarm the masses okay in order to make it easier for the dogs you know the goons as I call them to really smack the masses around more than all what they're already doing because if you have an unarmed or population and a heavily armed military and paramilitary unit okay who do you thinks gonna win that fight exactly you know so now if you have people who are unable to defend themselves okay cuz I mean I mean I'm in New York City and I mean let's not kid ourselves we have a lot of people out there who are behind that badge and that gun who do not utilize it to help people you know I've seen in many instances where the police have abused their authority so basically what they're doing now this is just another ploy to keep people fearful keep them powerless and make them easier to manipulate because now we're living in a society now where people are really going where people are really being incarcerated for nonsense yeah you know I mean I'm here in New York City now we have the the police running around arresting people for merely smoking a joint Curtis I I just took a look at a little mini pamphlet that law enforcement in this area sends around to different locations I got it through a friend and it was a you know mug shots of people who have you know been incarcerated recently you know and basically over 75 to 80 percent of those people were put in jail for nonviolent offenses okay non crimes essentially where they did not harm anybody else just arrested for the possession of substance and or other things that had absolutely nothing to do with at the actual hurting of another human being and that's what the the jail cells in this country are full of that they're full of people who have actually done no harm to another living human being and their freedom has been taken away nonetheless and there are so many people who think this is acceptable and that's okay and and all they're doing is condoning the theft of the freedom of other people just like I said last week on the air the this whole place Earth has become it doesn't have to be like this but it has become because of what we have turned it into a prison for thieves and all the people who are being trapped into this prison are either committing theft or condoning theft the people that the police who put these people in into jail cells and the judges and the politicians they are thieves they have stolen something that doesn't belong to them those individuals freedom and all the people who support that who think that that's okay and is somehow moral when it is absolutely not are the condoning they condone theft and that's why they're in this planet which is I called it the planet which is a prison for thieves the print the prison planet is a specific kind of prison planet that notion of the prison planet like Alex Jones coin has been around for a long time but it's actually a prison for thieves that's the specific type of prison that it is I want to get your take on you know my view of that that I put out there last week and I totally agree with you on your point that police aren't doing this to protect anybody their revenue men for the new king which is called government and all they're doing is out there doing things that have absolutely they have absolutely no right to do in a large proportion of what their job is all about there's you know a small small portion that they're doing that that is taking a violent criminal and and you know making sure that they're dealt with but as far as the vast majority of what these people are doing they have absolutely no right to do it and it's putting people into this prison faster and faster at a faster rate and the people who are condoning it are part of that process your take on that oh yes I agree you know I mean once again this is a classic case mark of man or attempting to raise his laws above universal laws so now when you begin to incarcerate people for trivial things what are you creating I mean we're living in a society now where extensive background checks are done and in many instances if you've been arrested even for something as a as small as being in possession of a marijuana joint okay that's going to come up on your background check and most likely what's going to happen you're not going to get the job so now what are they doing to people now they are creating a society and mind you people we are not talking about some third world country we're talking about the United States this is going on right here in the United States so when you begin to incarcerate people enlarge numbers and or and stay and/or smear their names if you will what's gonna what's the cause and effect here now you're gonna have a large populous out here that is unemployed and then once people are unemployed they cannot secure a job okay people are going to do what they have to do mark to survive and in many instances unfortunately people are going to resort to quote end quote illegal measures to make money and then if in the event you know while they're doing whatever it is they're doing to make money once again the law enforcement personnel is going to catch up with them again and then they're going to incarcerate them so now once you're incarcerated what they're doing they're taking that all of these inmates and using them for free labor forced labor that's right forced labor you know and I saw it up close and personal because I was a state correction officer in the largest prison system in the country okay the Texas Department of Criminal Justice and when I saw how they were taking these inmates and bringing them out to fix the highways clean the highways and clean the streets that's when it all became clear to me because now instead of having to pay some city worker to all fix a pothole does you know why it will just get inmates to do it and pay them Oh five cents an hour and they'll get the same amount of work done now does that sound like the works of a just government as a matter of fact absolutely not and as a matter of fact I would go so far as to say it's no different than something like Auschwitz or Sobibor Treblinka or any other forced labor camp that has existed before in totalitarian regimes we may not be exterminating these people or working them to death but we're still making them basically do this work for slave labor wages and also that takes a work out of the the circulation in the population at large so P other people are are harder pressed to find jobs and it's it's completely immoral and this is all it's a form it's a different form of slavery especially for all the people who have been put there for absolutely no offense to another human being they have not actually caused harm or broken a universal spiritual law they have simply broken this thing which is called man's law which is the arbitrary whims of politicians and the the Finance ears that ultimately own those politicians like puppets and it's completely amoral and it's no different than any other forced labor camp in history true I mean my thing is you can't legislate morality I mean when even when you look at drugs okay in my estimation and I'm quite sure many people out there will agree with me on this or whatever drugs are out there it is our right this is our body this is our mind if we want to ingest whatever drug is out there as long as we're not doing it at the expense of someone else we have a right to do with our bodies what we want right and anything anything short of that is slavery I mean you know that what like the prison system that you're talking about that is that is all about forced labor that's a form of slavery making a claim of ownership on the body of another person and telling them what they may or may not put into their own body is a claim of ownership on the person's body and that's a form of slavery and people just they can't see it as such it's amazing that they they they can't understand ownership at that level to understand that that's slavery I talk about it all the time taxation property taxes all forms of taxes it's slavery it's saying your labor belongs to me I'll take the product of your labor at whatever you know value I happen to set at my whim and you have to pay it otherwise I'm gonna do violence to you or put you in some kind of a prison cell and that's called slavery that's the definition of slavery I challenge challenged people a couple of weeks ago or last week I forgot when it was did call in and tell me what value what number what percentage is it not slavery anymore when you're telling people you have to give this amount of the product of your labor to me for whatever reason I say it's going to be used for no matter how humanitarian or you know socially I claim that after that you know usage is going to be and you know I'm gonna say 10% has to go to me you must type 10% of your the product of your labor to me is that not slavery just because it's 10% you know a hundred percent we all recognize that would be slavery but what number is it not slavery is my question exactly you know that's why I implore people you know anyone who's out there who's within earshot of this broadcast April 25th 26th 27th in Philadelphia Pennsylvania you must attend this conference because the things that you that you hear myself and Mark discussing now on how they're working everyday to take more and more of the citizens rights away come to that conference because you have a very powerful lineup of people there that have the answers you know this isn't a conference where you know we all just get together have cocktails meet and greet and spew a bunch of rhetoric and everybody walks away and as still as clueless as they were when they walked in no no no my friends if you go to the website the free your mind conference website and you take a look at the lineup of speakers that are going to be present at that conference I guarantee you that anyone who attends that conference if you walk away from that conference still feeling powerless still feeling helpless you know still feeling that or you can't fight city hall you can't fight the government then you sat there for three days and you didn't listen whole worldviews are going to be changed as a result of what we're going to be doing this spring that's the goal of the for your mind to conference to shift and change entire world views in people's minds and get them out of their state of learned helplessness and empower them that's what it's ultimately all about Curtis um we have a couple of minutes left I want to give you the floor I have you tell the listeners more about your website and radio show and anything else you want to share with the listening audience the floor is yours thank you my friend you know for those of you who are interested in hearing or my broadcast as well you know I mean mark has been a frequent visitor on there and get ready to be on the show or several more times you know because we're brothers in the struggle if you will please you can google a cult science radio and it'll take you right there and if you really want to see what we're doing visually you know I really wanted to begin a network to really show this type of information visually as well because when I looked in that mainstream media I realized that they are not going to put out the type of information that you hear for myself and Mark and many others so for those of you who really want to get ly educated if you will just visit the occult network.com we have a free content and you also have our premium content as well thank you so much for being here we're coming up to the station break at the top of the hour we'll be back with your calls stay with us [Music] alright ladies and gentlemen we are back you're listening to what on earth is happening here on the oracle broadcasting radio network on your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we were joined in the first hour by the illuminated one Curtis Davis and a great great interview there Curtis brought out so many poignant topics it's gonna be a pleasure to have him as part of the free your mind to conference coming up here in Philadelphia in April on April 25th through 27th so we're gonna have open lines this hour free discussion no taboo topics anything you want to talk about related to the state of the world human freedom and the topics that I've been covering over the last few weeks here on what on earth is happening so without further ado let's go right to your calls here we go I Ivan in Phoenix you're live on what on earth is happening welcome my friend Ivan are you there okay looks like we're having a problem with the call so Ivan if you're listening I'll give us a call back and I'll try to put you through Paul you're live on what on earth is happening welcome Paul are you there going once going twice okay not sure what's going on I'm hoping this isn't a problem with the switchboard let's see Nathan in Arizona you are live on what on earth on earth is happening welcome Nathan hey oh hey we got one out of three okay yes you're live welcome uh-huh okay yeah no I was a hold of you guys and I had another call come in and just made it in time like it ha ha you guys are talking some good stuff today I want to appreciate or show my appreciation first and you guys are dealing with for your line and I just wanted to put it out there to your listeners and you guys the right of self-determination as an international public and private law or enactment that individuals can use to for people to look into the book law of nations by the TEL and then with your with really you know the Matrix trilogy presentation that you put out that there actually is such a thing called the the Leon Keith matrix I don't know if you guys have heard of that but if you guys there's plenty of search results that come up and for your listeners to just maybe look initiative spell it for so I'm not like to check it out I'm mopping and I'm not close to it l I think it's just all do in key IES and I can't remember the guys first name but it has to do with economics and supposedly it was implemented into into what we've got going on today so there really is kind of a matrix going on here and as far as what I've read and it's just a really interesting subject and I was loving if people would check out the right of self-determination the law of nations and the Leon Keith matrix I just want to put those guys out there into the air absolutely thank you for that thank you you're not take care all right let's try to go back to 905 area code I believe this is Ivan and Phoenix welcome hi mark hello mark yes partner is this Ivan hi sorry no this is our Ron in Canada oh I'm sorry okay you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark I've been listening to this the program just before the break-in is it's awesome radio I could listen to this for eight hours I wish I didn't have to listen or call me to a radio show to actually have these kind of conversations with people I hear you what about going back to the earlier part of what the guess was speaking about those about finding your inner self and this is a solutions-based so I just like to offer some of the things that I did just in case people aren't you know aware of how to go about this because it's been a few years of doing this for me I think the first thing you got to do get rid of all the stupid distractions in your life that are out there to make people mindless right for me it was like getting rid of things like sports sports reading television partying you know useless hanging out and and then the other thing that you should do too is just humble yourself you need to learn to humble yourself and realize that you're just one little thing in this great universe and I think you need to take a lot of lessons from nature like stop and watch a spider weave a web you stand there for five minutes it's the most amazing thing because you're learning patience you're learning diligence like how hard they work to make this beautiful thing you know nature puts all these lessons out for us the other things you can do to empower yourself like to change your diet like he's spoken about and this sort of thing be getting into actually finding wild edibles study some of that stuff and gradually you're empowering yourself because you're becoming more self-sufficient that's right abs on and it it's all about stepping into the the flow of creation and and making a connection with the natural world again as opposed to wrapped up in the artificial world which is the matrix that exists all around us that is there to control us Nature has given us all the things to give us lessons out there which is your animals and and your plants to survive off of and these sorts of things the other thing is to like you realize what you're doing in your own life with your own behavior and and some of the worst things that I find out there that people get caught up in is gossip and rumors I absolutely hate that stuff and you know I was certainly not perfect with that but once you avoid gossip and rumors there's certain energies that I feel they get spun when you do that right and it just creates you create animosity amongst people and this and that and if you avoid that stay away from that guess what you're not making any enemies it's very much a divide and conquer strategy to get people to highlight their differences and the ways that they you know see each other as separate and that's that's ultimately what all that is out there exactly I mean you aren't there to see what may have happened in a situation between a couple people so therefore it's not for you to judge you are not the judge so don't judge people if you don't like something about what somebody's doing or something you know pisses you off about them avoid them and and that's what he was talking about with eagle and instead of like taking it head on and fighting it you know get it away from you right and go towards go towards the light yeah I mean that I definitely see as a solution is non-compliance the problem is is if not enough people do that and if you know these are oppressors want to keep coming with their tyranny at some point someone's going to ultimately have to stand up to them and that's why maintaining the the right to inherent self defense is so important that we never give up that right or let it be usurped from us slowly over a period of time but I agree actually what when you talk about that Martin I live in Canada our balls have been cut off already right right yeah it's on these opportunity many countries throughout no nobody in this country from coast to coast is allowed to carry a weapon at all and they did this so-called like I'm ex-military of many years ago and I know about all about the weapons and you know an assault weapon can be a brick they want a monopoly on they want a monopoly on the use of force they want to tell you only government has a right to use force the general population never has a right to use force in defense of themselves their Liberty their property and that's not true that's a lie it doesn't matter how many laws are ever passed that say that that's so the people need to reject it and live otherwise and will be willing to defend themselves as someone else comes up and says you don't have this right yes I do you didn't give grant this right this right exists inherently in nature and you're not taking it away let me tell you what happened you mentioned Sobibor and Treblinka well then you're gonna end up on a train going more like I'll tell you what in this country it's gonna happen differently they picked the wrong place to try to take the firearms away from the people that's all I heard oh I certainly hope so because you know what I love Americans you have a beautiful country and I just hate your government but your government is part of the world government which also governs so I mean even I do dismally thing our government already sent one aircraft over it's just one aircraft but you know it says that okay we're into that Mali thing - we want the friggin gold - right so we'll send you an aircraft it'll haul - yeah no - get in there to your people to kill and all that but anyway I don't want to keep you from other colors and stay too long I mean that's about all I had to say for today no problem I thank you very much for the call great points you take care you got a great call yeah I definitely agree with that caller put forward I want to add to it a little bit that on the the gun confiscation thing that they're trying to put forward in this country you know and Obama's saying that he wants to put executive orders through and the Congress not not rising up like it should and saying you know that this is gonna I mean well I really believe what they're trying to do is to foment a civil or in this country and in all honesty I think they're going to get it I think you know there's enough people here in this country that aren't gonna lay down they're not gonna hand in their firearms no matter what the law says and the sentiment on the street that I have been privy to I won't you know go into any details or names obviously but the people I have been talking to on the street just in this vicinity alone where I live let me tell you something I think they grossly miscalculated this chess move is all I have to say because the firearms are owners who I know are ready for a move like this to say the least and if they try this it's gonna be a very bad miscalculation from where I see it the perspective I see it at and the American people who own firearms are not going quietly into the night that's I mean that's all I have to say I mean you could extrapolate what you will from there but good luck getting the guns away from American citizenry good luck because I wouldn't want to try to be on that effort on the side of that effort the people who were on the side of that effort are taking a bigger chance than I ever would that and that's all I have to say on that so let's go to another caller here we go another 9:05 area code I believe this is up in Canada you're live on what on earth is happening welcome or did I just go to the same caller yes you're live okay Lucas welcome hey I want to just clarify your stance on okay well first I'm going to money I realize that money is the emotional control like you said that congratulate apathy it's it's basically the mother aspect or the care emotional aspect right that the tapes takes our care and focuses it into something that's artificial and artificially created that doesn't exist in nature so that it actually takes our care and attention away from things that we really should be focusing it upon absolutely yeah proxy yeah so I'm would I've been trying to look for some solution been trying to introduce them into my community and stuff like that and the thing that comes up about community currencies with the year stance on the community currency would that be going far enough or would you say completely perfect well I think it's a stepping stone it's a stepping stone to get away from the totally controlled fiat currencies that are you know that the interest rates are set by central banks and the amount of money in circulation or is set by them and these are immoral people these immoral controllers you know are using this as a boom and bust cycle for basically seizing all liquid assets within a society that's really how fractional reserve banking ultimately works as a stepping stone to neo feudalism in a nutshell but I think a community currency would be a stepping stone to getting away from that a barter system would be a stepping stone to getting further away from it and I think ultimately what they call a gift economy or simply a gift economy is ultimately a higher level of consciousness that's where we need to ultimately get to realization that there's only people and needs they all we all share the same basic needs for survival and if we understand that we are one and we are one human family and that other someone else's suffering is our suffering it's there it's one in the same if one suffers all suffer that's ultimately the highest expression of the teachings of the mystery traditions and you know people who are you know not who think what I'm saying is communism don't understand what I'm saying I'm totally against communism because that's rule of resources by the state this has to do with a higher level of consciousness being the ultimate goal of understanding that there's no separation between us and others at a fundamental unified field level of awareness of consciousness and that we share the same basic needs and we have the same desires for freedom for being left alone for being able to express ourselves to be able to do what we want so long as we're not hurting anyone else and ultimately I think resources need to flow freely between people at that level of consciousness simply because they recognize themselves as the same family you know you wouldn't charge people in your family to share resources that you have amongst yourself and your immediate family the higher consciousness is simply all about extending that understanding of togetherness and oneness out to a global level and a universal level galactic and then ultimately to a universal level you say that to people and they can't many people cannot really understand that State of Mind because they're not adding they're still in the me me me my freedom aspect of consciousness even when it comes to people who understand the control system but still don't think that money could ever be gotten rid of and think of it as some kind of a great you know invention that it acts as an a medium of exchange let me explain something currency is not current okay current in an electrical system the flow of energy it is the limiter of energy money limits access to energy in a system as such it is the resistor in the car in the circuit it is the resistance in the circuit that's what money access this is what people need to understand you've been duped into thinking that it's a system a medium of exchange it has nothing to do with that it has absolutely nothing to do with that that's what the controllers that the money master sorcerers want you to think that money is money is the resistance to the flow inside of the system that's my clarification on where I think it needs to go as far as a a new monetary system paving the way to a no monetary system it's all about no that's what we have to get to that level of consciousness is what we have to get to stripping away all of the things that do not serve ourselves truly the serving the higher self you know and getting rid of them you know it's it's not about reforming anything it's ultimately about doing away with the things that are false that are untrue that aren't based in in nature and ultimate reality that's what it's all about it's about know the lost word which is that higher state of consciousness to which I'm furring thanks for clarifying that up oh absolutely anything okay um I've been trying to introduce some of these ideas to a lot of people in the school and as well just generally any this need Occupy movements and all these other I wanted to just clarify my socialist I mean collectivist but that's what they are yeah midnight uh I wouldn't use a blanket statement there's summit within that movement that do understand but yet you are correct in general to make a generality which I'm okay with that that is true for the majority of people within a movement such as the Occupy movement I kind of stated my stance on this a little bit last week and on other shows earlier that they're a movement that you know they they have good intentions but they don't have enough knowledge they need to do their homework more particularly about world history and about really the occult they that many of these people are completely ignorant of the world of the dark occult and don't understand that that's ultimately what's running things behind the scenes they're very ignorant of occultism secret society secret societies mind-control think-tank organizations and their machination zand world affairs and they they just really need to go back to the drawing board and do more homework and read more books quite frankly as harsh as that may sound that that is the case I I understand they have good intentions but without deep knowledge good intentions paved the way to hell as they say so yeah so you guys will continue meaning the way that I see why they're trying to justify collectivism is because of the whole manmade global warming and this is being pushed into schools in the whole Occupy movement and they got people so terrified that the world's going to overheat and we're all gonna sorry about this right that's all going to die so therefore we need to collective ID in this groupthink where we where we do this for the greater good and we can you know basically get rid of people unwanted ones that are you know 13 environment so to say or stuff you know making justifications for the greater good right right which which is what all collectivists ultimately do and again don't confuse with what I'm saying about getting of a monetary system and replacing it with ultimately a gift economy or resource based economy with collectivism the right so you don't have to be respected at all times and places above all else and you know I'm not talking about theft I'm not talking about taking from people who have earned something and and making them give it to other people that's theft that's what taxation is you know so that distinction should clearly be made so I'm glad you brought that up but yeah global warming is another big misunderstanding in science that people and and an agenda as well and a misunderstanding by certain scientists and an agenda by others to uh you know continue to propagate this agenda for further control over minuscule my new aspects of people's lives and ultimately to bring him into a totalitarian collective absolutely right what would you suggest to hammering to these people's minds like it like just say that in the garbage science like how can I introduce these things that people without them just I want only look up Climategate first of all really here's one of the best things to do really get involved and start studying solar science okay if you don't understand how deeply and fundamentally connected the cycles of the Sun are to climate here on earth you understand nothing about how this entire solar system operates that's the number one thing to look at if we're trying to we're trying to look at climate change in the course of what a small amounts of of man-made pollutants we're putting into the atmosphere that is contributing it is a contributing factor to what may be happening with climate overall but nothing is more of a contributing factor or a larger factor than that large light in the heavens that illuminates the day called the Sun you may want to look into that you may want to deeply look into that about a climate cycles aren't just a suggestion but but I follow solar weather every day the Sun is what is responsible for life being on the earth and being able to sustain on the earth you want to look at solar cycle progressions in particular sunspot progressions things like that and you want to look at geomagnetic flux solar wind you want to look at all of the different variables go to all the different great science sites that take wonderful pictures of the Sun through advanced satellites and try to understand solar science a little bit deeper and understand how fundamentally interconnected that is to the climate that we experience here on the earth that's one of the things I would tell them to do instead of being so focused on just man-made activity and man-made pollutants and I'm not again don't confuse this with saying I'm for pollution of the environment I'm not for the production of the earth we depend on the earth you know for life as well and it should be respected and not polluted it is a living organism on which we depend for life absolutely is a we are part of that holistic dynamic of life that is the earth and but saying that of the the climate change that we maybe experience at any given time is just the direct result of how many units of carbon a necessary substance for the cycle of life that human beings may be putting into the atmosphere is utter pseudoscience and nonsense and people really need to look at solar cycle progressions to understand the progressions of changing climate okay thanks yeah I saw a correlation well I think correlations between you know having knowledge of cycles and how do you think can be predicted so the way that I look at it is we had a priests class back in the day that would predict eclipses where happening yes they scare people they scare people shitless yes if you don't do what God's gonna say you know the sun's gonna go away I hope another cycle which they have knowledge of there Oh Colton's right because they were just they were just the astronomers of their time the rest of the people were ignorant of that science and that knowledge could be used as a weapon against the ignorance that's how occultism that's how dar ocultism let's caveat that with the word dark that's how dark ocultism operates exactly great point okay thank you very much that they all had thanks absolutely thank you so much for the call great points you brought up as well I always have the best callers here on this show I've say time and time again the points they bring up or right right on target and hit home and get to what people really need to to understand so thanks thanks for the calls let's try Paul or Gilles Paul it says on the screen yep yes you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to smart actually my name is Martin so I want to talk about a way to demystify occultism like you mentioned that earlier circle right hand one way I was thinking of and they may have been partnering on this is the idea that the logos is really the way of explaining the human condition how the knowing the words themselves is a way to know yes what's taking place like we talk about the law of attraction and the law of causality or a lot of correspondents but really they're just the words themselves causality attraction if you just know the word you understand that it's a constant in the universe that's right and like he was talking about distractions earlier and how distractions you know that's that's a the law of attraction right there that's right and boy do I have so many of them in today's modern society you know people are dead trapped in that maze of distraction and it's preventing them even myself sigh real yeah yeah yeah not to be affected the even TV being turned on them I can't help but like turn my head toward towards it and like you just have to have a really stern mind just if your mind is weak you'll easily be affected by it you know now for economics I want to mention that Charles Eisenstein and it's really good source he wrote this sacred economics and he talks about gift-giving okay interesting um I really recommend that book I highlighted it give me his name one more time Charles Eisenstein okay I will do it um and he was just talking about that's another thing so many listeners bring to my attention many things I have have not been aware of myself and I do go in and research the things that our listeners bring to my attention so thanks for that definitely is a great source as well he he's from Yale University and just as far as getting more credit or more like distinguished individuals as you know packing this these ideas up because he you know these ideas are not just like from like people are just something themselves from these ideas because you know it seems to be from a group of people that are really you know mainstream but they're prevalent everywhere it's just he just to find the right sources everybody's spoken about I feel like the amount of sources who was it that wrote the book on like um he was from Stanford wrote the book on skull and bones I mean as far as distinguished individuals people with the highest degrees what's her name Katherine Austin Spitz for example very distinguished I'm from her work in exposing the immorality in our current financial system and I think she does very good work as well yep um I got most of what I wanted to get across I'm just glad I got on the line so that other people have a chance to talk so thank you oh absolutely thanks so much for pointing out what you did and I will take a look at some of that research that you talked about by eisenstein thanks okay great okay let's take another caller let's go to private caller you're live on what on earth is happening welcome yes you've been talking a lot about you know theft and one of your slide says we will continue to be imprisoned until we stop committing and condoning theft yes and I completely agree with that I've heard you time and time again speak about the enslavement of our species and I want to know do you yourself can zoom and contribute to the enslavement of other species no I do not so are you a full-out vegan I'm not a vegan I'm a vegetarian but the sources of eggs that I get for some vitamin b12 is a non slaughter source okay so no I actually wasn't even thinking about eggs you know but dairy products milk and cheese those are products that would not be possible without enslavement right best of the cattles breath I don't drink dairy milk anymore I make my own almond milk from an auger juicer I will I will still occasionally consume cheese so but I've definitely limited it to raw cheese's that are from pasture pasture fed cows so I know so I will still consume some cheese but it is probably the last animal aspect animal source aspect of my diet that part of it I will would concede may come from animals that are not treated humanely but it doesn't have that doesn't have to be like that cheese can also be taken from a non slaughter a source not slaughtering no that's okay I understand what you're saying that the source is the main the main thing the the animals that are that the cheese is coming from is are definitely not treated humanely and many of them are on factory farms absolutely yeah I know and I'm not even talking about factory farms you know you're the whole thing you're about is education and I think it's this we need to educate people so I'd like to contribute to that as well even on an organic dairy farm you know where it's family-owned a lot of the time the milk is you know the cat the cows are raped and impregnated so that they will be able to lactate because you know like like your girlfriend or something crickets aren't gonna lactate if she's not pregnant so what they do is they rape the animal even it's organic and they're pasture-raised they rape it and they take their young away the theft you know here's your focusing on theft they steal the child and they never they never see each other again the mom and the young and and then they enslave it so and on a one-year podcast I listened to last night that I'm glad I heard you were talking about um if it's it so is it so fast if it's 20 percent theft I think you're talking about taxes and you implied yes it is but you know it's not fast anymore if it's only 2 percent so if your diet still contains 4% dairy then yeah you still are contributing to death but personally I see the enslavement of humankind is the polarity or microcosm macrocosm or effect of us enslaving those who have less power than us jealous of the elite and place humans those who have less power than them so I see it as totally hypocritical to be complaining about enslavement of theft enslavement or theft if you are consciously contributing to just that right yeah it's something that I would definitely need to work on in the future and I've again cut down my cheese consumption greatly over the years and again I try to get it from as organic and raw sources as possible but I understand those animals are even on smaller farms still undergo things like that again the idea of doing that the idea of doing away with cheese for forever I don't think is necessary because it can be what I'm saying is that it can be done in a humane way people lived with animals and took milk from them and and made cheeses out of that milk in a humane way in human history it's just we need to go away from these farming methods that we've seen these animals as simply resources and you know production mechanisms you know and go back to treating them as life you know instead of as commodities so I'm what I'm saying is cheese can be made properly and eggs can be taken from chickens properly yeah yeah for sure like me and my friend we were gonna get a chicken and we agreed that if the hen or or hen if she ever showed any signs of distress of her egg being taken from her we don't take it from her right but if you're getting eggs from the humane source there's there have been hens who freaked out and have like they're traumatized for like six hours walking around looking for their for their eggs because they're not ours to take and I can guarantee you that the organic raw cheese that you're getting staffed was involved in Slavin was involved and I challenge you to find any farm that says oh we let the mother hang out with her young and she doesn't get separated and the young does get to taste her mother's milk once but it doesn't happen yeah I am totally breech and I think we need to be a little bit more consistent with what we have problems with because you know it's there's no room for hypocrisy on what on earth is happening right and again I concede that that is can still still taking place and going on and I concede that I still do you know partake in the eating of cheese you partake in enslavement and you are I think you're amazing I recommend you to so many people your your website is awesome you are part of the reason I woke up but what I'm also advocating attempting to tell people they can do it differently cheese's can be made in a different process I'm telling people that yes it is a contribution again if I I think if everybody why would you contribute like I'm not going to contribute I can't you know if I can't go and complain about it if I'm part of it right so I so it's something I haven't gone 100% all the way you're correct I concede that to you you are correct all right okay yeah but I do want to say you know thank you for everything you do but yeah no it's perfect so well thank you so much for the call and you're right on point with all the points that you brought up so thank you like you know if you start to make changes in your diet or you do find some miraculous form that you know doesn't doesn't it doesn't steal from the cows you should cheat you should let your viewers know because I'll be listening well I again there's a some ways of making your own cheeses I mean people can get into you know doing that as well I've seen a lot of recipes for raw cheese you know that you can get it get milk from cows that are treated humanely as well and do that process yourself you know so but yeah I hear what you're saying most of it it's going to be very difficult to find anything like that all right you got it take care bye-bye yeah and this goes to the principle of Correspondence that you know as we contribute to things that ultimately are in some way contributing to enslavement of life that's going to be reflected to us in proportion you know I I definitely think if more people simply began the process of going toward a diet that didn't include the suffering of animals in a larger way like stopping eating animal flesh we could maybe move the consciousness consciousness of humanity forward to a point where we could get farmers not to treat other animals like that you know you know cows for the production of milk or chickens for the production of eggs and you know use those biological processes of life which again I don't see as inherently something that mankind shouldn't be using but not in the ways that we are currently using them in the ways that we are currently procuring them so the caller makes a very valid point and I thank her for that so here we go let's take another call also a private caller you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hello yes your lives at all mark Who am I speaking with this is this is box from Poland the awakened one welcome hello so thank you basically I got technical questions related to the COS that were participating I wrote a couple of miles yeah but I would to ask you about for example degradation and level about their faces is it myth or fact repeat one more time I didn't quite catch you said is it matter of fact something a degradation of I couldn't win on wrong graduation I mean the experience experience graduation okay yeah their faces and there is the phase 1 phase 2 phase phase 3 and phase 4 so my question is this or miss if the phases phases of graduation are you talking about in like universities no and Church of Satan Oh Oh Church of Satan okay that's what I that's the point and I missed okay you're saying that there's uh there's different levels of like priesthood within the Church of Satan phases yeah while I was involved while I was involved I did not encounter anything like that I do not know if the the the hierarchical structure of that organization has changed since I ceased to be a member of it so I could not tell you whether that's true today when I was involved in it in the 90s it what that was not the case there was there were there were ranks as far as a priest there was a Magisters which are higher level priests and then there was of course the high priest but I did not encounter anything as far as phases of involvement go so yeah second questions join a beat sounds will be but it's related let's say for satanic witches and the color-coding there's no stupid questions the only stupid questions are the ones that are not asked so go right ahead so I am not using the corporation I won most major 80s most people are involved in this organization and I spotted a few let's say color codings that girls involved well yeah okay so for example it's a combination of white and black mm-hmm red and black a gel and black and let's say Fiat and black yeah yeah I definitely know what you're talking about here there is a science of color and color combining that is spoken about within dark occult orders and circles that to illicit particular reactions you could look into the science called Marco tone to understand some of how this operates but also there's just resonant frequencies frequencies that resonate with certain modes of consciousness so if you want somebody to pay attention and accept simply accept if you want to want a concept to go to the subconscious so that may it may resonate there it may fester there if you will or be planted there as a seed you would want to use a lot of blue hues okay so the news you'll notice on the news the nightly news in any given area the on television they'll use blue frequencies when they're telling the stories in the news because they want to accept the worldview that they're propagating and putting forward Reds will often be used to incite action and to agree exactly something that is left brain that needs logical thinking they'll use a lot of red in the frequency you'll see this in sports a lot too because they want to shift you in the left brain mode when you're watching a sports game the meta masculine energy you'll see a lot more reds used in in sporting events and things like that but even in dress this has to do this also has to do with modes of dress so yes colors are definitely spoken about as being important in dark occult organizations and and are used accordingly so that is true yeah so I'm getting the real estate a nice mmm right as far the first question about phases go again you would have to ask someone that is involved today again I was not afraid to that at least at the level of involvement that I was at okay but according to that I know how to behave if we start patients that somebody's from this organization so how how should I let they behave I think all you can do what you're saying is you think you know somebody who's involved in a satanic organization who you know personally is that what you're saying how how well should you approach that person it could be a period what you're saying is you think that you know someone who may be involved in a satanic organization and you're saying how should you behave to them is that what you're asking am i clear on the question how to behave ask directly or twice to people you don't know what it's cooking on well it all depends on you know what you're trying to do with that person are you trying to wake them up to you know truth and reality and help them the other way from something like that I would confront them directly you know that's what I wouldn't that would be my approach I mean if you're frightened or scared of the person in some way you might want to want to uh you know play it a little bit more slyly but if this is somebody who you know who you're concerned with and you know what they're involved in and you want to help them to get out of a cult like that because it is a cult then I would just confront them directly and you know say I'm concerned about you and you know try to point them in the direction of some good information and you know tell them that you would be available to help them I mean that to me that's the only thing I think you can do that person's going to literally run life and make their own decisions you could try to be an influencer if they're open to it and I would say if this is a person you do care about want to help them get out of something like that I would say definitely use a direct approach okay but I I said master go to handbook so if they are not to play playing the diabolical feature let's say and they will deny and lie yeah it's very possible that is very possible yes because that's one of the things that there this is these are lower level secret societies that's what they are or not they're not very powerful in the world these are grooming grounds they're grooming grounds they're looking for psychopathic tendencies and people to groom them up to higher levels within the hierarchy absolutely and so they give them those tactics honk yeah yeah we are basically in the fear mode yeah they give them those tactics or an aisle did you know deception deflection to take away interest from people who they feel they shouldn't be involved or asking those questions again I think this is their pens largely on how well you know the person most of all how much of an influence you already have in their life is going to play a big factor okay break basically okay I have one question buddy came out of my mouth mine okay well III think I think okay you have some other callers on the line but I want to thank you for some great points hey thank you Mark I'm still listening to your podcast right then t.o.p so far yeah absolutely so thanks someone over the call you got it take care okay right okay you still have a couple other callers on the line let's go to Ross in Minnesota you're live on what on earth is happening welcome I was surprised to learn just now that you were at one time a Satanist now when you were practicing that did you the part of their view that you should have attempt to you know consciously attempt to try to do evil deeds that's an oversimplified way of putting it it's it's an ideology that is rooted in self-preservation as the highest law moral relativism social Darwinism and eugenics at its as its base fundamental tenets I take it you're relatively new listener to the show is that correct no I've heard you show probably six seven eight okay yeah that's I would say that it's definitely not a broad enough picture an encapsulation of all of the work that I've put forward to get the big picture of what I'm trying to put out there for people the best way to go about it is if you go back if you go to the what on earth is happening comm website and go to the podcast page go all the way back to podcast number one and take the time to progress through the podcasts check out the information and the slides and the related documents and you'll understand the worldview a shift that I'm talking about here coming out of a worldview like that and talking about the information that I talked about today if you want to get just a brief synopsis of what Satanism truly is all about I'm gonna look on the page right now and see if I could let you know what podcast these were they were in the the 70s I believe I'm just bringing it up now you want to check out shows 70 and 71 I went into some detail particularly in show 71 on what Satanism really is and gave a whole lot of resources in the related documents links on the podcast page of my website on Satanism I think the show number 70 and 71 the show number 70 the topics were the dark occult esoteric agenda what the dark new world order is ultimately all about you know their whole worldview and show number 71 went into specifically what the they call the old religion the religion of the dark new world order left-hand path Satanism Satyan ISM and dark luciferianism and it really broke down the tenets of those ideologies and then the caste has a ton of documents that are related with that topic show night or 71 70 and 71 but specifically 71 I suppose you could find a hundred Satanists and get a hundred different points of view but I was just wondering when you were a faintness in your own personal experience did you try look kinda liberally to do evil no that that was not my driving influence for getting involved in the Church of Satan and other satanic organizations it was to maintain power in my own personal law life over other individuals by manipulation and influence because that is what they teach that is one of the things that they teach how to influence the mind of other people to get what you want selfishly to get what you selfishly won it's not about serving the good of anybody it's about stepping on someone else and duping them so that you can get whatever you want to get out of them that's one of the tenets of Satanism ultimately it's self pure selfishness with no apologies and not looking at anyone as just you know your equal or someone that you share all the same rights and dignities with but it's all about just getting what you want at other people's expenses and feeling great about doing that and when that's what Western society has become we're living with satanic values our our value system is satanic that's why we're going into a cage the cosmos is putting the earth and the people in it into a big prison cell here called it the earth that's going to be ruled by a totalitarian regime that is ultimately satanic because our value systems we have allowed our value systems to slip into a satanic mindset that's why this is happening ultimately and when you were manipulating other people to get what you want did you feel a sense of that you were doing did you get a sense of accomplishment out of that when you were involved no not really it really didn't enhance my life for the better the universe kept throwing more and more obstacles and suffering in my path that's what happened it was like saying you know you're here to understand this for a brief time but you're not you're not here to stay here and the longer you stay involved the longer you're gonna suffer and suffer hard and that's what led me to ultimately getting out of it I recognized that my going against cosmic universal law was bringing that experience of suffering into my life and therefore you know I eventually my conscience eventually became strong enough to say I can't be involved in this anymore and I pulled back from it and their response was go ahead little boy go ahead Punk you know do your worst you think you haven't in other words they were saying you haven't seen where this really goes to you could only imagine where this really goes to when you're not privy to you know health connected this really is up into the highest levels of you know control of society we've told you about that but you haven't been directly privy to it yourself other than the people that you've seen here from you know different organizations and different walks of life but it was like oh they were like you know go and tell people what you want to tell them and good luck trying to wake up the dead because that's what those people are that's their word for the average person on the street the dead and they said you're not going to be the one to wake up the dead and I beg to differ the work that I have already put out is helping to wake other people up and it will help other people to get themselves awake to the extent that they can help to wake the dead so again it's another miscalculation due to an overinflated ego and a sense of godliness already when they're not God and they can't see every single thing that comes down the pike and they can make mistakes so because they're they're human and they're less than human actually because they're psychopaths who are running you know the whole satanic hierarchy and they're that's something that's even less than human they just have to put human beings into a smaller level of consciousness that they're already in to get them to be manipulable manipulatable you know to their forms of mind-control but once you step outside of that box you recognize humanity true human of infinitely greater worth value and power than anything that they're putting forward so that they're making a gross miscalculation you know and you know my thing is I hope they stay in that hole totally overinflated ego mindset because they're going to make these grabs and attempts at you know taking more power faster which is ultimately going to serve the wake more people up I think this gun grabbed thing that they're trying to put forward is waking more people up faster than the truth movement ever could but don't you think some of these some of these pewters like this jared lock they're in this really recent one don't you think perhaps that they're into Satanism many of them maybe absolutely and the main thing with them is their own psychotropics their own legally prescribed SSRIs and SNRIs which I talked about in many shows here on what on earth is happening the selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors and selective nor neuro epinephrine reuptake inhibitors and these are the most dangerous substances that anyone could be on because they're basically limiting the full range of human emotions that were meant to experience and ultimately turning people into automaton robots and an automaton robot is easily programmable and controllable you know they don't have a real will of their own they're waiting for someone else to tell them what to do or how they should feel or you know how they should be in society and there are perfect candidates for mind-control for direct mind-control operations that involve alright Patsy you know perfect candidates people on these substances my sister and my niece are both on zoloft and they're telling me that they think that I should be on it is that a drug that you're referring to here yes it is an SSRI a selective serotonin reuptake inhibitor and it's I call it the demon drugs II sir the best thing rent recommendation I can make is go back to the podcast page on what on earth is happening calm go to podcast number one and move through the podcast one at a time you will get it will form a progression of information in your mind a linear progression it is meant to be taken one I can tell you began listening to the show while it was already on for many many many months okay that's it it's you know I'm not telling you not to continue to listen to these shows what I'm saying you're at the one of the top floors right now and you haven't made your way from the ground floor to the top floor you know if you try to build on you know at floor number 100 and you haven't solidly built floors 1 through 99 that's gonna be problematic the the information on this podcast is a linear progression and deliberately designed to be as such so I recommend checking it out from the beginning you will get to the shows that I did on selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors and other psychotropics and an antidepressant class of medications and understand what those are and I provided a lot of research and links and things like that so that's all in the podcast archive just go to what on earth is happening calm click on podcast and all of those shows are there just go back to number one they're all up there for free you could download them to whatever device you want to play them on as well that's my recommend recommendation to you but have you ever taken any of these SSRIs yourself no I have not I've never taken one of that class of pill in my entire life and never will there are one of the most dangerous things you could start putting into the body so I wish you luck and please do research from the podcast section of the site that it is what it is therefore to avail yourself of that information so thank you so much for the call thank you you got it take care ok so let's see we have one more caller and we're very short on time John in California you're live on what on earth is happening take us out my friend hello um my question is to the area in the North Bay near San Francisco about the Zodiac killings back in the 60s how a lot of people have based it on just one killer and I think that it was a government propaganda how it was Santana how a lot of these military men were on SSRIs and how they were power driven to kill some of the victims

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Mark Pascoe [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com today is Saturday February 2nd 2013 it is midwinter today is Candlemas or in bulk this is what on earth is happening episode number 139 number 139 and the big announcement to come right in with it at the top of the podcast today is that I will no longer be broadcasting live on Oracle broadcasting on the Oracle broadcasting radio network and today on the show I'm going to be getting into some of the some of the reasons that I have made the decision to separate from the Oracle network and to go on my own with a non live podcast and I'll be getting into the reasons that I've made that decision a little bit later on this show today so I want to let people know a couple of things last week the show was on replay on Oracle broadcasting because I actually had a case of laryngitis I was not actually sick I had talked my voice out from actually trying to explain some things to some people that I had been around over the last couple of days preceding last Sunday and in getting into conversations with them I just blew my voice out so that's the reason I wasn't on the show last week live it took a couple of days for my voice to recover and it wasn't so much that I was really getting into any kind of heated debates or arguments with these people they weren't exactly rejecting the information that I was talking about with them but it was a environment that was kind of noisy and so I was trying to talk over noise and when that happens I tend to strain my voice so that's the reason I wasn't on live last week but with the new podcast format I'll be able I'll have a lot more flexibility in what I want to do on the show so some weeks I'll be doing shows that are longer than two hours maybe we have a topic that really needs extensive in-depth discussion and really expanding upon the information and so podcasts that week maybe longer some weeks I may do something that's really quick and it may only be 45 minutes to an hour and it's going to be on an irregular schedule as well the podcast it may not some weeks I may come out with three or four and some months I may do two podcasts in a month or even one this is going to allow for greater flexibility and I think it's going to really ultimately let me have a greater modicum of control over the entire show and the quality of the content so that being said before I get into my reasons for leaving Oracle and how I'm gonna progress going forward I want to read a couple of event announcements as I always do the free your mind to conference of course coming up April 25th 26th and

27th of 2013 it's going to be the biggest conference of its kind anywhere on the East Coast for sure and we're really looking forward to it a lot of excitement about it advance ticket sales now coming in it's the best way you can support us we are going to have to put out speaker expenses over the next couple of weeks so if you can get your ticket sales in now now is the time to do it advance ticket sales right now much better than a donation even to the conference cause advanced ticket sales for the free remind to conference will be on sale only until April 1st April 1st after that no more advanced ticket sales we will only be selling tickets at the door from that point forward so free your mind to a conference on consciousness mind control and the occult right here in Philadelphia Pennsylvania April 25th through 27th 2013 the location is the beautiful Arch Street meeting house in the historic district of Philadelphia at 3:20 Arch Street the doors will open at 8 o'clock 8 a.m. each day the featured speakers Allen Steinfeld Alfred Weber Andrew basiago Ben Stuart Bob Tuscan Cathy O'Brien kertus davis dr dream freighter x freeman fly fritz spring mayer yan Irvin Jay Parker Jim Fetzer Larkin Rose Laura Eisenhower Lennon honor Lauren more a mark passio Mark Phillips Marty Leeds Randall Carlson Ross Ben and Sonia Barrett advance tickets for the whole conference only $120 you can get more speaker and ticket information at our conference website WWF reor mine conference comm since we're on the topic of the for your mind to event I want to take this opportunity to play an audio commercial that we made that's been running on a couple of different networks for the free your mind to event this is something that now is possible since I'm doing my own podcast that's not on a radio network an internet radio network doesn't allow for just playing some audio just right in with the my voice so I'll be able to do this now and I'm also maybe looking to even expand capabilities like this by maybe getting a nice multi-channel mixer in here which I currently don't have I'm simply running through a microphone plugged directly into my computer but at some point I would like to get a multi-channel mixer and an even better condenser microphone to have a little bit better control of the quality of the sound so with that having been said let's run the for your mind to audio commercial and this was done by my partner barb she did a great job on this and it's been running on many different internet radio networks so here it is the official for your mind to audio commercial 3 your mind to a conference on consciousness mind control and the occult April 25th through 27th in Philadelphia Pennsylvania world renowned whistleblowers gathered together to shed light on our world's problems and bring forward empowering solutions three days 24 speakers your mind set free free your mind to April 25th through 27th in Philadelphia Pennsylvania [Music] for speaker and ticket information visit free your mind conference calm [Music] okay what a great job barb did on that commercial and very proud to have it out there running to promote the free or mind to conference so also having to do with the conference we're going to be hosting a fundraiser this will be the third official fundraiser for the free your mind to event the first one was held back in September at Liberty's pub the second one was the radio bomb marathon that we did on American freedom radio in January this one is coming up February 20th that's Wednesday February 20th 2013 at underground arts 1200 Cal o Hill Street in Philadelphia this is the freer mind to conference fundraiser number three and it is going to feature all musical acts bands will be playing at underground arts the headlining band is the maniac agenda and we're going to be booking two other great bands that are still to be announced I believe that we do have confirmations on those acts I simply have to receive their their names and get them onto the flyer but I have a preliminary flyer posted to the conference website and in the news section of what on earth is happening so it will be $15 to attend the event that will go to the organizational fund to offset costs associated with speaker travel and lodging expenses $15 at the door the doors will open at 7 o'clock p.m. and will be starting in with the bands probably around 8:00 or 8:30 so this is the free remind two conference fund raiser number three at underground arts 1200 Cal o Hill Street Wednesday evening February 20th 2013 okay other event announcements I was on the Jack lud show on no agenda radio on Friday February 1st Jack interviewed me for an hour it went really well had a good time going on the show with jack blood and this interview will be posted to my news section of what on earth is happening calm very shortly so look for that coming in the next day or two all right so that's all the event announcements I have for right now let's get into the reasons that I decided to leave Oracle and strike out on my own with a non live podcast one of the first reasons is that I feel that the overall quality of the network has just been sort of deteriorating over the past many months I think Oracle was a much better network in the past and to be honest when I listen to the network and I have been doing a lot of listening to the quality of the information coming out of Oracle broadcasting over the last several months but really a lot over the last two or three months it just III just can't even really believe some of the things that I hear about what people think is actually going on and you know particularly some of the conjecture regarding who is actually behind what's going on in our world and I'm not even going to dignify you know some of the outright disinformation or non comprehension on the part of some and again this is not a reflection on everybody at that network but some of the hosts and some of the people putting out information over the network now also I just feel that the quality of listenership when you look at if you just follow people going into chat rooms and just take a look at what people are saying regarding any given show it's it makes me want to stay away from radio networks altogether because it's just what people I mean I just have to come out and say it people are just so appallingly ignorant it's just there is so much dross and chaff out there you know a people's minds are just they're burnt they really are burnt these people are operating with burnt brains I mean that's the that's the only way I can say I can't be nice about it and I just want to just distance myself as much as possible from all of this and that's about as honest as I can be about it because the level of ignorance that people have come to they they really do deserve what they have and they really do deserve what's coming the problem I have with it all is that there is a smaller segment of people who don't deserve what's coming they don't deserve to go through the kind of suffering that we're going to witness in our lifetimes because they do understand freedom and they do understand the causal factors that are taking place and that's the reason I continue to put out information I'm not giving up by any stretch of the imagination I'm transitioning to a different level of focus and to do something that is a little bit more targeted and it's just out there for people who want it and hopefully people will appreciate that and if they do that's great and another thing I'm going to talk about is a little bit later in the show is people who really aren't doing that much you know

I want to get back into taking action which is going to be a theme for today's show and doing it in a way that you are making some sort of an impact and not just pointing fingers at other people and being an armchair quarterback so the the shockingly appallingly ignorant at this late stage in the game is one of the reasons I want to just separate myself from everything you know and just do my own thing not be associated even in anyone's mind through you know logical fallacies like guilt by association I just want to do something that I have a little bit tighter control over that is more focused that will be out there just for the people who want it because they'll have to come to my site to get it and I'm really taking a step back from interaction okay I to be honest I really want to be honest about this and before we even get into more about that let me just go back to Oracle for a moment and say that I want to thank Doug Owen from Oracle who is one of the owners of the network and who has always extended a hand of hospitality and friendship toward me and any time I had any technical issues or problems he was always right there willing to help out and always did a great job as you know a host of that network so thanks to Doug and I wish him the best in his future endeavors and I wish him well of course so this has certainly nothing to do with how I was treated by the network again I think the quality of the information coming out of that network has gone into a decline and could be stepped back up to say the least but that's not the only reason for me stepping away from Oracle the other reason is again I want to do things on am in a more irregular fashion again I may do some shows that are six hours long and go super in-depth on a topic on an esoteric topic and I may do a show that's a half an hour where I just rant for a little bit and I want I want to have control over the time that I put this out you know when I do it you know I may want to say something on a Wednesday evening and I can't do that on it on a network you know I may want to put something out right away on the website and I have to wait until some a Sunday to go on the air live and then and then I only have two exact hours to get the message out so again this is going to be a more irregular approach of course as a podcast will be so with that having been said I think you know I've said enough about my reasons for leaving Oracle and I really want to talk about the the donations now that came in from people who were chipping in for keeping the show commercial free now of course a podcast is going to be commercial free but I'm no longer with a network and that was the intended purpose for people sending me some of those some of the those donations so here's how I want to handle the ad free chippin which did meet its goal for the last three month for the three-month period okay people who donated between November and January of 2013 from November 2012 to January 2013 I of course since separating from Oracle and one of the reason otherone of the reasons is I just felt like I did not want to use those resources on on something that I didn't I didn't fully feel that it would be the best use for those resources i I in all honesty could not do it in good conscience okay and you know that may sound harsh maybe just you know some people but I feel like if the quality of the network isn't where I feel it should be and people will say well you know you're bringing the quality of the network up with your information again I don't even really want to have this information associated with some of the other information that I hear going out on other networks and which is why I'm just saying I'm I'm speaking for mice I'm doing this on my own it's my own thing from here on out again the information isn't mine that belongs to everyone but the the format is my own particular format for information and again doing an on live podcast just affords me that a little bit greater level of fine-tuning and control over what I'm putting out there and the overall way that it is being put out there that being said will this podcast not reach as many people more likely than not that's true it won't reach as many people as I was reaching on the Oracle Broadcasting Network perhaps it may it depends on how many people want information like this you know how many people are waking up how many other people turn them on to it and again another thing I want to say is this podcast will be sort of open source you can look at it as if any networks want to pick up any of these podcasts in total or in part they're welcome to do so and run them on their network I don't there's no copyright on this information you know I just share it freely and do what you want now I don't want my words being taken out of context and edited it up okay and you know put in you know a different context that would give people the impression I'm saying things that I'm not you know so I don't think I don't want people to chop up my words and put them in nonlinear ways that make it sound like I'm saying something that I'm not so as long as people keep the podcast intact I don't care if you want to run one hour one week one day one hour the next day do what you will with it it could be picked up and rebroadcast by anybody that feels that this information is valuable and worth sharing so that being said let me go back to the ad-free chip and since I did not turn the money over to Oracle broadcasting that was raised during the ad free chip and I want to let people know how the ad free chip and money that was donated over the last three months will be handled and I'm going to give people the opportunity that if they are upset that I am leaving Oracle and will not be on that network anymore and I'm striking out with a podcast on my own that they can get a refund so if you don't want that money to be used for any other purpose you can write to me if you donate it between November 2012 and January 13 to the ad free shippin not the overall what on earth is happening donation that's a separate fund the ad free chip in effort if you donated between November 2012 and January 2013 you can write to me for a refund the email address is on the website on the contact page of what on earth is happening com that's the first option the second option is if you would like to specifically ask that the monies that you donated be redirected to a certain cause then I will do that so you can write to me and say I'd like my money to be redirected to for example the free your mind to conference and if you don't want me to just decide the best usage for it I'll put it toward the free your mind to event you could write to me and say I want it to be used to make the what on earth is happening podcast better maybe put some of that money toward a new multi-channel mixer or a new quality a car to your cardioid condenser microphone something of that nature so you you can write to me for a refund or you can write to me to let you know how you would like the donation to be redirected the third thing is if I don't hear from you at all just you know if you don't write to me at all about the donation that you made in the last three months then I'll take that as that you are trusting me to redirect the funds into what I feel is the most appropriate usage for them so three options there for people who donated to the ad-free chip-in since that money was not going to Oracle at the end of that period because again in good conscience I do not feel it was the best usage for that money and again some people will be upset with that and that's fine they could simply write to me and I'll issue them a full refund of whatever they donated if they are okay with that and want to specifically request how them money be redirected you could choose the free or mind to conference or even the Tesla Science Foundation or the what on earth is happening podcast or anything else for that matter if you would like me to redirect the money if it's a decent cause or charity if I don't hear from you I'll take it as you trust me to redirect that into whatever I feel is the most appropriate usage for those funds and more likely or not it will be split over the free or mind to conference or the what on earth is happening podcast improvement effort okay so that having been said let's look at some changes that I also made to the what on earth is happening calm website over the last week of course since I'm not doing the radio show live there is no radio show page anymore on the water on earth is happening dot-com website there's also no chatroom and this goes hand-in-hand with how I'm simply pulling back from interaction with the public I feel that the public in general and again people who do understand should not take offense by this statement who do have a real inkling of what's going on in the world the public is so unfathomably ignorant and the people who come some of the people who come in the chatroom are such I mean the only way to even say this is they're animals they're not even human beings they're animals the racism is rampant in a lot of these people's mindset they totally fall for the divide-and-conquer ideology the divide and conquer manipulate or e tactic the method of control they're totally caught up in the dialectic and they're just they're degenerated animals they're not even humans as far as I'm concerned and yet you do have some people who also come in and really understand and want to have a legitimate discussion but in all honesty it's just like the effort for even making a chatroom like that now not that I hand coded it myself but to even go onto the site sign up for an account set up the chat room you know find a plug-in for my site and post it it's not even worth it for the kind of content that goes through that forum that that medium it's not worth it it's just it's a it's a mudslinging fest usually in there and 90% of the people who go in there have absolutely no clue what is going on on the earth at all and the the things that they say and you know again people who they blame they really really have their head so far up their ass that they may never get it out you know to be just completely honest and wicked about it because that is it's just just the truth their owners are so let are laughing at them so hard that I'm telling you these people are probably responsible for the largest proportions of sales of adult diapers throughout the world than anyone else because that's how much the the real owners of the people of this world are laughing that they're just absolutely wetting themselves absolutely and just looking at what they say and just you know where they have been able to work their minds into the place that the manipulators of this world have been able to work the minds of some of the idiots of this world into all they can do is laugh their asses off to a point where they're wetting themselves so I mean that's all III I don't even have any other words to say what I think of what I have seen going on in different chats including my own over the last few months and people will say oh you know you're falling into the whole thing these are just shells these are hired people to go in and and say this stuff what's the difference there's still people who actually are willing to do that who don't care about what the world is who don't care about what's going on around them it'll take money to go in and try to create opposition inside a chat room of that's trying to explain something that's really taken place what's the difference whether that person's paid to do it or not or is just a complete clown idiot that actually believes the nonsense that they spew you know to me there's no real difference between those two things it's still the same end result somebody's still doing that action so is it this heartening I think that it is because it just shows you how destroyed people are there they're so mentally and spiritually destroyed and degenerated it's just unfathomable to me that this is still where we are in the age of of total information we are in an age where information is at everyone's fingertips and they actually act like degenerated animals you know it's it's it's so sad that and they don't even understand they're the ones who are keeping the prison going they're ignorant is actually keeping the prison going they they don't care that they're slaves they love it they love being slaves they love it they can't get enough of it they can't get enough lies they can't get enough disinformation they can't get enough slavery they love their there the word troll is very appropriate because it's this degenerated loathsome you know retarded creature that is just so they're just such a golem husk you know that's what their owners their owners just call them the dead and the golems that's what they they refer to these things as I don't even want to call them people they're things okay and you know people say man I mean you're so harsh it's so such you know vicious criticism yes it is it's it's wicked bitter criticism it's called vitriol vitriol VI TR IOL vitriol now as in vitriolic and I was briefly letting people know a couple of weeks ago that vitriol is actually an anagram in the alchemical tradition VI TR IOL vitriol means in the alchemical teachings a visit aa interior or a tear a rectify can though in the ends Oh Colton Lapidus so visit ah the V interior a-- i terry t terry the are wrecked for rectification I envy ends l occult them and I'm sorry oh oh Colton and L Lapidus so visit ah interior a tear a rectification viens occult Amla peetam the translation of this out of the original Latin from the alchemical tradition is visit the interior of the earth and through rectification you will find the hidden stone or by way of making this up right again rectifying rectification you will find the hidden stone you will uncover the hidden stone visit the interior of the earth and through rectification you will discover the hidden stone from the alchemical tradition and this means that you need to start looking at yourself you need to look inwardly to understand what's really controlling things what's really going on in the world is a direct result is an outward manifestation of what's taking place within each individual and the only way to really understand the the causal factors of our experience in the external reality we have to go within and there we will find that generative force because it is ultimately coming from us and I did a show with Bob from Cincinnati on alchemy I don't know if we got into vitriol I may have gotten into this a little Anna Grammatik saying on that show I'm not I can't quite recall whether I did or not but if you want to listen to more about the alchemical tradition I suggest going back in the news section and checking that out maybe I'll do a show in the future on alchemy right here on what on earth is happening but in the English language derived from the Latin vitriol 'im is and that meant an acid like a a very strong acid like hydrochloric acid or something like that I believe is what that meant in in Latin but the English word that is derived from the Latin vitriol 'm is vitriol and it means vicious were bitter criticism acidic biting speech okay very acidic speech so I use vitriol all the time I don't apologize for my use of vitriol acidic speech is there to wear down the lye and show people the lye is something that hat that should not be respected at all and anybody who backs it up anybody who reinforces it if this isn't you know this whole New Age garbage this New Age deception of we have to put it in sweet pleasing tones okay and if you get angry about anything oh it invalidates the argument this is such nonsense it's such nonsense and we just really need to understand that the veracity of information has nothing to do with how it is delivered and look I just want to even just give a example that probably will not be received very positively by many people and I I don't care whether it is or not see it's your karma whether you will take information that is true and do something with it that has nothing to do with who said it to you their karma is that they have said it and that it was accurate and it was true and they passed it along they don't need to put it in some pleasing tone that resonates with your emotional state of mind that that resonates with how you like something to sound because liars are all too willing to tell you a lie and make it sound so beautiful and wonderful and put it in sweet pleasing tones this is what the media does the mainstream media does all the time they wrap everything in oh such Pleasant speech we're gonna talk with this nice cadence and we're gonna tell you a whole bunch of lies but we'll make it sound wonderful and attractive to you you know look the example that I think immediately comes to mind to me is Alex Jones appearance on Piers Morgan a few weeks back a couple weeks ago people got so upset oh he got angry and yelled and you know even mocked peers and he comes off as looking like an idiot everything Alex said on the show was accurate he was telling people the truth about what's really happening if you don't like the way he said it that doesn't invalidate or negate what he said and guess what you should stop making excuses for anybody who does think that way therein lies the problem the problem is that people will listen to a lie if it's presented so beautifully and I wouldn't suggest falling for that going you know do to do that I wouldn't say well since that's what they are responsive to go and do that be is nice and pleasing and pleasant to them as possible wrong they need to be snapped out of that mindset itself to be recognized that's mind control it's more than mind control it's more insidious than mind control it's what I've called heart control it's emotional mind control they're playing upon how a tone makes you feel how a person's voice makes you feel I'm not here to make you feel good I'm here to tell you the truth the truth doesn't have to make you feel good to be true I don't need to present it in sweet pleasing tones so that you feel good once again folks this all comes down to the two kinds of people in the world that are really ultimately causing the problem and no it's not the dark occultists no it's not the globalists no it's not the super financial elite okay it is that the two real groups of people besides the police and military or the order followers who are actually following the bidding the orders of the sick psychopathic a cult priests class that is really running the show or at least barking out the orders the two groups of people who are really making this situation continue are the the the 100% appallingly ignorant the people who it doesn't matter how much information is out there they don't want to hear it they don't want to know about it they can't be bothered okay willful ignorance of truth and the other group is what I call the semi aware armchair quarterbacks so we can let's see let's even have an an a little acronym for them okay the appallingly ignorant they're the AI they're not the artificially intelligent they're not artificial intelligence they have no intelligence they're the appallingly ignorant they're the AI you want to know what AI what form of AI is destroying the world there it is the appallingly ignorant then let's give another little acronym for the semi aware armchair quarterbacks well will hyphenate semi aware semi aware armchair quarterbacks the sacks and what are they sacs of use your imagination okay I'm sure you can come up with something but they're the sacs so the AI and the sacs are the ones who are really causing the overall problem and the the continuance of human slavery because these are either people that can't be bothered to look at truth or they're people who you know they've gotten a little bit of the picture but then what they want to do is point fingers they want to point fingers about how other people aren't doing a good enough job or that I would have covered it like this or I would have got angry and and you know used any harsh inflection and my voice here yeah but here's the key word here people you would have you didn't do it you're saying you would have but what's happened in actuality see the actual action that you took was nil was null was big goose egg zero null and void okay and this is the problem that everybody wants to talk about what somebody else is doing or not doing but when it comes to them actually doing something please we can't be bothered with that I can actually get on the field of battle I have to sit here on the sidelines and be an armchair quarterback and these are the people who are actually really keeping the world in the total state of ignorance and slavery that it does exist in and that's why I say that you know a big portion of the podcast today is going to be vitriolic am I making attacks yes I'm making attacks are they personal attacks well I would say they're semi personal yes okay because I'm directing them in general at a type of person I'm not gonna single out any one individual person but I'm going to say the people who are ignorant and who and the other group that is semi aware who just wants to sit around and say and comment on what other people are doing my entire question or series of questions to them are the following here's what I ask people and and you know I've actually sent out this series of questions to several individuals this over the past couple of weeks not just one not just two several who wrote to me to suggest that I do things differently or that I you know they don't like the way I'm doing this or that or they are nitpicking about this particular aspect of what I said or you know this piece of information that they don't find IG's is exactly accurate and what I what I write back to people like that first of all you can go and look every time every single time you get somebody who's a complainer you will go and look you can take their name their email address you put it into a search engine that's one of the first things I do let me see what this person is actually about let me see what they've done and you know what you find every time not not just some of the time all of the time 100% of the time it's almost impossible find anything about them online there is no record you can't type their name even in double quotes like to find the phrase on in an internet search engine you type it inside double quotes okay and it'll bring back pages that it has to have those two words together so like first and last name if you type mark passio without the double quotes wrapping it you'll get a lot more results than you will if you type mark passio inside double quotes because those two things those two phrases those two words I'm sorry I have to appear exactly together as a phrase so you'll know that those pages contain something about me if you type it in in double quotes into an internet search engine well you do this with other people's first and last names and you get nothing nothing these complainers these nitpickers they want to sit and complain and they've done nothing so I write to them and I say I would like you I'm I'm very happy to answer your question okay about what you nitpick about but I would like you to tell me the address of your monstrous web site that's packed with so much information total gems of wisdom and it can totally help to liberate humanity it's getting to the very crux of the issue to the heart of the matter and the taking in of this information that you have so freely and of your own accord put out there for Humanity is capable of liberating humanity if it is deeply understood where's your track record where is your testimony where is your site okay or even barring that you have a site how about radio interviews or podcasts that you've done with other hosts or that you've put together yourself okay even if you don't have your own site where is your radio show do you have a radio show on blog talk radio or talk show networker you know someplace or even a blog on blogspot or something okay where is the testimony of all the information that you're putting forward for other people to pick up on so that it can help them change their lives and again people can say well I'm doing that in my own life well guess what if you're not using the availability of information that can get the information out to as many people as possible you're still not really putting the information out there if you don't have a website a podcast a book going on other radio shows some form of media that is preservable that can be put out there or given to other people easily handed to them you know you could put a podcast on a disk hand it to somebody you could put it on a thumb drive or on a hard drive okay where is this for other people what have you actually put into the world giving freely of your time and your resources to explain things like the non-aggression principles the principles of self-ownership natural law true freedom what it really is mind control and how it operates you know where is all that data that you're putting out there that so it's so drastically different from mine and I'm so wrong or it gets the parts totally right that I get wrong or that other researchers get wrong see I don't care who it is doesn't have to be me that you're attacking you know whether you're attacking David Icke or whether you're attacking Alex Jones or whether you're attacking lesser known people you know it doesn't matter who it is Deepak Chopra way bigger known what Wayne Dyer William Cooper I don't know Terence Mckenna Jordan Maxwell Michael - sorry on you know it doesn't matter Stuart Wilde I don't know Graham Hancock Robert Bauval it doesn't make a difference who it is anybody out there that's putting information out at least they're doing something they're they're putting information out into the world that they feel is appropriate and and can help people I don't care whether you even think that there's they somehow have an ulterior motive here's the point the point is what are you doing what are you doing what you're doing is you're writing to somebody to nitpick about something instead of actually doing something that is effective in helping people to understand that we're enslaved I mean you look at the actual situation folks there's slavery operating on the earth you're in it you're ensconced in it it is affecting you you are not separate from it and what you want to do is go and attack one of the other people who are being kept in this same same state of slavery they have us all in a cage and you want to go and attack the other prisoners instead of actually work toward real liberation and this is why I need to separate myself and take a step back and refocus my efforts not redouble them but just refocus them I need to take a step back because I have to ask myself what kind of an effect am I is what I'm doing really truly having if this is where people's mindset still is what effect is anything that anybody is putting out they're really having and my answer is not a whole lot not a whole lot their minds are still wholly owned and the owners have them where they want them it doesn't have to be like that but that's what they're choosing for some strange reason let me get back into some of the things I write to people and it's vitriolic it's bitter it's nasty I'm not telling you that I'm always a very nice person I never made the statement I was always a very nice person I could be crude to people that doesn't mean I don't understand the non-aggression principle that doesn't mean that I don't understand true freedom okay it means people can still piss me off and make me think my god we are totally and utterly doomed if this is the quality of people that's even remotely interested in any of these things we are doomed if that's the case and again I want to go later in the show I want to reiterate why I even do any of this because again for anybody who's just starting to listen or has been listening and you think I'd do this because I like people that I want to say quote-unquote save people please I'm not anybody's Savior okay I don't even like people to be honest I do not really like people I want to be left alone that's my that's why really what the goal I want out of this all okay I want people to understand the non-aggression principle and the principles of self-defense I want them to understand what true freedom is I want to understand what rights are and what rights are not and I want to be left alone and I want them to leave other people alone if they want to be left alone I'm not in this for a popularity contest I don't want to be liked I don't want new friends I don't want any new friends I don't want you to like me I don't care if you like me all I want you to do is understand the information on your own go through it on your own make of what you will of it and then go do something with it and you don't need to take it from me it's not because it is me okay you can go take it from somebody else I don't care how you acquire it understand what's real stop believing in fantasy like authority and government and stop advocating for human slavery by the continuation of those belief systems that's all I care about and I'm doing this not to serve people but to serve truth I've said that repeatedly I don't even like people okay I'm being totally and completely honest about this I want to be left alone as much as possible that's what the non-aggression principle is about leaving other people alone that's the number one human right is to be left alone so I want to go back to the things I tell people in this vitriolic bitter speech it's bitter I'm bitter about even having to do this I'm bitter that this is what my life has become this is what I'm doing because there's a responsibility to do it and I'm fulfilling that responsibility that's it I know it's right I do it because it's right and and don't tell me I don't I don't I can't choose to be bitter about that because I want my life to be something better than what it is right now and there's nothing wrong with that I'm not wrong for wanting not to have to do this here while I'm alive here on earth don't tell me that makes me any kind of a bad person because I don't want to teach ignoramuses what I already know I don't want to do this people say well why do you keep doing it because I have a responsibility because there's ignorant people they're gonna create total chaos in the world unless somehow their mind is taken out of the absolute garbage sewage state that it is in and brought up to a higher level of awareness and consciousness do I have to like that job no I'm cleaning out the sewers folks that's my job I clean the sewers of the world along with many other people who do work like this we are drudging up all of the garbage that has accumulated in the mass psyche of humanity trying to somehow clean it out that's what we are we are garbage people we are garbage haulers you could look at it as I told people it's like being a waiter serving something to somebody and you're waiting as in you're staying there waiting for them to catch up waiting for them to take this into themselves so that they are as filled with the knowledge as as other people have become as very few other people have become and that involves waiting a long time that doesn't mean I'm their servant I happen to be a waiter like a waiter in a restaurant it's a very appropriate name in green language terms because you're handing something something to somebody that came from elsewhere okay that truth is actually putting the information on the plate then I'm taking it and saying here here it is take a look here it is here it's a it's arranged like this take it take it into yourself and I'm sitting there waiting for them to catch up to be full with the knowledge so the waiter is very appropriate for what this job is about and I would also look at it as sanitation I work in sanitation now mentals emotional and spiritual sanitation so how many people really would think that that's something that people would so love to do no but is it necessary it's necessary is it a responsibility it's a responsibility that doesn't mean I like it or have to feel good about it I want my life to live in peace to do what I want to do with it I would like to go and learn some gardening techniques I would like to get better as an artist I do some art work I do digital graphics and manipulation of graphics and I think I have a pretty good aesthetic eye I've tried my hand at painting and I think I have some talent there but I would like to work on that more with my time and really hone artistic skills and capabilities which I think are latent within me and I don't spend that time doing that because I do work like this you know I would like to have more time that you know do other forms of you know volunteering maybe with animals or something I love animals I want to spend more time with my animals but I spend time doing this work because this is the main responsibility in the world right now if we don't want to see the world collapse to total and utter crap quite frankly which it's well on the way to doing and is already most of the way there to be quite honest and you still have people nitpicking so do these nitpickers what I write is show me your big website with all your data that you've put thousands of free hours of work into accumulating where is it where is your testimony to the world on line not written on some paper work in your house where nobody can see it online okay where's if you don't have your own site show me the other forum that you work out of okay podcasting forums or you know being on other hope show show's hosts shows I say where can I pick up your latest world-changing book where can I pick up your latest world-changing documentary video you know or maybe you're you don't have a knack online so maybe you write books you get them published and you sell them throughout the world where is your big book or your series of smaller books okay I want to know where's all this data where is it all hat that you're helping humanity with you have so much time the right to people and nitpick their work but where's your work at you know barring that how about profound web videos you've made maybe you can tinker around with windows movie maker or iMovie or any other open source moviemaking software okay where's your where's your web video point me to a YouTube site a YouTube channel where I can see all your videos and check them out you know where's um you're alive presentations hey you could just take your phone you know have a friend hold it and give a presentation and then post it where's that at you know where it is blah that's where it is it's nowhere nowhere a big goose egg sound the gong press the buzzer B 0 all the time not just some of the time all of the time I'm telling you ladies and gentlemen I am not lying to you 100 percent boring none 100 percent of every criticism I have ever received I have asked please show me your work that you have put out there that refutes this and not one person ever writes back with a list so much as a link as a URL in the email to say this is my work I have put this out here it is check it out I would at least have respect even if you wanted to totally crush some aspect of my work and I would go and look at it and if it ndele I would even say I was wrong but you never get no you never even hear that from anybody you never even hear that from you never hear one word of response when you ask them where is your work nothing silence comes back ladies and gentlemen silence and again this is another part of why I'm going to vent on this show I'm going to express vitriolic speech and I'm going to take a step back and re-evaluate things and I'm going to refocus my efforts in a different way okay so that's what this first podcast is really ultimately all about I want to reiterate why I do what I do it's going to continue in a different form and ultimately why I feel like I need to take a step back because I'm burning myself out trying to cast pearls before swine in many cases and it's not to say I'm gonna stop and withhold information because information isn't mine to withhold it belongs to all of humanity it belongs to the universe okay the truth is no one's property and I want to play a little video that deals with that concept a little bit later play the audio from a video it's a great video that goes along with some of the topics that I've been talking about it was brought to my attention from actually from Bob from Cincinnati well I want to thank for sending me the link the video was called the implication of occulted knowledge upon humanity which i thought was even a great title for a video and perfectly encapsulated a way what's really going on on this planet in a nutshell so I'm gonna play that a little bit later and it's about how you know the truth doesn't belong to anyone no one has a monopoly on it you know I'm not gonna withhold anything or just stop doing what I'm doing but I am gonna do it in a slightly different fashion from this point forward and for the people who truly want it they'll get it they'll they'll they'll go out and take it and again I'm cutting back on interaction with people people have been disappointing me over and over and over and over when I when I want to have a little bit of faith in people that maybe they're changing maybe they're getting it they always continuously disappoint me and show me my whatever amount of hope or faith I may have had in humanity is misplaced this is a totally ignorant barbaric lazy cowardly apathetic mongrel animal race and you could say oh you're slipping into a dark degenerated poison worldview maybe so folks I don't know in many ways how the level of ignorance I see most people at and the level of just where their mindset is at in general instead of actually doing something I sit back and think maybe these dark cultists were correct I don't know you know I almost see myself not totally agreeing with them but saying you know I can understand why they think the way that they do that's all I can understand why they think the way that they do and why they want to do what they want to do to people that doesn't mean I think it's right but I can understand it I can understand where it's coming from in their mind because that's there's a small part of me that still not necessarily thinks like that but it's capable of at least resonating and seeing why they they have such a level of total contempt for people who are existing in this state of willful ignorance because I'm done with the excuse that it's not willful ignorance it is willful ignorance ladies and gentlemen it has nothing to do with nations with not knowing because you had no ability to know people who are in a state of not knowing in this world today have chosen that state they are will fully choosing to ignore information that is all around them capable of liberating their mind capable of helping humanity out of the prison that it is currently trapped in so please do not try to convince me that this is not willful ignorance of the truth because it absolutely is so just to go back to some of these questions I asked to people I say give me your website give me your podcast that you've been on radio shows your articles that you've written about the non-aggression principle the principles of self-ownership natural law occultism true freedom you know where are those at you know where's your big where's your big life-changing book where's your big life-changing documentary video your worldview changing book and documentary video you know your series of profound web videos your YouTube channel live presentations you've made how about just point me to groups of activists meetup groups how about that that you help organize events rallies that you've been behind you know political activism even of some kind as you know you know people can debate the effectiveness of all of that but even that know even if it's just for awareness purposes educational outreaches you know that you've helped to organize you know how about conferences you've helped to personally organize and spend thousands of hours of unpaid work unruhe mediated work to bring together truth towers or whistleblowers you know where is all of this stuff anybody that wants to write to nitpick or to complain about what I happen to be doing or not doing or other people happen to be doing or not doing you don't like the way Alex Jones just went on Piers Morgan and blew up Adam and talked over them and told people that if they give up their guns they're idiots or if they you know if the government continues to come and try to keep taking firearms from Americans that there's going to be a second hot revolution in this country well go put out your own message then go do your own work go do something else people who complain are usually doing squat so I mean that's really all I have to say about these armchair quarterbacks they're they don't really understand the nature of the situation what I want would like to do let me tell you what I would really like to do with the armchair quarterbacks if I had one wish if someone can make let me tell you something how about this let's go this far if there's a dark occultist out there that can make this happen for me somehow okay and I know that'll they'll never agree to it so I'm wasting my words even saying this but what I would really love to be able to do is to just have them come to a ritual of dark occultist of Luciferians dark Luciferians Satanists Seton's any type of dark occult ritual but at least somewhat at a level where it's dealing with people who are in the power structure not just enthusiasts of dark occult ism or a particular dark occult ideology so similar to involvement at the level of involvement in the dark occult that I was at in the past unfortunately my connections to that are so severed I couldn't just make a phone call and say hey can you take this person in and let them witness a ritual first of all they'll probably not do that anyway but I would just love if I had the capability of just putting one of these people in the evil into the midst of the evil and the psychopathy that you would witness at such a gathering there is no way you would ever ever again waste your time writing to anybody no matter who it is trying to tell people the truth about what's really going on in the world and waste your time nitpicking on any of their other their work no matter how off you may have thought one particular thing or any number of particular things they said was because you would recognize in your own mind where you're at you'd recognize it boom like that in a heartbeat and you would know the level of evil that you're really trapped within and you wouldn't waste energy on stuff like that you would not waste energy for another second on stuff like that I mean just imagine just let me try to put this into perspective folks to vent just a little bit more imagine imagine if I were to write to someone like I'll use three people as an example because I think some of the work they put out has been the most proliferates they have so much information and dated that they have put out into the world that it's almost incomprehensible to me okay David Icke Michael - sorry Yan and Jordan Maxwell imagine if I and I put quite a bit of information into the world but imagine if I were to write to them and go you know imagine if I were just to write to David I can go David your concept of how the dark occultus view the feminine the Queen you know in in the symbolism as you talk about it I don't happen to personally 100% agree with that and I look at it like they're actually trying to kill the Sacred Feminine more so than it's their worshipping that aspect of the dark feminine now I'm not saying that it isn't true okay that they have this concept of the Queen in their work most certainly and the feminine aspect of the dark side of the occult is something that is very prevalent but uh but just imagine if I were to write to him with all the work this guy has put out whether you even agree with it or not whether you like him or not that's not the point the amount of stuff he has put out into the world okay almost twenty books countless videos incalculable numbers of radio shows and interviews to a point where you can't even imagine this person has actually talked and given that much of his time talked so freely and given that much of his time to do that much work okay imagine if I were just to write to him to say this one aspect of your work makes me think you so don't know what you're talking about in regards to any of this that I think it invalidate sever ething you've ever put out and I can't recommend your work to anybody could you imagine the hubris that I would have to even be at to even make write something like this or say something like that to somebody like that I mean you have people have to be completely out of their gourds I mean I'm just I'm dumbstruck I'm dumbfounded I don't there's I'm speechless I don't even know what to say you know people will nitpick on the tiniest of things about an aspect of the monetary system they'll nitpick on a word etymology they'll nitpick on the interpretation of a symbol you you I mean if you see the emails that I get that where people just want to nitpick on something instead of actually do their own work who cares whether you don't accept any of my interpretations who cares quite frankly how about that let's just say it just like that go do your own homework I told you this from day one on the podcast not to believe me take what you will and leave the rest go do your own homework come to your own conclusions and then act upon it okay I'm not interested in whether you agree or disagree with me I don't care all I care about is if you understand the non-aggression principle you're willing to leave other people alone who want to be left alone and you don't advocate for the slavery of other people through things called Authority and government that are not real have never been real and are never going to be real it's a claim on somebody else's body it's a claim on somebody else's property it's a claim on somebody else's labor that's all these things ever have been and that equates to slavery they've only ever been slavery and if you're advocating advocating them you're advocating humans every whether you understand that or not it's true that's what I care about whether people understand get the heart of it first you want to nitpick on the details you're wasting your time and everybody else's the core message is the important aspect of this understand that and teach it to other people that's the best usage of your time people say well other people write to me and they thank me for everything and they say what a wonderful great job I'm doing and I I don't even look at emails like like that as so wonderful and great they don't make me feel that great I mean I'm glad people appreciate what I'm doing but you want to know the emails that make me feel good somebody sends me a link with what they're doing that's an email I feel good about getting okay you know and I'll go and look at stuff like that because you're actually taking some action you're actually doing something there's more people in the world since you got involved in doing what you're doing putting this information out into the world so I feel good about those I don't feel as good about when people say mark you're doing such a great job you thank you so much for this information as I do when people say to me I took an example from what you did and I did this or you know even if they say I don't agree with what you did here and I did this instead I'd feel better about that because at least they're doing something instead of doing nothing the armchair quarterbacking is going to do nothing to change our situation folks get involved get on the field choose a side and get on the field of battle because this is a war and if you don't understand that you don't understand what's going on you're in the middle of a spiritual war and if you're doing nothing to put information out into the world to change other people's mindset and worldview you are not helping you're actually helping the other side you're helping the dark side if you say you want true freedom and you say you don't want tyranny if you're not getting involved in actually putting something out and doing something on the battlefield then you're you're actually helping the other side as far as I'm concerned because that's what they want in action and I'm telling you the people who are really running this show right now the people who are who are the owners who are who are the slave masters these darker cultists are laughing themselves into a stupor they are laughing so hard that they have people in the mindset that all they'll do is attack each other divide and conquer and people could say well you're doing the same thing right now no I'm not ladies and gentlemen I am pointing it out to explain to people how stupid it is and I'm not gonna spend more time on this topic okay I'm going to future shows are gonna be dealing with more information and information dense material so I this is the podcast where I'm trying to explain to people this is what we need to get out of doing I'm explaining these are the people who are doing this these armchair quarterbacks and people who think everybody's a shill because they said one thing they don't agree with oh he said he didn't talk about this aspect of of this and so he must be a shill in trying to hold that back well it doesn't occur to somebody maybe he didn't want to focus on that aspect or maybe he doesn't even know about that aspect know that doesn't occur you're automatically an agent of the state you're automatically a show or a disinfo agent this is nonsense total nonsense thinking and I'm telling you the real owners are just they're pissing their pants they ki they they are the belly laughs that I have personally heard come out of the mouth of a cultist I want to find somebody to draw for me a scene that I witnessed at a ritual that I attended if there is any artist out there that could paint a CH sketch draw you know do a cartoon I don't care whatever if there's any visual artists that can paint depict a picture of a ritual that I attended because I want somebody to try to put on paper the demented psycho psychopathic evil laugh just two and maybe I'll even do try to find some sound recording of the let of a laugh that it can even approximate the laugh of this occultist that I once heard who is laughing at a cop who was actually guarding the house while the ritual was being conducted he was actually laughing and calling this cop our pets our pets while he was gorging himself on food and smoking a cigar in this dark grey suit with this ugly tie and just he he looked like you know the father from Harry Potter you know that the Harry father's foster father not his real father you know the Dudley's I think their name is the father Dudley I can't remember what his name is but that's what this guy who that this guy looked like or at least reminded me of and again this was way before the Harry Potter stuff ever came out in retrospect thinking about his face that is who he looked like I would just love to have this drawn I could describe the scene I could describe what the inside of the place looked like and I could describe how he was laughing at this person where they were standing in relationship and just maybe I could even you know go find a sound file to play the the the belly laugh that I heard I don't even want to try to approximate the belly laugh because one I will probably butcher it and not get it right I'm going to go on on sound pages and just try to find a deep laugh that approximates how this psychopath was laughing at this cop and just like if I could put somebody there for an instant I just wish I could go back in time and just put somebody in that position to just show them who their owners are it's my only wish to be honest because then your whole worldview would change in heartbeat you would see what your the level of evil and sickness that you're really up against and you won't waste one iota of energy nitpicking on the people who are actually trying to change this thing so you know when people say mark you get worked up about it you get angry you get bitter all of those things yes because what are these people doing the answer is absolutely nothing and that's the problem and you're damn right I'm gonna be bitter about that because I've given my life up I have given up my life to bring this information to people then you have other people that they hear a bit a tiny piece of information and they then they don't even bother to go to your site to look at what what kind of a body of knowledge is there and they ask the most ridiculous of questions like do you have any information about mind control no I don't have any information about mind control you heard a half-an-hour interview I did and that's the question you go right to my contact page on my website you click that you know and and that's the first question that you ask you didn't bother to even look at the site I know I don't have any information on mind control I just spent a year and a half of my life breaking it down for people a year and a half of my life to put shows together that deeply explain it and go through all of the methodologies that it's that are involved with it but I don't know I don't have any information on mind control this is who we're dealing with people these are the people who are who people will say their hearts in the right place that they want to do the right thing they want to learn this is this is who's our team this is who we have on our team you know what this is this is this show is and always has been a Comedy Hour it's it's a comedy show for the dark occult laughing set saying look at what he's doing for nothing pissing themselves laughing you people think we're gonna be free you think we're gonna be free it's a big goddamn joke people who think that they're a big goddamn joke and that's all I have to say you know on this topic what I want to go through and again that's not the reason I even do this I don't even do this because I think humanity's magically gonna be free I do this because I'm speaking the truth and I serve truth that's the force I serve I do not serve human beings I don't even like human beings okay I think human beings are devolved golems the most the the the vast majority of them on this planet there are some very good beings on this planet who are truly working to help other people understand to help get the truth out there to people to serve truth okay there are some people who really understand true freedom I consider them my brothers and sisters in this war but most people are degenerated animals and they deserve what happens to them the problem the moral issue that I have is that they're dragging other people into that total cesspool of suffering with them if they could do it it's very unfortunate that we're all one and we're all connected very unfortunate because if we could somehow separate from that dross from that chaff that isn't even really true humanity I don't know what it is it's again it's some degenerated animalistic golem then it would be great because they could have what's coming to them and we could have what we really truly should have which is true freedom and a world that is governed by the principles of non-aggression and actually then turn our lives over to doing what we really want to be doing instead of doing this which is saying the same thing over and over again over and over again to a bunch of ignorant asses who don't even want to understand or know and that's not what I consider good quality of life quite frankly you know and you say well that's selfish yeah it is there's nothing wrong with me wanting my life to do what I want with it instead of having to say the same thing over and over again to people who really don't want to understand it I'm doing this because I am NOT gonna let truth be lost in the world and this is why other people are really doing it they have a responsibility to truth which is a responsibility that is higher than a responsibility to any other human being including one's self lowercase s my responsibility to myself does not supersede my responsibility to the truth and which is why I'm gonna keep talking don't think I'm going away but I am pulling back my contact with other people I will be putting things out be putting new videos out soon I'm gonna be putting out the lecture that I gave at mufon Pennsylvania at the MUFON PA conference Tim Smith I want to thank him for doing a phenomenal job on the videos that he just produced first of all he did the matrix presentation the Matrix trilogy decoded presentation video which he did a great job on that he did a phenomenal job on the MUFON presentation that I gave right now that is had been offered as an exclusive video on the free your mind fundraiser so I'm going to hold that video for about another month or so and maybe I'll post it on the first day of spring that would be a nice new addition to the the work on my website on my video page and on my youtube channel at the beginning of spring I think I'll do that I also have the video I did at the Y Tesla matters conference also produced by Tim Smith did a phenomenal job on that as well I'll probably post those together when spring begins let's let's look at that as a tentative date for those to hit the water on Earth is happening website so new Tyrael will be going up this will be an irregular podcast format okay so don't look for it every the same time every week you'll have to just check the website every now and again and new episodes you know will be going up again I may do another podcast tomorrow I may do not I may do two podcast this week I may not do a podcast this coming week I may you know do one next weekend I may I may do six in a month I may do one or two in a month it's gonna be on my schedule when when the urge strikes me and again it's going to take on a little bit more of a targeted and focused format so that's all the venting and the vitriol that I want to get out there for today and again it isn't to necessarily just to go on an attack or a rant it's to point this out that this is a bad use of energy it's not I don't recommend it as a good use of people's energy go do something that's truly productive put this information out there for other people that's the reason why things aren't changing fast enough you're spending time nitpicking on stuff instead of putting information out there for people I don't even care if you don't have it all right you can go and edit it later you can go and say later after I put this out I read it I no longer think this I can go back and say hey information in podcast whatever number whatever I didn't have this right please accept my apologies that I put out beta information and here's my change here's my revision you could always do that you know I feel like I waited too long to even start talking I've said this before in the past I I sat on this knowledge for a while doing nothing until someone shook me out of that with vitriol with harsh words not with saying it's okay that you're doing that and not really speaking and you know all of this and you're doing nothing no they said hey what makes you think you can do that what makes you think you have a right and that you don't carry your responsibility to put this out there for other people that's how they said it to me I thank them for saying that to me like that Pat from Virginia who I may not have probably would have eventually you know woken up in to action but it may not have been for another couple of years if that person didn't just say that to me in a vitriolic way so I think that's great and she might not even think it was a vitriolic way whatever you know I would say it wasn't at least pleasing to make me think that to stay comfortable in thinking I was doing the right thing because I wasn't silence is not the right thing and anybody that's an armchair quarterback who's staying silent you're not helping you're hurting the war effort the spiritual war that's going on so that's really all I want to say on that topic I want to Lee I want to end the show today by with two things and people will people will probably think the first thing that I'm going to say is leave leaving on a negative note I'll leave on a more positive note by playing the video that I had suggested for people that was recommended to me from Bob from Cincinnati the first thing I want to say is people will ask me do you have any hope for Humanity do you have any hope for our situation the answer to that is largely no I don't have much hope but it's not 100% gone there is a tiny tiny bit and it's there for one reason and really one reason only and it's not because I think humanity is intelligent truly intelligent or operating on any kind of holistic intelligence it's not because I think that they care you know because they have developed a lot of care and what and desire to know it's not because I think that there have so much courage and they're getting ready to stand up for their rights it's not because I think that they know what rights really are it's not because I think that they want to do the right thing I don't have hope for any of those reasons I don't have hope because people are you know have such a strong developed will and they're so ready to get involved and do something and make things happen I have hope for none of those reasons as a matter of fact those things I recognize that humanity is apathetic they're ignorant they're lazy they're cowardly and in a very very huge proportion there are more people who are non-activated who are not not intelligent who are apathetic who are not actually taking any real action that could help help for the better then our the the proportion is staggering okay you know I would say if we have if if 1/10 of 1% of people are aware and active I would say that would be an encouraging sign I don't think we're anywhere even close to that who really understand and are really doing something about it who understand the call the true causal factors and then are actually trying to help other people to understand those true causal factors that are rooted in natural law I would say it's far less than 1/10 of 1% of the whole human population far less than that maybe maybe Oh point zero five percent maybe I'm being exceedingly generous I think so you know with that having been said then people will say well why do you have any hope at all and the the graphics that I'm gonna post with the podcast I'm only going to post four of them today I will also post a related video the video and I'll post the related audio file of the free your mind commercial the audio commercial if anyone wants to pick that up and run it on any network or show absolutely feel free to do so it will be posted with this podcast the the video will be posted as well that I'm going to play to take us out today and the four images the first two were related to the free your mind conference the freer conference poster was image number one the conference fundraiser poster was image number two at least it's a preliminary poster we're gonna add the other bands logos to it and put out a finalized version in the next couple days the third image is explaining the alchemical acronym of vitriol and the fourth image is the reason that I have any hope at all it's a chart that shows the gun ownership rate in the world worldwide gun ownership per 100 people average firearm ownership per 100 people and if you look at the chart America stands alone and to me it's one of the most beautiful visions and hopeful visions that I've seen in years in years and let me tell you something folks the only reason that the world is already not a 100 percent locked down totalitarian society similar to or worse than Nazi Germany Hitler's Germany mouths China Sol ins Russia or any other wicked totalitarian regime that has ever existed in the world the only reason that the world has not gotten to that place yet is because America has not yet been declawed and defined by becoming disarmed and as long as I draw breath I'm going to continue to fight to preserve and actually enhance the level of firearms ownership that exists in the United States and people will say how could you consider yourself a spiritual teacher when you're teaching people that firearms are good because I understand not only the non-aggression principle I understand the second pillar that goes hand-in-hand in the synthesis of principles the Sacred Feminine encapsulate the non-aggression principles of do not do harm to others do not infringe upon their inherent natural rights but the second pillar of principles is the self-defense principle which means if someone is incurring making incursions upon your natural rights your life your liberty or property you do possess inherently the natural right to use defensive force to protect your life liberty and property against those incursions and no government no matter how much they want to claim they have a monopoly on the use of force they do not and do not ever possess the right to take that inherent right to self-defense away we've talked about this ad infinitum on previous shows and it will be continue to be a theme that I refuse but this is the only reason I have any hope for America ladies and gentlemen and let me tell you something I would rather than those guns be in the hands of ignorant people then not be in the hands of people at all that's how much I believe in the ownership of firearms because once you take away someone's defensive capability you own them you own them you could do what you want with them and that's why the government is making these intrusions as soon as a government even starts trying to take away the citizens protect protection against encroachment of tyranny as soon as they try to take away that capability or start making inroads on taking away that capability in any way in any form that those are the conditions that are ripe for tyranny and you can guarantee they're getting ready to go hot with that tyranny and this is what's happening in the United States today and we have people nitpicking on researchers on different researchers still talking about you know is the Federal Reserve private or how much of our tax money gets paid to them for word etymologies or meanings of symbols when they're trying to take the firearms from the citizenry of America this is happening now because they're trying to declaw and defang the last line of defense against tyranny and people will say oh we could never fight back against this government anyway even if they did go hot with tyranny you don't think so I beg to differ and I'm telling you the American military and whatever other parent military police forces they have in third world countries can't deal with that resistance you don't think that angry American resistors can get the job done and put down a tyrannical regime quickly why would suggest that your little to brainwash by the mass media and what you know the power that you think this government really does have I don't care what kind of advanced weaponry they have good luck that's gonna do against 80 million gun owners good luck with that wouldn't want to be on that side won't want to be on that side of that war not saying that this might not if it goes hot if the tyranny goes hot and then a revolution has to go hot to suppress the tyranny I'm not telling you there aren't going to be enormous casualties on both sides but I'm telling you I wouldn't want to be on the side of the people who try it here I wouldn't want to be on the side of the people who would dare to try it here so my you know the two words I have for them is Molan Labe try it try to come and get them and I'll just wrap it up on that that's the image that brings me hope I look at that image every day because it's the only thing anymore that puts a smile on my face and I hope people understand what I'm saying when I say that so let's end with this great video that was brought to my attention from by Bob from Cincinnati of a cult empire thanks for sending me the link to this Bob this is a video that really talks about some of the things that I went over today on the show and it gets into the implications of occulted knowledge something I've been talking about since day one on what on earth is happening and will continue to talk about on many future shows on the what on earth is happening podcast so I'll take us out with this video and it's very well done I commend the maker of it who really put so much in so little I will also post it with the podcast so you can see the good visuals that he associated with this this breakdown of what occult knowledge really is and its impacts upon human society and ultimately the internal world of the psyche within each individual so we'll end on that and I'll see everybody here when I see you you know I'll I'll be putting out podcasts again on an irregular schedule so just check the website please help to promote for the free your mind to conference I ask people to spread those posters invite your friends on the Facebook page for the event you can find that on Facebook just type for your mind to conference and get involved just keep doing something don't just complain about other people and their work do something yourself that's the message I want to end on and we'll take you out with this video the implication of occulted knowledge upon humanity ladies and gentlemen you've been listening to what on earth is happening podcast number 139 and remember there are only two mistakes that one can make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you next time folks peace and blessings the following is a short video presentation for the sacred breath archives on the current collective psychology of humankind and in particular the implications of secret societies and those who hide that is those who are cult knowledge from their fellow humans first it is important to briefly explain the extreme as above so below or as within so without reality many understand the psychological and spiritual challenges we face within us as individuals will reflect themselves into so-called real external events and phenomenon likewise the psychological and spiritual challenges we face as a collective people will also manifest in events and phenomena that follow similar archetype or patterns only on a much grander scale one such way this happens that many may be familiar with is through the divination arts such as astrology contrary to popular belief of the masses astrology is not the study of how heavenly bodies affect the individual the heavenly bodies act simply as a map to the archetype or cyclic or patterning of man psyche or degree that it is absurd to say that the earth turns as it does because of the effects of some mysterious force that clocks have on earth a clock is simply a way to track and map the revolution of the earth the same applies for astrology although further explanation of this is beyond the scope of the presentation in a similar manner I believe that many ancient stories that we have incorrectly called myth are indeed the retelling of actual events that occurred in literal history they may not be 100% accurate and they may be embellished in certain details they may not also be originally associated with the peoples of whom we have received those stories from many stories have passed through many different cultures but the names and places are often changed so as to relate to the particular culture these events have archetypal themes that continue to manifest as maps and guides to the spiritual and psychological issues that we as humans have not dealt with just as it was said earlier that the individual will attract certain life challenges and situations to themselves based on their psychological and spiritual state of being in particular it would appear that the humanity's current state of apathetic detached zombie-like psychopathy is in large part because of people's both past and present who have held knowledge from the general masses of humanity this includes those who did and do so with malicious intent and those who have mistakenly done so with good intent there are those both past and present who have felt that knowledge of the spiritual and psychological inner workings of both man and the universe should be kept secret and only disclosed to a certain few who are deemed worthy I can understand the thinking behind wanting to keep certain knowledge secret so that it does not fall into the hands of those with malicious intent however the following problems arise even when intent is sincere firstly no one has the right to own truth there is no monopoly on the truth and every man has a right to it therefore to purposely withhold the truth is against the laws of nature or God secondly having another human or group of humans judging who and who isn't worthy of certain information is to go against the halacha called nature of the universe where each man must be deemed righteous by his own conscience that is his own link to the divine wound it is not for another to judge who is and isn't worthy of truth as nature itself has accounted for this in its laws Nature herself judges who is and isn't worthy of truth through means of initiation and rites of passage in the form of moral challenges for both the individual and the collective we can notice how man has attempted to replicate this through such things as the lodge system of Freemasonry and other secret societies we are already members though of the Grand Lodge of life so to speak and law and truth herself will guide us to her if we pay attention in the kinetic or ancient Egyptian spiritual system they gave the image of the weighing of the heart with the feather of truth those whose heart was not in balance with truth were devoured by a mint a creature that was part crocodile part lion and part hippopotamus the three largest man-eating animals know into the comedic people those who are not worthy of truth in accordance with their thoughts emotions and actions are devoured by their own shadow lastly on a global scale while keeping truth hidden man as a collective is like an individual who has intellectual knowledge of the truth but refuses to live accordingly they locked that true somewhere in the shadows of their being they continue to live a life of greed materialism and selflessness because they refuse to look within at the self this leads to a contradiction of being and a house divided amongst itself which as we know it cannot stand and so we get both an individual and the people rife with mental illness and in many cases psychopathy if however the truth is disclosed to all people if all have free access to information about the occult knowledge of man and the universe then they would without hindrance be able to address the self recognized rites of passage in their life and see life as one great initiation into the mysteries of the universe they would be guided to truth by truth herself and would quickly recognize the ways in which they are failing through an understanding of the laws that govern moral behavior it is therefore the moral obligation of those who come to truth however small that portion of truth they have come to is to speak and live that truth you have no obligation to convince others of anything there is no point banging your head against a brick wall but humbly present people with what you know live so that there is no contradiction in your being and let the truth do the rest you

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Mark Pascoe [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com today is Saturday March 2nd 2013 we have a great podcast lined up for you here today I'm going to be getting into the topics of organic food today and I'm going to get into technology a little bit today as a topic I'm going to be talking about planned obsolescence a little bit later on in the show but I have so many notes and event announcements that I want to go over so much is is happening and going on I haven't done a podcast in about a month I've been taking a lot of time reorganizing my priorities really focusing on getting the free your mind conference together and making it be the best event that it possibly can be so we're doing a lot of work on in the organizational front with regards to the conference and I again as I said last week I've just been refocusing my efforts and rebalancing myself because for a while there I feel that I wasn't being effective in what I was doing and in order to do that I wanted to take a step back so I did that for a little while and again the the podcast may again come at a rate that is less frequent as they've been right now and at some point I may start ramping them up and doing them in a very regular fashion again but for now I think you know I'm going to pace them out and put a lot of material together I want to talk about and come forward with it strongly instead of doing it in small batches and again the organization for the conference is taking the bulk of the priority of my time right now as the conference approach is rapidly now coming up in April so let's jump right into the event announcements and I want to go over a few short notes and comments that I have here and talk about some issues that are going on in the modern world and then I want to get into our dual topic today of the state of organic food and I want to talk about planned obsolescence when it comes to technology so the free your mind to conference of course rapidly approaching coming up April 25th 26th and 27th here in the city of Philadelphia for your mind to is a conference on consciousness mind control and the occult the location is the beautiful Arch Street meeting house in the historic district of Philadelphia at 3:20 Arch Street the featured speakers Allen Steinfeld Alfred Webber Andrew basiago Ben Stuart Bob Tuscan Cathy O'Brien Curtis Davis dr. dream freighter X Freeman fly fritz spring Meyer Yan Irvin Jay Parker Jim Fetzer Larkin Rose Laura Eisenhower Lennon honor Lauren

Marais myself Mark passio Mark Phillips Marty Leeds Randall Carlson Ross Ben and Sonya Barrett an all-star lineup to be sure it's good just gonna be such a phenomenal event really looking forward to it the best way that you could support this conference is to buy an advance ticket advance ticket sales are only going to be through the end of this month April 1st will be the last day for advanced the conference website WWF re your mind conference calm to support the goals of the free your mind conference will be throwing the fourth and final fundraiser for the free your mind to conference on March 30th 2013 it will be an online all day radio marathon right on the free your mind conference website for your mind conference calm you'll be able to tune in to the radio stream March 30th 2013 from noon to midnight Eastern the radio marathon fundraiser fundraiser number 4 for the free remind 2 conference is going to be hosted by Bob Tuscan Freeman fly myself and the illuminated one Curtis Davis four co-hosts of the for your mind to fundraiser number four Radio Marathon on freer mind conference calm be sure to tune into that from noon to midnight Eastern Time on March 30 we'll be interviewing a bunch of speakers from the conference and we'll also be doing some prize giveaways as well on the air so definitely check that out and support the conference goals and let me tell you something folks a conference of this size and magnitude does not just throw itself it takes a lot of time effort work resources money all of it and people are putting this work in out of the kindness of their hearts because they want to see humanity be free and they're putting hundreds of hours of work into this endeavor for free so please help us support the conference and help us to pay the travel expenses of a lot of these phenomenal speakers that were bringing in and it's quite expensive to do that to bring speakers in from all over the country especially you know with many speakers needing travel arrangements made to be flown in to Philadelphia and to be lodged in the city for a four-day duration because many of them are coming in on the day before the conference begins and then staying for the three days of the conference's duration so check please do check out that fundraiser on March 30th right at free your mind conference calm also coming up in March I'm going to be releasing two new videos on the water on earth is happening calm website and the one on earth is happening YouTube channel I will be releasing videos of presentations that I gave over the last couple of months one of them was at the pencil Pennsylvania MUFON the mutual UFO network East Coast conference and I gave a talk at that conference called morality and disclosure it'll be the first public video that I've posted relating to extraterrestrial phenomena and some of my takes on that so I'm sure it'll be very much look forward to by some people who want to hear my take on that I don't get too deep into you know speculation it's really about the moral issues that are involved in the ongoing cover-up so that is coming out that will be coming out on March 20th along with another video a shorter video that I did as part of the Tesla memorial conference called why Tesla matters in New York in January and at that conference I gave a talk called scarcity to abundance which was really about why free energy technologies have not manifested themselves in our world and why we're still stuck in an energy paradigm that is based upon scarcity and the depletion of the earth's resources and it's about the the mindset that is holding us back toward the manifestation of free energy holding us back from the manifestation of free energy I should say so that's what I got into that in that lecture so two two presentations coming up both filmed by Tim Smith of signs of the time media and he did a great job on the filming and put spliced in the the presentation slides into the video he was the gentleman who also put together the Matrix trilogy decoded video which he I think he did a great job with that as well so these two new videos will be hitting the website on March 20th I decided to do that deliberately on the spring equinox so look for those in the next couple of weeks also a new project that I am looking to put together here in Philadelphia I want to mention this to find out if there is anyone in the Philadelphia area that might be able to help me to manifest this I have been considering instead of just simple presentations putting together more intensive seminars that deal with natural law and human rights and what true freedom really is and what sovereignty really is and doing it in a form of a all-day workshop something like that or maybe not even necessarily an all-day workshop but maybe you know like a six hour workshop with you know you know a three hour session a break and then another three-hour session something like that at a local venue somewhere in Philadelphia or in the suburbs of Philadelphia just outside of Philly someplace I posted to my facebook page this idea got a lot of positive response but still trying to find a venue for this I actually also contacted the folks from citizens for liberty an activist group I'm going to talk about it with some people at truth freedom prosperity and find out if there's someplace maybe we can do this where you know we have like a classroom environment and it would be like oh you know attending a class or a seminar on natural law and really going over the basics even having maybe handouts for people and you know bringing this information to people in a face-to-face setting instead of just talking about it over the radio on the internet with some slides you know doing it in a face-to-face setting and making it somewhat interactive working with people working them through their mental blocks to what natural law is really about and what sovereignty is all about and true freedom and you know looking at scenarios looking at specific examples things like that so if anyone in the Philadelphia area again please limit this to the Philadelphia area if you know of a good venue that we can do this at that would house maybe you know 30 or 40 people something like that and would be open to allowing something like this and you know we could do this maybe over you know maybe even over a couple of month period maybe like do it like night a week for or one day a week you know in the afternoon or something for you know a month you know I'm willing to break it up in two sessions even if anybody has a venue in mind please contact me at mark at what on earth is happening calm and again it has to be local to Philadelphia I'm not looking for something outside the city to do this I want something in this area that's easy for me to travel to and set up at and you know basically teach an intensive course an intensive workshop or seminar on natural law so that being said let's move on to another event announcement on March 28th we will be having the truth freedom prosperity monthly free documentary screening and discussion night at a scene food market on 4th and Monroe streets in Philadelphia and this will be the last time that this meetup will be happening at a scene the last Thursday of the month is when we host these we've been doing them at a scene food market but we're going to be switching the venue of this past month we just showed the first in a four-part series it's called occult history of the Third Reich a phenomenal documentary series that explains the occult underpinnings of the Nazi ideology and agenda and for people that don't understand that Nazism was a solar cult it was a cult of the dark Sun the Black Sun the Schwarz Sun as the inner occult order in the Nazi movement referred to it as if people don't understand that this was an occult ideology that drove the Third Reich you just are still asleep you know and if people don't understand that this is the same solar cult that's still ruling us today you just don't get what's really going on so we really got into a good discussion and a good bringing forward of a lot of the key players in the occult underworld you know that that put together than the Nazi regime and the Third Reich enter the the these same ideologies of course you know not the same exact people they passed down their ideologies to their successors of course but the same ideologies are at work in our world today and one could say that we are in the fourth reich so we're going to be continuing the the series that we started this past Thursday we did it on February 28th at a scene and we showed the first part of this four-part series it was called a cold history of the Third Reich part one the Enigma of the swastika and it got into the symbolism that drove the Third Reich's mentality part two is going to delve into the Schutzstaffel the SS the protection squadron Hitler's secret police and their ideologies and how that was really based on dark esoteric occultism as was really as I said the entire Third Reich it was a solar cult and again their successors are really the people who are behind the Fourth Reich which is dominating our world today so come on out to a scene on March 28th for part two of this four-part series and then there are two more parts that we're going to be will be picking up the second half of this documentary series when we move the TFP documentary night to underground arts at 12th and callow hill streets that'll be coming up in April and May I'll have to move the date on the one in April because of course the last Thursday of April is the beginning of the freer mind conference so I think I'll move it to the the week before in April or maybe we'll skip April altogether and start them in you know May at underground arts off to see how hectic the the mid part and end part of April actually is okay I attended the second ammendment rally that was hosted by the group called citizens for liberty an activist group in the Norristown Pennsylvania area I attended the Second Amendment rally that they threw it was called gun owners against crime and this took place on February 23rd two to three and it was awesome I mean they really did a great job great speakers uh two hundred people turned out with their weapons and there was tons of people with battle rifles in the street standing for the Second Amendment saying we will not be disarmed and I thought it was very very encouraging anybody that has been following the work I've been doing on the Second Amendment and just you know the inherent natural law right to defend oneself inherently the fan ones you know the inherent right to defend oneself against violence well no I'm a huge supporter of gun ownership rights and I feel that whenever a society is enslaved it has to be disarmed first for it to be truly enslaved and that's why they want a gun grab agenda to be put into effect here in the United States because they want to take away people's right to defend themselves against tyranny anybody that doesn't understand that's what guns and gun ownership are for again you're still asleep and you need to wake up and understand that the Second Amendment is not in place to protect just your right to defend your home or to hunt in the wilderness which again I don't I don't even look at as a more use of firearms because I'm not for hunting or sport or game or eating dead animal flesh but I do deeply understand that firearms are for someone's protection of their freedom when someone else is encroaching against their freedom that's what they're for make no mistake about it and let me tell you something the people who showed up at this rally understand that fact it's not an opinion it's a fact that's why the Second Amendment was ever put into place to protect an inherent natural right that exists in creation and the people there understand very encouraging that they understand those rights don't come from man they come from the creator of the universe and they are not going to sit and idly by and watch those rights be taken by any man when they weren't granted by any man so I just want to say to the organizers of that rally excellent job keep up the great work and you know it was an inspiring day for me and I don't say that very much when I meet with large groups of people but that was encouraging let's just put it that way so the feedback so far for the new podcast format has been very good very encouraging a much better than I thought it would be I thought people would you know miss the old radio format but every single person that wrote to me bar none I couldn't even believe it myself said that they thought I made the right decision I made the right move were glad that I had parted ways with Oracle and that they supported a new podcast format and not one person who who donated for the ad-free chip and asked for their money back and everybody said please put it into what you feel is appropriate so what I did with part of it and I still have plenty left over that I'm going to do more things with but I bought a mixer it's a simple six channel audio mixer and I bought a new condenser microphone so hopefully that quality comes through in the podcast I don't know whether you know people will hear a radical difference I'm hoping it does come through I did a couple of other interviews recently and I think it did come through rather well on those interviews from listening back to the audio quality I was kind of happy with you know the quality that I got out of this new microphone so far so the money is being put to good use and will continue to be and thanks for all the positive feedback that people have given me on the new podcast format I want to make a couple of announcements about some shows that I was on recently I was interviewed by Gary Hendershot on wide awake news on Monday February 25th and I got into mind-control and occultism and natural law a little bit on the show Gary is on the wide awake news network it's the same network that Charlie McGrath broadcasts out of and it was a good show that's up in the what on earth is happening news section I was also interviewed on awake in the dream radio the podcast put out by dr. dream and Laura Eisenhower two of the featured speakers at the freer mind conference they also interviewed me on February 25th the podcast was actually broadcast the next day on the 26th on their radio channel their podcast Channel we got into natural law self ownership we I talked a little bit about the sacred masculine principle of the inherent right to use force in a defensive capacity the right to self-defense we got into a lot of other topics as well check that out that is also in the news section of what on earth is happening calm last week I made our last podcast I should say I made some comments that I don't really particularly like humanity I don't really like people in general and some people took that the wrong way or commented that well when you say that people who are hearing what you're saying in your podcasts read into that and say well you don't like me and my answer to that kind of is I don't have to like you for the information that I'm saying to be true you don't have to like me for the information that I'm saying to be true I kind of stress over and over and over again that for people to understand the non-aggression principle you don't even really have to like each other uh you could even find someone completely distasteful and still exercise the non-aggression principle not commit violence you know an undue force against them so the whole thing of having to like somebody or even trying to project that you like them is is to me it's like the New Age hooks that are in people and I'm gonna really be getting into this in the free or mind conference my my presentation at the free your mind conference is going to totally tear apart the New Age movement that's what the whole thing is going to be on all of the deceptions and falsities that are in the New Age mentality and one of these things is that you have to talk and sweep pleasing tones to people and appeal to their ego and you know try to try to you know sweet-talk them and that's not what I'm about that's not what I've ever been about since day one I'm not going to pretend that that's what I'm about or that's what I'm like I've been very open and honest I told people from day one I'm not an apologist for humanity I don't think that humanity is evil by its nature I think it has become sick and pretty much become destroyed that's not its nature you know that's basically what they we've allowed to happen to ourselves in our ignorant and apathy and lack of will and you know my comment from last podcast stands I don't really like human beings I don't like what human beings have become and again I'm not doing this for human beings I don't know how much clearer I could on that and more honest and open about it I can be I'm doing this because I'm charged to put truth out into the world so the people who choose to do so may learn and change their ways that's it that's why I do what I do not because I like anyone I love truth I love freedom and I'm putting these words out and these teachings out to protect those things because I'm on the side of those forces I'm their servant I'm not humanity servant and I you know I'll keep re-emphasizing that as needed but I just you know wanted to put that forward once again for people who that you know are worried well people will hear you say that and they won't listen well don't don't listen shut the podcast off right now as a matter of fact I'm not concerned with who does or does not listen to this show if I wanted a ton of people to listen to the show I would not be telling people things that they don't want to hear I would try to appeal to their ego and tell them everything's going to be fine you know the the you know the the Starfleet force from you know Andromeda is coming any day now no action is required and just sit tight and it's all going to be taken care of that's what people want to hear you know people who put that crap out on there you know information based websites or or radio shows get hundreds of thousands if not millions of people tuning into their junk because that's what people want to hear I don't need to do anything I don't need to really change myself or anything about Who I am or what I think or what I do you know somebody else has got this in hand saviours coming in to rescue us from ourselves yeah keep waiting let me know how that works out for you you know that's what people want to hear people don't want to hear what I'm saying because it it's telling them massive changes required that starts with the way you think oh good luck selling that to anybody you know only the people who are ready to hear that message and what it entails are gonna come here and listen to this information so you know the AHA this isn't a popularity contest nor is it meant to be this is here for people who are serious students of the occult the hidden forces at work in our world and how to change the world and create a better reality for serious students of that that's what this whole show is and has been about and will continue to be about so you know I stand by the comment I don't like people when people change maybe I'll like them a little bit better that doesn't mean I'm gonna stop what I'm doing because the truth remains the truth and that's the force I serve so people also commented on the aspect last week of vitriolic speech and a lot of people say that doesn't work you know you get more flies with honey than you do with vinegar and my retort to that is it's never been tried in mass never been tried in mass people speaking the truth totally unapologetically right to someone's face and calling people on their own it's never been tried it's never been done if you could show me an instance in history word has been done I'd like to see it and I'd like to see you document it because to my knowledge it's never even been tried let alone been done so if more people spoke the truth and actually called other people on their crap things might change but unfortunately most people are too timid to do that they're too afraid of what other people think of them you know they care more about somebody else's opinion of them than what the truth is and they think they're gonna baby spoon feed this to people and it'll take 10,000 years for somebody to get the ABCs of this well we don't have time for that ladies and gentlemen we haven't had time for that you know so I also stand by my contention that more people need to put this boldly and even rashly into the face of people who continue to support human slavery and explain to them what they're helping help them see it in a clearer way even if they're not ready to hear that truth make them see it hold a mirror up to their face and force them to see it it's never been done it's never been tried because people are too timid to even try it so you know I think where we're at in to the level of transgression that we have fallen into as a species and sweet-talking people is not the answer that's gonna make people think that what they are doing and have been continuing to do is okay which it is not so I like the vitriolic approach and I have no intention of changing it I think it's more effective when people hear when somebody is righteously outraged by what other people are doing and the way that they are thinking that is destructive to the ends of freedom and justice in our world I think that has much more effect than being timid and shy and oh you might want to look at how you think about this No be bold get up in people's faces with the truth that's why the lie is totally dominating the world because there it's bold and in people's face you know and the lies speaks to people with a sweet voice you know it tells them what they want to hear and Pat's them on the head and people fall into it they love it they can't get enough of it you know you look at a television news program these people all get dressed up and do their hair so nicely and they dress in their suit and their business suit and you know they get up there and you know they tell people a whole crock of dong is what they do poisonous sewage comes out of their mouth that that can only do bad things that are destructive to human beings but they tell people it with a pleasing voice and a nice smile on the face you know a nice crap eating grin on the face and people just eat it up with a spoon and and slurp it up with a straw well I think the approach toward telling the truth should not be like that we need to get up in people's face with the truth so that they can not refuse to see it so that it will be put up there and spoken in a totally unapologetic manner by those who know and that's all the universe is asking us to do it's not asking us to make that decision for other people as to whether it's to accept the truth or not it's asking us to tell people how it really is and then their karma is whether to accept it or not so I'm not interested in sweet-talking anyone people say I do browbeating you're damn right I do the truth remains the truth no matter how it's said to people it can be again whispered in your ear by a soft-spoken seductress or it can be shouted through a bullhorn by a guy with a loud raspy voice it three inches from your ear it nothing's going to change except your reaction or receptivity to it that's it and that's all in the ego that's all rooted in the ego my friends whether you hear someone screaming at the top of their lungs two plus two equals four just because you don't like how the message is delivered makes no difference as to the veracity of the message whether it is true or not and that's all that ultimately matters and yes that is all that ultimately matters is whether it is true or not not how it is spoken and not even whether it is received or not again that is the individuals karma that wants to reject truth that's not my business that's your business that's their business it's it's each individual's business whether they want to recognize and understand what's really going on and come onto the side of the truth and be a part of that the unfolding of that force or whether they want to keep doing the same thing that they've done and keeping the truth suppressed the ego has everything to do with the perception of information so I totally am NOT for the method of placating the ego the ego has to be broken down and that's vitriol means acid acid wears things away it makes things become dissolved the ego needs to be dissolved the force doesn't want people to admit truth that doesn't want people to admit that they are wrong that's the egoic mind we are not doing anyone any service by approaching people with this New Age attitude of if everything is good now everything is not good there is good and there is evil there is right and there is wrong the a lot of this new age bunk teaching moral relativism I'm so sick of it there's no such thing as right or wrong there's a device that those are dualistic okay and I call you on that it's nonsense this is this is moral relativistic nonsense put out by a cultists who are behind mu a a lot of New Age teachings darker cultists and you have to understand that there's a big deception going on with a lot of the information that's being put out by this community that doesn't even understand the myth the total lie of authority they they Dussel tell you with a straight face people in this movement that there's such a thing as political authority and jurisdiction and you know the the the claims of ownership made by other people on you or valid they won't talk about sovereignty because they're cowards they're cowards now they won't talk about sovereignty because that challenge is Big Daddy you know and his bull whip we can't we can't do that these people disgust me their cow and they're deceivers so look forward to a scathing presentation at the free your mind conference on the New Age movement from me again that's gonna be my topic breaking down the deception and lies of the New Age movement um another thing I want to comment on is that I constantly constantly hear the statement over and over again when I you know see people may be discussing the information that I put forward on the Internet I hear the phrase well there's nothing new here he's not telling anybody anything radically new or you know that this is so you know earth-shattering and in its different mnestheus other things that I've heard before yeah-hoo-hoo claimed that it was when did I ever make the claim I'm gonna bring forward so much new stuff that no one in the world has ever heard before you know radically new concepts that you know you'll have no idea what I'm even talking about at first you know when did I ever make that claim that I had brand new information there's nothing new you ever hear the phrase folks there's nothing new Under the Sun nothing new is going on here on the earth it's all the same old crap there's nothing new same crap different day slavery going on on the earth what what new information am I going to bring forward that hasn't already been said or heard a billion or more times I'm a collector of information and I organize it into a stepwise progression that is digestible there's more readily and easily digestible by people so that they can process it in a linear sequential progression that is the point of what on earth is happening not to bring up anything new cuz they're I couldn't bring up anything new there is nothing new for to bring up the information that I deal with is timeless it is cosmic in nature it is inherent to the fabric of reality that's it so how are you gonna make something new from that you know it's just it's people who are just morons well I mean let's just call these people what they are they're idiots they're morons they're brain dead they don't understand the concept that there's nothing new Under the Sun they don't get that they don't understand what that phrase even means you know and they think oh well because I'm just starting my awakening oh I'm gonna go here and it's going to present something so radically different and new to me that I've never heard before well don't it don't necessarily expect that maybe you will learn something new maybe you won't from what I'm saying but I never claimed that I was presenting anything new I never even claimed that this was my information to begin with because it isn't this information is the birthright of humanity Peary is the birthright of free beings everywhere not even just humanity so you know I never made that claim that I present new information so I don't know where this concept even comes from or why people expect that I'm putting forward anything new when I go and listen to a researcher online I don't expect him to put out new information I want to hear his take on what's really going on which is the same thing that's always been going on here leave since human beings have been here and it's called slavery the only thing that would be new is if we got out of it got out of our self-imposed chains so to all the people who make this ass brained comment there's nothing new here all I have to say is wonderful work genius Brainiac you figured it out there's nothing new here exactly great detective work very proud of you so let's jump to a different topic before we get into the main two topics that I will really want to talk about big news two big pieces of news and you know I have to at least put some kind of a mention on the show on the podcast about these two pieces of news the pope resigned I mean this you know never happens I mean this is huge in the world of organized religion you know I'm not gonna say much about it other than you know whoever doesn't think that this has something huge to do with child pedophilia with pedophilia and uh you know crimes against children in some form or fashion again that's an incredibly naive point of view there's no way the Pope is resigning from his post okay unless something gigantic is in the undercurrents and guaranteed it has to do with sex crimes in the Vatican guaranteed I mean and that's my whole take on that and anybody with half a brain in their head has to realize that's got to be what this is about so I'll throw that speculation out there even though obviously that's not proven as of right now we know enough about his history you know involved in the cover-up of sex crimes and moving you know the parishioners of certain parishes to other parishes to go and do the same crimes against children in other places where they they weren't known work with families behind the scenes giving them you know payment settlements to settle out of court so they wouldn't bring up these priests on charges it's disgusting what this pederast cover up cover up er at the very least if not a pederast himself has been doing throughout his his history is a career in organized religion so and you know whoever's offended by that go right ahead and get as offended as you want about you know your nonsensical esoteric version of Krishna exoteric excuse me version of Christianity which has nothing to do with true Christianity um not having been said I mean that's really all I want to say about the Pope's resignation if you call it a resignation or an abdication whatever you want to look at that as um the meteor that exploded over Russia also something I just want to briefly touch on very rare that any human beings see something like that in their lifetime and live to have one that's just that size that it will explode detonate and maybe just hurt some people as opposed to you know making a gigantic crater where there used to be a city so that's an event usually scientists say maybe happens every 200 years or so and you know we probably won't see something like that in our lifetime but another possibility that that could be you know the goddess herself you know Nature herself you know giving us a little shot across the bow if you will a little warning shot saying you know keep keep going with your immoral ways and you know I'm gonna send the big one next and I'm gonna send the big knuckleball right down the middle of the plate next so you know that's that's my take on that is you know as things become more destabilized in consciousness here we're going to see more and more debility in in earth changes and events that happen cosmic events that happen from space to me it's no surprise but nonetheless phenomenally majestic in its awesomeness to see that meteor come screaming through the Earth's atmosphere at the speed that it did and then explode in the lower atmosphere just an awesome act of nature itself that's my take on on that recent news so those are all the events and minor news items or major news items if you will that I wanted to cover the two topics I really want to briefly talk about here today and I probably won't make this a long podcast and again this is more of a stream of consciousness type podcast I don't have a like a formal slideshow prepared today about any of this stuff I just wanted to come on give an update talk about a couple of topics that have been on my mind recently and you know go from there maybe we'll do some more structured podcasts coming up in the near future but you know for now I just want to have like a kind of a stream of consciousness you know talk about the the state of organic food and the the state of some technology in our world now these are topics that I've been encountering and wrestling with over the last many months and the first thing is the costs of food in general not just organic food but all food if people aren't paying attention I mean you you look at the prices at the grocery grocery stores and at the supermarket's and it's just out of hand food prices are completely out of hand and this is part of you know how they basically degenerate a society by restricting access to good high nutrient-dense foods and forcing people in lower-class strata to compromise and buy foods that are more adulterated and therefore their thinking becomes degenerated because they're not nourishing their body properly I mean it's very simple to understand the cycle and the agenda behind it to keep high quality and low cost foods off the market both simultaneously high quality and low cost and that being said I mean the quality of organic food isn't even how it used to be even recently as a couple of years ago it's just corners are being cut farmers are like doing some of the same types of practices of you know picking things too early obviously not nourishing the crop enough and it's just you can just see even in the organic produce items there is has been a to my perception a degradation in the quality of availab available foods and that the prices that they're charging for are completely outrageous you know I don't make a lot of money largely the you know barb brings in the bulk of the Federal Reserve notes you know compared to the two of us I do independent work with computers but I mean it's so difficult to even have enough money left over for food prices you know once basic utility calls for a house or taken into consideration to even eat high-quality foods to continue to shop organic and high-quality and we continue to do it but it's like you know very it's very painful to do it because you see the toll that it takes on funds for any given period of time or any given month I can imagine what people who have are even less fortunate and make even less have to settle for and this brings me to the topic of organic food in general because I want to talk about the fact that this the prices on organic items are totally artificially driven up anybody that wants to you know be an apologist for these organic farmers who want to keep trying to present the argument that oh you know this cost so much more to produce and if you're serious about your health you'll be gladly willing to pay a premium there full of crap let's just come out and say just openly and honestly these people are just all about the money and I've touched on this before when it comes to like organic grocery stores like Whole Foods you know and Trader Joe's to a lesser extent Trader Joe's prices are fairly reasonable Whole Foods is prices are so out of control I don't even know what to tell you you know and look i'm i do the monthly documentary screenings at a scene and this next month is gonna be the last one so you know i don't really even care their prices are so over the top at a food store like that i can't even believe people go and shop there and it's all done because they feel they can get away with it all these organic grocery stores feel that they could just get away with the rape just completely price gouging people who know that they're being poisoned won't have a desire to eat more healthy and they're going to put out the organic food as an alternative and it's price fixing and price gouging in cahoots with the food producers the farmers and the food packagers all of them together the food processors manufacturers farmers and the food stores the retailer's there is no effective actual reason that organic food needs to be priced the way that it is in comparison to conventional even if you said okay there's growing techniques I can understand that and I know people who are involved in growing food and I can tell you the price justifications are nowhere near reality of what they're claiming they need to jack up these prices to I could even see a small markup from the conventional stuff because of the growing techniques I understand that and I don't want to hear from people they're gonna you know go on tirade about oh this has grown this way and that's what justifies all this extra expense I understand that some of the growing techniques will fetch a slightly higher price but not the prices that you're seeing in stores when you go into organic or resource I'm sorry you're not gonna sell me that I'm not buying it this is price gouging because they have no competition if you had competition for organic grocery stores Organic venues organic produce places that you could go to and get organic produce if you had tons of competition in major cities there is no way that they would keep those prices up that high impossible it's because they have very little competition because the demand isn't as high as it should be because people are largely concerned about the price people aren't shopping for their health they're shopping to get as much food as they can on as little amount of money as they can that's how most people shop that's the harsh reality and you know I watch these YouTube videos about people who say it's so easy you know these these new-age burnt brained morons is all I can I don't even want to be nice about it I don't even want to be nice about it because they have such a skewed version of reality in their mind they have such a skewed worldview about what they think is going on in the world because they live out in an area maybe in Southern California where there's organic produce stores everywhere and there is a lot of competition so prices are probably lower there and that's where they're largely being grown so they don't have to truck them across the country to the East Coast come out here on the East Coast and don't make a You Tube video from me about how easy it is to eat organic at at low prices okay because you're joking yourself these people live in a fantasy world and see the world through rose-colored glasses all day long they're living in a fantasy new age a drug culture the cup the new the New Age movement is their drug that's their drug culture and they're they're wasted out of their mind on the New Age stuff of bliss everywhere and the world is such a wonderful place because I could get groceries at 3 times cheaper than they're sold on the East Coast because they don't have to be trucked out there but because I'm ignorant to that fact I just exist in bliss and make YouTube videos about easy it is to eat cheap organic on the cheap your pranksters you're joking yourself okay completely that that's all I can say about these people you know to and to put it very harshly you know get into the real world and see what's really going on not just what's going on around you that's the problem people have no global view of what's actually going on they only see their little microcosm and that's all forget it let's just shut it off right there you know no need to expand beyond that and find out what's going on in the rest of the world just in our the little microcosm it's so typical of Americans in general of just people in general but for Americans in particular you know so I don't understand where these people get this from or what their salary is like what they're making you know because I you know I live like a pauper working independently and have to you know scrounge and scrape for everything I do and you know they're talking about how easy it is to eat organic on the cheap please if anyone can do this in the Philadelphia area let me know where you're going to get your produce you know and I'm you know people talk about food co-ops and to be quite honest I'm not saying it's not a good idea what I am saying is I've visited them in the past and I really do not like the the ideologies of a lot of the people that are there because they're it's it's a very and I'm not saying food shouldn't be openly shared and you know coops are not a good thing I'm that's not what I'm saying saying in the coops that I've seen around Philadelphia it has been largely people with a Marxist political ideology who is running them and going to them in the brief interactions I've had and conversations I've had with people that are part of them and you know I just look at these people as the completely asleep and which is why I don't really want to get involved in working with them in a any kind of a personal capacity even working with the coop on a monthly basis a co-op is something I'm not really looking forward you know I'm not saying I'm completely closed-minded to it to trying it but I would rather go toward a farmers market solution or just smaller grocery stores that have some more reasonable prices which I have not been able to find that they carry anything that's organic you know you go into markets in South Philadelphia like for instance the ninth Street Market what's traditionally been called the Italian market here in the city in South Philadelphia which is walking distance from where my home is in South Philadelphia and it is just a conventional you know sprayed junk I mean it is you know food with laden with chemicals and pesticides and herbicides of poisons for the physiology I'm not interested in produce like that I want things I'm concerned with how it is grown with what is used to grow it I don't want chemical additives or fertile you know chemical additives using the fertilizer I don't want you know things to added to it to make it stay on a shelf longer these are poisons for the body and I don't want them in my body I want purity in the fruits and vegetables that I buy so one of the things I wanted to stress I mean you know if hey if anybody has any solutions as the word to get reasonably priced organic produce that doesn't break your wallet you know what in one bag of groceries which is what the the stores in this area do please let me know I know again I'm willing I'm you know open-minded hearing some someplace new and trying it out I don't really have much hope because I've researched and I don't see very much I you know I I hear about a couple of farmers markets there's a Amish farmers market that happens a block away from my house and the spring and summer that I visit every week and get a ton of stuff from them and I have no problem with them when I talk to them about the methods that they use for growing and you know they use a what it's what you would call it's not legally certified organic but it's essentially organic methods that are used they just haven't been certified by an agency so I support Amish farmers markets in general but definitely open to hearing any new suggestions when it comes to that what the main thing I wanted to stress here is that please don't confuse people's willingness to grow food in a ecologically and health-wise responsible manner with any kind of true humanitarian reasons they're in this for the business more than they are for the health or you know ecological reasons they're in this to make money and as such they are seizing on a market they are capitalizing on a market that they can rush in and seize at a very high price command a high price because they know they have no competition and they know people are forced into a corner they love it they love that they don't want anything to change when it comes to that they're not interested in trying to have more competition these are essentially immoral individuals because God their God is that dollar bill that's what it's all about folks please don't fall into the naivete of believing that these organic farmers are some wonderful humanitarians and want to provide healthy food that is nutrient-dense for you know all the people of the world know they want to provide healthy food that's nutrient-dense to the people who can afford their price gouging and people may sell that's over the top that's so harsh mark that's how it really is and if you don't think so again you're super naive you you aren't really looking at what's there you're looking at what you want to see there go to the motivation behind it if the motivation was truly humanitarian if it truly wanted to help people they would find ways to bring their prices down and make it available the people who really need it like people in the big cities and inner cities who are eating junk food because they can't afford to shop organic and yes that is legitimate when people say I can't afford it it's legitimate I tell people yeah it's worth investing a little bit more money but hey if you're gonna come back with five times less the amount of food you know people are gonna make the decision to say I got I just have to go with the the lesser quality stuff because I just don't have the money to shop like that I would like to but they can't afford it and that's because this price gouging goes on unabated because these people who are the producers and the growers know that they have people by the balls they know it and don't let them tell you otherwise that Arlo is me the poor farmer who has to keep my prices at rape anal rape levels okay woe is me I'm the one who's oppressed now you're the one who's gauging people okay because you know you have no competition and people have nowhere to turn for better food so they either have to come to you or they have to decide to poison their body and he eat crap that's the bottom line and that's really all I want them to say about the state of organic food which I'm not really even talking about the food itself I'm talking about the social dynamics of eating organic and I think you can tell I'm a little bitter over this because the plan is the starve people out folks that's what the plan is the plan is to starve the body of nutrition so that people can't expand their consciousness and understand what's going on and that's what will happen in the brain when it's fed a diet of poison and of a lack of nutrient-dense foods so the bottom line on all of this is get out of this naive mindset that these farmers are actually your friends they worship their God called Mammon that's their God I don't they want to tell you look let's put this way if it was so impossible to make organic prices you know reasonable why can't I go to one or an Amish farmers market pick up organic produce for totally reasonable prices but if I go two blocks down the street to a supermarket I could get a similar item that's organic probably grown with the same methods and it's three times the price you want to explain that to me no no one can explain it because the answer is it's price gouging pure and simple it's the love of money these people's God is Mammon the almighty dollar they're not really there to help you I talked about this briefly before when we went into food and even food as a solution when we talked about all of negative consequences of you know the the Western diet and you know the whole you know poisoning chemical poisoning of our food and then we went in into solutions and about organic food etc I briefly mentioned this there and told people don't think these people are all out for your interests because they're all about the buck that's it you know I mean the only thing I could say is support local farmers markets that have somewhat reasonable prices and sell organically produced food talk with them about how they make their food I guess that's the best bet but you have to go hunting different farmers markets finding them especially in winter can be difficult the the market I'm I was talking about where amish come in from outside philadelphia and set up about a block away from here they don't do that in the winter so if it's it's even more particularly strenuous to find organic produce at decent prices during the winter season than it is during the rest of the year and again people will say grow your own well I don't have the kind of money to set up a garden and I don't have the kind of green thumb to grow through the winter in a small backyard and in South Philadelphia in the concrete urban jungle I'm sorry but if you know I understand if you're very you know suited to gardening and I want to learn more about it and I'm open-minded learning more about it as well barb does a bit better than I do with you know having a green thumb and gardening techniques but uh you know I don't have land that I can just crack open and go plant stuff and you could say oh you can grow in barrels yeah well that's also extraordinary expensive getting all that soil getting all those seeds etc and you know put you know putting the time and energy every day into doing that and especially making it work in the winter what does you know you're much more limited to what's going to grow in the winter climate so again I'm not a farmer that's not what I want to spend all my time doing right now I want to deal with farmers who produce good food organically grown and will charge reasonable prices not price gouge so you know any suggestions to that I'm open-minded and I'll just I guess leave that you know part of the podcast at that the second thing that I wanted to transition into talking about was something called planned obsolescence it's something I haven't really touched upon too much I've been really gotten into technology much at all we should do a couple of shows just on technology and you know my take on a lot of different things because it's something I know a bit about and you know could even prime een I know so much about computers I could probably you know do a whole podcast of advice on you know on computing in general and you know suggestions and you know troubleshooting and technical support etc it's what I did for a living in the past but I want to talk about the concept of planned obsolescence and this is designing things with a planned lifetime in mind after which the the device is designed to wear out or break just so people can go and have to get another one get something new or get the next model and there's really no need for this there's no necessity for it it's just designed to do that so you have to throw this one away and get a new one planned obsolescence and this came up because over the last the the reason this has really kind of come up in my life and is something that has basically continued to come to my attention so much that I said I have to talk about this in a podcast coming up is because over the last year to year and a half I have recently completely rial fitted my home with all LED or light-emitting diode light bulbs there is every light bulb in my house now is an LED energy-efficient bulb and you know there was a lot of work into looking into the the right type of replacements because I wanted to go to a energy-efficient style I definitely did not want to go to compact fluorescent what they call CFL bulbs these are poisonous these are horrific energy emitters the type of energy that they emit yeah they're more energy efficient than the standard compact than the standard incandescent bulbs but the frequencies that they emit are poisonous to the human physiology they contain mercury inside the bulb that is very dangerous particularly as a vapor if the bulb is smashed on the floor if it falls and hits a hard surface the vapor that comes out of it is poisonous even possibly deadly and you know I just don't recommend them based on the technology is inferior to LED there's dangerous toxic substances in them and the frequency field that they output is just toxic it's poisonous I mean I had a couple of them in in this house years ago and just got rid of them all you know just immediately was able to recognize that these are just bad news and just toss them I went back to regular incandescent until I researched LEDs a little bit more and you know this is a good example of planned obsolescence when it comes to the incandescent bulb many people don't know that a meeting an actual documented conspiracy was convened in the 1920s to keep light bulb hours incandescent lightbulb hours down to a specified minimum they used to make them 2,500 hours and an even greater in many instances and this cartel of light bulb manufacturers got together and actually met to say we need to reduce this time because we're not selling enough bulbs we need to have the turnover time faster for our bulbs so they said well we'll make the filaments out of substandard materials or make them thinner so that they will wear out after 1,000 hours turning the bulb on and off filament breaks after about a thousand hours of usage and you got to get a new bulb planned obsolescence so you know having I'm the kind of person who I I hate having to do things that make me continue to deal with the physical world when I know we need to place more emphasis and time onto our spiritual awakening I want things in the physical as out of my way as possible you know when I deal with technology I want it to work I want it to be out of my way I want it to be available when I need to pick it up and use it as a tool and then put it down and have it be out of my way out of my life I hate having to go and spend more time on technological tasks than I need to I have things I want to be doing with my time productively and not wasting time replacing light bulbs and having to get up in ladders and change them every couple months not interested in that I want to why I buy things I want to buy things if I'm gonna invest money and buying something I want to buy something that's gonna be built to last I don't want to be gouged for something because this person doesn't want to build it properly and they just want to build it out of substandard materials and just reinforce the take make and throw away Society which is not only morally irresponsible and it's it's it's basically totally immoral toward the consume the customer I almost said the word consumer I hate that word it's morally or responsible toward the customer we're not consumers where your customers get it right but it's it's also immoral toward the earth you're knowingly taking resources from the earth at a premature time when you don't need to be replacing those when it can be made better and last longer but know again the God is Mammon once again the God is money people don't care about other people they don't care about morals they don't care about the earth they care about worshiping their God that dollar bill that piece of paper that's their soul their God their soul their reason for being which ultimately makes someone a total piece of trash if that's your God that's the essence of your soul and that's your reason for being you're a total piece of trash if money is what you're about and nothing else and that's that's just everything you live for and breathe for it's the entire problem with this world are people like that with no actual values the value when they think of the word value they only see a dollar sign they don't have any real values no principles so I again recently completely rial fitted the house with nothing but LED bulbs there is no bulb in this house that is not an LED I'm sorry there is one we have a lava lamp an old-school 70's style lava lamp an original one and of course that needs Heat so there isn't incandescent bulb in that one but that's about the only one left in this house they're all LED and I had to do a lot of research to understand the LED technology and to uh you know make sure you get the right color temperature for the bulbs because if you try to replace them a lot of these have you know you can get cheaper ones and they just are hideous in the color frequency that they output because the color temperature is way too high the sweet spot with the color temperature for people who you know just want a little bit of advice and I highly recommend the LED bulbs especially on the directional LEDs over you know these horrible CFL compact fluorescent bulbs you want to steer clear of those 2700 K maybe up to 3,000 K color temperature you don't want to go above that you go above that you're into hues that do not look like incandescent lighting 2700 K is definitely where you want to be at if you're going to be trying to replace a standard incandescent bulb with an LED bulb and that's what I did for this house you know and I bought decent bulbs I didn't buy cheap crap you know each bulb that I replaced in here I spent ten dollars on and some of them for the omnidirectional ones I spent twenty dollars to get those people will go like wow you spent that much money on on light a light bulb well the light bulbs I bought are in the last 30 years they're not they're not made for planned obsolescence they're made to last LED technology is built to last and actually if you really look into it they last even longer than that the brightness will dim to an extent after a certain amount of years but guaranteed LEDs are so long-lasting if you studied what the technology is I guarantee these bulbs will be burning longer than 30 years some of them so yeah I'm willing to pay a premium when it comes to something like that because one it's not planned obsolescence I can put it in and forget about it and I'm done with that I don't have to think about that aspect of the physical world believe me ladies and gentlemen there is enough aspects of the physical world that we need to deal with on a daily basis from cleaning our bodies to cleaning our cars to nursing our bodies to you know cleaning our homes you know to putting gas gasoline and your internal combustion engine vehicles since we don't have free energy technology unfortunately you know all of those things you have to deal with on a daily basis the entropic nature of matter you know just accumulating you know detritus and you know dust and debris etc just cleaning dusting you know I don't want an additional thing to be concerned about what I can simply take care of and you know have it work permanently or at least for a semi-permanent basis you know I might have to buy one more set of LED bulbs in my lifetime if I'm still in this house you know and and you know a total hits the fan situation doesn't happen and war not erupted in this country during my lifetime you know or something else you know if I do happen live to somewhat of an old age I may have to replace the the bulbs in this house one more time and by then I guarantee these bulbs will be down by that year if we're all still here these bulbs will be down to a dollar you know a dollar fifty of a light bulb if that so my point here is that you know people will say well isn't that price gouging no it's a new technology okay these are people who are interested in putting out something that is better for the environment less energy expenditure saving people money on their electric bill they're made to last and think about how many bulbs you would go through in 30 years you'd go through a minimum of 30 bulbs most bulbs aren't gonna last over a year minimum let's say minimum 30 bulbs that's 30 entire light bulbs all the metal all the glass that had to be you know manufactured the shipping of all of those bulbs to to stores me having to use fuel to go into the store and get it and bring it back to the house etc add that up for all the bulbs in the house and then look at the environmental impact on something like that so I'm totally a supporter of LED technology you know I'm not even gonna you know throw out any brand names I'm not this isn't a commercial I'm just explaining this is an example of the opposite the antithesis of planned obsolescence this is what technology should be about making something to last building something that is good for Humanity that is good for the environment that helps save money save money for people yeah it's a little bit of an initial investment you know every single light bulb in this house I could put my palm directly on and there's no heat dissipation you know I could touch every bulb you tried doing that with an incandescent bulb you'll blister your finger up I had xenon bulbs in a lighting fixture over our sink and I didn't make the choice that was done by when we were setting up the house the electrician who wired it happened to choose that fixture and what you know went went with it I replaced the whole fixture because you know there was no LED replacements for the xenon bulbs for 40 dollars I got the fixture replaced but I mean those bulbs were so hot if I put my hand up to that fixture I could get a second-degree burn that's how hot those bulbs burned so you could imagine how energy and efficient they were with the replacement I put up there I could keep my hand on it all day he'll never even feel any heat at all totally cool to the touch all day no matter how long it's burning for if you haven't looked into it I highly suggest checking it out again 2700 K is the color temperature if you're going to approximate the lighting that comes out of a incandescent bulb and you know you want to also look for dim ability if you have them in a fixture that supports dimming you have it on a dimmer so what kind of put me onto this is I was talking to people about what I was doing you know and I even asked the electrician who wired the house hey do you think this is a good idea what I'm doing and you know what his answer was absolutely he said does it make less work for me yeah it does but I'm all for it because it saves people money they don't have to go and replace the bulbs these are built to last the light is just as good as incandescent lighting anyone who comes in this house would not be able to would not know that I have LED bulbs they would think it's standard incandescent bulbs throughout the whole house until I tell them they're LED bulbs they would never even think to ask that's how exact the light that comes off of these are okay and I counted it up I had in the main living room area of this house I had an incandescent wattage over 700 watts going through one room with all the bulbs in the way that the fixtures are in in the in the living room of my house that on the first floor after replacing them with LED it is just over 100 watts in the same room and the same light the same actual approximate lumen rating or light availability is in the room for about a hundred watts that's seven times less electricity being used on a daily basis it's a no-brainer a no-brainer so you know what in having conversations with people different people were you know expressing different sentiments to me you know electrician said this is the way to go you're doing the right thing I think it's great which I thought was very encouraging especially that's his field he gets paid for doing stuff like this and replacing things like this often he's like yeah it'll be less work for me in the long run but I totally am behind it which I thought was awesome you know and then I talked to some other people and they're like well I'm just not gonna pay ten dollars for a light bulb period I don't care how good it is I was just like that's you know like such a closed mind that approach you didn't even look at the technology or see what it's about or see what it can save you in the long term because all people are about is the short term this affects me like this in the short term I don't care how good it is in a long term you know just like the changes we need to made in respect to our thinking they're gonna have a long-term effect on human freedom oh they don't want to do that because it involves a little bit of shake-up in the short term god forbid anything be disrupted in the way I live my life in the short term doesn't matter whether I lose my freedom and my children lose theirs and my grandchildren lose theirs and my great-grandchildren lose their freedom now that doesn't matter all the matters is me me me in the moment yeah so you know talking to some people about it I just got the this total other reaction and it's like you know okay you bought three bulbs here for the you know these fixtures and they were twenty a bulb yeah I spent oh my god I spent twenty dollars for a light bulb yeah but that light bulbs gonna last thirty years you know and save a whole lot of additional resources from being you know dug up from the earth and and you know put put forward and we're and then have it be recycled etc and having to be shipped and trucked and you know wastes of energy when they're when they're actually plugged in and lit to me it's a no-brainer you know thinking about the savings both financially and ecologically not a no-brainer but other people they have that short-term approach only what what's this gonna do for my you know situation just right now in the short term and they won't even bother like I didn't do it all at once it's not like I did this all in one day I did this in sections I said well here's some fixtures here you know on the ceiling I have some recessed fixtures let me replace these six you know there's six recessed fixtures in the area where I do the show and the room where I do my show out of let me get those six you know let me replace the kit that ones up above the the fixture in the kitchen I'll do those I did it in increments in sections so it's not like you have to do it all at once just like with any other type of change I didn't replace you know I didn't go vegetarian all at once I didn't replace all he incandescent bulbs in this house all at one time but it's just even just suggesting a small change to people it's just there's it's so alien and foreign to them and this is what this is what the government is planning on when they because they're going to make the old incandescent bulbs illegal they're gonna actually take them off the market and say you can't get them anymore at some point may I think starting next year this is going to push all these people toward the least common denominator the cheapest thing they can get their hands on which is the compact fluorescent bulbs which are toxic poisonous emitting horrible frequency fields but oh they're a little bit cheaper than the LEDs you can get them for you know a dollar or two well people not wanting to spend that extra eight dollars or for a good omnidirectional LED in some instances that you may need for certain situations if you don't have recessed lighting on your ceilings you know to get the the omnidirectional ones that are comparable to the the light pattern of traditional incandescent you might need to spend about 19 or 20 bucks and you know people are gonna you know have a knee-jerk reaction to that cost and they're gonna go run out when they no longer have access to the incandescent bulbs because guarantee they won't stock up on those and they'll go and get the compact fluorescent bulbs which is exactly what they want you to do because again this is all about undermining the health that's what it's all Tamilian reminding the health through frequency fields and that's what these compact fluorescent bulbs will do just look them look up the data on that it is out there in abundance how bad these things are understand about this technology now because you know I think people should be really looking at LED technology it's there it's ready it's ready for prime time and like I said I'm not endorsing any particular company go do your own research I'm not this isn't a commercial for you know any particular led manufacturer I'm just saying this is a technology that I happen to like and I think it's it is something that's good for the very reason that it's not based on planned obsolescence and when I was trying to tell people about planned obsolescence it was like well aren't you mad at all and see I I wanted to replace the incandescent bulbs in my house not with compact flourescent but with LED because I recognize that all of these a long time ago knew that all of these light bulb manufacturers were all about just keeping the hours down to a minimum so that they could profit I learned years ago about a light bulb that has been burning in the United States for over a hundred years it's in just outside of San Francisco California in a firehouse an incandescent bulb manufactured in I believe it was in the late 1800s and it was used in the early 1900s I think it was 1901 it's still burning a hundred and twelve years later a hundred and twelve years ladies and gentlemen an incandescent bulb built in the late 1800s is burning in a California firehouse for a hundred and twelve years oh yes you did not miss hear what I said look it up it's called they call it the Centennial bulb okay and this is proof of the conspiracy the outright open conspiracy by light bulb manufacturer cartels they I believe they called this the Phoebus cartel and asraam and Phillips were the main people behind that cartel and they decided to get together and say we have to reduce the quality of the material that we make these filaments out of so that they will break after a specified amount of time and they set the specification to 1000 hours and find any members of their cartel the manufacturing facilities that were manufacturing bulbs that exceeded a thousand hours and a grit there's a great video on this actually I came across this about a month ago it's called the light bulb conspiracy very well done documentary on this very concept of planned obsolescence very well done now I'll post it with the podcast as a matter of fact but people have to check out the light bulb conspiracy to understand what planned obsolescence is and how it works in our world and start looking for ways to circumvent planned obsolescence don't put up with it one of the ways I don't put up with it as I no longer use incandescent bulbs I switched all to LED now I don't have to replace any lightbulbs in this house for 30 years I'm quite proud of that personally you know that that's one extra way I get my attention off the physical world and put it where it needs to be on bringing the deep moral lessons of spiritual life of the higher life to people and I don't have to be as focused on the physical tasks of everyday life to the extent that I may have before of course there's many other aspects of physical life that do demand attention but that's one less and that's how I look at it so um you know when I was talking to people about this conspiracy that is open and documented you know and not denied whatsoever you know I'm saying well how does that make you feel they deliberately could have built this out of better materials made it available for the same prices you wouldn't have to replace light bulbs as much they could even maybe even make it more energy efficient and longer-lasting and yet you're basically being taken advantage of they're telling you no we want you to give us more of your money on a more frequent basis we don't care really care about you as a customer and you know the majority of the reaction that I got from just asking people that and once showing them that there is a documented conspiracy about light bulb life incandescent bulb life I don't care I don't care whatever see to me that's there's so much to that that that somebody could just that's the reaction it tells me you don't really have any self-respect you you like being taken advantage of that's the first thing it tells me is that deep down inside you don't really deeply like yourself and you could say oh you're blowing this into something bigger than it is no I'm not psychologically that's what you're saying when you say I don't care to something like that I I don't really like myself you know I'm not saying you know go and develop some skill you know that requires enormous effort saying how do you feel about being taken advantage of you know to say oh well you know you don't have self-esteem because maybe you don't want to develop you know an interest in the arts or music or something you know somebody might not want to actually put that level of work into something that they don't feel deeply and strongly about but when it comes to being beaten for something being taken advantage of for example you know being seen as a consumer instead of a customer that should be treated with respect the this can only happen if the person doesn't have respect for themselves and then keeps going back to the same people who are doing this so when I was replacing light bulbs in the past it was wearing on me because as someone with self-respect I was like why should I have to keep replacing these this frequently I intuitively just knew they can make these out of better materials they deliberately may I knew that they deliberately made them to fail even intuitively before I even learned about the Phoebus cartel so I'm sitting there thinking this isn't something I want to continue to support I want to support products when I buy something I want it to be made as well as it can be made something built to last I don't want to go out and just buy a total piece of junk that being said I don't want to buy something that I have no usages for in the features I'm not gonna buy things with so many extra features I'm never going to use it like I didn't go out and buy a 24 channel board to do a little podcast you know to do a simple podcast with a microphone and maybe two microphones if I have a guest in studio you know I went out and bought something that's gonna work that's reasonable that works well you know I didn't go out and buy a $5,000 Newman microphone you know I picked up something decent that there was reasonably priced better than the mic I was using before it works well so you know this hat it comes down to self-respect psychologically ultimately and when I hear the term the phrase I don't care I just don't care what that says to me is you really don't have any self-respect members of my family who I just you know said hey I replaced all my light bulbs with LED totally energy-efficient saving money on the electric bill every month you know of reducing the electric consumption and in the house at least buy bulbs by about a 6th or 7th easily and they're sitting there like slack-jawed like I don't even want to hear anything about this like because that might involve me learning something having to look something up learn about it a little bit for a few minutes and maybe then go and invest a little bit of money into something new I don't have time for that I don't care about that no but you'll keep going and getting raped by someone who is just beating you because you don't know any better and don't think there's an alternative and that's plain obsolescence and that's exactly the mindset they want people in I don't care so you know I think I should do like maybe some memes you know like put out some memes out there for people like real simple phrases that people can latch on to like a mantra because that seems to be what sticks in people's minds and just keep repeating them over and over and over and over and over again you know the first one should be I don't care creates a prison for everyone there you go how's that sound I don't care creates a prison for everyone that's the dynamic that's at work in the world folks you know that phrase I don't care when that's uttered that means I want to accept the very base minimum of the default settings of how reality is generated for me and everyone around me and it immediately descends into entropy by saying that I don't care there's no ordering principles and I don't care there's no true value and I don't care there's no self-respect and I don't care I don't care generates a prison for everyone not just for you for all now let's put that on some t-shirts or on some Facebook memes I don't care generates a prison I don't care in quotes the phrase I don't care when that leaves your mouth creates a prison for everyone you know we should do some real simple memes like that and keep hammering them into people not caring is what makes you a moral there's another good meme not caring is what makes someone immoral that's the definition of immorality not caring you don't care about social justice you don't care about right from wrong you don't care about the suffering that's taking place in the world you don't care about the continued degradation of the environment you don't care about any of it and I'm not talking about carbon credit nonsense and you know climate change Allah Al Gore I'm talking about real environmental degradation and the real irresponsible use of the resources that come from the very dynamic living energy system that is the earth herself and just pillaging that and plundering it that's what not caring does I don't care creates a prison for everyone not caring is what makes you immoral and this is the response I got from so many members of my own family and what I'm payin people think people are waking up yeah people are waking up right in some fantasy dream world that you live in people are waking up said it being honest about people waking up because people say people are waking up because in the little new-age circles that they live in in there huh they daily hovel lives in their bubble world the other people that they interact with on a daily basis might happen to be semi aware and so they say well the world is waking up just you know spend a day with me and I'll show you how much the world is waking up you know go into the trenches of consciousness you know people are living all on the outskirts of the town they don't want to venture into the inner city and there's there they're looking at the world from the outside and going wow that's pretty good that shell looks pretty clean and they're not going into the core that's all diseased and you know just completely degenerated now they don't want to look deep into that heart that blackened heart that is just all crumpled and wrinkled and ugly because then they might have to face reality and face what their work really is they want to see the all through their little rose-colored sunglasses you know and they don't want to call people on their nonsense when they say I don't care they don't want to be confrontational I don't want to be confrontational you know I want to make that person feel good this is the problem with the whole New Age nonsense it tells you that the goal of life is to feel as good as you can not to serve truth not to put the truth out into the world as in an unapologetic manner as possible so that it can be heard by people no it's to feel good don't you know your hat your personal happiness is life's goal that's your whole agenda I mean this is borderline hedonism what they're teaching in new-age circles these days and it's all nonsense and then they teach people don't call people on their nonsense oh they have a right not to care really because oh that doesn't affect my freedom or other people's freedom so they can just continue to do that unabated them not caring about issues related to wrongdoing being committed against other people them not carrying a bit about the environmental destruction that's being done well see these dike types of dynamics that people say that they have a right not to care about unfortunately since we are connected and living in the self the same planet that dynamic is destroying other people's freedom including my own so I beg to differ with people that they have a right not to care they don't have a right not to care it's an immoral standpoint saying oh I just don't care about the loss of freedom well newsflash Punk you don't have a right not to care about that because you not caring about that is what's destroying my freedom and the freedom of other people who do care and therefore you are morally wrong for even daring to say about an issue like human freedom I don't care and again just something like planned obsolescence is a microcosm within the realm of slavery of things that keep us enslaved but it's an important issue nonetheless and it's a big pet peeve of mine that I can't stand and I think should be thoroughly rejected it should never be accepted it should be one of these things we refuse to accept and we should fight back against it at all times and places to the very best of our strength and and knowledge so I highly recommend the movie light bulb conspiracy and again I'll post it with this podcast and that's really all I wanted to say on planned obsolescence okay this goes on with so many other technologies to folks believe any lightbulbs at the tip of the iceberg I mean they get into it in them in the film with a lot of other technologies as well so it's something people just to put a seed there for people to think about I'll post a couple of links and I'll definitely post a link to that documentary film it's a good one check it out and with that having been said I think I'll wrap it up right there for this podcast and say everyone thanks for listening definitely check out free your mind conference calm the free your mind to conference coming up April 25th 26th and 27th here in Philadelphia please again visit for your mind conference on March 30th we're having our last fundraiser advanced ticket sales you have to have your your ticket requests in the mail postmarked by April 1st April Fool's Day that's it that's last day for advanced sales after that we're going to you know write regular ticket sale prices at the door that's it no more advanced sale prices you can only get them at the door for that so please get your tickets now helping us out in advance that's though it's the way to do it because we put up so much personal money individuals like Michael falsetto who is the main one of the main organizers of this conference you know without him we wouldn't have this conference you know reaching into his own personal finances that to help put this conference on people are indebted to him okay so you know a lot of people reach into their own personal wealth here can make this happen you know I just ask people help give back to that effort a bit that's all even if you can't make the conference make a donation go to the website hit the donate link make a donation listen to the fundraiser on March 30th and please consider making a donation then and thank you everyone for listening and I will wrap it up right there I'll see here next time on what on earth is happening until then folks take good care

Topics: Free Your Mind 2 Conference, New Videos on WOEIH, Changes to WOEIH Web Site, Mark offers Natural Law Seminar this summer

freedom mat that's what it's all about [Music] [Laughter] [Music] welcome you are listening to what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches its critical moment of choice and now here is your host Marc Pascoe [Music] [Applause] [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm today is Monday April 8th 2013 and today on the show I'm really simply going to be giving people some updates as to what I've been doing lately and some projects that I have on the horizon and really mostly talking about the freer mind to conference which is coming up here in Philadelphia at the end of April I'll be getting into new material over the next few podcasts more likely than not that will be coming after the conference is finished and been putting a lot of work into the organization of the conference lately and of course putting a lot of work into my own presentation at the free your mind to conference which I'll be speaking about in a little bit telling people a little bit about what it's going to be about so let's jump right into some event announcements and we'll go from there the free your mind to conference of course coming at the end of this month in Philadelphia Pennsylvania for your mind to is a conference on consciousness mind control and the occult April 25th 26th and 27th the location is the beautiful and historic Arch Street meeting house here in Philadelphia at 3:20 Arch Street the doors will open at 8 o'clock a.m. each day with a preliminary presentation and then the official program will begin at 9 a.m. each day the featured speakers now you'll notice when I read this list there have been two changes to the freer mine roster of speakers we did have two cancellations unfortunately John Irvin has canceled for personal reasons and Randall Carlson has canceled for health reasons so yawn Irvin and Randall cars' Carlson no longer on the roster of featured speakers for the free your mind to conference but fortunately we have refilled their positions in the form of Alex Ansari and Eve Lauren and will excited to bring them on board for the free or mind to conference so here's the list of featured speakers Alan Steinfeld alex ansari alfred weber Andrew basiago Ben Stuart Bob Tuscan Cathy O'Brien kertus davis dr. dream evil organ freighter X Freeman Fritz spring Myer Jay Parker Jim Fetzer Larkin Rose Laura Eisenhower Lennon honor Lauren Marais mark passio Mark Phillips Marty Leeds Ross Ben and Sonia Barrett advance tickets are no longer being accepted ticket requests for advance tickets are no longer being accepted but plenty of tickets will be available at the door if you're traveling to Philadelphia and your concern that you might not be able to get a ticket at the door do not be concerned about that we do have plenty of tickets available at the door no one will be turned away at the door so if you're coming to Philadelphia please let that not be one of your concerns you will be able to come in and get a ticket for the free your mind to conference so door tickets are still available although we are no longer taking advance ticket requests so this awesome event coming up at the end of this month here in Philadelphia for more speaker and ticket information please visit the conference website at WWF read your mind conference calm let me get into the schedule for the free your mind to event because I want to give people a little preview of breaking the spells of the lies we live by part two is called occult knowledge of immortality and part three you are free they are the slaves and then we'll be wrapping up the free your mind to conference on day three at 8:40 p.m. to ten o'clock p.m. with a speaker panel discussion and question-and-answer session with any of the speakers who are still present at the conference that want to take part in the panel discussion and Q&A session and this will be entitled the gathering of the minds so that's going to be the free your mind to conference it is going to be a veritable light bomb going off in the city of Philadelphia you definitely do not want to miss it you want to be present in house at the Arch Street meeting house on April 25th 26th and 27th for what I can guarantee you is going to be the biggest and best conference of its kind anywhere on the East Coast in 2013 you can bet on that so that's a little preview of what the conference is going to be about let's talk about my presentation titled just a little bit before we move on my presentation is going to be entitled New Age and the suppression of the sacred masculine now listeners to this podcast to my former radio shows know that I've talked a whole lot about the Sacred Feminine and how it has been waning in this world and really needs to be needs to have a rejuvenation within us weather and we're not talking about gender here we're talking about qualities that exist within both male and female individuals the Sacred Feminine dynamic being the dynamic of care while the sacred masculine dynamic being the the instinct for self-defense when our rights are being violated and this is what the New Age movement as a religion is there to suppress in the majority of people religion in general is to suppress this natural instinct to defend ourselves when our rights and our property come under attack and this is what I'm gonna be getting into at the free or mind to conference how this natural inclination and instinct and this inherent right of mankind has been selectively bred out of us pretty much and not even really selectively bred out has been bred out almost across the board in people accept state sanctioned violence you know then they want to make people hyper masculine and you know have that hyper masculine instinct within them but for people who are you know just your average citizens they want people completely you know they want your average slave on the plantation they want this instinct completely bred out of people and I'm gonna be getting into that which is why it always makes me laugh when I hear anybody referring to my work as new-age or calling me some kind of a hippie or something it's it's hilariously hysterical to me that I can be grouped into those categories without people even having the slightest notion of what I stand for obviously they you know judge a book by the cover I have you know long hair and so therefore I must be some kind of a liberal hippie or something and or I must you know be a total New Ager I'm certainly neither of those things and I'm really going to be getting laying it - the New Age movement let's put it that way because this is the religion of acceptance and just bend over and take it pretty much that's what the New Age movement is really all about and I've attacked them several times here on this show because it's a deception it's I call it the land me and and many other researchers have called it the last called the sack before the gold mine meaning before you get to true spiritual awareness and true awakening they try to lull you into this trance which is a religion and it's the religion again to get you to stand down and to just take whatever thrown at you because you believe that there's never time for the use of defensive force and I think it's a very naive thing and ultimately if it's taken a to Farnham and extreme I would go so far as to say it's complicity with evil so this is what I'm really going to be getting into talking about and breaking down specific New Age deceptions and then correcting them you know because there again there's that little bit of truth that they have to coat the poison pill in the coating of truth for people to swallow it so there's that truth the bit of truth that they give you that's a coating around the poison pill but we're going to we're going to take a look at what the real core principles are are at that people should understand in correcting III will be offering corrections to these many New Age deceptions that are floating around out there and people are just grasping onto and accepting without any real level of critical thinking or principles being applied to them so that's what my presentations going to be on and I do you know deliberately worded it with very strong language because I just want to call it what it is you know I was gonna call it New Age deceptions but I just said no let me just call what it is it's and we need to call people on their so that's the title of my talk and I guarantee you it will be one for the history books ok so that's that piece of news this week on Wednesday April 10th from 8 to 10 p.m. Eastern I'll be interviewed by Charlie McGrath of wide awake news.com thanks to Karen Quinn tostado for setting up this interview and also I believe Larkin Rose will be on the program with me so that'll be really great another speaker of the freer mind to event you know will lay down some philosophy on Charlie's show and of course promote the free your mind to conference there it's the only interview I accepted during the ramp up to the free your mind conference so I'll be accepting other interviews after the conference is over I've kind of put that on hiatus a little bit because of so many responsibilities due to the conference approaching we had the free your mind to radio marathon fundraiser number four right at for your mind conference calm thanks so much to bob Tuscan and Tim Smith for all the work they did in setting that up this took place back on March 30th and we raised approximately six hundred dollars total we were hoping we could have you know done a little bit better during that radio marathon because so much phenomenal information was shared I mean it was a light bomb if you will of itself on that day twelve hours of radio with many of the speakers and some people who were just supportive of our goals for the free your mind to conference but while they were not actual speakers of the event also participated in it like Rick Simpson and Mary toko and others so it was a really successful event as far as information goes and we're very appreciative of the people who did donate and you know that's not too bad because it does allow us to probably pay for the speaker for travel expenses for one of the speakers so overall you know good job that's how that fundraiser went so I want to talk a little bit about some of the changes to the what on earth is happening website that have gone on over the past month or so before I get into that we just mentioned that two new videos went up on the website this took place on March 20th of the spring equinox I put two new videos up they were both recorded and edited by Tim Smith I want to thank him for his great work on these videos one of them is called morality and disclosure and it was a talk that I gave at the Pennsylvania MUFON mutual UFO network east coast conference back on September 30th this was a great event I was really excited to be a part of it I got to meet a lot of great people and speak with them and participate in the panel discussion with them this presentation was about moral issues that are involved in the ongoing cover-up of extraterrestrial phenomena and it was about the psychological dynamics that are involved with it really a cover-up of any kind and I think it's one of my hardest hitting presentations I think it goes right to the point in the heart of these matters it was my actual third foray into speaking at UFO and extraterrestrial related events conferences and whatnot so I think this is an excellent example of taking really hard-hitting information and bringing it into venues where this type of information really needs to be heard so that people can get an understanding of the causal factors that underlie you know why things aren't changing the way they want to see them changing why aren't we getting disclosure okay and that this gets into those causal factors about what we need to change if we want to see the outward manifestation change likewise the second video that you can find on the water on earth is happening dot-com website in the video section it's also in the news section links to these videos you could also view them on my youtube channel which is at youtube.com slash what on earth 93 you can also just link to it on my videos tab of my website the banner up the top links to the YouTube channel the second video is called scarcity to abundance and this is a presentation that I gave as part of the why Tesla matters conference that the Tesla Science Foundation hosted at The New Yorker Hotel this January I believe I gave this talk on January 6th 2013 so this talk was about why we don't have free energy and what we need to give up the psychological mind states and belief patterns that we need to give up if we're ever going to have free energy if we're ever going to see that manifestation of Technology science and human know-how for the betterment of humanity it exists it's suppressed and I talk about the reasons why we failed to manifest it and this is a short talk I believe it was slightly over 15 minutes so really again hard-hitting and I think that a lot of people haven't really heard this information to the level that I've brought it to them in this type of an environment they want to talk about the nuts and bolts a lot it many you know Tesla and scientific seminars but once you get into the moral issues it's it's really not very talked about it's it's something that is very sorely needed we need to see more things like this I don't think I don't want to be the only person doing things like this and bringing information like this to such venues you know I want to put out a call more people need to be talking about these underlying causal factors that's what these videos really delve deeply into I'm definitely happy with the way these talks turned out and again I think they're great production values as well so do check them out and share the information with anybody that you feel needs to see and hear it for sure so let me talk about some changes to the website the what on earth is happening website as act has actually moved to a new server I had to actually have it relocated and this was because of false advertising on the part of the former host of the site who build the features of the site as unlimited in both storage capacity and bandwidth that would be used by people actually hitting the site and you know transmitting data from it to their computers so that means I don't have to pay additional charges if I want to add more content to the site I can use whatever space I like as long as it's related to the site and unlimited bandwidth again means you're not metered as far as how much bandwidth users use when they pull data from your site or so I thought because apparently there's a discrepancy in human language where unlimited means ten gigabytes didn't you know you know this was news to me you know they said I uploaded too many podcasts too many mp3 files and on the actual page on the control panel for the server it says you are using 16 gigabytes out of an an infinity symbol gee I thought that meant infinity but apparently ladies and gentlemen an infinity symbol actually means the number 10 so wouldn't you know that's what infinity means that's what unlimited means so there will be people again who will pick up for people like that who advertise like that and in big bold you know twenty point 25 point font you know they'll have unlimited storage unlimited bandwidth and then in the legal agreement underneath it would that you have to see the link with a magnifying glass click that and then in further 5 print 28 paragraphs down it'll say unlimited applies only to PHP documents and graphics and you know but hey there's no other data that you can put on a website like audio or an videos and you know I won't even be complaining folks like I was you know uploading Hollywood movies and just keeping them on there as a sir and giving links out to friends you know whatever you know III wouldn't have a lot you know I wouldn't complain about it if I was abusing a service like that I wasn't you know the podcasts are direct are the meat in the heart of the site that I put up there an integral part of the site you know that's what I consider directly related to the information of the website it is directly related is the heart of the information of the website so to me that's completely false advertisement and I immediately just said you know after arguing with the person for a minute and saying hey think about if this was done to you you put up a website invested a lot of time and then they hit you with this butter that unlimited means 10 gigabytes how would you feel about it and you know the person tries to make justifications and I just said look if it happened to you you'd be equally as upset cancel the account I'm not taking any data down just let me get my database and I'll move on - you know another host so that's what happened and you know I had to spend a couple of days reuploading the entire website luckily there wasn't really much of a downtime when I you know move the the domain name servers so I don't know of anyone even really noticed it but just wanted to throw it out there because this is you know part of the whole moral decay that has happened in America and you know how people misconstrue things and misrepresent things and again there'll be tons of people who have Stockholm Syndrome that'll just pick up for corporate America like that and say hey they could do whatever they want when in fact it's just it's just another form of no honesty no allegiance to truth greed and just trying to get the money and run you know that's that's all it is and that's all nobody's gonna justify it to me I don't want to hear anybody I'm not interested in your ill informed opinion about them that being okay because it's not it's immoral everybody knows that's immoral if it happened to you you'd be upset you wouldn't want that to continue and yet it continued things like that continue unabated because people have no principles let's face it that's just all it's it's about okay that they'll just lie to you to get the money and then pull a bait-and-switch and then tell you you got to pay more okay so and and I really don't like I said I don't I don't care I'm just saying that's how it is I don't really want to hear anybody's justifications for cuz I know there will be and that's what it's all part of folks Stockholm Syndrome people are so identified with their own abusers that they will just pick up for anybody stepping all over them never never raise their voice never say no they just they love it they love it the way it is there's no concept of greed in their mind there's no concept of deception in their mind and they'll just pick up for these psychopathic idiots okay so I'm just done with people like that and I'm done with trying to convince other people that this is wrong if you can't figure out that it's wrong you're equally of a moron you know so that was the you know situation that happened with having to move the website so you know I have a not a slow DSL connection it's actually kind of is in the upstream direction is very slow I have a 1 megabit upstream connection to the internet which is a disgrace my downstream speed is pretty decent it's 12 megabits but I don't have fiber-optic service here I only use a DSL line and you know sitting trying to upload a lot of data it's painful you know you got it you got to sit there you got to tie up your line when you're uploading it slows down all your other bandwidth in the house so when this next thing occurred it was kind of you know a real bummer the free your mind to one videos I'm sorry the freer mine 2011 videos from the free your mind one conference were taken off of the YouTube channel that they were being hosted at they were being hosted at Intel hub there they had a YouTube channel called not for sale to NWO well Intel hub had to change their name and they went through a I guess a bunch of legal threats from Intel Corporation who sued them over the actual usage of the term Intel you know because they claimed that they owned that word now no one can use Intel in anything they've trademark the word you know and this is upheld in courts believe it or not you know which shows the ridiculousness of human beings in the modern day we can now grant that corporations can trademark whole words and other people aren't allowed to use words anywhere now you know that'll be the next way that they actually eliminate concepts so this corporation has a trademark on this word you can't use it anywhere but anyway you know they they I guess didn't want to get into more legal battles so they took down all of their videos you know instead of just taking the name down like I don't really know the details of what actually occurred but they wouldn't agree to continue to host the free remind one videos I only put them on their account a couple of years back when I did not have a YouTube content creators account now that I do and I have my own channel I have now reloaded them there had to relink all of those videos reupload them relink him it was a lot of work but it was made a lot faster by my friend Chris Augustine who I want to thank he is the gentleman who runs of aliens the truth com a great website check it out chris is the owner and operator of that website aliens the truth com he also hosts the monthly UFO discussion group meetup here in Philadelphia which I attend on a monthly basis and Chris allowed me into his home and allowed me to use his FiOS fiber optic internet connection to reupload those videos which only took a couple of hours whereas for me it would probably would have taken a few days not not even a couple of days but probably closer to a week is more like it to get all those videos uploaded so again I want to thank Chris Augustine for allowing me to knock out the process of uploading those videos in a quick fashion so I did get those back up and those are now all real inked in the proper places on the free your mind one website which you can get to at for your mind conference calm and then going to past conferences and clicking for your mind 2011 and those videos are back up on the speaker pages unfortunately all view counts and everything get lost when you re upload videos to a new place so that is just how it is so um let's see some other changes when I re uploaded the new website I went back to high-quality mp3 files so some people may have noticed about a year ago I guess I started compressing the mp3 files down to I believe it was 24 kilobits per second I've put them all back up in 128 kilobits the earlier ones some of them were like 64 most of the newer ones were 128 the podcast I'm now encoding in 128 kilobit I think most people have reasonably decent download speed connections to the Internet and you know I'd rather have them up in high quality than worrying about the then worry about the few people percentage-wise that don't have decent internet connections you can get your friends that download them for you folks you know I I just I want the podcast to sound good and you know I don't think it's unreasonable to have somebody download a file that's like a hundred megabytes in the year 2013 so you know so that's how they're gonna stay and you know other people complain about the mp3 format and I want to talk a little bit about this again this is a little bit of a divergence from the usual type of material we talk about here on what on earth is happening but I want to just talk about my decision to keep the podcast in mp3 I'm not going to be converting the podcast to OGG or offer OGG Vorbis format as an option to download the podcast in the reason is nobody knows what AG is I mean geeks know what Oggy is you know I'm a geek I know what aughh is but the average person knows what an mp3 is knows how to handle it can download it can throw it on their mp3 player plus you know people don't go into consumer electronics stores and buy OGG Vorbis players there's a reason for that mp3 is that the de facto standard whether you like it or not whether you like the licensing restrictions or not it's what people use folks it's called you know that's practical you know appealing to getting information into people's hands in the easiest way that it can be done without making it so difficult that they have to keep emailing me and asking me technical questions okay I'm trying to focus on content and delivery of the content in as easy of a way as it can be done and that is through the mp3 format I'm not going to be changing that I'm not gonna be backing down my position on that I honestly don't really want to hear anybody try and talk me out of that that's my decision I'm free to make that decision I like the mp3 format quite frankly I like it over OGG Vorbis even though I've Orbis is totally open-source I get it I understand it I'm still gonna use mp3 that's what people know that's what people use that's what players take almost universally so you it out to the widest available you know amount of people that are that want to download the content put it on a portable player and that's how it's gonna stay so that's my talk on my take on the whole mp3 versus OGG thing now I want to just talk a little bit about the Firefox web browser Firefox does not yet support embedded mp3 files in html5 audio tags now I know that's getting a little technical for most people who aren't very technically oriented some of the geeks out there understand exactly what I'm saying okay what it means is if you have an mp3 file and you want to embed it in your web page and you don't want to use a plug-in to do the embed you want to use just HTML which is the normal hypertext markup language Firefox will not allow this to be done in with an mp3 file the reason for this is due to licensing restrictions with the mp3 format and therefore what they're doing is they're eventually going to build it in so that if the mp3 file can be decoded by a decoder that's already installed in your operating system they're going to build it into a future version of Firefox I have removed the ability of Firefox for the what on earth is happening website at least for content and audio content in my web site to fall back to the Flash Player so it's pure html5 with no flash fallback capability I'm completely abandoning the Adobe Flash format on my on my site it I've considered a completely deprecated format that is you know almost universally frowned upon by you know open web development standards these days and I personally don't like it I really never did like it I think it was buggy I think it was slow I think it was resource hogging and you know when html5 came around you know not that many browsers support in certain formats but I think right now in html5 mp3 is supported in Internet Explorer on window Safari on the Mac and Chrome on both platforms and that covers 90% of people and and what browsers they're they're using out there by default a lot of people still use Firefox I think it's taken a big step down in recent years and again right now mp3 does not work in Firefox so if you go to my podcast page in Firefox you will not be able to play the mp3 you can only download them and then play them with a player on your computer that is in that is how I intend for it to work I'm not going to support the Firefox web browser to play mp3s by adding a flash fallback support in the site in the code of the site I don't want to do that I'm not going to do that so be aware Firefox is going to eventually work with mp3s the makers of the program have Mozilla have said that they will be supporting on most mostly all platforms the ability to play mp3s inside the web browser eventually it's not that way right now but at some future release version mp3s will work again and you will be able to simply listen to the audio in on the podcast page and the new section and anywhere else where audio occurs in the site but for now I just wanted to make users aware of that if you want to listen to the audio in the browser you will have to use a different web browser other than Firefox at least right now I recommend on the on the Mac either Safari or Chrome and on the windows side either Chrome or Internet Explorer prior just recommend Chrome on the windows side so that's that let's see what else did I want to get into future material for what on earth is happening podcasts will be getting into speculative areas I want to start talking about things that aren't just philosophical but are speculative and are scenarios that may or may not have occurred in the ancient past because I want to talk about our origins and what put us into the situation that we're in this is when we jump in a new material after the fur your mind to conference is over this is what I want to start talking about and opening the door to a little bit and trying to open people's worldview and perceptions up a little bit about because the world is stranger than we even think it is if you even think just the occult is the end of where the strangeness of this realm goes you have a lot to understand and learn and a lot of left brain individuals will have a very very difficult time with some of that and again I'm not even going to claim everything I'm talking about is 100% true I this is a speculative area of research that we'll be entering so I have joked around in past shows and said maybe we'll change the name of the podcast temporarily - what on earth may in fact be happening you know it's speculation can help people to again open up their mind and try to grasp a larger worldview and understand more is possible than what you may have previously imagined was possible there are wonders in the universe we can scarcely conceive of and if we really want to understand ourselves we have to open our mind to those possibilities and we have to explore potentialities and what may have occurred you know different scenarios that could have led to our current condition as a species so we'll be getting into some strange places as we go forward in the future and I just wanted to touch on that briefly and let people know that's the direction I'm gonna take this podcast in the future because I've basically said everything that I want to say on the dark side of things and mind control and the methods of manipulation that we're subjected to on a daily basis I've also brought forward so many solutions that people can put into place in their lives and there's so many more out there you know but I really want to go into some unexplored areas and take a look at potentials that we need to be aware of if we are gonna really have an expanded understanding of more likely than not what led to us being in the place that we are today so just wanted to put that out there for people and give them a little taste of you know what they have to look forward to on future shows that being said the last thing that I really want to talk about on this short podcast today again is really just to catch people up on some things that I've been doing what I've been working on get them excited a little bit about the free your mind to conference give them some of the the presentation titles tell people about some changes that have happened and why with the the technical stuff on the website and I want to really wrap up with talking about one of the things that I am really the most excited about being able to offer and it's really the direction that I want to take my work in general I'm not saying that you know I won't still be doing a podcast might be doing a live radio show again soon okay lots of things on in the works on board on the horizon for me as far as the the entire truth movement and you know awakening a process goes but this is probably the thing that I'm the most proud to be able to say I'm going to be offering people in the very near future it's going to be a seminar on natural law in person face to face work group working with multiple people in an intensive seminar offering an intensive seminar to actually work with these concepts and ideas and have course material for people as well in the form of pamphlets resource lists possibly books possibly even digital thumb drives if I could get enough people signed up to be able to afford to get course materials in that form and purchase them for people for the course for taking the course we'll see depending on how many people join up so let me tell people a little bit about this this is a six class seminar called natural law the real law of attraction and how to apply it in your life the real law of attraction and how to apply it in your life not the new-age peddled variant watered-down variant of the laws of attraction this these are the real laws of attraction that operate in the world and ultimately through our free will decisions are constantly working to bring the manifestations of our behaviors to us so that we can actually learn and grow from that experience so this is going to be an intensive breakdown of how natural law works with specific examples given again resources that you can look into it's going to kind of be like my natural law podcast but extend it out and really broken down in more detail okay and have face-to-face interaction with people and scenarios that we can go through and understand in those scenarios how does natural law apply what would be the correct mode of behavior correct freewill choice to apply an intensive breakdown of Rights what they really are explore that those ideas in an in-depth way that's what this seminar is gonna be about six classes okay they're gonna be six for our classes each weekend a four-hour class on a Saturday from 12:00 p.m. noon to 4:00 p.m. so this is going to involve commitment on the part of the students I'm not expecting just lightly interested students I'm expecting students who really want to go deepen their understanding this isn't for just the average person who has a passing interest this is for people who want to take their knowledge all the way and want to be teachers of this that's what I'm real this is more of like a seminar to train future teachers of natural law that's how I look at this okay to get people who have a part understanding and a desire to really learn more and go all the way with this and bring them to that all the way help bring them to that all the way point where they can actually grasp this material so deeply that they could teach it themselves that's my goal for this seminar okay so it is a unique six class seminar hosted by me and I built it as information that you will not even find in secret societies or fraternal orders it will be unleashed in this in-depth six class seminar totaling twenty four hours of material and I can say that that is a true claim you can go into a lot of secret societies and fraternal orders and not even come out with this knowledge because they've done a lot of good work in their mind good work very bad work when it comes to the bulk of humanity in occulting that information keeping it hidden keeping it secret so that people have a tactical disadvantage and they the ones who have o coltd it have an advantage over them well you could look at this seminar as ad occult ation taking it out of hiding and bursting it out on to the world alright do cultic knowledge that has been hidden from us for thousands of years so this is going to be this summer June 22nd is the first day and then every Saturday thereafter until July 27th so June 22nd June 29th July 6th July 13th July 20th and July 27th 2013 from 12 p.m. to 4 p.m. and it will be taking place on the second floor of Liberty's pub Liberty's pub is at 705 North 2nd Street that's the corner of 2nd and Fairmount streets in Philadelphia on the second floor we'll have the whole second floor of the establishment reserved ok the enrollment donation for all six weeks and there is no partial class given or offered if you can't make it in all six you know you'll be missing out if you have to skip a course but there's it's the same price whether you want you know one will attend one course or all six and really I'm I really want to see people who are going to be in attendance for all six courses who want to make the commitment want to learn this material deeply to a point where they can begin to teach it to others in in no uncertain terms you know and gain the confidence to to actually that they know this material so well that they could explain it to someone else that's the kind of clarity I'm trying to work toward in this seminar ok so the enrollment donation for all six weeks is one hundred seventy seven dollars and sixty cents and that will help to pay for the course material I'll be doing a lot of printing and again probably buying thumb drives for people and loading those with a lot of information related to the course material in digital documentation etc ebooks audio lectures etc and you know the classroom environment will we'll have tables there I'll have a projector with a projection screen a whiteboard I'll have probably course materials again to hand out physical pamphlets and study sheets etc and we'll really be getting into this in a deep way again such that hopefully what we'll be doing as a result of these seminars is creating new teachers about natural law and that's the goal so hopefully people will get that number that I put there as the enrollment donation one hundred seventy seven dollars and sixty cents one seven seventy six and then you drop the zero 1776 it's you know supposed to be about freedom you know an understanding natural law is the path to freedom you put the one and the six together you have 777 the number of completion in man or man becoming enlightened and really deeply understanding the laws of nature such that he can actually direct his destiny without inflicting self-inflicted suffering upon himself that's what that number represents in occult teachings in many variants of occult teachings so it was kind of like a little play with the numbers there 1776 hopefully people will get it the donation method for enrollment in the six-course natural law seminar that I will be hosting this summer will be check or money order made payable to cash similar to what we did with the free your mind to conference if you make the check or money order to any other name than cash you will not be enrolled in the course and the donation will be returned to you it has to be made out to the name that you make the payment out to must be cash for me to accept it or you have to meet with me if you live in the Philadelphia area and want to take this course you can meet with me and pay me cash in person but and you will be enrolled but you can't write the check to me or any other name only cash to be written on the check or money order then you could send it to my address which is listed here in the flyer that I'm going to attach with the podcast include your email address with a donation so you can receive confirmation of your donation and enrollment in the course okay so you send in your envelope the check made out to cash for the amount specified and you put a piece of paper in there with your name and your email address and I will send you an email confirmation and you can bring that with you when you arrive the show you you enrolled in the course and you know when you check in for the first week so it is a again a full 6 class seminar comes as a package this this seminar comes as a package I really don't want people request even requesting can I take you know one course and give you $30 $35 one class know it is that's the the price for the whole package it is intended to be given as a whole seminar to get the entire information and the full picture so that people can really have a deep firm grasp on this course material and they can start teaching it to other people okay again that's the goal that's what this is for and by the way we already have one enrollment which is great because I only put this up a few days back so that's good news we already have interest I know there's a lot more interest out there so anybody that wants to get involved in this class please contact me immediately and or send your your donation to the address and we'll get you enrolled immediately okay so the the seminar comes as a package no partial sessions are available and it's in person only people you know have already seen this on the website and you know talk about is this going to be online is this come they're gonna be videos audio right now we have no plans for streaming audio or video and this is an in-person seminar only to teach people direct one-to-one face-to-face and work with individuals in person to get them to a higher level of understanding about what we're doing to our Elvis and help them understand natural law in a very clear fundamental way so this is going to be like unlike anything that has ever been offered anywhere as far as I'm concerned I know of no one else that has ever done anything like this okay so I'm thrilled to be able to offer this to people and again that breaks down to just over under $30 for each for our class which i think is very reasonable especially when you get into the understanding I have to rent the room I'm spending a lot of time to develop the course material and be there each week myself to teach this course and then I have to print a lot of materials you know I have to buy thumb drives if where I'm going to be offering that again that will depend on how many people enroll and I think I will be able to do that hopefully and I would like I would love to see 20 people enroll in this class okay and if it goes really well I already have a preliminary agreement with the proprietors of liberties that we could do a six-week on one month off type arrangement where we would have like little semesters we would have you know offer a six-week course and we'll take a four-week break I'll do another six-week course and he said if this works out there I could do that indefinitely so we'll see if people are interested in taking this course and we get a lot of support and we get people who are enrolling in it and you know it goes off as a success I might be able to continue to do this indefinitely we'll see but for now the first one is June 22nd and 29th and then July 6th 13 20th and 27th of this summer so please enroll today if you're interested if you are a serious student and you really want to take your understanding of natural law further and you want to help to become you want to you want to move yourself into the position where you know this material so well that you yourself will become a teacher of it that is my hope and that is my goal so that is my big announcement for this podcast I saved the best for last and really that's all I have for people today again just a light podcast with just catching people up to date on what I've been up to and again check out the show with myself and lark and rose on Charlie McGrath wide awake news.com this Wednesday April 10th and ladies and gentlemen if you're anywhere near the philadelphia area or you know if even if you're not try to do your best to be here for April 25th through 27th the the free your mind to conference a conference on consciousness mind control and the occult and it is just going to be a phenomenal event over three days with 24 of the best whistleblower speakers from all over this great country and you will not see anything like this anywhere else I guarantee you that and it's going to be the biggest event on the East Coast for sure this year don't miss it make your plans now to be there there will be plenty of tickets at the door I don't know if I will be doing another podcast before the free your mind to conference I'm really you know working with a lot of responsibilities for the conference right now and I'm still polishing my presentation it's not completely finished yet I'm still working on it I'm gonna try to make it as you know good and hard-hitting as it can be so I really make an impression at this year's event and so probably look for new one on earth is happening podcast barring any kind of you know really big event that I want to talk about and cover but probably look for new water on earth is happening podcasts to pick up probably at least a few days after the completion of the free your mind to conference so ladies and gentlemen thanks so much for listening definitely check out the the flyer on the flyer and the article in the new section on my natural law seminar that I'm offering this summer and if you're so inclined enroll in that and you know real help to put this information out into the world in a very targeted and effective way that's all I have for everyone here on this edition of what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen thanks for listening and remember there are only two mistakes one can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you right here next time on what on earth is happening

What On Earth Is Happening Show #142

Topics: Free Your Mind 2 Conference, Solar Energies related to Human Consciousness, Off-The-Grid Living, Mindfulness, Worldview Healing

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Mark Pascoe [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com today is Sunday May 5th 2013 we have a great show lined up for you here today I'm going to be interviewing in a few moments one of the featured speakers from this past weeks for your mind to conference Alex Ansari of Alex Ansari TV that's coming up in just a moment first I want to let everyone know that the free your mind to conference is of course history and what an event it was I mean absolutely incredible from beginning to end could not have hoped for it to go any better the speakers were phenomenal they shared incredibly empowering information the turnout was great the crowd energy was fantastic I think everyone learned a lot and I think everyone was changed as a result and it was one for the history books as they say so for your mind two very very successful we're going to be releasing the videos in a video-on-demand format it'll be 28 videos we're doing this for a few months to help recoup some losses for hosting the conference because it did cost a whole lot to host it and we didn't quite make it out of the red and into the black so we're gonna do a video-on-demand format for a few months to help you know raise a little bit of funds to help us recoup some of the monies that had to be raised to host such a huge event and bring all these speakers into Philadelphia and how you know Lodge them for four days during their stay but what we'll be announcing that pretty soon after the videos are edited you know a be patient this will take a bit to edit all these videos 28 videos the 24 speakers plus three preliminary presentations and then the gathering of the mind speaker meet-and-greet session at the end of the conference so after those are all edited we'll be offering them on the conference website in a video-on-demand format and then after a few months of that we will be releasing them completely free and open to the public and that will be done also on for your mind conference calm as well as on my youtube channel youtube.com slash what on earth 93 so that's the announcement for the free your mind to conference that just passed here in philadelphia i want to let everyone know about my natural law seminar that i have coming up this summer in philadelphia it's called natural law the real law of attraction and how to apply it in your life a unique six class seminar hosted by mark passio of what on earth is happening calm i call it information that will not even be found in secret societies and fraternal orders will be unleashed in this unique sixth in depth six class seminar totaling twenty four hours of information the enrollment is open from now until May twenty-fifth three more weeks open for enrollment enrollment must be done in advance no walk-in enrollment and this is because it's going to cost you know some money to print all the materials for this seminar I'm even looking into the feasibility of maybe getting thumb drives for all the students of the seminar and loading it up with all the data for the course the dates for this seminar June 22nd June 29th July 6th July 13th July 20th and July 27th those are all Saturday's this summer ok from noon to 4:00 p.m. on all of those dates is when the seminar will be taking place so for hours on each one of those Saturdays and that's a total of 24 hours over the course of those six Saturdays so this will be taking place at Liberty's pub Liberty's is at 7:05 North 2nd Street in the Northern Liberties section of Philadelphia we have the whole second floor of the pub reserved for the seminar so it's Liberty's pub second floor 7:05 North 2nd Street that's the corner of 2nd and Fairmount streets the enrollment donation is 177 and sixty cents of little play on 1776 177 60 okay and you can get more information about the natural law seminar that I will be hosting here in Philadelphia on the image I've actually posted with this podcast on the podcast page of what on earth is happening calm the image the flyer for the natural law seminar please distribute this to ever whoever you see fit again this is in person only I'll be looking into the possibility of maybe offering this online at some future point but for now this is a an in person only seminar so I'd like to see this distributed to the New Age movement in particular who think that they know what the law of attraction is all about they should come and take it take this seminar and hear about what the real laws of attraction are so yeah you know along the lines of that I want to let everyone know I will be next week sometime doing a podcast with my presentation from the free your mind to conference I'll actually be giving the the lecture here on the air I'll be giving the presentation on this in podcast form I want to do that to elaborate on the information and get it out there even though it's not in the video format with of the the conference you know from the conference that'll be coming soon but I want to get the information out there to everyone and you know do it in annex lightly extended format as well so I'll be taking all the slides and posting them and you know going through the information in an even more leisurely leisurely fashion since I'm not under any time constraints here with the podcast so that'll be coming up on the next what on earth is happening com podcast in a week or two I guess so the end the Fed rally just a couple more quick event announcements before we go to our guests the end the Fed rally for Philadelphia will be taking place on Saturday May 18th and the Fed rally for Philadelphia Saturday May 18th 2013 it will be taking place at the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia which is at 10 North Independence Mall West in Philadelphia this is actually the corner of 6th and arch streets in Philadelphia 6th and arch and it will be starting there and then there'll be a March there'll be some speakers and then there will be a march down to City Hall and back so it's going to be starting at noon and it's going to be hosted by truth freedom prosperity you could check them out at truth freedom prosperity org and also it will be hosted by citizens for liberty CF Liberty org is their website so that's the end the Fed rally and March for Philadelphia Saturday May 18 2013 at noon in front of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia at 6th and arch streets ok one more quick event announcement the truth freedom prosperity documentary night the free monthly documentary screening and discussion night will be taking place on Thursday May 30th Thursday May 30th at 6:30 p.m. at a scene food market and cafe which is on the corner of 4th and Monroe streets in Philadelphia that's 719 south 4th Street and we're looking into the possibility of maybe moving it to a venue that is more suitable for film screenings which was going to be underground arts on 12th and callow Hill we have not been able to confirm that fully yet but if I I do end up moving the documentary screening I'll make an announcement both on this podcast and as well on the truth freedom prosperity meetup group so for now the location is still a scene market on 4th and Monroe if that changes again you'll be notified through the meetup group if you're a member of truth freedom prosperity for more information you can check out truth freedom prosperity org o this month we'll be showing part three of the four part series that we're going through which is the occult history of the Third Reich should very interesting documentary we're going to be looking at in this third out of fourth video of this series the occult underpinnings of Adolf Hitler's career so should be quite an interesting documentary night at a seen market on Thursday May 30th alright those are all the event announcements I have so let's get going and get to our guest Alex Ansari all right ladies and gentlemen let's go to our in-studio guest for today Alex and Sri al Alex welcome to what on earth is happening Thank You Marc so we just came off of the free your mind to conference you were one of the featured speakers at the conference won't you tell our listeners a little bit about your experience at the conference and also tell them about what you spoke about at the free your mind to conference well this was an amazing conference people came from all over the country on why diverse number of topics and I've been basically looking forward to something like this for a few years there aren't a lot of events that bring together so many different minds from the grassroots and it was really enjoyable to meet some people there that I've interviewed over the years but I've never actually met people like Lyndon on Erfurt Spring Meyer Freeman although I've met Freeman before was good to see him after several years I met him down in Austin in 2005 and Bob Tuscan was there as well so it really seemed like a big family gathering or a convergence of souls and what I was speaking about is the influence the Sun has on not only human consciousness but applying pattern recognition and seeing that at times in the past when we've seen a peak in solar flares we've seen Wars some of these Wars and events being completely staged so I'm trying to introduce the idea to the conspiracy research community that there is a more strategic methodology to the execution of problem reaction solution for example the Boston bombing unfortunate false flag incident took place five days after the Sarge's solar flare of 2013 so my presentation and an e-book that I'm working on releasing later on this year is my purpose is to educate people about the massive changes that the Sun brings and that these changes don't need to be perceived as absolutely positive or negative there seem to be many positive and negative changes that take place when we go through an increase in solar flares which of course are impacted by other things such as certain planetary alignments or other celestial factors so this is an area of research that I think can help people in their forecasts for example of when certain things are about to be staged but also strategy times where he may want to start events launch projects things of that nature exactly I mean it can't really be understated how much influence the Sun has on everything that goes on in this solar system I mean it accounts for 99.99% of the mass of the entire solar system it sends out all of the energy that we need for life and for sustaining life here on the earth so why wouldn't we think that it has an impact on the way that we think and behaviors that flow from that thinking the Sun definitely has to be accounted in you know to those factors and I think it is something that is very under researched as far as these types of patterns go when it comes to human behavior and cycles that we undergo here on the earth absolutely and there's one very interesting piece of scientific research that everyone listening may want to look into for evidence as to how we could be affected by changes in the magnetic field for example it was discovered in 1992 that magnetite exists in the human brain even though they discovered decades earlier that it exists in in pigeons birds and other fish to help them migrate around the planet so if we have this in our brains and there is a concentration of it in the pineal gland what effect of these changes on the magnetic field have on human consciousness moods so solar flares trigger these geo and etic storms which could also be triggered by cosmic rays hitting the magnetic field as well so there's multiple reasons why we can have a geomagnetic storm but it's it's it seems that if someone is not aware of these changes they could flip out and and we do see this a lot because a lot of people don't know how their emotions are affected by these things and that is unfortunate but if someone were to become aware of the intent shifting taking place in their brain perhaps they can use that to their advantage and direct that to something to something that's more conscious sure now let's go back to the experience at the conference a little bit because um you mentioned it was like a family there I mean so many people who have talked to each other the you know radio interviews on skype you know Freeman was there freighter X was there lenin honor myself yourself so many other people that made this event you know an event that no one is ever going to forget in their lifetimes who attended can you give me a little bit of your impressions as to you know some of the information that was shared their speakers that you may have resonated with or information that you heard there that you think is of vital and that really um impacted you I noticed a pattern with a couple different speakers talking about collective manifestation towards something very specific which is essentially where my information seems to be going that during times of increased solar activity were more capable of manifestation so it seems like there's this one hundredth monkey syndrome type of scenario taking place even within the conference in the material that was presented from Curtis Davis to Sonia Barrett even Jay Parker touched upon the holographic universe yes and several months ago as most listeners know the scientific community has been investigating cosmic rays and how they may be you know a piece of evidence in the direction of Arkham our universe may be a computer simulation so I noticed a pattern with that and it seems like we're coming to a simmer conclusion but we're coming to it in different ways the energy was really high there and no one seemed to be talking about exactly the same thing right each speaker was coming with their own piece of information now there was a parallel between Freeman flies presentation and Fritz Spring Meier in terms of transhumanism and cloning right but they each came to their conclusion through their own unique original research and that was another thing incredibly amazing about the event of course Laura Eisenhower is always inspiring sure and she gave a fantastic presentation as well so I'm really looking forward to seeing some of these presentations on video after the fact because to be there is one thing to fill the energy and meet so many like minds enquiring minds but it takes also a long time to process this information and I hope that certain presentations such as yours for example get to the right people that need to hear this information because it's difficult to repeat and regurgitate all this information to people for example like our family right that's a very sensitive issue sending someone a link in many cases is a lot easier and can help plant that seed where they may have a block doing with us for example I totally agree and that is the importance of getting this out there on video as well so that is coming and again be patient we are working on all of that and it will be up on the website in video-on-demand format and then eventually released totally free on the for your mind conference website and on YouTube but to go back to the the the oh the kind of parallels that we saw related to your talk in particular I thought one of the speakers who really resonated with you know the types of energies that you're talking about was Ross Ben because he talked about this from the earth perspective whereas you're talking about it from the the solar solar perspective he talked about mounds and Malon grating and one of the overlaps that I felt there with your presentation was that you both talked about that these types of energies present opportunities for us to actually maybe you know seize upon these types of energies that we can see coming in whether it be in the sense of geomagnetic storms or solar flares or in Ross Ben's case he talked about the types of energies that are actually infused into these mounds along ley line or dragon path energy lines that form the grid of energy around the earth and you both kind of emphasize that these energies can be worked with by us that it's not something that is just happening to us that it is an interaction or an interplay between these cosmic energies or earth energies and human energies so can you speak to that a bit I'd like to look more into Ross Ben's work really interesting presentation and there definitely is a link between the Sun and the moon in a lot of different ways I want to mention one example dr. Birol Paine did some studies on meditation mass meditations and their direct effect on sunspots and he had a group of people meditate on nothing in particular just a state of meditation during the full moon and they found that when they did that they saw a decrease in sunspots now in 9/11 for example there were shifts in the magnetic field around the time of the first plane going into the first Tower and so on and so forth even when the buildings collapsed and all that was televised of course millions to billions of people watching this traumatic event on television right there are detectable changes that took place within the magnetic field so this information suggests combined with Ross Ben's work that we can effect sunspot counts we can't affect the magnetic field we can't affect other things I mean there's so many different examples where people have experimented with mass meditations now this could have positive negative repercussions yeah yeah and perhaps you could be happening unconsciously I think that certainly the case was seeing changes in the magnetic field on the day of 9/11 you know just all this fear combined together you know how one spot somehow affecting the field now what positive applications can that have and I think that's some to to explore further you know I'm interested in hearing what other people's ideas are but I think that it needs to be also realistic sure you know maybe certain things we have to work a little bit harder than just putting our minds together to make it happen because the world we live in today is a result of all these previous choices that came before us sorry we're still on the receiving end of the Karma that we have created for ourselves so when people also ask for solutions sometimes they're having a difficulty facing the basic information of what's going on right and some of these things that we're looking at some of these problems in our world don't have an easy solution because they didn't arise overnight so and and you know a big part of that solution is changing behavior it's not just changing thought and intent and emotion but it's then actually moving into the realm of making that a practical application in one's life and changing the behavior that are on manifest the behaviors that are manifested as a result of those underlying thoughts and emotions so when you tell people that it can be also very disturbing to them because this means not only do you have to think differently but you have to change what you have been doing up to this point and there's a lot of resistance there as well yeah there's definitely a lot of resistance just this concept of self responsibility you know that there's always blaming someone else it's it's habitual and we deal with this a lot and conspiracy research because we don't know what they are doing to us right and what we're trying to do is remind people that we have to be accountable for all our actions mindful relationships yes that is huge to me that's the core to me if we're gonna have a collective shift in consciousness I would expect to see more balance between man and woman including non romantically the point where we evolve a point we realize we're brothers in this were not just you know zombie Homo sapiens wander into our next screw to our next meal to our next defecation we are more than that but if we behave like that's all we are then no we are not a collective utopia like kumbaya type of reality right but we still live in a world where people say that we have entered into that reality and my response to those people is you have lowered your expectations you have lowered the bar you know at some point we have to raise the bar and really start to be the best that we actually can be not find excuses for the way that things are or for the lack of our own self responsibility that's right I like Lenin honours term for that he calls it cosmic respectability and I think that's definitely a mode of consciousness that we all need to step into Alex I'll tell us a little bit about your impressions of the city of Philadelphia and your stay here so far and be curious to hear about that well I think there's a lot of culture in Philadelphia I knew that before coming here that's why I was really excited to come to Philadelphia and you know in a way I kind of wish out another week to explore a little bit more but you know I feel it's time to go back to the middle of basically know where we're having staying since November of 2012 and though I didn't go up there because I thought the world would end in December 2012 but I've been going through my own life cycle you know and and I feel like I'm a sensitive individual not just because I'm a Pisces but for a lot of other reasons so I'm looking forward to going back in an area where it's quiet you know because I'm doing a lot of inner affliction and going into a new cycle in my own life and I've been doing alternative media since 2004 and so after doing the same thing for six years I like the idea of challenging myself and the way the blueness would create these mandalas made out of sand they would blow them away right that's how I feel like certain chapters my life are the concept of impermanence the concept of impermanence and being able to go into Philadelphia without any attachments or expectations and just absorb the variance and in a way it makes me grateful for what I have out there I don't think that I would want to live in a major city at least not at this point in my life and it's got to be a big shift and a big change in energy compared to what you're accustomed to at this point based on where you've been living and I'm living an unstained right now over in West Philly so it's the University District right and I feel like I look more ethnic than some of the people that came directly from East India you know I see the conformity the short hair that tried to conform and the competitive energy and I certainly in that area of the city and university city very much yeah yeah it's like a matrix but there's matrixes matrix sees within matrix sees you know it's like Russian dolls and to go from a very quiet environment and go directly back into that and maintain your Center it's like a Jedi Mind the Jedi mind training this you know situation right so I'm just getting used to going back into different environments and and and being able to to deal with it it was very difficult in Portland towards the last few years living there living in that type of a matrix it bothered me it bothered me that people weren't really growing or evolving the phone enos but i've also reached this point in my life where i care less about what the zombies are doing through the deeper self realization that I'm here to awaken to the deeper levels of my own psyche and that whatever they're doing is actually nothing to do with me it may irritate me but ultimately I'm not here to help them evolve even though I may be trying it's actually in the act of helping others I'm helping myself go to deeper levels alright and so it's a good way to look at it because you know as we are doing to others we are doing to ourself and there is no separation between those two things you know the reason I asked for listeners who may not know a lot about your background is that you're kind of living in an isolated region right now you live in Colorado it's it's a high desert area right is that correct yeah it's hide and right before I was in a Colorado I was in Dallas Texas for a year and that that followed leaving Portland in late 2011 and that was just embracing change a lot of people were shocked they would go to Dallas they would go Alex why would you go to Dallas and it's like why not if you live in the same place your entire life you may prohibit your own growth and through the experiences that we have we can attain greater growth the things that we learn through the friendships relationships job experiences through the people that we interview in these podcasts we continue to grow and grow and grow and I felt that my growth was it was stagnant right something needed to change dramatically so sometimes the change is not enjoyable but the effects that the growth periods could be very rewarding so yeah I'm in the high desert now and it is UFO country for those that have read Chris Chris O'Brien's work the mysterious valley it's not your normal part of the United States that's for sure he actually refers to as area 52 mm-hmm and the reason for that is the number of cattle mutilations over the years although I can't say that I've seen anything out there but I can feel up there is a lot of energy and this is probably what the Native Americans were tapping into and writing about a very long time ago it's an area where the Anasazi or at some point so there are petroglyphs right in the region and you just feel like this is the Land Before Time and by being out there you know for those of us that have spent most of our lives in a big big city and I'm not knocking those that are doing good work in the city I want to state that right out of the gate because we are all where we need to be right and it was a series of synchronicities to begin with that a led me here to the Nelsons absolute we can talk about but also let me there so I've been the more I talk about synchronous city and the more I recognize it it seems that the universe shows me more evidence of this existence working my life right and this is pretty much the response that I get people and they ask me why I don't walk around with a gun and yeah and for the second and then the but how I live my life and how I dress my own fears is my business right and I live a lifestyle that's based on as long as I'm doing good not being afraid of Jax yet because I that experiences where I've lived with less I've dealt with lots of racial discrimination of my life being half Afghani and half white even before 9/11 happened so there's parts of me parts of my skin that have had to be thickened especially in the post 9/11 the world right and I have looked at those challenges and judgments placed against me as lessons to further in my own understanding go beyond duality or go beyond an illusion of separation I think that we are in these lifetimes you know whether we're facing the New World Order the Illuminati that the the darker cultists or stuff in our own personal lives it's all there is a lesson for us to learn from so I've often looked at some of my own experiences with living with less with with judgment what am I supposed to learn from this why is this actually in my lap if we're gonna be operating outside of victim consciousness I think that we should be asking those questions in all aspects of our lives be it the good things that happen to us and the bad things as well absolutely well said and I don't think that the influence of synchronicity can be underestimated in our lives if we step into the the slipstream of higher consciousness synchronicity is going to take us to where we need to go when people often say well where do I begin with this I say any entry point is practically as sufficient as any other because one thing will lead you to the next thing will lead you to the next thing and you know that consciousness will open up as you are taking more and more information through synchronicity itself you'll be led to the next thing that you need to know about so it is a very interesting the synchronicity that led you here to Philadelphia because we had a speaker cancel and we had an opening on the conference a lineup and we had heard that you know someone offered to help you come to Philadelphia and we said let's bring in Alex answering who would be a you know a perfect replacement for the individual who canceled and and actually you know really enhance the lineup of the for your mind to roster of speakers so you know this wasn't even a initially a planned thing but it all fell into place and I think everyone who needed to be at the free your mind to conference was there in person things worked out for the better they worked out exactly as they should have worked out and I would not have had it any other way you know of course when you know there's some sort of a little ratchet thrown into the plans you know we all make plans and then you know the universe might throw us a little curve ball and then we have to run with it we have to deal with that run with it but again I think that's part of the synchronicity aspect of life and it brought the people who really needed to be there and get the message that they need to get out at that conference it made that happen just the way it was supposed to happen and I felt like that was a really supportive sign that the universe sent me the the secret isset II but becoming aware of it like the universe winking at you you know I'm interviewing Freeman you know when a caller calls in asking if I'm going to the free mind conference if I've heard of Mark passio now I saw what your lectures about four or five years ago on Google when people are still uploading on Google and I had a lot of videos that I used to have on Google before they took them down right and I'm never going this is what the shift is these are independent people that aren't trying to be stars that are putting together their own powerpoints and their own information and they're presenting it and now the universe is created means for us to share this information with other people all around the world this is a pretty historic moment in light of all the dark things that are taking place sure and then I started to look more at your work write it on the same time period kind of connect the dots oh this is the main person that's organizing for mine conference and the last one and I was kind of skeptical that there would be any room left I mean we're talking like the last month but Bob came in and made that offer at a time where I had already put it out to the universe in my own of course I'm talking with a friend out there so the universe is picking up on the signal I've got to work on this project and continue to gather data on this very interesting subject because the point that we are at in the timeline the buyers go into the maximum portion of the cycle people are going to be more receptive to the information there are going to be more events taking place that are staged around solar flares again Boston hadn't happened yet but I'm thinking about this with this knowledge comes responsibility and it's not about me I'm just connecting the dots and others will hear the information also start connecting the dots as Alexander chevensky did the Russian scientists that started looking at this 100 years ago and and Raymond Willer and Beryl Payne and Edward Dooley and Carol Moore from the website sunspots and activists strategy I'm like wow there's a lot of people that have been looking at this and it seems like the universe in that case in many cases help make that situation manifest so looking back at it you know I'm thinking as we all should as we start to learn about our abilities to manifest mindfully what do we want to create as we start facing these horrible pieces of news and and what they want to create they want a manufactured civil war they want blood in the streets sure they want us to respond they're baiting but what do we want and that's the interesting question are we mark I I wonder are we ever gonna pull it off to where we have independent communities outside of the grid so we have people doing their thing in the city but we also have other things going on are we going to get to that point or are we always gonna be at war with our ourselves our own egos you know completely forgetting that what we have to deal with is ourselves right ok well an agreement on this or an agreement on that now we don't want a cult we don't want a kommune but how do we bring our sources together to start making some your impacts and I think that as human beings as Souls we have lessons along those lines in this matrix is much more than resistance to just oppression I think what that dynamic ultimately comes down to is reversing the trend of constantly looking to the external looking outside the self and only looking at the problem and it with the trend needs to be to look within and to look at how we're generating what we are ultimately experiencing on a mass scale ok I'm not saying one individual is generating what we're experiencing saying in the aggregate we are all generating that when I tell people that you know the world is the way that it is because more people want it that way then do not want it that way people get very angry when I say that they get very very angry they don't want to hear that that truth that basic truth because that place is the the responsibility firmly upon us collectively as a species more people are still in this mindset of lack are still in this mindset of scarcity are still in this mindset of control and the belief in authority and that it has to be this way and that we have to use these monetary systems and we have to have this scarcity of in the energy paradigm that we have and if more people would change their thought about that and then take actions to actually change the way that it is it would change but since so few people are doing that internal work the external reality is not following their internal changes and it's not manifesting into what we say we want we're just getting more of the same exactly and that's what I appreciate about your podcasts is that I'm hearing some things that I haven't heard from other people and that's what's really good about your program and I think that's why it's so well received by the people that are listening they're looking for something more right and there is there is a deeper level that we need to go in terms of what we need to do for ourselves that's that's pretty much where I'm at my life is part of also going out there was okay I'm gonna go into an environment there's no one else to blame right for anything for how I'm feeling emotionally because I've become increasingly non materialistic you know it's not a whole lot of things I can wine them out up there because I really don't need that many things but whatever state of mind I'm in consciousness thoughts that's all on me right and so if we can find ways of being accountable for ourselves I think we could see more of our increased ability to affect things outwardly absolutely let's just talk a little bit about your current environment um you're living off-grid it I believe if so there's rages to getting off-grid and then there's being self-sustaining so I want to make that that clear what I can say is I survived in a climate where it gets as low as negative 40 and during some of those nights I retain my own body heat and I did it without firewood and I would wake up in in mornings where everything was frozen around me now to really be off the grid and self-sufficient you have to have an ability to get yourself water there's no water out there no running water it all comes from somewhere else where not the river comes from town or no in a neighbor who has well all that helps is is actually necessary really if you're going to have a garden out there right and we all know that we need to start going in that path if we're not already and everywhere the listener may be it's going to be different than somebody else or different listen are different climates sure so I'm trying to learn some of those basics those basic skills that I've been talking about for years on YouTube and I've interviewed about 20 different people in my lifetime on the television showed just about their information on what we needed to do to be off the grid so I was just providing information but I'm not fully doing it at this point it's step by step by step because the other aspect is being able to live without certain things certain people at times the internet I still haven't got a good internet deal satellite wants over a hundred a month most of those companies because we're surrounded by mountains right now how can that be a positive thing we're talking about ancient sacred land where no signals yeah are penetrating right now a term that a look at that in a shamanistic way sure I think this is an amazing place for people that are on the search for truth higher truths perhaps other truths in the area that has some very interesting energy be a positive or negative again like the Sun it's a little bit more mysterious than that it's neutral it's the effect that it has on the individual so when I look at where where I am I can see someone having a shamanistic experience but I can also see why there's an abundance of alcoholics out there right that don't know how to channel their energy in a mindful proper way other than alcohol so people are going to respond to those environments different ways I ain't seen in a yurt that's the other aspect there's not a lot of yurts out there and so this is a circular shaped design so it's basically a glorified teepee there are some people out there that have dug their homes into the ground which will give you more insulation and they've created a sandbag structure along the walls and after they fill the sand bags with dirt usually want to cement that or pack it in interesting and there's another person that has a straw bale home which is a mixture of straw and concrete so there's different tack techniques that that different neighbors have tried it's it's it's cheap really I mean I know my friend Ryan bought us home for like five hundred down and we're talking like 50 to 100 a month in payments Wow and maybe two to three thousand and building materials Wow so I'm shocked at because so these people aren't the brightest some are besson mark and so it's one of those things that if they can do it right you know a lot of other people could and despite the fact that we're reading about drones working for police or police using drones to catch people that are harvesting rainwater or doing certain things off the it doesn't mean that the whole world has turned already into that nightmarish reality where we just can't where it's too late to start there's some people that think it's too late to start right um and what people need to look at if they want to go off the grid is what the building codes are like now in this area the building codes are fairly waxed but in some areas unless you have a septic tank unless you have certain things you can't have a community of 10 15 20 people because the city will come out and find you this is one of those areas where that doesn't happen so right now um you you spoke to the fact that there's so much less electromagnetic soup that you know we're living in here in the cities and that could create a lot of opportunity for like more self-introspection because those signals kind of are out of the way when it comes to the dynamic of not being around a lot of other people because you know there's the population there is so sparse compared with other areas what it what is that dynamic and like for you well you know I'm very opinionated in terms of like you know as you might expect as an avatar in terms of 9/11 and the things taking place and illegal taxation without representation I have my opinion it's just like a lot of other people in the alternative media but I've had to develop the skill to tone that down when you're actually in a real survival situation where you need to know them you can't completely freak them out and you know there's some people that just don't get this stuff right but there are certain needs that need to be met I need more connections for water I need more connections for firewood I need to be able to help people with my own muscles my own body just direct me how can I help you right how can we build this project how can we finish this green house and so I've been psychologically going into a different mode of how I interact with people and and being careful what I say you know there's there's one neighbor that I know and I told him about the presentation and the trip to Philadelphia and he started ranting and raving about how anyone that would study sunspots is a mad person and I'm probably making up what I'm saying how I just pull information off of the end and see here was the ego that we talked about earlier the Buddhist mandala Blanc that's what I did when I left access TV that was a great part of my life those six years of connecting with members of my own community plus it was on the Internet but I mean that's access TV has its own energy to it right that's very powerful Alex Jones of course got his start doing access TV there's something very real about that medium but Freeman as well I believe Freeman as well Austin access TV is great so the ego gets challenged all this work that I've done to help educate people and they will throw that negative energy and it's just no it's like Aikido learning to step to the side okay Kevin all right good luck with that right been walking now with that incident no need to pull out a megaphone right no need to scream or throw flyers in his face or Kohima zombie just walk away and realize the situation I'm in and that no matter what era of time or in we may still be doing with the same percentage of sheeple I don't ever waste my time anymore saying when are people going to wake up because I understood at some point for myself the nature of the suffering that that brought me we may always be dealing with a certain percentage of awakened and a certain percentage of those that are asleep because that just seems to be the way that it's been over time see that whole mindset of someone saying something like that comes from the belief in separation that the whole thing that oh how could it be possible that the Sun could affect behaviors on earth because that's over there and we're over here that's it that's that thing and we're this thing you know this this idea is so entrenched in modern society because we've bought into this you know these ridiculous notions of you know pure Newtonian physics and you know Darwinian macro biological evolution and the primacy of matter you know and it's just amazing how entrenched that whole ideology of separation and that that poisonous worldview is really what's at the very base level holding people's consciousness down because if they can only shift that to an understanding that not only are we all connected we're all connected at whatever distances that perceive distances that exist and the effects of you know energies that that are had upon what we perceive as matter are actually instantaneous I mean that it doesn't make a difference how far it is apart effects happen instantaneously and this is actually born out and proven by new science that people like this are just completely unaware of they're unaware of the experimentation that has been done they're unaware of the new work in physics and the new work in biology and their worldview is based upon science that is a hundred a hundred and fifty two hundred years old and this is because of that divide that dichotomy of how long it takes for modern understanding of science to actually come into the public consciousness there's such a time gap in that and you know just wanted to throw that out there and you know if you have any comments on that and you know go right ahead absolutely but in addition to that climate we know that the climate is impacted by the Sun I mean you sure this is common sense primarily it's not well NASA's admitted that the Sun has an impact on on temperatures on the earth and we have all types of charts that we can access where we look at the the Little Ice Age from several hundred years ago look at sunspot activity at a record low but yet the UN's IPCC we know from the last few years all the informations come out about scientists being kicked out of that organization that have data that shows yes the Sun does impact climate but yet while they censor data that shows that there's another reason why climate is changing you have other scientists saying that we should we should geo engineer we should terraform the planet because well because of global warming we need to reflect particles from the Sun so they deny that there's connection and then their other sign this come around the back door and go and we've got a solution let's legitimize ken trailing and that's a very very serious situation obviously right and since the movie came out what now are they spraying there's been a lot more awareness on this particular topic but I want to see this real quick in reference to the Sun a lot of people think that HAARP is the sole cause of some of the major earthquakes that we've seen simply because there's evidence that harps being used sure but there's really evidence that shows that arts being used at moments that we have solar flares for example with Fukushima there was a solar flare several days before that and Exce one point five but there are these Magne meters that show the HAARP flux that was active that day as well right we could see similar patterns with Haiti show a and and and many other examples as well so it's not that HAARP isn't to blame it's that HAARP seems to be using the energy that's already being created naturally and directing it and Hurricane Katrina is another example this many scientists saying that it came in at a 90 degree angle after the storm already formed right I think that's a very powerful analysis I think you're right on about that that these types of ionosphere heaters that we're talking about when we're talking about HAARP don't necessarily have the kind of power to create that energy but they do have the power to direct it to take energy that is there from natural sources and to redirect that in the way that they see fit so tell the listeners a little bit about what you're doing next what is the next big project for you you know let them know about you know whatever you're working on right now what's coming in the future well there is something that I want to accomplish the next couple of years but this year would be better I would like to make a documentary film about my perception of where things are going to be in 10 years if we don't have a major recorrect ssin and what my forecast is for the next 10 years is a manufactured civil war scenario the world war 3 scenario that a lot of people believe could be any day now at any point be it with China beat with Russia I see as something that they plan for the next solar cycle solar cycle 25 so I want to get more involved in putting together this presentation it could be on PowerPoint there could be a version of it that's in a film but I would like to further delve into the background of China the background of Russia the powers that be behind mal say Tong the powers that be behind the Bolshevik Revolution which Anthony Sun also wrote about the wall street in the Bolshevik Revolution yes well we could see all these pieces of evidence that show the levels of co-option taking place at that time and we look at the world that we live in now with the military industrial complex noise different corporate corporate companies selling weapons around the world and we can see multiple pieces of evidence of just about every single Administration in our own country transferring military technology to China or allowing it to happen something along those lines being a regular serious issue not starting with the clinton ministration but lot was going down around the time of the monica lewinsky distraction you know there was information coming out they called it China gate and what was going on with Long Beach California and the the famous port deal with with the Chinese company Costco Oh Santa Monica Gate came out you know and it really distracted people's focus right so there's a lot of information that I think the American people in fact mark the Chinese people I actually even the Russian people you know my my long-term dream if I get this project done is to have the work translated into Russian and Chinese because I think we have a serious issue not only the plans for world war three which the people of the world don't want or world war four depend on how land chooses to phrase it we've got to make an attempt to break through the firewall if we're aware these things were running we have a responsibility and this is not just about you know the 1776 you know about America I mean this is this is a global Cypriot take a look at September 11 2001 okay most the people know was an inside job that are listening this podcast but how many times do we remind other people that this is a global operation when we can show with quantitative evidence that they got that skill steal out of 9/11 within days and got it shipped to China and we're talking about the nation that has been funding our wars the nation were in debt to and we can see the land that is being sold at a alarming rate to China so when I look at the American Empire and you know the pattern of the New World Order before the British Empire Nazi Germany it's like they use one nation at a time to fulfill a certain agenda it's right and they kick him out of the the car like a whore right and I see the torch being passed and sometimes this is being done symbolically as I believe it was done with the 2008 Olympics you know and and the Chinese secret police having the right to engage in domestic law enforcement that some of the the torch rallies that took place here in the u.s. San Francisco there were some situations and incidents I believe also in England as well so I think that we're being shown these rituals when Obama goes around and bounce before these world leaders you know when the Chinese flag is raised in Washington DC in 2009 even bigger even better a Chinese satellite going over the United States 2011 these are these are subtle rituals yes that that anyone in their right mind would go wait wait a minute this is this is not right how many people know that in the league City Texas there Cheney there they're training Chinese Police Cadets sure and I haven't seen that on Infowars I would like Alex to check out that story at some point because it seems why the Pazzaglia that he would be presenting that information since he's in Texas but you know in Texas the come and take it state there's still a lot of awareness that that needs to manifest Rick Perry the governor of Texas brought in a company called wall Wayne and they make these cell phones the Chinese company the Pentagon has already listed this company as one of the eased wrapping cyberattack companies coming from China so why is Rick Perry a globalist allowing the Chinese company to come in to Plano Texas just 30 miles outside of Dallas and set up shop so these are things that I see is major red flags that are getting that aren't getting the coverage that they shed absolutely and it is that that ritual of passing the torch like you said they use up one country for their purposes to get done and advance their agenda to the level that they want and then they move on to another and we have to become aware of that pattern and understand that that's taking place right now as we speak yeah it is it's definitely taking place as we speak and I was also curious what your analysis was of the the 2012 Olympics having referenced the 2008 and I remember seeing those rituals sure being played out it appeared to me without getting deep and you know any old analysis but just obviously it seemed to me that it was a ritual portraying the death of humanity death of a big baby or Nephilim with the Phoenix symbol being very prevalent in the whole ritualistic aspect of you know being a firearm Oh knees yes so I definitely do see it as that they're going to try to create death and destruction and from that chaos and from those ashes birth their version of the dark New World Order that they want to see come to fruition you know that's what they do they manage chaos they manage death and destruction right you know creating it is one thing but it's the fallout that they're managing afterward because that's when people are in that susceptible state they're in that fight-or-flight mode there in the arc complex they're not really making rational decisions they're not really seeing patterns they're not using pattern recognition which is made possible by the higher part of the brain the neocortex they're operating from the fight-or-flight modality or the reptilian complex of the brain and in that fear mode that's when people can be easily mad or redirected to suit the goals of these manipulators of these orchestrators that have actually created the chaos to begin with now they're managing it through people's fear to rearrange things to come out to build the outcome that they're looking for all along exactly and this Sora cycle and the next one number 25 I think they're just going to continue to get more intense and more intense and more intense and NASA's looking at 2022 they've looked at the Suns great conveyor belt and they believe that that has the key that that is what indicates the speed of the cycle low great conveyor belt speed means more sunspots according to their latest calculations right so if they're expecting an all-time low speed of the great conveyor belt in 2022 that means that the next cycle will be more intense than this one instead of it being more mild and that's what they were initially projecting now why this is interesting is because of the links between saw activity and consciousness leaps in evolution if something really big is coming you know there could be a lot of new ideas and people are talking about the shift in consciousness for a long time if the Sun is a primary conduit of it transfer of that energy through photon waves and light and all different other things that are affecting every aspect of our body maybe potentially this plan to stage this third world war that can cause so much fear trauma I mean think 911 on steroids or that would really freak people out that they may be planning to pull this at a very specific time pull the trigger at a specific time where we have the greatest ability to evolve right where we're even more tapped in than we normally are even though we live in a world where we hear these fears all the time about the grid going down which by the way could lead to a beginning of something new right if we're able to imagine it I would like people to imagine it imagine a world without money or technology where our friends and our relationships are more important than those obsolete things so this next solar cycle I think is going to be really really interesting and by knowing about it and the potential for us to evolve we can avert being played against one another that's right it's becoming aware of those patterns and they're aware of those patterns these dark occultists I mean that's what this is we're deok halting information that has been hidden they're very aware of these and they use those cycles to their advantage they understand these energies they understand what they're capable of doing with these energies and that's why they plan their orchestrations at very specific times in cycles such as what alex is talking about so Alex I want to thank you for being here today I want to give you step aside and just give you the floor for the last few minutes to talk about anything that you want to leave the listeners with please mention whatever work you have coming up and definitely tell the listeners about your website and how they can reach you the floor is yours my friend well my websites Alex answer ETV and since I've been living off the grid of that internet I'm working to get that updated again with fresh news but Saturday nights on American freedom radio calm you can hear me there live 8:00 to 10:00 central and your show is called it's it's called outside the box outside the box assistant with with the name of the radio and television show and and if they want to see what what I've created over the last few years it's youtube.com slash Alex answering and so there's about a thousand videos like that YouTube channel featuring some of them you know early days the 9/11 truth making a lot of noise in the streets of Portland Oregon a lot of maleness tree interviews of those really involved in a lot of local issues and so a lot of the history is there but what I want to leave the audience with you know kind of one of the core philosophies that I'm sharing is that I don't view the world in terms of polarized opposites and I think that we can free ourselves from a lot of misery if we detach from those obsolete belief systems one of those is this belief that in our lifetimes we're all going to collectively shift together we're going to hold hands so we're just going to start levitating and all our problems are just going to go away because the energy says so and I see this as a violation of free of those that are still susceptible allow themselves to be controlled or still are involved in controlling others this planet this world it is it is a small world but it's also still a very large world and it's large enough for us all to have our own microcosmic experiences and to learn that cause-and-effect reality what we put out there comes back to us so the problems in the world don't have an easy solution that can just be easily turned around overnight because all the factors that got us here level factors necessary to get us out and the other polarized worldview that I want to pull people out of if you know they have the ears to hear and eyes to see is that it's dangerous to assume someone's going to kill you because you're aware of plots and plans and deceptions that can really pollute your sense of possibility and your own ability to create if you're owning consuming media whether you identified to be independent media or alternative media not alternative media is is healthy media but some of it is a mix of both we need to discern what is not our information and be very aware of how language impacts our reality especially when we're talking about where we like to see ourselves or where we believe we're going to be in a few years because if we continue to tell ourselves a pessimistic tape about ourselves in our world we won't go anywhere and we're gonna be looking towards others to give us the information that we should be tapping into ourselves I think this is as you say quarantine prison for souls that have stolen but also that people call it a holographic universe I call it a spiritual biological videogame and we're all here from God knows where with God knows where we got this knowledge but we are working with different pieces or tools if you will of knowledge to work us up the levels and I think there are many levels to this matrix and that we have to be beyond in our site the site in the sixth sense beyond heaven or hell and see all the different possibilities of reality that we could enter and that we may have come out of and that this is really about doing the things that we need to do to get to where we need to be and realizing that events from the past whether we believe in past lives or past actions within this life have got us to where we are right now at this moment yes and we need to keep that in the right perspective when we look at the whole globe and and all the fears that people have about the future well maybe that really are billions of people on the planet not as parasites but here to learn something at this moment in time so keeping things in the proper perspective can can heat can keep things can keep the sight clear can he keep one emotionally balanced and centered and I think that's the most important thing people can do right now well said well said give the listeners your website one more time Alex answered on TV and of course you can find me on Facebook and youtube.com slash Alex an Surrey and Saturday nights American freedom radio 8:00 to 10:00 central fantastic ladies and gentlemen Alex answering one of the brilliant speakers at the freer mine to conference this year in 2013 thank you so much for being here Alex thank you Mark great

Topics: Mark & Barb's Unlawful Arrest For Exercising Free Speech, Presentation of Mark's Free Your Mind 2 Talk "New Age Bullshit & The Suppression Of The Sacred Masculine" freedom man that's what it's all about you've got to groove on freedom like the good book says welcome you are listening to what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches its critical moment of choice and now here is your host mark pascio welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening i'm your host mark pacio my website what on earth is happening dot com today is tuesday june 4th 2013. we have a great show lined up for you here today i'm going to be getting into a few event announcements first and then as promised i'm going to be going through my entire presentation from the free your mind 2 conference that took place back in april and i will be giving that presentation live on this podcast slides will be included with the podcast so you can follow along on the podcast page of the website what on earth is happening dot com this is podcast number 143 so you could listen to the audio and you can click on the images and go through the slideshow as i'm speaking so you can see visual images of what i'm talking about that presentation is going to be coming up later in this podcast i'm going to start with a few event announcements i will be hosting the first natural law seminar and hopefully this will be the first of many to come so far we have a good enrollment but i extended the enrollment because a few people uh asked me to do that and that you know they wanted a little bit more time to get um you know their schedule in line and you know resources together so i have extended the enrollment for the first natural law seminar coming up here in philadelphia to june 8th so enrollment has been extended to june 8th i'll tell you a little bit about this seminar i call it the real law of attraction and how to apply it in your life this is what natural law is all about it's a six class seminar totaling 24 hours in course material included with that will be a thumb drive a flash drive 32 gigabyte flash drive with tons of information on natural law books audio videos that actually comes with it it's going to be over six saturdays this summer starting june twenty second the day after the summer solstice saturday june 22nd saturday june 29th saturday july 6th saturday july 13th saturday july 20th and saturday july 27th from 12 to 4 p.m um i've also just been informed that uh the last session for july 27th and i will have to send out an email to the people who have already subscribed for the seminar actually has to be pushed back by a couple of hours because the room is not going to be available at noon on that day so the last session will take place starting at 2 p.m and it will go from 2 to 6 on july 27th only only july 27th 2 to 6 p.m that's a uh a change in the schedule for the natural law seminar the seminar will be hosted at liberty's pub on the second floor of the pub we have a whole second floor reserved liberties is at 705 north 2nd street in philadelphia that's the corner of second and fairmont streets enrollment donation is 177.60 cents the donation method is a check or money order made payable to cash and you can get more information on the flyer on uh my website in the news section about the natural law seminar or you can actually get it right with this podcast it'll be included in the images section so that's the natural law seminar and we have a great class shaping up for the very first one enrollment is still open for the next few days until june 8th the next announcement is that i will be taking place in taking part in a panel discussion on the occult coming up in new york city this month on june 27th so this is going to be taking place at the meta center in new york city in manhattan it's called the keys to the occult and the evolution of consciousness um also taking place uh also taking part in this uh great discussion panel will be pam grossman curtis davis and gary jansen and the panel will be hosted by alan steinfeld so two speakers from the free or mine conference all three if you include myself three speakers from the free remind two conference uh taking part in this uh great panel discussion on occultism the topics that they're going to discuss is what is the difference between the occult and spirituality do the occult sciences still have value today is there a reason for their secrecy why is this knowledge now emerging and how can we use it and is occult knowledge there to activate a higher potential in ourselves these are the general topics of discussion that are going to be taking place at this panel so this will be happening at the meta center in new york city on thursday june 27 from 7 pm to 9 45 pm for more information or to get tickets you can go to metacenter ny a c e n t e r n y dot com meta center ny dot com so really looking forward to that event and i want to thank uh both curtis davis and alan steinfeld for their work and setting that up and inviting me to be a part of that with that having been said the last uh i guess you could call it an event announcement uh it's an event recounting uh i'm sure most people have already heard the news that after the end the fed rally that took place on may 18th uh here in philadelphia me and my wife my partner barb were unlawfully and illegally arrested and detained outside of independence mall and the liberty bell for doing absolutely nothing except exercising our natural rights to freedom of speech and freedom of the press this is what america has turned into ladies and gentlemen criminal thugs usurping people's natural rights to speak freely in the cradle of freedom philadelphia independence mall where the declaration of independence was signed this has been a news item on my website over 50 000 people have seen the video the aftermath of what happened and us being uh you know uh handcuffed uh i still have damage in my hand that i have not been able to see a doctor yet because i don't have the funds to do so at this point i we these criminals will be being sued and taken into their own court system on criminal charges um going to be starting that process very shortly but um what i want to do before i get into the presentation for this podcast is just read the account that i wrote on my website this is in the news section you can also click into it from the latest news feed on the left hand side of the what on earth is happening dot com website um i called this article that i wrote a little summary about the event free speech rights are being shut down in philadelphia and throughout all of america so here is this recounting i'm simply going to read this because quite frankly i'm almost tired of telling this story because i've been on many different radio shows talking about it i'm sure other people who interview me are going to want to uh have a recounting on their show so they can get the word out to concerned americans that this country is already a police state forget being turned into one it is a police state now as we speak and measures need to be taken to undo that by the citizens of this country they need to to grow the courage and the will to actually stop this police state so i'll just read the account and um i'm also going to post this in pdf form on the pot with the podcast as well you can download that and distribute it if you see fit to do so so here we go on saturday may 18th at three o'clock p.m i was walking with my wife barb in philadelphia from market street to chestnut street between 5th and 6th streets and handed out a few flyers about how the federal reserve bank is devaluing our nation's currency to people standing in line at the liberty bell location something that i have done almost 20 times in the past i briefly spoke to a couple of them who asked me for more information we then proceeded to continue to walk to chestnut street where we were stopped by two park police officers who said that i could not hand out flyers without a permit i had already finished handing them out actually i had a few left in my hand and was in the process of leaving the area they began citing some obscure federal regulation that i had never heard of i calmly told them that i was peacefully exercising the rights of free speech and free press as i was walking through the area which are natural rights which cannot be granted by man nor alienated from man and which they do not have the quote unquote right regardless of what the terms of their job may tell them to usurp from me or to stop me from exercising that is not one of their rights regardless of what they think and i'm adding on to this here uh you know i'm stopping the the recounting because they kept telling us we're just doing our job and i kept saying no you're not just doing your job you are taking away free people's rights you are usurping natural rights is what you're doing you are taking other people's rights which you don't have the right to do and i was asserting that very clearly which is what should be done when somebody comes over to you and tells you that you can't exercise a natural right if you're not harming anybody if you're not defrauding anybody if you're not stealing anybody's property then no one has the right to accost you and tell you to stop what you're doing i was exercising that which is a right a moral natural right peacefully engaging people with speech and information which is every human being on this planet's right everyone and no other human being has the right to tell any other human being that they may not exercise that right i don't care what anybody thinks i don't care what anybody tells you that's true eternally i don't care what right quote unquote regulation says otherwise it's invalid because it's immoral it's not in harmony with the laws of nature and common sense which is what these people don't have no conscience no common sense their order followers who will do anything to follow an order as long as they receive a paycheck to do so and some petty sense of thug power because that's all these people are thugs and criminals continuing with the recounting i informed them that on the unalienable rights to free speech and free press were also guaranteed and protected by the first amendment of the constitution of the united states of america which as supposedly anyway the highest legal document of american law certainly trumps and negates any unconstitutional federal regulation which they were quoting to me even under their own legal system and to stop again for another moment this doesn't mean i'm a constitutionalist i don't believe in the authority of man period as such i'm an anarchonist and that's the word i'm going to start using for it instead of anarchist i'm an anarchonist i don't believe in master slave relationships i'm not a slave i'm not your subject regardless of what you think i stand against the idea of their being archons people who tell other people what to do even if they're not hurting anybody else that's called telling somebody else you're their master and they have to obey your commands well you're not the archon of anything and people need to understand we need to do away with people who think that there are cons this needs to be gone from the earth it needs to be gone this whole idea that anybody is in authority needs to be gone from the earth we need to expunge this idea from people's minds that still believe in this crap it's unbelievable the year is 2013 and people still believe that there's kings and subjects that there's masters and slaves and most people support this crap because they're house slaves you know what most people in this country are they're their samuel l jackson character from django unchained go watch the movie and that's what the people of america have turned into and you can't even insult them by telling them that because they're too dumb to even understand the reference they're too dumb to even understand civil war period slavery they think of that as the only form of slavery too and then they'll get offended when you tell them that ball and chain and shackled slavery is not the only form of slavery that exists has existed in the world and exists now it's not the only thing that is is slavery slavery is more than that slavery is the notion that somebody's in authority and can tell you what you can and cannot do if you're not hurting anybody else that's slavery slavery is taxation theft against your will of the product of your labor in ball and chain slavery it just happens to be a hundred percent and at the point of a gun and it's still at the point of a gun if you don't do it today prohibition is slavery telling somebody what they can and can't put into their body because it's a form it's it's a claim of ownership against your body and people can't see that because their heads too wrapped up in crap and illusions continuing with the recounting again so i informed them that they were violating natural human rights by even attempting to stop people from exercising these rights and claiming that our free speech rights can be invalidated by an obscure federal regulation and by making the claim that i now needed to pay the federal government for permission i need they were telling me i need to pay the federal government permission to exercise a natural human right of speech and people who say mark you're getting angry about this yeah you're damn right i'm angry about it and something is broken inside of you if you're not angry about this happening something's been robbed from you a natural human instinct for self-preservation has been robbed from you and the preservation of your natural rights that are a birthright from the creator of the universe if you're not angry when those things are attempted to be taken from you your rights and your freedom and you're not angry you are broken that means something's irreparably wrong with you perhaps irreparably and broken means you've been turned into a slave that's what broken means you're no longer even offering any resistance to your own slavery like when you break a horse to allow a br you break a wild horse to allow your you to to ride on it without any any resistance and the horse will go wherever you want to go if you steer him in that direction that's called breaking and when the mind is broken to a certain point people become just like that horse a willing beast of burden continuing after informing them that they were violating these rights i simply attempt attempted to walk away toward 5th street on chestnut street when these park police told me that i was not free to walk away from them and i asked them at that point what have i done have i violated anyone else's rights have i done any harm to another person have i defrauded someone have i violated anybody's property have i stolen anything from anyone and they repeatedly said no no you haven't done any of those things i said well then you have no right to tell me that i'm not free to walk away i've done nothing wrong and you're telling me you're going to take my freedom of movement away and they said yes you're not free to walk away from us so they told me i was not free to walk away from them even though i had long since finished handing out anyone handing anyone any flyers and had done absolutely nothing to harm or violate anyone else's rights they appeared to be viciously angered at my declaration that i had engaged in a peaceful activity that was a natural right and that they had no right to attempt me just to attempt to stop me from exercising it they were just viciously angered that i wasn't totally cow towing and bowing down and saying yo you're the authority and i have to do what you say you're not the authority and i don't have to do what you say if i'm not hurting anybody else you have no right to stop me from doing what i'm doing or or especially to continue on my way in my freedom of movement and this is america ladies and gentlemen this is america now in front of independence hall and once again if you're not vicious if you're not viciously angered by this enough to start taking action and speaking out against these abuses of human rights something is wrong with you and i'll be the person to tell you that you are broken there is something broken inside of your soul if you're not angry at this and you need to get your head right if that's where you're at anybody that thinks that anybody can pass a law this is a crime of every person at the federal level who voted for this the nerve of somebody saying we're going to vote in a law that says you have to pay permission to speak and hand out literature to someone else and i'll tell you what the flyer said in a moment after i'm finished that finished this account so i'll continue they appeared to be viciously angered at my declaration that i had engaged in a peaceful activity that was a natural right and that they had no right to attempt to stop me from exercising it along with many other park police who had gathered while i was speaking to the original two officers they followed me and barb onto chestnut street and violently stopped us from proceeding on our way put handcuffs on both of us and deliberately put mine on so tight mine were applied so tightly that i have now lost feeling in a large portion of the top of my left hand and and knuckles on my left hand it feels like i've been given novocaine and the the part of my left hand has been numb and it the feeling has still not returned this is a subtle form of torture that they do to people who don't obey them like little broken animals which i am not no you're not my master you're you're not my owner and you're gonna get that through your head we're gonna put it through your head that you're not our owners that's gonna be put through your head whether you want it there or not you're gonna find out that you're not our owners you're just a bunch of little boys frightened little boys with some kind of nested trauma that you can't work through for some reason about what your mommy or daddy did to you when you were when you were young and that's no excuse to violate other people's rights i don't really honestly it's none of my business what happened to you when you were young or when you were a teenager that traumatized you and put you in thug victim mentality mindset psychologically that's up to you and the people around you to help you work through that situation and if you listen to these podcasts maybe you'll understand a little bit more about that and start working through that trauma instead of trying to express it and take it out on other people in a way that is violent that you have no right to do that's morally wrong and you know it because nobody is so stupid that you think that you have the right to shut down free speech first of all you're shutting down your own free speech you're shutting down the free speech of your family you're shutting down the free speech of your children you're a moron who's putting your own self into a cage into a prison and you you're trying to say that's not what's happening because you're broken there's something wrong with you and you need to get help because you're mentally unfit to even be walking around in society let alone doing some job that carries some responsibility with it you're a broken boy and for people who think i'm venting i'll tell this i'll tell this to their face i'm not just venting because i'm on the air bring some of these people in front of me you think i won't go back there and and start handing out flyers again you think i'm not going to continue to exercise free speech you're wrong and we'll organize a whole event of just flyering for any cause you want in front of the liberty bell because that's our right to do so and you're not going to stop us from exercising it we're going to stop you get that through your head continuing with the account they put the cuffs on so tightly that they've caused nerve damage in my wrist and stolen something from me which they have no right to steal feeling in a part of my body's been stolen from me these people think they're god they think they can do whatever they want and get away with it and if americans don't show them that they're wrong they're going to continue with this course of action i'm telling you now the time now is to rise up ladies and gentlemen the time is to now rise up because when they're putting down free speech gulags are right behind the right around the corner that's what's next if you study any historical accounts of how an open society gets turned into a closed society that's what's on the way next and people are sitting there with their thumb up their ass doing nothing attacking other people complaining about this and that that doesn't matter when your rights are being shut down before your eyes and you're still not speaking other people you're still just listening to somebody you need to be speaking to as many other people as possible get out of your fear and speak so mine were applied so tight that i've lost feeling in a large portion of the top of my left hand will need eventually to see a doctor about possible permanent nerve damage they unlawfully arrested our freedom of movement for over 20 minutes keeping us there detained in which i launched into a tirade about what was going on in america and you can watch that in the video that is on the news section of the site i'll post the video with this they unlawfully searched my person when i told them i didn't concert to any sen uh searches violating my natural rights my constitutionally protected fourth under the fourth amendment rights that are constitutionally protected on their fourth amendment against illegal searches and seizures because that was an unlawful illegal search and seizure they stole my property in the form of the remaining flyers which i had paid to print took them claiming that they were evidence evidence of what no crime had been committed there's no evidence there to collect and then adding insult to injury they also stole a twenty dollar bill from my wallet which i discovered was missing when they returned it to me after releasing us i mean this is what we're dealing with common thug thieves common thug thieves in a costume in a uniform with a badge thinking that they're an authority and all you are is a thug thief and people have any respect left for people in a uniform with a badge and they think this is just this is just a few no this this is you know what it is it's total bullshit that you people think they're this is just a few bad apples who give the other people bad names bullshit this is the common everyday thing that takes place in america this is the rule not the exception it's the rule and the people who think this is an exception need to get their head screwed on straight and understand this is the rule this is a systemic infection that needs to be routed out and weeded out it's a systemic infection this is standard operating procedure and standard policy because these people think they're god who can get away with any crime because people think they're the authorities that's where we're at in america you got a criminal thug class that is there to protect the ruling class thinking that their gods and that they have authority over other people and can do any crimes that they want including up to killing people and get away with it and the american citizens re is going to sit there on their ass and not show them that they're wrong well i got news for them they think that's what's going to happen but trust me you little boys you little traumatized boys are in for a rude awakening in this country because you are totally out of touch with the sentiment that exists in this nation right now you are out of touch because you're not paying attention your brain scattered you're totally scatterbrained you're not paying attention and you don't understand where the sentiment is at because i'm telling you where the sentiment is at is very dangerous for you and you should be scared you should be scared because i'm telling you i'm the person who's been trying to prevent what's coming in america trying to prevent what is coming i don't want to see a hot armed revolution in this country but that's what you are going to be creating you are going to be the causal factor of doing that not people like me i'm trying to make the transition out of this peaceful you're the one who's trying to prevent that peaceful transition by holding on to a dead corpse called government an authority it's a dead corpse that you're trying to hold on to desperately because people everywhere are realizing it's a bullshit scam and they're waking up to how they've been scammed and you're afraid that that people are going to somehow just take violence out on you when that's not what we're trying to do at all we're trying to avert that uh all the work i've been trying to do is try trying to avert the violence you're the one who's carrying out violence and then ensuring that a hot revolution is going to be coming you're ensuring that by your very actions because i'm telling you go out to um you know things like gun shows and talk to people and the sentiment is very very bad in america people think i'm angry you haven't seen angry you don't know what is out there that people are ready to throw down at the drop of a hat let alone something is as extraordinarily important as the violation of speech rights and i'm telling you this is what the police are bringing on they're the ones that are going to be bringing that on not me i'm trying to avert that with everything that is inside of me to explain to people the difference between right and wrong to help them to understand morality which is what the key to this whole thing is hence the natural law seminar that i'm conducting about morality the laws of morality and these people are continuously breaking and violating those laws flagrantly thinking that they're going to get away with it forever and let me tell you something america may have a very very long fuse but at some point it's going to go and look out when it does because this country isn't some punk country out in asia or europe someplace that's allowed themselves to be declawed and defanged and de-venomized we're not those people we're not those people and you're going to find out how much america is not those people if you keep pushing and pushing and pushing and pushing and it's not going to be pretty it's going to be horrific and i'm trying to avert that i'm trying to give you very simple common sense advice that you are absolutely setting off a bomb in your own living room that's what you're doing you are setting you are setting off a bomb in your own presence right in front of you you're putting a bomb down and you're lighting it off that's metaphorically what you're doing to yourself because you don't understand the powder keg that is this country right now especially after all the crap with the proposed gun legislation that woke up so many millions of americans i'm telling people you better start talking more to people who are in the police and break through them somehow talk to family members who you know that their family members of police because this is what the occultists want the occultists want big bloodshed they want human sacrifice and they're they're going to get it because they're going to push people into a corner they're going to back them up against the wall and then they're going to come forward and the bloodshed is going to begin and i'm trying to avert that once again i can't say that enough my goal is to there to not have to be a hot second american revolution because i don't want to see all the deaths they're going to result in something like that i want people to understand the difference between right and wrong and when you say this to people they get offended like they don't like people think that they understand it now and you don't most people do not understand it now i want to get into that in a minute but let me continue finishing this account they attempted to give me a citation for exercising free speech without a permit which i refuse to take from them i told them repeatedly i do not understand i'm not taking that from you i don't care what you say or do i'm not accepting that the end i said you can't force me to take something against my will i'm not taking it i said do whatever you want but i'm not taking that from your hand i do not understand anything you you are saying regarding that i violated anybody's rights or done something that was quote illegal because i did not and that's what you have to tell them i do not understand i'm not standing under your authority on this issue because i did nothing wrong i'm standing in righteousness within my rights i said i refuse to take it from them because i will not admit that i did anything morally wrong or or i will not have my time wasted to quote unquote defend myself as my actions harm no other being and i was doing my duty beyond a right a duty goes beyond a right ladies and gentlemen i was doing a duty to warn people about the devaluation of their earnings and savings and in doing so exercising a natural right which is quote unquote allegedly constitutionally protected in america allegedly because lawmak quote-unquote lawmakers here think that they could just invalidate a natural right with a little federal regulation and and the sad part about it is assholes in this country actually believe that claim that you can write down we're going to restrict your free speech rights and you need to now pay the federal government permission to exercise a natural right and there are assholes in this country that would actually accept that as a valid claim and go and get a permit to speak next they'll say you'll need a permit to breathe the air to walk or to eat and people will accept it oh well the government said so so it must be true your but these people are a bunch of clowns is what they are a bunch of clowns who don't understand what a right is they told me that a warrant would be issued for my arrest if i did not take the citation from them and i still refuse to take it now since this happened we got um letters from the department of the interior which control the park service saying that all these quote-unquote citations for these quote-unquote violations have been voided and they don't consider this an issue that we will not have to pay any fines we will not have to appear in court they consider the issue closed well i don't consider it closed and these people are going to be taken in on criminal charges criminal charges will be filed for assault for theft for conspiracy because they were all in on this illegal activity together okay criminal conspiracy criminal negligence um a violation of first amendment protected natural rights violation of fourth amendment protected natural rights i'm telling you they're going to be fighting so many charges and have to hire a lawyer to fight so many criminal charges that they're going to be poor by the time this is over because that's the only way you really hurt any of these people they don't they can't comprehend the difference between right and wrong that that's meaningless trying to reach them at a soul level because they don't have one because these are destroyed souls they are destroyed people who are order followers of the state just like good little nazis just like good little german uh um secret police just like good little russian secret police just like good little um you know soviet uh pulley police that were taking people off to gulags because they were commanded to do so anybody who was a political adversary just like the ss jus they're just like the sa really the storm tai lung you know and you look back in history what happened to them when they were done being used by the nazis they got they got shanked okay in the night of the long knives you know that that's what they think of their controllers you know because they're building a superclass of controllers so now we take these people down here thanks for doing our bidding uh for the time and now we're done with you so into the meat grinder you go and this is even evidence of it at a smaller scale they know we did nothing wrong they don't want me going into their court system and waking more people up about what's going on in america so they they're throwing their employees under the bus you know that's how much they even stand up for what they're doing they basically just admitted we've done nothing wrong and given it to us in in legal writing so that's awesome because now uh the the people who did this these crimes have been totally thrown under the bus the last paragraph here is free speech is being shut down in america america is actively right before our eyes being turned into a police state such as hitler's nazi germany or stalin's soviet russia and if you do not agree with that statement after reading the above you either think that quote unquote keeping your head in the sand will make the increasing problem go away or you are a coward who will not speak up for human rights or both the rights and freedoms of your children and their children are at stake when people say they don't care because it happened to someone else and not to them they should seriously keep in mind that it could very well that it could very easily be them next or their children americans need to wake up take their eyes off the television for a few minutes and start to inform themselves about just how far into tyranny this once great nation is slipping and then do something about it do something about it knowing is not good enough what are you doing about it what action are you taking who are you speaking to i'm telling you who you need to go and speak to i'll just finish this but by speaking out to everyone around them and taking action to show so-called public servants that their immoral and criminal activities will not stand in our supposedly free land and then i put the first amendment on the second page of this document it's a pdf you can download it with this podcast or on the news section of my website in which you can see the video also post the video in the related video section with the podcast but my point here is not enough people are speaking up about the criminal injustice that is taking place in this country especially at the federal level you need to talk to police's family members and get them to try to understand that this country is on the verge of revolution which is not going to be good for anyone living in it it's not going to be good for anyone living in it they need to back down and stop following immoral orders they are acting as nazis not seas yes that's what it is nazis it is just as bad as what the nazis were doing at the very beginning of their takeover this is exactly what they were starting to do shut down all political dissent and i'll tell you what the flyer was in a moment but what i want actually let me tell you what the flyer is now and then i'll get into uh a point i want to make about morality before we go into the presentation and again this will be a long podcast today all right it's going to be you know this issue i want to touch on and then i'm going to give an extended version of the um uh new age bullshit lecture that i gave at the freer mind two conference to help clear up uh what the new age religion really is all about the the flyer was simply this it said end the fed the federal reserve bank keeping the poor poor since 1913. this is talking about the immoral monetary policy of the federal reserve system and then it said quick facts about the fed the first bullet point since the creation of the federal reserve in 1913 the dollar has lost 95 percent of its purchasing power second bullet point money creation robs people of their savings by causing the hidden tax of inflation third bullet point most of the personal income tax pays interest on the national debt directly to the federal reserve fourth bullet point the federal reserve enables congress to pay for unlimited warfare by giving them the power to borrow money without the people's consent fifth bullet point the federal reserve concentrates power into the hands of special interests and removes it from the people where it belongs and then underneath that it says get involved truthfreedomprosperity.org and cfliberty.org citizensforliberty.org cfliberty.org so those two websites and that's it that's all the flyer had on it now this is what they're saying and i've received emails from other people saying that they're trying to shut down their speech like christian preachers and things like that who want to hand prayer tracks to people which is their right to do so i may not totally agree with modern forms of christianity i consider myself someone who follows the esoteric principles of christianity of of original early christianity or what i would call simply esoteric christianity the the heart of the christian tradition but i don't believe in modern religion which is a control system just like every other form of religion you know christianity islam judaism hinduism buddhism it's all a control system there's good core principles in every one of those things if you ignore all of the astro theological trappings that they're wrapped up in and ignore all the dogma that they're wrapped up in that's all about controlling people and controlling their minds and what they're willing to look into and helping them not on making them not understand natural law is what religion's all about because it's not really thinking for yourself coming to your own conclusions and deeply and definitively recognizing the objective difference between right and wrong morality which is the core of every one of those traditions but that that's been lost that's been ignored because you're getting all lost in all the trappings that are all nonsense and all the dogmatic crap that the religion is wrapped up in and you can't see the forest for the trees you know you can't understand the simple core principles like the golden rule don't do unto others that which you would not want done unto yourself don't abuse other people's rights don't treat other people in a way that you would would wouldn't want to be treated yourself now we lose sight of that because it's all about hey don't eat this on friday of lent or uh you know uh make sure you sing this uh hymn in church you know see a priest to act as a intermediate intermediary between you and the creator to go confess your sins to or somehow you're you're unclean you're dirty yeah all of those things are about what real christianity is about you know it forget the objective difference between right and wrong forget knowing that forget really understanding the golden rule and its application in your daily life no you know go follow all the dogmatic crap you know it's all about belief not about right action i love that you know salvationism we just need to believe something and and you'll be okay yeah good luck with that a bunch of clowns think that yeah there's no role for right action in the world yeah okay whoever thinks that is a joke a joke and you're no christian you're no christian you're you're not you're an insult to what real christianity is an insult if that's what anybody thinks you're not listening to the words of the christ at all at all even a little bit who was trying to explain to people that action is the way you save yourself right action because you know the difference between right and wrong because you have conscience fully born inside of you and that is the second birth that is what being born again is and you know for all the people that want to say oh christ was you know didn't live as a man i i don't even care about any of that okay i could write books on astro theology like i tell people that that's not the point whether whether it was an actual being or not the teachings are what is valid you know and people get too lost in all that that's just another layer of distraction and not get the message to focus on it just as astro theology no it wasn't just astro theology that's what they use to dissuade people away from the real message that's what you have to understand about it there's a core truth that lies at the heart of it that's all wrapped up in astro theology that's there deliberately to try to get people not to look at the core principles and it's the same in every other religion so you know let me use this as a segue to talk about morality and just ask people this question i want to know do you think if you went back in time theoretically of course to let's say 1938 or 1939 nazi germany and you asked the average working class german citizen are you a good person are you a moral human being do you have common sense do you have real values is conscience born in you do you have truly a conscience do you really know the difference between right and wrong how many of those people do you think would have said absolutely yes indeed how dare you ask me that question i'm even offended by the fact that you've asked that question to me of course i'm a good person of course i have conscience of course i have common sense of course i know the difference between right and wrong and every one of them would have said i wholesale support this government the nazi party is good it's wholesome it's doing the right thing they're good people i support my government i guarantee you approaching 98 would have said that if you had a couple of disowners here and there they probably would have been afraid to even speak their mind but if you had two percent of the people in that time that would have said i truly do know the difference between right and wrong and this gov government is not right very very few people would have said that they all believed that they were part of something that was good and right this is how brainwashed they were and americans are no different they're no different no different whatsoever they think american citizens believe erroneously that they know the difference between right and wrong and i can assure you they do not they do not have that knowledge that knowledge is not inside of them it is not integrated within them and conscience and common sense are not truly born in them they don't even understand that conscience means common sense that common sense is having a conscience is the knowledge between right and wrong and you know what it's beyond that we're beyond nazi germany ladies and gentlemen we are in a worse position than nazi germany because most people not only will tell you that oh yeah i think i'm a good person and if you try to say you really don't understand the difference between right and wrong most of them will just tell you they don't care that they're being honest actually they're saying i don't care what rights are i don't care what wrongs are i have no interest in learning the difference between right and wrong that's where most people in america are at and that's the underlying causal reason that's the causal factor of why we're going into a police state the you wanna you wanna hear natural law in a nutshell without even going into the details it's there's one simple law as morality increases meaning the objective the knowledge of the objective difference between right and wrong and then choosing the right action over the wrong action okay so you could even word it like this as the exercise of conscience increases freedom increases as morality and the exercise of conscience wanes or decreases freedom decreases that's it you know i guess i just made the people who are going to be attending the natural law seminar pretty mad because if you know that that's all you really need to know about how natural law functions of course we're going to go much deeper in depth and they'll be like really great information shared in the seminar don't let that dissuade you but um my point here is is it's very simple it's a simple law that it that operates in creation you're incapable of breaking that law just as incapable you uh you are of breaking the law of gravity no different or magnetism you are incapable of breaking that law it's in effect for all time in all places everywhere in the universe and this is what people need to understand that this is all about morality and the difference between right and wrong and what we're drawing to ourselves the horror that we are drawing to ourselves as a result of not truly understanding morality and living it believing that we're good well what we support is violence and slavery that's what all people who believe in government are there people who think they're good but they're not they're erroneous it's that's an erroneous perception that's an erroneous perception if you believe in authority what you support is violence and slavery you let me just repeat that again if you believe that government is inherently legitimate especially this one you are a person whether you understand it or not regardless of your perception of it your perception of it doesn't matter doesn't matter perception is not reality i'm not talking about anybody's perception i'm talking about what is i'm talking about the truth i'm talking about that which is real okay your perception that you are a good person is inaccurate it is absolutely not true it is erroneous because for the very reason that you support government which is based in violence which is based in the usurpation of free will of other people and turning them into someone who must obey that is called slavery that is the claim that other people belong to other people that some people belong to other people it is a claim of ownership i don't care how much of a monarchist you are you are wrong you do not have conscience and common sense truly raised in you you can think you do all you want but you are wrong you are wrong because what you are ultimately still supporting is violence and slavery and this is what i and many other people who do understand the non-aggression principle who do understand that the illegitimacy of all forms of so-called government are trying to teach people we are trying to simply teach people moral behavior explain this is a right because it doesn't harm other people this is a wrong because it does cause harm that's it and if you look at the simple example that was demonstrated here today about our arrest unlawful illegal arrest we harmed no one no one was harmed there was not one person that could come up present and say you know what what mark and barb did today harmed me and if you think that you're an ass that that's all i can say if you think we were doing something that we had didn't have a right to do you're an ass and you need your head examined your there's something physically wrong with you you have brain damage you are broken you are mentally sick you're mentally ill if that's what you think and i want other people to hear this play this for them who think that or tell it to them just like that you need help you're sick you're ill there's you have mental psychological and spiritual damage to your being to the core of your being doesn't matter what you're like physically you could be in perfect generally perfect health you're not really in perfect physical health because if you did a scan of the brain you'd realize how totally screwed up the brain actually is okay so when people say oh i'm in good health and they don't understand the principles of freedom they don't understand right from wrong they're not really in good health because if you looked at the actual structure of the brain and how the brain is electrochemically firing you'd realize something is horrifically broken inside the human brain and that happens by chronic brain hemispherical imbalance in the brain we're going to get to that in the presentation today but my point here is people think that they're good and they're not good people my family is a prime example of this you ask my family members are you good people and they'll say oh yeah i'm a good person i'm moral i know the difference between right and wrong and they're full of shit they're full of shit they're not good people they're bad people they are bad human beings that's the definition of a bad person is someone who doesn't really truly know the difference between right and wrong that's what makes a person a bad person that's what makes them apt to do the work of evil and to keep supporting the work of evil because they're so unknowledgeable they're so ignorant they're they're uninformed they're not paying attention to what is real and what is true they have no obligation to what is true in their life they don't care about what's true all they give a shit about is themselves thinking that somehow that that's going to lead to prosperity when in fact that's the path directly in to the cage that you're going to live in forever until people get their head out from up their ass and realize i can't continue to only care about me i have to care about what's true i have to care about what's right i have to care about what's really taking place in the world that is going against truth and goodness and morality and rights and then get involved and share that and speak it to people the reason this police state keeps coming on is because again there's not enough people speaking that the chorus of voices needs to be so loud and so omnipresent that it is completely unavoidable everywhere you walk that's what the great work is ladies and gentlemen and people are loathe to do it because they're worried about what my family member is going to say about me what's this guy going to say at me what's this guy at the bar going to say what's the people i hang out and go to the ball game with going to say what is any of that gonna matter when you are going to be living in a prison and in fact you already are get out of that fear by whatever means you have to do to take yourself up out of that level of fear do it just start speaking the fear will leave automatically organically once you start actually speaking and i'm telling you who you have to reach you have to reach the police you have to reach them so they begin to understand what they're not the good guys you think you're the good guys you've been led to believe you're the good guys and you're not the good guys look out look through all human history why do you think they even call it a police state it is called a police state because the police are the people who implement the totalitarianism it isn't called a politician state it isn't called a judge state it isn't called a lawyer state it isn't called a bank or state it's called a police state for a reason they're the people who actually do it who actually implement it and all the military who's who's listening who may happen to be listening or if you have people who are in the military they need to understand they're going to need to step up and come and join the side of right instead of thinking that you're all about following orders well all the people you say you have an allegiance to that are your brothers in the military their rights are getting usurped they're they're they're people that are having their rights put down just like you and your family and you think you're doing something good by going and fighting a war ten thousand miles away the war is here it's right here in america because this country has been taken from the inside it's been taken from the inside and people who are order followers and that's all they care about i'll follow this order for a paycheck you don't even understand that this country's been taken from the inside you're not seeing the picture some people in the military are waking up and realize that they've been used and abused like the dogs that their owners call them and thrown away here we give you gave you a set of dog tags because we consider you a dog and you don't even understand the symbolism you where where people are wearing that as a badge of honor thinking that it's a good thing they have shirts and maybe i'll post the shirts that are coming out with military people depicted as dogs on them and they buy them like it's something to be proud of you are being directly insulted to your face directly insulted to your face and you say you fought for the freedom of this country bullshit there is no freedom in this country you fought for nothing you fought for the banker and politician who wants to wage war on another country to get their resources let's be totally honest that's what that's what the military's fighting for you want to fight for a just cause fight here fight here for natural human rights that are being done away with in this country open up a book for once in your life and start reading about police states through history and understand that's exactly what is already taking place here people got to wake up fast there's not that we're out of time forget forget time left there's no time left we're out of time when you see things like this going on i'm telling you right now hauling off people to secret prisons is right around the corner it's already really being done that's what guantanamo is except the word got out about it and for every guantanamo i guarantee there's 10 other secret prisons already operating at least the military have to get out of this notion in their head and people have to help them see it you're not the good guy either you're waging imperialism for the mega super rich elite class in this country you're not fighting for anything that's noble if you were fighting for something that's noble you won't even be going into the military you'd be getting involved in the fight for freedom justice and human rights right here in america so we can make this country a beacon of freedom for the rest of the world and set a shining example of what their people should do and the founders told us over and over and over and over and over and over and over again that morality was the key that once morality left the people their freedom would shortly follow and that's what we're seeing in america this is why they want to hide the knowledge of natural law they don't want people understanding natural law this is the occulted wisdom that the dark occultists are trying to hide forever from people well they can't they try to hide it by telling people there's nothing to that you shouldn't look into the occult it's all bad it's all evil there's nothing to it and by putting continuous frivolous nonsense before our eyes in the in the mainstream media issues that have nothing to do with what's really going on and just endless entertainment and just frivolous trivia you keep feeding people garbage just to keep them from that knowledge they don't want you to understand the objective difference between right and wrong once you do that you're not going to easily lay down to their control you're going to understand authority is an illusion and that they have no rights to do what they're doing and they're totally illegitimate they're just a gang of criminal thugs that never had any legitimacy and that's what they don't want people waking up to because anybody who understands natural law knows that they don't think they know it they do know it and hence i call it the most occulted knowledge so i know not that many people will hear this between now and the eighth but if you do sign up for the seminar you know and i'm not just telling you to do that you know because i want more people signing up i want serious students let me make that real clear i want people who have a dedication to this information and want to take it deeply into themselves and understand it at a deep level so that they can be a purveyor of that information i'm trying to build other teachers i don't want people who just understand and say hey oh i get it okay thanks i'm good no you're not good until you can understand it so deeply that you can teach it to someone else you're not good you haven't gone all the way so i think that's all i'm going to say on this whole issue of free speech being destroyed in america i think those who have eyes to see and ears here are going to fully get it from this recounting and the other ones that i've already done on the website and by the way i've done many interviews since this happened i've been very busy doing interviews i was on the bob i was on freighter x's show the middle chamber uh all of these are in the news section as well uh i was on the bob tuscan show i was on guy next door speaks with ivan from phoenix i was on down the rabbit hole with popeye i've been on syncretism with santos bonacci uh david whitehead did a great job co-hosting i mean i'm guest hosting for santos while he was on vacation i was on breaking all the rules with chief kessler uh a constitutional sheriff here in in pennsylvania who has started a uh constitutional militia in the state um uh he was also uh on he was at a conference so a bob gardner of the watchmen of america uh co-hosted on that show all of these shows are on my um news section and most of them are also listed still in the latest news um widget on the side of on the left hand column at what what on earth is happening dot com so definitely go and check them out uh i you know recounted this story in many of them as well and that's what like i said that's why i'm almost tired of talking about this but i felt that it definitely was uh necessary to put this down officially in the what on earth is happening podcast as well so with that having been said uh let's move on to the the main course so to speak the presentation that i gave at the freer mind 2 conference i'm going to give it here extended in depth with slides and i hope everyone enjoys it and really understands that the new age movement is something that works hand in hand with the control system it is in fact simply another religion and you know i get uh as a lead into this i just get very very i just have to laugh hysterically you know when people say i'm a new ager i'm i'm propagating new age thought nothing could be farther from the truth i've attacked a new age movement i think on day one on this podcast and radio show um i've never been into the new age movement ever okay i recognized quite early that it was a deception because it wasn't telling people about the control that is going on in the world and then propagating this ridiculous notion that if you understand that pay attention to what's going on in the world you're only going to get more control which is nonsense this is to dissuade people from speaking to other people about what's really going on and all the new agers who believe this nonsense version of the law of attraction are doing everybody a total disservice in this world so let me just start leading into this presentation with that statement and if anybody thinks that i am a new ager uh again i'll just go i'll just say there's something wrong with your brain because you're not paying attention or listening to a word i've said over 143 podcasts or in any of my videos and if that's what you think you're a very very dumb person because i've attacked the new age movement relentlessly actually and there's a reason for that it's because this is part of the polarization dialectic and that's what i'm going to get into in this presentation so let's let's go let's start okay this was originally given on april 27 2013 saturday april 27th at the free your mind 2 conference in philadelphia all the videos are still being worked on uh our video editor chris is doing a great job with all that material and we will be releasing the videos shortly please be patient we want to do a good job on it um so they will be forthcoming soon at what on at um i'm sorry um freermindconference.com the conference's website so the title of this presentation was new age bullshit and the suppression of the sacred masculine new age bullshit and the suppression of the sacred masculine freedom mat that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Mark Pascoe [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com today is Saturday August 31st 2013 we have a great show lined up for you here today I'm going to be presenting today the homework results for the natural law seminar the very first natural law seminar that was hosted here in Philadelphia from June 22nd 2013 to July 27 2013 and I want to let everyone know that that seminar was a huge success the students were great I think a lot of value was taken from the seminar by all who attended and there will be future ones planned I don't have any information on that currently but continue to listen to this podcast and to check the what on earth is happening website for announcements on future natural law seminars coming up here in the city of Philadelphia and possibly in the form of online webinars so some other quick announcements before we get into the subject matter for today the videos for the free your mind to conference are still actively being worked on Chris our great video editor is doing a great job and the preliminary designs that he's showed me look awesome people are really gonna be happy with the results it's a lot of videos to go through and process so please be patient they're gonna be ready and probably about another month I don't want to make any absolute promises but within the next couple months they will be released to the public I spoke on natural law at the grenade Friends Meeting House in guenon Pennsylvania on August 4th 2013 and that was a great presentation I really went into depth on natural law without making it the length of like a seminar but it did run a little over four hours that lecture and that was videotaped so we have that being worked on by video editor Tim Smith from sign signs of the time media and he is going to be releasing that fairly shortly hopefully within the next couple of weeks we'll see how that goes but that will be coming out and I will have a link to that in my videos section as well it'll be the first extended video on natural law that I've actually you know recorded have recorded for the water on earth is happening website so I'm really excited about that and I think that will really help a lot of people to understand natural law in a bigger way with with a lot of visuals so look for that soon on what on earth is happening calm and thanks also to Gary for hooking up that lecture at the Gwynedd Friends Meeting House really appreciated also thanks to Patrick Mangan for editing out the commercials on the what on earth is happening podcasts from Oracle broadcasting and all the shows on Oracle that I did that are still on my podcast section are now commercial free the commercials have actually been removed from those the audio editing work was done by Patrick Mannion so thanks so much for doing that work really appreciated I was I did a bunch of interviews in the time that I have not been podcasting because I took off the entire two months basically in June and July of not the entire two months but the second half of June and all of July because I was working on the natural law seminar course material and I wanted to dedicate 100% of my time to that endeavor so there were no have been no podcast since earlier on in June when I did the podcast the extended podcast on the presentation that I gave at the freer mine to conference New Age and the suppression of the sacred masculine that video is now really kind of going I don't want to say viral but it's making the rounds in the alternative news community and the truth community as we speak and I think a lot of people are gaining a lot of value from that podcast as well thanks so much to the gentleman who made that into a video slide presentation and posted it on YouTube so the interviews that I've done since I haven't been podcasting over the last couple months are all on my news section of my website and you can check those out I was interviewed on crystal kids radio with nataliemarie On June 22nd I was interviewed on Gnostic warrior radio on July 30th I was back on a cult science radio with Curtis Davis on August 7th I was interviewed by Richard Grove on his video podcast series history so it doesn't repeat on August 18th and I was interviewed recently on birth of a new earth with Jenice barceló on August 22nd so definitely check out all of that material in the what on earth is happening news section I will be speaking at the global breakthrough energy movement conference the breakthrough energy movement conference in Boulder Colorado on October 10th the conference runs for three days October 10th 11th and 12th 2013 at the University of Colorado in Boulder so thanks to Jerome for hooking up my presentation at the breakthrough energy movement conference really excited to be part of this it's going to be a huge event with tons of speakers I mean the speaker line-up is incredible I'll just briefly go down the list of speakers here Regina Meredith Jason verbally Garrett Modell Catherine Austen fits more a king foster gamble sterling Allen Joel garbin Russell Anderson Tom Valon David kneebauer or nide our Ruby carat James Martinez Mitchell Robin Fernando Vasa all Dahlstrom dan winter Jason Mott matazo Steven Ross Sasha stone Michael tell injure David Martin mark dan dan see Jamie John / Daniel Nunez Erik Nunez myself Marc passio Michael River song Mike up stone Josh Tom's mark brash a Randy Powell mark LeClair Russ Gries James Schmidt Mike Waters and Richard Dolan so this is a who's who of the alternative energy community and consciousness movement and really excited to be part of this conference coming up in Boulder I'm speaking on Thursday evening October 10th and again the conference runs from Thursday to Saturday October 10th through 12th 2013 you can go right to the front page of what on earth is happening calm and click the banner on the front page for the breakthrough energy movement and go to that page read all about the conference and there is also a place that you can order tickets right from there so do check out the their website at global de m calm that's global be em4 breakthrough energy movement calm I will also be speaking at the Omni Hotel in New Haven Connecticut this is going to be taking place Saturday October 19th 2013 this is sponsored by pattern recognition time and thank you to art and Chris Capozzi for setting all of this up and this is going to be taking place again Saturday October 30 October 19 2013 at the Omni Hotel that's at 155 Temple Street New Haven Connecticut the doors will open at 9 a.m. advance ticket sales are

$20 donation and that you could send a check or money order to Chris Capozzi the address is on the flyer which will be posted with this podcast and the at the door tickets will only be five dollars more so it'll be $25 cash donation at the door the topic will be natural law it will be an all-day seminar a one-day seminar on natural law all day it's going to be like you know a david icke style lecture where i'm going in-depth into the topic of natural law and covering everything about it and i'm condensing that material into one day of information and hopefully we'll have a nice crowd out there that really wants to delve deep into this material understand it and hopefully they will bring other people who need to see and hear this information that's the key thing that we want to see happen here we want to see people bringing other people out to and say hey this is the the why that underlies everything that's going on that you see going on in the world here's what we can do about it this is the the causal factors if we want to change what's happening in the manifested reality we have to change what's going on in the things that are causing it that and those factors lie in the human mind and the human psyche and the human heart and we need to understand and and recognize those factors if we're going to change what's happening in the external domain so everybody who's in that area please definitely get together with friends and family members and you know tell them this is information that you need to hear that you need to see that you need to be present for let's attend it together and make a day of so that's coming up October 19th in New Haven Connecticut all right so those are all the event announcements and let's move to our subject material for today which is the homework results from the first natural law seminar here in Philadelphia I'll be posting all the slides with the podcast and I will try to do my best to be accurate in giving the appropriate slide number for the slide that I am talking about so this is going to be in four sections there were four homework assignments that had results that were tabulated there was a couple other homework assignments that were essay related or ongoing work with others that were related to ongoing work with other people so they didn't have actual results that were tabulated and analyzed in the way that these other four weeks were so while the seminar itself was six weeks that this is why there are only four sections of homework results with actual pie charts and charts and graphics and things like that so let's look at the homework results for week one of the natural law seminar this assignment was given on week one it was turned in on week two and then these results were presented on week three to the class slide number one is just the title slide for the homework results and you could see that the background pattern was on an alchemical like wood cut or motif of the sacred temple the esoteric temple that exists within humanity which is the combination of the different aspects of human consciousness namely the sacred masculine and the Sacred Feminine components of consciousness symbolized by the two pillars symbolism which we've covered extensively here in former Editions episodes of what on earth is happening so that's the title slide and that's just a brief explanation for why I chose that background image for the natural law seminar okay so what was the first homework assignment the first homework assignment I'm going to read to you right now and this is the results that were actually going to analyze the first class on the natural law seminar dealt with human desires and values it dealt with objective truth versus the ideology of salep season it dealt with freewill and personal responsibility it dealt with the worldview schism or the different types of worldviews that are held by people like randomly randomness and determinism it dealt with the concepts of knowledge versus belief holding a belief system versus actually having real knowledge direct first-hand knowledge of something and it dealt with human the concept of human nature as it is thought about by most people versus conditions that they live in which has often been called nurturing conditions or simply nurture so nature versus nurture was also a theme during week number one the directions for this homework assignment were as follows the students were to choose five people each and ask them the following questions that are given in the homework assignment they were supposed to choose someone other than their own spouse or significant other or their own children but anyone else was fair game in other words I was trying to limit it away from people who actually live in their own homes as a spouse or children because their thinking would probably be much more influenced by the person themself than people who they don't live with although I allowed other family members as long as they don't really you know directly live with them in the same immediate household the further instructions were to ant ask them these questions ask them to answer these questions the five people that you chose as honestly as possible and to tell them that their answers would be recorded completely anonymously so no one would know their names and you know not to feel free to give completely honest answers they were to present the questions to them in as clear audible and steady of voice as possible using appropriate emphasis who are necessary to ask the questions and to make every effort not to influence their answers in any way to try to you know influence them toward one way or another just to get their honest answers and record them anonymously their answers were to be recorded completely anonymously on the provided answer sheets and then to be turned in in next week's class so let's get started with the first round of of results the first question was that they were to ask people is what are the three things that you desire most in life and the the results came back that the number one response was happiness or personal satisfaction some people also said comfort and peace of mind for oneself so their own happiness their own satisfaction their own comfort that was the number one response of what people want okay so I'll say this once again the number one thing that most people want is for themselves to be happy satisfied and comfortable that's the number one response the second number-one response was the second response given was success personal success personal wealth personal prosperity in other words they wanted their career to be successful and they want money flowing in that's the number two response almost as popular as the first one not quite the first had twenty point six one percent of the total responses given for this question the second and again this is slide number two for week one results the the second result was success wealth prosperity career money totaling 16.0 3% of the total responses to this question number three was health personal health their own health okay so in the top three for the responses to the question what are the three things you desire most in life my own happiness and satisfaction my own success and prosperity was second and my own health was third the health comprised thirteen point seven four percent of the total responses to this question fourth was love and personal relationships in my life so for the individual the relationships with other people taking place in their life that's what they want okay so that was twelve point two one percent of the total responses we only get to a dynamic that doesn't really involve the individual the the self in the number five most popular result which was peace meaning I guess peace in the community in the society in the world okay so that was six point one percent but you could see how low the percentage already is in who responded with something that was outside of themselves not directly related to their own particular situation or life the next response response number six was my family's success or my family's health comprising five point three four percent the seventh result was that they wanted a family they wanted to start a family or have children that was four point five eight percent another dynamic so we we there we went back to things related to service to the self or directly related to the individual then we go back to a non self serving response which is freedom now that could mean their own freedom too but in general I think they mean freedom for you know just freedom in the world in general that was two point two nine percent so just over two percent wanted freedom at all these are total responses of all the responses that everyone said only three responses were for freedom totaling two point two nine percent of all responses physical things and possessions like a house a car etc were as popular as freedom while totaling two point two nine percent moving to slide number three in this section it's a continuation with the lower results that only had a couple of responses food power safety or security service to others and sex all had two responses each totaling one point five three percent each for those particular responses then we had varied responses each had one response each and totaling 0.76 percent 0.76 percent each children with morals that was an interesting response connection to nature education equality ethical living friendship honesty kindness longevity loyalty service to God and spreading happiness to others were all had one response each again totaling 0.76 percent each so moving on to slide number four this is a pie chart breaking down the responses that either contained the dynamic of service to self versus the dynamic of service to others so was the response either service to self or service related and when you total all of those results and make a chart or a pie chart graphic like this you see that 84% of the total responses to this first question what do you desire most in your life what do you want in life eighty-four percent of people give a response related to a selfish motive the service to self they only want something that is related to something directly in their life directly affecting them in their in their personal situation 84% only 16% of responses dealt with service to others in any way as in peace freedom equality justice etc anything like that only comprised about 16% of responses so an overwhelming imbalance toward service to self versus service to others I would suggest that this is again forms part of the why that human beings are in the situation that they are in let's move on to the next slide slide number five what are the three things the quite the question number two now what are the three things you value the most in life through the three things you value the most in life not that you desire but what do you value these comprise your personal value system okay the number one response overwhelmingly was family and again I don't think that that's a necessarily bad result to say that I value my family the actual people around me in my life however this familial identification of these are the people who I identify with is still what I would call something that is not going to help to get done what we need to get done it's not morong not saying these people are not valuable to people I'm not saying that you shouldn't value your family members or you shouldn't value those who are very close to you in your life what I'm saying is that family isn't a it's not a quality that you value when you think when you really think of values you're looking at a quality that is present in your life now again we're saying it could be anything we're not saying that you have to choose a value like faith or knowledge or truth or something like that we didn't say you had to pick what is considered a conceptual value that you could say anything so if money is the thing that you value most in life be honest and say money if it's your jewelry or your clothes or whatever the kind of car you drive people were free to say anything here I'm just pointing out that this is what people identify with the things that people find the most valuable and say that they think are the most valuable are the things that they identify with in life so it's interesting to see whether we're getting to things that could and should be considered real values versus things that are simply things that people identify with I just wanted to make that clarification before we continue with the responses number one response family with over 25 percent of the total responses or a full quarter of the people who of the responses to this question were family 25.2% health was the next thing and meaning their own personal health 11.81 percent their own family I'm sorry their own friends or friendship in general was seven point eight seven percent of the total responses their own personal relationships with others or love in other words I would say that this is probably related to romantic love interest in their life five point five one percent we still haven't really hit what I would consider a real value yet okay success wealth prosperity career money again their own personal success their own personal prosperity money in general was was fifth with four point seven two percent their own happiness satisfaction and comfort three point nine four percent that was next I would say we start to hit real values at this point in the chart which is a it's very interesting the things that people desire most in life I would say we started hitting real values o peace we hit at about six percent and then others came in at about two percent we see the same dynamic in general here with education faith freedom knowledge all comprising two point three six percent and we have life itself two point three six percent resilience an interesting response of courage or resilience two point three six percent respect with the same two point three six percent truth coming down at the same level about a little over two percent it was in the results I was pretty shocked to even see the three people listed truth when responding to this question what are the three things you value most in life okay and beauty was next Beauty courage justice security spirituality or religion all came in at about one point five seven percent and then varied responses once again with only one response each comprising about point seven nine percent 0.79% of responses rounding out the list were compassion cultural identity discernment equality food generosity goodness home humility individualism kindness laughter loyalty nature peace reliability service to others and work ethic when I made a pie chart with all of these responses what I was looking for is to try to find out again relating this to the natural law seminar and helping the people to understand these results and how the mindset that people have is not conducive to generating freedom it's not conducive to becoming a truly free people that are not enslaved I looked at all of the responses that have something to do with directly have to do with truly generating a world of freedom holding these values in place for within oneself have to do with making a world that is operating under natural law in a harmonious way in other words okay and those dynamics or values are as follows they are truth knowledge freedom courage justice wisdom etc okay we're talking about actual real value systems okay things that again if people hold them to be truly valuable in their minds and in their hearts and then acted upon those values the world would be free and the people of the earth would be free when you put all of those together and this is slide number seven in section one in homework result one you see that only about ten percent approximately ten percent of responses had to do with values that are capable of generating a world of freedom and again those values were truth knowledge freedom courage and justice not one person on the whole thing actually used the word wisdom to describe something that they want that they valued they the wisdom was not on the chart okay again very telling that people don't value wisdom or philosophy filos the love of wisdom philosophy Sophos wisdom in Greek and felis sophist filos meaning love Sophos meaning wisdom they don't value philosophy they don't value wisdom it wasn't one of the responses I was even shocked to see that truth made it on to the chart with a few responses totaling 2% of the total of what people value most in life and with responses like that with truth coming in that low we can't possibly be free it's not it's not possible knowledge 2.3 percent we're going to see so much cognitive dissonance and mental schism in later results let's move on to the next slide the third question do you think that the following set of statements considered as a whole is true or false and here's what we asked the okay so do you think this is true in general this statement considered as a whole these statements or is it false truth is singular there is no such thing as my truth his truth or her truth there is only the truth there is only one way that things actually are which exists separately and independently from human perception so in other words all human beings can do is align their perception to that truth to what is is there a way that things are that which is and it's human beings job to align their perception to that which is such that they can understand it in a clear 'we recognize it and understand it so what we're really asking here is is truth objective or is it based upon perception meaning is it subjective so we're talking about here general objective knowledge versus subjective opinion which thing is true is everything just a matter of opinion and there is no actually no truth or and it's all based on perception which is called solid sysm okay we're really trying to find out here how many people are solipsistic whether they're outright solid sister or not how many people believe that truth can be known all right or that it even exists at all objectively that it exists objectively okay so the people that said yes truth is singular and it exists objectively independently from human perception was forty two point five five percent of the responses more people think the truth is based on human perception that it does not exist independently fifty seven point four five percent once again a very telling Figg figures here very telling figures moving the slide nine I made a pie chart on this this is what we were really asking though the the question up here is worded in the way that what we're really asking okay we were asking them is truth singular meaning that it is objective or is it different for everyone based upon human perception meaning that it is subjective and look at the breakdown forty two point five five percent versus fifty seven point four five percent that said it was objective this doesn't bode well folks I mean again if truth is totally subjective and is a matter of opinion we can get to make up what's right and wrong that's why we're in this situation that were in people don't think that there's actually a way that things are and it's their obligation to discover the way things actually are by aligning their perception to truth which is objective perception yes it is a it is subjective but what is is objective and it's it's our work to align our perception to the objective truth most people don't see it that way which is why we're in the prison that we're in when you have closer to 60% six out of ten thinking truth is something we get to make up versus about four out of ten who say no truth is something we have to observe and align our perceptions to so that we can understand it the people that actually believe truth is objective are in the minority and that's why we're in a prison as a species one of the many reasons the next slide slide number 10 question number four choose the file choose the set of statements from the following set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking now again you don't have to agree with every single thing written in these two sets of statements so yet is this a dialectic yes it is deliberately constructed to be a dialectic to see in general where people's mindset is at so between these two responses what we're asking them to pick is which response most closely that's why it's bolded underlined and italicized most closely resembles the way you think that's the question here's the two set of statements a the truth about events circumstances situations or happenings in the world can be known reality is not based upon perceptions or opinions reality is quote the way things actually are unquote reality is based upon truth which is objective and knowable that truth is knowable again this deals with is the person solipsistic or they not solipsistic okay that's set of statements a set of statements be the truth about events circumstances situations or happenings in the world cannot really be known perception is reality reality like perception is relative there is really no such thing as quote definitive truth unquote or quote the way things actually are unquote there is no such thing as that reality is subjective and therefore ultimately unknowable a truth cannot really be known okay now the results the people who believe that truth is knowable comprised almost sixty percent fifty nine point five seven percent said a truth is essentially objective and knowable be that truth is really unknowable cannot really be known comprised forty percent forty point four three percent of the responses breaking this down onto a pie chart in slide number eleven the question really boiled down to can truth be known or is it unknowable about says it was about a 60/40 split with sixty percent saying truth is knowable but really let this sink in folks four out of ten human beings and again you could say oh these aren't this isn't representative of the total mass of humanity you only had a small cross-section asked yes that's true however my extrapolation here or best guesstimate if you will would be if you did ask these questions to an extended audience that it was global you would probably come up with similar results to these results because the results are fairly randomized and they weren't they didn't focus on any kind of a particular target audience however I would say that the results are probably very slightly skewed toward the positive because you have to remember the people that are actually asking these questions are very conscious individuals that want to learn more about natural law and attend a seminar like this so they themselves are ready individuals they're open to receiving truth and they are thinking about these things and they're they're conscious they're they're awake or awakening and I would suggest that that very dynamic skews the results toward the positive because they're probably reaching out to some people that they know and by definition since they know them they have influenced them in some ways in their life so I wouldn't say that this constitutes a totally random series of responses because again we're dealing with largely conscious individuals that are asking the questions okay and and collecting the the data by definition right there you have I would say results that are going to be slightly skewed toward the positive so I would probably say that this dynamic is worse in the world at large and probably more than 40 people are solipsistic and believe that truth cannot be known but it's about a 60/40 split which to me is incredibly disturbing already and it should be incredibly disturbing to anyone looking at these results that a full 40 percent of people believe that it is impossible to know anything it is impossible to know truth essentially knowledge cannot actually be acquired you can only have an opinion on something imagine that imagine it's it's amazing amazing moving on to the next slide slide number twelve in Section one homework result one the next question question number five was on a scale of one to ten with one being the least and ten being the most how important is the role of truth and knowledge in your life so we just had a bunch of people in the previous question say that truth is subjective and truth is unknowable and now we're asking them well how important do you think truth is and I think where most people are interpreting this is how important do you think being told the truth to you or being live versus being lied to to you is that you are receiving something that is true okay forty six point eight one percent of all total responses were at ten for this result ten out of ten the next putt most popular response was eight totaling twenty five point five three the next was nine totaling nineteen point one five then seven with four point two six and six with four point two six no one responded five or below the average if you average all of these out was nine out of ten that's how important truth is truth and knowledge are two people and personally I in general think that this is a bunch of BS and call on it okay because the previous two responses show the mental schism you had sixty percent of people saying truth was relative and forty percent saying it was unknowable and now you have a you know overwhelming percentage saying that it's actually important to them in their life I don't believe that for an instant I don't believe they care about truth at all first of all in the responses that they about what they valued in life truth only rated two percent of total responses so how could anybody say that it's truly valuable to them after this was their response in the previous questions and again that's why I add we asked the question later on you could see how the questioning is constructed to get more honest answers okay so nine out of ten people say it's very important to them in their life the pie chart for this is on I'm sorry nine out of ten was the average response about how important it was to them in their life which again I don't really believe the pie chart for that was on slide number thirteen for this section how important is the role of truth and knowledge in your life and there's the breakdown of responses let's move to the next question slide number fourteen question number six choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a human beings have free will human beings have the ability to choose which actions they will or will not take human behavior is not predetermined human behavior is ultimately based upon freewill choice which is each individual's personal responsibility that set of statements a set of statements be human beings do not have free will human beings do not have the ability to choose which actions they will or will not take human behavior is predetermined the behavior of human beings is ultimately bound by conditions and factors which are beyond their control so therefore each individual cannot truly be held personally responsible for everything they do so this free will exist and our people responsible for their own behavior or does free will not exist and people are just like programmed and it's all predetermined and they're not responsible for what they do the responses eighty seven point two three percent of people said a human beings have free will and are responsible for their behavior ultimately twelve point seven seven percent said no we are pre-programmed every behavior is predetermined and we're not responsible for what we do the breakdown of this in a pie chart is given on slide number fifteen do human beings have free well over 87% saying yes and just under 13% saying no and I think that's an encouraging response I do think people are being honest that they do think people have free will because I think inherently people know that that's true we do have free will we do have the ability to choose which actions we will or will not take in the end ultimately everything else is a cop-out by people who just don't want the moral responsibility to choose right action over wrong action they want to try to advocate that responsibility in their life next slide slide number 16 question number 7 again choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking everything in a everything in life is chaotic and it's happening at random life in general was a cosmic accident and there does not seem to be any grand purpose or a meaningful reason for human existence or any existence really for that matter there's no purpose for anything be everything in life is preordained God is making everything happen and God knows exactly how it is all going to play out free will is an illusion because God is in total control of everything at all times and places see both randomness and structure exists in the universe simultaneously the Creator does not control every event within the creation we have been gifted with free will to choose our behaviors but when we act there are consequences to our actions which ultimately create the reality that we experience the people who said a everything is chaotic and happening at random comprised 8.51 percent of responses the people who said be everything in life is preordained and God controls at all 10.6 4 percent of total responses and see both randomness and and structure exist simultaneously so what we were getting at is are there such a thing as consequences to our behaviors yet there is also free will to choose our behaviors so there's that structure and randomness existing simultaneously and questions see 80.8 5% responded with see the overwhelming majority looking at this breakdown on a pie chart in slide number 17 is your worldview one of randomness determinism or a mixture of both that's essentially what we were asking there and you see the breakdown there about 10% each of approximately 20% either falling on the side of randomness which is a very left brain worldview or determinism which is a very right brain worldview with about 80% saying no they think it's a mixture of both and I think that this question is skewed by the way I worded it okay if we just gave him a chance between randomness and determinism they probably would have picked one or the other and not said it's something else if I didn't really elaborate on what that third position could be but having done that eight out of ten people chose that third position which i think is good because I think they inherently know that that's true and it resonates with them and that's why they answered that in the moment because I do think people do think we do have free will and I do think somewhere down the line inherently somewhere inside of them they instinctively know that there's such a thing as natural law operating and that there are consequences to our behavior even if they don't occur in the physical domain brought about by other human beings there are still consequences so I look at this one as a pretty positive result albeit skewed by the way I asked the question next slide number 18 question number 8 choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking beliefs a beliefs and opinions are very important when it comes to determining what is true or false beliefs and opinions also matter a great deal when it comes to determining what is happening in our world things can only really affect me if I believe they are real if I don't believe in something it can't really affect me in any way or have any negative impact upon my life my beliefs and opinions ultimately determine what I think is real or not set of statements B when it comes to what is true or false beliefs and opinions are pretty much meaningless truth can be recognized and discovered and it exists independently of human perceptions opinions or beliefs whether or not something in the world can affect my life does not depend upon my belief in it my beliefs and opinions do not determining what is actually happening or whether something is real or not the responses 34.0 four percent of people believe that beliefs and opinions are very important when it comes to determining what is true or not thirty-four percent think that their own beliefs have to do with whether or not something is true the people who said be formed 65 point nine six percent almost sixty six percent this is broken down in a pie chart on slide number nineteen the question that we were really asking here worded differently is are your personal beliefs important when it comes to determining truth in other words are you the arbiter of truth and a full third of people believe that they are the arbiter of truth thirty-four percent of people choosing saying yes my beliefs ultimately determine whether something is real or not now people will say well hey it's good that more people are you know saying no that's not true almost two thirds but think about how disturbing this is one in three people believe that they get to make up what's true or not based on their belief system at any given time think about that one out of three people believe they can get to make up what's true based upon their belief system at any given time that's what we're really seeing here in this result if that doesn't disturb you I don't know what will next slide slide number 20 question number nine when encountering information that conflicts with something you currently believe to be true which statement below most closely describes your approach to that information a so what we're asking is you encounter information that's uncomfortable because it conflicts with your pre-existing belief how do you handle that a I usually think that information like that can't possibly be true so more likely than not I will not look into it for myself to see if there is anything to it and B or B I will usually check to find out if the information has merit or not after I look into it for myself if I determine it was true even if it conflicted with what I previously thought I will adjust my own views accordingly now this is one of the most skewed responses that we got overwhelmingly imbalanced response toward one answer or another the people who said hey they will not look at any uncomfortable information even if it when it conflicts with their pre-existing beliefs only formed about two percent two point one three percent as a matter of fact only one admitted that would admit that giving response be that if they encounter information that's uncomfortable they'll look into it for themselves they'll determine whether it's true or not and then they will adjust their own perceptions their own views accordingly they will do the diligent research even in the face of the total discomfort that it causes them to look at their own existing belief system and say wow I was wrong about that and then they will admit that they were wrong and they will adjust their views accordingly ninety-eight percent of human beings said yes I will do that and do you know what what just let's look at this for a moment folks let's look at this being one of the most completely imbalanced responses that we got overwhelmingly people are convinced in their own mind that they will look at something that conflicts with their pre-existing belief ninety seven point eight seven percent so this is broken down in the pie chart on slide number twenty-one when encountering uncomfortable information that conflicts with something you currently believe do you dismiss it or do you look into it for yourself and there's the pie chart breakdown slide number twenty-one do you know what this represents ultimately this represents a whole lot of that's what it represents all I have to say is that these people are doing nothing but lying to themselves and I'm gonna prove it we're going to prove this not to not just gonna make a ad hominem attack and speculate we prove this in the next homework assignment which is coming up okay and show that the dynamic is actually almost entirely reversed sadly but for now that's all say about that resultant we'll revisit it a little bit later next slide slide number 23 question number 10 choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a human nature is fundamentally bad people are born with many flaws and they generally stay that way throughout their lives it is pretty much impossible to change human beings nature that's just how it is be human nature is fundamentally good people come into the world in an unplugged condition people can make mistakes in their lives but deep down inside human beings are just good people by their nature see human nature is neither good nor bad the human condition can be influenced toward either the positive or negative based upon the quality of surroundings and life interactions in which human beings exist while an individual may influence positive change in their own condition if they work to improve themselves conditions are still more fundamental to the ways most human beings behave than any inherent qualities or characteristics that they may possess so we ask people which one of those sets of statements they most closely think like 4.25% said a that human nature is fundamentally bad and can't be changed twenty one point two eight percent said human nature is fundamentally good people are under and seventy four point four seven percent almost three out of four people said human nature is neither good nor bad the human condition is influenced based on surroundings life situations etc knowledge or lack of knowledge etc now while yes I agree with that result that three out of four people said that the way people behave is influenced by conditions okay that that's ultimately our nature that we are influenceable and programmable I agree with that what I do highly suggest is that this is another very skewed result based on how I asked the question how the question was worded more people will go with that third response instead of the first two dialectical responses when given a choice to take the third option even though that third option yes I do feel that it is true so again this is a good result but I think a skewed result nonetheless the pie chart is on slide number 24 is human nature good bad or simply influenced by the conditions in which the human being lives so is is it actually about nature or is it actually about nurture and three out of four people are saying it's about nurture which again I believe is true let's go to slide number twenty five question number 11 what is the first single word that comes to your mind when you hear the word occult occult and as predicted the number one response was evil or bad with comprising twenty one point two eight percent of the total responses evil bad darkness danger or negativity the next most popular response very interestingly and surprisingly was I have no idea what that word means I don't know what the word means I've never heard the word before now think about that for a minute seventeen percent of people who were asked what the word occult meant said they've never heard of the word an additional seventeen percent said that they feel that it is simply associated with a particular form of occult practice such as magic witchcraft voodoo or devil worship so those responses totalled seventeen percent as well the fourth most popular response was the correct answer hidden to hide or secret kept secret with 10.6 4% of people actually getting the right answer about what the aquatic ultimi --nz non-related or nonsensical or just completely other wrong answers were one each totaling about two percent each with black brainwash Catholicism control deceive fringe Hollywood incorporeal religion scary science spirit world stars talismans truth or Wow a lot of those don't even make any sense but those were the other responses I broke this down this is the last slide slide number 26 in this section we have three more assignments to go through but in this section the last slide is slide number 26 what is the first single word that comes to your mind when you hear the word occult this is the breakdown on a pie chart with only about 10% of people knowing what the word occult means ninety percent of people do not know what that word even means and we think we're going to get out of this situation with nine out of ten people not even knowing what the word occult means let alone looking into it we're studying it in any form of a deep way for themselves good luck with that okay so let's move on to week number two of the homework results this is we're moving to the next section of slides slide number one is the title slide week two homework results slide number two is the directions for this week's homework in week number two I gave a homework assignment that people had to actually interact with another person and tried to convince them that they were wrong about something that they currently believed essentially so here's the actual instructions choose one person whom you feel is partially or completely uninformed regarding and even possibly resistant to discussing something that you consider critically important to understand during the times which we are living for example the false left-right paradigm the police state measures that are being taken against the public 9/11 truth issues the federal fraud of the Federal Reserve System you United States military imperialism poison in our food water drugs vaccines etc chemtrails eugenics etc any of these topics or anything else you know just something that you feel is very important to understand and you feel that this person is completely uninformed about and don't know about and need to know about and you want to pick somebody who you know that they're uninformed at or that they're even resistant to discussing these topics attempt to engage this individual in a conversation about the topic you've chosen bring any necessary documentation or evidence you wish to show them your specific aim and intent should be to help this person to understand why this is something that is important for them to know about engage the individual for at least 15 minutes pressing them even if they say they are not interested in the topic if their reaction is cold or unresponsive attempt to find out why they don't want to discuss the topic or why they are so resistant to hearing information which conflicts with what they already believe write an essay about your experience citing details about the mental and emotional dynamics experienced by both yourself and the person you chose to engage I specifically want to hear about what the other person said in response to the information you attempted to convey your perception of what the other person was feeling and most of all what you personally were feeling during this discussion do not use names including your own when describing the experience so this is a completely double anonymous thing I didn't want to know who was writing the essays I didn't want to know who they were interviewing all I was interested in is the dynamics the emotional and psychological dynamics involved in the in the end action between these individuals okay so let's look at the results there were nine interviewees all together out of the people who actually did this assignment their ages were 21 30 38 40 50 55 60 368 and 74 for an average age of interviewees were the people who were actually approached to to discuss these topics with with by the students their average ages were 55 the average age we asked people to ask them for their professions if they wished to give it so we had a builder who was can and believe it or not it's very interesting the topics that they chose to can the people chose to confront certain individuals on uncertain topics so the Builder was confronted on 9/11 truth so he should know engineering skills and building you know factors and we'll look at the results but the the law student was approached about the police state measures that are happening the nurse was approached about health and how the modern so-called health system is not really helping people to generate health but instead largely hurting them through the form of medicine that they're practicing and the teacher was talked about so-called education which is indoctrination those were the four people that actually gave their professions so we had a builder a law student a nurse and a teacher involved in this interaction slide that was slide number three now slide number four shows the mental and emotional dynamics of the interviewees the people that are being actually asked to discuss these these things okay there and again many different topics were given and what we saw is that the dynamics that were expressed by the people who were confronted or you know or approach to have a conversation on these things were all either skewed toward left brain imbalance or right brained imbalance there was absolutely no centeredness or no blending of the hemispheres of the brain it was always at every time that they were responding the responses were always imbalanced toward one brain hemisphere or the other so let's look at this slide in depth and look at some of the mental and emotional dynamics that were taking place within the minds of the interview interviewees they were in the in the essays that the students wrote they described that these people contained that the these dynamics were going on in the people that they were quote interviewing or having a discussion with that they were emotionally disconnected and completely didn't care about the topic that was brought up they just wanted to be doing something else they didn't care it wasn't something that they were concerned with interested in it all they were emotionally detached and disconnected and didn't care that's one of the dynamics that you saw throughout the essays they said that they had a lack of imagination or displayed completely inside the box thinking now not to suggest that they should be imagining things instead of try to discover the truth but they couldn't what they were saying is they couldn't imagine that the truth could be something other than the way that the official story that they had already accepted or the official paradigm that they had already accepted was they displayed complete closed mindedness denial they were in denial no matter how much evidence was given to them the evidence didn't matter they were unwilling to look at the evidence they were completely unwilling to look at the evidence if it was in contradiction to their pre-existing belief system or paradigm they did not want to hear it at all okay and this is completely the opposite of what they said in week number one it wasn't the same people but in general people said oh we're open-minded we're willing to learn new things even if it conflicts with what we already think and nothing could be further from the truth they were completely closed-minded and they were in complete denial and that they were they were unwilling to look at any of the evidence there was condescension and dismissal of the evidence even without looking into it at all total condescension total dismissal one of the quotes that was in one of the essays someone said if this were true I'd already know about it imagine that you think you already know everything you need to know that was the attitude I already know everything I need to know if this were true I'd already know about it imagine that they displayed annoyance anger and even sometimes rage at what the people were trying to tell them they kept repeating the same thing over and over as if repeating the lie would make it more true repeating something over and over and over again well this is what we were told this is what we were told it couldn't happen this way and in an example like 9/11 truth or this is what doctors say how things are you know it can't have anything to do with what you're saying it has to do with and in health care industry repetition just keep saying the same thing over and over again and that'll magically make it true they displayed ad hominem attacks over and over again they would not look at the evidence at the material all they would do is say you're crazy you're a conspiracy theorist ad hominem attacks attack the messenger try to say something nasty about the person who's trying to give the information but forget about engaging the information it doesn't matter what the information is you're not going to say I'm gonna refute this based on this evidence to the contrary and provide the evidence no you're just gonna say I think you're crazy an ad hominem attack someone even displayed bigotry when we're talking about what they were talking about 9/11 you know I disdain for Muslims and etc disdain for others who are not like them cell and then there was selfishness some people said well even if I admit that this is happening this doesn't concern me directly or I'm not gonna try to even do anything about it unless it actually affects my own personal life situation in my own personal life whatever other and justices are going on that's outside of myself and I'm not concerned with that until it happens to me someone actually said that in one of the essays selfishness and concern only for oneself and people repeatedly made justifications trying to say well this is okay because etc so forth offering justifications for wrongdoings and in justices that were happening constantly the right side of imbalance the right brain imbalanced mental and emotional dynamics that were written about in these essays after I broke down the essays and analyzed them are as follows people said that they felt that these people that they were trying to speak to and give information to were completely indoctrinated that they had just totally accepted what had been told to them through an indoctrination tactic and weren't interested in real learning that they were that they weren't interested in actually going through an educational process which involved truth discovery methods they just were constantly just wanted to accept and receive whatever the quote experts of the officials or the official story pumped out okay they displayed continuous logical fallacies and inconsistencies in attempting to even refute the evidence that was being presented to them because again these people who were talking with them brought a lot of evidence to support their claims in trying to refute their claims it was all only based on opinions and logical fallacies they never attempted to refute the claim with any counter of information ever so only logical fallacies and inconsistencies were offered as refuse toward the persons the students evidence that they were providing when they made their claims okay another right-brain dynamic was naivete and blind belief or in other words total acceptance of the official information without any supporting evidence to back it up they just believed it like a religion again a hallmark of right brain imbalance naivete cognitive dissonance their pre-existing belief was conflicting with something that could be shown to them and demonstrated absolutely so their pre-existing belief conflicts with reality and overrides the reality they would rather choose to believe in something rather than to accept data or truth which was being shown evidentially with actual provided evidence they were constantly deferring to experts while that people on the news said this the government said this the doctor said this it didn't matter what that could be shown to them to the contrary about those statements they would say well that's what the news said that's what the media said that's what the government said that's what the doctor said etc okay so deference to experts trust of the mainstream media was displayed over and over again one of the quotes by one of the interviewees why wouldn't I have heard about this on the news if this were true the news would be telling us this they actually still people still believe this they don't understand how the media is completely owned and controlled and co-opted and is being used for evil propaganda they don't get it most people still don't get it folks please do not think you're in the majority the people who understand what's going on in this world there's a lot of work to do to bring a whole lot of people over to the side of the truth and we have to get busy doing it so more right-brain forms of embed trust of government not only did they trust the mainstream media by saying why wouldn't they have told us about all this on the news they trust the government why would the government lie to us they're about our best interest they're about helping people they're about providing for us they're about defending us why would they be lying to us about this or that why wouldn't the government be telling us the truth this is where people's mindset is at ladies and gentlemen they still trust the government and finally people wrote that the interviewees express total lack of will to understand lack of will complete disempowerment no desire to want to know no desire to want to change people the older people would say I'm too old to change when people were presented with different things you could do to take charge of your health and give up the unhealthy ways of eating they would say that's too difficult to do I can't do that I don't have the will to do that and then many people would say well even if this is true what can I do about it and we've all heard the same thing from people what can I do I'm powerless I have no power to effect change what can I do about all and these are all again hallmarks of right brain imbalance no will so we had that schism the mind control schism total left brain imbalance I know it all you know I'm going to attack the messenger this can't possibly be true or I would already know about it I don't need to look at the evidence I already know left brain imbalance right brain imbalance I can't do this I can't change other people know better than me what can I do you know why would I why would people who say that they have my best interest be lying to me or trying to control me okay those were the dynamics of all the almost all of the people as we will see who were interviewed or who were attented with this information or who are tempted to have a conversation with about particular topic that made them feel uncomfortable so slide number five shows the mental and emotional dynamics of the actual students of the seminar the interviewers those who are were coming to these people with the topic the natural law seminar students I wrote underneath their nls students or interviewers and this is what they felt in their own essays according to their own words they felt frustration disappointment dejection disheartened meant anger annoyance futility rejection isolation and sorrow they felt like the guy in this image here with all the people around him asleep and he's sitting there awake but totally dejected with his head in his hands unable to believe that all these other people are completely asleep all around him and this is what the natural some natural law seminar students who were the interviewers in this process felt like this is the these are the emotional dynamics that they wrote down about what they were feeling during this process and I totally sympathize with us I totally understand I'm not putting this slide up there to continuously re-emphasize these feelings only to make people aware this is what most people feel when they are attempting to do this work and again this is a small demonstration of what the great work really is attempting to influence people to take the truth in for themselves and go through a process of truth discovery in their own life that's what the great work is ok and this is how doing it makes one feel at first and often continuously I'm not even saying that completely goes away you have to fight through it you have to will yourself through this through all of these feelings to continuously do that work and that's not easy it's not easy to do you have to master yourself you have to be able to take the reins over your emotions so that you will keep doing the great work of putting the truth out into the world so it cannot be ignored most people will do this work for five minutes and give up I try to tell people to push at least for 15 minutes to the point I said back off if they you know get so aggravated that you think it's going to come to any kind of blows or violence you know that's not what we were looking for we're not looking to have somebody end up in the hospital we're looking to try to explain to people this is something you need to know about and I'm concerned that you don't know about it and I'm gonna try to help you to understand it and you're not correct about your current position on it and that's a problem because it affects other people not just yourself okay so if these dynamics are what people are feeling the key thing to keep in mind here is you have to just be aware this is part of this work this is why people don't want to do the great work this is par for the course it's not an unexpected result I expect very much expected this exact result because I know how this goes I've been doing it for a long time and I'm still doing it and I'm gonna continue to do it and nothing's gonna set me off of that path because again while the ego based small s self may feel some of these emotions from time to time when doing this work I'm not self-serving the ego based small s self nor am I even serving the people that I'm taking this information to I am serving the truth that's all it's the way things are there's nothing emotional to get involved with regarding it it's what is the work has to be done almost in a state of emotional detachment I'm not doing it because I truly care about the people who I'm bringing the information to they could be complete strangers and I might not really deeply care about them as far as their personal lives go especially even about how deep in denial that they are and how they hate truth when it's spoken to them I'm not doing this because I care so much about them I'm doing this because I care so much about the truth that's what I serve I don't serve human beings I've made that very very clear in the past and just reiterating it here so these are feelings that you're going to encounter they have to be worked through they have to be willed through I'm not saying don't feel them emotions are very important even these negative ones it's showing you what your work is to do that's what self mastery is about it's about conquering and moving through even when you're feeling these negative emotions they're there for a reason they're showing you what your work is you got to move through them and do the work anyway that's what you're charged here to do and if enough people take on that charge and do it we'll see actual results we will see results start to move in the positive direction in the world the problem is not enough people are doing that work because they can't get past this stage they don't want to experience those emotions they don't want to experience those feelings again courage is not the lack of fear of something it's moving through it in spite of the fear of it and that's what sets so many people off from the great work they don't want to feel like this they think though if I do this like you're doing I'll feel like this all the time and I'm not gonna tell you I don't feel like this sometimes not all the time but sometimes I fall back into these feelings and guess what it doesn't matter I work through it trudged through it if you have to I don't let that that rule me I'm still gonna do the work I'm still gonna put the truth out there so that was the point of this entire exercise and if we look at the results of the exercise on the next slide slide number 6 in this section the overall mental and emotional dynamics were that 8 out of 9 of the interviewees were completely close-minded they were firmly rooted in their pre-existing belief systems to the point that they readily dismissed the information with minimal or zero willingness to look into the evidence readily dismiss the topics that were presented to them with minimal or zero willingness to look into the evidence or to even try something different than what they were already doing they would look at the evidence they wouldn't open their minds to a possibility of doing something a different way at all completely closed-minded and the slide here I put seems contradictory because it's a wide open head but you know the whole idea here is that closed mindedness leads to empty headedness these people don't really know how to think they don't know how to determine truth to determine truth from falsehood they just readily accept anything that's told to them by the so-called authority figures that's why they're in the trance that they're in there's nobody home and not only is there nobody home they think they know this is what I've called negative knowledge not meaning negative in a good or a bad sense meaning negative in the less than zero sense less than zero knowledge they have not only don't they have any real knowledge they have no truth that they've taken in they in the place of truth they fed a whole bunch of lies so to to get back to square one where they know zero you'd have to do a lot of emptying of all those lies out out of out of the head to get back to us clean slate where you could start putting it in with good putting good information into the brain negative knowledge the total percentage here is eighty eight point eight nine percent almost 90% of people displayed total closed-mindedness in this experiment in the next slide now I don't make this I don't make these numbers up folks they are what they are okay so again we're gonna see a little bit of synchronicity here symbolism eleven point eleven percent of people were open-minded eleven eleven for those people who are into the whole eleven eleven phenomenon which I most certainly am and during my awakening process I must have seen eleven eleven millions of times not thousands not hundreds not thousands probably millions of times it's unbelievable how much this number comes up during a personal awakening process I would say that that's what it is it is a call to awakening you know I very briefly I think talked about it in the past but amazingly eleven point eleven percent of people displayed open-mindedness that was one individual one interviewee was open-minded enough to look at the evidence that was shown to him they conflicted with what he already believed and he wanted to hear about why the why the reasons the causal factors and he expressed to the person who brought the information to him gratefulness for having had that conversation with him one person out of all who were quote interviewed so imagine that one person out of those nine was open-minded at all and we saw over all that really that means that moving on to slide number eight that there were really only there was only one conversation that took place all of the other things were confrontations until you get to a point where there's some sort of a mutual exchange of ideas okay and there's a flow going back and forth instead of one person attempting to give information and hitting a wall okay and there is absolutely no flow of information there is no respect back and forth it is just a one-way thing that's a confrontation it's not a conversation and again to converse means to change together you're both learning something in the process not to say that there's nothing to be learned from those confrontations because you could have planted a seed in that confrontation that might spring at a later date I won't use names here but I'll just give a little anecdote about something that could be considered initially confrontation but then eventually blooms later on a friend of ours came to the free your mind conference and didn't know much about any of the topics this person got so scared by some of the things that were discussed at the freer mind - conference that they left took off middle of the conference who said I'm not I'm taking off not coming back went drinking recent events in this individuals life and again that you would say well that's closed-minded or it's so fearful that there's no room for growth here but it's not the case because what they heard during that day was a seed and it eventually sprouted because we've just recently learned that this individual is going through some hardship in their life and as a result of that it's given them a little bit of time to rethink some things and they revisited mentally the conference and what they heard and in having some conversations with some other people during the downtime that they were having for family personal reasons which I won't get into they looked back at that what they heard at the conference and suddenly it all made sense to them and this person wrote and said I've had an epiphany and I understand what your conference was about now I get it I didn't see it before but I understand and I understand what you're trying to do so it that's amazing it's it's it's just that's phenomenal that that fact it's proof that it's not futile to keep pressing it's not resistance is not futile even confrontation is not futile putting the work forward putting the information out into the world and continuing to do that work of speaking the truth is not futile the seeds can sprout at a later time so move through those negative emotions and keep doing it that's what this whole section was about and it became about because I disagree with the hermetic approach we looked at some of the hermetic principles the principles of natural law has put forward by her medicine the ancient past and many have talked about don't try to give this information to the uninitiated to the quote swine you know in theosophy this is also put forward you know Blavatsky weren't told people never try to give people the truth because the only hate you for it I I disagree with those takes not to say I disagree with all the philosophies of these people that we're talking about her medicine Theosophists etc I agree with that I disagree with that particular aspect that we're not here to put the truth out for everyone no one has a monopoly on the truth it doesn't belong to anyone it doesn't belong to me it doesn't belong to you it doesn't belong to anyone belongs to all it belongs to everyone so who are you to say I'm gonna hold this back from people and again that's why I'm gonna start going into topics that are very controversial and are very speculative as well in many cases because people need to start thinking about these things eetu even have it put out there for their consideration whether they accept that or not you don't need to accept it you need to hear it and then look into it and decide is this worth your further pursue so we're going to get into human origins on this show we're going to get into possible interactions with extraterrestrial beings on this show we're going to get into why psychopathy may exist in the human species and what put it there we're going to get into why the human condition is the way that it is possible reasons why there it is the way that it is outside of just mind control that keeps it the way that it is what put it there to begin with the origins of evil the origins of this condition of unconsciousness that humanity is in the origins of slavery the origins of obsession with things that don't really have any truly inherent intrinsic value money gold etc we'll be looking at all this stuff on future shows so what this a result in week two ultimately comes down to is moving on to slide number nine now how open-minded are people really versus how open-minded they think they are so last week in weak ones results which I call on we looked at how open-minded people believe that they are when we ask them the question when encountering uncomfortable information that conflicts with something that you currently believe do you dismiss it or do you look into it for yourself only two percent said that they would dismiss it and 98 said that they would look into it in week number two homework result we see that the dynamic is almost completely reversed on slide number ten we see the truth now come out when we actually did this as an experiment almost 90% of people dismissed the information out of hand and only about ten looked into it for themselves the actual numbers eighty eight point eight nine percent completely dismissed the information without looking into it total closed mindedness and eleven point 11 percent of people actually would look into it they would open their mind enough to say wow this is something I need to look into I could be wrong about this and thank you for presenting this information to me now I'm gonna look into it on my own one person out of nine so this proves my contention that the earlier claims made by people that 98% of them would look into it and see if it was true and then adjust their beliefs accordingly is in fact and this proved it and again I'm not doing this to discourage anybody I'm doing it to show people what our work is to do that's what the work is this showed the class this in a big way and I think they were very appreciative of it very very interesting and profound results let's move on to week number three week number three's homework assignment was again asked people questions and tabulate the results same as week one so here were the questions slide number one is just the title slide for week 3 homework results let's move to slide number two on with the section for week three question number one do human beings have rights eighty seven point nine three percent of people said yes human beings have inherent natural rights amazingly and people would say oh that's great almost 88 percent said yes but amazingly twelve point zero seven percent 12 percent of people think there is no such thing as human rights human rights don't exist human beings don't have rights there's no such thing as rights folks twelve percent that's more than ten percent that's more than one out of ten people twelve out of a hundred people believe that there is no such thing as rights that rights don't exist for human beings we don't have rights you could look at this pie chart on slide number two here and say oh that's a great positive result but I don't look at it like that this should be a hundred percent how could anybody think that there's no such thing as right no such thing as human rights people can do whatever they want you're never violating anybody else's rights because there's no such thing that's what this result is saying 12% of people think like that that's unbelievable unimaginably disturbing slide number three question number two where do human beings rights come from so if human beings do have rights where do they come from a here's the choices a our rights come from the creator of the universe and as such they are the unalienable birthright of every human being choice B rights are philosophical constructs created by human beings so ultimately they come from human beings themselves choice numbers see rights are granted to human beings by governments depending upon the country in which a human being is born choice number D there is no such thing rights do not exist and here's the results number one response was B the number one response was B rights are philosophical constructs created by human beings so ultimately rights come from human beings themselves forty-three percent forty three point one percent of people believe that rights are made up by humans I'll say that once again forty-three percent of human beings believe that we make up what a right is and we want to know why we're enslaved thirty one percent said a that rights come from creation itself the creator of the universe the creative force and as such they are unalienable birth rights that cannot be separated from human beings less than a third of people however the third most popular response was see rights are granted to human beings by government depending upon the country in which a human being is born you ready for this folks twenty four point one four percent almost one in four people think that rights are created and granted by government to people in the countries in which they reside in the countries in which the government rules over your rights come from your owners they get to tell you what rights you have and what rights you don't have one in four people believe this the last response was D there is no such thing with about 1.7 2% of people saying that the pie chart for this result is on slide number four where two human beings rights come from now look at the result here folks if we say let's just look at come combine the results of does it come from people do rights come from people or are they inherent to the universe do they come from creation and that we are already have them inherently and they can never be changed or taken away from us less than one-third less than one out of three people believe that rights are inherent to creation and that they come from the creator of the universe over two thirds of people over two thirds almost 70 percent 69 percent of human beings think about this almost 7 out of 10 people believe that rights come from people whether it's just individuals themselves or by governments 1 in 4 believe rights are made up by government 7 out of 10 believe human beings make up the difference between right and wrong and therefore create rights and get to determine what rights are and what rights are not instead of discovering that based on the objective knowledge of the objective difference between right and wrong which exist in nature unbelievable profoundly sad but also profoundly enlightening because this is the why folks that you're getting the why here this is what's going on in people's minds that's creating the external condition in which you are living so this is the why until this changes the external world cannot until these mental dynamics change the external world cannot change understand that and then understand what your work is to do our work is to change this mental dynamic by bringing these very topics up to people and showing them somehow showing them through constant work to constant effort that they are wrong about how they currently think and that is why the world is enslaved that is why the people of this planet are enslaved because of the very way that most people think and this is one of the clearest examples that people believe that rights come from people unbelievable let's move on to the next slide slide number five chu question number three choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a right and wrong or objective they exist independently from human perception right and wrong are not simply concepts made up by human beings they exist inherently in nature right and wrong never change regardless of circumstances they are existent and inherent to nature they are what they are men can discover what is right men can discover what is wrong and they can't change that that's a ok be right and wrong are concepts created by human beings right and wrong are are dependent upon human perception right and wrong can change depending upon the circumstances and I would say really in Intel then this question is you're insinuating right and wrong can change depending upon human perception changing if human perception changes we can change what right and wrong are we could turn a wrong into a right a right into a wrong if our perception changes it's not something that's independent from perception it's entirely dependent upon human perception so that's what we're saying our right and wrong dependent upon human perception so in other words are they subjective or they not dependent upon human perception or the objective the responses the most popular response was be sixty seven point two four percent people believe right and wrong are concepts that are created by human beings and therefore are subjective and can change on a whim once perception changes if human perception changes we can change what right and wrong are over two thirds of human beings believe that response a only received thirty two point seven six percent and this is depicted in the pie chart on slide number six our right and wrong objective and therefore their absolute they are what they are and they can't be changed or our right and wrong subjective and therefore relative they can change on a whim depending on human perception 67 percent of people believe that right and wrong are changeable and are subjective and are dependent upon human perception and therefore relative over sixty seven percent 67 point two four percent thirty two point seven six said that they are objective they are absolute and they are inherent in nature two out of three people are moral relativists and again according to the law of freedom which we talked a lot about in this seminar which states that freedom is proportional to morality therefore you have to have the knowledge about what the objective difference between right and wrong are and then the will to choose the right action over the wrong action and then you can be free you cannot do that in a society that embraces moral relativism because that states right and wrong or whatever we get to say whatever we say they are we get to make it up based on our perception it's not something that needs to be discovered and then aligned with so we could just choose it on a whim and change it on a whim and 2/3 of people believe that and that's why they're in a cage that's why they're in a prison because there can be no freedom in a society of people that embrace moral relativism cannot happen can not happen not only won't it ever happen it's impossible it cannot be done according to the laws of nature can't happen yet this is where our society is and we expect to be free well good luck it's never gonna happen as long as that mental dynamic does not change and I would say not only is it not changing it's growing worse rapidly we're at 2/3 of people over two-thirds over two-thirds and growing and again I would suggest these are positively skewed results based on who's asking the questions over two-thirds of people are moral relativists ladies and gentlemen a society cannot be free as long as that is the mental dynamic operating in that society it's impossible our our work needs to be to change that dynamic unless we change that dynamic don't expect freedom to break anytime soon next slide slide number seven on a scale of one to ten this is question four on a scale of one to ten with one being the least and ten being the most how important is the role of morality in your life so here again we're going to see more mental Schism we're asking people how much is moral behavior important in your life number one response ten out of ten well two thirds of people just said that they're moral relativists we could get to makeup what right and wrong are and now all of a sudden morality is hugely important to them I'm a moral relativist but morality is very important to me it doesn't even make sense in other words what they believe is right and wrong is important to them I guess is what they're saying thirty nine almost forty percent of people said ten out of ten thirty nine point six six percent thirty two point seven six percent David an eight out of ten eighteen point nine six percent gave it nine out of ten five point one seven gave it a five out of ten and three point four five gave it a 7 out of 10 there were no sixes and there were no four and below responses the average response came out to an eight point eight out of ten people believe that morality in their life is about an eight point eight of importance which again I think is because I don't think people really consider morality is very important at all truly if they're being honest with themselves because most people are moral relativists so if six out of ten say their moral relativists i don't see how this answer could possibly really be above a five a four or five if I had to make a guesstimate which means that it's people could take it or leave it they really don't care about what's right maybe it if it affects them then they're interested but injustice is taking place in the world who cares doesn't matter right and wrong whether people are choosing them not that important that's how people really think but they'll say see this is the difference between what people will say and how they really think which we saw in the first homework assignment they'll say that they're open-minded but are they really no they're lying they're lying to themselves most of all and they're straight-faced lying to another human being because they want to believe that about themselves but they're full of just saying it like it is folks sorry if you don't like the way I said it but that's what's true they're just lying to themselves let's move to slide number eight slide number eight is the pie chart about this how important is morality there you see the breakdown I call BS on this too I don't really think these people are honest you know the top three numbers comprises almost 90 percent of the chart if this were true humanity would be a free species not an enslaved one I would suggest that this is a completely erroneous result based on lying next slide slide number nine question number five choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a karma exists and has an effect upon our lives we reap what we sow that which we do to others we will eventually experience being done to ourselves in some form regardless of whether or not that experience is brought about by other human beings be karma is nonsense people can act without any karmic consequences quote unquote the only behavioral consequences we ever experience occur if and when we are caught and punished by other human beings amazingly eighty four point four eight of people say karma exists and is operating in our lives only fifteen point five two percent say no there's no such thing as Karma slide number 10 we go to the pie chart that shows this breakdown does karma exist and have an effect upon our lives over 84 percent say yes now I do believe these people actually believe this I believe this is an accurate response but what I'm totally befuddled and confused about is where do people think karmic consequence comes from what puts it into effect in creation if rights don't come from the creator of the universe and most people are saying rights come from man karma which they're admitting doesn't come from man that's right in the question that karma consequences and coming from other human beings otherwise they would have chosen B and say no there's no such thing as Karma you can only be punished by other human beings based on what your behavioral choices I want to know where these people think that karma comes from these people who are moral relativists most of them where do they imagine this comes from or what puts it into effect this law of karma so again I think instinctively intuitively people do believe you're not getting away with anything you do here that's wrong they know this on an intuitive level on a soul level you know and when when they're asked there they seem to be honest about this answer and say yeah I think karma exists and many of these people are the same people that think there's no such thing as a difference between right and wrong that exists in creation and don't think that rights come from the creator of the universe again I want to know well where in the hell do you think karma comes from then so while it's an encouraging result at least that they believe it exists you know or think that they know that it exists where does it come from of course karma exists it's called natural law and it comes from the creator of the universe the same place rights come from it's the governing dynamic that's ultimately governing our true of behavior we have a free will to act but we don't have a free will to act without consequence and karmic law or moral law or natural law gives us the result of what we've chosen through our behaviors in our lives next slide slide number 11 conscience this is question number 6 conscience is a form of a thought be emotion see action or D knowledge so what is conscience is it thought emotion action or knowledge so is conscience and expression of consciousness meaning is it thought emotion or action the three expressions of consciousness or is it something other than that is it knowledge the correct answer to this question is conscience is knowledge it means common sense common knowledge con science to know together science comes from the Latin verbs quiere which means to know or to understand it is common knowledge con means together or with common together to know to know together common knowledge the exercise of conscience is a form of action and this is what people don't understand the very very very important non-trivial difference between people will say oh that's just a triviality uh you know you're nitpicking no I'm not it's very important this distinction conscience and it's exercise are not the same thing conscience is knowledge which is knowable discoverable it is able to be understood and held in the human mind it is able to be received on the part of human beings it is knowledge which is capable of being known and received then when it is acted upon it is converted into action and if you choose the right action over the wrong action based on our knowledge conscience because of the difference between right and wrong the knowledge of the objective difference between right and wrong is what conscience is if we choose the right action over the wrong action that's when we are developing wisdom so the knowledge itself conscience itself is a body of knowledge action based upon it is the exercise of conscience or lack thereof so here's the responses fifty-one percent think it's a form of thought that it only happens in the mind and it's a mental abstraction it's a mental process as thought is and conscience is not just a mental process it is knowledge is more than that there it is based upon a truth it is something that is inherent in creation because right and wrong are inherent in creation and based upon what is true what is real that which is reality 51 percent 51.7 to think it's thought twenty-five point eight six percent think it's a form of emotion fifteen point five 2% gave the correct response and said that it was knowledge and six point nine percent believe that it is action so this is proof people aren't confusing conscience with action the least amount thought that the exercise of conscience is action but most people think it's simply a form of thought and it is more than that it is knowledge so I think we need to do better work to clear that up for people and get people to understand that and in a much more in a way that involves much more clarity next slide slide number twelve what is the worst thing that can be done to a human being in their lifetime and I ask this for specific reason I knew most people were going to say to be killed or to be murdered but I wanted to see how many people thought that slavery is even worse than murder is the worst thing that could happen as I think slavery is the worst thing that could happen in a human being in their lifetime I think I would much rather die than continuously have to live as a slave they were even being held as a slave which again is why I do what I do I want to exist in all forms of freedom I'm in mental and spiritual and mental freedom already I have two out of the three I'm still being held under duress and physical in a physical form of slavery whether people acknowledge that or not or want to believe that want to acknowledge it it's true and so is everyone else on this planet two out of three aren't good enough as I've said many many many times all three need to be and are going to be present because this slavery system is coming down one way or another one way or another whether it gets done in consciousness or whether it gets done physically it's coming down one way or another and there's nothing anybody can do to stop that bet on it bet your ass on it okay so but my point here is I want to see how many people think that slavery that murder is even worse than slavery that's what I was looking for here in posing this question so here's the results on slide 12 murder of course coming in number one with 27 point 27 percent rape being second with fourteen point five five percent imprisonment with 9.09% betrayal coming in ahead of slavery or tied with slaver I should say with seven point two seven percent then slavery with an equal seven point two seven percent to just personal betrayal being lied to and deceived I mean you could put early put that together with betrayal I could have really put this together with betrayal because it's essentially the same thing but just generally keeping it with you know being deceived or lied to five point five percent if you put that together with betrayal it could come to over thirteen percent which we put it ahead of slavery torture five point four five percent isolation three point six four percent and then with one point eight two percent each disrespect homelessness illness injury injustice limitation loss love suicide tragedy in war so he said the worst thing that can happen in life is love you got to be kidding me I mean that's obviously a psychopath responding I do believe we had at least one psychopath being posed these questions whether they are a primary or a secondary psychopath some of the answers that some people gave in particularly I think it was week number week number four was totally indicative of a psychopath uh and I think maybe this might be the same person although I can't be sure of that because it was all done anonymously but uh somebody who's saying love is the worst thing that can happen to somebody in their lifetime is a seriously screwed-up individual and they need a lot of help they need a lot of mental help okay because love is the best thing that can happen to an individual in their lifetime you know and love is actually opening up one's consciousness true love capital L love is opening up it's it's not even emotional attachment to another human being as many people think that it is it true love is opening up one's consciousness to the reception of truth that's what the energy of love really is when you could do that then you can truly have a dynamic interchange with other fellow human beings and really express love that's the best thing that could ever happen to a human being I know it's the best thing that's ever happened to me in my lifetime is to experience that form of consciousness that energy so and and that's what makes good interpersonal relationships possible at all when we've opened up our mind and our heart in that way so how anybody could say love is the worst thing that could happen to somebody in their lifetime they're really psychopathic just an interesting dynamic they're at the bottom of that chart moving on the slide 13 here's these responses broken down in a pie chart for question number seven let's move on to slide number fourteen in this section question number eight choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a taxation is a function of government that is both both necessary and moral so in these next few questions we're talking about different functions of government and are they moral behaviors that people carry out to do these things or are they immoral a taxation is a function of government that is both necessary and moral many humanitarian things are done with collected taxes the quality of human life would suffer greatly if taxes were not collected so taxation should and must be continued B taxation is based upon the coercion of a human beings freewill all forms of taxation are actually the theft of the product of someone's labor by those who did not earn or create those resources themselves people pay taxes involuntarily meaning under duress because any attempt not to pay them is met with violence or the threat of violence taxation is therefore completely immoral and should not be conducted at all okay here's the responses for fifty three point four five percent of response respondents say taxation is moral a it's moral it's necessary it must be continued forty six point five five percent said no it's immoral it's based in violence and it should not be practiced that should not be continued at all in any form fairly good result I would like to see it a lot more skewed toward saying no we we need to do away with this it's not moral so slide number fifteen shows the pie chart breakdown we're still not nearly where we need to be we're not even at half and half more people still think taxation is a moral activity but almost half think it's immoral so hopefully this is moving toward the direction of more green on this chart of more people saying that it's immoral I personally think it is moving more in that direction but we have a lot more work to do in that regard of course taxation is immoral that's the correct answer it's based in violence it's slavery it's a form of slavery it's a vehicle for slavery moving on question number slide number 16 question number 9 choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a drug laws are sensible necessary and moral certain substances are off-limits for human consumption for a good reason if we made all drugs legal people would go crazy taking tons of drugs and society would fall apart in short order therefore laws prohibiting the possession and usage of illegal drugs should and must stay in effect be all drug laws are claims that what a person puts into their own body is not their decision to make this ultimately constitutes a claim that a person's body is not theirs to do as they choose with it even if they are hurting no one else as a result such a claim of ownership upon another person's body constitutes a form of slavery therefore all drug laws are based upon the coercion of freewill choice and are ultimately immoral the responses forty six point five five percent said drug laws are necessary and moral and must continue fifty three point four five percent said no that they are form of slavery they are coercion of free will they are a claim of ownership on another person's body and therefore they are immoral moving on the slide number seventeen this is the pie chart breakdown our drug laws moral or are they amoral and again we have the exact opposite dynamic from taxation with only forty six percent less than half thinking that drug laws are moral with over half fifty 3.45 saying that it should be up to an individual what they put up into they're put into there because their body belongs to them and making the claim that they may or may not put something into their body constitutes a form of slavery this is another good result I think it needs to be better but I think I do also think it's moving in the positive direction I think more and more people are realizing that the war on drugs is a complete utter farce and failure and it is immoral that it is a form of slavery and it needs to be ended so I personally see that as a good result and I think those numbers you know perhaps might be skewed a little toward the positive based on the group but I think society in general is right about where these numbers are at slide number 18 question number 10 choose the set of statements which most which most closely resembles your own thinking drive a driver's licenses are necessary and moral driving a car is not a right it is a privilege granted to people by the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Department of Transportation if people drove cars without driver's licenses there will be total chaos on the roads be traveling upon the earth whether on foot horseback boat car or any other means is a human right and it is not a privilege licences are another way of saying that you need permission from someone before you may do the action that is being licensed a certain group of people cannot claim that they are in charge of who may or may not take an action which is a right meaning an action that doesn't harm anybody else driver's land not what the potential to harm anybody else okay of course driving car might have the potential to harm somebody else but actually driving it doesn't mean you're harming somebody else okay just like owning a gun is the potential to harm somebody else but what the actual ownership doesn't mean that you're harming somebody else it's what you actually do with it so driver's licenses continuing with statement B driver's licenses are ultimately a form of coercion and extortion forcing people to beg permission and pay money to be allowed to exercise a right and they are therefore immoral the breakdown 72.4 1% of people believe that driver's licenses are necessary and moral and that government has a right to decree who may drive and who may not drive and driving as a privileged they don't believe that actual travel in a car okay whether you I'm not talking about driving as a commercial activity which the legal term driving I'm talking about traveling in a car operating a car which is someone your possession and driving it okay regardless of how the legal system sees that term okay 72% of people think that driver's licensing is a moral practice and only twenty-seven point five nine percent think that it's immoral I see this is a very bad result because people fall for licensure all the time and think that it's somehow acceptable that somebody's got to be in charge of who's able to do this activity or not able to do that's this activity even if it doesn't harm anybody else okay so our driver's license is moral or immoral moving to slide 19 this is the pie chart breakdown just under twenty eight percent say immoral and seventy two point four one percent saying that it is moral this is not good it is I don't think this is even going in the right direction I think it's probably going backwards because people fall for this whole licensure nonsense and give their rights away because they make it sound so reasonable that they have to license things that keep everybody safe it's this idea that you'll somehow be kept safe the more things are made illegal which is what licensing is you're making it illegal and then you have to beg permission from the state to engage in that activity at all when it is actually a right and not a privilege you're turning a right into a privilege so let's move on to the next slide slide number twenty which is a question number eleven what is the first single word that comes to your mind when you hear the word sovereign now what the word sovereign actually means is that we've gone over many times in the past here on this show is not a slave the word sovereign means not a slave that is the definition okay it comes from the Latin super which means above okay or not under and then regnum which means rulership or controlled by another so if you are not under rulership or control or another you are not their subject you are not their slave that's what sovereign means so the responses twenty point six nine percent said ruler that sovereign means ruler and it does the classical definition of sovereign is a ruler because a sovereign means one who is not under the rulership of another so the ruler isn't under his own rulership he rules above everybody else that's the classical definition that's where the word comes from not under ruled by another a king is a ruler because he's not owned by a ruled by anybody else he rules everybody else okay that's what each individual actually is though in reality they are a ruler of themselves and no one else that's what a sovereign really is not one who rules over others one who is not ruled by any others okay a the second response was fifth at fifteen point five two percent a government they believe that governments or nations are the sovereigns okay not the individual okay they believe that it is the government that is sovereign good that the response was government was the second response a king is the sovereign and a government is the sovereign and this is exactly proves the human condition of the belief in authority it used to be vested in one person now this con this erroneous notion of authority is vested in a government and they're claiming that they're the only sovereigns when in fact everyone is a sovereign and no one is actually a slave in reality the actual correct answer of free meaning not a slave under self-rule under self-governance was only about 10% 10.35 percent that was the next popular response next most popular response didn't know what the word meant or had never heard of the word sovereign never heard the word spoken never saw it written duck doesn't know what it means equal with the correct answer ten point three five percent people who think it means power authority or control over others which is the exact opposite of what it means not being ruled by anybody else said the eight point six two percent said that people who said it simply means independence which I didn't group in with free it probably could be grouped in with free and then you would bump that up to you know a nice percentage it would put it in at probably the top percentage but I don't really see independence not know dependency on someone else as necessarily meaning truly free free means are not ruled by anybody else there can be dependence on something and the person not necessarily be your owner they could be helping you you could have interdependence I don't necessarily see someone relying on somebody else for help as necessarily being owned by them now that can turn into that situation for sure but dependence is not necessarily slavery I'm not saying dependence is a good thing to be in saying you should scribe to be completely independent but again I don't I also don't feel any man isn't a total island unto himself as long as you're living in a society there's gonna need to be societal interaction and nobody can have every single thing independently that they that they necessarily need on their own many people strive to do this and I'm not saying there's anything wrong with trying to do that but I don't really think that's what needs to happen for people to be able to exist peacefully under natural law we can have interdependence and still be free okay somebody else can I don't necessarily have to be a farmer and a farmer doesn't necessarily know how how to fix a computer okay I could know how to fix a computer and make an interaction with a farmer who grows food and we can have an exchange okay or we can have a barter or we could just say I'll do this anyway just to you know and have a gift economy I'll give this to you you give this to me whatever giving sharing I know it's an alien concept to the vast majority of human beings out there I'm just one of those crazy people that believes we can actually share and not every single person needs to know every single thing how to do every single thing and take up their whole lives with you know having to do every aspect of life for themselves you know I don't think I need to necessarily learn everything there is to learn about electric circuit boards or plumbing or crocheting or whatever else you want to know I think that's what makes life interesting is that there's diversity and different people know different things what we all have to come together on is common sense the difference between right and wrong conscience that's the knowledge everybody needs to have as a baseline then once we start actually exercising conscience and choosing the right over the wrong then anything's possible and we won't we will we will truly be an independent Society in a free society ok so I'm going to leave that down there at eight point six two percent independent people said Bank that that's the first word that comes to mind when they hear sovereign probably because they're a member of sovereign bank a popular bank chain in America unbelievable almost seven percent six point nine percent said that rounding out the results of responses to what the sovereign mean one word that it means when you hear it at one point seven percent each one point seven two percent each absolute alone chaos God Illuminati leadership money political Saviour and stability very interesting respond they're I think that's that psychopath that I'm talking about because in other words what he's saying is it's that there can ever be sovereignty yeah well it can't happen it will never happen it's an illusory dream and it's nonsense and I think that person is probably the same person who said that love is the worst thing that could happen to a human being this is a psychopath or this is what I would call the perfect golem the perfect golem the person who has been completely destroyed in spirit their spirit is completely devastated and they're not coming back from that condition they are the perfect golem just an interesting response there that I felt I should comment on slide number 21 is a question of the pie chart for this question number 11 about what do people think sovereign means and there you see the breakdown with only about 10% of people actually knowing what the word really does mean that it means free or not a slave that's what the word sovereign means a sovereign is a free person a sovereign is a free human being a sovereign is someone who is not a slave that is what the word means no one can ever change that definition because that is what that word means it is the actual definition of the word and only about 1 in 10 people know that which is sad 9 out of 10 human beings don't know that they are sovereign that that that what sovereignty even means and therefore that they are it that it is them that it is everyone that we are all sovereign so that brings us to the next question on slide number 22 question number 12 are you a sovereign are you sovereign and only only 36.7% a little over one-third say yes I'm sovereign and I don't even think they really know what it means again I don't think this result can make sense if only 10% really know what it means how can only 10 percent really acknowledge truthfully and know that they are sovereign so I would say really 26% out of this is people who are just answering to answer and they don't really know that they're sovereign I would really say it's 10% 10.35 like the other result sixty three point oh four percent said no they are not sovereign and I have to clean up this slide I'd noticed an error on their with the pie chart not quite matching the responses I'll clean that up before I put these slides online so kind of even just disregard that statement because it'll be corrected by the time it goes up but the pie chart is right underneath the results next slide 23 very interestingly slide number 23 for people who again follow numerology and know the significance in occultism about the number 23 if this question would turn up on this slide number question number 13 are you a moral human being and yes that is the way out isn't it this result is almost identical to the result of are you an open-minded human being who is willing to hear information that conflicts with your pre-existing belief system almost the exact same result ninety seven point six two percent almost ninety eight percent said yes I'm a moral human being two point three eight percent that one person in this result again I don't think is even number four this was the homework result where we definitely got a psychopath the one person who gave those psychopathic results admitted no I'm not a moral human being this was a psychopath who didn't feel like lying that day because it was anonymous and again this is either the psychopath or the perfect golem and they're one in the same to be honest so that person I was expecting one hundred percent I was very surprised one person that one psychopath gave us an honest answer on this day and said no I'm not immoral he and knows that he's not so there's the pie chart underneath the results and I call 100% absolute and complete on this result because that's what it is like I said if you went back into Nazi Germany Circle World War 2 era around 30 1937 and 38 if you were able to travel back in time and ask the people of Nazi Germany that this same question are you a moral human being do you know the difference between right and wrong truly for yourself do you actively have a conscience and do you choose to exercise your conscience by choosing right action over wrong well action at all times in your life are you a good person they would have said absolutely yes and how dare you even insinuate otherwise by daring to ask me that question to my face that's what those good little members of the Nazi Party would have said and they would have been dead serious about it to you and I would suggest it's exactly the same situation in America today nothing has changed there is no difference these are people who believe that they are moral human beings and don't know the first thing about morality these are people who say that their moral relativists in the same homework assignment I'm a moral relativist two-thirds of people morality is relative we get to make it up and yet I'm moral everybody can get to make up what morality is so according to my own definition of right and wrong I'm moral I have absolutely no idea what it really is or not but I'm gonna tell you yes I'm a moral human being and I know the difference between right and wrong and I choose right action over wrong action in my life yeah sure you do these people are full of just to call it just like it is that's how it is folks they're just full of they're lying most of all to themselves they're lying that's the conclusion of the homework assignment number three let's move on to the last one and we'll wrap up the podcast this was the biggest one and comprised of 17 questions this is homework for the natural law seminar week for homework results moving on to this section slide number one is the title slide for week four slide number two and this was about ownership do you own your own body okay eighty-seven point five percent of people said yes I own my own body and people will say oh that's a great result we had almost 88 percent said yes I own myself I own my body but look at the result that said that they didn't look at the respondents who said they didn't 12.5% twelve and a half percent of people don't think they own their body that they are actually the owners of their body I didn't say do other people think they own you and believe that they're your owners excuse me I said do you actually own your own body are you the owner of your body and maybe they think you know they think that there's more implied in this question do you eternally own your own body can you own it forever and ever and ever and ever for eternity I'm not talking about eternal ownership I'm talking about right now in the moment do you own the body that you're in that your consciousness is inhabiting do you own this flesh and bone and sinew and blood and organs do you own your own body it's a simple question most of the people who were asked this question the response that the students told me most people sat there and thought about it they couldn't spit out the answer just like that the snap of a finger they sat there and thought about it so this and the next question which we'll get to for anybody that can't spit out the answer do you own your own body yes absolutely I own my own body my body is my own property the end if you can't spit that out there's something wrong with you I'm serious there is something mentally-retarded wrong with you and that's the problem here that people don't even know they own themselves almost 13% of people say that somebody else owns them I want to know who they think owns them or whether they're saying oh well God owns my body and I can't really own anything well hey then I'll just take your car or your house or your computer or your food you can't own anything no such thing as property God owns everything I can't actually own anything while I'm here while I'm in carnate know especially the body well then who owns it well hey I'm gonna lop off your left arm then let me use it as a club on somebody else because I feel like it because after all it's not your body so why can't I own your arm then I mean you know it's it's ridiculous nonsensical thinking that has no bearing on common sense and reality it's so self-evident should we even need to be asking a question like this should I need to even pose this question to try to find out what people think this is how totally destroyed the human mind is and that's why I did it to try to explain this to people this is what our work is I mean if you have two-thirds of people who believe right and wrong are completely relative and we get to make them up you have almost 13% of human beings believe they don't own their flesh that their consciousness inhabits we have a lot of work to do people next slide slide number three in this fourth section of homework results question number two do you own your own mind ninety-two percent little more said yeah I own my own mind ninety two point five percent seven point five percent of people say no I don't own my own mind well who owns it then I mean are you admitting that you know that you're under mind control most people don't admit that most people think that they do own their own mind and again I don't really agree with this result the answer is yes most people don't really home there no people really don't own their own mind to be honest someone else does own it but who's gonna say this outright who does some if somebody actually believes somebody else owns their mind who do they believe it is you know do they actually know about the dark occultist that I'll put forward mind control and they're saying yes I know I'm under mind control and I know I don't have ownership over my mind I don't think that's the result I don't I don't know what this result really means to be quite honest with you I'd like to ask these people while who in the hell do you think does on your mind just like who in the hell do you think does on your body I mean just God on your body and mind - there's no there's a probably the same people say there's no free will it's about the same dynamic a little over twelve percent almost thirteen percent maybe that's it maybe they just think God owns at all nobody can own anything I asked somebody this at the when I was talking to some people outside at the Occupy Philly rally when occupy was going on and when I said do you own yourself he said I don't own anything including myself and he was an african-american gentleman I mean imagine that just outright admitting I look of myself as a slave I don't know anything I don't know any property I don't know my body I don't know my mind I own nothing well as long as that dynamic stays in effect you are a slave by definition I know I Mark pacion know that I what I own and what I don't own and I do own my body and I do own my mind and they are my property my property and they are not owned by somebody else regardless of any claims that are made those claims will always be invalid they will never be legitimate and that's everybody should know that they should know it like they know their own name moving on to the next slide slide number four in this section question number three choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a there is such a thing as authority which is vested in certain human beings who we call governments they received this authority because many people came together and agreed to grant power to them to perform certain actions and make certain decisions for the common good of the people that's how they got that authority it's real it exists and they got it because other people came together and agreed you now have this Authority and you can make these decisions for the for the totality of people excuse me B there is no such thing as authority which is vested in humanity Authority is the false claim that some people have the moral right to issue commands while others have the moral obligation to obey those commands and have no right to refuse them that's what Authority is so how many people said a or B 60% said a Authority exists it is real and the government has it and they received it because the people said that they have it and B 40% said there's no such thing as authority vested in humanity Authority is an illusion it's a false claim I'm impressed with this result that that many people think that Authority is illusory but still of course more than half believe that it is real I would probably suggest that this is a skewed result toward the positive and that probably it's more close to it something like seventy five twenty five or seventy thirty if that okay so yeah maybe 8020 is probably a little more accurate in the world at large and that that makes kind of sense to me to say that it's probably 8020 because if you look at the dynamics involved in the American Revolution about two out of ten people really supported independence and breaking free from the quote authority of a psychopathic King we might groan gotten one more person out of five to accept that notion maybe two out of five people think that I don't know I tend to look at that this might be a little bit too on the positive side to be true I I might be more inclined to agree that it's about 30% but there's the pie chart on slide number five is Authority real and legitimate sixty percent still think authority is legitimate with forty percent saying no is it is an illusion it is only a false claim moving on to the next slide slide number six this is question number four choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking hey all human beings have the same rights no one has any special powers or abilities that give them any more rights than anyone else rights are inherent and as such new rights cannot be invented and granted by some people to other people or be some human beings have rights that others do not when certain people enter specific institutions like government military and police they receive rights to do certain things that the public does not have the right to do so do we all have the same rights or are there supermen who have special rights they get to they get granted rights that don't exist for others okay so slide number seven shows the pie chart between this breakdown only three out of four people believe we all have the same rights a full one out of four people on earth or at least in this study which i think is pretty representative of the accurate dynamic that's taking place in people's minds one in four people believe that no certain people have special rights I would say that's probably try to say it's actually really more than that I would say you know we're probably it's probably at about half and half this is probably skewed toward the positive but overall somewhat of an encouraging result that at least we have 75% of people who believe everybody has the same rights and again you have to wonder about that because people are mostly moral relativist so what does that mean in their mind you know they don't really know the objective difference between a right and a wrong next slide slide number eight choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a if every single person on earth except one man agreed that it was okay to steal property or possessions from that man and then they stole from him their action would be acceptable because after all every person except only one agreed that it was okay B if every single person on earth except one man agreed that it was okay to steal from that man and then they stole from him their action would be unacceptable it does not matter how many people agree that something wrong is okay it still remains morally wrong this is the only response that we got a hundred percent one hundred percent of people said B it's still morally wrong to steal from somebody even if everybody agrees to it and I am calling on this response and I'm calling because I believe people say that that's what they think but in practice they don't really live that they think that people have a right to steal that's called government with taxation so again people are in total cognitive dissonance so the pie chart of course there's no real need for it's a hundred percent but he's on slide number nine what we were asking is can majority approval turned wrong into right one hundred percent say that they think no that can't be done that rights are rights wrongs are wrongs and you can't turn a right into a wrong or wrong into a right you can't turn it wrong into a right at least okay I think that's a total answer I think they're lying to themselves and to others and the proof of it is on slide number ten the mental schism or cognitive dissonance that is shown between these two answers okay last week we asked people is taxation moral or immoral in week number three and over half of them say yes it's moral and you could say well then they don't know that taxation is theft okay that they don't know that this is this is morally wrong and they think that it's morally acceptable so there's this schism here between people who think that it's moral and fifth that's 53% of response in the question from week number three but here in week four we're saying can majority approval which is what voting taxation into law or agreeing to taxation through government is that's majority approval you're saying well the government says that we're allowed to do this they've voted they voted it they've made laws on it and now they're gonna send enforcers out to do this immoral activity well that makes it moral okay they passed it into law so there are they're allowed to do it we have to obey it that people don't really believe that majority approval cannot turn or wrong into a right they believe it can this is proof of it this is proof that they're in cognitive dissonance that they say one thing but they actually believe another you can't say that you believe that majority approval cannot turn or wrong into a right on one hand and then on the other hand say you believe taxation is moral the two things are antithetical to each other in reality but yet that's what people claim next slide slide number 11 this is question number 6 choose a set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a if something is legal that means that it is moral and therefore it would be okay to do that behavior if something is illegal that means that it is immoral and therefore it would not be okay to do that behavior when determining whether or not to perform an action someone should first make sure that it is legal and if it is not they should not do it or be just because something is legal does not necessarily mean that it is moral likewise just because something is illegal does not necessarily make it immoral whether or not someone should partake in a particular behavior should be judged on the basis of whether or not it causes harm to someone else not whether it is legal or not now again we got a very very imbalanced result on this with 95% of the responses answering be that legality does not necessarily equate to morality and illegality does not necessarily equate to immorality now again you would imagine this is a very very positive response and slide number 12 shows the pie chart between this breakdown we're asking this legal equal moral and illegal equal immoral ninety-five percent said no that's not necessarily true what we're only five percent said yes if it's legal its moral and if it's illegal it's immoral those are equivalents but do I really believe that and no I don't and then we're gonna prove it and the next question is actually going to prove it that I believe that this is a answer on the part of the respondents and that they're lying not only to themselves but to the person asking them that question this isn't how they really think that's what they say they think and they're liars they're deliberately lying or they're believing in their own mind that they think this way when their actions betray what they say they think and we'll prove this momentarily slide number thirteen question seven choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a if someone considered a particularly immoral for the reason that it punished people for doing something that did not cause harm to anyone else in other words a victimless quote crime that person would still be under obligation meaning moral obligation I probably should have put the word moral in there they would still be under obligation to obey at law until they could find a way to get it changed to change that law or be victimless quote crimes are no crimes at all if someone is not being harmed by a particular behavior then that behavior is a right and no one would be under any moral obligation to obey a law that prohibited that behavior the responses sixty two point five percent of people say a that regardless of whether a behavior is harming someone else if it's prohibited by law someone would still be under moral obligation to obey that law until they could find a way to change it 62 point five percent said that whereas only thirty seven percent of people say no one is under any moral obligation to obey a law that prohibits a behavior that does not harm anybody else or in other words victimless crime laws like prohibition for example okay so this is proof proof that the answer in the previous question does legal equal moral and illegal equal immoral on the part of the respondents is total so slide number fifteen showing the results of question seven do people have a moral obligation to obey laws that would punish them for committing victimless quote so-called crimes and there's the breakdown via the pie chart so let's look at this in juxtaposed to the earlier question slide number fifteen the mental schism or the cognitive dissonance that is involved here the earlier question ninety-five percent of people in the last question just said that legal does not necessarily mean moral and illegal does not necessarily mean immoral yet in this question they insist that someone would still be under a moral obligation to obey a law that prohibits behavior that doesn't harm anybody you would still have to obey the Arty's which this is proof moreso of how many people believe in authority so again when you had a 60/40 split of people who believed in authority yeah it's probably somewhat accurate at least in the people who are asked answering this question there they're showing you this is how they really think the the pie chart on the right is how people really think the pie chart on the left is a lie it's what they want to tell people how they really think but they're full of they're lying to themselves that's what cognitive dissonance is next slide slide number 16 question number 8 choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a it is sensible to me that a particular behavior could be legal in one state or country and illegal in another state or country people in different states or countries get to determine what behaviors are right or wrong and make their own laws according to their preferences likewise a particular behavior such as alcohol manufacturing and consumption during the Prohibition period in the 1920s could change over time from legal to illegal in the same state or country and then become an act that could be punishable under law or be it makes no logical sense to me that a particular behavior could be considered a moral act in one state or country and an immoral act or behavior in another state or country or that a behavior could change over time from being considered moral to immoral or vice versa from immoral to moral if something is right it is right everywhere and at all times if something is wrong it is wrong everywhere at all times the fact that human beings believe that they can change or right into a wrong or a wrong into a right with the stroke of a pen is both nonsensical and pompous the responses which again I think are pretty much lies 60% of people chose be that that doesn't make sense to them and 40% chose a so again not too much of a imbalance here a 60/40 split on slide number 17 you see the pie chart breakdown what we were really asking here is the moral relativism that is inherent to man's law right and sensible and again I would suggest it's probably really the other way around probably over two thirds of people believe that really it is sensible but in this question we're getting 60 percent saying no it's not sensible and 40 percent agreeing yes I have no problem with moral relativism that is contained within man's law very discouraging result moving on to slide number 18 and the result of this is really truly unbelievable which we'll see in a moment but we ask people in question number nine here on slide number 18 what is the first single word that comes to your mind when you hear the phrase no rulers no masters and I'm going to explain a little bit more in depth on one of the particular responses we got here on this slide now no rulers no masters I was expecting overwhelmingly to receive the response freedom so when you say no rulers no masters to most people they come back with a single word freedom okay which is true here that's the result we got forty percent said the word freedom 22.5% the next most popular response came back as anarchy now most people don't know what the word anarchy truly means which is freedom which is no rulers no masters hence freedom hence no slavery okay so I needed to break this down into how many people really understood the real meaning of Anarchy versus how many people were saying anarchy and meaning a different meaning for the word okay so under this um break down here underneath the number nine which is how many people responded saying Anarchy comprising 22 point five percent of the total responses to this question the breakdown was six two and one meaning six people in the next question which was what does anarchy mean we're going to get to that in a minute said that it meant chaos two people said that it meant free or freedom one person gave a response that was nonsensical and had nothing to do with what anarchy really is it was neither what people think that it is which is chaos or what it really is which is freedom or the absence of rulers or the absence of slavery so that's the result the breakdown six two and one so we'll keep that in mind in a moment the people who said no rulers no masters the third most popular result believe it or not was the word chaos think about this folks we asked people what the first word the first single word that comes to their mind when they hear the phrase no rulers no masters nobody ruling anybody else nobody claiming to be the master over anybody else therefore nobody being subject to anybody else nobody being a slave to anyone else and the people eight people forming twenty percent of the responses to this question said that the phrase no rulers no masters to them means chaos that is 100% pure slave think that is total slave think no rulers no masters means chaos to people unbelievable and sickening rounding out the responses 22.5% we had equality false finally insane nature nothing and school okay some of these responses make no sense but a couple I really want to quote on false you know that oh that could never be true no rulers no masters false okay well more maybe they're saying that's the state today the human condition today but the the response in this little in this section comprising one person giving this response I think sometimes we always in a group get that one psychopath he said where he or she said no rulers no masters means insanity think about this it's not just chaos it is insanity to think that there can never be a state where there is no rulers no masters you are insane for even suggesting it for even putting that phrase together no rulers no masters that phrase to him equates with insanity and you know what that proves to me not not that I think or is my opinion it proves to me definitively definitely objectively that person is insane that's an insane person very insane that person is completely broken broken okay so you know maybe if the students to the class are listening if you want to find that person if you know who it was who gave that that comment because I could imagine that would probably make an impression on your mind and you remember who said that you could have that talk with them and tell them no it is they who are insane I'm telling them that they are I can prove that they are and that is in fact their true mental condition and you could tell them I said it okay because that person is broken meaning both they are completely screwed up and they are a slave meaning broken like a horse gets broken or a mule gets broken okay they're broken and they need help they need help the only thing that can help them is the truth and to take it in a big way in their life and to get their burnt brain healed because that's what that person has a burnt brain let me tell you something you want to prove it go and pay to have a SPECT scan done to your brain and they'll show you what your brain looks like and believe me you won't like what you find out because your brain is broken insane no rulers no masters equates with insane I mean you have to be kidding me the pie chart breakdown for this question is on slide number 19 the first single word that comes to your mind when you hear the phrase no rulers no masters however what I'm gonna do in the next slide on slide 20 is I'm going to present a modified pie chart breakdown because I'm taking the word anarchy here comprising 22.5% on slide 19 this orange pop piece of the pie and I'm breaking it down into its constituent six to one how many people said it meant chaos how many people said it meant freedom which was two and then how many people gave another response to what anarchy meant so we're only going to have three responses freedom chaos or other responses okay I hope people understand what I've done on this next slide by that explanation so moving on to slide 20 we have these three breakdowns total other responses twenty percent the two biggest responses what there's no rulers no masters mean freedom was the number one response which should be the number one response it should really be a hundred percent forty five percent and then second response the second most popular response to what the phrase no rulers no masters means is chaos to people in their minds if that's not one of the most incredibly disturbing social experiment results that you have heard I don't know what would disturb you people believe that the absence of rulership and slavery over other people equates to chaos that there has to be slavery in order for there to be order this is what people think thirty five percent of people think that I mean that's utter shock utter dismay and utter horror that this is how screwed up mentally people are in this world and in how much help they need to rebuild their brain and their mind and their soul their broken individuals their broken me meaning that they are literally physically psychologically mentally broken down and that means that they are enslaved broken is to break an animal means to enslave it to your will and that's what these people are the people who say no the condition of no roars and no masters meaning no slavery means chaos you are a broken person you are broken being it's unbelievable I mean I'd like to I'd like to the people who did this homework assignment if they can get people to listen to this podcast the people who gave these responses I'd love that for you to try to get them to hear this podcast the people from the natural law seminar the first one the students take this podcast to people and let them hear this I want them to know I'm saying this about them this is what the great work is it's showing people how broken they are and with that they need to heal you are in need of healing there is something wrong with you it's not acceptable for you to remain in this condition you need help and again the way that you need help is to receive truth and there is a truth no masters no rulers means freedom that's the right answer it's not a matter of opinion it's not subjective that's what it means it means nobody's ruling over anybody else there's no slavery that's called by definition freedom this is how little understanding people have of the basic meaning of words it's not my opinion it's the way it is it's what is it's not my opinion next slide slide number 12 slide number 21 what is the first single word that comes to your mind when you hear the word anarchy this is question 10 of course as predicted with one half of the total responses chaos is the response chaos disorder mayhem lawlessness breakdown and rioting chaos you can just group that all under that one word the absence of rulers or masters which is what the word honor key means to people means chaos and that's probably about the right response that's about right where it's at fifty percent actually me think that that condition means chaos the people who gave the correct answer freedom liberty sovereignty amazingly some person wrote down sovereignty for the answer of that question I was very impressed but people wrote down freedom but look at the response twenty responding and saying it means chaos only five said it meant freedom for a total of twelve point five percent rebellion or uprising 7.5 percent slavery and control think about this folks the exact opposite of what it means the polar opposite two people said slavery and control for what anarchy means to them they said anarchy and they said the first word that comes to their mind is slavery five percent five percent said it means government is the exact opposite of that it means absence of rulers hence no government absence of masters hence no slavery five percent of responses government with 2.5 percent each fight injustice not only where people get that here's mister psychopath again saying insane that Anarchy means insanity okay obviously a total totalitarian authoritarian and a broken slave a house slave let's just call that person what they are okay that's called a house slave that's what that person is it's not my opinion of what they are and I'm not making an ad hominem attack it's not an ad hominem attack I'm calling them a name but it's the truth about what they are somebody who believes that Anarchy meaning the state of the absence of slavery is insanity by definition is someone who who considers so greatly so definitely that there must be slavery that they can only be a house slave they're the perfect golem the perfectly possessed and perfectly destroyed individual whose soul has been completely destroyed that's what that person is to say insane is the first word that comes to their mind when they hear the word anarchy so anybody the things there shouldn't be slavery in the world is insane huh we're gonna find out aren't we we're gonna find out in the post governmental world just how insane the interactions are between people who believe that this form of slavery should continue and those who know that it's illegitimate and are gonna make it stop they're not just going to say they disagree with it at some point it's going to be made to end other responses to this question where nothing writes sons there's that TV show thinking again you know just like Sovereign Bank that response sons of anarchy it's the first word they think of because they're a TV head violence and then chaos I'm sorry and Yahoo which is kind of a cool little response there you know so anyway let's move on to the next slide which is the pie chart breakdown of this question slide number 22 question number 10 what do you think of when you hear the word anarchy 50% saying chaos 12% with the correct 12.5 with the correct answer of freedom government slavery and rebellion rounding out the rest of the chart and other responses forming 20% next slide slide number 23 choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking and again very appropriate that this is slide number 23 asking people is government necessary or not okay which is obviously what they have to understand in order to get out of the mind control 23 being really meaning in the occult to get out of mind-control if a if there was no government there would be chaos human beings could not live peacefully amongst each other without government they would never be able to find voluntary ways of interacting with each other without government government is a necessary institution B government does not prevent chaos from manifesting left to themselves people can use their minds to innovate and find voluntary ways of interacting with each other without government government is unnecessary and human beings would get along just fine without it let's look at the responses sixty two point five percent of people believe government must continue it is a necessary institution and there would be chaos without it thirty-seven point five percent said no we don't need it it's not necessary we human beings could get along and find ways of interacting with each other peacefully without government which of course I agree with slide number twenty four shows the pie chart breakdown with obviously over just about two-thirds of people believing that government is necessary and must continue to exist and they believe it's necessary to prevent chaos when in fact that's the dynamic that's keeping chaos in place because it's based on coercion of free will and ultimately violence and ultimately slavery so what these people are saying the response that they're giving and I believe it is an honest one these sixty two point five percent of people are saying government violence and slavery violence and slavery must continue in order to prevent chaos actually the exact opposite is true violence and slavery are chaos and can never prevent that dynamic by believing in this your continuing violence and slavery through continuing government cuz that's what it is it's violence and slavery so that's that response let's move on to question number twelve on slide number twenty five true or false it is right and virtue for certain people such as soldiers and police officers to follow orders of other people in the performance of their job so is following orders of virtue it's what we're really asking 47.5% say yes it is virtuous to follow orders in certain institutions it is virtuous to just follow orders and act without thinking if you're given an order do it follow it that's it that's virtuous 52.5% said no that's false it is not virtuous to follow orders unthinkingly and we're going to see the mental schism that comes up with this in a moment slide number 26 question 13 if person a ordered person B to commit a harmful act against person C so we have a triangle here we have an order giver an order follower and a victim of the order follower okay so person a orders person B to commit a harmful act against person C which person would be more morally culpable for the harm that resulted to person C response a is person a would be more morally culpable because because he was the one who gave the order response B is person B would be more morally culpable for the resultant harm to person C because he was the one who actually carried out the order and did the action we had a 70/30 breakdown with 70% saying person be the order follower is more morally culpable than the order giver I think this is an encouraging response I think we need to get it up to a hundred percent it's the correct answer that the order follower is always more morally culpable than the order giver because for the reason that he is the one who actually carries out the behavior and therefore is responsible for the resultant arm they're both responsible but the order follower is always more morally culpable so question I'm sorry slide number 27 shows the breakdown on a pie chart who is more morally culpable the order giver or the order follower 70% saying the order follower is more morally culpable good response but we need to get that up to a hundred percent and again let's look at the mental schism with this an earlier question okay the cognitive dissonance involved who's more morally culpable an order giver or an order follower 70 percent say well of course the order followers more morally culpable but then in the same breath they're saying that order following is a virtue 47 percent of people believe order following is a virtue so how can you have almost half of people believe order following is a virtue okay and then think well somebody shouldn't really act on an order and then go and commit harm well if order following is a virtue right then how could you possibly say that the order follower is actually responsible for his own actions it was virtuous for him to follow the order right well which is it was it virtuous for him to follow the order of person 8 and then go harm person C or wasn't it virtuous was what he did wrong and he should have judged the action based on whether it was going to cause harm or not total cognitive dissonance inherent in these responses look at the next slide slide 29 question 14 choose the set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking again this is going to have to do with order following a military officials and police officers are not always personally responsible for certain things which they do because if they are following orders as part of a chain of command I'm sorry because they are following orders as part of a chain of command I have another error in this slide I got to take the word if out of there in the question again you won't see that because I'll correct that before I post these slides to the website therefore the responsible therefore the responsibility for any harm that might be caused by them ultimately rests with their commanding officers okay so we're saying that here the order follower isn't necessarily responsible for their behavior that the order giver is more responsible be every human being is always personally responsible for their own actions an individual regardless of their job cannot be absolved of personal responsibility just because they were following orders of someone else in a chain of command the person who followed those orders is still personally responsible for any harm that they may have caused by taking those actions so the personal responsibility always belongs to the individual 82.5 percent said be we are always personally responsible for our own behavior 17.5% said a that police and military aren't responsible for their behavior because they're following orders the Nuremberg defense in other words we're just following our orders we're just doing our job it doesn't matter who we harm in the process had to do it because we were given an order and we're mindless automaton drone robots that can't make freewill decisions but they about their behavior based on knowledge of right versus wrong and whether someone was harmed by the action or not no we just we are commanded and we do like good little robots and seven almost 18 percent agree with that which is again more cognitive dissonance if people really believed that they were responsible for their own behavior how could 18 percent of people say well people could just get to act on orders and that's right this pie charts broken down in slide number 30 we need to get this to a hundred percent that means 18 percent almost one in five people believe certain people aren't responsible for their own behavior you can look at this and say well it's a great result most of this chart is green in all honesty look at it from the half the glass half-empty side almost one in five people believe that people aren't responsible for their own behavior even if it results in harm to other people because they're following orders slide number 31 shows the mental schism here the cognitive dissonance our individuals responsible for their own actions while 82% of people say yes they are and then again into question a couple questions ago 47% believed that order following is a virtue how can that possibly be if you believe people need to be responsible for their own behavior and 80 almost 83 percent say that's true the people are responsible for their own behavior how could for almost half think that order following is virtuous it makes no sense it's it's lying to oneself now what do i think is the true response I think this half and half response here with 40 almost 48 percent saying order following as a virtue that's probably the correct the honest answer the the non honest answer is I think more than seventeen point five percent believe people aren't truly responsible for their own behavior it would have to be closer aligned to this half number this forty seven point five percent number in the chart to the right because if you believe order following is a virtue it means it's good you should do it and then you can't possibly be responsible for what you did because you were acting on orders which was a virtue next slide slide number 32 choose a set of statements which most closely resembles your own thinking a human beings have the natural right to defend themselves from violence with physical force if someone is conducting violence against someone else the person being victimized possesses the right to stop that person from doing them harm with any amount of necessary force up to an including deadly force be human beings do not have the natural right to defend themselves from violence with physical force if someone is conducting violence against someone else the person being victimizes possesses I'm sorry does not possess the right to stop that person from doing harm to them with force that's what we have police for so do people have a natural inherent right to defend themselves from violence with the physical usage of force eighty seven point five percent says yes 12.5% said no again somewhat encouraging response but you still have 12 and a half percent of people thinking that there is no inherent right to defend yourself these are people who would say if someone comes up and commits violence to you you have no right to respond with force to put down that act of aggression all you can do is try to run or to ask them to stop or call a cop imagine imagine that but it's encouraging at least that were close to 90 percent that we do have that right the pie chart is shown on image number 33 the breakdown do individuals have the right to defend themselves against violence with physical force and there's the breakdown next slide slide number 34 the last two questions is question number 16 true or false personal ownership of firearms for defensive purposes is an inherent and inalienable human right seventy-five percent say yes that's true we do have the unalienable inherent right to defend ourselves and own firearms 25 percent however said no so again partially positive because three out of four people believe and no I would say that that's a right that the right to defend oneself is a right and therefore the ownership of firearms which makes that possible is an unalienable human right but think about it folks 1 out of 4 people believe there's no right to own guns 1 out of 4 people believe there's no right to own guns to defend oneself from violence with the physical measure of force that a gun makes possible 25 percent of people think that that's not a right and would like to have all guns taken from everybody I'll bet you those same people would say it's a right of government that they have right that they're other people don't have the government's have special rights that their own people don't have they're made of people they get special rights granted to them they're allowed own weapons these this asinine quarter of people one quart one-fourth of human beings would say and they would say but the rest of people they're just they're just mortals they don't they're not allowed own guns only our gods are masters can own guns it's called slave think and it shows you where how many people are there in total slave think a full one in four people on earth and again I would suggest that's probably a very accurate result if we took this to global numbers it's probably it's probably more because I mean you're asking this in America where guns are a big part of American culture I mean you go you go out to you know countries in the Middle East you go out to countries in and in the Far East and you forget about it this result will be even worse so globally that it's probably closer to half and half which is very disturbing the next slide the final slide for this presentation slide number 35 on section number 4 question number 17 true or false human slavery has been abolished and this practice does not continue in our society it's been eradicated 90% say that is false that human slavery is ongoing only 10 percent say yes we've completely wiped out human slavery now I would like to clarify that and ask them which I we didn't get a chance to but are you talking about like child kidnapping rings and you know drug smuggling rings and things like that you know prostitution rings or are we talking about humanity as a whole being enslave being kept as a slave species you know do you think slavery is ongoing in human society in general or just in isolated pockets okay and I would suggest that this result most people are talking about these isolated pockets of hard slavery you know shackled slavery physical physically keeping people against their will and making them you know perform sex acts or taking them to other countries to service and you know a rich elite in sex slavery rings or you know get them to run drugs and get them to you know participate in all kinds of allah other illicit activity because these are psychopathic rich elite class of people like you know want people at their disposal and pay their henchmen to kidnap people a certain amount of people and bring them to them through these human trafficking schemes i would suggest that's what they're really talking about here not overall human slavery but a somewhat positive result that at least 90 percent of people think that no we need to do more work as a species and get rid of slavery for good I wish they would really understand that the entire human species is being held under the conditions of slavery and that form of slavery is called government and there's men much mental slavery that is being conducted against the human race and I would say that that is called religion and government there are two forms of slavery and until we eradicate both of those world religions there's of course another world religion you know I'm talking about the big religions you have the universal I'm so you have the geographic or cultural religions like Christianity Islam Judaism etc you have then the big two religions the universal religions that are even above cultural religions okay or in other words the old religions the old religions you know where cultural I identified religions such as the world religions that we know of the two big religions are government and money with I would say authority or authority and money you could say the belief in authority and the belief in money I would say the belief in authority is number two and the belief in money is number one that's the world religion that's the most overarching world religion that has most people under that form of mind control more than any other dynamic until we get out of all of this mind control through getting out of the belief in all of these religions such as authority money etc don't expect real freedom and if any of the responses here or all or all of them taken in the aggregate and understood if you can really grasp the results that you're seeing here are any indication humanity is no where near attaining true freedom in the manifested world as long as the thinking continues the way you've seen it portrayed in the answers to these social experiments as long as it continues according to the dynamics that we are seeing here in the result of these homework assignments it is an impossibility for freedom to manifest only when you change what is going on in the mind can you change the results that are taking place in the external domain that we call the physical world until you address those underlying causal factors in mind don't expect anything to change in the external manifestation I don't put this these results here to discourage frightened or dissuade anyone from continuing to learn the truth and do the great work of bringing the truth to other people I do this to show you what your work is and how far we have to go yet so don't be discouraged move through those feelings of discouragement and develop the courage and the will to press on and actually do that work because you might wake somebody up who really activates themselves and they have a lot of Drive and they reach a lot of people and then you never know who they wake up and then the process moves out in a fractal dynamic pattern from that point forward and maybe we can actually start reaching real numbers that are indicative of make of making a true quantum shift in the way that our reality is manifesting so that's all for today's presentation I hope you've enjoyed the results of these homework assignments and I hope it brings some clarity to people about where people really are at where they are truly at in their consciousness and what our work remains to do remember ladies and gentlemen there are only two mistakes that one can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you next time on what on earth is happening thanks for listening

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Mark Pascoe [Music] I have come here to chew bubblegum and end slavery and I'm all out of bubblegum welcome one and all you're listening - what on earth is happening right here on the Republic Broadcasting Network I'm your host mark passio my web site what on earth is happening calm the networks website of course Republic broadcasting org and it is great to be here live on the airwaves once again it's been a long time I haven't done a live radio show since January 20th of 2013 and my last pre-recorded podcast was way back on August 31st of 2013 so it's been quite a while I want to thank a few people for making this possible the first and foremost is Bob Tuscan for assisting me to get on the the Republic Broadcasting Network and recommending my name I want to thank johnstad Miller Michael powers and the whole crew at rbn for doing a great job and continuing to do what they do best and that's put quality radio on the airwaves so I want to welcome all the new listeners who may not be familiar with me or my work and I want to give you a little bit of background information about what I do and how I conduct the show usually so the first thing to keep in mind is that this is not show number one of what on earth is happening this is just show number one of what on earth is happening in its new incarnation here on Republic broadcasting this show has been going on for years and it is a tapestry of information that really needs to be understood in its fullness as a whole so for new listeners I highly recommend that you go to my website at what on earth is happening comm and go back to podcast number one on the podcasts page of my website and listen to the shows forward in order without skipping around that's how you'll get the most value out of this show that's how you'll get the the biggest picture will emerge in your mind and your worldview it is possible for it to change as a result of listening to that those broadcasts in order without skipping around from number one so that's how I want to open up the show and explain to people that's how you're gonna get the most value from this podcast and I'll periodically remind people of that so I want to make a few announcements about like what I've been doing because again for people who have been just familiar with my broadcasts I haven't been broadcasting in a while I've been doing some other work of course I had the natural law seminar back in the summer and that went really well my last podcast that I did back in August was about the the homework assignments that we gave for that natural law seminar here in Philadelphia that I gave to the students we collected a whole bunch of information and data about what people are thinking in their mind we asked them questions philosophical questions questions about what they perceive to be going on in the world and I covered that in the last podcast 144 on my website and that's that was back in in this summer now since then I've been doing a lot of live presenting so after that I did another natural law seminar but it was an all-day one-day seminar that was tailored it was shortened and tailored to be recorded and then put online and that was done in New Haven Connecticut back on October 19th and art Capozzi and Chris Capote put that together and I want to thank those gentlemen for doing a great job hosting that event and Richard Grove and the entire tragedy and hope team from tragedy and hope com recorded that broadcast recorded that seminar and they did a phenomenal job recording and editing it and that has been posted to the web a few months about a little over a month back and that is on my videos section of my website I consider that one-day seminar the probably the most important and crucial that I have ever put out into the world and for people who are not familiar with my work I highly recommend to go to my website to go to the videos page it's the first three videos under the videos page and I highly recommend watching that seminar in its entirety I'm very happy with the way it all turned out happy with the way that I put it together and delivered it and I think it's been very impactful and a lot of other websites have picked up on that site picked up on that video and shared it on their site as well so really happy with the way that came out once again thanks to art Capozzi and his brother Chris and Richard Grove and the whole tragedy and hope team for making that possible I also spoke back in December December 12th in Philadelphia I delivered a presentation called cosmic abandonment that was a really I guess you could describe it as this was an advanced class this was for people who already understand the details of the control system and how mind control works topics that we talk about here constantly on this show and it was for people who already grasped all of those things and want to go further in their understanding about why this is the case and why the human condition is the way it is we're going to be talking about that moving forward on the on this show and the future what on earth is happening broadcasts but this presentation cosmic abandonment was also recorded it is on the videos section of my website and I want to thank Chris Augustine from the Philadelphia UFO meetup group here in Philly for making that possible and hosting me as part of that event back in December of 2013 on January 11th of this year just over a month ago I presented at the second annual Tesla memorial conference that was hosted by the Tesla Science Foundation I a great group of people that I work with who are committed to making free energy manifesting in our world and a furthering the the science and the philosophy of Nikola Tesla and you could check them out at Tesla Science Foundation or great group they hosted a Tesla memorial count for on the memorial of Tesla's death at The New Yorker Hotel in New York City I delivered a presentation there that was called free energy from suppression to manifestation question mark and I explained to the free energy movement in that at that conference that if we're gonna make free energy manifest if it's going to manifest free energy technology is going to manifest in a way that is truly beneficial for Humanity that that is unfortunately impossible to achieve while human slavery remains the condition slavery must be ended first before free energy can manifest that's what this presentation that I delivered at the Tesla Science Foundation's latest conference was all about you can check out that video also that's a short one that's only about maybe half an hour or so long that's up on my website at what on earth is happening as well in the videos section I want to send thanks out to Ivan Iola jr. from Phoenix Arizona he is the head of the the organizer of the freer mine Arizona group and he's been hosting this weekend a - a free two-day viewing event it's a free screening of my natural law seminar actually earlier today he hosted part one and two in Phoenix and tomorrow Sunday February 23rd he's going to be hosting part three of my natural law seminar presentation that's going to be taking place 1:15 p.m. at the Cesar Chavez Public Library in Phoenix out in Arizona that's it 36:35 west baseline road Phoenix Arizona we'll be right back after this break folks don't go anywhere [Music] [Music] [Music] [Laughter] [Music] alright folks we are back you're listening to what on earth is happening and I'm mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm I was talking about some projects that I've been working on since the last time I was broadcasting and I was thanking some people that were involved in those projects and for making them happen and I want to talk about some upcoming shows that I'm gonna be interviewed on I'll be interviewed on starborn support this is going to be happening on Sunday February 23rd that's tomorrow evening from 8 o'clock p.m. Eastern to 10 p.m. Eastern you could find starborn supports website at blogtalkradio.com/ropeadoperadio this is going to be part two of a two-part interview and I'll be posting the first part probably later on this evening or tomorrow during the day to my website you could check out that at wolf spirit radio calm next week's show here on what on earth is happening again this is a gonna be a weekly show here on Republic broadcasting from 9 p.m. to 12 a.m. Central time and Eastern Time it's 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. Eastern so next week on the show I'm going to bring on a very special guest Jay Parker Jay is a satanic ritual abuse survivor and we're gonna come on and just talk about everything that's going on in today's world and get Jays take on you know some solutions as well so Jay Parker coming up next week on what on earth is happening I will be giving a live seminar on all day seminar on Saturday March 22nd 2014 in Asheville North Carolina the topic is going to be new a bs also you could check out my previous New Age BS presentations on my videos page of what on earth is happening calm this one is going to be called New Age BS and the suppression of the sacred masculine revisited with even more New Age deceptions exposed for people that know me they know I'm no new ager I talk about what I call streetwise spirituality this is the new term that I want to coined for what I do I come up here and I talk about street wise spirituality not seeing the world through rose-colored glasses but telling it like it is unapologetically even if feathers have to be ruffled and some people get offended so it's not a new-age approach by any stretch of the imagination and people will get the feel for might act as you know this broadcast continues another broadcast continue so this is going to be taking place Saturday March 22nd 2014 at the Lexington Avenue brewery 39 North Lexington Avenue in Asheville North Carolina I as you know explaining to the new age community there's this seminar what it's really about is asking them are they really awake are they really awake and aware or are they just in a spiritual trap that's designed to make them think that they're truly awakened aware okay and again this is about streetwise spirituality and it's about exposing the New Age movement as a religion that's been deliberately created and designed to prevent humanity from developing a deep understanding of natural law and this is the only understanding that can really help us to break out of our current condition of slavery and become truly free we'll be talking about natural law a little bit later I'm going to expose a lot of subtle New Age deceptions in this seminar and you know these are teachings that have really been disguised as spiritual teachings they're so-called teachings but really they're deceptions and they're very subtly put forward by the new-age community I'm gonna expose 15 New Age deceptions and in this seminar and then I'm going to offer Corrections that I'm going to convey in which I'm going to convey deeper spiritual truths to balance each of these new-age deceptions so if you've been lured into what I call the feel-good spirituality of the New Age movement this is going to be a presentation if you're in the Asheville area you're not going to want to miss you need to see this to understand how you're being deceived by the new-age community by the New Age movement I should say so once again Lexington Avenue brewery in Asheville North Carolina Saturday March 22nd the doors open at 9 a.m. advance tickets are only seven dollars very reasonably priced by the host Carolyn who I want to very much thank for putting this all together you can also call eight to eight seven eight two zero eight four zero four tickets advance tickets are $7 once again that number is eight two eight seven eight two zero eight four zero or you can email I walk with purpose at gmail.com once again that email address for advanced tickets at advanced ticket requests to this seminar in Asheville North Carolina I walk with purpose at gmail.com at the door prices for people who don't get their tickets in advance will only be ten dollars just a three dollar markup so very very reasonably priced seminar I hope people can a lot of people can make it out so those are my announcements I have want one other quick thing to announce today is the fifth day of a 10-day juice fast that I am doing with my partner barb we're both doing a 10-day juice fast nothing but freshly juiced raw organic juice from fruits and vegetables for ten days to clean the system to detox and reboot the the gastrointestinal system and the digestive system so while on the first couple of days of this juice fast which again Barb and I are doing together for 10 days I made a decision it was going so well and it still is going so well I feel really great I feel really clear I feel really energetic I've decided that I'm going to extend my juice fast for 30 days I know this can sound somewhat extreme to some people but what this is going to do is give my system a chance to reboot for people who don't know I have type I have diabetes I have type what is known as 1.5 type 1.5 diabetes it's the rarest kind it's neither type 1 which is childhood diabetes childhood onset juvenile diabetes as they call it nor is it type 2 which is adult onset of diabetes it is an in-between type they call it a latent juvenile diabetes or they call it a adult onset of juvenile diabetes so this is termed type 1.5 or adult onset juvenile diabetes this came on when I was in my early 30s I'm now 39 years old and I'm tired of living with diabetes I don't enjoy it I don't enjoy having to stick myself to test my blood I don't enjoy having to take insulin shots every now and again when my blood sugar goes high I'm going to try to defeat it for good and doing some research into juice fasting it is possible to completely cure diabetes while people will tell you that that's impossible you can do it through a reboot of the gastrointestinal system and a digestive system through a juice fast lasting 30 days now I'm taking precautions with this I'm doing a lot of research when I do this I'm getting only the top quality fruits and vegetables to do this and again the juice fast is just freshly squeezed or freshly juiced I juice from an auger juicer a single auger juicer organic fruits and vegetables you could also drink of course water and herbal teas only on the fast so wish me luck hopefully I'll be able to announce at the conclusion of it that it was successful and maybe months after the conclusion of this 30-day test I'll finish now cannon or diabetes is going completely and free and stay with us everyone we'll be right back [Music] Oh [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio so I was going through some announcements I want to give the call-in number for tonight's show the callin number is eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again the calling number 800 three one three ninety four forty three you can call in and get in the queue now I'm going to try to take some calls in the third hour of today's broadcast so what I want to the plan for today's show is I want to explain to people what I've been doing for people who are new to the show and give a very brief review in the second hour I want to cover some new material or reasonably new material people may have heard me talk about it before in presentations and on other shows but I want to really talk about what underlies the human condition the psychological dynamics that are going on inside of people that are really contributing to what we're experiencing here on earth in the form of slavery so that's gonna be coming up in our number two and today's topic is going to be abandonment issue issues psychological parental abandonment issues so for people who aren't aware of how I add visual imagery to the show to the live broadcast what I do is I make slides that accompany each show it's like a presentation that you would see someone give live like in a presentation room and I post the slides on my website on the radio show page so if you go - what on earth is happening calm and you click on the radio show tab of that website underneath the player for the live broadcast you will have a section called images for tonight's show that will be there when I am live okay and you can click on the images the numbers of the images that I'm talking on to follow along with the slides as I am referencing them and referring to them this will add a lot of visual imagery to the topics and the concepts that I talk about okay and it will help to solidify those and hammer them home that's why I add that imagery as part of the live broadcast the imagery is then copied to the podcast page when I archive the show on my website in the podcast section okay so you can also get what all past presentation images or slide images that go along with each podcast on the website on the podcast page so with that having been said those are all the announcements and instructions that I really have I want to jump into the show for tonight so let's go to slide number one that is on the water on earth is happening comm radio show page of course this is the title of the show and it's the title card or the title image image for the water on earth is happening website when I conceived of doing of speaking out and doing a radio show way back when I first started public speaking I came up with the name water on earth is happening for what I do because I wanted to try to explain to people what's going on here on this planet you'll notice that the name of the show and the name of my website does not have a question mark it's not at me asking the question what on earth is happening this is my attempt to convey my understanding of what is taking place on this planet to other people and the big difference about what I do that's I feel sets this show apart from what other radio show hosts do is I don't focus all of my time talking about the symptoms talking about the expressions or the manifestations of the illness that we are experiencing here as humanity that we call the human condition okay we could describe the prison for ever and ever and ever that we are in what really needs to be done in order to free ourselves from our self-imposed slavery is to understand the causal factors that have led to this condition until you understand the causal factors it is an impossibility to create any lasting real change in a positive way in the actual world in the manifested reality that cannot be done until you truly identify the causal psychological factors the causal psychological dynamics that are taking place within the human mind that are creating the conditions in the physical world so we're going to talk a lot about that today and I'll clarify this the the reason that I talked about these factors as we go on with this broadcast the second slide shows that this is a tapestry I have a little picture of a person's mind or the head of a human being and they are it's comprised of puzzle pieces that's what we're really looking at here we're looking at a huge jigsaw puzzle to try to get the big picture it's very difficult you're not going to get the big picture just listening to me today okay I couldn't possibly give you the big picture of everything that's going on in the world okay in a three-hour broadcast it's not going to happen you're gonna have to do extensive research extensive study extensive reading and what my podcast is all about what my former radio broadcasts are all about is trying to give people in the right direction give people a tapestry of information that's what what on earth is happening is it's a tapestry of information and it is intended to be taken in to other people the people the listeners and the Watchers of this information are the viewers of it are meant to it's meant to be taken in really in its entirety as a whole not in part that's why I don't recommend going onto YouTube and just watching random youtube videos that people have put up there by me or even that I've put up there on my own channel I would recommend the podcast above all else going back to number one and listening in order okay so that's the best way that the whole picture is going to be seen and understood by the listener is if you take my podcast in its entirety from the start in order without skipping around I know that's an arduous task I know what I'm asking when I ask people to do that I know how much time I'm asking you to devote to that task okay but that is the spiritual currency time and attention that's how we get enlightenment by spending our time and attention wisely that's how we come online to an accurate understanding of what's taking place both within us and around us that's what consciousness is you have to pay for that okay you have to put something out to get that in read that higher consciousness in return and that that is the spiritual currencies of time and attention and I do know that I am asking for those things and I do know that that's going to be an investment to put into that task that work of listening and taking the time and paying attention okay so if you are willing to take that time and attention you will get the maximum value from this show and from this broadcast and you will again this is gonna be later information what we're talking about here I'm not starting from scratch and starting from the beginning this isn't show number one folks this is show number 145 that's the show tonight show 145 okay so there's a whole lot of prerequisite information and knowledge out there on my podcasts I recommend people go listen to them and catch up okay so again what I do differently moving to slide number three here on the the images for tonight's show I get down to the causal factors and ask the all-important all empowering question the most important and empowering and significant question that can ever leave a human beings mouth and that is the question why why is it this way see a lot of people know that a police state is here a lot of people know we're living in a prison system we're living in a worldwide huge spiritual prison people know this okay there are many people aren't and some people are still in denial about it I'd say really most of humanity is but the people who listen to a network network like this they know we're in a lot of trouble they know a prison is closing in all around us and has largely already been built but one of the things many other shows don't do is they don't ask the question what were the causal factors that led to this condition how was this done how was this made and created what is going on inside the mind of people that ultimately led to this condition being possible to be manifested so why is the question I'll be asking the question why more than any other question you'll count count try to count the number of times we even bring it up in tonight's broadcast okay so that's what I feel sets this show apart it's trying to get down to the root causal factors what that's called is making a diagnosis of the problem without a diagnosis you are not in an empowered position to affect a solution to solve the problem you cannot do that unless you've already made an accurate diagnosis and what the word diagnosis means and you'll hear me breaking down the meaning of words and I'll do this in slides and I'll do this on the air throughout the show diagnosis comes from the Greek language it comes from ancient Greek the the prefix in Greek dia dia transliterated into English in Greek it would be Delta iota Alpha this prefix means through or by way of or by method of and the the Greek noun gnosis gnosis means knowledge so diagnosis diagnosis in English means by way of knowledge we'll pick it up from there on the other side of this break you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back the cool side we don't is the wall between us so we keep the there's nothing wrong if slavery they can't go on folks we have to end it and that's what this show is all about when people ask me what is what on earth is happening about ladies and gentlemen I just tell them anymore this radio show my website everything I do is about ending slavery that's all it's about you know and my website is about slavery and how to end it it's about the ongoing condition of human slavery and how we can end it and we must end it we must end it because it is wrong and it should not continue so before the break I was talking about really how you understand how to get out of a condition you don't want to be in when you're ill when you're sick you have to make a diagnosis first you have to understand what's causing the problem you can't treat the symptoms that's why this show is called what on earth is happening but it's not gonna be about current events in the sense that I'm not gonna sit here and break down individual news stories and current events that's not what I do other people do that they're great at doing that and you can get that elsewhere what I do is I talk about the underlying psychological causal factors that have led to the current condition and how we can ultimately resolve those factors by doing internal work to heal ourselves to heal our psyches and then in doing so we will change the current condition so that's what making a diagnosis is all about and it means by way of knowledge only through knowledge can that be done now there's things that hold us back from that knowledge these are mind control techniques okay we've talked about them extensively on past shows and ultimately what they all are is a form of religion and I should qualify that statement by saying they are formed mind control techniques are all forms of false religion okay there is such a thing as true religion I'll get to what that really is okay but now when you touch on the subject of religion a lot of people are going to get offended a lot of people are gonna get upset yeah and here I'm gonna attempt to upset everybody right here okay because a lot people who are still listening to me and listening to the show and listening to networks like Republic Broadcasting and others they still have religions they still have a religion that they're clinging on to and trying to make that religion into the truth a false religion that they're trying to make into the truth or a religion that only goes halfway or partway okay and I tell people all the time what we have to do is stop making these partially correct religions or partially false religions or whatever you want to call them okay we have to try to make make these religions these belief systems that we cling to okay we have to stop trying to make them into the truth and we need to make truth into our religion because that's the only true religion that there is the quest for the truth actually identifying what is what is taking place what is going on and being honest about that truly being honest about that and then telling other people about it that's the only religion that it really exists that's the only thing that can really reunite us with our divine essence reunite us with where we want to go where we say we want to go reunite us with true freedom and that's what religion in the in the positive etymological derivation okay religion comes from the word relic gar a in Latin which means to reunite with okay something that has been separated from it means to be reunited with that's what the positive connotation or aspect of the word the meaning of the word religion means but religion in Latin the word relic Garre in Latin where religion comes from in English also means something else it means to to tie back to hold back or to thwart from forward progress so there are major religions that are holding us back from where we say we want to go as a species and many people are clinging to these and not even realizing that they're holding us back from where we want to go so in slide 4 I asked people do you have a religion okay this is important in coming to this show especially if you're new to it to identify if you have a religion and here's the five world religions okay there's five overarching major world religions then many people will not even think of as religion the first is politics okay believing in politics believing that people need leaders that people need government that people need to be controlled that there needs to be political parties that we need to vote etc all of these things okay our belief systems that form the religion known as politics political structures beliefs belief in government whatever you want to call it that's a religion that's one of the big overarching worldwide religions called authority the belief in the religion called Authority which does not exist which is an illusion and it is a product of a diseased mind as we will talk about much later I will talk about very much later on I should say okay not much later in time but we'll talk about it a lot later on as we you know go through the broadcast so a second world religion is scientism not science not true science but scientism this religion that has grown up about modern science that it is the only vehicle that can propagate truth and there is no other mechanism for understanding truth except the modern-day scientific methodologies and scientific paradigm okay and that has often nothing to do with real science it is a belief system as much as any other religion okay what I call scientism the cultural religions comprise and I would say these religions that I've just described the political parties the political structures authority government and then scientism are the left brained religions these are religions which work through the left brain then you have the right brain religions you have cultural religion okay this is what is are thought of as the world religions Christianity Judaism Islam Hinduism Buddhism Shinto you know you name whatever other cultural religion is out there okay and that's what I mean by cultural religions that I group these all together and just call this cultural religion okay that's a right brained form of religion then there is the New Age movement another right-brain religion okay so you have two religions for the left brain you have two religions for the right brain all right and the New Age movement is something I've vehemently and viciously attacked as a mind control technique and a religion repeatedly throughout the one on earth is happening audio series and again I'll continue to be continuing to do that and break down the subtle deceptions of that religion as time moves on again I'll be speaking March 22nd in Asheville North Carolina all day on that topic so we have two left brain religions two right brain religions and then we have the one over arching religion that is the most powerful religion of the entire earth that unifies all of the other religions together and solidifies them in people's mind and it is what all the other religions are ultimately working toward and working to keep propped up as the global Universal world false religion and that is the monetary system that is money as a concept in general we've talked about money being an illusion on past shows you can check that out in the podcast section and of course be discussing that much in the future as well okay those are the religions if anybody is attached to one of those religions and has even been offended by me just coming out and saying that those are mind control techniques and are holding humanity back from where humanity says it wants to go which is to a place of freedom and order in society okay then you yourself are under mind control all right and I don't care whether that offends you or it doesn't or offend you or not get as offended as you like okay one of my tag lines for the show is get as offended as you like I'm not here to make friends with you I'm not here to be your friend I'm not here for you to like me I'm not here to babysit you I'm not here to tell you everything is going to be okay I'm here to tell you the cold hard truth the a fact reality about what has been going on on this planet and is going on right now whether you like to hear it or not that's what I am charged to do that is my work and I am going to do it and I'm not going to apologize about doing it I'm not an apologist through humanity and I'm not going to apologize for offending anybody when I call these things religions and mind control techniques mind-control tactics that are holding us back as a species I mean it because that is what they are we'll pick this up on the other side of the break you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] [Applause] I have to escape the devil's grip of mind control we have to get out of the head cage and that is the underlying fundamental problem that we face as a species ladies and gentlemen welcome back to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm it's really great to be here this is the debut show on the Republic rod casting Network the show will air every Saturday night from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Eastern Time that's 9:00 p.m. to 12 a.m. Central time and before in the last hour we were talking about religion acting as a form of mind control that holds us back false religion the five overarching world religions the two left-brain religions of government and scientism the two right-brain religions of cultural religion and the New Age movement and then the one universal religion that holds them all together and propagates all those forms of mind control out into the world the monetary system money fake money so if if you're coming at trying to understand the world from within one of these boxes for consciousness one of these cages these mental cages you're not going to get very far okay so in slide number five on the what on earth is happening calm radio show page and on the podcast this is show number 145 I explained that if that is your approach you're not going to get very far and therefore you know you already have something that's holding you back from in place that you have to work on so I put a huge you know no sign through all of these things just showing visually that these are the things that hold us back from where we say we want to go and if we want to get to a place of true freedom we're going to have to understand that all of these things are deceptions that we have bought into and see that's part of the problem people have a hard time because they're so trapped in the ego admitting that they're wrong admitting that they've bought into a lie that they've bought into something that is that is an illusion that is fake and that is ultimately holding them back so I ask the question do you have a religion and is it holding you back from where you say you want to go without you even realizing it moving on to slide 6 I'm attempting to explain here this dynamic of Correspondence this is one of the natural laws that underlies all of creation that underlies universal laws in the universe that as the microcosm the very small things organize themselves so the very large thing will be organized that that those small things comprise so this is the concept of as below so above and as above so below okay this is the concept of correspondence the principle of correspondence it is called what I'm explaining here that as there are a whole lot of people still trapped in the dynamic of mind control and the belief in illusion and that's what this slide on number six shows it shows a person with their head as someone who is caged who is behind bars their head itself their mind is is in a prison okay until that dynamic changes and we are able to break out of all the multi-faceted forms of mind control that affect humanity do not expect the outward the so-called outward reality to change so slide number seven says this cannot change so in its really a two-fold slide six and seven until the dynamic of being in mind control changes and we get out of it the external reality of the earth being a huge prison the earth being an entire worldwide police state can change not only will it not change it can not change it is an impossibility for it to change to anything better and different from that unless we get out of those forms of mind-control that are holding us back and that's again what my whole show has been about what all my work is about on what on earth is happening calm in on all the past podcast again so I suggest you go back and listen from the number one forward so um slide number eight explains this dynamic okay the dynamic of how we are ultimately creating co-creating our reality how all of the people of the world through what they are thinking through what they are feeling and through the behaviors that they put forward into the world how we are together in the aggregate co-creating the shared experience on earth okay this is an inescapable conclusion once you understand that it must follow a natural law of Correspondence that as all of the individuals are doing on the earth so you're going to get a society that looks like what those individuals have made and created all right so our reality is built according to this model that I'm putting forward in this slide on slide number eight the bottom I'm going to work from the bottom up okay so we're building a structure and it's a four part structure there's four tiers to this structure we're starting off with a foundation and then we're building three levels on top of that foundation the foundation is the available information that we can take into ourselves the potential knowledge that we can gather process and understand and then act upon all the individuals on earth can do that okay we can gather information okay we gather potential knowledge we take it in we aggregate it and then take it in we're gathering it taking it into ourselves processing it through the mind through the brain we're then coming to an either an understanding and an accurate understanding of it or not an accurate understanding of said information and then we're going to act okay so the bottom level is no knowledge and I put in parentheses under on that that block okay that that tier of this four-part structure underneath it it's knowledge or lack thereof so it's knowledge or ignorance either we are aggregating that information taking into ourselves and then processing it or we're not doing that okay if we do that we can arrive at knowledge if we don't do that we're remaining in ignorance the lack of knowledge okay above that we go up to another level of the creative process of how we're creating the shared reality we all experience together in the aggregate how humanity does this we we take in that knowledge and then we do something with it we're processing it we're processing that information okay if we've taken it in we move to this step number two so decision-making processes are being made based upon the available information that we've taken in the processes these decision-making processes take place in the human mind they take place in our mind depending on how we're we're taking in that information and then you know filtering it and that the decisions that we make based upon that filtration process okay is going to be chosen it's gonna be different and it's gonna be chosen by each individual individual based on how well they've taken in the available information so if a person has knowledge they've taken in information they're going to be able to work with it and then arrive at an understanding of it if that knowledge is present and they they're willing to take it into themselves after they arrive at an understanding okay and again I put understanding or lack thereof that's if we've done these filtration processes with that information and we come to an understanding and then we do something with it and I'll pick that up on the other side of this break and we'll be right back don't go anywhere Oh [Laughter] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm in the last segment we were talking about how we in the aggregate as a species co-create the shared reality that we all experience so we were talking about this being a four step process or you could look at it as a three step process within a result a generated result so step number one was gathering available information and taking it into yourself and either arriving at knowledge or not and then that was a going through decision-making processes that take place within the mind to arrive at an accurate understanding of what it means what the knowledge you've just taken in means the pattern okay the meaning and those processes of course are our filtration process it's it's a system of processing that needs to be done okay by working with that knowledge working with that available information then when we come either to an understanding of it what an accurate understanding of it or an inaccurate understanding of it we're basing our behavior upon that understanding so that's what's the third level that's being built on top of that understanding or lack thereof okay remember each one of these these steps or block building blocks has its negation its opposite so okay it's the lack of uh knowledge is ignorance the lack of understanding is confusion all right it's not understanding what's going on and then behavior results were then taking action based on our understanding or our state of confusion and each individual's behavior invariably logically is going to be based upon the quality of their decision making processes that they made that they took in the previous step and in turn those decision-making processes are based upon the quality of the available information that they've taken into themselves or have not okay so then we're the human behavior component of the of this creation process is going to be either wise or it is going to be unwise we are going to display wisdom or folly as a result and then something is going to happen in the external world as a result of all of the behaviors that take place that humanity and acts into the world we're going to get a result a generated result where I condition will that condition be good will it be bad will it be orderly will it be chaotic okay that's going to be dependent on did we take in the available information did we process it and come to an accurate understanding of it and then did we act wisely upon that understanding okay so it's about a three step process and then the manifested reality or the generated result the quality of the shared condition that we all experience that manifests in the world in any society on earth or in the on the whole planet is going to be based upon the aggregate quality of the behavioral output of the people of that given Society it's an inescapable inescapable and purely logical conclusion the conditions that manifest in a society are a result of the behavior of the people of that society as above so below that's the law of Correspondence that's how we create our reality in the aggregate we don't create it in the end as an individual okay I don't create the total conditions okay this is what the New Agers want to sell people oh we're making up the world in our minds it's all how we into the individual thinks they're real creating our reality individually no it doesn't work like that the laws of attraction do not work like that in the aggregate as a whole the whole society the whole species is creating the shared conditions together by their combined behavioral output now how do the controller's of our reality control what happens the outcome they're currently in control of the outcome people many people don't want to believe that they are but I'm telling you they are accurately and and like a person riding on a horse with the reins in their hand steering the outcome they are in control of that outcome because they're doing one thing see fewer of a mindset to control try to control reality you wouldn't try you're not gonna control the present moment okay the present moment is what has already manifested okay so to control it you have to try to control a future moment to control the present you have to control what we would call the past you had to have already been in control in the past by directing and steering things then you're going to come into control at a future moment okay so the manifested reality is what is it's what is happening you're not controlling anything from that level okay you can currently be in control you're not gonna seize control in the instant at that level of manifestation okay I hope people grasp what I'm saying there underneath that you could try to control it from the behavioral point of view direct control over human behavior meaning you're going to have to go to each person and physically control them but this is called the process of overt control okay in your face seem physical control techniques and tactics when when people see that they rebel against it because they don't want to live their life as a slave so they're gonna naturally rebelling and trying to control reality from the from the level of human behavior itself physically you wouldn't do it from there well the next level down you could try to control it from the mind and people's decision-making processes but that would mean you're really doing it based on kind of like what I'm trying to do today put change people's mind by talking to them and getting them to reverse their decision-making processes by taking on new information into themselves it's a difficult way to control things or to change things okay because you're only affecting it from that second level and if people have already taken in certain information as people will readily recognize who who know what I'm talking about when you try to help other people to change and to understand that they have been wrong about something that were knowledge that they've already taken in actually acts as a deficit okay it acts as a countermeasure to change because that person already has taken in knowledge that is to the contrary of what your to explain and they're attached to it now again it's not true knowledge it's what they think of as knowledge it's what I have called negative knowledge it's really a falsity that someone believes in and is attached to and clinging on to and since they believe it's real it's like trying to fill put information in the form of light like if we use an allegory of trying to fill up a cup that's already full to the brim you have you can't you have to take matter in the form of liquid out of that cup before you can put anything new into it and this unfortunately makes it very difficult to affect or steer or change things from the level of someone's decision making processes only where reality has changed from or in the instance of a controller is controlled from is at the base level of available information so if we put out new available information and make that widely and openly available to people they could then begin the processing of that information and that may change their behavior which then may change the outcome the manifested reality well what if you didn't put out certain information this is how the control system works they're cutting people off from the availability of certain information or just putting nonsensical information that has nothing to do with really crucial and critical information that people do need to take in to understand what's going on they're putting this nonsense out there and they're dissuading people from looking into the real information that they need to understand and this information technically is still available it is out there it is available it's not that it's unavailable okay we're living in what I call an ignorant society or an ignorant society the information I'm talking about they could lead to knowledge this available information is present but people are willfully ignoring it they're being they're willfully ignoring it because they've fallen prey to many mind-control techniques because they're stunted in their emotional and psychological development we're going to talk about that later and because they've been dissuaded through media and through the powers that be not to look into certain areas certain vistas of information so with your of the mindset to try to control people in control reality you're always going to control it from that level that baseline level of what information is available and has been put out there to people we'll pick this up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Laughter] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm in the last segment we were talking about how reality is both built how it is created in the aggregate and how it is controlled by the controller's of this world through the availability of information that is put out there and then it's also done through dissuading people from taking in that information not even just hiding it or you know withholding it so one of the things that I talk about continuously on this radio show and on my former podcast is the occult okay and people may be shocked to hear that that's what I really get into and discuss in depth but and and that word frightens many people directly it's a mind control technique in and of itself to obfuscate the real meaning of words so when people hear the word occult many people immediately think bad evil voodoo witchcraft etc all kinds of imagery conjure you know is conjured in their mind and that in itself is a mind-control technique now I am NOT trying to tell you that there isn't a dark side to the occult because there most certainly is and I was directly involved with that side of it in my past ok you can get that background on for more podcasts and other radio interviews that I've done on my website but what is the occult itself when what is it for real really not the not the colloquially derived meaning that people think it means okay in in everyday speech but what is the occult when I am saying the occult what do I mean by this what is the actual definition of the occult as I am using it okay so first let's look at the meaning of the word the word occult is derived from the latin adjective occult us Oh cultists in Latin means hidden okay and this word hidden or occultus in lat comes from the Latin verb occult RA o cult are a means to hide to conceal or to keep secret okay that's all it means now these words ocultist and oklet re and Latin are actually derived in turn from the Latin noun oculus oculus in Latin means I so related to the vision hard to see hidden from sight is what a cult really means ocular would mean related to vision and then occult means hidden from the eye hidden from sight okay concealed veiled not easily seen all right now what it really is is hidden knowledge it's knowledge that has been hidden from humanity or again not necessarily even hidden but Humanity is dissuaded from ever looking into it and the technique of mind control works by telling people don't ever look into that that's all bad it's all evil nothing good can happen if from you looking into it and that's how they keep people in ignorance of what's really going on both within them and around them occult knowledge is knowledge about two very important areas of inquiry or bodies of knowledge which we're going to get into in a moment that is held by very few people in the world and unfortunately because it's only held by a few people they have been using that knowledge as a power differential to keep other people in the dark by way of their knowledge and other people's ignorance so I put this down on slide number 10 in the form of a an image of a pyramidal structure okay with you know the wide base representing the ignorant masses of humanity and the very peak of that four-sided pyramid representing the people who are in the know the knowledge that is held by the very few to keep people in control under their control so let's look at on the next slide slide number 11 what knowledge are we talking about when I say occultism or a cult the occult is hidden knowledge what do I mean what knowledge does occultism comprise and what knowledge does it hide from others so occultism comprises and hides two main body of knowledge the first is called the miner body of knowledge okay or the Minor Arcana Arcana is a latin word that just means knowledge okay the miner body of knowledge this is sometimes called the the lesser Arcana as well and I've put minor and lesser in quotation marks in double quotes here because you should not look at them as less than something else that's not what it's referring to okay there's the term Minor Arcana or lesser Arcana it doesn't mean it's less important or it's a you know of less significance it means that it is the the knowledge of the small world the small things that's what they mean by minor or lesser not as large as okay talking about the small components of something all right it's the knowledge about the microcosmic world or the inner world of the individual this is about the psyche the human psyche the knowledge of the self the knowledge of the human psyche and how that the human mind operates our deep-seated motivations and fears etc all of the knowledge of the human mind it is deep ancient psychology that's what we have to understand about the first body of knowledge that the occult is actually about that's and I'm not telling you this is mine I want to make this clear this is not my opinion or my thoughts on what the occult is it's what it actually is I'm telling you not from book knowledge from hearing about it from talking to people about it from reading about it I'm telling you from firsthand experience of being involved with the occult and schools of occultism that this is the body the first body of knowledge these are the two bodies of knowledge that comprise occultism the first of which is the microcosmic knowledge the knowledge of the self and the human psyche and how it operates the second body of knowledge in occultism is known as the major or greater Arcana again the major or greater knowledge the this is again not more important than or more significant than the minor or lesser Arcana should not be seen that way okay this is the macrocosmic knowledge the knowledge of the very large things the outer world in other words I put out or in quotes even because of course the outer world is determined by the inner world again the conditions of the mind generate the conditions of the world all right so the world or the knowledge of the macrocosm that's the second Arcana the second body of knowledge that occultism is is actually a bell this is the knowledge of natural law you're gonna hear a lot about this term the universal moral laws that govern the consequences of behavior of intelligent beings that's what I'm talking about when I say natural law this is the first part of the greater Arcana and then the second part of it is the physical sciences what we would call modern science what we would call not necessarily modern science but we were what we would call science the physical sciences the science is about the interaction of matter in the physical three-dimensional realm okay the physical science is comprised that macrocosmic knowledge as well and much of that is hidden from public consumption to control people as well we're not getting real science we're getting scientism from the controlled paradigm of science that is directed by the control system and the monetary system so slide number 12 I talk about why is this knowledge the knowledge of the the self and the human psyche combined with the knowledge of the way natural law or in other words spiritual law and the physical laws of the 3d world the world of matter the material realm work why would that knowledge be occult it why would anyone want to hold that seemingly very very important knowledge back from other people well the answer is such knowledge has been deliberately hidden in order to create and maintain a power differential between those who hold that knowledge and those who are ignorant of it so what better way to keep people in ignorance of that knowledge by giving it a scary term and saying you should never look at that and that's where most people are at when it comes to the occult they have not even begun studying any other because they think it's all bad and no one should ever take it into themselves and understand what it is all about and therefore the very tactics and techniques of the dark side of the occult are being waged against them in their ignorance to keep them in a prison that's how it works that's how arc occultism works because people won't look at that these bodies of knowledge and understand them so the major part of this that I have talked about extensively and will continue to talk about is natural law now let me tell you what natural law is not and I'm on slide number 13 now it's called got natural law meaning do you have a grasp of it do you really deeply understand it have you taken it in and integrated it into yourself an understanding of natural law alright what it's not is it's not what people call the natural quote order which has nothing to do with order okay all right this is a Darwinian paradigm of survival of the fittest and dog-eat-dog this is what people have erroneously termed the quote natural and I and I should say it's not natural it's an artificially imposed worldview okay that has nothing to do with nature and it's not order okay it actually can't lead to order the worldview of macro biological Darwinian survival of the fittest and of the most ruthless and of the animal with the sharpest teeth and biggest claws and most most ruthless disposition comes out on top and rules the roost okay that can only lead to chaos it cannot ever lead to oil so the quote-unquote Darwinian natural order is actually the artificially imposed system of chaos that we are living in alright so I'll explain what natural law is on the other side of this break we'll be right back don't go anywhere folks so gnarly we got a dude you gotta cut you down very appropriate music for coming back into this break when I'm about to get into what natural law really is and this is kind of a review for new listeners - what on earth is happening of course I'm sorry it's a review for you know it's a old information that I put out there to the to the old listeners this is this little review that I'm doing here is of course for new listeners to the show that give them a feel and a flavor for what this radio show is really all about so I was talking about what natural law was not it is not the Darwinian paradigm that people call the natural order that is not natural and it's not order it's it's an artificially imposed system of chaos by trying to apply the animalistic Kingdom to the human world okay so natural law is something completely different than that and it is also completely different from what many political writers and theorists have termed natural law it is not John Locke's theory of natural law it is not any body out other political writers or anybody trying to equate a system of man's law to what they call natural law not talking about that this is a this is these are laws of nature that are in place that are put into place by the creator of the universe having absolutely nothing to do with the belief of man ok these are laws which can only be discovered it has nothing to do with a belief system it has nothing to do with a construct that is invented in the mind of a man and then written down ok these are laws that exist independently of man's perception of them like gravity like electromagnetism they are physical laws they determine they are deterministic laws which actually determined what happens in the physical domain based upon behavior that is chosen through free will and that's how the dynamic of free will plays with natural law okay it plays off against it so what is natural law this is my working definition for natural law natural law as I am referring to the term again not what other writers have referred to it not what other people think of it as what how I use this umbrella term natural law in my work the work that I put out there when I say that term this is what I mean by it natural law is the body of universal non man-made binding and immutable laws which act as the governing dynamics for the consequences of human behavior so Universal means everywhere present no matter where you go in the universe at all times and places non man-made just what it says not made by humanity not made by humankind ok put into effect by the creator of the universe whatever you happen to look at that force or being as that's not my business that's your business ok and they are binding meaning they have an effect whether you understand them or not like that they're in effect or not just like gravity ok and they're immutable they can't be changed by anything man does they're in effect certain things man does can shield them for temporarily from their cons consequences but hey as Johnny just said you can run on for a long time but sooner or later God will cut you down ok you're not gonna shield yourself from these effects forever just like we can temporarily mitigate the effects of gravity through flight through understanding you know thrust and lift and you know having you know fuel and a piece of technology and you know temporarily negating the effects of gravity due to flight but you're not gonna stay up there forever ok so it's the same thing when it comes to people trying to break natural law there are mutable laws that are always in effect whether they can be bent or temporarily you know quote broken they're not really broken ok so they're immutable they cannot be changed and they act as the governing dynamics for the consequence of human behavior meaning based on our freewill decisions of whether we make moral or immoral decisions the universe gives us certain results and then we have to live with those results that's what natural law ultimately is what does it mean moving on to slide number fourteen and again these slides these images that I'm talking about can be seen at what on earth is happening calm slash radio what on earth is happening calm slash radio that's the radio show page four for this show on my website underneath the player you'll see images for today's show while the show is broadcast live if you're not listening to it live then this is show number 145 in the podcast section what does it mean to understand natural law slide number fourteen understanding natural law means truly having and possessing conscience conscience is the definitive knowledge of the objective difference between morally right behavior and morally wrong behavior that's what conscience is okay so it's knowledge it's common sense knowledge common knowledge the actual difference the definitive difference between morally right behavior and morally wrong behavior that is what constitutes conscience and understanding natural law means that you definitively have conscience because you definitively know the difference between right and wrong behavior what does it mean moving on to slide number 15 to act in accordance with natural law acting in accordance with natural law means exercising conscience taking action based upon that knowledge that you have taken into yourself and understood okay or in other words exercising conscience means willfully choosing morally right behavior / morally wrong behavior once that difference has been clearly understood by the person who has taken in the knowledge of conscience okay that's what it means to exercise conscience to willfully choose the right over the wrong now do we get the result you'll notice that this is about knowledge understanding and wisdom that's what I just described in the last three slides what is natural law the knowledge of it what does it mean to understand it and what does it mean to act in a court with it in other words act wisely knowledge understanding and wisdom just like I described on the other slide this is actually the Trivium process for people who recognize that that's what it is okay the threefold methodology for truth discovery all right so then we get the result this is the fourth stage okay or it's just a manifested result that we get as a result of how well did we employ those other three stages of creation all right so what is the result this is slide number sixteen now what is the result we get when we live in accordance with natural law and then on the next slide we'll talk about what do we get when we live in opposition to natural law when we live in accordance with natural law when human beings live in accordance with natural law and they are therefore moral beings they have taken the knowledge of conscience into themselves understood it and acted upon it and chosen willfully the right action over the wrong action so their moral beings when they do that which is what living in accordance with natural law is human beings become and remain free and their society exists in a state of order that's what generates freedom and order which is what we say we want but we're not getting because we don't understand natural law okay we don't understand the laws of morality so that's what human beings get when they act in accordance with natural law they become and remain free and their society exists in a state of order conversely in slide number 17 I explained that when human beings live in opposition to natural law and therefore they are amoral beings they are not choosing the right over the wrong okay certainly not willfully they might accidentally do that in their ignorance but most of the time they're choosing the wrong action over the right so therefore there are moral beings that's what living in opposition to natural law means when we live in opposition to natural law we become and remain enslaved and our society exists in a state of chaos which surprise surprise that's where we're at now that's the current human condition enslaved and in a state of chaos you know that the systems of control that we have in place don't prevent Khaos they are chaos ladies and gentlemen they are enslavement and chaos they don't prevent them as people erroneously believe in their mind controlled state the next slide explains what I slide number 18 explains what I call the one true divide in humanity between statist s-- and anarchists all the other things that seemingly separate humanity race religion class income you know a style of dress culture you name it age okay all of these things you know they're they're they're allusions there are things that are just there as a divide and conquer strategy by the you know controllers to keep people warring with each other and fighting it amongst each other but there is one non illusory difference and separation and divide that really does in reality exists between human beings and this is the dynamic of whether you believe in authority or not and that's what a statist is someone who believes in authority and therefore supports slavery supports human slavery a statist is a person not just that believes in government but that supports human slavery because that's what government is that's what the concept of authority is conversely an anarchist someone who doesn't believe in the rightful rule of some people over other people opposes the dynamic of human slavery so I'll pick up with this distinction on the other side of the break and then we can go to your calls in the next hour you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Music] and welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com it's great to be here on the network this is the debut show on the network but it's show number 145 on my entire radio career I guess you could say I'm doing a brief review for new listeners to the show of some the generals of material that I've covered in the past what I'm gonna do is cover a few more slides these slides are actually at my website what on earth is happening calm on the radio show page it's actually what on earth is happening calm slash radio and it's underneath the player images for tonight's show of course these images will also be posted with the podcast I'm gonna finish up a few more slides and then go to the phones the call-in number for tonight's show is eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again the call-in number 800 three one 394 43 call in no topic is taboo ask anything you like about my work or anything else you want to bring up so I'm just gonna finish a few more slides I've planned on 33 slides for this evening but I'm only going to try to run through slides up to slide number 22 and I'll leave slides 23 through 33 for another show probably the show two weeks from now because next week I will have a very special guest satanic ritual abuse survivor mr. Jay Parker will be my guest next week so let's pick up where we left off at slide number 18 the one true divide there's this concept that there's only one really one real true divide that separates humanity into two distinct types of individuals the criterion for this divide is whether or not an individual believes in the concept of authority the erroneous concept of authority and therefore believes that there is legitimacy to slavery because that's what the belief in authority is if you believe that some people are authorities over other individuals then you are supporter of slavery and I don't care if that offends you or how much it offends you that is the truth that is the eternal truth and it doesn't make a difference whether you don't want to hear it that is what you believe in you believe in slavery if you believe in authority the end that is how it actually is that's not my opinion that's how it really is okay so many people won't come out there and just say something like that they'll want to dance around it or you know try to you know dance around somebody's delicate sensibilities when it comes to that because they don't want to lose listeners or whatever once again I'm not here to be popular I'm not here to be your friend I'm here to tell the hard truth about what's going on on this planet that is what my spiritual mission is to accomplish here and I am doing it unapologetically so if you're offended get as offended as you like okay next slide well just one more note on this slide I put these two memes over here one representing a status one representing an anarchist the status is a policeman you know who essentially contains every single one of them doing that job continues to support the idea of slavery and authority okay and believe that they are an authority over others um the this meme says that statism is the brilliant idea that we give a small group of people the right to kidnap imprison harass steal from and kill people so that we can be protected from people who kidnap harass steal from and kill people it's so brilliant I mean can't you just tell how well it's worked out folks having a standing army live among us in the form of a police force throughout this country a militarized police force it's so great and getting better all the time let me tell you this idea has just produced nothing but majestic order goodness and freedom everywhere we turn has it not okay and then the the meme that I put up there for an anarchist while searching for images a good image for an anarchist you know I didn't want to be totally conceit 'full and like just put myself up there and me and some of my friends who were who were you know really know the truth that there's no such thing as Authority you know I could have put myself I could have put somebody like lark and rose up there or you know any other a number of people who truly do not understand that authority is an illusion produced by a diseased mind but I found this meme online I think I found it on Facebook and it said I'm an anarchist but most of my followers are status --tz-- and it has a picture of Christ on the image now again I don't want people writing to me telling me about Astro theology because I know all about it I could write books on Astro theology I get it I understand it I know what religion is I know how religion is Astro theology in disguise and that's I'm not putting it up here to tell you to believe in the historicity and the actual figure of Jesus okay I'm saying that the message is what is important and what Jesus was was an anarchist whether anybody really understands it or not even the archetype will figure if you don't want to believe in it as an actual historical being okay the teachings of of that being that are propagated and put down in the New Testament are anarchist at their heart it's about having only one authority and that is the authority of the law of God period the moral law that is put forward by the creator of the universe that is the only authority I bend the knee to okay that is the only authority that I respect and live according to and obey that's it the authority of man is an illusion it does not exist in the real world okay in nature does not exist so this is a great I found this to be a great meme very poignant and what it really is is the person on the left there a support slavery and the person on the right there opposes slavery that's what we really need to call this forget even the term status than anarchist there are only really supporters of slavery and opposers of slavery that's it there are the only two kinds of people on this planet and I for one oppose slavery in all of its forms all of its forms and that doesn't mean just shackle and chained slavery that is overt and can be seen that means mental slavery mental bondage financial bondage and slavery debt slavery okay the idea that authority is legitimate and so we have to have government that's slavery all right so I'm explaining this in the next four slides and I'll wrap it up there okay the old world order was a form of slavery that worked according to the concept of a vesting authority in one person in one being he was the king or the priest or a combination of the two a priest king of some sort this old world order system reigned in the ancient world and it was a system that is based entirely in violence the belief in authority vested in one is based entirely in violence and is built upon the erroneous which means false okay and dogmatic belief system which is a religion that one person is the master who possesses the moral quote right to issue commands to other people and all others are his subjects or slaves who have the moral obligation to obey his commands that is what the Old World Order was here on earth authority vested in one being and ruling over everybody by divine right okay now what I try to explain to people is we need to stop even euphemized okay stop you from izing and even calling this authority calling this government calling this rulership this is slavery as I've put their own slide number 20 okay that's the real term for it let's start calling it what it really is unapologetically and openly to other people regardless of what they think of us for saying it this was slavery now what has changed as my question has this changed dramatically or are we still in the old world order one slide 21 I explained what people termed the new world order and I put new in quotes and order in quotes just like I did on the last two slides I actually had order in double quotes okay it's not whether it's chaos slavery is chaos folks there's nothing orderly about it there's nothing good orderly peaceful you know leading to freedom it's slavery is chaos because it creates disorder this harmony you know enslavement the lack of freedom all right it's chaos has nothing to do with order that's what they call it's their order it's the sick psychopathic control freaks brand of order that thinks they're a master of other beings of other people the New World Order or that I depict here on slide 21 is exactly the same the quote new it's nothing new about it it's old it's the same system with a new name and it's not no order it's chaos this is the concept of authority vested in few people we've just divested that authority into a few people and we've created a government it has all the same divinely appointed rights as the king of the old world but we just euphemized it and call it government we'll pick this up on the other side stay with us you're listening to what on earth is happening [Music] welcome back folks you're listening - what on earth is happening coming at you tonight with some hard-hitting streetwise spirituality as I like to call it I'm going to wrap up with a last two slides we were talking about the difference between the old world order the system of slavery of the old world and how that contrasts or compares with the new world order and again I put new in quotes and order in quotes there's nothing new about this system of enslavement and it certainly doesn't lead to anything that is orderly okay this is the concept the new world order is the concept of authority vested in few I'm picking up on slide 21 here this system is also based entirely in violence and built upon the erroneous and dogmatic belief that a certain group of people are masters who possess the moral right to issue commands those people are called governments okay their commands are that they issue are called laws while all others are their subjects who have the moral obligation to obey the commands issued by their masters that is what government is that's not my opinion of what government is that's what it actually is if we're being honest with ourselves which most people I recognize or not they lie to themselves from the minute they wake up until the minute they fall asleep okay but if we're being honest with ourselves that's what all forms of government are and have ever been all right and what we really have to do is stop you from izing this new world order or stop you from izing it and calling it government stop euthanizing and calling it one-world government it's called slavery it's called the enslavement of humanity that's what it's called if we're being honest with ourselves as I like to do whenever I can and as I've written it there on slide number 22 part of the problem here is most people won't just come out and say it that way they don't have the courage to say it that way they don't have the intestinal fortitude to say it that way I'm telling you the old world order was slavery and so is the new world order it's a system of slavery and if you believe in government you support that system of slavery because that's all government ever has been is now and ever will be and if you're offended by that statement get is offended as you like that's my spiel for tonight that is my review of information that I have covered in the past and is the serves as the basis for what I do here on what on earth is happening in two weeks I will pick up on slide 23 moving forward with the concept of why is this the current human condition why are we trapped in slavery what is going on in the psychology of human beings that keeps this dynamic in place the way it is and we're going to deeply explore what I call the tree of all evil the psychological framework that has led to the current human condition and I'll just leave it at that as a teaser let's go to the phones Ivan in Phoenix you're live on what on earth is happening welcome my friend hey Dawg mark I didn't have you on the agenda it's a pleasure to hear from you men you're the first caller on the new incarnation of the show so what do you have for us here tonight well thanks for mentioning the screening of your seminar that I'm holding this weekend would have been good to have that announced earlier as always you know in our conversations we always talk about the people who say they are in the know and then the actual people that come out and do things so even though I sent out flyers and Facebook notifications and announced it on several meetup groups that had about 500 members the turnout is always kind of depressing and on just under 10 people showing up to these things so but then again that that goes to show why things are the way they are and why things don't change that's absolutely right I mean it really all is about taking action getting involved partnering not necessarily becoming part of a group but partnering with other people and sharing ideas and then getting out there and actually taking real-world action to spread the philosophy of freedom to other people to help them to understand what's really going on to help them to understand how bad things are actually right now and what we can do to get our own minds freed up and then start helping other people to free up their minds to make this a better place to make this world better so that it's gonna be worth living in for people who come after us so um that while Ivan while that saddens me you know I'm not gonna tell you I'm you know i'm you know horribly surprised by that i mean you know when we do the documentary screenings here in philadelphia on topics related to human freedom and consciousness and mind control etc we get about that number may be slightly more you know maybe 12 to 15 sometimes show up but the numbers are the same here it seems like people just don't want to come out to gather for knowledge you know you can get a hundred you can get a thousand people to come out to to party and just drink beer and you know eat what you bring a bunch of food out you know people just come out of the woodwork you know you barely have to announce it but tell them to come out and prove their mind understand about what's really going on in the world understand the causal factors of the conditions we're experiencing oh i don't have time for that that's too much work that's theory asking me to think now ivan i mean come on you know asking someone else to think and take an interest and care about what's taking place in their world you know that's a big investment right there you're asking for you know the real spiritual currencies here of time and attention and most of all you're asking for people to care you know yeah and people think things are gonna change without that type of an investment and without truly deeply caring about this and it's it's it's sad but true and like i said while that does somewhat saddened me you know i wouldn't let it get you down i would keep going and doing what you're doing i'm gonna keep doing what I'm doing I'm never giving up I'm never saying die you know but yeah I look at shaking the tree and seeing what actually falls out what does the true ones that come out you know and last week I had a meet up get together at the movies and watch the new film the lego movie I saw that about two weeks ago and I thought about this you told me a little bit about it because I've heard good things about it I haven't seen you why all right yeah I saw it just you know with my girlfriend she likes you know some of the car animated stuff so I went with her to see it I'm just there and within the first five minutes my you know ears are perking up but my eyes are like wow allegories and the metaphors that are being dropped left and right in this cartoon it parallels the matrix basically so i was in all i was like wow and and it's pretty much everything you cover and all and all the stuff that actual free thinkers and truth seekers or people that are in the know will pick up on it now the thing that that part of my mind was when I held the meetup again only had about three or four RSVPs from the meetup groups but yet the auditorium was full of you know what's your regular movie-going audience and Mike you know I was wondering how many of these people actually pick up on the metaphors or the allegories that are being dropped in there everything from the villain is called a zit in business right they're telling you that president the leaders of governments are the corporations the businesses that won over people's heads they had you know surveillance cameras all over the place I'm watching you that was right there all the people's head they had the president here you know he's on a commercial talking this that bat and birds in a line will put you to sleep and keeps talking and then take star the movie says hey wait a minute did he just say and they cut to a commercial of a silly TV show called where are my pants and then the guy laughing he starts laughing laughing and then he comes back wait what was I thinking ah doesn't matter the right pair showing people the more things are up for your face but sheers entertainment to distract you all these little things you know we're scattered all over the place in this film and I was like wow how many people pick up on these things it sounds like it sounds like a really great allegory especially for children while I would agree with you definitely a lot of allegorical Phil go over people's heads and they're not bringing them to a conscious level to understand what the maker intended to say as a moral lesson but don't underestimate the power of allegory to reach a person's subconscious mind and to get in there and plant a seed at the subconscious level we're going to be talking a lot about the subconscious mind in a couple of weeks on the show so Ivan I want to thank you so much for the calm and have to check out that movie myself and we'll be right back folks stay with us you're listening - what on earth is happening [Music] no you deceive me now he is a super [Music] know that you have because as my chicken listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm the calling number to join us for the last couple of segments of the show is 831 three nine four four three once again the calling number 803 one three ninety four forty three let's go to Dan in Los Angeles dan what do you have for us tonight mark I had a question and then a comment if that's okay Sharada and my question goes right along with what you've been talking about with moral relativism and I learned the word nation's from your natural law seminar yes and I'm really glad I learned that word comparing that to ignorant and the distinction between those two and my question is kind of more on the philosophical side which I've been kind of wrestling with in my meditations for this moral relativism ignorant and in essence and my question is is if someone or a group of people is mentioned when it comes to knowledge and information or you know this huge one of good versus bad right and wrong and weed or can one be blamed or held responsible for being mentioned and when I and what I've come to understand please correct me with your description of Nicias is completely absent minded to the point of the zero knowledge ordinate or gnosis of knowing something I would like to I would like to correct that perception of the word mesons that's actually not what the word nation's means maybe I should clarify this for both you and the listening audience nations means that the information that you are currently not knowledgeable of is not present in the sense that you are not able to understand it so let's say that how to build a nuclear reactor there is such information in the world okay most people are ignorant of it but they're not gnashing of it because it can be known how to do that it can be discovered the knowledge exists people can come to know how to do that because we are doing it the knowledge of that does exist let's say a cataclysm swept over the earth and every single nucleus not only did every single nuclear reactor was destroyed and was not able to be ever put back together it was could they were completely annihilated but every single book and piece of information on the face of the earth having to do with the building of a nuclear reactor or even the premise on on how they work were also destroyed the pockets of survivors could then be said to be Nessun of how to be how to build a nuclear reactor they're not ignorant of it because the knowledge is gone it's not present in their environment so when I say that our society is not Nash and Nash and coming from the Latin nests quiere the Latin verb nests quiere means to not know because knowledge is not present okay ignorance comes from the Latin verb ignore RA which means that you don't know because you are deliberately turning willfully turning aside your attention from knowledge that is present so ignoring someone in a room means you're aware of their presence you're just refusing to acknowledge it that's what ignorance is so these people would not be these survivors of said Holocaust would not be ignorant of how to build a nuclear reactor they would be national agenda stroyed okay when we're talking about the knowledge of right and wrong is it destroyed and gone from the earth no it's here it's all around us it's it's we're drowning in it as a matter of fact we are drowning in knowledge about the difference between right and wrong we are drowning in knowledge about real spirituality we are drowning in knowledge about what's going on in our world all found us and taking us into police state measures and the destruction of human freedom when people don't know any of these things they're not nation' this knowledge is here like I say in the natural law presentation we're living in post-apocalyptic times people say post apocalypse the apocalypse hasn't happened yes it has because what the apocalypse means is the unveiling of hidden knowledge apocalypse doesn't mean Cataclysm or destruction that's a colloquially understood interpretation or a colloquial you know derived connotation of the word apocalypse apocalypse comes from Greek oppo meaning off of or away from and khalipa meaning to hide or to conceal so to go away from from veiling or concealing to unveil something and to reveal it for what it really is is what the apocalypse is there's tons of researchers and tons of people speaking the truth and revealing what's going on and you know expressing the people the hidden things that have been hidden from our sight and and talking about the mountain out in the open we're living in post apocalypse the apocalypse has happened and you know what people have said to the truth and to the all that knowledge and information I don't want it I want to ignore it I don't care if it's present I refuse to look at it I refuse to take it in that's where most people are at not all but that's where most people are at they're in ignorance deliberately refusing to look at truth they're not in essence the people of Earth cannot be said to be in essence this knowledge is here it is present it is available at their fingertips and it is actually everywhere around them they want to ignore it deliberately and we're going to talk about why they want to do that in two weeks we might talk about it a little next week too but I'll get into it in a big way in two weeks okay thank you for that and I also I just wanted to say my comment which goes right along with this whole New Age religion which is something I've done a lot of research in the last five to seven years and one thing that I wanted to bring up as also may be a potential suggestion for your research and antics and exposing something critical and the new ages this complete and little bee worship of these Indian spiritual gurus that are literally you know in an all-encompassing of that word gathering hundreds of thousands of people around the world worshiping these these people that set themselves up as and I'm literally quoting you unquote like avatars run deities and Carnac and I I live in Los Angeles and Los Angeles is I could really honestly say one of the mecca of this whole new age and and you know dieting of all types and yoga and and not that there's you know only bad things we all like that there's tons of good things through but I live in one of the the heartlands of it and I just can't see it because I see it all the time guru worship and I have seen in front of my eyes it's a cult of magic being performed on these people walking around with big eyes you know all glarey and then and zombied out and they come to these centers they come to these hotels and hundreds of by the boatloads of people coming there getting blessed by them completely getting put in a trance who knows what is going on kinds of a cult magic I mean you know all about dark occultism going on with this stuff and I mean these people dreams don't wake you and this is just another form of mind control that is being perpetuated on the masses and people who don't want their own personal responsibility they don't want to own it are so quick to give their sovereignty away to someone else and say this is my guru here's who I'm going to go to for knowledge I'm not gonna I'm not gonna seek it out on my own this is what I've told people from day one I'm not your guru I'm not your leader I'm not interested in being any of those you have to be your own leader you have to be your own spiritual guru you have to be your own priest you have to forge your own connection with the divine force within you you have to forge your own connection with the will of the universe that's not my work to do for you that's your work to do for you and anybody that's telling you different is lying to you or they're trying to deceive you and control you which is what many of these so-called gurus are doing you know what Dan I'm going to thank you for your call I'm just gonna wrap up on this and then we'll probably take another call but um there is a big thread throughout the new-age community the New Age movement as well with these gurus that you're speaking of that they stressed there is no need for knowledge everything can just be acquired and known by going to them or just meditating and looking inside the self you know it saw that the whole concept here is we don't need books nothing needs to be derived from from books or sharing of information online or anything like that our reading very very very dangerous premise and a very dangerous road to go down you continue to take their calls in the last segment ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening here on republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio we'll be right back [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio this is the last segment of the debut show here on the Public Broadcasting Network great to be on the network I hope we'll have some new listeners and some listeners that will maybe people who are brand new to my work will go to my podcast section and pick up and start the journey from the very beginning and you know move forward from there so the call-in number eight hundred three one three nine four four three let's saw continued to take some more calls array in Oregon you're live on what on earth is happening welcome uh can you hear me yes okay very good well thank you um I'm enjoying what you're having to say very much after any many years of my own study on these things and along these lines I didn't go seeking this stuff it's just where I guess truth has taken me but I feel like I'm finally starting to get a handhold on some of this stuff and it and it sounds like you ringing some bells for me so I'm appreciating that very much a couple things I know she had a preponderance of Ronnie James deal on Europe music there do you think you had something to tell us I love a guy what can I say I'm really sad to see that he's gone and not with us anymore I consider him a sage in that whole genre so no I really I like him a lot too of you I listen to like more recent Chris Cornell or Maynard James Keenan not so much not so much I mostly in the old school stuff like that you know as a preference well the other thing that that I've heard you say I've heard you talk about and I was just looking around on your website that's the first time I've heard you so this is you you are news to me I will go to your podcast and start looking at those but I heard you say a couple things a cult science was one of them and another one philosophy of freedom are you familiar with Rudolf Steiner of course absolutely big-time Rosicrucian wrote some of the best works in that whole area of occult science so I highly recommend his work as I do max Heindel and other Rosicrucian authors I've discussed that pretty extensively on some of my other radio interviews and also you know what went into Freemasonry quite extensively on my former podcast so you can get into a lot of different occult schools of thought by going forth and listening to to those old podcasts I get into Kabbalah a lot on it as well Tarot I break down the Major Arcana of the Tarot in some of my old podcasts so all of that is there to be to be found all up on my website and in my old podcasts fantastic yeah I I really think I've I mean talked about he might be the most prolific man if you can all his lectures and whatnot maybe ever to have lived that to get into Steiner as wow what a opening a door that never ends and he was trying to tell us what was really going on here and how to how to get out of it he was one of the many people you know that this isn't anything new you know I'm building upon others work as well they saying if I see farther it is because I am standing upon the shoulders of giants certainly applies here there is nothing new Under the Sun it's all been said it's all been put out there before I just have a slightly you know a unique way of aggregating at all and putting it together out there for people so that they can see it in a tapestry that that's what I feel my niche is when it comes to this information so yeah I'll check out the work I'm sure you'll be a very surprised and happy with what you find there and a good luck with it all and if you have any questions don't hesitate to call in thank you very much you got it thanks so much we actually have a second ray in Oregon amazing to raise in Oregon well it's going to be other ray in Oregon hey Mark this is Rick I just came from Oregon from my cave junction ray with you well I was congratulate you on your maiden voyage of you're unique I wonder if your audience realizes how unique your message is no one else on the internet is saying what you're saying and you're doing it the the resonance of truth in your voice your knowledge it has a devastating effect upon conditioned Minds and I think John made a hell of a good decision in putting you on I just hope that the audience listens to you without reacting because they will react to you of course yeah oh that's going to happen and I expect that and all I can ask people to do is listen with an open mind and heart and then research on their own you know it's the it's the notion here that the sign of true intelligence is to be able to entertain a notion in the mind without either immediately accepting it or rejecting it and Ray before you continue I just want to say the listening audience if people are not familiar with who this gentleman is you should become familiar with his work if your work is still online ray if you want to give out any web website that you have your work up on I feel please feel free to do so because Ray was one of the people who actually influenced my awakening in a big way and helped me to go all the way in my understanding of truth and natural law Ray has been talking about natural law for many many many years I got in got into his work back in the early 2000s and when he had a website with many of his podcasts up online I still have all of them right I've listened all of them your work is phenomenal I want to thank you for what you have done and continue to do and I'll open the floor for you to continue and if you want to give out any websites where your work is currently present and available to people feel free to go right ahead and do so well you know Paul the old adage go hold it takes one to know one and and that's that's what's going on between you and i we're resonating with it with one another my website by the way for listeners i've been a longtime caller to republic and john has me on the show several times but people don't get me mine website is enterprises dot-com I have more than a hundred YouTube videos that the one can listen to I'm controversial because I make the statement that I am a Christ but I also make the statement that all men are Christ but they suffer from amnesia while I don't and it is that very powerful we're all Christ in our potential absolutely that's true that's absolute we must we must trance traverse the the deceptions the illusions the satanic conditioning that is our mindset at the present time while we live on this earth we are controlled in our mind by those who the leadership of organizations and they will not relinquish that control so it's an individual journey for people you cannot get it by joining organizations and it's the Traverse from the illusion to truth what truth is dual it's non-dualistic it is what is completely and and when one resonates with that they are in the Christ state of consciousness and they are immune to all of the dualistic attacks that the intellect will wage against one for the sake of power that's how the government operates that's our religions operate they cannot stand a ban or a woman who lives in truth so they they attack they demean they be liable they create all kinds of fantasies which are libelous in nature in order to discredit the individual I've accepted that as being a fact of life I've been doing this for 18 years and I'm presently if people go to my site they will they will look into a couple of recent articles that I've written and the last one is the to the governor of the state of Oregon and I'm asking him to clean up his state of the corruption I have him over the barrel and all other public officials they have control of the media but they cannot control the truth that's right and and that is the power of one who lives simply and lives in a state of no harm that's it there's by little by god's law by natural law that's right the non-aggression principle that's absolutely correct right and when we stand in that truth that's when we're expressing our full potential and that's what we step into our power and nothing can stop us when we do that ray get in touch with me I want to bring you on at some future point for a whole show thanks so much you're quite welcome ladies and gentlemen is all the time we have for this edition I'll see right here next week on Republic broadcasting you've been listening to what on earth is happening you [Music]

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening to what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches its critical moment of choice and now here is your host Marc Pascoe [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening right here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com the network's website Republic broadcasting org this show is live every Saturday from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Eastern Time that's 9:00 p.m. to midnight central today is Saturday March 1st 2014 and we have a show filled with hard-hitting streetwise spirituality coming at you tonight tonight my special guest is going to be Jay Parker Jay Parker was born into a multi-generational satanic family and received monarch trauma-based mind control as a child for the first seven years of his life Jay was subject to satanic ritual abuse in a large cult setting today Jay speaks on recovery and healing healing methods for satanic ritual abuse survivors he discusses in detail neurological and biological discoveries related to ritual abuse and reveals a specialized holistic approach for sra healing Jay is going to be coming up here on what on earth is happening in just a few minutes I do have a couple of quick event announcements and I want to give the call-in number right at the top of the show me and Jay will both be taking calls from listeners throughout the show tonight so get in the queue and give us a call about anything that's on your mind I'll give the caller number right now it's 803 one three nine four four three once again the calling number 803 one three ninety four forty three on Tuesday March fourth that's this Tuesday from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Eastern Time I will be on patio radio with Johann Alden camp Johann Oldham camp show and you could check that out at WWE ta PA ta onl petty NL I will be speaking live in Asheville North Carolina on Saturday March 22nd of this year my presentation is New Age BS and the suppression of the sacred masculine revisited with even more new-age deceptions exposed and on billing this as streetwise spirituality are you truly awake or do you just think that you're in you're awake and are you in a spiritual trap that's designed to make you think that you're awake so this is going to be taking place in Asheville North Carolina at the Lexington Avenue brewery the brewery is at 39 North Lexington Avenue and the doors will open at 9:00 a.m. and the the seminar is going to go pretty much all day the tickets are $7 in advance a seven dollar donation in advance very inexpensive to attend you could call eight to eight seven eight two zero eight four zero to reserve advance tickets or you can email I walk with purpose at gmail.com once again that's I walk with purpose at gmail.com for advanced tickets at the door tickets only three dollars more expensive a ten dollar donation if you want to show up the day of the event and get tickets at the door in this one-of-a-kind presentation I will be talking about the New Age movement as a religion that has been created to deliberately prevent humanity from developing a deep understanding of natural law the information that they most need to understand in order to break out of our current human condition of slavery and become truly free I will expose many subtle new-age deceptions which have been cleverly disguised as spiritual teachings and then I will offer Corrections for each of these deceptions and these Corrections will convey deeper spiritual truths to balance out each of the new-age deceptions so if you've been lured into the so-called feel-good spirituality of the New Age movement this presentation is one that you are not going to want to miss because you need to see this presentation and to understand how you're being deceived by the New Age movement so that's coming up again Saturday March 22nd just in a few weeks looking forward to it and hope a lot of people in the Asheville area will make it out I am now on day 12 of a 30 day juice fast I feel really great it's going really well I have not faltered on it whatsoever really been doing well with it I've been checking my blood sugar daily it has been perfect within perfect levels since I began this fast and hopefully after the the juice fast is finished I will have rid myself permanently of type 1.5 diabetes that is the purpose of me going on this juice fast for 30 days it originally started out as a 10 day fast but a few days into it I said you know what I've heard reports of people actually completely curing diabetes and completely going off of insulin dependence upon doing this for about 30 days so I said I'm going to give it a try I did some research into it and I decided to go ahead with the full 30-day fast so I'm on day 12 now and again it's going great and hopefully after its completed I will be able to announce that my diabetes is completely gone so uh there also is a support donation button on my website at what on earth is happening com if you go there you'll see it on the left-hand side you can click that if you feel that my work has been of value to you and the information that I put forward is valuable and if you want to contribute by making a donation you could feel free to do so on the homepage of my website by clicking the support donation button so once again the calling number eight hundred three one three ninety four forty three and my special guest for today is J Parker J it's a pleasure to have you here today you've been on what on earth is happening to other times I'm not going to get too much into your background today what we're really planning on doing today is giving a kind of a report or a review or an update if you will on the state of reality that's kind of what your coming on here to do today maybe offer some solutions in the process but in any event it's great to have you here and welcome back to the show why thank mark and congratulations on your Republican radio show it's good to have you back on the mainstream airwaves and you're right definitely wanted to come on I hadn't been on in a while and my main gist is between what both of us know to sit down tonight and actually give a discussion an adult discussion about cognitive dissonance and reality and give me some hard-hitting subjects tonight I am going to talk a little bit about my experience as a monarch mind control slave and the cult I grew up with just to get people to understand that I went through trauma-based mind control but you live in a society of soft mind control and we're going to discuss the media we're going to discuss the New World Order agenda and briefly give an overview of things you need to be aware of to protect yourself from in this world right now absolutely that really sounds like a plan I mean you me Dee Utley brought up the concept of cognitive dissonance this is something that I continuously see just about every day in interactions with people there's so many things that they're still in denial about that we can see that is taking place before with that topic we'll come back right after this first brief when listening ladies and gentlemen to earth is happening here on the Republic Broadcasting Network [Music] [Applause] [Music] ladies and gentlemen it's all about a journey to the center of the mind the mind is what is manifesting the external reality and in if we want to change the external reality we have to change the way that we think so my very special guest this evening is Jay Parker a former victim of Monarch trauma-based mind control and satanic ritual abuse and he has actually survived that due to the strength of his spirit and recovered and has freed his mind and understands what's going on in this world but what we see with so many other people is this state of cognitive dissonance and Jay won't you wanted to get into that and I'll talk about some ways that people are still in denial about what's really going on in our world well no one likes negative things mark I mean you really to be happy you want to keep yourself in a place of settled calm happy thoughts and happy feelings you don't want to spend your life as I say gargling with sewage and basically I use that term gargling with sewage to talk about some of the harder things to stomach with our modern society the wars the medical system which is killing 750,000 Americans a year due to prescription drugs unnecessary surgery and bad diagnosis and you know medical malpractice but and that's that's a tough thing to talk about and that there's a myriad of issues whether it's the cancer cure cover-up whether it's the drugging of our schoolchildren whether it's vaccines causing autism there's just tons of real the negative things in our world that people don't want to face up to because these are corporate driven Illuminati driven issues when you peel away the paint and expose pull the curtain back and expose who's doing what and where the reason I wanted to come on tonight as we discussed earlier was to have a review of reality and to talk to people about what I've learned in the last fourteen years since I became aware of my monarch mind control and basically I believe our biggest problem in the world today is cognitive dissonance it's people not facing reality it's people living in la-la land you know and they want to believe that truth is what they think it is not something independent from their own way of thinking that needs to be discovered they want to be the arbiters of truth and believe that if something is uncomfortable uncomfortable to accept that they can just say oh it isn't happening and that magically makes it true somehow like you know that they want to ignore eugenics the eugenics agenda you know they want to ignore that there are people who are so evil in the world that they actually want other people to die and they will do anything to to do that to make that happen to call the population - you know suppress actual known cures for diseases the only thing you know one thing that there's still so many people in denial about even in within the so-called freedom community the so-called freedom movement is the fact that we're being sprayed on on a daily basis aerosol spraying called geoengineering or what has simply been called you know the chemtrail agenda you know people want to deny that that's occurring and think that this is just somehow vapor trails or condensation trails you know at low level altitudes spreading out Fanning and and then falling to the ground you know and high levels of aluminum barium strontium

Agony's and other soft metals you know they're in denial because they can't admit to themself how evil the world has become that they are actually living in so they try to you know make it like I'm gonna pull the blanket up over my eyes and the monster under my bed is just gonna magically disappear as a result you know they think that because of what they are comfortable with accepting that will magically change reality into something other than what it is that to me is what is going on and that's what cognitive dissonance is it really in its essence what do you have to say about that oh absolutely but where does the philosophy of todd- dissonance come from and and in my research the most important thing that I've discovered in the last fourteen years of research because when I woke up from satanic ritual abuse mind control the first thing I wanted to know was how why where who I wanted to know everything about the system I grew up in and who's doing what to whom and I grew up ladies and gentlemen in a satanic illuminati village called Arden Delaware it's pretends to be a former art colony that was founded in 1900 by a bunch of dark occultists and when I lived there in the 60s and 70s my mother an Illuminati which that worked for the DuPont corporation basically well she wasn't actually working for DuPont she taught the DuPont children but let's clear that out but let me say this that the biggest thing that I discovered in my research about cognitive dissonance and about of the mind control is it is a systemic social engineering going on right now the reason people are into solids is amazing people can decide like god what is true and what is not true is because socially we've been engineered that that is an acceptable way to think absolutely you know and they're propagating this through the new religion this ideology gets propagated through the New Age movement that you know there is no such thing as right and wrong there's no such thing as actual objective truth it's all just valid perceptions everybody's opinions are equally as valid as everybody else's and what you see continuously in this insidious movement is the downplay of knowledge knowledge actual ability to know truth is downplayed or just completely you know they claim that it doesn't exist you know that you can never really truly know anything and that's what solid sysm really is that's what the essence of salat is amiss and if they see the reason that they're propagating this and you know as well as I do the occultist behind the scenes they are not solid cysts they're not trying to propagate their ideology in this regard they want other people to believe the truth cannot be known they want to know what the truth is but then they want to use that knowledge as a power differential over other people in their ignorance and keep them in the belief that oh everybody's opinion is just as equal as everybody else's and that person's opinion is just as good as that person's knowledge and you know of course this isn't the case but you know that's how they that's how they have socially engineered our society and people are still to this day buying into it because that's a comfortable worldview for them it's much more comfortable to accept oh it's all just opinion and nobody can really know rather than to think you know what I've been duped I've been lied to and I've bought into something and now I need to reverse my position and admit that I've been duped that's very uncomfortable for somebody to do that is what takes spiritual strength and most of all having to admit that you're wrong so we've picked this up on the other side of this break foot folks don't go anywhere you're listening to what on earth is happening [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website is what on earth is happening calm my special guest tonight is Jay Parker Jay uh before the break we started talking about satanic ritual abuse and your experience in a dark occult family you you said that you when you woke up you started wanting to research all about the why the who the what the what the where you know all these questions about why are they doing this what what is their purpose what what do they abuse children for why do they put people through this trauma-based mind control abuse well after you free your mind conference in 2013 I talked about some of the friends that I knew in Arden Delaware who lost their lives by being murdered by the cult and I also talked about some of the people I grew up with who are involved in this and that was 2013 I woke up out of my hypnotic trance or my mind control whatever you want to call it in 1999 so it took me literally 13 14 years of study of wisdom gathering of emotional freedom technique work on myself to deconstruct the subconscious damage that they had done to my mind through the rituals for Mom trauma and I just want people to understand that the real core reason that you exist here on the earth believe it or not is to grow in consciousness is to understand natural law and to apply it in your life to actually develop a set of ethics that is to the death that you will not break your natural law ethics even for your life you're just totally convinced you're totally knowledgeable of what's right and wrong and you don't take any crap from anybody and when I grew up being raped and tortured basically the first thing they want to do is in the cult is to get you to believe that God doesn't care about you and that's the first thing they shoot down in your mindset the next thing they do is they break you down through fiscal torture and abuse to where you have low self-esteem so you have no spiritual help from the universe you have low self-esteem and by the time you're 4 or 5 years old and you've been sexually and ritually abused all your life I mean I my abuse sexually started in the cradle as it does for all of the 30 million generational Satanists in the United States this is a program of mind control and [Music] consciousness disruption that goes back thousands of years my mother said that her Illuminati satanic witchcraft history and her family went back 3,000 years to a people written about in the Old Testament called the Amalekite and the reason that they attack a child is several fold the first reason is to warp the synaptic pathways due to the fear and the chemical that the brain releases during trauma so that warps your synaptic pathways a second thing that they want to do is they want to pour the terror and the negativity into the morphogenetic field or the fifty-two grid energy field that we are in we exist in literally a sea of energy and information and then we decode that into our collective consciousness reality and all I all I want to say is through the years of learning and studying okay and really analyzing with fritzman Spring Myers books and with some of the things that Cathy O'Brien has written about when it comes to trauma-based mind control I really was able to take a hardcore look at what these rituals were trying to do to the person they were trying to make me into a satanic pedophile mass child killer but my consciousness would never go there but if they can't if you grow up in a satanic ritual abuse family generational Satanist if they can't get you to join a call then they have Plan B which is basically to put you under a program of hypnosis and trance-like reality but as I came out of this in 99 all I wanted to do was know how this happened and how I could literally lose my life and which is what happened to me and in my studies you know it took years of reading years of psychological introspection but I've gotten to the place where I understand that we're here to grow in consciousness and we're here to know the truth and to be able to discern truth which means you actually have to care about yourself and care about other people because that is a number-one priority to actually knowing the truth it really is all about extending our care first of all beginning that within ourselves having self-respect true self respect and as you said that's a big part of why they do this is because they're trying to stifle self respect from the earliest time of life so if you don't have self-respect you can't give respect to others you can't care about anybody else they're trying to create a secondary psychopath by doing this essentially at least that's what I'm picking up from what you're saying and in doing that they'll propagate their agenda because the more Psychopaths that they have working for them and carrying out their agendas they'll stay in power there there are families will stay in power their entire operation will continue so the the main thing that they're doing societally is a smaller part of this you know they're they're putting these traumatic events out into society to basically break down people and get them to think about humanity in a very poisoned worldview type of a way such that we think oh people are just bad everybody's evil everybody's bed and you know I don't want to care about anything most of all least of all I should say not not getting involved in doing something to try to change it that's what stifles people from taking real world action and getting involved to change this dynamic of what we're of all the in Justices that we're witnessing in the world oh absolutely mark and my my cause today in life is to try to wake up people so that they have their own life I mean when you really start to study philosophy and human education you realize that how many truly original thoughts do you have and how many of your thoughts are nothing but a repeat of somebody else's information and when you actually do the homework and read books rather than watch television and research who you are physiologically who you are spiritually and psychologically I mean I cannot recommend more the work of Bruce Lipton when it comes to his presentation wisdom of yourselves it's a ten hour presentation that you can buy used five CDs on Amazon for like thirty five dollars and that presentation will encapsulate Bruce Lipton's microbiology career into a ten hour lecture where he will tell you and explain to you everything he knew being a top level microbiologist and what new things Bruce Lipton talks about and other people are talking about this now too is the fact that the conscious mind runs on 40 bits of information a second the subconscious mind runs 40 million bits of information a second we are all knit together in a collective subconscious and that's what's making our reality is happening my special guest tonight Jay Parker we'll be right back yes you're listening to what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen my special guest tonight Jay Parker Jay you were talking about how this ritual abuse goes out and it poisons the actual living field of energy that we're all part of and that actually affects us at a epigenetic level you want to pick it up from there oh absolutely as you know mark I've been friends with you and Michael for seta and some of the other free remind people here in Philadelphia and a great group of people dedicated truth dedicated to helping the human race climb out of the darkness and all I have to say is a free mind group is a great group of people because when someone comes across a book written by someone that has a lot of great information or if someone comes across a lecture by someone like Bruce Lipton or Kevin Trudeau or Rupert Sheldrake we share that information in those books among one another and I've really gotten a core of fairly aware of people now and in my research of trying to overcome the damage motional II from the satanic ritual abuse I personally think truth is one of the most profound things that a human being can have in their mind and I know that my father would always say my pedophile satanic father you can never know you can never know well that's fine he can let walk around his entire life as a zombie repeating the mind control he went through as a child but as for me I want my life I want to create my reality with truth with real reality based on what is actually happening not what I want to believe is happening but what is actually occurring and why it's occurring and I call this the center path where you're neither an abuser nor a victim you're basically here to grow in consciousness and I got you I've had experiences from the universal spirit okay whatever of getting hit like a lightning bolt in my heart and in my mind saying to me you're here to learn and grow and take a stand for truth that's right and when you get on that Center path let me tell you you'll be motivated to help other people you'll be motivated to cut out eating crap in your life and start eating real food and start taking care of yourself and and start warning people about the dangers that they're in in this modern eugenic society but as I digress I'm gonna go back to talking about Lipton's wisdom of yourselves and his good friend Rupert Sheldrake Sheldrake is another scientist that is talking about reality as opposed to what we want to believe to make ourselves feel good Rupert Sheldrake has a book out recently called science set free in that book he talks about ten different Sciences that are completely and totally off the chart off the path of truth and this is something people need to understand when you have a society when let's say cosmology okay when schools are teaching people that it's a helium-3 itami Sun when all the real scientists that are honest are saying it's an electric Sun you've got a major-league problem it's like people following Einstein's physics when in fact the real true physics is nikola tesla and i could go on for hours about this but Rupert Sheldrake not only has the book science set free which talks about how science is totally corporate and government controlled and it's lying to us about reality but also children gets into war 'fuck resonance and the morphogenetic field which is the 52 wave forms of energy and information that make up our reality and we in collective consciousness just we decode that reality and choose what's going on my mother told me basically when I was a child that the entire world was under Stockholm Syndrome identification with victim mentality and basically standing up for your oppressors well yeah what happens through trauma over and over again and if you're really honest and you look at the schooling systems and if you look at the religious systems that are in our societies I mean we're talking fear-based we're talking step out of line you get hit think differently than the norm you get hit and what you being what's being done is you're being programmed you're being compartmentalised you're being shaped and molded into what you can do what you can think and what you can believe and the mainstream media now control by five different corporations spewing out corporate and government propaganda I mean totally totally removed from reality I mean marijuana cures cancer if you take the buds of the marijuana sativa and indica plant and extract the pure cannabis oil like Rick Simpson is doing he has yet to run across a terminal cancer patient that has not responded and gotten back to health from taking pure 96% pure cannabis oil so 500,000 people die in America each year from cancer yet there are at least a half dozen its breast cures and I know us but the biggest one that I find today we that shocks me of course is the cannabis oil or hash oil or the 96% pure THC oil it has a track record that I have yet to find one person that has properly taken 96% pure cannabis oil and not recovered from terminal cancer and I'm Rick Simpson from Phoenix tears dot-com I took on terminal cancer patients gave them four three 96% pure THC oil and all of them recovered and are cancer free and if you don't know about Rick Simpson and Phoenix tears that's one of my biggest pet peeves what you see Jay if we come out with a cannabis based cancer cure how will all these pharmaceutical companies and doctors keep there are four Lexuses in their garages that's what we really need to find out this is what Rupert Sheldrake ensign set free gets into and this is what Bruce Lipton in his talk wisdom of your cells talks about we have a culture where Illuminati corporations and Illuminati infiltrators in government are steering the human race right into a cage and one of the things in order to make that happen you have to take truth away from people ladies and gentlemen that's the end of our 1/4 what on earth is happening this evening we'll be right back with the second hour you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone this is our two of tonight's edition of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm today in studio with me my special guest Jay Parker the call-in number to join us if anyone has questions for me or Jay call 800 three one three nine four four three once again the callin number to join us 800 three one three ninety four forty three we'll be taking calls throughout the second and third hours so if anybody wants to call in and get in the queue feel free to do so now Jay you were on the other side of the break you were talking about how they need to suppress truth in our society in order to keep us in this victim identification to keep that abuse victim cycle going this is all part of social engineering and mind control driven by the social engineer dark occultic you Genesis that are running the show here today and we need to understand that we're all part of a inter connected dynamic living field of energy and a whole holistic living system that is the whole planet that is the earth and everyone on it the all the consciousness and particularly how it operates at the subconscious level it's so important to understand that because the subconscious mind makes up so much of our behavior unless we're actually going into that shadow material of the subconscious mind and actually really deeply working with it through deep introspection a deep self work and bringing those things up to the conscious level those things are running in the background like a background process in a computer that you don't see that just happens you know it's not in a window it just happens in the background and that's what so many people don't understand about how this mind control is propagated so I want you to pick it up from there well I couldn't have said it any better mark the subconscious run is 40 million bits of information suppose to the conscious mind which runs per second 40 bits of information so it's a million-to-one difference between the conscious mind and the information exchange into the field and the subconscious mind basically one of the things I learned from my malachite which mother was the most important thing to the Illuminati is the subconscious which is formed in the first six years of a person's life and bruce lipton in his talk wisdom of yourself gives a great explanation of how the subconscious works and how it drives her life and basically let me say this that even though I had woken up in 99 from my satanic ritual abuse it wasn't until I started doing EFT emotional freedom technique and started reprocessing the trauma that I went through as a child using EFT and actually destroying the synaptic pathways of the trauma and I all I have to say to anyone out there if you have a habit you don't like if you have recurring thoughts that aren't what your conscious mind likes these subconscious programs were given to you by your culture by your parents by your religion they were not put into your mind and running your adult mind through an act of will that you made they are placed literally like a tape player in your mind and that tape player that subconscious will run ninety five percent plus of your adult life and it has an effect of filtering the information that you're willing to take in and the information that you'll broadcast back into the field so when I looked closely at the ritual abuse that I went through I step back and critically thought about well what's that gun to my psychology you know what's the effect of that ritual you know what was their bottom line where they wanted to steer me and in my research for the last 14 years of course I'm not nearly as prolific a researcher as yourself but I'm pretty good one I've run across a book by dr. John Coleman laws Tavistock Institute for human relations and my mother made it clear to me growing up when they were training me to be Illuminati that this whole paradigm of self-destruction of planet ecocide of human genocide is started and finished in the collective consciousness and basically when you are given your subconscious programming as a child you are in a hypnagogic trance for the first six years of your life you cannot differentiate any information coming into your mind it's all just absorbed it really immediately look like like water flowing on to on top of a sponge it doesn't actually of a dry sponge that it doesn't go anywhere it just comes in and that's builds that be the basis for our programming of our subconscious in those first six years of life and there is all of your in cultural in culturalization there is your culture that you grow up in in your family in your religion in your schooling for the first six years of your life make up what you're broadcasting and how you're reacting through your entire life your your padding patterns of behavior and your reactions and things and again as you said before your willingness to accept or even look into other forms of information that perhaps conflict with that early programming absolutely I mean I think one of the things that we can talk about when it comes to cognitive dissonance is fluoride a great topic many people still walk around saying oh fluoride is good for your teeth but ten minutes worth of research on the web you'll find that fluoride is the number one ingredient in rat poison that fluoride is used in what's used in the Nazi and Soviet concentration camps to dumb down and make docile their inmates fluoride calcifies the pineal gland in the middle of your brain which is the third eye the spiritual nexus point for higher-dimensional spirituality and intuitiveness and basically shuts it down and you know 10% 20% loss of IQ I mean it's it's a poison absolutely I mean this could bring us right back to cognitive dissonance because this is something people are still in denial about all the studies that are done about how fluoride basically destroys the nervous system Plus even if as a topical agent it was good for killing bacteria on the surface of the teeth okay what why would you drink it internally you can't control the dosage that way you wouldn't know what that the intake anybody's a particular daily intake of it was so how could they possibly even justify this you know so people don't want to just make the the informed judgmental decision that indeed this is a deliberate effort to keep the population docile and ignorant by shutting down certain cognitive functions of the brain but again they're in this cognitive dissonance State this a psychological state of illness of holding two contradictory notions in the mind simultaneously will pick it up right there on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen stay with us we'll be right back [Music] you Ciccone the silence when doing this a while between us welcome back ladies and gentlemans you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my special guest tonight Jay Parker so uh Jay y'all let you just pick up where you left off before the break well you know essentially what this show is about is cognitive dissonance holding two contrary thoughts in your mind and also a mark and I both believe that truth can be found it can be known and it can be the primary spiritual and mental focus of your life to actually walk breathe and live in reality as opposed to being under someone's spangle a spell because the the mainstream media and government propaganda that is being foisted on the human race by the five corporations that own mainstream media when you look at the history of what happened to media in America you will find that basically the corrupt bankers decided they'll just buy the media and then they'll buy the government and they will be the arbiters of reality and so far so good for but there is a small and radical group of true human beings like the free your mind group and others out there in the world like David Icke like Michael to Surrey on Jordan Maxwell and we're fighting back for Humanity for humanity to have a chance at something better than what we all I can say is I mean 40 EPA scientists wrote a letter to the White House and the Congress years ago saying please take fluoride out of the water it is a major cancer cause oh now this is the EPA telling the government its own government this is poison and the government just saying tough luck you know I look at the scourge of contrails right now as a number-one mind blower when it comes to people being disconnected from reality all you have to do is spent a evening okay go onto YouTube watch what on earth what in the world are they spraying it's free on YouTube and why in the world are they spraying those two I consider really good chemtrail movies but understand this we are living in a eugenics elite society they wish to remove 80 to 90% of the human race they have said this in their white papers for the last 40 years that it's time to call the herd we are living through this right now when you take into account the GMO food the chemtrail aluminium poisoning and barium heavy metal poisoning that we're breathing from the spraying every day let alone the fact that it's making the soil acidic and killing the microbes that break down the soil to make the nutrients available to plants over 50% of those microscopic bugs are now gone from Kentrell spring and so plants aren't even growing with the the vital nutrients that they need and we're not getting that nutrition in in us to the levels that we once were because of such practices well basically most of our food now is dead if you are living on a diet of processed food your your health is going could go to hell in a handbag and if you take into account the fluoride the aspartame again another neurotoxic chemical that's being put in all the food you can't buy a pack of gum hardly these days without having aspartame in it aspartame is a neurotoxin aspartame when it metabolizes in your system turns to wood alcohol now you wouldn't drink wood alcohol unless of course you wanted to go blind but all I have to say is that's what aspartame is and do some research it's a biological weapon mark I want to get your take on something I I've often tried to explain to people that the reason that this state of psychological denial that we have that psychologists are called cognitive dissonance that we're talking about here tonight in other words looking at the world and seeing one thing but then insisting in your mind that it's not that way and holding a complete contradictory belief in your mind simultaneously to what you see I've often tried to explain to people it's because people have a hard time accepting that there are psychopaths in our midst that there are people who are so truly divorced from any semblance of conscience that they cannot feel anything any repercussions of what they do to other people and it's actually a disadvantage not to be able to envision or understand the mindset of a psychopath people will say well why would want to try to grasp our psychopath thing sir the mindset that there in the and the answer is because that is absolutely critical as part of psychological self-defense as part of your understanding of what's out there of the Predators that are actually out there in our environment so I want you to address that dynamic or give me your take on you know I feel that that's a huge disadvantage and one of the reasons why people still cannot see what's truly going on in our world what do you have to say about that well I I can definitely speak from experience of a monarch mind control slave that denial was one of the program foundations to what I experienced psychologically whenever I would run into a incident with my family in the forty years plus that I was actually under monarch mind control if something's quote unquote slapped me in the face that exposed my family as being dark occult I would automatically instantaneously go right into denial and throw that thought right out the window and pretend that we were a Newman Rockwell family and you have to understand folks if you read books like Tavistock Institute for human relations by dr. john coleman trillions of dollars are being spent by governments and corporate institutions through the media to steer your consciousness into a place where you make a excellent victim where you are disempowered I personally like the fact that I'm on the center path that I know truth exists and I'm going to find out all of it I don't sit in gargle with sewage all the time my life is not spent rolling around in the conspiratorial of agenda 29 I spend most of my time in the positive areas of human growth philosophy like the Trivium and things like that excellent Jay we're going to pick this up on the other side and we'll take your calls after this quick break [Music] welcome back ladies and gentlemen this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're going to go to your phone calls for any questions that you have for Jay Parker or myself and before we do that real quick I want to let people know that Jay is also a radio show host he does a show every Sunday evening on blog talk radio it's his show is called SR a today and you could find his show and his archives at blogtalkradio.com/ropeadoperadio ashram so you could check out Jays show sra today and jay you say that's not does not stand for satanic ritual abuse you've had some other colorful acronyms for what that means right well it actually I I picked that SRA first satanic ritual abuse but I when I did first you know I did kind of different things for okay so people can never think of them right now no worries people could check that out and Jays done I think probably about eight or nine shows so far to date and you can check them out every Sunday so with that said let's go to some calls what do you think take some calls absolutely okay let's go to Jack in Illinois you're live on what on earth is happening with our special guest Jay parkour welcome I'm mark hi Jay I hope I don't know if you remember me but we've talked we spoke in the past about a year and a half ago about maybe working together but I just want to plot both of you but in particular to you mark I've been reviewing your some of your previous work and getting up to speed on some of your more recent work and it's just absolutely so spot-on it's absolutely splendid and I just trying to pass the word to as many people as I can to get them to watch a lot of your videos so I think you rushing for the work you do absolutely I appreciate that so much and like I said it's all about getting active getting involved and putting the truth out there for other people and that's why it's so great that Jay has also taken up that banner and he's doing his own radio show and let me tell you something his show is a smorgasbord of information you want to tune in and get in-depth information a source by many many articles from all over all over it from a very eclectic variety of sources you want to tune in to his show on Sunday evening so thanks so much jack did you have anything else yes I just have one I guess comment and then one question for both of you the comment more is for you mark in watching a lot of your presentations I can hear the I guess frustration in your voice about the lack of the number of people that are awakening and I guess my comment on that would be isn't is isn't the reality of the situation that it's a wonder that anybody wakes up given the fact it's against all odds yeah we're all stood on every front yeah I've often seen your comment yeah let me just cut and cut in there for one moment I've often said to people it is a tragedy that it only took me 30 years of my life to wake up and it's a miracle that it only took me 30 years of my life to wake up that's my comment on your comment so go ahead with your next part yes okay this next question is for both of you regarding the dark occultist as it relates to animals you know I've listened to your presentations mark about carnism and that's one aspect of it but what it is they're a plan that the dark are cultists actually implement regarding animals and how the slaughter and mass murder of let's say for example the many animals that are hunted that are promoted and actually which sponsors the Department of Natural Resources the DNR like deer hunting and all these other types of things that traumatize animals other than farm factories such as rodeos such as circuses all the lab animals that are absolutely tortured and right down the line is there an actual plan in place by the dark occultist so that that affects the energy level and a negative fashion etc Jack thank you so much for that question that's a great question and thank you for your call i'm gonna let jay field that question Jay what do you have to say about the dark occult Shaw agenda toward animals and if I'm not mistaken you also as I am are vegetarian is that not correct so you try to as much as possible step back from the harm of our fellow beings here on this plow from the animal kingdom I do take care of myself by eating organic occasionally I'll eat meat but very very rare my main thing with staying away from meat is the law of Correspondence also I personally think that animals have some form of consciousness that I do not understand and do I really have a right to take their life but the biggest thing that keeps me away from carnism is the fact that when you research what the factory farms are doing to these animals you won't want to be part of that system and it just comes down to the understanding when you think of the dark occult and the treatment of animals and the law of Correspondence ask yourself why is the UN on a former slaughterhouse on the East River when animals are killed in such a inhumane way over millions of animals and one of the biggest slaughterhouses in New York was situated and owned by the Rockefellers and they built a UN right on that property that property is literally soaked in blood and soaked in the morphogenetic field of death and I just want to say that when it talked when you talk about the dark occult their understanding of the morphogenetic field and Rupert Sheldrake's work on this is something everyone needs to understand Sheldrake and Lipton are two people you've got to understand their work you have to understand some of the work done by Kevin Trudeau especially when he talks about the fact that the additives and foods are nothing but drugs some dangerous stuff out there but when you start to study how they manipulate the energy field then you can look at well how can I manipulate the energy field in the other direction how can I be a light worker as opposed to a demonic possessed robot and I make organize and organize is something that you can research you should have organized in your home and on your person at all times the EMF pollution that's out there is extremely dangerous and not beneficial to your cell walls and the activities of your receptors and your we don't really know what the long-term effects of the EMF electromagnetic pollution on the cell wall is but the doctors that have posted emi pollution on youtube the few that i've honest doctor said I've heard give talks on this totally terrifying that's why I make him promote orgonite and I do a lot of things in my life to help people you know grow and understand and stay safe that's why I taught the speaking out against fluoride I speak out against eating conventional food that has pesticide one one person did a analysis of a head of broccoli and found 33 different chemicals in that head of broccoli fungicide pesticide herbicide now I want you to get this cognitive dissonance concept in your mind Farms have to by law post warning signs if they use herbicides pesticides and fungicides because of the damage that was caused the farm workers back in the 60s and 70s everybody knew that these chemicals being sprayed on the plants were causing genetic damage to human beings and it wasn't healthy now magically those same plants come out of those fields with those warning signs that say danger chemical pesticides get shipped to your supermarket and magically a magic happens and and they're healthy and it's good to eat some transformation what was poisonous is no longer poisonous anymore yeah see what what this all comes down to J is that this is all about the manipulation of energy that's how they're manipulating human beings whether it's by injecting poisons and chemicals into the food supply or affecting the the morphic field of energy that we all live in through this slaughterhouse a factory farm system you know it all comes down to that's affecting the consciousness of people because that energy field is what we live in and we resonate in that field it's an inescapable conclusion we are bioelectrical beings we are living in an energy field if you poison that energy field it would be the equivalent of poisoning the water in a tank of fish it's going to affect all the fish if the water is poisoned it's the same thing with us we are living in a sea of energy and while people may not be able to directly perceive that that etheric energy field is directly affecting the mind it's not just affecting the body it's affecting the way we think too and again the way we think is going to directly influence behavior and then that's going to directly influence the manifested conditions on the earth which is how they do this that's how the mind control works and that's how they keep it propagated let's take another call let's go to a fred in california you're live on what on earth is happening with our special guest Jay parkour welcome Fred okay Mike I'm disabled in in bed most of the time and starting 2001 when the second power drops I stopped reading novels and wiping history and it took me to places I had not dreamed of I agree with probably a lot of what mr. Parker what you're saying tonight and as I would consider myself a researcher and I really you for the time and the energy that you put in along with all the talk show hosts on this network it's a lot of work and I've come to a point where it's very easy to become what I call a reader repeater and to get stuck into things and to keep an open mind I've noticed that you know you use the word truth many times and that you've been on this this journey for 30 years you can only imagine a family where both parents are working and have kids how much time they have how much energy they have left at the end of the day to do the type of research that we're all doing here and trying to help our fellow man the question I have for you is factually what is true because you use it a lot and and that's my question to you tonight yes I actually did a interview with Richard grow from tragedy and hope calm and he led hid the entire show that I did you could find this on my the news section of my website he led the entire show with this question directed to me so I'll field this and then I'll let Jay you know speak on whether he concurs with my working definition for that term to me truth is that which is it is that which has occurred in the past and is occurring in the present and it is nothing more nor less than that it is a we have to demystify this concept people want to overthink it they want to mystify it and they want to complicate it into something that it is not they want to try to get it what is the mind of God what is the purpose for all existence you know what is happening in other dimensions I I try to stray from from making it about all of that we have to simplify and demystify this concept okay and understand that we're talking about events which have occurred and which are occurring now the reality of the situation that we are actually in is what the truth is the the things that are taking place within us and around us that's the truth the truth is simply that which has occurred in the past and is occurring in the present moment Jay I'll let you give your take on that basically my my viewpoint of truth is something that's based on actual research a clear understanding and not tied to a belief system yeah I'll let me pick up that on the other side of the break you're listening to what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen we'll be right back our guest tonight is Jay Parker jr. before the break the caller had asked you about your view of truth and you were talking about what it is to pursue truth so you can pick it up from right there well for me you know having gone through the mind control of hard trauma being a letter shot raped tortured for the first seven years of my life and then manifesting a life where I basically obeyed the programming that my parents gave me this slave programming and for instance in my business life basically if someone recognized me as a Illuminati slave they could use a simple Illuminati hands they know and I would basically work for pennies on the dollar not a very fun place to be but my pursuit of truth once I woke up has led me into a myriad of studies but it's all based on a simple premise that I understand the Illuminati system in the world that we live under today and if I can say this one truth to you and you can hold this in your mind I want you to understand the paradigm you're in and that truth is let the buyer beware if you are ignorant of reality when it comes to aspartame fluoride the cancer industry cannabis whatever okay GMO food if you're ignorant these corporations and these Illuminati dark occultists okay their understanding is it's not our fault you're stupid enough to ingest that it's not our fault you're ignorant enough to believe that it's not our fault that you don't read books and study reality and study your own physiology and study your own psychology that's you you're doing that you've been brought up in a culture of ignorance and a culture that tells you that you're nothing that you have no power and I'm here to tell you that you are the ultimate power because you broadcast into the field and the biggest thing the Illuminati is afraid of is people waking up and broadcasting freedom and broadcasting self-determination and self responsibility that's right sovereignty absolutely we're dealing with collectivism we're dealing with the state wanting to take over all aspects of human in life that's exactly right it's all about the under deep understanding of our own individual sovereignty and then respecting that sovereignty and all others let's take another call let's go to rob in Ecuador Peru I'm sorry and ecuador rob and effort already you're live on one hand is happening welcome Rob good evening good evening Jai yeah a bit of a bit of a comment bit of a question I think anyone who's who's got the courage to become awake realizes that we're dealing with ultimately a dark satanic force right now in the UK there's a there's a gentleman called Robert Greene who was investigating child abuse he was a ducted out of the UK taken to Scotland by police then they've tried to section him now he's incarcerated just for investigating child abuse and of course they they took all his computer records and all his all his evidence as they went because it goes right to the the very the very heart of and the highest levels of society I'm sure you've heard the name Jimmy Savile in in recent months and and I know it's hundreds of thousands ago missing or a couple of hundred thousand the kids go missing in the in the us and a few tens of thousands in the UK stay with a what James gonna give you his take on this on the other side but stay with us until the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen we'll be right back you're listening - what on earth is happening [Music] welcome back everyone this is the last hour of tonight's edition of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm my special guest tonight Jay Parker and Jay we were fielding a question from Rob in Ecuador regarding pedophilia within in the highest institutions of government Rob if you're still there if you want to finish up your question and then all that J filled that yeah well that the the the child abuse pedophilia thing we I'm sure you all heard there's numerous people been called out in the BBC and Jimmy Savile recently and it's just it's this this is merely one part of the burden that those of us who who who feel we're slightly awake hear you we have to look at this stuff and this is just one of the intricate web of the negativity that's being that's being foisted on humankind my question is and and you've begun to address it really is we all we understand how powerful the mind is how one needs to be in a positive state to to create better health to be creative to be able to shape our own futures we we have to as you say not gargle in the sewage and because fear is as we start to wake up of course we're facing scary stuff and the first reaction is to just end up completely consumed by by by fear and you know certainly something I've I've been through most I think most of society is is has been so traumatized and I'm not in the same way of course that Jays been through but just by a taught all of the mind controls that you discuss mark most of them just have no interest in waking up whatsoever they they don't even it's almost like the frog in the frog in the pan of water being slowly heated up they they don't seem to have the ability to even a face it and yet when we do we almost need to support each other or come forward with techniques and you've mentioned one I think emotional freedom technique to help those that are coming awake to deal with what they're finding so my question really is around how do we you know can we actually be in against such overwhelming odds is it possible to live a happy healthy life whilst having to look at some of this this this sewage you know that we're waking up to I guess amazing that you were during the break mark and I were talking of course and I said the mark I've never been happier than I am right now having reality as the basis of my existence rather than someone's mind control and true that this is theirs ugly subjects like the pedophilia pedophilia is a satanic or Illuminati sacrament and if you wish to get in with the in crowd of these are conic energies these offworld other dimensional energies that motivate these dark occultists that take over their minds I've seen my parents literally change into other beings right in front of me on a vibrational spiritual level and it's this other satanic demonic force I call it our conic due to the work of the Gnostics and I believe that they have an understanding of what we're going through as a species better than most I just want to say when when I talked to an old friend of mine recently and I've been turning him on to Kevin Trudeau and Bruce Lipton's lectures and I he's very busy man he has a small business he has three kids he hardly has any time to himself but I said to him just listen and read as much as you can every day and get away from the television the television has tons of subliminal programming going on when you watch TV you are put into a mild hypnotic state David Icke and other researchers have talked about this Alex Jones has talked about this the TV is absolutely doing mind-control on you on a subliminal level so get away from it open a book start doing nutritional research one of the first things that made me happiest was when I started eating right when I started not poisoning my body with the processed food out there and really paying attention to the water I drank I got a fluoride filter I don't drink fluoridated water really there's things you can do to change how you feel and one of the best things is of course eating properly not eating the mass-produced poison but eight hundred thousand children disappear in America every year according to the Center for Exploited and missing children this is one of the largest organizations of Missing and Exploited Children in America and they report eight hundred thousand children disappear every year well I know that a lot of those children are ending up in pedophile flavorings I know experimentally a lot of those children are ending up in human sacrifice rituals done for the twisting of Monarch mind-control slaves and Cathy O'Brien talks about this stuff too and all I have to say is I had an old girlfriend that when she broke up with me she said to me I just don't want the Illuminati in my life so she went back to sleep she went back to lala land as if ignoring reality can make that happen as if ignoring reality will somehow change the external situation in our lives and you know that that's that's that cognitive dissonance we've been talking about the whole show that people believe they're the arbiters of truth I can just you know flick my attention one way or another and and that changes reality you know it's not about actually taking action to make things different in the world I want to speak to the dynamic of happiness for a moment because I totally agree with Jay although I have become aware of what the world really is and I tell people hey you want to know what the world really is in one word the world is a farm the world's not just the prison it's a farm where we're farmed for energy human beings are an energy source as dark of an understanding as that is coming online to understanding about the slavery system here on earth nothing could have possibly made me happier in a cosmic sense see it's there's a distinction here that we're talking about Rob I believe Robert was the caller's name the distinction that we're talking about here is the difference between individual happiness based on personal desire versus true cosmic happiness based on doing the great work of propagating the truth and therefore alleviating suffering so I'm cosmically happy am i happy about the situation no am i happy that I knowing what I know have the responsibility to have to have to do this work and to sacrifice my time and energy in the way that I know that I must do it because I have a moral obligation to propagate the truth knowing what I know no I'm not happy about that I would rather not that not be the case but the the happiness that J is referring to here the peace that you can find is through knowing the truth and knowing that you're doing the great work to actually bring that truth to other people to make this world a better place to live in not only for ourselves but those who come after us so I hope that answers your question and I thank you for your call let's go to Diane and Nebraska actually let's hold that and we'll pick up with Diane and Nebraska on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting we'll be right back so gnarly we've got a good dude this is what on earth is happening on your host mark passio I'm here with my special guest for this evening Jay Parker we're taking your calls let's go to Dianne from Nebraska welcome to what on earth is happening Dianne well thank you both gentlemen for being here and talking with us all tonight appreciate your work mark I just discovered your work a couple weeks ago and I saw your piece on the cosmic abandonment and it just blew the lid off of everything I've been questioning for years and my consciousness and and my question for both of you I since I'm just recently reached that point where I saw not only the awareness of what's really going on but how evil it is and how deep it run and and made that first realization okay everything I've known about life up to this point has been shattered and I was wondering what techniques or how you both dealt with it when you were at that stage where you first realized well everything is not as it seems sure I'll speak to that first and then I'll let Jay Pickett pick that up and the the first the thing when I understood what the world really was the first thing that I wanted to do was I wanted to tell that to as many other people as possible in the effort to help them to understand what I had come to understand so my only motivation was immediately my mind switched to knowing this just me knowing this obviously isn't enough other people apparently very obviously do not know what I know and therefore I have an obligation to communicate that to other people that's where that's what actually took the pressure off of doing that but see I at first in that process was almost kind of afraid to do that because it was like am i do I really have the big picture right am I really accurate and a person helped snap me out of that like waiting process I wanted to do it but I didn't immediately act on that okay and it was a mistake not to immediately act on that it was a mistake not to start immediately communicating to that it took somebody basically kicking me in the rear end and telling me that I was one of the most knowledgeable people that they had come across but I was still remaining inactive and in so doing that I was not actually fulfilling a responsibility that I have as a knowledgeable person to communicate that knowledge to other people so when this person very unapologetically and almost brutally honestly said that to me it kind of snapped me out of that that a waiting process that holding process that I was in and then I finally came fully online and said you know what I have to take this immediately into the realm of action and start doing what I know there was the right thing to do which was start talking to everybody around me and everybody in his white of a sense meaning on the internet as I possibly could so that's what helped me to deal and mitigate with that initial shock process of really understanding the big picture Jay your process as far as that was concerned well of course waking up from satanic ritual abuse the first thing I felt was rage that my life had been stolen from me and that my entire you know family history was a complete fraud and very angry at my brothers and my parents and how do I deal with that anger well well very simple simply I was angry enough not to go ballistic and start screaming in people and this and that about what I knew worse now basically I was angry enough that I said I'm going to get to the bottom of this right the bottom of all of this and that's what my last 14 years has been and the reason I'm doing SRA today the radio show is to warn people about aspartame the cancer fraud all of it I talk about a lot of negative things but I also talk positive things you see in that negativity that you're bringing forward you're providing a defensive shield that knowledge is what is actually allowing people to empower themselves and defend themselves against these attacks so that's what people have to understand when we talk about these negative things it's not to shut people down and keep them in fear it's to say here's what you're dealing with this is what you're up against this is what you have to be aware of if you want to protect yourself and then ultimately thrive in this environment where we're besieged on all sides by different poisons and and fields of energy and you know lies and deception so that process of actually telling people and warning them about that is actually extremely pot an extremely positive process one other thing I really want to briefly comment on Jay before you continue is your anger that's also a positive thing because that motivated you to learn the truth and then start communicating the truth to other people see this is what the New Age movement has all wrong it's not about not looking at the negative and never getting angry it's about understanding what is regardless of how dark it is and initially getting angry about that now you can't stay in that anger and let it fester and let it eat you alive you have to use that anger as a motivating force to do something with that knowledge that you now possess and that is what the positive usage of that emotion is so Jay you could pick it up from there I feel for you because when the veil drops and you look at our society for what it truly is it's a real punch in the gut it's just like reading a type of stock Institute by John Coleman that'll make you feel like crap for a couple of days another thing I can recommend to someone who's just waking up is you know get one of David Ickes books that are about 700 pages long and you can see a complete overview of the economic political and social history of the human race i right Swilley good books about like that but one of the best things that I found and this is what Mark was touching on that as you grow on in knowledge and wisdom and protect yourself and try to protect the people that you love around you tell them you don't have to take vaccines because you can get a waiver vaccines are very dangerous I mean I have done the research okay I ran into a PhD woman at the train station the other day and I got in an argument with her she said vaccines don't cause autism and and I just shot back with her the CDC recently had to admit that they were suppressing for 30 years research that shows vaccines cause autism they admitted that yes yes there a doctor in England got a Freedom of Information request finally through after ten years and it shows that the CDC has known for thirty years through there's like 24 studies that autism and vaccines go together now you can google CDC suppresses 30 years of vaccine research and you've probably get the article I get was on my show not too long ago but but the thing is if you take the same amount of drugs into your body at a a deepal adult that is given to a baby during a vaccination you would have to take 30 injections to have the same amount per body weight okay per mass that that infant is getting now think to yourself 30 shots of mercury laced squalene and [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we're taking your calls the calling number to join us 831 394 43 let's go to Robert in Missouri with our special guest Jay Parker Robert you're live on what on earth is happening welcome greetings guys great conversation great program just all the topics covered you know I I noticed in this I listened to a lot of underground talk you know various networks various hosts and so many people are half in half out there they're unwilling they get themselves you know what they think is awake and then they do to their own preconceived programming they're unwilling to come out further right and we give you an for instance so many people in this you know alternative media movement they still get this hero worship of the military right I'm a marine honorably discharged I got out long ago but we still have this thing to wear joining the Marine Corps the army whatever going off and doing the bidding of Psychopaths we still want to give these guys a pat on the back rather than given the truth in their face right and it's it's getting you know to the point where it's like look the whole world is a slain lift conflict and we've got to get to this point where we say look I'm not going to pick up a rifle for you goons anymore and you know this system you know Homeland Security why would you pick up a weapon and put on a homeland security uniform I just can't get it obviously you know a lack of self-respect you know and a feeling of distant in their own lives than resulting subconsciously in them craving power over others I mean that's really the psychological dynamic that's going on with a person like that of course they're not aware of that at a conscious level but at a subconscious level that's what's operating but I totally agree with you Robert that you know we need to be in the face of people like this telling them that they're not moral they're not heroes they're doing something that's actually immoral and always have been it always has been like that you know and they're just being used by these psychopathic financial elitist to you know basically confiscate the resources of other nations and other people's at their behest J your take on this nine hundred military bases throughout the world does not mean peace of freedom it means corporate hegemony over the world and our military has been viciously and maliciously used by the international bankers I guess over a hundred years now because World War one was just so blatant as far as an Illuminati conflict but of course you know you look at the economics of imperialism is what's driving most of this and you know spanish-american war we did a false flag with the blowing up of the main and declared war and took a bunch of things from the Spanish Empire and became an empire ourselves and we haven't looked back since that's exactly what yeah you know yeah you know i I've been really trying to look into this this thing we call conscious list no no conscience psychopathy and it's you know what I've been reading some like assets here works and you know pike everything all the secret society stemming from you know a lot of the secret society stuff stemming from Kabbalah and uh hmm and I've been getting into some Talmud and it's just like you know when you consider you and your clique as the only people that are truly human and the other you know six point whatever billion people on the planet as in human this is a perfect greeting breeding ground for psychopathy where you you know the skullenbones guys up there at Yale everybody that's not a Bonesmen is called a Gentile right you know if Freemasonry everybody outside the law just called the profane this this mindset has infected so many institutions and so many organizations force us within work were the gods everybody outside you're nothing it will do with you as we please whether it's poison you shoot you up with vaccines we're gonna put a chip in your head will upgrade you that's the story we're gonna give you but it's probably a downgrade and you know all these things that we can experiment on the rest of humanity because guess what will rationalize it on our own minds that no they're not humans they're just animals to be disposed of and used as we please and that's the perfect breeding ground for nutjob psychos and people are unwilling to you know get into this and say hey look I'm not a hater by any means of your ethnicity or tribe or whatever but when you look at me as less than a human then we got a problem buddy and this this big dynamic of the consciousness of separation and it doesn't make a difference what group it is you know it could be the dark occult it could be Satanists it could be Zionists it could be any particular religious extremist group forget the Jesuits of course you know it's the whole idea that there is a group of people that if you're inside that group then you are you know better and elevated than other people and I talk about that there's only want all of that solution you know we're all in the same situation together I talked about and I as I brought up last week and will continue to discuss there is one true divide that does separate people and it's not an illusion and that is whether they believe in the concept that certain people are an authority over other people that is the thing that actually does truly differentiate the level of consciousness from of one group of people over another group and that's what this whole great awakening process is about that's what this whole great work to awaken humanity is about to get them to understand there is nobody over anybody else there is no Authority the only Authority is the law of morality the laws of morality that the creator of the universe put into effect in this entire reality that is the authority in this domain of existence that we call the physical world there and and nobody is that it that you know nobody is higher than God you could just say it outright like that and that's what these people want to think that they are this is about the dynamic that's happening on the earth is about man thinking that he's God man is not God man did not create the universe and put the laws of nature into effect that was done by the creator of the universe and were bound by those laws and if we flagrantly disregard them we're going to live inside of a prison for for as long as it takes for us to understand that we were wrong and then start looking at the laws of morality and living in harmony with them Jay your take on that well I agree 100% with what you just said I am very fearful about what could happen in the next you know 5 10 years in America if everything should go badly for freedom and truth but I also have another part of me that that thinks that I have more faith in the human race and less faith in the people that are pulling the strings in the media I've read I think the common man when push comes to shove I think we might be okay so Robert thanks so much for your call let's move on to Andrew in California you're live on what on earth is happening with our special guest Jay parkour welcome thank you for all of your work I like to say I enjoyed the cosmic event YouTube thing it's very awesome okay with a cult in knowledge becoming more and more increasingly available through like the internet and things as YouTube documentaries learning this stuff can kind of sometimes still like a bottomless pit especially for like naive kid coming out of like the brainwash education system realizing we didn't really learn anything with any actual true value like I did I've seen friend these touch with reality and I know I've even shot the illusion one in the recent past that sometimes the darkside is a seductive and um how do we know we're a lot we're aligning ourselves with the truth with all these different paths of learning now available how can we truly know we are doing the right thing as it can be confusing at times is there only one supreme understanding and is lie the polar opposite of truth and for Marco what are your feelings on someone like Marilyn Manny okay we'll pick that up on the other side I'll let Jay speak to the answer to that question on the other side of the break and then I'll give you my take on Manson so they'll stay with us since our proprietary music for this last segment of what on earth is happening this evening here with my special guest Jay Parker and we had a call from Andrew from California I want to thank you Andrew for your call how does one really know that they are actually on the path to truth Jay you want to take that one aye-aye-aye personally in my studies got back into classical philosophy looking at what existed in the Western world and the eastern world you know several thousand years ago especially looking at what mark deems to be natural law looking at the Trivium natural law using EFT personally and writing down traumatic experiences and feelings reoccurring ideas in my mind and you tapping on them with EFT and reprogramming my subconscious and using EFT also to bring things out of my subconscious that I needed to work on and and that's I believe you know one of the problems with the human race right now is that we're taught in a psychologically negative system and we need to reprogram our subconscious to give ourselves a break I want to tell everyone out there that's on the path to being a freedom activist or a truth shower that you're not you don't have to be God you don't have to be a messiah all you have to do is speak the truth in love when it's appropriate that's it it's very simple and it's a simple walk and it's not stressful the universe isn't asking you to be Atlas and hold the world up what you really want is a center of knowledge in your heart to where you can look at yourself in the mirror and say I know what it means to be human I know right from wrong that's it that's what it's ultimately all about to answer Andrews question you have to know the difference between right and wrong you have to know what actions cause harm and which actions do not cause harm you have to know what you have a right to own and what you don't have a right to own or try to take away from someone else and ultimately that's all about understanding natural law I highly recommend you Andrew to check out my natural law seminar on my website in the videos section it's a three-part video constituting about eight eight hours worth of worth of work you probably get a lot of value out of that because it is ultimately about conscience the path the truth is and knowing that your honor is when you are doing no harm and you are helping to alleviate suffering for other people so that's the aunt that's my answer to that as well and to answer your question briefly about Marilyn Manson Manson was a laveyan styled Satanist and he was a priest in the Church of Satan he actually held the rank of priest the same degree that I held within the Church of Satan when I was involved with it many years ago and I do think he ideologically grasps and understands the the tenets the ideological tenets of Satanism I don't think that levae himself would have appointed him as a priest in the church if he didn't so that mindset is very very poisonous and I would I would personally suggest that he's definitely one of the people who is working toward the goal of a pure selfishness and not really hasn't woken up and understood what's really going on here in this world if that is indeed still his ideology I don't know what his ideology is now in the present day I'm talking about many years ago at least when he was appointed priest in Levay search of Satan of years ago so maybe he's changed from that ideology but that's generally my take on him he is an ideological Satanist or at least he was in the past again for what he is doing now I can't speak to that because I don't really follow what he does so that's my take on him to answer that part of your question let's go to another caller let's hear from ray in Oregon ray you're live on what on earth is happening with my special guest Jay Parker welcome hello can I give you my take on on what truth is sure absolutely that's your it truth is a vibration it's a holistic a non-dualistic unconstructed energy that everyone has within them the thought of truth is merely a concept based on the intellect which is satanic ly controlled it is based in duality therefore it's divisive in nature and opposing in all things which what is conflicted within and they projected without and create the world that they live in now truth is found in the subconscious mind which is infinite infinite without boundaries the subconscious mind is God itself now one who is resonating with in truth is actually in tune with the subconscious mind which is Christ consciousness for if one listener satanically ruled intellects they are learson under the influence of satanic mind control and that includes every civilized human being that has ever lived now the purpose of life is to transcend that dualistic level of conflict and merge with the subconscious mind which is possible it's not recognized by the conscious mind it will resist it with everything that has been trying to but I can't because truth is what is it has always been it is what is now and the she'll always be now that's the nature of the conflict that's going on in the world and it's very simple one must die to be reborn as a spirit of divine intelligence and that is the transcendence from the dualistic mind to the non-dualistic unconscious mind a similar concept to what in Eastern traditions they've regarded as ego death or transcending the grip of the ego the control of the ego over the personality so Jay your take on that well it's interesting that you know you bring up this subconscious because really doing EFT I have found things in my subconscious that has just blown me away and I personally Marx natural law taught just an amazing and amazing presentation and so uplifting and when you hear truth from ancient philosophers and from people like Mark passio and John lamb lash today and you hear the spiritual psychological metaphysical truths that really basically come to it to me it all comes down to the golden rule but you know do no harm and all I can say and I want to get this point across to as many people as I can you know get a notebook and start doing aft diary and work with EFT and write notes on what you're tapping on and you're going to absolutely if you put the effort forth transform your consciousness J absolutely great answer ray thanks so much for your call was a pleasure to hear from you we're going to come down to the end of the show right now Jay I want us thank you so much for being my special guest today you put out so much great information everybody should check out Jay Show on Sunday evening Jay you're on from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. East Coast time is that correct that's right mark type 1 radio ashram right blogtalkradio.com/ropeadoperadio in our faces there's going to be a natural blowback and people are not going to put up with it we are not like the Europeans they are not like the South Americans we know what it means to be somewhat free so when they try to put us in a cage and microchip us and x y&z us people I just want to say I don't think it can happen here because too many people are waking up and taking action against the floor option and that's why we have to continuously speak out to others to help wake up even more ladies and gentlemen remember there's only two mistakes that you could ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way that's all the time we have for this edition of what on earth is happening thanks so much for listening we'll see here next week

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Marc Pascal [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening here on the Republic Broadcasting Network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com the network's website Republic broadcasting org today is Saturday March 8th 2014 this show comes out you live right here on Republic Broadcasting every Saturday night from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Eastern Time that's 9 p.m. to midnight central we have a great show planned for you here today I'm gonna be getting into some of the route psychological factors that create the human condition that's what we're gonna be talking about here on the show today the call-in number for the show eight hundred three one three nine four four three I'll be taking calls hopefully throughout the show once again the calling number 800 three one three nine four four three I want to thank my special guest from last week Jay Parker did a phenomenal interview did a phenomenal show with me last week if you haven't heard that one that's one you don't want to miss you want to go back into the archives and I'll check that one out both at rbn and at my own website what on earth is happening calm want to make a quick event announcement I will be speaking live in Asheville North Carolina a couple weeks from tonight Saturday March 22nd it'll be taking place this event at the Lexington Avenue brewery at 39 North Lexington Avenue in Asheville North Carolina and the name of the event is called New Age BS and the suppression of the sacred masculine revisited with even more new-age deceptions exposed I'm gonna really be getting into the subtle deceptions of the feel-good spirituality called the New Age movement so if you're in the Asheville area you definitely want to come on out and check out this one-day seminar it's gonna really be an all-day seminar so Saturday March 22nd 2014 and the doors will open at 9 o'clock a.m. I'll be starting to speak shortly thereafter advance tickets are only $7 a $7 donation in advance to get advanced tickets you can call eight two eight seven eight two zero eight four zero once again to get advanced tickets for seven dollars eight two eight seven eight two zero eight four zero or you can email I walk with purpose at gmail.com once again that email address for advanced tickets I walk with purpose at gmail.com at the door tickets only three dollars more for a ten dollar donation you can get in at the door so that's my one event announcement I don't have any additional radio interviews booked for this week because I'll be basically getting my presentation prepared for Asheville over the next couple of weeks I am on day number 19 of a 30 day juice fast on a quest to cure my type 1 point 5 diabetes I don't know if it'll be successful we will see at the conclusion of it so far my blood sugar levels have really been perfect throughout the fast so it's really going well I feel great I feel energized I feel very clear minded and the juice fast is going better than I even expected so I'm on day 19 I have 11 days to go I'm almost 2/3 of the way through so that's really all the event announcements it there is a support donation button on the what on earth is happening calm website on the left hand side if you feel that this show the information that I bring forward has been of value to you or help assistance to you in your own awakening process feel free to make a voluntary donation on the website what on earth is happening calm so let's jump right into the material for today I have a whole lot of material to go through today and hopefully we will be taking some calls as well I want to direct everybody to the images for today's show these are images that I basically make like presentation slides and I refer to them throughout the show so you can find the images that I refer to on the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show page go to what on earth is happening calm you can click the radio show tab or you can click the button at the top left hand corner of the site that says what on earth is happening radio show that will take you to the radio show listen page and underneath the live player the player for the live broadcast there will be a a line that says images for tonight's show there you'll see some some numeric links you can click on those to open up a slideshow and you could follow along with the images that I am referring to for essentially visual stimulation to go along with the concepts and ideas that I'm talking about here tonight so let's get started image number one of course was simply the poster for my new-age BS revisited presentation coming up in Ashville so that's image number one image number two what I'm going to be getting into here tonight is why is the human condition the way that it is and you hear so many people talking about the symptoms see I said on podcast number one way back years ago and even on the first broadcast here on rbn that what was gonna make this show different is that I was going to discuss causal factors causal factors in mind in the human psyche this is a show about psychology ultimately yes it's a show about mind control it's a show about the occult it's a show about the laws of nature that we are bound by and that we have to understand if we don't want to live in disharmony with them with those laws and then create self-inflicted suffering for ourselves all right but above all else this show is about human psychology it's about getting at the root causal psychological factors that underlie behavior we're not going to change the externally manifested reality that we live in unless we change the behaviors that we are enacting as a species and we're not going to change those behave unless we understand the root cause all factors in the human psyche that drive our behaviors and then we can get underneath them you know we can grasp hold of those behaviors we can consciously understand what's going on in the subconscious mind bring that material up work with it heal it okay and then we are exercising self-control as a result and taking full responsibility for our own behavior and we're not just running on programming so that's what this show is all about and I think that's what sets it aside from just about every other show on the airwaves today so image number two I've posted here some small images of what you could call as the current human condition people living in denial and a very small group of people being awake to what's going on it's been this way for millennia okay you know and we you may as people who were awake or partially awake feel like that guy in the center of this image on the right-hand side of this image with his head in his hands with all asleep hypnotized people all around him okay I understand that I feel like that on a daily basis believe me with what I know about the world and with what I know about the mind trust me I feel like that constantly but you can't let it get you down you can't dwell on it you have to do the work see this show is about getting more people actively involved in doing the work of becoming a healer of becoming a vehicle for truth so that people can understand what's going on and get a handle on it okay so the question that I posed here in this first slide for tonight is why why there's that all-important question getting down to the causal route factors why are most people so unconscious that they continue to remain asleep that they continue to refuse to live in harmony with natural law to fail to recognize the rampant presence of evil in their midst and too often willfully participate in that evil we pick this up or any other side of this first break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening don't go anywhere [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're talking today about what are the roots psychological factors that underlie the human condition of slavery because that is the human condition okay so why do most people refuse to live in harmony with the laws of common sense with natural law with moral law why do they fail in most cases to recognize the rampant presence of evil in our midst why do they often willfully participate in such evil either directly or indirectly these are the questions we need answers to these are the questions we have to explore we don't need to just know that that's going on we need to get at the root cause of factors of it so those mind control explain it all as I postulate in slide number three you could find these images at what on earth is happening dot-com / radio can we just chalk it all up to mind control to manipulation by a controlling or ruling class or is there more to it than that is there something that's deeply going on inside of the mass of humanity okay the asleep or unconscious hordes of humanity do we have to look at what's going on there but can we just chalk it up and say oh no it's just some clever manipulators at the top who are pulling all the strings and they're just real good at manipulation well I think there's much more to it than that I've of course covered mind-control for years and of course mind control is going on of course mental manipulation is going on but that doesn't explain it all there's there's more subtle factors that are going on deep in the human subconscious mind then we have to understand and know are there and know how to deal with so the next slide I've included this in many of my presentations and this is image number four now for the presentation tonight I call this the tree of all evil okay and it's if you really understand this little symbolic model that I've come up with for how evil becomes manifested in our world and perpetuates the human condition of slavery you it'll it'll go a long way this will help you go a long way to understanding what's really going on in the mind so if you look at the manifestation of evil in other words the expression of it through human behavior as being having willful ignorance as its main predecessor all right only people who are truly ignorant can behave in an evil way okay can actually support slavery condone it and then enact it and make it manifest in our world you have to be a willfully ignorant person in some form or fashion in order to do that you really have to be willfully ignorant to see it happening and not want to not care not want to do anything about it not want to become involved that level of willful ignorance people would say well that isn't that the root cause isn't that the the root causal condition that we're fighting against no it's not that is a manifestation itself so I put that at the very top of this tree you can look at that as those are the high level high level leaves the twigs very small twigs of the tree okay maybe where the fruit grows from all right the ends of the of the tree of its twigs and its leaves the end very ends of its branches all right that's the thing that eventually bears fruit bears the fruit that we call evil in the world there's something that goes beneath that willful level of ignorance that that cognitive dissonance that's psychological denial and if we liken this model to a tree it would be the larger branches on the tree okay that come out of the trunk of the tree and this is the psychological dynamic of the fear of owning responsibility in life so the fear of owning one's own personal responsibility to choose rightful action over wrongful actions see people don't want to choose that for themselves they think that they can abdicate that personal responsibility to choose right action over wrong action and they can hand that off to someone else and they can say well you make the decisions about what's right and wrong you make the decisions about how I should behave I don't want that responsibility okay I just want to follow orders I just want to do what I'm told I just want to obey this is the psychology of obedience and people may think well well then hey that must be the root factor right that must be the thing that really you know creates that willful ignorance and it does it contributes to it but there's something that creates that refusal to take ownership to take full ownership of one's personal responsibility over their own actions for their own actions there is something that lies beneath that psychologically so in other words we're asking the question really here why repeatedly why so why is someone willfully ignorant and willing to carry out evil what and the answer then comes back they really don't want personal responsibility to choose rightful actions over wrongful actions for themselves they think that they could somehow abdicate that and hand that off to someone else so then the question becomes why do they want to do that so we have to go deeper to look for another causal factor until we get down to the prime root causal factor for these conditions so why don't people want to own their own personal responsibility why don't they want to be a true adult ok we're really talking about remaining a child it all in into it into physical adulthood ok we have a whole lot of absolute grown children walking around in society people who have grown up physically but they have not grown up mentally they have not grown up emotionally they have not grown up psyche psychologically and they most certainly haven't grown up spiritually okay so the question then becomes why why does someone not want to grow up why does someone not want to own their own personal responsibility to choose for themselves right over wrong and the answer to that is there's another underlying psychological condition that precedes that condition and that's called self-loathing the psychological condition of deep down inside maybe not at a conscious level at a subconscious level not really liking yourself and in fact possibly going so far as to hate yourself and this is something that people get very very upset about when you talk about they don't want to hear this said they don't want to hear it spoken out in the ad aloud they don't want to hear it spoken out in the open just like this because people go what you're saying mark is that most people here on earth hate themselves yes that's exactly what I'm saying exactly and most people won't just come out and say it just like that right to you we are self-loathing species we are a species who ultimately doesn't have true self worth and true self respect how could we we would be a free people if we had true self respect and truly valued ourselves and our own lives and our own rights and our own freedom we wouldn't be certainly be in this condition I'm not talking about certain individuals do have true self-respect but I'm talking about society as a whole in the aggregate again generalization generalizations are valid in most cases okay so I'm not making a total blanket statement here and say everybody is in a state of psychological self-loathing but are most people on earth yes most people are in this psychological condition called self-loathing because they never really developed true so have a break we'll pick this up on the other side you're listening to what on earth is happening here on our bien stay with us everyone listening to what on earth is happening here on our bien I was talking about what I called the tree of all evil trying to get down to the root psychological condition that drives the human condition of slavery we talked about willful ignorance stemming from the fear of owning one's personal responsibility to choose right action over wrong action in turn stemming from issues of self-loathing of not really deeply forming a good and positive relationship with oneself you know we haven't really developed as a species true self-respect we still think that somewhere deep down inside we think that we deserve what's happening you know we think that we're not really worthy these feelings of unworthiness okay of not being good enough of really let's call it what it is self hatred only a self hating people could possibly put up with slavery okay it isn't because we cannot change this condition that it's somehow magically must be this way we're doing this to ourselves at some level because we won't change our behavior order followers do this order followers without order followers okay slavery could not be maintained I'm talking about even ball-and-chain slavery physical ball-and-chain shackle slavery you look at slavery during the Civil War period physical slavery during the Civil War period of American history that was maintained by what you called house slaves and other people who worked on plantations to actually keep that situation in place they could have done that on their own plantation owners couldn't have done that on their own well today you have military and police who act as the house slaves of the modern era you know there are the enforcers they're the people who are the order followers for the psychopathic ruling class quote/unquote you know the those who see themselves as our rulers as our masters and they follow their bidding they follow their orders it's as simple as that and anybody who doesn't understand that that's the case you're asleep you know you don't understand what's going on okay because without those people following those orders they couldn't get a thing done they're a bunch of old men who couldn't fight their way out of a wet paper bag okay so they need enforcers to do their dirty work for them because they're too cowardly and weak to actually physically get that done on their own and if people knew that they were physically being held in in hostage under duress okay they would rebel they would physically rebel but they've convinced people that there's some how freedom in this world through you know the voting process and through the process called government when it's just the state of violence you know it's just a system of violence that it's enforced by violent order followers that's all it is now it's all it ever has been that's all government ever will be whether you understand that or not doesn't make a difference it's true doesn't make a difference what you happen to think now that's the actual fact of the matter so without people being self-loathing they would not do those behaviors so what I'm saying here is are all cops self-loathing people yes blanket statement every single one bar none 100% without one exception every cop is a self-loathing human being is every single soldier in the world who's following the bidding of the psychopathic ruling class so-called elitists a self-loathing individual yes every single last one bar none bar none because to do those jobs deep in the subconscious mind you must hate yourself the end that's the way that it is doesn't make a difference whether you disagree doesn't make a difference whether you don't understand that's what's going on in the mind that's what's going on in their mind whether they understand it or not it follows invariably unwaveringly logically you cannot support a condition of slavery for yourself and your own species unless somewhere deep down inside yourself you hate yourself and I know whoever wants to argue with it argue till you're blue in the face I'm not here to even have it debate about that I'm telling you that's how it is not because I say so because I have recognized it as such understanding enough about psychology understanding enough about the subconscious mind that that is what's going on in them whether they know it or not and yes blanket statement all see the ego doesn't like that word the ego doesn't like every all without exception it hates that rebels against that the ego can't stand a blanket statement well guess what folks some blanket statements are true many of them are not but some are there are certain things that are always true that are always a certain way and I'm telling you this is one of them people who support a system of slavery are self-loathing beings that's it you cannot love yourself you cannot have deep true self respect if you are an order follower it is not possible there are contradictory in nature those two psychological states are contradictory in nature in their but in their very essence and we need to understand this clear as day and state it that way unapologetically order followers are self-loathing your followers are self-loathing beings always have been and when you become a person who's no longer in the state of self-loathing and has developed true self respect you won't do the job of following someone else's orders that's the truth as painful as that may be that is eternal truth so get over it if you don't agree or if you don't think that's how it really is because I'm not here trying to convince you I'm telling you openly that's how it is and this is the problem this is the problem if you want to be free you have to develop your own self respect and then help other people to develop self respect for themselves and that's the most difficult work there is to do in the world think about it to help someone else to influence another human being to be to start to love themselves that was who could think of something that's more difficult to do than that some people would say it can't be done how could you do that no you can't make someone do it but you can be an influence for them you could be a role model for them you could help them in that process you can show them how they've been hating themselves and treating themselves horribly and supporting their own horrible treatment through their own wrong thinking through their own misguided mind controlled forms of thought and in doing so you could help them to start reversing that self-loathing behavior and get on the path to true self-respect which is the only thing that can ever cure self-loathing believe me I know folks I was in this state I was in it deep for for at least ten years of my life or more so it can be overcome it is not a hopeless situation but C is self-loathing the bottom of the rabbit hole is that as deep as it really goes or is there something beyond that psychologically is there a deeper psychological condition or factor at work that creates self-loathing in a human being and the answer is yes there is and while I would put self loathing as the trunk of the tree of evil that's the trunk that's the part we really we can see that's holding up the rest of the evil structure okay the structure of refusal to own personal responsibility and step into true adulthood the refusal to look at that which is to stay in willful ignorance psychological denial cognitive dissonance this structure these psychological structures are upheld by that self-loathing which is the root I'm sorry which is the trunk of the tree of evil but what are the roots of that tree what are the things from what from where the tree actually grows from that are is underneath the ground that is even more difficult to see than even that somebody may not really have true self-respect many people can see that but how many people can answer the question why do people hate themselves so much what are the roots of the tree of evil I'll answer that question the other side of this break you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcaster stay with us welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com before the break I was just going to get to what lies at the root the root psychological cause of all evil in this world and it's something that many people will not have even considered and when I tell people what it is they'll be like that can't be what it is but yes it is see something underlies willful ignorance and the fear of owning personal responsibility and even self-loathing due to a lack of self respect in one's life and that root causal factor is psychological parental abandonment issues once again the root causal factor of the human condition and something that I'm gonna be talking a whole lot about here on what on earth is happening and especially in future shows and in future presentations psychological parental abandonment issues now what does this mean this means literally what it says having been abandoned by one or both parents and not just physically being abandoned mentally emotionally psychologically spiritually it doesn't just mean that a parent is absent physically it means that they are absent or unavailable psychologically or emotionally in a child's life that they did not truly provide positive upbringing values to raise that child and instill values for truth and right within them they weren't there for that child's upbringing or raising okay they were cut off they were emotionally unavailable they were spiritually unavailable and in many cases physically unavailable physically absent not in all cases however so we need to look at the role of a parent first of all to understand why this statement is true to understand what does what does ruin as a parenting actually provide for a child what do parents actually do what is their role what are they there to provide to do for a child that they have that they birth into the world well the parents role is twofold if you break it down as simple as possible it is to provide nurturing meaning provide for the child's needs the physical needs of the child the emotional needs of the child the mental needs of the child the spiritual needs of the child it is a nurturing instinct is a nurturing role that is the first half of what parenting is about the second part of it is protection you are taking on a life that is not yet responsible for itself a mind that has to be positively imbued with values meaning positively programmed given correct information into the body computer that is the mind the human mind so the parents role this twofold role you are nurturing the child by giving them what they need providing what they need and then you are protecting them from harmful influences in the external environment or even possibly ways that they may harm themselves because they don't have enough knowledge about how to operate in the world so it is nurturing and protection that's the key to roles of parenting that we need to understand and keep in mind because it'll make so much more sense when we understand this is what's driving the human condition the people aren't growing up because they're experiencing often subtle and nested subconscious psychological trauma due to parents having failed in their roles of nurturing and protection of the child so what I tell people moving on to slide number five is is that the condition of humanity is that of an abandoned child of a very bratty abandoned child at that I have a slide here that says this is the psychological condition of humanity with a bratty maybe four or five year old boy screaming at the top of his lungs in the foreground of the picture while his parents are sitting in the back background ignoring him with his kids sister on the couch paying attention to her and they're like you know unavailable for him are not paying attention to him and I think this is the ideal and perfect visual image for what humanity has become and currently is right now a bratty psychologically abandoned child that is throwing a tantrum that is throwing a temper tantrum okay what we may not be throwing that tantrum externally but we're throwing it internally in our own mind in our own psyche and our own psychological makeup this is our condition see we have to understand that when something traumatic occurs we don't often are not even often consciously aware of it later in life see that's because the mind is split we are a very schismatic type of being we have a schism that is built-in within us and this is the difference between the conscious and the subconscious minds the conscious mind is the aware part of the mind and to understand this we can look at this simple model that I've built on slide number six moving on to slide six discussing the conscious versus subconscious mind this simple model explains that the conscious mind is the aware part of the personality I describe it as the awake or the aware mind and it forms about 15% some psychologists and physiologists may say even less than that you know some people place this around 12% as low as 12% I'd say it's probably around 15% of the personality 15% of the whole makeup of the beam and the conscious minds function is to process information that's coming at it that's arriving in to the human psyche through environmental sensory input coming at it from the environment and the conscious mind is scanning it's always scanning the environment it's saying do I recognize that do I know what that is if I come across an unknown I have to identify it or try to identify it so it's trying to identify patterns trying to identify meaning it's trying to identify purpose it's trying to identify any threats that may be present in the environment as well that's what the conscious mind does it's our active component are awake component now you could look at things like critical thinking that's done in the conscious mind in the active awake and aware part of the personality when we're breaking down information to try to make sense of it and understand what it means critical thinking that's done by the conscious mind planning strategy and strategizing that's also done by the conscious mind our short-term memory things that just happened that those are all we are all dealing with those memories through the conscious mind the aware part of ourselves our judgment and decision-making processes okay based on the information we have taken in to break down that information and come to an understanding of it and then make a judgment or a decision regarding it that's done by the conscious mind our willpower is part of the conscious mind our drive and I don't mean the subconscious motivations I'm talking about when we're actively making a decision to do a thing that's in this in the conscious part of the mind the conscious awareness and then of course morality is processed through and works through the conscious mind of the individual conscience the knowledge of the difference between right and wrong action is processed and filtered through the conscious part of our personality the conscious mind but if the conscious mind only makes up about 15 percent of our total awareness well what makes up the other percent of our psyche the other percent of our whole personality well that's the subconscious mind and it's just what it means it's exactly what it means the the prefix sub means beneath beneath the conscious awareness at a level that is hidden because it is under and something else it is veiled and you could say it's buried deep down in the dark recesses and we'll look at what the qualities of the subconscious mind are on the other side of this break the mystery - what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] and and welcome back everyone to the second hour of what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm before the break we were talking about the difference between the conscious mind versus the subconscious mind we were getting ready to talk about the subconscious mind and what it is and what its function is so it means literally underneath of the conscious mind okay so this is what I would call the asleep part of the personality or the unaware part of ourselves it's where programming operates from things that we do unconsciously things that we do robotic ly alright and some people would say very unfortunately it comprises about 85% of the total makeup of the human being the subconscious mind psychologically things like automated bodily functions you know we don't think about breathing or digestion we just do it well that's ultimately run by the subconscious part of the psyche instinct fight-or-flight modes of response alright instinctual and survival responses controlled by the subconscious are habits again programming is all within the subconscious part of the mind our long-term memory things that happen to us a long time ago that we recall and remember stored in the subconscious and our initial emotional responses to things that we see in here very very important very ruled by programming believe it or not the initial emotional responses to what we see in here all ruled by subconscious programming so what does the subconscious mind actually do what is it what does it do what's its function well the main function of the subconscious mind is to protect the conscious mind from the re-experiencing of past traumatic experiences and see this is a very unique function to the human animal we can relive within our mind in the visualization process in our imagination which is a very powerful force and a force that really can assist us in so many ways but it can also be a detriment the imagination there's a dark side to it there's a negative side to it our imagination and visualization capabilities of our minds can often allow us to re-envision a horrible event that we may have once gone through physically emotionally psychologically okay and we don't want to be in that state again we don't want to relive a past trauma because we're gonna feel the mind is so powerful that when we relive a past trauma mentally psychologically emotionally right we actually generate the neuro peptides that make us feel a physical response in the body this is called stress that's why if you think about a negative event happening and try to relive it your body will tense up you'll be actually undergoing physical stress which is really not good for the physical body it makes blood flow away from the torso and away from the brain higher thought is impeded digestive function is impeded moving the nutrients to places that they need to go in the body is impeded so you don't want to be in stress all the time you want to be as stress-free as possible you want to be aware of what's going on but staying in constant stress would certainly take its toll on your body so but the imagination makes it possible for us to relive past traumas at a conscious level and therefore re-experience physical stress which is bad for the physiology so as a protective mechanism the subconscious mind to nest these former traumatic experiences it holds them in a state where we're not aware of them in the unconscious or subconscious part of the mind and so we can't keep bringing them up to the surface and reliving them now people will say well isn't that a good thing well yes for the reasons I've just described but no for more subtle reasons it's not a good thing it's something that in the short-term helps us not experience relive past traumas and create the physiological responses to those traumas in the body again but long-term it's a bad thing that the mind works like this okay because by not dealing with those past traumas and by this part of the mind just basically putting them to the backburner digging a hole and putting them in the hole and throwing dirt on top of them we're not really truly healing that traumatic experience we're only ignoring it we're only pushing it away or nesting it down deeper into a hidden area of ourselves what I would call the shadow side the shadow self that's what the subconscious is and by doing that we're never really truly working with that trauma to heal it fully and therefore we are still a traumatized individual although at a subconscious level and the conscious mind isn't even deeply aware at an awake level and awake and aware level that the being the personality the essence of who we are is actually still experiencing and undergoing trauma deep down inside that's why this part of the mind it can be very insidious if we don't learn how to work with it and make it an asset to ourselves by going into the shadow material bringing the trauma up here to the conscious level of awareness confronting it working with it healing it very very very painful and difficult work to do but most of us loathe doing that work and that's why we become self-loathing because these traumas that we have experienced are defining who we are to ourselves for the reason that we never are working with them to heal them we're just pushing them away and allowing the subconscious to do this quote/unquote protective mechanism to push these traumas deeper down inside of ourselves so is parental abandonment a trauma well you damn better well believe that it is you better know that it is it's one of the worst traumatic experiences that can ever happen to any individual let alone a child it's it's hard on us enough when a parent may abandon us not want to talk to us anymore or die when we're older when we're adults but imagine how a child takes those things imagine that level of trauma and many people that I'm talking to out there little--it listenership will have experienced this as a child and what I'm suggesting is that most people in some form or fashion have experienced parental abandonment as a child whether it be physical or not because there's many more forms of parental abandonment other than a parent being physically absent we have to keep that in mind again they could be emotionally absent spiritually absent not providing any true nurturing at a spiritual level at a level of values to us whether they're physically present or not and this trauma has been largely undealt with and unconfronted unworked with by the vast vast majority of human beings and I would suggest this is why humanity as a whole is a self-loathing species why we don't have true self-respect why we continue to refuse to own our own personal responsibility and why we remain in willful ignorance to the difference between right and wrong I'm going to pick this up on the other side of the break and then we're going to go to your calls in this hour you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back don't go anywhere [Music] what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm if you're following along with the images for tonight's show you could find them on what on earth is happening dot-com / radio on the radio lish listen page of my website right underneath the player I'm moving on to slide number seven now and gonna talk a little bit about something I've talked about on past shows something that is known as in psychology as the abuse victim cycle and this is something that we also need to understand and how it works in conjunction in many cases with the subconscious mind in order to keep people on a treadmill when it comes to not healing trauma you'll notice that if you look at this graph that I made here in slide number seven it's almost largely red these are the danger areas that we don't want to be in and there's only one place right in the center right in the middle that is green that is you know where you would be healed from and I'll explain this in a moment see we're really talking about the root cause of factor psychologically for the human condition of slavery being a traumatic experience in childhood and you know we're gonna look at this from the microscopic perspective the microcosmic perspective I'm sorry I should say the microcosmic perspective is actual physical parental abandonment issues and again the the parents the biological parents of a child you know not being there in whatever capacity whether physically emotionally mentally spiritually you name it that is still what I would call the microcosmic manifestation of this trauma there is a macrocosmic manifestation of this trauma that I call cosmic abandonment and we're gonna save that for another show another time I'll be building up to that for people that may want to skip ahead or if over skipped ahead by watching the cosmic abandonment presentation that I gave because I had an opportunity to give a presentation as part of a meetup group here in the Philadelphia area right here in Philadelphia actually a couple of months ago I do have a video on my website called cosmic abandonment but it's kind of like skipping ahead at this point I'm trying to lay out at least the microcosmic variation on this theme and help people to understand how this is going on in an everyday sense with many many many people on the earth and that's why we're continuing to support condone and enact slavery on this planet so if we understand that abandonment issues parental abandonment issues in general are traumatic experiences and of course they are we have to understand the abuse victim cycle and here's how it works a traumatic abuse of some type occurs or chronic abuse occurs and in a chronic means it's ongoing it's an ongoing state of abuse that is occurring in an individual's life two things usually happen psychologically within the person's mind who is experiencing the trauma and this is whether they're witnessing the trauma or whether they're directly being affected by the trauma okay this works for direct experiencers and those who are witnessing the trauma take place okay so these two emotional psychological reactions are the negative pathways it's what you would call the things that the reactions that perpetuate the cycle and what we want to do is get out of the cycle we don't want the cycle to perpetuate the abuse victim cycle we want to break it that's the only way we're really going to develop true freedom here on this plan is by breaking the abuse victim cycle so the first thing that could happen is the experiencer in whatever capacity whether they directly experienced or witnessed this trauma will identify with the abuse sir the one who did the traumatic thing to the other person okay and they'll I identify with them because they'll say well I'd rather be the one who's on the giving end of this hurt of this harm than be on the receiving end it's a lot better the B to be the person who's beating on somebody than to get beat that may be one way one perspective that they look at this traumatic experience from okay so then what they'll what will happen is that all the negative emotions that they've acquired through the experience of this trauma they will turn inward toward themselves if they identify with I'm sorry I'm sorry they will turn outward against others not in word it pardon me they will turn their negative emotions outward toward others when they identify with the abuser the one who's doing the abuse because they'll say again I'd rather be on the dishing out and then on the receiving end and then the experiencer the one who either was on the receiving end or witnessed the abuse becomes the abuser later in life because they have not dealt with the trauma in a positive way in a way that can actually bring it forward and heal it so they go out and then they experience they abuse other people and therefore they perpetuate the cycle because then someone else is being abused and then they may do the same thing to others and they may go through the same split that I've just explained half of the experiencer identifying with the abuser their emotions turn outward they become like the abuser and then they abuse others and they can also abuse themselves when they are the one who is doing the abuse because you can become an abuser and a victim simultaneously if you're doing the abuse to yourself okay so you have to keep in mind that's also possible to abuse yourself while you identify with the abuser and become the abuser in this abuse victim cycle the other psychological Dinah that could play out is that the experiencer weather again direct experience or indirect through witnessing the trauma will identify with the victim the one who was abused in this chronic traumatic circumstance and their emotions will instead turn inward against themselves and they will become the victim because their rationale is well it was really morally wrong for this person to do this to this other person I would rather be on the receiving end of it therefore I'm not actively harming somebody else okay and therefore I'd rather take abuse from others rather than dish out abuse to others so then since they're identifying with the victim and their emotions are turning inward they become the victim later in life and they allow themselves to be walked all over and then they are victimized by other people and the cycle perpetuates itself and not only are they victimized by other people in many cases they victimize themself themselves abuse themselves and stay in a in a victim mind state and this is all because they have not gone into the subconscious mind into the basement of those traumatic experiences brought them up to the level of conscious awareness into the conscious mind and dealt with them in a holistic healing way they are loath to do that work because that work is painful because it does involve a certain amount of the reliving of that trauma and there are other methods that you can use to bring it forward to the conscious level I know my guest from last week J Parker is a big fan of emotional freedom technique or EFT and that helps to bring this forward in a physical capacity - and it also helps to heal in a very physical way believe it or not through tapping because you are alleviating stressor points in the body it's a form of acupuncture EFT a gentler formula will pick this up on the other side of the break and we'll be going to your calls in this hour don't go anywhere folks are listening to what on earth is happening [Applause] [Music] we gotta wake up from your sleep if it's your soul that you want to keep great song there by spirit Caravan we're not gonna stop until we wake this world up [Music] that's what we're going to do to drive forward with knowledge care and willpower until this world is awake no matter what it takes to do that that's what the great work is ladies and gentlemen before the break we were talking about the abuse victim cycle and how the vast majority of what it creates are people going right back into the cycle because they either identify with the abuser and then they become an abuser or they identify with the evict with the victim and then they become the victim there's a narrow pathway the middle path that one can take to become healed and that heal healing modality happens through applied knowledge care and willpower and you know what it doesn't have to just be internally from the individual the individual can get help from someone else who is more knowledgeable than themselves from someone else who cares and who has the will to work with them and help them so it's not like that all has to be inborn the person has to want help they have to want to be healed somewhere along the line whenever somebody who isn't in any kind of a cycle that is holding them back whether it be abuse victimization being an abuser you know or addiction of any kind they have avenues that they can go to they don't have to just suddenly magically get this information themselves in many cases they're not strong enough to do that it has to be brought to them this is what interventions are all about I'm suggesting humanity needs an intervention and it needs to be directed by the people who are consciously aware of what's going on and we need to tell these people hey you're not well out in the open unapologetically it's not okay what you're doing you're not mentally well you're not spiritually well you do need healing it doesn't matter whether they want to hear it or not the problem is most people refuse to do that because they're afraid of the reaction on the other side you go up to a drug addict and who's your friend and you say hey you're really screwing yourself up man I don't want to see you do this to yourself you know what's the initial reaction you don't know about me you don't know what I need or what's good for me you're telling me I'm messing myself up that's the initial cognitive dissonance they're in denial that they're screwed up well that's where most of humanity is when it comes to the truth they're in denial about it they think they're not doing harm by their ignorance when every day they're doing more and more harm not only to themselves but to everyone around them and until enough people buck up and get in their face and tell them it's not okay to stay ignorant that way and keep bringing them information whether they want to hear it or not not violently but forcefully meaning keep putting it in their face until I mean until the point where they say I will not talk to you at all anymore I want absolutely nothing to do with you that's the point where I say I'm gonna that's the point where I'll say okay I'll stop you've now told me I absolutely don't want to talk to you anymore but until someone says that to me in which case I completely cut them off from my life from interaction with me at all if you don't want to hear about this you don't interact with me period if I think you're ignorant of it I'm gonna speak it I'm gonna bring it to your attention doesn't matter what your state of readiness to hear it is and if you tell me absolutely don't want to hear it then there will be no interaction from me that's it hardcore hardcore and the problem is the problem is not that approach ladies and gentlemen if you think that's the problem you are wrong you are part of the problem if you think that approach is the problem the problem is the exact opposite approach where people will not speak this information to others that's the problem because they're too timid they're too afraid ultimately because they're cowards and they're still in a state of stealth self-loathing when you're out of a state of self-loathing you don't give a damn what anybody else thinks of what you're saying as long as you know it's the truth and as long as you know that integrated into the personality that information will help and will do no harm and I do know that and therefore I'm gonna speak it I'm gonna speak it and the problem is we don't have enough people with that kind of courage and persistence and will know they're still cowardly and lazy they don't understand what the real great work is so I'm gonna just wrap this part up and I'm gonna pause there I'm gonna take some calls in this hour and then in the next segment I'll next hour I'll get into a little bit more about parental abandonment issues and if there's time this week I'm gonna do an actual psychological case study live on the air of a famous individual someone who I formerly respected and then developed a great amount of disdain for but then kind of was able to somewhat let go of that disdain when I recognized he was suffering from deep childhood traumatic parental abandonment issues and it'll be very interesting to break down this dynamic on the air of a famous individual now I won't tell you who that is you'll have to continue to listen to find out but I just want to finish saying about the abuse victim cycle the way out of it is very narrow most people never break that cycle it's one of the most powerful things forms of programming to break out of because most people make the mistake of either choosing to identify with the abuser or with the victim and again to gain the knowledge of what it takes to break this cycle but to gain the knowledge of the psyche and how the subconscious mind is ruling this trauma you don't have to do all of that yourself you can receive help from other concerned people around you if they have that knowledge on how to do it on what to what to look for and what areas to explore and go into in the psyche see you have to often talk your way through it get at these route psychological causal issues that are on dealt with and that's a painful thing and again I was talking before the break you could supplement that with different healing techniques meditation is one of them properly used okay concentration is another concentrate of techniques visualization techniques EFT emotional freedom technique all of these modalities can be combined and used in different ways to create a healing methodology for someone who's experiencing traumatic circumstances in their life often nested subconscious trauma that has never been dealt with that shadow material has never been dredged up alright so that's what it takes to get out of the abuse victims cycle applied knowledge applied care and applied willpower continuously until that trauma is dealt with and healed until it is brought out of the netherworld the recesses of the subconscious and worked with at the level of the conscious aware mind very very very difficult work to do not blowing smoke up anybody's rear end not telling you that that is easy to do it is not easy to do for me dealing with my own parental abandonment issues which I will also talk about after I break down a case study of this famous individual I'm going to talk about because I'm gonna lay it all out on the table and talk about what I experienced as a child okay we have to get all all that dirty laundry out in the open you know it has to become personal I'm not one for keeping it unperson 'el or dis personal all right I'm gonna talk about my own parental abandonment issues okay and how long it took me to deal with them and in many ways I'm still dealing with them but I'm working with that I work with that shadow material I don't ignore it I bring it to the level of conscious awareness and deal with it and work with it until it is healed and it does not subconsciously program me anymore many people again are very loath to do that work because it is not pleasant it is not pleasant work but unless we do it we don't maintain mental sanity and therefore we become insane see sanity cleanliness of the mind sanitation of the mind that's why we call it being sane being clean in the mind having dealt with all that subconscious crud you wouldn't think of eating off the dirty plate over and over again we're not cleaning our minds I'm going to go to some calls in this last segment and then we'll pick this up in our number three stay with us sighs we don't speak Wow between us so everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting let's go to the phones for this segment and see what the caller's have to say about this topic or anything else you want to bring up for that matter lain in California you're live on what on earth is happening welcome well thank you very much mark I listen to your opening question and I and I thought I had a possible thought answer maybe that might just fit into the conversation and after hearing you know your your your talk on this of course dovetails off into many different thoughts but I just want to say that I can relate to what you're talking about and the bottom line that you know the sword has to face the fire and I was reminded of a couple scriptures in one in the Old Testament one of the New Testament both telling us the same thing and that was because they love not the truth that I will give them up to a reprobate mind that they will believe their own lies and when I when I check that out in the Webster's 1828 dictionary the word reprobate meant rejected abandoned depraved unprincipled wicked morally depraved unworthy unacceptable and I personally have always wondered I'm tying something else and that the thought into this whole pot here I'll never forget something that Michael to Syrian said and I'll throw this in as a caveat he said in one of his talks that it's not hate or violence or even anger that are the root causes of the evil on this planet he said no none of those it's false love and until we as individuals can face that fire and have a desire to know the truth yes we've I can experience I've experienced the parental abandonment that you've mentioned and most of us have but there's something in the core of an a person it must be there the desire to know the truth even if you don't even have the questions to even look up an app that's we've got to have to fire and if you have that if my forces will come to your assistance and they will lead you on your journey that's exactly right Elaine I want to thank you for that comment and those insights because it's exactly true you know if we don't develop the desire to want to know what's going on not only just in our world but within ourselves this is about what's going on inside of ourselves you have a right to know that that deep nested subconscious psychological information about yourself how could you possibly love yourself if you don't understand your shadow side you know it you brought up a scriptural quote about you know turning away from truth and what will happen you know you know you it harkens back to like in the book of Hosea where it says my people are destroyed for lack of knowledge and I would say we're destroyed for lack of self knowledge for knowledge about how we work and knowledge about what's going on deep down inside of ourselves at places we don't see it a conscious level but another scripture what from the apocryphal scriptures that aren't included in the official Canon of the Bible you know you look at the scriptures from the NAG Hammadi library I believe it's the Gospel of Thomas and the Gnostics Gnostic Gospels where the the Christ figure in the Gnostic Gospels is saying if you bring forth from yourself that which is inside of you that which you bring forth will be your salvation and if you do not bring forth that which is inside of you that which you have refused to bring forth will be your destruction I mean very very profound words and it speaks to this very dynamic if we don't bring forward that which is inside of ourselves at the subconscious level deal with it work with it confront it heal it if it's traumatic it needs to be confronted and healed we're going to keep creating at an unconscious level and keep experiencing completely chaotic results that we're getting because we're not working at a conscious level with that shadow material so very very very profound insights there and I want to thank you for your call let's go take another call let's move on to Scott in Oregon you're live on what on earth is happening welcome Scott are you still there hello Scott if you're there go ahead you're live on what on earth is happening God dropped okay no problem alright so let's move on to another caller then let's try David in Canada David you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark how are you doing well what do you have for us tonight I must I must say that this comment dealing with the net topic related issue that proposition but my my background is very similar to yours Catholic however I was raised by a man who's very knowledgeable much like yourself delve read thousands of books fifteen thousand books at least the whole library lost delved into occult mysteries everything and and unfortunately for myself I was raised by his person he'd evolved some of this information to me through my life however until I got to your podcast and the information that you're divulging and how you developed it a lot of this information was not really I had not collated it correctly now getting to this point of what you're going on here in terms of the tree basically the tree of Ascension to evil and evil ideas he poses he died in 2010 and he posed this riddle to me and he basically said in a spiritual context what what is it that human beings do what do we do what do we all do it's the one thing you all do we all do it and cut to the chase I didn't have an answer and he answered and he said David we we are we do this one thing we we emote we're in moulting machines biological motives and ever since that point I contemplated this idea and how it affects myself and I understand these like I've got two podcast 60 I'm like feverishly going through your material because it has affected me it has brought so many concepts into a light it's open if they the the the art stone has been removed and light is flowing in you something I believe that paraphrasing I'm saying correctly in terms of a Masonic tradition in any case so they keep going back to go to the parents will abandon issues and if we were born as an open slate or fairly relatively blank slate and this concept of we being emotional ting beings then at that very outset of our lives and our experiences within this this world that we've received through our senses through through the methods that the Trivium lays out and whether we realize it or not these are concepts are very it's all new to me as well and but I understand the principles and I do believe that we the truth is that this is how we're affected and and we don't understand understand these modalities understandings of perception of our psyche then we are truly lost and and it is until we come to this concept these understandings that we we start dig ourselves out from the hole we we start to climb Jacob's Ladder that's exactly right you elevate herself you know and that's what this is ultimately all about this is about confronting ourselves people always want to point the finger outward about the problems in the world but so many people are still actively supporting this control system we have to turn the finger finger inward and say how am i a part of this and what can I do right pull back my involvement from that from those dynamics so that I can truly live like a free being that does not support this control system or this slavery for one moment any longer it's a very difficult process but we have to all look at ourselves in the eye in our inner self in our inner eye and go through that process our for ourselves to say how can I pull my involvement back more and more and more each day until I'm not contributing to it whatsoever right I agree it is an insight like I mean did you not like I felt this when I was it you know adolescent that and I felt this all my life but and then you express this is like an ear expressing it is that this is change in this world is not possible any other way other than on the individual way and that's only individual by the individual that's right it happens through understanding the mind because the mind is what is ultimately manifesting our reality freedom man that's what it's all about welcome back you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm today we're talking about the route psychological causal factors of the human condition called slavery and if we're going to end that condition become truly free beings we have to understand what's going on deep down in the subconscious mind in our own subconscious psychological makeup I propose the model called the tree of evil and our number one the tree of all evil as I call it willful ignorance is the leaves and small twigs of that tree that they're the fruit ultimately of violence chaos destruction slavery you name it everything do we consider bad but underneath that willful ignorance there's this childish notion of wanting to remain irresponsible never really truly growing up psychologically emotionally spiritually the fear of owning one's personal responsibility underneath that self-loathing issues due to a lack of true self respect feelings of unworthiness that are inborn through traumatic circumstances and traumatic experiences that we underwent earlier in life and finally those then those feelings of self-loathing themselves are underlay by psychological parental abandonment issues whether they be physical where the parent is actually not there was not there for the child or whether they are mental emotional psychological and spiritual abandonment she's by parents toward children that gets that trauma often gets buried into the subconscious mind it's on dealt with the subconscious mind is performing this role of protecting the conscious mind from the reliving of trauma through visualization and imagination so when that trauma gets nested it's not often dealt with and healed and we're carrying around these abandonment issues that are affecting our behavior without even knowing it at a conscious level so I'm gonna offer a proof of this and I would say this is a proof it's not just a conjecture or a theory it's a physical proof of what is going on in this world and what underlies it are parental abandonment issues because what happens when we have parental abandonment issues is we attempt to substitute or create what's known in psychology as a proxy a proxy is something that isn't actually that thing that we're going to fill in for the real thing okay so let's say people want to stop smoking so they might substitute a fake cigarette as a proxy for a real cigarette and just so that they have something in their hand something they could do with their hands this is actually a technique to quit smoking some people may substitute a lollipop or some people may suck on lifesavers or something like that there it's a substitute it's a proxy for doing something with the mouth and with the hands okay and in doing that you're putting something in place that isn't the real thing but your ass waging the desire for the real thing by doing that by putting that proxy in place psychologically so in our world because people are walking around with unresolved parental abandonment issues and they want a mother or a father to be present to have been present or to be present now when they are absent when they are in fact absent and again whether that means physical absence or emotional psychological absence okay it it it doesn't make a difference what kind of absence we're talking about a parent could be physically there and still not really be providing what a child requires okay so what people will often do who carry around this trauma unresolved is they will attempt to substitute a proxy in place of the missing parents or the role the missing role that the parent would normally be fulfilling but is not fulfilling and that that vacuum is going unfulfilled in their life so now they're gonna try to substitute something in place of it and this is done through government in our world it's done through the political spectrum of government alright so I asked I posed this question on slide number eight now these images once again are on the what on earth is happening calm radio show page what on earth is happening calm slash radio okay and they're right underneath the player unless you're listening with the podcast in which case this is podcast number 147 and you can get the images there so I posed on quite on slide number eight for this show or podcast do you ever wonder why there are only really two major political parties yeah we have some other minor parties but they're they get no attention they get no media coverage the government hypes up the two major parties this is more than just a dialectical approach like a Hegelian dialectic approach to get people to choose sides and then polarize them there's something deeper psychologically going on here than just a dialectical approach and the reason that there's only ever two major political parties it doesn't really matter what country were talking about almost every country this same scheme this technique whatever you want to call it is practiced in this method of manipulation this is because there's only two parental figures there's a biological mother and a biological father I'm moving on to slide number nine here that's the answer to that question the reason there's only two major political parties is there's only two biological parental figures in any given individual's life every individual was the byproduct of a man and a woman that's how birth is given I mean unless of course you were you know given birth to surrogate birth of some kind or you know through an artificial insemination but that sperm still came from a man and that egg still came from a woman okay there are the archetypal parental figures doesn't make a difference what the living conditions of a person is in their life they may have no no parents they may be adopted they may have one parent one parent may have died you know they may have two mothers and if they're being raised by a lesbian couple they it may have two fathers if they're being raised by a homosexual gay male couple okay so doesn't make a difference what those conditions are everyone is the byproduct of a man and a woman biologically okay therefore there are the archetypal figures of parental figures and again we define the role of parenting in the first part of this podcast as providing nurturing and protection and by and large those roles are grouped by parents not completely both parents can provide both of those roles again this is not a blanket statement this is a blending okay it's a mixture of the two but again the the majority at least archetype early in the mind in the psyche we largely identify the nurturing role as being the mother's primary role and protection being her secondary role as a parent and primarily the father being the protector the primer as the primary role and having the nurturer aspect of the mail father figure being the secondary role largely again not a blanket statement please do not take that as such men can be nurturers women can be protectors okay however as a generalization the mail provides the protection role and supplements it with the nurturing role and the woman provides the nurturing role and may supplement it with the protecting role okay now if we look at the political spectrum and I'm using the I'm going to use the political spectrum or the political duality here in America as our model we'll see that each party each major party acts as a proxy for each parental figure we'll put that up on the other side of this break you're listening to what on earth is happening don't go anywhere [Music] and [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio so before the break I was about to get into a political model for psychological abandonment for parental abandonment I should say these parental abandonment issues manifest in our replacing the parental figure with a proxy called government whereby government then becomes the parental figure and it tells us everything that we need to be doing and it provides for us and it nurtures us and it cares for us and it protects us okay and that's what people are giving up their sovereignty - because they want to remain in this state of no personal responsibility to know and choose right behavior over wrong behavior in a state of willful ignorance and ultimately they're not dealing with nested sub conscious psychological parental abandonment issues that are that have gone unresolved and therefore what they're doing is they're trying to substitute the missing parent with government and here's how it works each political party plays the role of a parental figure and what the person who supports that party is doing is they're saying this is my new mommy where this is my new daddy because they're not present in my life in whatever capacity whether physically mentally psychologically emotionally spiritually etc okay and therefore I'm going to substitute them using this proxy called government and now it's the new mommy where it's the new daddy the nanny state or the daddy state you know big brother state okay so I'll use the political parties here in America as the example the Democratic Party the left-wing the liberal were neoliberal type okay and again yes I'm generalizing here I'm talking about personality types you know in general the psychology and the personality of these types of individuals it is a generalization but it's a generalization that holds true okay I call these all these people's supporters of slavery like if we stop you for maizing what these people really are and just calling them people who believe in government and think governments legitimate and where voters or whatever you want to call them okay if you believe in government you're a supporter of slavery the end ok you may not believe that you may not accept that that's true but once again that's an eternal truth that you're never gonna make untrue no matter how much you don't want to accept it or do you say you don't believe it doesn't matter what you believe if you believe in government and you support government you're a supporter of slavery if we're being honest with ourselves and again I recognize most people are not they lie to themselves from cradle to grave okay so those of us who want to be honest with ourselves are going to call anybody who supports government supporters of slavery if we stop euphemized the terms okay I don't like you foam ization I like cutting not cutting through all the bull and getting down to what something really is all right and those who support government or supporters of slavery if we're being honest with ourselves all right that being said the Democratic or liberal or left-wing types always want government to be the caretaker of the people they think that people don't have to grow up and be truly responsible for their own lives that somebody else should do that and that's what they want government to be they want it to fulfill the role of caretaker from cradle to grave they think that the government should act as our providers our nurturers okay those who are always on the lookout and caring for us all right and that's the role of an archetype or mother and again I'm on slide number 10 here now on the images for the show or the podcast okay so what these and yes all of these people all of them not some all blanket statement now again some blanket statements are not true some blanket statements and generalizations hold true all of these people who that think this way that this is what government should do are putting the government in the proxy okay as the archetypal mother figure because somewhere in their personality and again it does not have to be a physical abandonment issue they are suffering from motherly abandonment issues whether the mother physically abandoned them or was off-limits emotionally did not provide for their mental well-being did not give them help to provide knowledge for them and teach them the right things did not provide a true value system for them okay or did not instill in them a true sense of personal responsibility these people are still children all of these people are still children who believe in and support slavery we can only have a system of slavery if we remain psychological and spiritual infants and never truly really grow up in those capacities so these individuals are all all not some all every last one suffering from motherly abandonment issues whether they are consciously aware of it or not I'm telling you yes I know what's going on in their mind more than they know what's going on in their own mind I am making that statement yes I do know that okay these people are all suffering from mommy issues 100% now let's not leave the other side out of the equation because you know what we're going to treat them just as brutally here just as brutally honestly I should say okay we have to stop you from rising and we need to call the people on the other end of the political spectrum or political aisle just where they are two supporters of slavery so the Republicans don't get off the hook so let's move to slide 11 and look at them okay the P these are also people who believe in legitimacy of government so they are also supporters of slavery these are the Republican members of the Republican Party the Conservatives or the neoconservatives whatever you want to call them the right-wingers okay what do they want government to fulfill the role of what do they want government to be us then what should government be what role should it play in people's lives well they want it largely to be a protector and again that's the father's role they want it to be the protector to please the world and keep people safe from cradle to grave like an archetype Oh father figure so so where as the liberal neoliberal you know you know a left-winger type once government to be mommy the Republican conservative right-wing type wants government to be daddy because deep down inside they have fatherly abandonment issues all of them 100% all you don't start believing in the legitimacy of government just because it is repeated just because a mind control technique and people telling you that that's necessary deep down inside they're dealing at a subconscious level with a father that didn't pay enough attention to them with a father that wasn't emotionally available for them in some capacity or physically available for them just like the left wingers are dealing with an absent mother all of them 100% if you go into it deep enough with these people they are suffering believers in slavery supporters of slavery are dealing in some capacity whether it is conscious or subconscious or unconscious with parental abandonment issues so this is what the right-wing or the Republican or the conservative types want they want government to be the daddy they want it to be the protector again the parental role is twofold nurturer and protector largely the Democrats or liberals or left-wingers want government to be the nurturer the provider and the Republicans the Conservatives the right-wingers they want government to be the protector to fulfill the role of daddy a father okay now there is a third type that we you know don't usually talk about in dealing with the political spectrum that much but I'm not going to leave them out of this truth-telling episode here okay because if the truth be told there are also supporters of slavery regardless of they just think that they want the slave masters to beat us three days a week instead of seven we'll pick this up on the other side today where this folks you're listening to what on earth is happening [Music] welcome back everyone or listening to what on earth is happening here on the Public Broadcasting so I was breaking down how people at different sides of the political spectrum or the political aisle substitute or a fill-in as a proxy government to fulfill the absentee role of a parental figure in their lives and they're all suffering from psychological parental abandonment issues that have not really ever been dealt with or dredged up from the subconscious level and dealt with and healed there is a third group you might call this form of abandoned child the black sheep of the family you know it's uh it's a lot less prevalent and we call them men are kists it's a term that you know people have called them or they've even applied to themselves you might know them as libertarians or constitutionalists there are people who believe in only a little bit of slavery you know they only condone small amounts of slavery as if there is such a thing okay and I recognize I'm gonna alienate a lot of people by saying that and you know a lot of people may get angry and take offense at that well you know what debt is offended as you like there's the tagline for the show you know go put it on some t-shirts or billboards get as offended as you like I'm not here to be your friend and tell you what you want to hear I'm here to tell you the truth men are kists are still are Conesus meaning they believe in master/slave relationships they believe in and support the archons the masters they think there is such a thing as masters over other people and therefore they believe in slavery doesn't make a difference whether what you say you believe in that's not what you think is part of the ideology of menarche has nothing to do with what it really is and I'm telling you is it better than outright authoritarianism it's a step up not much you know you need to go all the whay you need to understand there's no such thing as any kind of legitimate form of slavery there is no such thing as legitimate government because all government is slavery and there's no such thing as legitimized slavery get that through your skull okay the men are kists out there and like i say you want to take offense to that take all the offense you want the bottom line is what these people are are still children who are substituting nested psychological abandonment with the proxy of government so you know taking the role taking on the role of parental figure in their lives in some capacity even though they want a a minimal capacity you might say they're the estranged teenager that doesn't want their mother and father ruling over every area of their lives you know but they still believe that they somehow have authority over their lives they want I liken it to a slave that once the the slave master only the whip them three times a week instead of seven you know they look on over at the other plantation that they say Wow on that plantation the slaves are only beaten twice a week boy that would be a great thing you know and we should have twice a week beatings whippings instead of seven-day-a-week whippings you know I mean you just you really think of it in that way you hear how absurd it all sounds you know I put it on this slide slide number twelve the final slide for today that the men are kissed wants his parents to abuse him or or her less frequently than the other children's parents abuse them you know it's madness you know and what it really is is fear of truly owning personal responsibility because they have this fear of chaos which can't be feared if you're going to be truly free the possibility for chaos always must exist we must embrace it if we want to be free you have to have the possibility of chaos in your life the end accept it know it deal with it okay what a men are kissed is is somebody who fears going all the way all the way to true freedom and total personal responsibility they may have a little they may have more than most they may have more than other people but they haven't gone all the way all the way and until we get these people to go all the way we're still supporters of slavery I like the joke though what's the difference between a libertarian or Menorca stand an anarchist and the joke you know punchline is about six months you know maybe so maybe a year you know but if we keep working on these people and show them that no matter what level of slavery there supporting they're still supporting slavery you know maybe they'll come around and go all the way eventually and you know take on proudly the label of anarchist you know which is really the truth that there is no authority invested in other human beings over other human beings so that's the presentation for tenth tonight and I want to briefly open up a discussion about or just a you know me giving some information about another psychological profile if you will or what you might call a psychological workup you know that I'm going to do here right here online very briefly to explain how not understanding that someone he was dealing with parental abandonment issues throughout their life or perhaps not dealing with them is better to say affected their behavior and when you look at their decisions in light of that knowledge it all becomes clear perhaps in a snap of the fingers as it did with me when I understood this person I'm going to bring up their history their past and the person I'm going to do a short psychological profiling or workup on is Steve Jobs the former CEO of Apple now deceased born as Steven Paul Jobs okay so Steve Jobs formerly from Apple he died I believe it was about a year back in 2012 if I'm not mistaken and to my knowledge well before I even tell you this I want to talk about my perceptions of Steve Jobs in the past I greatly respected the man in the past when Apple was coming up and in their early days I used Apple's computers throughout the early part of their history and stuck with them through like some of the darkest times now a lot of people will immediately say oh you know they hate Apple they hate Mac's whatever it's a preference some people like Windows some like Linux some like Mac you know so I preferred the Mac platform when I was starting to use computers I liked the graphical user interface as preference to any other alternatives and you know many people know that I still use the Mac OS although I don't buy Apple's products anymore I build what I build my own computer and then I run Mac OS on it it's called making a hackintosh hackintosh in people call it so that's what I use as my main system today because I like the Mac OS but I don't like Apple as a company and I have no desire to give any money to them now Apple that I knew was a vastly different company than they are today when I first got involved buying Apple products in their earlier days of computing you could call this company 24 hours a day and a human being would pick up the phone I'm not kidding either now most people would think that's you know insane they can't even imagine that today ok no voice systems robotic voice systems no you know press this number to go to this department a human being would pick up the phone and say how may I help you sir what department can i route you to who can I put you in touch with to solve whatever issue a problem you're having today ok and then their technical support department would stay on the phone with you if your product was supported ok me it didn't have to even be under warranty I used to call Apple for products that were not even under warranty anymore but if it was on there supported products list back in the day they would sit on the phone and solve the problem with you and stand that technician would be knowledgeable they were from this country they weren't you know outsourced to another country they were hiring people from here and that person would sit on the phone with you and care about the problem until they fixed it and if they didn't fix it I remember back in the day Apple would send a support technician if the product was still under warranty to your house if it was a hardware issue that couldn't be solved I remember somebody coming over I had defective RAM that I had purchased from Apple and they came on site and put a new Ram chip in an old computer that I had on site that's unheard of today this is the kind of company Apple used to be particularly in their darker years when they were hurting and floundering okay now when Jobs came back to the company people don't know he was kicked out of his own company that he started with Steve Wozniak when in the early 80s when Apple was and this is just some background to his psychology when when when Apple was up coming and they had a an Apple team and a Mac team okay he would try to pick these two teams off against each other to drive people to work harder to best the other team and in so doing he created a lot of bad blood inside the company whose trading internal schisms in the company to try to create loyalty to the Mac team to get them to work harder to innovate and Hogan had better a new product and I'll pick that up on the other side of the break stay with us [Music] night divine today trying to run welcome back up again this is the last segment of what on earth is happening for this evening show I want to pick up where I left off talking about how Steve Jobs was thrown out of Apple back in the mid 80s he was kicked off the Board of Directors eventually they did kind of a hostile takeover on his share of stock and he was eventually thrown another company but I want to make a correction he died in late 2011 believe was October of 2011 so I said he died in 2012 it's been longer than that he's been gone for about two and a half years now so without having been said he was creating an internal schism inside his own company by pitting teams against each other and you know extremely rewarding one team and then viciously denouncing another team if the one team you know drove a better form of innovation and the Board of Directors looked at that as that wasn't providing a conducive working environment for many of the people that were working there and they were kind of being put down and stuff like that so they eventually looked at him as unstable and kicked him out of his own company that he gave birth to well this really set him off obviously because well he started his own company next that never really made it although the under the technological underpinnings of their operating system paved the way for Apple's modern operating system that they're using today but without going into too much detail there when jobs when jobs as software was was kind of like I guess you could say an external when Apple purchased next for their operating system jobs came back into the company and he immediately seized the reins of power and you knew he was viciously going to hold on to that power in the company till he became the CEO again you know he was made Acting CEO and then finally became the permanent CEO up until his death he was not going to let anybody take his baby from him again and that brings me to this dynamic okay he always saw Apple as his baby his creation now it was taken from him and now he was gonna ruthlessly hold on to it but there's more to this dynamic than that because Jobs was always a control freak really from day one and people look at him and think oh he's he's the freedom guy and Steve not Steve Jobs of Bill Gates is the guy who's all about control and he's the genesis and he's the one who went once and maintain control at Microsoft well Jobs always had this ideology of wanting to be a monopoly man he wanted to rule it it's just he wasn't as successful at doing that as gates people think of him is so altruistic and the fact of the matter is he really had the same mindset as Bill Gates largely now I think politically he was a bit different on the different political side of the spectrum from from gates and I would not certainly not call him a eugenicist as I would Bill Gates but Jobs was definitely all about control certainly when it came to his company and certainly when it came to what he was going to allow the consumers of his products to access so everybody knew that Apple was all about controlling their hardware because they're a hardware company and you know they always maintained limited access to hardware and use proprietary components and that's because again their industrial design drives their business model and their hardware is their business model not software well now in the later part of jobs is a reign as CEO of Apple before his death he became not only a control freak when it came to the hardware but he also locked down the new systems the software systems that Apple was building into their products namely iOS in the phone in the iPhone first the iPhone and then in the iPad and iPod and this system is locked down tighter than a drum I'm not going to get into all the details but what I mean it is locked down I mean if you even compare it to other mobile platforms it is so tightly controlled and not only is the the hardware and software tightly controlled but the model of programming is so tightly controlled and selling the apps is so tightly controlled jobs came up with the strategy of selling only through the app store and then taking a percent cut of all apps that developers sell through the App Store and there is no alternative that has to be done through the app store there is no other method of installation on at least a non jailbroken iOS device you know factory iOS device as it is shipped from the factory so um this I ideology of total control over every aspect of the product of the creation that he was putting out there okay stems from his own psychological abandonment issues and I never understood this I always thought of him as a control freak in the later years when he came back to power at Apple but I never understood why he was doing it there's that word again that causal factor why was he behaving in this way and none of it made any sense to me until his biography came out in 2011 and it came out that he had been adopted from almost from birth very very very very early on in life Steve Jobs was adopted his birth parents gave him up for adoption because of dynamics that were going on within their family at them as soon as they gave birth to him so he was given up for adoption by his parents abandoned by his parents you could say not really even for valid reasons it was because his parents family didn't approve of his mother and father's relationship they had the means of caring for the child who gave him up anyway I would say it's not even a valid reason family pressure brought this to bear okay so jobs carried this psychological trauma with him throughout his entire adulthood unresolved and as a result he could never fully give his child in the form of his created technology to other people because he was given up so he never really wanted to fully give people open access to that technology now this is how psychological trauma it works through proxy it never made sense to me why he was such a control freak when it came to both hardware and software and it was largely hardware at first then it became the whole package later I didn't grasp it I always looking for reasons like why does he behave like this I want to like the guy you know I like I like at least his software you know Apple always had you know good industrial design and I didn't necessarily want to stick with them hardware wise I thought their hardware was not you know not necessarily top of top notch but it was good enough and it ran their hardware ran their software well the software is why I liked Apple I liked Mac OS that's why most people built brand loyalty to this company at any time in the past I don't consider myself a fanatic it was just an enthusiast and I appreciated their operating system very much so with that being said now that I understood his parental abandonment issues through his adoption early in life it fully made sense to me why he could never fully give people the his creations because psychologically he did not want to do the same thing with his surrogate children in the form of his creations that he contributed to making that his real live birth parents did to him jobs never reconciled this with his birth parents he died never having any sort of an audience or meeting with them I believe his birth father wanted to meet with him before Jobs died from pancreatic cancer in 2011 and Jobs would not even grant a meeting to him so you could see that's house nested psychological traumatic abandonment issues work through the subconscious mind and how they manifest through behaviors and I would say to you absolutely this is exactly why Steve Jobs behavior why he became such a control freak in' and that directed the course that his company Apple took later on in his life and now they are continuing in that tree addition Apple is not relented or led up or reversed their course unfortunately they've become worse than Microsoft in many ways if you ask me and it's sad because this company didn't use to be like that for four former loyalists or enthusiasts whatever you want to call people who stuck with them in the early days of the company many of us will be able to offer testimony that this company was not always the way that they are now many people love them now and think they're so great because of how many iOS devices they sell and oh they drove innovation in the mobile platform I see Apple as a company that's gone extraordinarily downhill since their early times and it's largely because of the nested subconscious psychological abandonment issues of their former CEO Steve Jobs so I was glad I was able to break that down we'll take some calls on the other on the next show that's all the time we have for this one ladies and gentlemen remember there's only two mistakes you can make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you here next week on what on earth is happening thanks for listening you [Music]

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Mark Pascoe [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com the network's website Republic broadcasting org today is Saturday March 15th 2014 the show is live every Saturday right here on Republic broadcasting from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Eastern Time that's 9:00 p.m. to midnight central we have a great show lined up for you here today I'm going to be continuing a little bit discussing parental abandonment issues as the root psychological factor that is contributing to the continued human condition of slavery we'll get into my own parental abandonment issues today as I hinted that we would be doing last week and then we're gonna go to your calls and get your take on this issue and anything else that you want to discuss let me give the callin number right at the top of the show and hopefully I can take calls throughout the show the calling number to join us here on what on earth is happening today is eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again 800 three one 390 443 you can call me now and get in the queue and as I said I'll be reviewing a little bit getting into my own parental abandonment issues that I've worked with and hopefully conquered completely you know we all carry a bit of this with us and we're all still working with it but as long as we're willing to do that work we're making progress and it is a such a huge issue and it's one that goes so unnoticed because it's very nested in the subconscious mind and that's why many people don't even realize they're carrying these subconscious psychological abandonment issues around with them they're they're not consciously aware of them and it affects so much of their behavior from that unconscious subconscious point of view so we'll be getting into that a little bit more I have a couple of very event announcements I will be speaking next weekend in Asheville North Carolina I'm going to be giving a presentation on Saturday March 22nd 2014 Asheville North Carolina called New Age BS and the suppression of the sacred masculine revisited with even more new-age deceptions exposed so I'm billing this as a presentation to ask the question to people out there are you truly awake especially the those who identify and consider themselves members of the New Age movement or the New Age community are you really awake are you truly awake or are you just in a spiritual trap that is designed specifically to make you believe that you're awake this is going to be coming up again March 22nd Saturday March 22nd in Asheville North Carolina at the Lexington Avenue brewery that's at 39 North Lexington Avenue in Asheville North Carolina the doors will open at 9:00 a.m. this is going to be an all-day event it's an a one-day seminar is what it really is not just the presentation I'll be giving a morning session will be breaking for lunch I'll be giving an afternoon session we may or may not break after that and then there's going to be an extended question and answer session where people can ask me any questions about my take on what I've presented there that day or anything else about the New Age movement that they want to talk about so the advance tickets for this are only seven dollars you could get advance tickets by calling eight two eight seven eight two zero eight four zero once again four advance tickets only seven dollars eight two eight seven eight two zero eight four zero you could also email I walk with purpose at gmail.com once again the email address for advanced ticket requests I walk with purpose at gmail.com at the door tickets only a $10 donation so only $3.00 more at the door you can't beat that price anywhere for an all-day seminar with information that I'm going to be presenting that people absolutely need to see and hear to understand how the New Age movement is a deliberately crafted religion I call it the religion of standing down to get people to stand down from taking right action in the world and believing that everything is just okay and is gonna magically work itself out it's a huge deception a lot of people are wrapped up in it and if people come out they will gain a lot of clarity and discernment regarding what this entire movement is all about and how to get your mind free of the trap of the of the snare that the New Age movement want to catch wants to catch your mind in so once again that's Saturday next Saturday March 22nd more likely than not I will not be broadcasting live next weekend okay next Saturday will probably be playing a replay should conditions be very conducive to broadcasting a live show maybe I'll do a live show from from Asheville possibly but right now my leaning is I'll probably not be live next weekend so we'll see what happens the other quick event announcement I have is that I am as many listeners will know I am on a juice fast in an attempt to cure my diabetes once and for all I have type one point five or what is known as latent adult onset of juvenile diabetes they call it la da la da or it's been called type one point five diabetes it's juvenile diabetes that comes on slowly in adulthood this came on when I was in my early 30s over a period of time I was diagnosed with it finally and I've been largely insulin dependent however I can control this with diet I have and I've done a 30-day raw food diet in the past which has basically knocked the diabetes down for several months and it didn't slowly creep back in for another several months a lot of people talk about that you know you may have to do these reboots of the gastrointestinal system and the endocrine system so many so many after so many months and just do another raw food diet for a 30-day period I've done some research and come across a lot of people reporting different types of diabetes cured as a result that they extended juice fast so I started this fast via a few weeks back thinking it was only going to be a 10-day fast as I've done before but after going into it a few days and seeing how easy it was and how good I felt and how much clarity of mind I had during it after about three or four days I said I'm gonna do a full 30 days and you know try to proactively go after and tackle this diabetes problem once and for all because I'm no fan of not a big fan of needles I don't like to have to stick myself to test my blood you know once a day or twice a day I don't like to have to take insulin injections if my sugar levels go high my blood sugar levels so I'm happy to report since day one that I started this juice fast 26 days ago today is day 26 I have four more days to go since day one my blood sugar levels have been within normal parameters they have been absolutely perfectly normal since the first day I started this fast so that's great news and hopefully that will continue after the fast is over after I go back to eating solid food so uh wish me luck four more days it's been an exercise in willpower if nothing else you know not having solid food for that long there's a definitely a mental a psychological component to it you do I did have cravings for solid food I was able to control that you know I believe I have very very good willpower and I've stuck with it I have only taken into myself freshly squeezed juice made from an auger juicer [Music] [Music] [Music] my website [Music] we get into a little bit of a review from the material that we covered last week I was talking about the underlying psychological state of humanity okay and how that's really driven by willful ignorance willful ignorance is really the manifestation you know and from there we get ignoring evil we get ignoring what's going on all around us we getting ignoring all the iniquities and inequities of our world people not caring about each other people not helping each other people not trying to spiritually uplift each other people not trying to present people with information that they need to know just saying I don't care you know which is where most of humanity is at and that comes from a state of willful ignorance and then it allows evil to just run roughshod all over us but underneath that there's another condition and this is people wanting to remain children it's them wanting to remain in a state of not having any personal responsibility and abdicating personal responsibility believing that they can advocate personal responsibility I should say to someone else you know it's not my responsibility to understand this is not my responsibility to take care of myself it's not my responsibility to help out my fellow man it's not my responsibility to teach my fellow man anything no that's somebody else's responsibility you know it's the state's responsibility above all else don't you know you know that's what people want to pass this responsibility off to that's government job you know and then government becomes like the surrogate parent in a society of beings like that in that kind of a mind state and I was explaining to people there's a another underlying condition it lies beneath wanting to remain an eternal child and not ever have any personal responsibility and that is self-loathing a people cannot truly love themselves if they don't want to grow up and take care of themselves how could they possibly love themselves it's not possible people will hate to hear that said directly and I understand that I get it believe me folks one thing I'm not regardless of whatever else you may think I am I'm not naive I'm not a naive person I know exactly where the psychological dynamic of humanity is at I told people last week I will often know what's going on in somebody's mind where they will not because somebody who has studied psychology at the depth that I have at this point you you can know things about people that they don't know about themselves because they've never dredged up these issues these psychological issues and worked with them and dealt with them and confronted them let alone studied them in depth so I know what people think when I say there were a self loathing species I get that they're in denial they're in psychological denial about that they don't want to hear it does that make it untrue absolutely not it's true nonetheless we are a species in self-loathing because only a species in self loathing in the aggregate I'm not saying everybody is don't don't confuse my words I'm not saying every single individual plenty of people have true self-respect not nearly enough but there are many who do but as in the aggregate when we're talking about the whole species of humanity on earth it's it's a paltry few in percentage-wise ok so what I'm talking about here is aggregate numbers the vast majority the vast percentages of people are in a state of psychological self-loathing subconsciously they don't have to think consciously I really don't like myself nobody but most people don't have self-loathing issues at that conscious level and like want to kill themselves or or say that they hate themselves nonetheless they do hate themselves deep down inside underneath it at the subconscious level at the level of the unseen okay this is because there's another reason for this self-hatred see again just to clarify this only a people who are self-loathing and ultimately hate themselves could allow themselves to remain enslaved it follows logically if you just think about it it has nothing to do with the physical enslavement here people are participating in their own enslavement because they will not desist in doing certain jobs because they will not desist in continuing to support the financial and monetary enslavement because they want theirs see they can't transition to the mindset that there's only one family living on this planet it's it's too far beyond their level of consciousness to go to they can't make that fundamental understanding to transition into the level of awareness that there is no separation at the ultimate level and I get it not everybody understands that that is the one level of actual separation consciousness whether people understand that we are really one whether people understand that there is no such thing as authority and no one is higher than anybody else and that doesn't mean there aren't people who are at higher levels of awareness and consciousness when it comes to these truths and I get it that may sound like total alien language to some people listening out there because they're not there yet they're not at that level yet I get it once again I'm not naive enough to believe everybody's at the same level of consciousness I'm telling you what the truth is but I'm telling you not everybody's going to accept that or understand it they're gonna look at you when you try to explain it like you have three heads growing out of your neck okay don't make the mistake of believing people are on the same level of awareness when it comes to the solutions to what really needs to be done because they're not most people can't even comprehend that language let alone really understand the level of consciousness it's gonna take to get there you know it's it would literally - with some people be like trying to explain arithmetic to a dog literally and I'm not saying that to insult people I'm saying it because it's true that's the level of consciousness they're at so this self-loathing condition is what has to ultimately be repaired now that's not easy work that's not gonna be easy to do because the conditions are holding people in self-loathing as well not just their psychological framework or mindset via external conditions in the world are continuing because these people don't have time to work on themselves they're too busy doing things for survival needs you know let alone they're they're barely makin by scraping by with basic survival let alone thinking about deeps nested psychological issues at the subconscious level they're not looking at themselves they're doing everything they can to avoid looking at themselves in many cases so this some self-loathing only true self-respect can heal it breaking out of the abuse victim cycle saying no I don't need to continue to think about it as I need to be to come out on top I don't need to think about it as I need to do what's been done to me or what's been done to other people to propagate the same cycle of abuse we have to get out of the abuse victim game out of the mentality get out of the mentality of wanting to be an abuser and going to continue to be abused that's what real self-respect is pick this up on the other side stay with us [Music] [Music] [Applause] you are talking about self-loathing issues that are subconsciously embedded in humanity's collective mind you know until we become a self-respecting people that want freedom that want to take personal responsibility for their own lives that don't want to be ignorant that want to be well-informed expect slavery to continue I mean what can I say that's just how it works that's how the laws of nature work ladies and gentlemen you know and I would add we need to get out of this mindset that we need to constantly one-up other people it's all ego I need the profit you know I need to be in a position that is in control over over this person it's all ego based people will say oh it's just survival adaptation no it isn't it's called the ego run out of control and the ego owning the mind not being a part of the psyche but owning it and that's what people have to understand the psyche isn't there that the ego isn't there to be obliterated the ego is how you lift food and put it into your own mouth instead of you know trying to put it into somebody else's mouth or throw it on the ground the ego is what allows us to use a tool to assist ourselves and make our lives better to invent technology okay I'm not telling you I'm talking about the ego run amok run out of control that's different than just the human ego the ego is there to be a tool to be picked up used and then put back in the tool box unfortunately it has come to rule the house and it owns us you know it has us all trapped inside of it we need to get out of that state of mind control we need to get out of that state of ego identification all material I've talked about on past podcasts you go back in the archives I tell people if you want the best value out of this radio show out of this broadcast go back into the archives start at number one what on earth is happening calm slash podcast click the podcast tab on my site go back to number one listen forward and order at your own pace it's a tapestry of information meant to be taken in as a whole in a linear progression that's what you have to do to really understand what's going on on this planet to understand the solutions and going forward this issue that I'm going to be getting into a little bit more tonight that underlies all of these other psychological conditions of willful ignorance of the refusal to take on personal responsibility as an adult self-loathing what underlies all of that deep-seated subconscious psychological parental abandonment issues and again to reiterate what I was saying last week about the abandonment on the part of a parent it does not have to mean that the parent was not physically there the parent can be physically present and the child can still be abandoned or develop abandonment issues because if the child's emotional needs are not met if their psychological needs are not met if their spiritual needs are not met that is still an abandonment issue that is going to be present for that child the parent can still be there and not be providing any real nurturing in those capacities for the child even if they're taking care of their physical needs does not make a difference physical presence is only one aspect of abandonment issues of course abuse comes into this the parent can be there physically providing the for the child and still abusing them and not necessarily even physically abusing them emotionally abusing them psychologically abusing them passive aggressively abusing the child okay instilling horrible thought patterns into the child because that programming is where the child is going to eventually pull their self-worth from especially if they don't by nature have some sort of a strong Constitution which usually a child does not look to a parent for support especially in the first six or seven years of life so we are all affected by these issues nobody can say that they're a perfect parent and provided everything that a child needs parents do their best they try to do their best least good ones do okay that doesn't mean we're going to be unless with certain issues that are unresolved that are nested in the subconscious mind and this is for those of us who even had good parents okay so let me give the call-in number once again again I'm taking calls throughout the show 803 one three nine four four three once again one one eight hundred three one three ninety four forty three get in the queue I'll go to your calls as they come in I want to briefly since last week we talked about these parental abandonment issues we discussed the the conscious mind versus the subconscious mind you know how the role of the conscious mind is the scan the environment make sense of things organize information plan okay the subconscious Minds role is quite the opposite it's automate it takes care of automated bodily functions instinct and fight/flight response habits you know initial emotional imprints initial emotional responses to things its ultimate function is to protect the conscious mind from the re-experiencing of past traumatic experiences because the conscious mind has this very powerful capability called imagination and visualization capabilities you know so that imagination and visualization can actually be a bad thing if we relive horrible traumatic experiences then we're reliving that actually physiologically and the body starts pumping chemicals into the physiology that are can actually be harmful and can actually do damage to the intern organs in the brain when we relive traumatic experiences that put us into fight flight mode emotionally and mentally it's called stress it takes the blood away from the torso where the organs are it takes the blood the bog pumps away from the head the brain and and it goes to the extremities where what we need for fight-or-flight the arms and the legs so it's a very physiological reaction stress reliving the past that is painful and traumatic that was painful or traumatic that's why the subconscious mind has this defense mechanism to protect us from that by nesting it and burying it in the subconscious so we don't consciously think about it but if we don't do the work to bring it up to the conscious level and deal with it not necessarily dwell on it and keep you know trying to re-experience it quote-unquote okay through imagination and visualization but to work with the traumatic experience in a way that helps to heal it emotionally heal it mentally heal that trauma this is very deep introspective self work I talked a little bit last week briefly about EFT emotional freedom technique is it tapping on meridian lines in the body that can help with this and you could release the forms of these traumas that are nested into the subconscious through an energy response similar to acupuncture very advanced technique actually would that doesn't involve having to to dredge the memory up in a in a imagination / visualization sense but I'm not telling you there aren't people with the constitutions that can't do it that way you know by going in and re re imagining the experience it takes a lot of self-control to do it that way a whole lot and not put yourself under an immense stress so we talked about this and we talked about breaking out of the abuse victim cycle this cycle of not becoming the abuser or the victim once a trauma has happened last we also then briefly discussed political parties as what I called psychological proxies you're putting this political party or affiliation or a candidate in place as the real thing for the absence of parental a parental figure we looked at the Democratic Party as giving a providing a psychological proxy for the absence of the mother figure in a mother-child relationship because the Democrats see government as where the Liberals or leftist sort of however you want to word it want to see government as the nanny or the mommy the nurturer and the provider that is absent for them in some way in some respect they think it should be provide for all of our needs from cradle to grave you know that people shouldn't truly be self responsible for their own needs no government should be fulfill that role like a archetype or mother and vice versa the Republican the conservative the right winger looks at government as the father figure the strong archetype will father figure protector that's going to go out and police the world and keep us safe substituting as a psychological proxy for an absent father figure we'll pick this up on the other side of the break you're listening to what on earth is happening the coin with doughnuts wall between us so Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm talking about parental abandonment issues as the ultimate nested subconscious psychological issue that is driving the condition that humanity finds itself in and that is slavery government is slavery ladies and gentlemen whether you understand that or not doesn't make one bit of difference it is still true until we get rid of this idea called government get it out of our minds that it is necessary what anybody is saying when they say government is necessary is they're saying slavery is necessary and you know just if you even just look at that term you know you see how ridiculous or if you should see how ridiculous it sounds you know that should be self-evident to you when you say slavery is necessary but that's what you're really saying when you say government is necessary that's what anybody is saying when they say government is necessary and they're enslaved by that very system so it's a slave on the plantation telling other people I should be I should remain a slave now how could anyone in that psychological state love themselves it's not possible it's not possible okay so you could hate hearing that all you want to hate hearing it that doesn't make it untrue it's still true that that's where people are at most people are in that state of such deep self-loathing because they want the state to be mommy and daddy because they can't deal or haven't dealt with or refused to deal with their own parental abandonment issues and they haven't really grown up as a result they're not a true adult they are not they could be as old as anybody else they could be as old as an 80 year old person they could be you know in their late 20s in their mid 40s it doesn't make a difference what age they are they could look at adult and they're still a cycle infant there's still a spiritual infant physical age has absolutely nothing to do with how truly grown-up a human being is internally how truly mature they are internally okay so and this is what the state loves the state loves people who are psychological children we're a nation of grown children of psychological infants that's what allows the state to stay in control and they love it and they do everything they can to propagate it talk to us like we're children on the airwaves feeding us nonsense you know mindless forms of entertainment on every channel on the idiot box that people sit behind with their GMO food you know cram and down down their gullet every day after they go to their left brain job you know and their bodies all run down then they sit in front of a device feeding themselves crap food and then watch a mind-control device all night and I guarantee you there's plenty people out there who do the same thing who are listening to this broadcast and think that they're awake think that they know what's going on because they're just don't understand you're on a farm that you're in a pen you're in a barn okay you're one of the animals on the farm and most people have absolutely no idea how that is maintained how that condition is maintained and they support it in many cases they support it because they don't want to truly grow up for themselves and take care of themselves so what I want to talk about here today is my own psychological parental abandonment issues and those of my sibling and I'm going to talk about my sibling my sister here whether she likes it or not or wants me to to bring these issues up or not I'm gonna talk about it because it's something that I want to discuss okay so my mother and father separated when I was five months in the womb okay now how's that for an abandonment issue my father takes off obviously you know marital infidelity played a role in all of this and he takes off and splits when my sister is six five and a half years old and I'm in the womb five months so you know this is obviously a typical story of how families break up you know divorce infidelity Devore leading to divorce leading to one parent raising two children this was the case with my family or you know before I was born actually so you know my mother she's young she wants to raise her two children you know gets a decent job and then essentially can't be home for the raising of her two children largely so now you have the father gone and you have the mother working constantly every day you know only there a small percentage of the time and again the state loves this they love scenarios and conditions like this because again they want to be the surrogate parent they want to be the proxy the psychological proxy for both parental figures so they they have a vested interest in keeping people in these nested subconscious states of undealt with psychological issues because they want you to be emotionally immature so that you'll eventually identify the state as mommy and daddy so many people are right in this trap and don't even know that they're in it so going back to the story parents separate at about five months pregnancy with me in the womb so that means I don't ever really know my father upon being born and growing up at a very young age eventually I did he came in my life at a later point not not in a big way but you know uh in a way such that I never really helped harbored a deep ill-will or resentment started to try to understand young I feel how relationship problems can crop up between people and it's not and didn't necessarily have anything to do with me now that was me and my take in my understanding my sister did not have that understanding it hit her way way harder because she was already born and she was already five years old when my father splits with my mother so now again my mother is working full-time trying to raise us and support us or at least provide for our I shouldn't even use the word raise I should say provide for our physical needs much different than raising if people think that's all there is to raising a child you have no idea what the word raising even means okay I don't look like I was I don't look at it from a true perspective of what I understand the word raising to be I was not raised I was raised by strangers from a condition of psychological infancy immaturity and self-loathing and you know ignorance that's what that's what raising really means as you come out of all those conditions strangers did that for me that I never met personally people I consider my mentors and you know what I don't give a damn let me just make one thing clear I don't give a damn what people think of the people I consider my mentors I could care less what you think about them okay let me make that clear I put who I consider people who influenced my life for the positive in a video and then people say you want to dismiss my video work we'll go right ahead and dismiss it shut it off I don't give a damn okay they're the people who helped me if you don't like them go listen to somebody else you're free to do that you're also free to dismiss my work and say there's nothing to it because he likes these people I think you're a total retard for thinking that way it's a complete logical fallacy okay you know to say that there's nothing here because this person likes this person's work and agrees with them on a lot of things it's utter nonsense it's it's more emotional immaturity and childishness that's all it is you think you can't get gain information or garner understanding from listening to somebody just because they like somebody that you happen not to like or agree with you're a moron you're a moron okay so you could say anything you want about who I list as people I like in my mentors and who I consider who raised me from the standards go right ahead and say you're listening the what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen I'm your host Mark Hasse we'll be right back freedom man that's what it's all about our number two of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm in the last segment I was talking about my own family and the the parental abandonment issues that myself and my sibling went through growing up because we were essentially raised in a by a mother who was divorced you know our our father left when my sister was about five and a half years old I was in the womb still yet to be born and that creates a whole host of issues my mother again had to take work and not be around for much of the day so we were essentially living with our grandparents for much of our early childhood and they would watch us during the day and eventually I ended up essentially staying at at that house almost all the time so I consider like I was brought up by my grandparents more so than my parents because again my father wasn't around physically my mother not really around much because she had to work to provide for physical needs and monetary needs for myself and my sister so not to say as I was saying last segment that my mother didn't do what she could and my grandparents didn't do an excellent job instilling a lot of good values in both myself and my sister but I would still not say as harsh as this may come off sounding that these were the people who raised me I was not raised by family members I was my physical well-being was cared for by family Mert was I cared for by family members absolutely that's different than being raised by somebody most people are not raising their children all over the world they may care for their children you know and provide for physical creature comforts for their children but they're not really truly raising children now what I mean by raising again this is a masonic term it means to lift up from a state of spiritual unconsciousness to actually turn the unconsciousness that is a childlike condition or a actual child condition into an awake and aware adult mature responsible condition it is to spiritually of uplift a human being it is to instill a true sense of morality of the actual difference between right and wrong behavior into a human being with knowledge not with just how you feel it should be done you know hoping you do a good job or having good intentions that's what most parents are doing they're flying by their shoe strings okay I'm talking about with actual knowledge raising someone from an unconscious condition to a conscious condition that's what it means to quote/unquote raise somebody and parents in the United States and all throughout the world they're not raising their children a damn bit not a bit who I consider who right now again these are people who physically took care of my needs different than raising I was not raised in my childhood I was not raised until I was about close to 30 years old I would say I began being raised in my late 20s and I was finally I would consider raised by the time I was maybe 30 32 33 something like that I'm 39 now gonna be 40 this year this summer so um who raised me who really raised me people I've never met people I've never met in my life Michael - sorry ons an individual who helped to raise me Manley P Hall helped to raise me Jordan Maxwell David Icke William Cooper Terence Mckenna max Heindel I could go on and on these are the people who raised me I may not agree with every single thing they say as a matter of fact I don't agree with every single thing they say that doesn't mean that they weren't instrumental in raising me many many other authors and lecturers and presenters how about H people of at ski and her work you know how about people like Israel Regardie Graham Hancock Richard Hoagland you know you can go on and on and on you know other other teachers too that I don't pull I don't consider now every aspect of their work true even people you could say in this so-called New Age movement I got a lot of value out of Deepak Chopra's work I got a lot of value out of Wayne Dyer's work do I consider them new agey yeah I do that doesn't mean a lot of things they don't say or are true at heart always work some of it is very very good although there's many things I don't agree with him with as well you know again it's about taking what works and if something isn't working or isn't true and you logically screen it out and leave it that doesn't mean you can't take the rest you know I love people who one thing this researcher said I disagree with wall all of it he's an agent immediately they go to that immediately he's working for the dark side it's all it's all a ploy it's all it's he's he's a shill yeah okay how old are you you believe that nonsense not everybody has every single aspect of the picture figured out folks you know we need to be mature about that and exercise judgment and discernment but see that involves that thing responsibility again and there's what people don't want they want to just randomly throw things out so again there are the people who raised me okay made me into a person who had truly had conscience and again from an amalgamation of all their work no one individual did that a group of strangers who I never met raised me now going back to the actual condition in in childhood you know since we were basically you know cared for and provided for by my mother and my grandparents but largely by my grandparents who are no longer with us today they've passed the the situation took its toll much more on my sister than it did me because of course she was at a an age of somewhat understanding of slight understanding but some understanding about what the actual situation was I was very very very young you know just being born you know not born when the separation happened and you know early on in life I didn't know anything any any different she had lived with my father for years before the split and that took a harder toll on her so these parental abandonment issues were even more deeply rooted in my sister she never really fully got over this stuff and you know I don't feel she's ever really worked with that shadow material and you know there's no talking to certain people in certain psychological conditions there they're gonna it's going to create suffering and pain till they're ready to come out of it unfortunately and unfortunately that seems to be where humanity is that we don't have time you know we're out of time you know the walls are closing in folks and most people are like in the same situation as somebody like my sister who is probably as I'm gonna deal with these issues you know I've looked at them head-on a long long time ago actually and let it go because it's it's first of all present moment awareness has a lot to do with this that's in the past it's not happening now and I've made a conscious decision at some point I'm not gonna let this to find my self-worth this what happened there between those two people even if I was a factor in it where she was a factor in it should not define our self-worth and I made a conscious decision not to allow it to it's a matter of willpower it's a matter of self-respect it's a matter of looking at the issue in deciding what am I gonna make this mean for me I can imbue this with purpose I can imbue this with meaning is it gonna be something that just happened between people who grew apart didn't really love each other anymore and there were children involved because that's what it really was you know at an actual level you could go on and on and on about why people do the things that they do it what happened is what was it's not what is it's in the past first of all I'm not gonna let that to find the quality of my life in the present moment and I am most certainly not going myself Ellie what I think not everybody has that kind of willpower the page I don't make the mistake of thinking that everyone does [Music] [Music] [Music] you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm I don't want to spend too much more time on talking about this situation other than trying to help people to understand how this will set a precedent in your life if you let it and most people have let that happen they're not looking at it from a perspective of clarity and understanding okay they're there letting it color their opinion of themselves and their self-worth and I'm not trying to tell you everybody's gonna have the strength to immediately see a situation in that light you know they're there a lot of times when you're young you can't you don't have enough knowledge to do that see I guess I was more insulated from the situation because of my extreme young age whereas again my sister took it so hard that she held that grudge let it you know I guess you could say fester in her own emotional makeup and you know what it did later on because she looked at it from a situation of this has something to do with my self-worth this has something to do with what other people think about me and therefore I'm going to think a certain way about me possibly maybe less than I should and I see I see my own sister or somebody who sells herself short you know thinks that she's not somehow as good of a person or as smart of a person or as worthy of a person as she actually is you know and in many ways she has led that very early happening in her life color a lot of her own self-worth and perspective on on herself again by looking at this and understanding a lot of the psychological issues involved with it later i bypassed a lot of that and again again you could say well because this happened when you were so young it didn't just affect you that much that's partially true but again partially is because I deliberately went into the issue and looked at it and thought about it deeply and I couldn't say can I hold this grudge against my father for the rest of my life no I can't I'm not going to first of all I'm not gonna harbor that kind of energy to to because Italy won because it'll eat me up and to because it's already done it happened it's over it cannot be taken back and changed it's the past okay we can decide what we're gonna do now so now am I gonna look at that and say well that somehow means I'm not worthy or he left left me because I wasn't good enough no I'm not gonna let that color my self-worth just not gonna allow that I am in control of my own self-worth I really recognize that from a young age I am going to determine what I think I am worthy of nobody else is gonna determine that for me and you know what I think I'm worthy of more freedom more happiness more understanding more knowledge more peace everything more of everything that's good why would I sell myself short and think I'm not worthy of that so the whole point here is you're in control of your self-worth no one else is you can only allow somebody else to color it and influence it and take control of that and that means you have to not everybody has that strength of Constitution I get it I get it but if you work with these issues and you bring them up to the conscious level you can start to reverse these nested subconscious issues it is possible to do it's hard work sometimes and if someone like my sister wanted to do that work I'm not telling I'm not saying it would be easy it would be difficult but it is possible and those methods are available to people and you know what did she do later in life she gravitated towards someone with the exact same abandonment issues father abandonment issues her own husband my brother-in-law has the exact same issues fatherly abandonment issues I won't go into depth or detail regarding that but it's funny how we like a trike attracts like it really does it's true so since she had these nested psychological it's not even nested he's very conscious abandonment issues she gravitated toward in her marriage toward a man that has the exact same issues and in many cases they don't they don't even recognize that I would say largely they don't recognize that that that's probably the single factor that drew them together and it's not exactly what you would call you know the ideal marriage or relationship but again that's getting drifting off in other territories the example here is psychological parental abandonment okay parental abandonment in any form whether it's psychological mental emotional or physical but it's the psychological issue of dealing with parental abandonment so you see how this dynamic works last week I explained how this works with worked with Steve Jobs of Apple you know why how he became a control freak that wanted 100% control over everything at his company over the all parts of the user experience it's why to me as a longtime user of a lot of Apple's products I won't I will buy anything from them anymore if they're so about control and you know he put people in charge who he knew we're gonna act as lackeys and essentially keep his model exact you know so don't expect Apple to reverse their trend on what job started you know because he was adopted you know I went into this last week on on last week's show and he could never truly give away his creations like his parents gave him away early in life this is where he was holding on to this nested subconscious illogical parental abandonment issue and it colored all the decisions he made and he became a control freak so you know once you understand how these issues work you can see them so readily it's like handwriting on a wall it's like literally someone shining a flashlight on on on you know in your face you see it so immediately it's so apparent whereas before you know you you're wondering why is behavior like this you know why is this person behaving like this and again I said it last week most of the military and the police they're doing the same thing because they have mommy issues and daddy issues they're little boys who never grew up whose parents didn't pay enough attention to them whose parents abandoned them in one form or another whether physically mentally psychologically emotionally spiritually or all of the above and now the the the state is Big Daddy it's its nanny it's mommy okay and they want to give all their power away and all the responsibilities away to the new surrogate family the new surrogate parents which is the state you know and it's all because they won't look in the mirror in the one place that they need to look to deal confront and deal with those issues that are going on deep inside themselves in their shadow selves the part of themselves they don't want to look at because it's too seemingly painful but ultimately you don't deal with that shadow material you know what it does it rises up it sneaks up behind you and it devours you it pounces on you like like a huge cat of prey and it devours you it eat you from the inside out and that's what they're doing not only to themselves but to their whole damn society their whole society and they're acting as the house slaves of that society doing it to their own kind okay imposing slavery on themselves their own people their own children without even a thought in their head because they have just refused to look at truth they've refused to look at self they say it the self is too painful to look at and it's too painful to look at what I've already become what they already know deep in theirs and down inside of themselves and the subconscious part of themselves already this is what on earth is happening I'm your host Marquez so I think I've really done a brief review of some of the material we covered last week I've gone into some of my own parental abandonment issues and some of the scenarios that played out when I was young talked a little bit about how it affected my older sibling my sister and I've kind of covered what I want to talk about we still have an hour and a half left in the show I'm going to go to the phones this segment and take your start taking your calls so really um the rest of the show is fair game if you want to stay on the issue of abandonment talk about that ask any questions about that any other topic is fair game as well no taboo topics ever here on what on earth is happening call in and ask anything you like you could ask about any of my old material that you want clarification on the callin number to join us eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again 803 one three ninety four forty three in coming weeks I will be expanding on this topic and taking it into the realm that I call cosmic abandonment and this will take many weeks to unpack this ancient story not everyone will agree a lot of people will want to go into shutdown mode and psychological denial with a lot of the things I'm going to be talking about on this show in the coming weeks but over the next many weeks we'll be unpacking the topic of cosmic abandonment and you can get a little preview of that if you go to my videos section on my website at what on earth is happening calm and check out the prelude to that which is the video called cosmic abandonment but I'm going to be breaking it down deep over many weeks here on this show and going into a lot of source material and doing some reading on the air and presenting some other researchers maybe even possibly interviewing some of those researchers if I could secure them for an interview for the show so that's coming too what on earth is happening and a lot of people have been really anticipating this material so with that having been said I do have one other brief announcement I want to make the freer mind two videos from the 2013 conference last year in April they are going online now as we speak our editors are really turning them out now and they're being posted to the conference website and I think it's actually not too bad that it kind of took a little while because if you really think about it a lot of people aren't motivated to go to conferences live anymore so that's why I like the free your mind conference is in every other year event and maybe it might be a good idea to keep it that we have the conference then the next year the videos go out and then you know then we have a conference the year after that this way there's an incentive for people to go live you know because if that you the videos come out immediately after the conference most people like all catch it on video you know this way at least there's a little bit of waiting involved I might have liked to see him come out a little bit sooner but I'm not really complaining that much when I think about the timing because them going up about one year after we did the conference it does give people more of an incentive to attend a live event those who can I realize not everyone can but then we are going to we are have made the information available for free and we all of them will be live they will be forthcoming about half of them approximately half of them are up online right now they're on the speaker bio pages of free or mind conference calm so you could check that out when you get a chance hit up for your conference calm and go to any of the speaker pages and the the people the speakers whose videos are ready their videos are live on their speaker bio page at for your mind conference calm we also did finally put up an official for your mind a YouTube channel and I'll be linking to that in what on earth is happening at what on earth is happening comma and at for your mind conference calm I believe it's already linked it's youtube.com slash FYM conference so youtube.com slash FYM conference as in free your mind FYM conference spell out the whole world word conference no space between those youtube.com slash FYM conference is the new free your mind YouTube channel and the videos for both for your mind one all of the videos for free your mind won back in 2011 or up on that channel as well as the videos that are completed so far for free your mind to well we will be adding these as our editors make the videos available to the organizational team and I will be posting them on the conference website as they become available that having been said let's go to the phone's mic in New York you're live on what on earth is happening welcome I get to take an I call luck this Mike yeah Mike welcome really great to hear your voice my friend what do you have for us tonight well you know in my life I feel that your information came into came into my life at that times when you know it couldn't have been better I don't have to say this topic you brought up is again abandonment and more is really hitting close to home my father passed away back in September 2012 and throughout my life but my father and my parents were actually and bring you a pretty decent people it was so good maybe a little overbearing so much so that I actually I feel instead of more of abandoned that I feel I've actually rejected actually my parents I rejected being scenario maybe they've played the part of I'm gonna influence you maybe you know I like sports he was very left brain oriented so sports and math was was a great subject for him me on the other hand was very right brained and III went off completely in the other direction I think because of that I've actually rejected my parent you know innocence I'm also in turn rejected the world and usually I also rejected my god subconsciously I rejected myself and I also hated myself knowing of the fact that I can never achieve the greatness that I thought that my parents have already bestowed upon me and doing so throughout my years I've caused major self-destruction I've wasted 20 years of my life throughout a dark path of lying manipulation cheating stealing whatever I had to do to survive coming out of that that's the question of why and it you can't you know your information throughout the the videos and stuff that you've released over the years has really come to an telling that yes I truly hated myself and that is why I can never achieve anything in my life nor could I achieve any greatness for anybody else in my life and turning that around and really you product you know visually imagining it or not imagining it but visually bringing out in your head that was the only way the only solution I can come up with to actually go about piece by piece and reconstruct all the damage and all the horrible things that I did and that's the only way I could repent just some of the people that I couldn't even apologize they were already dead and how do you deal with that now could you hang on it could because I have hung up on this deal my whole life and and always hated myself for it no but I have to by improving myself and improving the people around me but with true knowledge and trying to enlighten them in any way I can as you say get in front of them get loud and don't go away I've been I've been more than I've been esta stated but that's okay I have the strength to actually deal with the situation through the information that you you know have come out with and I couldn't feel that your information is couldn't have been more timely and I thank you for that oh my God thank you for that and I want to say you're doing a great job in not only dealing with those issues bringing them to the fore bringing them to the surface out of the subconscious mind and into the realm of the conscious first of all and secondly it is all about standing within truth as you're doing your your your you called it repenting and that's really what it is you're atoning you're making up for the the lack of that responsibility earlier on in your life and you may not have been as knowledgeable you may not have been as mature but when you did develop that that knowledge when you did develop that maturity that personal responsibility you ran with it you took that ball you ran with it and now you're taking that information others in an attempt to help them and like you said you can't undo the past no one can what's done is done you can't beat yourself up over things you did I look back there's a million things I could have done differently that would have saved me from all kinds of suffering but in many ways that also helps us that informs who we are now you know that those experiences if we have learned from them become valuable helpers and assistance to us in the work that we have to do now so then and that's the key in that term if we have learned from them suffering is all futile and pointless if you learn nothing from it but if you learn from it and then you adjust your decisions and actions accordingly it can be a very powerful teacher in your life and that's what you did you didn't let that go to waste you employed it because you allowed it to change you for the better and then you ran with that ball and did the work that you really came here to do which is speak the truth to other people so I thank you for doing that great call as always great callers here on water on Earth we'll have more of your calls until the end of the show today you're gonna make the content for the rest of the show folks you're listening to what America's happening we'll be right back [Music] you know today destroys the night 95 today tried to run we can groom here on what on earth is happening your calls until the end of the show so you'll make the content from here on out I've said what I had to say already tonight let's go to Damon in New Mexico Damon you're live on what on earth is happening welcome okay uh Damon looks like he hung up let's go to Ivan in Phoenix Ivan welcome to what on earth is happening my friend hey Mark how you doing doing well how are you alright I'm out and about right now so if you hear some traffic in the background that that's background noise no no not at work like before so I just got into the car and on my phone started listening to your show called like the last 45 minutes or so and it's again pretty much we have this thing of synchronicity every time I'm listening to you there are things I bring up that I just was just doing like you mentioned being raised the ones who raised you and you threw out David Icke last night at work I went back in my old podcast archives and listen to David Icke was it a lion speaks no more humanity get off your knees oh yes that whole fix or hate our thing and it's incredible that after listening to you for the last year and a half two years or so going back to David Icke it's it's different now there are things that he brought up in there that I agreed with but I was surprised that there are other things that learning from you or being raised by you that I didn't agree with anymore that I can see where he had certain like limitations that he wasn't going as far as you were taking it and I think last year at the conference I brought this up to you that listening to other people it seems like we've you and listening to you we've surpassed the research of other greats and that goes to that thing we stand on the shoulders of giants they laid down the foundation but we take it further and many women take where many will come along and take it further than us as well Ivan it that's how it's supposed to go on and on and build up to greater and greater levels of awareness and consciousness so you know eventually someone will come along Eclipse what I or anybody else has done you know what Michael - sorry on is done what David Icke has done what Jordan Maxwell has done and I absolutely hope that they do and go way beyond it because there's so much more out there to learn and understand none of us have all of the pieces of the picture we can we can see the general picture pretty well and we could also envision the solutions pretty well but there is always more to learn there's always more to know there's always more to understand yeah exactly and you bring up the topic about raising that's again synchronistic because for the last couple of months I've kind of had this guilty feeling I have a 15 year old that the Lucis mother were divorced and sometimes I feel guilty that I'm not in his life as much but yet I'm providing you get the child support he has all the material stuff and everything and I see that his mother and and the person she's with now they provide for my son but they're not raising him so even though I'm not in his life once you said that you you kind of relieved me when he's with me I bring up you know the lives of the schools in the governments and society and money and he's still in the school so obviously he has it coming from both sides but at least I know that I'm trying to raise them properly I tell them yes you have to go through the motions just succeed and accomplish but you know distinguish what they want you to learn and then this is the truth and society the money and the way things are so now I kind of feel better that I am trying to raise him properly even though it's not just well he gets child support so I did my part right exactly it could be so difficult with a child being raised by you know separated parents because often they'll get a lot of conflicting messages as well you know one pair or maybe the new spouse that a one parent has taken will teach a conflicting message than what the other parent will be attempting to instill in the child and that kind of crosses the wires in many cases and leaves the child especially if they're young and in a state of early cognitive development very confused you know it can be a real challenge growing up in you know that type of a environment of separation when it comes to the parents and it really does affect the child on deep emotional levels and deep psychological levels that you know stay rooted in the subconscious and again that should be confronted and dealt with as early of an age as possible as far as I'm concerned because the child really should be gently helped to come out of start bringing those issues out of the subconscious mind right away because what the subconscious mind is trying to do even at that early age is bury it deeper nest it down it wants to protect the conscious mind from the re-experiencing of that trauma we we have to understand while that is a so-called defense mechanism it is still allowing for those issues to go unresolved and on dealt with and then they become bigger behavioral issues later on in life so just by the fact that we are aware of those issues is going to put us in a position of empowerment to start nipping them in the bud and tackling them before they become way bigger psychological issues that create very unstable behaviors or even lead to violent behaviors later on in life right okay now one one more part from my end even though I'm already in my mid-40s and I'm learning all this stuff and pretty much absorbing everything you've put out and David Icke and anyone else the last few months I've had this little personal struggle because I can see the goal line but yet I realize that the reality of the situation is getting there from here and I see your you don't eat meat vegetarian I see lurking roles either anarchist you see all these different things from other people and I know that's where I want to go or need to go but then I'm also realizing that I'm learning this there are people who don't even know this so yeah I can take a break from trying to tell anybody anything and just work on myself and who knows that that will take a year or ten years but by the same token I'm thinking well you know what I'm in the same situation as everyone else at least I'm aware of it so I can work on myself and at the same time share this information with others and get them in the direction of anarchy or or get running down their meat consumption and stuff like that let me tell you something yet very a recognition right there that you just laid out puts you well ahead of me when I started because I waited for so long to talk about the things that I talked about I knew this I knew the stuff that I'm talking about now four years before I started and waited and waited and waited and didn't say a word I didn't say a word to my family members I didn't say a word to my friends I didn't say a word to any strangers nothing didn't put it out there online I was like in a shell waiting waiting waiting waiting until finally I was snapped out of it somebody basically said what the hell are you waiting for man you need to be out there doing this your recognition that you need to be out there doing that while you are learning puts you so far ahead of the curve you know I can't even express it it's just this is great to see and you know I just want to commend people that understand it's not just about working on yourself it's about working on yourself while you work on others it's an influencer game that we are playing here the awakening process is a game of influencing other people we have to work on that influence on others and that helps us to work on ourselves see speaking to others isn't just about just trying to influence them that helps you to reiterate and refine your message and it's sinking into you when you speak it to somebody else you're speaking it to yourself and you're further solidifying it and you're further learning it so it's just about doing that work on others while you do it on others you're doing upon yourself as well so just great great observations and insights do you have anything else for us well you know I always have a ton of stuff if I can just blurt it out because that's my linguistic skills are not as sharp as your second just you know spill it all out but at work I gave this lady the natural law seminar on three DVDs the three parts and she watched them and she came back and she told me it was about 75 80 percent of it that she really liked she didn't like the political kind of thing I'm like well well political stuff and she tried to explain and that can picked up the emotional mind control and I was like wow I don't know motional mic and show she was attached to that everything else he was like fine with but the emotional mind control with the political well who's gonna do this that common thing well who's gonna make the row kind of be like wow Ivan we're coming up to a break thanks so much for your call always great to hear from you we'll see you on the other side of this break folks don't go anywhere [Music] [Music] third and final hour on this edition of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm taking your calls in this final hour so you'll make the content I'm settled here with a nice cup a couple of juices I have going here tonight I have a couple 50/50 blends I'm taking in tonight I have a carrot cantaloupe blend let me tell you something folks if you haven't tried that combination of juice go out and get a juicer just to put those two juices together because you don't know what you're missing if you've never tried carrot cantaloupe about a 50/50 blend between them and leave the skin of the cantaloupe on there because a lot of nutrition in the actual skin get organic buy organic always if you can and run that through your juicer and man absolutely delicious I also have another little 50/50 blend going here of a pineapple and apple and again just you know don't skin anything leave all the skins right on that you get a hundred percent of the nutritional value of the fruit that way and it's just awesome so again I'm on day 26 of this 30 day juice fast it's going great I feel good my mind is clear I've dropped a little bit of weight I think I've lost about 12 pounds on this fast I have a lot of energy and really looking forward to speaking in Asheville North Carolina this coming Saturday a week from today my presentation New Age BS and the suppression of the sacred masculine and hey very synchronistically uh while we're talking about that let's go to back to the phones because in North Carolina we have Frank on the line Frank from North Carolina welcome to warmer earth is happening well maybe we don't have Frank Frank yeah oh there he is how you doing no I'm sorry he dropped oh he did drop okay all right then let's go to ray in Oregon ray you're on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark I'm glad you're doing this this open forum thing I got for questions that bounce off of you go ahead you said all topics roll tonight nothing that I mean I just as a side note I'm very familiar with what what you're talking about the abandonment issues and whatnot and I think there's a there's a good bit of learning to be done right there but anyway my question has to do with like on Anton LaVey you sounded like you had quite a bit of experience in that particular realm I was a priest in Levay Church of Satan Levay actually appointed me a priest in his organization when he took a look at some of the work that I was doing through literature and music in my past and he actually contacted me because I was espousing the Satanic ideology back in my youth and he asked me if I wanted a priesthood in in the church and to act as a voice piece of the Church of Satan and I took that with great pride back then in my former mentality and that opened up a lot of pathways for me in the dark occult and it wasn't until a few years after that that I became really deeply aware of that dark occultism was running this planet was running the world and these interlocked networks of dark occult orders were actually who were in the highest positions of power in all of the cultural institutions on the earth very interesting yeah well now how does what they fit into that now as I've read I've read two or three his books and I'm reading a quino's book right now and I'm trying to figure out lavay seem to me like a pragmatist like a opportunist he was seeking fame where did he did he start out that way is it just thinking you know the vase started out I believe as a crime photographer for a police department he photographed he was a you know somebody who photographed murder scenes and he also had some connections to the Lansky crime syndicate so the Lansky mob yeah yeah yeah through his family some of his family members I believe his real name was Paul levy or Anton levy I'm not really certain but I know wasn't Anton LaVey that was like his pen name but as I understand it LaVey was really a what you might call a lap dog he was someone who was asked to do what he is doing to essentially recruit but not fully recruit for these organizations again if you listen to some of my work on Satanism and trying to help people to understand what Satanism really is as opposed to what they think it is or this Hollywood variant of what they're espousing or trying to convince people Satanism really is a Satanism is an ideology it's a worldview it has four basic tenets the four basic tenets are that self-preservation is the highest aspiration of man and you know man's own self-interest has to come before anything else regardless of who you have to step over to again get yourself to a higher position of power influence and control the second tenet is moral relativism the idea that there is no such thing as an objective right and wrong that exists objectively from perception that we can make up based on our preferences and whims what right and wrong are that's the second basic tenant overarching ideological tenet of Satanism the third is social Darwinism which is the idea that the most ruthless in society have earned the right somehow to rule over the people who aren't ruthless and aren't vicious and aren't opportunistic and you know will do anything to clash to scratch and claw their way to the top it's it's a variant of macro biological Darwinian theory of quote survival of the fittest which then these social engineers took and applied to their own worldview and ideology and then the fourth tenant is eugenics the idea that since there should be a ruling class but since you know their genes have God there and you know keep them at the top of this you know ruthless pyramid of power then they should have have the reigns over who lives and who dies and get to make the decision over who gets to propagate their genes or not that's what eugenics essentially is so those are the four main pillars of Satanism but as I understand lavas role in this to answer your question is he was simply a what I might call a lap dog for the higher level aspects of these occult dark occult hierarchical networks and he was charged to write The Satanic Bible he was asked by some of these higher level organizations and think tanks to write a book that crystallized some of this ideology albeit at a what you might call a lower level or a less intensified level of the way it's being practiced at the globalist level that the globalist scale and the high level satanic scale if you will he was to do this to send out psychological infiltration feelers out into the general public so that the public members who were on the verge of turning into a secondary psychopath or had a secondarily psychopathic mind state that they would identify with this ideology and want to become a part of it that's how I eventually was reeled into Satanism and the Church of Satan and other satanic organizations and affiliates affiliations with other satanic organizations like the temple of set the the order of the vampire the order of the evil eye Whitehall Church of Satan and some others some other smaller groups to the Church of Lucifer etc I had I had I had contacts and affiliations with many of these groups and I was an official member of a couple of them namely the Church of Satan the order of the evil eye so again the Church of Satan as I see it and how la veille propagated it was a organization to interface with the general public and put out these tentacles or feelers to identify members of the public who fully understood this ideology agreed with it and then mine that those members of the public and try to go into there for people who had certain psychological characteristics and skillsets real-world skill sets like communication writing planning computer skills you name music even they want people to infiltrate all institutional bodies with you know these this ideology so that's what lavell was as I understand it great question if you want to continue and throw something else after another question or two hang on through the break and I'll have you come back [Music] from your sleep if it's your soul you want to keep make no mistake about it folks this is all about saving our souls because there is a lot of evil in this world and there's a lot of ignorance that's fueling that evil and there's a lot of misperceptions about what's going on so we were talking to let me just give the call in number one more time last 45 minutes of the show I'm gonna be taking your calls the calling numbers eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again 800 three one 390 443 I believe we were talking with Ray in Oregon he had asked me about Lovaza role in the satanic hierarchy I explained that in the last segment ray if you had another question go ahead well I've got a few I really wish I could have run into you a long time ago I've been I've read most of those authors that you name before I found some very good and all of the well most of them I really thought Manley Hall was brilliant would you call Manley Hall the right-hand path where Pike would be the left-hand path absolutely I think that Pike also has a lot of illuminating work but I do feel that he kind of strayed off the path off the middle way and went to what you might call the dark Sider and certainly the gray side but I I do feel that Manley P Hall was certainly a true enlightened soul and he really he also I think he started on the left-hand path back in his youth and turned it around pretty quickly he turned it around before he went very deep into it and he really really contributed in the way of spreading a lot of highly illuminated knowledge out to the masses of people and I guarantee you the controlling class did not like that one bit I certainly like Manley P halls work and if anybody is not familiar with him you should

100% check out his books and most of all his lecture series which you could find online for free just type in Manley P Hall lectures do a torrent search for them type in Manley P Hall lectures torrents I guarantee you'll find them all that way they're out there out there for the taking just you could also you know if people are still want to do the ark offer I still make the ark available it's a one terabyte drive full of knowledge you know you just have to get in touch with me email me and say give me the information about the Ark you know I still send out a lot a lot of art drives that people send to me so that offers still on the table all manly P Hall's work a whole lot of it is on there I don't know if it's all of it but a whole lot is on that drive so I definitely consider manly P Hall a very very powerful and positive influence in my life at least that archive do you have a listing of what all the information is on there I'm here contact me you can send it but you that'll take maybe as long as to to read the content listing as it will go through something that information it's it's a lot of data it's I think it's like 7,000 books or something like that and there's like 20,000 mp3 files lectures and audio and radio and then there's about 18 hundred videos 17 or 18 hundred videos something like that it's crazy it's a literally a lifetime of knowledge in one hard drive I was going to eventually expand it to two terabytes I think I have something like 15 or 16 terabytes of data in this house did stored archive digitally so you know I could probably make a 4 or 5 terabyte drive if I wanted to but for now it stands at one terabyte I may eventually in the future expand it to a 2 terabyte drive and throw a bunch more videos on it wow that sounds really cool and I would agree with you about manly Hall you know before the Masons the way I'm understanding it they recruited him after he'd been doing this for a long time before then it just said well geez you know all this stuff we're gonna make you an honorary 33rd degree he never went to you know any of their any other their rituals or anything else like that they just made yeah that's right which which in Mike in my opinion that was done by a lodge that obviously understood the value of what he was teaching and probably espoused and taught true esoteric free miss free Masonic knowledge and the true esoteric Masonic tradition as opposed to this diluted watered-down you know old boys club of the modern large system of what could laughs would laughingly be called Freemasonry which has nothing really to do with true Freemasonry which has really been turned into a man's club of influence and control and Mancala Freemasonry so I believe Manley P Hall was a true esoteric freemason and carried on the the dissemination of knowledge in that true ancient tradition and that is why the Lodge that gave him that honor did so in my opinion yeah I think you're probably right and I agree completely with uh with your breakdown of the of the Masons I've gotten too many debates with many Lodge masters and told them what they believe in and they they didn't even believe me that they believed in I mean it's right there in your dock and your doctrine guys well anyway um okay so back to lavay when when levain that your answer there made a lot of sense to me because I've been trying to pin him just you know who he was was he just the the the showman was he just looking for stardom you know because he got to mix with the with the Stars and he was on the Eagles album cover and he got you know honorary mentions in all these different places and whatnot and I so he was out there mining talent that that actually makes a lot of sense to me when he was writing the the Lucifer core that the satanic rituals he came up with you know a one element or one being for each north south east and west yes st. Lucifer Belial and the Leviathan it was I I had never seen those before and never heard of them since I think he's the only one that is using that what would would you say that that is true no I would say that this goes back to an ancient tradition of the four elements of earth air water and fire each one representing a different quality of consciousness so in his system Satan represented the south which was desire okay which was you know I would say these were it was um you know uh your willpower to it's what you wanted to get accomplished you know then you had Belial in the north you know and that was like he considered that like the the war aspect it was like you know the the willpower okay and then you had in the in the West Leviathan and that would be the waters that was like your your emotional qualities and then in the east there was Lucifer and that was knowledge you know so you had you know similar to the tarot deck you have the the the the different suits of the Tarot you have the the wands that would correlate with with uh with fire you have the the cups which would correlate to to water you have the you know the swords they correlate to air and then you have the disks they correlate to earth so you have you know the earth air water and fire elements that they come from the ancient alchemical tradition and all ancient occultic traditions taught about these four basic signs and again they just represent different qualities you have resources you know at your disposal which is the earth qualities that your essential makeup the essential makeup of the personality the things that you have the work with the innate characteristics and qualities of the being you know you have the air qualities which are intellectual capacities knowledge you know your your actual ability to use an employee intellect not necessarily holistic intelligence but just you know cutting edge cutting intellect then you have you know the emotional qualities which would be represented by water and you have you know the the willpower the will the the actions are active masculine qualities and you know that's that's the fire aspect you know born out of desire and drive you know encouraged so Levay was just taking those four elemental components that are found in many different occult traditions and then ascribing his own you know demonic names of the for what he called the crown princes of hell to those four elemental realms and then you know of course you know ascribing directions to them the cardinal points and making you know the in his ritual system making the altar the western aspect which was Leviathan the waters because it's the the Setting Sun and it all has to do you know the idea of Satan came from the Egyptian tradition the the God set you know because he was the conqueror of Horus the Sun you know this is all part of the the Astra theological tradition where you know you get into you know Horus being the Risen son and the savior of the world because it provides energy for all life on the earth the solar disk then he's conquered at the end of the day by his brother set it has to go in and beyond the world and Russell was set to be reborn the next day so she didn't eat the world again it's all ash no theology lavay was just you know ascribing that to his system within the satanic ritual and system that he came up with so great question we'll pick this up on the other side folks stay with us [Music] don't listen to what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm just to wrap up with the previous caller ray from Oregon ray I'm going to go to some other callers but I just wanted to let you know a gentleman you want might want to check out it's one of lavey sons I believe levae had him when he was about 40 in his late 40s or early 50s he was uh Jes LaVey he goes by the name of Jesse Levine I think his real name was Anthony LaVey if I'm not mistaken but if you look up this guy he's since going on - I believe start up a Christian ministry of some kind and he really talks about what life was like living with lavay and what his real role was how he was Lackey for a lot of the real political and military elite and it was at the behest of these people like people who were in the Bilderberg Group and you know Club of Rome and other groups III think he specifically mentions him having many meetings with the George Bush Senior and other high-level political members who are obviously dark occultist members of skull and bones etc so there that's a pretty interesting person you might want to check out giving it right you know right from the horse's mouth so to speak telling you I've having lived you know among him you know right well there with him and some of the horrific experiences he actually went through you could check out him you could also do a Google search for Jess Levay I'm sure you'll come across the material if not once again like I said it's on the arc Drive let's go to Damon in New Mexico Damon you're live on what on earth is happening and now if people could you know be a little bit brief here now because I'm gonna try to take all the callers in the queue if we can get through them all if we do two callers or so in a segment maybe we can get through everybody waiting in the queue Damon what do you have for us Damon are you there hey Mikey hey Darius David welcome Hey sorry doctor I think all muscle we had satisfies any people in background I just wanted to talk to you about the pinning endorsement of Aleister Crowley I wouldn't call it an endorsement I would say that I've told people to look into his work but not live the way he lived so it's a cautionary tale in other words someone who has a lot of knowledge and wisdom can put that out there and you can definitely gain a lot from learning and studying his writings and words that does not mean to go and try to live like he lived and do the things that he did he fell from the path of spirituality and righteousness so I would consider him a fallen prophet if if that I said he was a grey wizard at best certainly put out a lot of high-minded spiritual writings and again I feel that those writings were channeled writings that came in possibly in altered states of consciousness from other intelligences perhaps and you can actually if you used a sermon while reading a lot of his writings you can see the writings switch and go from what would would more likely than not be a spiritual channel to being his own egoic words so Crowley is an enigma that requires deep study most people have a cursory understanding of his work and then in that very fragmented understanding of any of his work they'll say I totally espouse everything he said and think he was such a great guy and said tell people to go and live like he lived that's not what I've said from day one regarding him if you go and listen to the podcast I did on a cult I believe it was a cult empire on Philemon over again I repeat the same warning look at his writings understand the spirituality contained in the writings which may not have come from the man but don't try to live the life that he lived because he fell from the path I've said it over and over again but with that clarification you go ahead now and continue your point okay concerning any basically how he says magic in theory in practice that sacrificing and raising children is the highest form of magic and I just came to understand how anybody try to proclaim anybody who would say something like that as any person who neglected once again that's more likely than not Crowley himself again see it's it's a very again it's an enigmatic distinction that has to be made okay we're talking about the man and his egoic writings combined with writings that he brought through from a higher-level spiritual intelligence there are two different things and in that instance where you are you are they're talking about the writings of the man which is which is obviously lesser an unconscious work and on what I would call low magic and it's not conscious magic or high-level spirituality yet in Crowley's writings in the writings that he brought through himself there is high-minded spirituality in the writings if we read them with absolute discretion and with judgment and with discernment that's what again it's not I wouldn't tell a beginner to go to Crowley's writings I wouldn't do it I would tell people who have studied the occult for years now start to study Crowley's writings because for a beginner to do it they're going to come away with a complete lack of understanding a total lack of understanding regarding him then they're going to paint anybody that says there's a lot of good stuff in what he put forward and when I say he wrap he in quotation marks there's a lot of good stuff in what Crowley penned with automatic writing just like there's a lot of good stuff that Neale Donald Walsch penned with automatic writing but I don't agree with everything Walsh talks about and I consider him a new New Ager however there's a lot of very good stuff in conversations with God I went and throw it all out and throw out the baby with the bathwater again when it comes down to spiritual information you have to use discernment and judgment that's what responsibility is about you can't say I don't agree with this I'm throwing it all out so I look at look at the example could Adolf Hitler ever have spoken words of truth in his entire lifetime of course he could have does that make him any less of a megalomaniac murderer no it doesn't who would say try to live like Adolf Hitler but if you quote something to Hitler said or wrote and it happens to be true it doesn't matter who it came from if it's true it's true truth is objective a mass murderer could speak truth and then they can go out and do some mass murder that's why I'm saying don't know don't put me up on a pedestal take the information for what it is worth if it is true take it and run with it if it's true it can do no harm if it's not true it's gonna do harm that means don't put any in any individual up on a pedestal I don't put somebody like Crawley up on a pedestal he was a flawed human being that lived a flawed life and he wrote some powerful stuff and not all of it was good and I've made that distinction I think so abundantly clear I don't really know how I can make it any more abundant abundant or clear I thought I repeated it ad nauseam in the presentation I did with Bob from Cincinnati on a cult Empire but apparently still the message you know doesn't really get through or get filtered because I think people selectively hear what they want to hear instead of what I'm actually saying regarding those writings listen to what I'm actually saying not that the judgment that you want to color it with no one is telling you certainly not I to live like Aleister Crowley lived that doesn't mean that a lot of his writings have very very powerful value so I hope that answers the question let's go to a Fred in Iowa Fred you are live on what on earth is happening welcome real well it's all many of the producers fault anyhow a week ago I haze at me on air and you were on and I said to Manny that this guy's on or something I believe what he or is even heard it many don't have okay I'm gonna ask you a question I don't want you to answer me until I give you some back sewer go ahead hey what is your thoughts and your beliefs about God in the Bible I don't answer me now okay I went to sleep but just woke up at 11:30 so I missed the show but I've been on your website I have a cardinal rule and I do a lot of research and that is the word and I got one other and it's this UFOs so I believe in UFOs yes do I believe is there from other planets absolutely not okay I hold Navarro and free high esteem and this last seven or eight days I thought I found the Holy Grail when I got onto rbn people can't be manipulated so easily even very intelligent people can be manipulated and I'm kind of getting off the track and losing my train of thought well you know what we're coming up to a break anyway Fred I'll let you hold over there and I'll answer your question on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting may be right back [Applause] [Music] a segment of what birth is happening for this evening under host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm I'll answer Fred's call and then we'll go to a couple more callers to round out the show fred was asking about my take on the God of the Bible and I've talked about this pretty at length in the Astro theology section of what on earth is happening in the podcasts this was probably back in the I don't know maybe the 50s or 60s of what on earth is happening if you go back in the podcast archive it's all there but just do a search on the page when you get into some of the earlier podcasts for Astro theology astr o th EO l o gy Astro theology and I make it clear there that while there are many truths to be found in biblical in the biblical texts that they are largely allegorical and not only are many of them allegorical but a lot of the earlier ones are actual historical accounts as well and I agree that this does go into the issue of UFOs and non-human intelligences and I also agree that many of them may not be coming from other extrasolar planets okay it's a lot more involved than that and I would say to Fred stay tuned to this show because we're going to be getting into this in a big way in upcoming episodes of what on earth is happening probably starting in a couple of weeks because cosmic abandonment is a issue that people really have to understand and research for themselves and you'll really get my full take on what I think of the biblical stories about quote God and the gods on future episodes and I think I'll leave that there as a teaser so let's move on to Dianne in Nebraska Dianne you're live on what on earth is happening welcome I heard you mention the all is one tonight and it got me thinking about Doctor Who Lynn and his utilization and teaching of the ancient Hawaiian hula pono pono prayer since all is one therefore we're all a causal effect of everything that happens and I just wondered if you what your take was on that prayer if you've utilized it and if so what what kinds of results you might have experienced you know I'm not actually familiar with that if you have any more info on it please email it over to me and I'll definitely check it out but I absolutely agree with what you've just stated there that we are all creating ripple effects through our behavior through our thoughts words emotions actions all forms of our consciousness we are intricately inseparably interconnected that doesn't mean we're not all unique individuals and and everybody isn't different and has their own unique capabilities and characteristics and and our special on their own but that means we are all contributing to the aggregate quality of experience here on this planet and we have to understand that level of interconnectedness and get over this notion that there have to be winners and losers we are all essentially in this together and I tell people thing out one of the things Dianne a lot of people ask me is how could you put forward the idea that there's no such thing as money and that money is an illusion and that money doesn't really exist in nature I can't imagine how that would work and so much is revealed just in them saying that one the imagination deadened to their lack of understanding that we are all one family here that we are all in the same situation together okay I ask people if there was a family living in the wilderness okay no technology no civilization and there was a mother a father and two children would they develop a monetary system and then some of them not eat if they didn't have money of course not why because they're a family and they would do for each other and provide for each other and care for each other as if the other member were themselves that's the Golden Rule were so far away from that level of consciousness ladies and gentlemen please do not confuse my statement what is in reality with me thinking everyone is there because I don't I know factually and definitively we are not even close to being there we're so far away from that level of consciousness it's laughable it's laughable but is that the truth what I just stated it is the truth and that's where we need to get to and until we do have the imagination to understand that we can get rid of this plague called the out-of-control ego thinking that there have to be losers for there to be winners and that this can be a win-win situation for everybody on the planet there are enough resources to go around we could have free energy with we could develop free energy technology and under a year if the control system were taken down if the slavery system were taken down but that's what prevents it from manifesting then who knows what could happen we could be inhabiting the Stars in a decade possibly with what the human mind and ingenuity and creativity is capable of but the ego holds it back and the lack of imagination holds it back and that doesn't mean there wouldn't be such a thing as property there would still be property you know property means what I am in lawful possession of what I'm using at the current time you know and what I'm responsible for that's what property means it doesn't mean you throw the idea of property out completely and say just because you're gonna die you can't ever own anything no I own the things that I use I own these hard drives sitting in front of me on my desk I own this board this sound board that I'm doing my radio show through I own this microphone I own this keyboard you want to know why because I'm using them they're my property I own my body I own my mind I'm in full capacity over them I lawfully rightfully own them nobody else owns them I make the decisions of what's done with them I use them I am in stewardship of them they are my property I am responsible for them so you know we have to understand property still exists but that doesn't mean we could not share resources widely freely and opening openly in a gift economy or what you might call a resource-based natural law based economy it is possible to do not at the current level of consciousness humanity because we're so far away from understanding how that could even be possible that that's what makes it currently not possible the the mind leads to the external manifestation and since we're not at that level of oneness in mind we cannot actually express that in the manifested reality that we all share and that's what goes right to your point about how what we think what we do ultimately has ripple effects goes out and is interconnected with everything else in the aggregate quality of what we create this is the real law of attraction not the individuated new-age BS version that you make up everything there is in reality no we don't create reality individually we together as a whole species on this planet in the aggregate create the reality that we all experience because we are all connected Dyanne great point great insight you have anything else no I'll send you more email on that information thanks so much absolutely I definitely like to check out that prayer you were referring to thanks for the call let's move on to Elizabeth in Tennessee you're live on what on earth is happening we only have a couple minutes so be quick mark you are my razor I appreciate that this show let me tell you what I am a clinical social worker who got burned out and left the field started listen to you Oh year ago I'm back on the tracks and I am only doing groups I'm not doing individual and I am teaching everything I learn from you and the most powerful thing is get your your emotions your mind and your actions all in unison that's right do not be a warrior self man that has been like the greatest blessing and Elizabeth can I ask are you you're working with children or mostly adults Oh Lori that's fantastic Oh Oh but I only do a part-time now because that's pretty heavy Shh and I have just opened up my whole yard and everything and I am doing organic gardening shear and sewing at the market awesome um but like six months before I'm wealthy actually that's a lie maybe two months before I met you I would just lay on the couch Diane I'm really glad that the information could you know wave back to some you know exercise of will and and driving you forward because that's what this information is all about and if I made an impact there I'm so grateful to have you know taken apart in in your rejuvenation I thank you for what you're doing so thanks so much for the call and and letting me know that you know this show and the information is having an impact I really appreciate that ladies and gentlemen that's all the time we have for this episode of what on earth is happening it really flew by thanks so much for your calls we'll see here in two weeks [Music]

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening to endeavour to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host mark Pascoe [Music] [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com the network's website Republic broadcasting org today is Saturday March 29th 2014 and this show is live every Saturday evening from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Eastern Time that's 9:00 p.m. to midnight central we have a great show lined up for you here tonight I am going to be getting into the occult season of sacrifice a period of time which listeners really need to know about and understand that we have already entered into during the course of this year I am also going to be breaking down the characteristics of psychopaths and basically doing the review of what psychopathy really is and the characteristics that psychopaths embody but then we're going to shift gears and start to cover new ground in this show what on earth is happening we are going to talk about the possible origins of psychopathy as a lead-in as an intro to future material which we are going to ease into a little bit because it's going to be probably the heaviest and most controversial material that I have probably covered since I've started broadcasting so that's coming up on this edition of what on earth is happening let me give the callin number right at the top of the show so people can call in and get in the queue hopefully I'll have some time to take calls throughout the show tonight definitely want to get into calls later in the show but uh you know as as things progress maybe we'll take calls in every hour of the show so the calling number to join us here on what on earth is happening 1-800 3 1 394 43 once again the calling number to join us 800 3 1 394 43 I have several event announcements and announcements about what I've been doing so just please bear with me as I go through some of these and then we'll get into the material for tonight I spoke last weekend in Asheville North Carolina I gave a an all-day seminar on March 22nd the official beginning of the season of sacrifice that's the day that this 40 day time period starts each year and it was a huge success I have to say I was absolutely thrilled with how everything went in Asheville it was a packed house a beautiful venue at the Lexington Avenue brewery and I want to thank Carolyn Guillaume for hosting the event she did a phenomenal job from beginning to end with all the preparations for this entire event like I said it was a packed house and the people the quality of people who turned out for this event I can't say enough about there were potential teachers of natural law and potential teachers of occulted knowledge in attendance at the Asheville seminar I could tell we we hung out afterward and talked for hours I stayed at the election 10 Avenue brewery until about midnight on Saturday after the presentation because the energy was running so high that I just like didn't really wanted to end and I think a lot of people got great value from this seminar I think it really hit home with a lot of folks who attended and I think people will be sharing this information with others as a result so that's the news on the Asheville seminar it was marred only by one small mishap and I posted that on my webpage and it's actually been taken care of so what happened was the audio recording was lost and I thought I wasn't going to be able to make a video presentation because I have a lapel a wireless lapel microphone system that I usually use to record my audio the audio component of my lectures or seminars and what happened was I patched that wireless receiver through to a laptop computer on which I was recording the audio and there was no sound engineer on duty it was just me I was like wearing that hat as well as speaking on this particular day that's kind of a mistake on my part I really should have someone professionally at the event that is going to do the recording every time but in this case I figured I had it covered because I had a good wireless lapel mic system and I had a good laptop unfortunately about 20 to 25 minutes into the morning session of the seminar the software that I used to record the the seminar crashed it that the operating system didn't crash but the actual recording software crashed on me and around lunchtime I recognized that we had lost all the audio for the whole morning session so I didn't even really bother to record the afternoon session because I figured well even if I record just that I'm not gonna have anything for from the morning session so I'm not really gonna be able to make a full video so what's the point I put posted word on my website afterward that if anybody should have announced it and I you know in going back into and getting my my head together for the second part of the presentation I neglected to mention it on the microphone on stage that I needed audio recording from someone in the crowd to make a video of the presentation afterward so I posted that on my website and on my Facebook page and finally someone did get in touch with me so that is resolved Steve Mercer from Florida steps forward to save the day with a good audio recording that he made in person right in front of the stage up in the front row it's a quality recording it's going to be sufficient to put out a video with this incarnation of this presentation new-age BS and the suppression of the sacred masculine revisited so over the next couple of weeks I will probably start working on that video editing process and hopefully get a video out within a month tops so thanks special thanks to Steve Mercer for saving the day with an independent audio recording and that's why I tell people anytime I'm speaking you want to record break out a video camera break out an audio camera and record away this information is not copy written by me it's not doesn't belong to me this is in formation that is the birthright of all intelligent beings everywhere and it is you know the human birthright and it's our responsibility to get this information out there and is widely available of a way and it as freely away as possible so that's my policy on anybody recording my material a couple of interviews that I did and some interviews that are coming up I was interviewed by Kevin tills neurons I cased Philadelphia radio the zeitgeist movement here in Philadelphia on March 27th and the main topic of discussion was natural law within a resource based or what is known as a gift economy and Kevin and I discussed not only that but we discussed the the true difference between real property versus erroneous claims of property and what people believe are their rights to own you know everything and take it all you know and that was really stressed during the conversation what's real property versus what are bogus claims to property so uh you could check that out that is now posted on the what on earth is happening website in the news section I was also interviewed or actually earlier today a pre-recorded interview from by Jeff Brady from WBAI that's a 99.5 fm I believe that's out of Long Island New York and uh though that will be broken into two live shows they will both err on mondays first march 31st at 10:00 p.m. Eastern on WBAI and then at on April 7th at 10:00 p.m. Eastern WBAI Network 99.5 fm New York and you could check out Jeff's website at New York sky watch comm stay with us everyone we'll be right back after these words [Music] we don't need no mind control ladies and gentlemen we need to get out get out of the mass mind manipulation that is propagated everywhere on this planet I have a couple more quick event announcements before we get into the material for today's show Sunday March 30th 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. Eastern Time actually that's tomorrow I will be interviewed it will be a part two interview on star born support radio great group of people on at star born support hosted mainly by Michael Melton and Chris Augustine guys who have been involved in the UFO community forever in the philadelphia area and like they're the leaders of you know promoting awareness of the topics such as this certainly in this vicinity of the country so uh I'm really thrilled to be going back on there and we're going to continue our discussion of the dark side of the abduction phenomenon and really how we're all under a form of abduction here on the earth so part two of my interview on star born support coming up tomorrow 8:00 p.m. Eastern Time you can check that out at blogtalkradio.com/ropeadoperadio on full spectrum radio four out of Denver Colorado on April 5th I believe that's next Saturday so I'll be doing two shows that day this show during the day from 3 to 5 p.m. Eastern and then I'll be doing my of course 10:00 p.m. Eastern Time full spectrum is available on kzk o radio that's kzk o radio calm so uh lots of interviews lined up for the whole month of April it's gonna be a real busy month for me another great event announcement that I have is the truth freedom prosperity documentary screening night is back in the philadelphia area we had to stop doing this because we lost access to our venue we we were hosting these great free documentary screening and discussion evenings at a scene market in Philadelphia unfortunately a scene got sold to new ownership and the new owner wants nothing to do with the education of the people of the world he's clearly all about nothing but the fake one I as his god so unfortunately you know with money being a lot of people's gods we had to we had to take up a search for a new venue so a scene was out because of that reason and now we have finally located a new venue so the last one we did live was out in a that was back in November the next one that's gonna come up will the first one at the new venue which is Guarin recreation center and let me tell you something this place is great in the middle of South Philadelphia and it has a free parking lot for people who attend the recreation center so anybody coming out to this not only is it a great new venue in which case the people want us there and are really actively involved in wanting to spread information out to the to the people to help them become more informed not only is that the the spirit in which this new venue is accepting us but there is free parking at the venue and you don't even have to worry about parking on the street or look riding around looking for a parking spot there's a huge parking lot that is free for people who attend the recreation center Guarin recreation center is at 16th and Jackson streets in Philadelphia the exact address is 1600 Jackson Street and the meetup will now take place on the third Thursday of every month here in Philadelphia so for people in the Philadelphia area every third Thursday of the month Guarin recreation center sixteenth and Jackson streets the first meeting the first meetup for the free documentary screening and discussion night will be Thursday April 17th 2014 at 7 o'clock p.m. we'll be going each third Thursday from about 7:00 p.m. to maybe about 9:30 something like that and it's just I'm really excited about the new venue the first film documentary film we're gonna show on April 17th is it's actually a repeat we've shown this one before but I we feel that it's so important that more people need to see it and we figured out a new venue where new people are gonna be coming out we really want them to see this film it's called i.m fishhead a very strange name for a film but there's a real reason behind that name a brief description of this film we're gonna show on April 17th here in Philadelphia the film is called again IM fish head it is a well known fact that our society is structured like a pyramid the very few people at the top create the conditions for the majority below who are these people at the top can we blame them for all of the problems our society faces today guided by the old adage that a fish rots from the head the filmmakers have set out to follow that fishy odor and they found out that it is that people at the top who are more those people at the top who are more likely to be Psychopaths than the rest of us and this is going to be a topic we're going to talk about a lot tonight on the show who or what is a psychopath unlike Hollywood's stereotypical image of a psychopath psychopaths are not always bloodthirsty monsters from slasher movies you know and serial killers actually that nice old lady who chatted you up on the subway this morning could be a psychopath so could your elementary school teacher or your grinning boss or even your so-called loving boyfriend the medical definition of psychopathy is very simple a psychopath is a person who lacks empathy and lacks conscience the qualities which guide human beings when we choose when we make a freewill decision between good and evil between moral behavior or immoral behavior most of us however are conditioned most of us are conditioned to do good things with our lives but psychopaths are absolutely not they their impact on society is staggering yet altogether psychopaths barely make up 1% of the population and if I had to venture a guess it's far less than that a the primary psychopathic of type is far less than 1% through interviews with renowned psychologists and leading experts on psychopathy this film I am fishhead delves into the dark world of Psychopaths revealing shocking implications for human beings and our society so this film free screening coming up Thursday April 17th in South Philadelphia the Guarin recreation center 1600 Jackson Street and will be having free documentary screenings there once a month on the third Thursday of every month really looking forward to this new Meetup one more thing there is a support donation button on the what on earth is happening calm website if you feel that you've received value from this radio show or the many podcasts previously that I've done feel free to make a voluntary donation through the support button on the left hand side of the water on earth is happening calm website it's the only uh method of support that I have posted on that site you'll notice I sell nothing there is nothing merchandised on my entire website I don't sell advertising even the small buttons from other organizations that are posted on my site are done there through just consent mutual consent because I happen to agree with some of the you know agendas that those groups are working toward and I don't sell advertising on my site I don't sell any products on my site so if you feel that you've received value from the information that I've put out over the years there is a support donation button on the website completely voluntary so I want to direct everybody's attention to the water on earth is happening calm website on the radio show tab if you're not already there listening to the show live from the radio show tab go to that radio show tab because it is there where I post the images for today's show the images for tonight's show can be found right underneath the player on the radio show tab of what on earth what on earth is happening calm you'll see them there they're listed as numerical links you can click on them and a little slideshow will come up [Music] Oh welcome back everyone listen to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting Network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening comm so let's jump into the material once again images for what I'm going to be talking about are posted in as numerical links on the what on earth is happening comm radio show tab okay we are in right now a time period of the year known as in the occult specifically the dark occult as the season of sacrifice so what does this mean what is this time period and what does it represent on slide number one for tonight you'll see the image of the Zodiac wheel representing the course of one year okay I've placed on this image the Sun at the middle because what the zodiac constellations really are about are the path of the Sun relative to the path of the earth that's all it really is it's a way of tracking time as the year progresses the Sun can be seen to rise in front of a different zodiacal house at approximately a one-month period for approximately a one month period then after a month duration it can be seen to be rising on the eastern horizon in front of a different zodiacal house okay this is a just a method of looking at the solar movement or really it's the Earth's movement around the Sun during the course of the year like one big clock you know with with 12 hour hands but there really represent one month okay so each zodiacal house represents about a month's time now that the ancients divided the zodiacal year into quarters okay you had the time period of the year where there were equal a outs of day and night because of the Earth's axis of rotation 'el tilt with respect to its plane of orbit I know that's a mouthful but if you just envision the Sun at the middle and the earth going around the Sun making a revolution around the Sun in its orbital pathway you have to also envision that the earth is tilted with respect to that plane of orbit at a 23 approximately 23 point five degree angle its axis of rotation is tilted so that is what creates our seasons okay and when the Sun is actually at a zero degree angle to the equator of the earth that is when the earth the time period of the year is said to be the equinoxes and equinoxes literally means equal night equi meaning equal and nox meaning night in Latin so it means an equal amount of day and night all right throughout the throughout the world basically this is the spring equinox which is March 19th or 20th and the autumn equinox or fall equinox which is September 21st or 22nd at those two times of the year the Sun is actually at a zero degree angle with respect to the equator of the earth so that's a line that is this horizontal line on this image from equinox the spring equinox at the left to the autumn equinox at the right the vertical line represents the time periods of the year that are known as the solstices the solstices are the the high point of the Sun during the course of the year and the low point of the Sun during the course of the year so the summer solstice is around June 20th or 21st that's when the Sun has made its highest angle with respect to the equator of the earth the Sun is at the highest point that it is going to be observationally located in the northern hemisphere conversely when the Sun is at the winter solstice that's when the Sun is at its lowest observational point in with respect to the equator of the earth it is actually at a twenty three point five degree South angle with respect to the equator so that's its lowest point that it can observational EB observed in the southern hemisphere okay so throughout the course of the year the Sun makes a journey from the 23.5 degrees south latitude with respect to the equator then it goes as the year progresses it goes up to the spring equinox whereas it has a at a zero degree angle with respect to the equator then it rises further into the northern hemisphere and then it finally goes to the its apex which is at 23.5 degrees north latitude and then it finally starts descending back again and goes past the autumn equinox which is zero degrees again right at the equator finally back down to the winter solstice around December 21st 22nd the can't the tropics on the earth these are latitudinal lines okay the 23.5 degrees north tropic is when the Sun is at the summer solstice that's called the Tropic of Cancer because the Sun is actually getting ready to enter into the house of cancer on the zodiac it will be rising in front of the stars known as the constellation of cancer at that time period conversely when the Sun is at its lowest point it is at the Tropic of Capricorn because the Sun will be rising in front of the constellation Capricorn at that time period of the earth that's 23.5 degrees south latitude below the equator so the ancients depicted this quarterly time period the seasons they quartered the year by placing these two arms of the cross these four arms I I guess you could say that the two cross bars of the cross forming four arms the solstices summer and winter solstice and the equinoxes spring and autumn equinox and this formed a huge cross which was what the Sun was then placed upon again this is all astro theological underpinnings of Christianity of exoteric Christianity that is based on Astro theology we're not talking about the true esoteric tradition of real esoteric Christianity we're talking about the astro theological tale that is spun and given to the masses the hordes of ignorant people and told a story about the Sun and they're actually you know giving that to people and telling them it's about the savior of the world when in fact they're giving them a story about the Sun I've talked about this extensively on former broadcasts I'm not going to get into the full story of Astro theology today but another way of looking at this is owed a achill breakdown of the year is that they're really only were two seasons the high point of the Sun when it's in the northern hemisphere which is where most life on Earth is and then the low season of the Sun the time that it was in the southern hemisphere so from the spring equinox to the autumn equinox the Sun is in the northern hemisphere of the earth and that's the planting and growing season and really the the harvesting season as well at least most of the harvesting season is during that time of the year so you could call this top portion of the zodiacal here from you know the the top 90 degrees top 180 degrees I should say from the spring equinox to the autumn equinox you could call this the season of life or the season of light because that's when the Sun is having efficacy and power in the northern hemisphere and that's when crops grow for the majority of people on the earth then there was a season of darkness that's a six-month period where the Sun is in the southern hemisphere where much less of the population of the earth is actually located far less so this was known by the ancients as the season of death okay it's the season that crops do not grow and winter is coming in and you're not going to do any real growing or harvesting of a lot of crops that sustain life you know plant life that sustains life in the southern hemisphere so that was a season of of shutdown that was a season of life going into dormancy that was a season of plants going into dormancy and that was a season of basically bunkering down and having to survive during inhospitable climate during that time of the year hence it was known as the season of death or the season of darkness now the ancients also had midpoints of these four seasons okay spring summer autumn and winter the midpoints were also celebrated as important times of the year particularly in occult circles all right these are known as Sabbath's sa BB eighty and it's one of the places we get the word Sabbath from so the Sabbat was a high holiday all right and it was different celebrations for different times of the year the midpoint of spring in which the fixed sign of the zodiac known as Taurus was the representation of the spring season the bull okay it's an earth sign and again it's one of what's called the fixed signs of the zodiac forming what's known as the great cross the lesser cross is as we've already talked about the cross of the solstices and equinoxes but the Grand Cross was a galactic cross see the solstice and Equinox cross or the lesser cross was the cross of the solar system but then there's a galactic or grape cross which is formed by the midpoints of the seasons who put that up right on the other side of this break stay with us [Music] all right everyone we are back I'm beginning to break down of the occult season of sacrifice to help everyone to understand what this time period is in the world of the occult specifically the dark occult we were talking about the seasons how the ancients viewed the breakdown of the year as two basic seasons one of light and life and one of darkness and death and they had these midpoints that they celebrated depicted here by these red arrows that go right through the mid the middle points of the season and the middle of each central zodiacal house which are the fixed signs of the zodiac forming what is known as the Grand Cross or the Galactic cross because it actually sets the reference for the center and edge of the Milky Way galaxy so the midpoint of spring was known as Val purchase nacht or st. valper juses night and it was May 1st May Day simply that's the midpoint of spring the midpoint of summer was and I'll just briefly tell you what these seasons represented the midpoints represented this holiday represented fertility and the emergence of life and also offering a sacrifice of some kind to ensure bountiful harvests during the covet coming growing and harvesting season so again spring is the planting season where you want to get all your crops into the ground so that they grow bountifully and you have a good harvest so that you can feed yourself and your society throughout the winter period the season of death the midpoint of the summer season was a known as Lamas it's August 1st or simply referred to as midsummer and this was a season of thankfulness it was a harvesting time of the year it was a celebration of bounty and life again and also it was being thankful for what you did have at harvest or prior to harvest because you knew that it was going to be time soon to dig in for the the the time period of darkness in which in which time the Sun was going into the southern horizon and would basically stay there for six coming months the midpoint of the autumn season was known as soin or hallow mass we know it is Halloween and it was celebrated around October 31st at the midpoint of scorpion again the midpoint of Leo is the midpoint of the summer okay Leo is the the lion it's depicted as the lion because that's the the time that the Sun is roaring and it's the time that the the Rays of the Sun are emerging like a lion's mane so very symbolic depictions again the bowl was chosen for the zodiac of Taurus because that's when the Sun is beginning its charge in up into the northern hemisphere and it's charging toward its time period of greatest strength in the summer the scorpion represented the time period when the Sun was losing its power hence it was stung by the venom of a creature like the scorpion and it was on its way down to its lowest point of power the winter solstice so uh hollow mass was always about the going into the season of death and looking on back on lost of lost loved ones it was a reflection time of the year because you knew you were heading into the the darkest and coldest point of the year which is when the Sun is at its lowest point of power in the winter so October 31st or the midpoint of fall Sabbath soin was about reflection and about the pondering of impermanence and death and also about again preparation so the last midpoint or Sabbath was February 2nd which is known as Candlemas or in some other older traditions like the druidic tradition it was called in bulk and this was a time period for looking forward to the coming year because again the beginning of the year was always looked at the time period when the Sun would rise forward into the northern hemisphere of the earth again the spring equinox that was more more celebrated as the beginning of the year than any other time period certainly not like we do in January which is more arbitrarily chosen point the ancients viewed the time period when the Sun would begin to rise up into the northern hemisphere as the beginning of at least the zodiacal year in other ancient traditions they viewed the low point of the Sun as the birth and death point of the cycle so because you know it's at its lowest point or its death and it's also at the point where it's going to begin to come up toward the northern hemisphere again to restart it's a circular journey around our the the course of the course of its perceived rotation a revolution around the earth so the midpoint of of winter what or in bulk or Candlemas was celebrated at February 2nd and this was a time period of prediction of looking forward to the coming year and also of making resolutions for the coming year saying what you were going to do to create change you know and hopefully following through with it so it was a time of looking forward and it was also a time where you know the darkest and coldest period of the winter was you know starting to move on and you were looking forward to that springtime period at the spring equinox when warmer climate would be would lie ahead and you would the Sun would be emerging out of its tomb of the period time the half of the year known as the time period of death or darkness and coming back up into the northern hemisphere so if we move the slide number two we can see this is another representation just showing where the Sun is at at particular times of the year again it's at its lowest point Queen Sagittarius and

Capricorn that's when it's at the Tropic of Capricorn 23.5 degrees south with respect to the equator then it's at its mid points at the equinoxes okay and specifically at the spring equinox it's rising up into the northern hemisphere okay if we then follow its progression it goes up to the summer solstice that's when it's at the Tropic of Cancer at the top of the zodiac and then it turns back around and comes back down back down to the fall equinox the autumn equinox and then back down to the winter solstice and repeats the cycle all over again the special time period I'm talking about is from the time just after the spring equinox again the spring equinox is March 19th or 20th depending on the year it's the time period the Sun is exactly at 0 degrees with respect to the equator of the earth meaning there are equal amounts of day and night and the Sun is rising into the northern hemisphere from the southern hemisphere so this the March 22nd is a very important date and it's some very synchronistic and syncro mystic that my seminar in Asheville on new-age BS was conducted on March 22nd because that's a very dark date or a dark holiday I guess you could say for the dark occult and I use it as an opportunity to spread some light to people in the Asheville area and people came from all over the country for that event I mean there were people from California Florida the New England Ohio Kansas you name it all over the entire continental United States that people gathered to check out the seminar I was awed by it and really appreciative that so many people traveled from so far away and there were some Asheville locals there as well so a really good diverse crowd and this date is very important because it represents the third day after the exact time period where the Sun is exactly at the equatorial point zero degrees with respect to the earth's equator three days after that the Sun is said to emerge from its tomb and again here we come into alignment with the Astra theological story of Jesus he rises from the tomb after three days because he is the light of the world the Sun is the light of our world the Savior that renews us each spring season and stays in the northern hemisphere until he finally goes into that fall period and then dies on the cross of the zodiac at the winter solstice so again this is astro theological taylor of religion and we'll pick this up right on the other side of the break and I'll fully explain when is the season of sacrifice when we come back [Music] [Music] [Music] freedom mat that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're in the hour 2 of the show this evening talking about the occult season of sacrifice kind of a little bit of a review for longtime listeners but I really want people who are new listeners on Republic Broadcasting to understand this material it's critical to understand especially at this time period of the year so let's go back to slide number 2 on the water on earth is happening calm radio show page was talking about the time period of the year where the Sun actually breaks the plane of the equatorial plane the Sun actually moves from the zero degree mark to just above the position that represents the zero Degree point the actual equatorial plane and when the solar disk fully breaks that plane that day is March 22nd again the equinox is March 19th or 20th and then three days after that the Sun is said to fully emerge from its tomb the light the the the God's Sun emerges from its tomb from its period of death it had died three months prior to that or in other words days during the zodiacal year okay the three month period from when it entered the house of capricorn progressing through Aquarius through Pisces that's the death season of the Sun it's the the darkest time of the year that's winter okay the darkest and cold this time of the year finally when the Sun breaks the equatorial zero Degree point and starts making its way back up to the northern hemisphere the season of life begins again and the world is rejuvenated and that's the time of life bursting forward and spring the emergence of spring and things start to grow again and we move into the planting season and I'm not gonna belabor this too much because we've already really gone into this if people really want to hear a more extensive breakdown you can check out show number 51 and 52 or I break down fully the season of sacrifice but I'm just doing a review here and at the bottom of this slide you'll see a couple of Masonic tracing boards in esoteric Freemasonry this is well known that you know the path of the Sun and it represents symbolically light and darkness within the individual and our journey our path and consciousness that we need to get away from earthbound identification and to hire godly thoughts you know that represent light and so the first degree tracing board which is the tracing board of the entered apprentice again I've broken it down extensively over many in many past shows but just to do a very fast review if you turn this tracing board onto its side 90 degrees clockwise or to the right you'll see that what it really represents is the earth being the checkerboard floor of the house which is that represents the lines of latitude and longitude of the earth and that's the western direction because the earth is currently in darkness and we need to move east toward the eastern direction up the ladder and as we move up the ladder in consciousness we're moving out of the season of darkness which is the you know down in the southern hemisphere the direction south pinpointed there at the bottom which represents the time of darkness and unprogressive up to the to the light of the Sun okay so which is the the light moving toward the northern hemisphere at the summer solstice and the three initiates on the ladder represent knowledge which is the desire to step into knowledge is coming off the floor of the house true care is the green initiative the place of balance holding the key which is generative principle of care of true care and then finally to right action the initiate holding the child at the top of the ladder which represents the solar child the savior of the world which is right action in the world it's a beautiful symbol if it's decoded properly many people don't know the first thing about decoding any Masonic symbolism including Mason's believe it or not first and foremost because they're Masons in name only and they have no idea what the true esoteric tradition of Freemasonry is even intended to be about they're in it for an old boys club of receiving and doing favors for other people not about receiving true moral instruction and the real difference between right and wrong modalities of behavior which is what esoteric true Freemasonry is supposed to be about not the Waterdown nonsense that is taught in large systems today where they don't even teach them the proper decoding of their own symbolism it's similar to what the church has done with esoteric Christianity turning into into exoteric Christianity and just turning it into a control system it's no different but this tracing board on the right hand side is known as the tracing board of two ball cane in the lower right hand corner of slide number two this cryptic tracing board is about the season of death and darkness at the bottom portion in which case the soul was actually in a tomb and then that we need to burst forth from that tomb into the light of the northern hemisphere where the light is actually you know present the season of life and light and enlightenment and unfortunately when we do that we see that the world is in ruins you know it's not a pleasant thing the world is we burst forth from that tomb of darkness of not being able to see the world as it really is when we finally do emerge into the light of day we notice that the world is a horrible place and it's a place of decay and death and ruin and our job is to rebuild it is to rebuild it in a way that is in keeping with common sense and with truth and with right behavior according to natural law if Freemasonry is understood in the proper sense people would would receive those teachings is its original intent in the esoteric Masonic tradition certainly not the exoteric Lodge system tradition as it is taught today but I've again gone over that it's so extensively in former podcasts on Freemasonry you could get that all in the water on earth is happening comm podcast archived just go to the podcast section deuce deuce a search on page for Freemasonry and there I did something like 10 or 12 podcasts on that tradition breaking down all of its pretty much all of its symbolism so not to belabor that point let's move on to slide number 3 about the season of sacrifice this is the last slide about this particular topic for tonight the date March 22nd is the official beginning of the season of sacrifice many rituals and many important you know symbolic things that were carried out are often done on march 19th you could say March 19th is really the beginning of the season of sacrifice because it's the spring equinox so many people will consider that's the actual beginning I would say the official in earnest beginning of this occult season of the year this one eighth portion of the year in other words the first half of the spring season is actually March 22nd and it comprises the last nine days of March from March 22nd to 31st the entire month of April and the first day of May May 1st that makes a total of 40 days again that's a very highly symbolic and biblically symbolic number 40 day time period represents a journey it represents an odyssey it represents a sacred journey in consciousness biblically throughout time actually in all kinds of esoteric traditions 40 days is a symbolic spiritual period now in the dark occult okay it's a very negative period now they may not even look at it like that but for the bulk of humanity this is a dark time period they look at it like a time to celebrate by giving a blood sacrifice to the Sun and the earth this is what you have to understand about dark occultists their God is literally the Sun in many cases of course it's the ego of course it's the dark force which divides the consciousness of humanity which you could call the opposer the adversary Satan doesn't make a difference what you want to refer to that force as its the adversarial force of consciousness I don't look at it as an embodied entity nor do they but the Sun is in many ways viewed as the literal or physical God of their tradition of the dark occult tradition which they will often refer to as Lucifer the one who wants to be like the God of creation because of his form of light and their form of light is dark light the dark Sun that is their their order the order of death the order of the dark Sun what this represents is knowledge being wielded as a weapon the dark Sun it's it's the skull and the bones intellect and action with no compassion with no heart with no spirit will pick up the symbolism of the some season of sacrifice on the other side of this break you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back we go [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening I've been breaking down the occult season of sacrifice and some of its symbolic imagery one of the images is the Skull and Bones again they use the date 3:22 which is the beginning of the season of sacrifice to actually represent their Lodge this is a clandestine Lodge known as the order of Skull and Bones or the order of death because it represents the dark Sun once again the dark side of the Sun is the dark side of knowledge it's using knowledge which is represented by the skull that's where knowledge takes place within the brain and you know the skull is the symbol of that and then the bones the cross bones represent taking action with that knowledge but you'll notice that there's something that's missing heart or care or the spirit is absent from that equation so that's why they choose that symbolism and you'll see it there on the left hand side of image number three for tonight you'll see the coffin of Hiram Abiff this is the Masonic simple hyerin be represented the Masonic Christ he is the Masonic symbol of enlightenment and it's about the souls journey out of darkness and into light out of the state of spiritual deadness emerging from his coffin and resurrecting okay from a state of spiritual deadness or spiritual darkness to a place of enlightenment to a mindset of enlightenment in consciousness so on the coffin of Hiram Abiff here on the third degree tracing board you'll see the symbol of the Skull and Bones that's what keeps Hiram Abiff in his grave you have to transcend the Skull and Bones and develop true care in order to emerge from the grave from the coffin of spiritual infancy and spiritual deadness it's actually again a very beautiful symbol if it's a encode decoded properly once again many people have a very singular or since yuna dimensional way of seeing Masonic symbolism and imagery and this is a largely propagated because Freemasonry has been co-opted and turned into something that is quite dark and not used for anything resembling its original intent or purpose as I've said before to continue on the season of sacrifice what we need to understand about it is it is a time period which was traditionally about offering a sacrifice in the form of a blood sacrifice of animals or human beings to the Sun and the earth at the beginning of the planting season of the year or in other words the first half of spring if you look at the season of life the 180-degrees section of the zodiac at the top portion in the previous images I I gave you could break that down into four quarters you have the two seasons which you know that's the quarter of the whole zodiac spring and summer but you each break those down into two components so you have the midway points that separate those two seasons the midpoint of Taurus which is May first of all purchase knocked and the midpoint of summer which is August 1st or Lamas day and that would therefore quarter that tops top portion of the zodiac the top half into four quarters and the first quarter of that first season or in other words the first half of spring ok is the season of sacrifice in other words from the spring equinox to the midpoint of spring the middle of Taurus May 1st and like I said officially if you really want to be technical about it it is March 22nd or 3 days after the beginning of spring three days after the spring equinox when the Sun has the solar disk has fully emerged into the northern hemisphere until the midpoint of spring again the reason for this is because this is planting season and if the Sun is your god that you're essentially worshipping as the giver of life on the earth in a physical sense because that's what sustains life and grows crops that you're going to be depend upon for life during the coming year then you want to offer that God the sacrifice at the very point of his coming to power which is the beginning of spring it's specifically the first half of spring so what this is still done because the people who are this solar cult who essentially came out of the ancient world and developed the systems of Astro theology and modern religion are still in control they still rule the world and they are still practicing their rituals of sacrifice and they do it in different ways now they don't March people up a pyramid and carve their heart out with an obsidian blade they don't tie someone down to a stone altar and you know cut them open and let them bleed all over the stone anymore they may do this in private rituals and ceremonies that they keep well hidden from the public but in public a different form of sacrifice takes place and these are commonly known as in today's parlance false flag operations they are psyops psychological warfare operations in the form of rituals these are modern-day rituals of blood sacrifice that are conducted throughout the course of a year of the year and it's amazing if you really look at the patterns and some people will say oh this is you're just seeing what you want you're seeing the patterns you want this is confirmation bias etc and so forth and once again I'll preface this by saying hey believe whatever you want but nobody's going to tell me that all of these things don't amount to something that is larger than coincidence when I read you this list okay especially when you look at all the justifications that have followed these acts and how many people have perished in these acts and how long the media has gone on and on and on about them and how politicians and control based groups have all used these horrible horrific circumstances as justifications to peddle forth draconian agendas all right nobody's gonna tell me that's just coincidence that these all happen during this 40-day time period of the year all right so I'll read a short list all right and that's what that's all I'm bringing this forward for people to keep in mind you have to understand this is a time period these psychopaths lunatics love to trot out an event to get people in deep levels of fear and give up more of their rights so now is the time period to be hyper-vigilant i'm not saying anything's definitely going to happen I'm saying it may very well occur during this 40 day period which we are already in which started on March 22nd one week ago and which progresses until May 1st May Day all right so you really have to be on guard be vigilant during this time this is the time if some event happens it's almost guaranteed it's a false flag event and it's done as a blood ritual a bloodletting ritual during the season of sacrifice okay so let's um let's look at some of the events that have occurred during the seat this season the battles of Lexington and Concord were actually initiated by the British Empire against America prior the opening acts the opening volley volleys of the first American Revolution April 19th 1775 the battles of Lexington Concord and folks let me tell you something they love April 19th and 20th if there's particular date they love that's it especially April 19th and 20th especially April 20th I had to say one particular date they just they love those two dates okay that time period is special for these Psychopaths dark occultists all right I can't tell you exactly why it's around that date but I know they love those two dates and if there's any dates you want to watch and see there's an event gonna be taking place on this date that is there to inject fear into the consciousness of humanity it is April 19th and 20th all right above all other dates of the year so April 19 1775 the initiate the battles of Lexington and Concord April 19th once again 1861 the Baltimore riots in Baltimore Maryland thirteen people are killed during those riots we'll pick up this list on the other side stay right there [Music] [Applause] we don't dare speak while between us the rim so deep welcome back everyone whistling - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting want to wrap up this spot on the season of sacrifice maybe go to a couple of calls and then I want to break into the second portion of tonight's show which is to talk about psychopathy and its origins so this 40-day time period all of these different events have happened that within it the battles of Lexington and Concord the Baltimore riots which in which thirteen people another symbolic number was killed April 19 1861 the sinking of the Titanic occurred April 14th and into April 15 1912 resulting in 1512 deaths and folks if you don't understand that that was about really the murder of one individual and fifteen hundred and eleven souls got caught up in a dispute between some elites you know I feel bad for you because that was about the Rothschild dynasty taking out one of the people who actually could have stood against them because of his enormous wealth as an industrious and an industrialist which was John Jacob Astor and you don't think that these psychopathic lunatics would kill fifteen hundred people to get one person who could actually stand against them because of the enormous wealth he possessed and he was challenging their agenda to bring in the Federal Reserve System at that time you have another thought coming to you so that that's the kind of again like they'll kill 3,000 innocents to usher in some war in the Middle East to seize you know resources that they want you these aren't people who think like you and I or have the moral sensibilities that you are are you or I do to ascribe our moral or ethical sensibilities to a psychopath as making a critical error in judgment and we'll talk about that later in the show so the assassination of Martin Luther King during the season of five April 4th 1968 again someone who was making significant inroads into the challenging of the dominant paradigm and who people were listening to the Waco massacre again the massacre at Waco April 19th 1993 they love this date there's the third one okay here's another one the Oklahoma City bombing April 19th 1995 they were getting into rapid progression now you know almost every year every other year the Port Arthur Australian massacre which ended up with at in total gun confiscation within the whole country of Australia April 28th 1996 the Heaven's Gate cult suicides very strange with occult ritual overtones possible MKULTRA mind control type stuff going on in San Diego California March 26th 1997 I don't have the total number of deaths there I'm sure it's some sort of a symbolic number these lunatics are these lunatic dark occultists do love their ritualistic numbers and there you know gematria the Westside middle school massacre in Arkansas March 24 1998 again at the beginning portion of the season of sacrifice here's a huge one to try to justify you know weapons bands and you know continued gun confiscation the Columbine high high school shootings April 20th 1999 again there's April 20th Hitler's birthday as well April 20th 4/20 the Columbine shootings again that's another one named after the goddess a lot of these rituals and blood sacrifices will be named after the goddess Colombia is the name of the goddess because that's the destruction of care the immolation of care the cremation of care see it's another symbolic of the burning of the goddess another form of symbolism regarding the burning of care so the Columbine shootings April 20th 99 the Iraq war begins on march 19th the very beginning of the season of sacrifice you could say that's even a couple days before its official opening at right at the spring equinox okay so the Iraq war begins with the shock and all bombing campaign which is actually another reference symbolically to the goddess because it's not just shock and all it's shock and awe Shekinah the Shekinah is a Hebrew term to represent the feminine force okay invoking the feminine destructive force actually it's like the Shiva force okay in the Eastern traditions the Shekinah and that was the occult overtones that opened up the war in Iraq on March 19 2003 the second Iraq war that was so then we have the Virginia Tech massacre Virginia Tech University April 16 2007 again another a pre justification for starting to claim that we have to ban certain kinds of firearms okay and again named after the goddess had it done at a school where it's named after the goddess the virgin okay more goddess symbolism in a bloodletting sacrifice ritual April 16 2007 the Moscow subway bombings the metro bombings were done on March 29th 2010 the beginning of the BP oil spill Hitler's birthday April 20th 2010 okay which the toll was still going on uncalculated for that ecological disaster Libya what the United States invaded Libya a few years back on march 19th once again the very beginning of the season of sacrifice March 19 2011 Libya was invaded and just last year too the Boston bombing April 15th at the very almost the middle point just around the middle point of the season of sacrifice April 15 2013 the Boston Marathon bombings I mean if you just think all about you just coincidence I would make the statement you're a coincidence theorist people will say oh you're a conspiracy theorist you think there's something to all of those dates well in relationship to the significance of the season that is actually real and practiced by the dark occult yes that there isn't anything that is just coincidental about that that is something that is deliberately done and planned for is if you ask me again you can call me conspiracy minded but I've been involved in the dark cult myself I know who these people are I know what their personality type is I know that there are psychopathic people and I know they wouldn't hesitate for a moment if it serves their agendas to kill any number of human beings that they feel that they need to kill in a psyops ritual to get their agendas put forward so people need to be aware this is real this is so practiced by this dark priests class and these dark occult religionists this is their religion that's their belief system you don't have to believe in it once again you don't need to believe in what these Psychopaths believe they believe in it and they act on it and if we don't understand their belief system we're gonna still see these events take place and play out and think it's all just coincidence and there's nothing to it when in fact these are deliberately orchestrated events during a specific time period to carry out specific agendas that ordinarily they wouldn't be able to push through so this time period that we are in right now is the time period we need to be the most hyper vigilant about false flags and I think that's all really say on that topic for this evening I think I've given enough information to whet people's appetite and let's go to go to the phones and then we'll move on to our second topic for tonight which is psychopathy let's go to Joe in Los Angeles Joe you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark so nice to finally talk to you I've been listening to you for quite a while let me start with thanking you for all the the massive amount of occulted information that you have brought to the light so to speak you you changed me I I definitely use the ancient mystery tradition of Tarot I use it with regular cards and let me tell you 80 weight talks about not using it for ports and curling but it absolutely works to tell the truth it really really does and the symbols you're talking about with this masonry lecture you see it all fits was so when I was researching it further based on your your podcast I use old masonry dictionaries out alchemy dictionaries to get the meanings of the symbolism and it's mind-boggling the amount of and not only how it's all the same with all these traditions but then the synchronicities that begin to occur in your life yes you start to you start to see these things on bumper stickers and like the plates and everything like that hey Joe stay right there I'll let you pick this up on the other side of the break and you can go to your question just hold on and stay with us ladies and gentlemen we'll be right back after this break your listening - what on earth is happening [Music] [Music] [Music] you're listening to what on earth is happening let's go back to Joe and Los Angeles Joe you were making a point and then I think we're going to get to a question go right ahead yeah I was just finishing up on this Petare oh how accurate you are about your your information about the Terrell and all the ancient mystery traditions yes as well as veganism it absolutely opens up the body and the mind I can't even tell you how much spirituality is entering into me especially now that we're in fourth density quick comment about your what you're saying the BP oil spill that is it definitely a blood sacrifice the blood of the earth is oil that's where I don't know if a lot of people if it's a lot of people realize that but it is that is the blood of the earth it if somebody put an oil rig on your body and started sucking blood you'd know it in about two seconds so that was a bloodless tool for the earth herself they were attacking the earth goddess herself right there absolutely and if you don't if you people that don't but I could understand not seeing it and in this awakening process but once you hear that and learn that you don't believe that you're you are like what you call the unbe gun because if you cannot see that I mean they're they're trying to kill us nominate us and this earth and and they're doing it a beaut they're doing a beautiful job just think on all the names all the names okay you know you have you have the Port Arthur King Arthur a killing of a king ritual Heaven's Gate Heaven's Gate you know it's an attack on the gates of heaven Columbine the goddess you know Virginia the goddess the BP oil spill was done to the earth with the you know letting forth the Earth's blood you think all of that is just accidental you know the Boston Marathon done at the place where essentially the American Revolution began and these aren't accidental things I mean people want to see coincidence everywhere you know it's not that people want to see conspiracy everywhere we're seeing patterns these are an imaginary patterns folks these are patterns that really exist if you're conscious enough to see them yeah true though no you're dead on as always it's true and it's always this attack on on the innocent the feminine the children yes you know I mean there's there's there's very likely you know I still think the that coach from Pennsylvania I think he was just like a child pedophile runner the the truth is gonna come out about that that pedophilia ring is going to have its tentacles in our in our government in the Vatican Joe Paterno from Penn State absolutely he was part of a bragger way way bigger look look at how quickly he died after that all came out I mean you think that wasn't an accident I mean you think that that was some kind of an accident or coincidence they needed to take him out before that got out there in a real big way was really going on with a pedophile ring that's at that kind of a level absolutely no doubt about it he was part of something way bigger and you know very very low level person on that totem pole but he was just watching it happened and did nothing you know I don't feel bad for that guy at all yeah you know he got exactly what he really deserves so many people say oh what could he have gone he could have done a lot more than what he did he could have grown a set and come forward and done what was right is what he could have done and he didn't do that you know he just watched it would let it go on unchallenged so if you look at it he is your stereotypical secondary psychopath right he's chasing that he's chasing that golden carrot just like all these other butt heads with their BMWs and their high-level jobs everybody thinking they're gonna catch the carrot there you never are going to catch it man they you are gonna be their bitch and that other people don't really don't realize that that's right but you know here's my question work I mean I could sit and talk to you for days and days and days and I'm telling you but here's my question you mentioned in an old podcast I think was actually an old interview about how how there are off-planet dark forces feeding off our fear lit literally eating off our fear eating our fear please tell me your all your overall art story arc and where your head is like you said at the head of the show tell me we're headed in that direction because some of us really are again I mentioned for some of us are there we are so like I talked about being on this earth and not of it then I don't even belong here and as the vibrations continue to increase some of us really some of these light light workers like me we really need to know what what what do you know because I know there's much much more that you can you know of the minuses and I know it might alienate some people but sure and it will it certainly will not everyone is going to be comfortable hearing some of the things I'm going to talk about in coming weeks on this show let's just say it just like that right out in the open okay but I cannot stay silent about this I've prepared the way for long enough okay I've given people a little hint or taste or an outline you could call it in my video cosmic abandonment on my website in the video section but what I'm gonna do in coming week starting tonight if there's time if time allows I'm going to talk about I'm gonna get into an extensive breakdown of this and go into source material that backs this worldview really is what it is it's a view of what happened here in the ancient past that led to the current human condition that's all it really is and see a lot of people won't want to hear it because in their mind they're dedicated that it is impossible it couldn't happen that way because what they don't want to accept or or come to an understanding of is that Earth is not metaphorically a farm it's literally a farm and I've talked about this before and I'm not doing this the other justification people will say why this all can't be true is they'll say oh people take this story and run with it because they're disinfo agents that are what they're really trying to do under the surface is they're trying to annihilate hope in humanity because if we're fighting something that's truly not human in its origin then what a chance do we have to defeat it and you know what my answer to that is we have every chance to defeat it and no it wouldn't be disempowering to talk about it out in the open because it doesn't make a difference if human beings are at the top of this agenda of control if demonic entities from other dimension at the top of this agenda for control if Satan itself in whatever embodied or disembodied form you might want to imagine that for says it doesn't make a difference what is controlling it because the solution is the same to get out of mind control to rise in consciousness and to use the lost word which is no I am NOT your slave and it doesn't make a difference what you do I'm not gonna be complicit with your agenda to enslave myself or others around me the end and when we step into that power of truth game over no matter what entity lies behind the system of control yeah yeah absolutely in and even further I think people they don't realize that we really are not human well we're human in this incarnate but they've allowed people think that this is it and I Got News for you this is one of many you might you might have come back as a completely different entity as an animal as a hammer I mean it doesn't cancer the thing is we are limitless we are we are actually indestructible our souls are indestructible and people don't think people don't realize that complicity of forms and forms of consciousness consciousness is eternal it goes on there is no beginning or end for it that's what we ultimately are at our essence period we are spirit at our very essence this is just an incarnation for experience to be gathered and for us to learn and grow and we can't be tied to identified in matter that's why so many people are accepting the chains of bondage that we're all in because they're so identified with this life they're so identified they're afraid to die if you're gonna be free you have to get over the idea that you are just the flesh and you've got to get over the fear of dying you want to be free you let it all go you have to be willing to take the chance that you might go into another incarnation you know that's when you'll be truly free you know but most of it they're not there yet he's freedom you know you're absolutely right but once one realizes that all of a sudden you realize you are eternal I mean did you look you look back at your mindset before thinking oh what I got a dis I got a hold on this like oh I don't want to die I mean let me tell you you talk about having no no attachment try having no attachment to your life and I Got News for your man I walk around this earth every day loving that I have absolutely no attachment to that life and I Got News for you it is empowering as you would not believe success now I know so thank you so much they've all really really great insights you brought up I appreciate it we'll continue on the other side of this break folks stay with us [Music] [Music] [Music] freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening comm we do have some other callers in the queue but I'm going to ask them to just be patient I want to cover some material on psychopathy and its possible origins and then I'm gonna go back to your calls in the second half an hour of this final third hour of the show tonight and hopefully I could take a bunch of questions about psychopathy and get your take on what it's possible origins may be so I've talked about psychopathy pretty extensively on past shows so this is again another somewhat of a review topic but let's break down the word first and foremost and we're working on image number four slide number four on the what on earth is happening comm radio show page or if you're following in the podcast this is podcast number 149 psychopathy if we break down the word it comes from Greek in its origins and it comes from the Greek noun psyche and there it is written in great Greek script and the word psyche or psyche in English means mind okay and the second part of the word p-a-t-h y sy k and then PA th Y the second half of the word comes from the Greek noun pathos pathos means suffering in Greek so we put them together and it means suffering mind or in other words sickness of the mind or suffering of the mind or in other words mental illness that's what psychopathy is and just think about it you know pathology it's the of illness or sickness so we put that together with the psyche it's about the illness or the sickness of the mind that's what psychopathy is at its absolute essence it is pure mental illness and sickness of the psyche really if you go down to it it's sickness of the soul and there are many people who will still to this day insist I still get emails from them you know there's no such thing as psychopathy it's an invented mental illness as are all mental illnesses there's no such thing as a mental illness I mean this is how naive people are these are absolute New Age children I'm sorry I'm sorry let me rephrase that they're new caged children to borrow the term from Cam'ron day and other researchers okay they are children of the new cage movement that haven't grown up that haven't matured that don't want to accept the real that don't want to accept that which is true like I've said before in many past podcasts except that which is or continue to suffer understand and accept truth or get used to the chains folks get used to the chains of bondage in other words in other words respect existence or expect resistance from the universe itself okay respect that which is respect existence or expect resistance from nature itself because that's all you're gonna get if you want to deny that which is and the people that want to believe it's all of a huge bed of roses here on the earth and there's no such thing as mentally ill people I mean you're naive children you're not looking at what is you're looking at what you want to exist what you want the reality to be there are such a thing as mentally ill human beings mental illnesses are real all you need to do is open up your eyes take off the rose-colored glasses and look at the behavior that's out there and you don't think that's a product of psycho of psychological illness well what's what is it the product of so I mean I don't really want a male's like that anymore okay look folks my mind is made up not because I have a belief system because I've done enough study and homework over decades of my life all right I don't you're not gonna convince me something I know exists doesn't exist I've studied it extensively from a perspective of psychology and neuroscience alright not pseudo-sciences okay psychopathy psychopathology of the mind exists and is real get over it get over yourself and your own ego it's it's again you don't want it to exist you don't want to live in that world war well tough tough it's such such a shame isn't it that is the world however so get over yourself okay now no let's just for you know get over the fact that psychopathy exists and let's look at what it actually is because a lot of people are in confusion about what it is they think it's this Hollywood variant of psychopathy a psychopath oh it's got to be a serial killer right it's got to be a total lunatic wielding an axe and going after people at random that's a psychopath know that sighs know that a psychopath could be that that's not what a psychopath has to be like as a matter of fact most Psychopaths are very good at covering up what they are they've become very good actors you know in order to survive they can feign and pretend to be like a normal human being and they gravitate into positions of power and they put on that mask as you see there an image number for this husk this shale this fake human being that's not even a human being it's an animal that looks like a human being puts on the mask and tries to look like a human that's psychopaths really adept that they're very very skilled at doing that and that's why naive people who are really children in their psychological makeup okay and haven't grown up and haven't become adult human beings psychologically and spiritually want to believe there's no such thing because they don't want to accept that there are other intelligent beings walking amongst us that look human but are not human that are animals that walk on two legs but they are not human beings intelligent so-called intelligent creatures they have intellect they don't have real intelligence but their intellectual creatures that walk on two legs bipedal they walk like a human being they have speech they talk like a human being they look just like a human being but they're not a human and I'm not just trying to dehumanize a class of Peete human beings I'm telling you factually definitively they are not a human being what makes a human being a human being is that they are truly sentient and have the capacity to feel a psychopath does not truly have the capacity to feel they are like a computer program that's running which is why this image here an image number four is so great I saw that I did a search for images that represent a psychopath and this is the one that embodies it perfectly it's some sort of a husk a shell a wraith that looks somewhat like a human when it puts the mask on but underneath it's an empty husk or a shell that that barely even resembles a human being it's some sort of a shadow okay some empty degraded husk form that that has the vague semblance of a human but is not a human most certainly and at O we can understand Psychopaths in that regard you're not going to make any progress in overcoming their influence in this world zero get used to the chains of bondage because that's where you're going to be for a long long long long time until you accept that this condition exists that it is real that it is operating around you and that these beings are not human beings they are something other than a human being so let's look at their characteristics these animals that look human they're aggressive callous and cunning they are adept cunning thinkers they have intellect cunning intellect not true intelligence because true intelligence engages the feminine aspect of the psyche which is the intuition and the compassion and the creative aspect of intelligence holistic intelligence comprises both intellect and the creative generative side of the psyche which these beings do not have they only have the intellectual side they have a complete lack a complete absence of conscience and empathy which we talked about earlier no conscience no ability to feel the repercussions of their behavior toward others we'll continue with this list of the characteristics of psychopathy right after this break stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to water on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting talking about the characteristics of psychopaths let's get right back into it there this is slide number five on my images for tonight's show they're aggressive callous and cunning very intellectual creatures but not true holistic intelligent beings holistically intelligent beings they have a complete absence of conscience and empathy they cannot feel the repercussions in their physiology of what they do to others and when I say that I mean it literally can not it's not possible for them to feel empathy as strange as that is for most people who do have that capacity okay there are beings in the universe that that is true for it would be like if you cut off someone's hand then you catalyzed it and sutured it up so they didn't bleed out they would no longer have a hand they would no longer have the capacity to grasp something in that hand in that limb without some piece of artificial technology the capacity would no longer be there that's what a psychopath is like when it comes to the ability to feel they're very adept at manipulating other people especially emotional manipulation real good at getting to people through their emotions not the Psychopaths emotions through them the people they're manipulating through their emotions they can play up to other people's emotions to then manipulate them and get them to do what they want they have a strong willingness to just take whatever they want and do whatever they please and it doesn't make a difference who is hurt or wronged they don't care about right or wrong it's meaningless to them they're meaningless ideas to them that's all right has nothing to do with natural law they don't care that natural law exists they don't care about the repercussions of breaking it they just want to do whatever they want take whatever they want whoever is wrong isn't it's meaningless to them they're an animal it's not a human being folks it's an animal it's a pure animalistic consciousness embodied in human form that's what you have to understand that a psychopath is and get streetwise about this we need to get streetwise about this because these beings are out there among us feeding off of us and you know what people are still in denial of their existence still in denial because they don't want to believe that's the world they live in Psychopaths have a deceptive ability to peer a peer outwardly benevolent and that's because they're really good at feigning normal human emotions they have a deceptive ability to behave in superficially charming wave stop ways to hide purely selfish motives they have a willingness to use intimidation and violence to control others in order to satisfy their own needs they have a willingness to intentionally violate the basic inherent human rights of others again as I said natural law rights are meaningless to these animals they have a complete absence of any sense of guilt or remorse so it doesn't matter who's hurt they're not gonna feel guilt they're not gonna feel remorse they don't have the capacity to feel guilt or remorse it isn't that they don't want to feel it they can't feel it there's a reason because their limbic brain is not doesn't work the same way as a normally functioning human's limbic system in the brain the midbrain the melian brain is broken in a psychopath and there's a reason it's broken which we're going to get to psychopaths have they rationalize their own immoral behavior so rationalization is a big thing oh I'm not really wrong for doing this there there's a reaiiy of a right to do this I can rationalize it come up with a reason that it's okay that I just did that harmful behavior and there attempt to lay blame on other people for their own conduct that's another big characteristic of a psychopath blaming other people when in fact their own behavior was harmful they will outright deny their own wrongdoing so willful denial of truth is a big thing in Psychopaths they have total contempt toward the feelings and desires of their fellow beings what you want a justice truth right nobody violating your natural rights that's meaningless to a psychopath they don't care they don't care you know if that's two words that sum up this whole list don't care that's what a psychopath is a being that does not care doesn't have the capacity to care or feel period they will pathologically lie say anything without any concern for truth in order to advance their own hidden agenda they here's key a key point of their personality trait and character traits and characteristics they have a very cunning manipulative ability to fake to feign normal human emotions and empathy they watch other people and their behaviors and they observe how they behave in certain conditions like when a loved one dies and they'll observe genuine emotional sadness and then they'll mimic it like an actor they will step into that role because they know they're different than other people they know from a very very young age that they're not normal human beings that they're an animal that looks like a human but is not one and so they have developed this very deceptive ability to act to play act you know what watch the TV show Dexter it's a good example of a secondary psychopath who's play-acting and trying to pretend like he feels the same thing thing that a human regular human being feels while Dexter in that series is not a primary psychopath he was created as a secondary psychopath through of at a very young formatic experience that he underwent that doesn't mean a primary psychopathy does not exist there are beings who are born like this and it is a genetic condition that is a result of a deformation a a mechanism that is not working properly in the human genome in our genomic code the code that makes the human species what it is there are things in that code that are not working right that are not functioning right we have anomalies genetic anomalies in our actual genomic code over 4000 genetic anomalies genetic deformations that express as different types of diseases different types of disorders physically and mentally and psychologically so Psychopaths also have a completely distorted sense of the consequences of their actions they don't see the consequences they just act in the moment like an animal they don't look at the long-term consequences so you say psychopaths are destroying the world that they themselves have to live in well that doesn't compute to them it doesn't matter they're living fully in instinct because they're an animal without a true ability to care about what they're doing in the present moment that may affect the future even if it affects their ability to live in the future that's what you have to understand that a psychopath behaves like it's so unfathomable to the normally functioning human being that the mind the soul could be that broken that the the the normal mind often wants to reject it and say my god how could a creature such as such as this exist you're talking about the proverbial vampire the proverbial demon yes exactly now you're getting closer to them to an understanding if you think of it in those terms of what a true psychopath is they have a total failure to accept any personal responsibility for their own socially irresponsible ways they will not accept responsibility so forget trying to say you're responsible for this you caused this you were the causal factor of this doesn't matter they don't care and they have a strong belief that they will never be brought to justice for their criminal behavior totally smug arrogance you'll never beat me you'll never take me down on the top of the pecking order on the top of the food chain I deserve to be in the position that I'm in and I'll be there forever that's what they think that's what they think let me tell you something folks their reign is not gonna last forever what I want to talk about in the next section is the origin of this condition so stay with us [Music] you know today destroys the night-night divide today try to run we have to break on through in our understanding of the truth and what will lie on the other side of that breakthrough is true freedom if we are willing to go all the way in that truth and we're going to start venturing into some pretty uncomfortable areas and psychopathy is one of them but you know what's even more uncomfortable than understanding that psychopathy exists and this is one of the reasons why a lot of people don't want to acknowledge its existence because once you understand that this exists and there's this creature here with us on the earth called the psychopath which I would say possibly makes up a percent I mean not even a percent a portion of a percent of one percent of the population of humanity if that once you understand that that condition exists what you have to do is wrestle with a profound implication and that is why does it exist how was this condition created because if it's here with us there has to be a reason it's here something had to make it something had to create it and put the psychopath here on earth with us so what did that what is the origin of this seemingly insane condition you know yeah these are insane people but I'm saying that the actual idea of it seems crazy and insane to even contemplate that something like this could even exist so those of us who do have normally functioning emotional make up a normally functioning emotional makeup so my next question that I'm going to pose and people you know who call in could take a crack at answering this is what is the origin of psychopathy now I'm gonna look at just four potentials four possibilities because you know from here I'm not gonna claim I absolutely know the truth of this I'm going to put what I feel is the best explanation of this out there for people's consideration to look folks I'm not gonna claim to know the absolute truth when it comes to this I feel that I have an educated understanding of this condition because I've studied deeply into what it is and all of the possibilities regarding why it may exist so from here on forward in many of the next shows that I do we have to understand I'm going to enter the realm of speculation you shouldn't take my word as gospel truth at any time you really shouldn't I've said that from day one the worst thing you could do is believe me on anything you need to do your own due diligence you need to do your own homework you need to do your own research you need to do your own reading and digging you need to apply the Trivium methodology a truth discovery methodology that is based in the scientific methodology to come up with an understanding that is accurate don't just believe anybody when you read other works when you read source works which we'll be getting into on future shows we'll be looking at you know ancient texts okay we'll be looking at interpretations of those ancient texts we'll be looking at synthesis synthesis of all this information I'll be reading from a lot of texts you can't just take everything at face value you have to compare and contrast it you have to look at a whole wide eclectic variety of knowledge and compare and contrast it weed out logical inconsistencies and come to a logical conclusion by processing that then from that available information then maybe we could bring all those pieces to the table and arrive at knowledge and arrive at truth eventually so you know maybe we should call the future shows on what on earth is happening what on earth very well may have occurred you know and that we have to be willing to be open-minded about looking into so that we can come to an understanding about what very well may have occurred here in the ancient past maybe that should be the name for upcoming shows on water on earth is happening because up to this point I've covered things that are fairly provably true you know and I know are taking place I could state I know that they are taking place here I could say I'm making a best educated hypothesis regarding what occurred here that led to the current human condition so again nobody should be taking this is 100% gospel truth you should again you shouldn't be doing that with any of my work no one should be doing that with anybody's work you should always look at it compare and contrast and then come to a conclusion about it after you've processed the information in great depth that having been said let's look at four possible origins for the condition called psychopathy possibility number one and I've heard this from a lot of people who I've posed the question to hey tell me where you think psychopathy came from and people will say it's completely natural this is a natural evolutionary condition you know what people I personally think this is the most dangerous view to take I personally think that this is the most and not to just color this first possibility we have to consider it okay not to just call her it negative and evil right on its face I'm just saying I personally feel that this is the product of a very poisoned worldview when people think I've heard people say I think psychopaths are the alpha humans these are the people who deserve to be in charge and rule the planet I've actually heard people state that that's like saying how I think of myself is that I actually belong in bondage I belong in slit in enslaved chains that's that that's that worldview it's no different it's no different than saying these are the people I believe should be my rulers and slave masters because they have no emotions and no ability to feel so somehow nature made that condition and has allowed these people to rule the roost of humanity through absolute ruthlessness viciousness and immorality and somehow that's a right condition that should continue in nature because my Darwinian religion tells me that that's the quote-unquote natural order well you know what I think of people who think like that I think they are extensive fools who have bought into a religion called Darwinism who believe that they are somehow rightfully slaves on this planet and somehow total absolute lunatics who are mentally ill are somehow in a rightful position of rulership in this world that's mental illness in and of itself ladies and gentlemen so you know that's my view on this position personally but let's just look at what this position states that psychopathy is a natural occurrence in nature it's natural nature made us this way it made a certain subset of humanity this way that's like psychopathy is a naturally occurring phenomenon it's a set of characteristics which developed in humanity or I should have put down developed in a subset of humanity as part of quote I should have wrapped this in quote evolutionary adaptation of our species to certain environmental conditions and you know extreme survival circumstances can create psychopathic tendencies if you're constantly in fight/flight mode and you're you're unable to leave that condition mentally and psychologically you can become a secondary psychopath I'm not really talking about secondary psychopathy in this question where did psy competent come from I'm talking about primary genetic type 1 or primary psychopathy the kind of psychopathy that is created through environmental stressors or conditions is secondary psychopathy which is reversible secondary Psychopaths are normally were normally functioning human beings with the ability to feel and empathize at some past point in their lives and then they lost that due to a traumatic circumstance which they were unable to overcome or escape ok so prolonged fight or flight conditions can create secondary Psychopaths so you could look at it as did prolonged survival circumstances create a subset of psychopathic people the reason I don't think that's the even though yes that's possible okay is even after prolonged set of survival conditions is in effect and it may be it may no longer be in effect there are still people born with primary psychopathy genetic psychopathy so that's why I don't personally think that this explanation or possibility holds much water there are people who may agree with it and that's fine I'm not going to tell you you must agree with me but I don't believe if you apply Occam's razor in a sense to this hypothesis this possibility number one that it holds up personally that's my take ok plus I don't see that as a true evolutionary adaptation I think true evolution means we're going toward a higher form of existence in consciousness and true evolution means we're moving into a more moral place in our being in our consciousness not a less moral one which is what a psychopath certainly is so people should look at these as the alpha humans they should look at them as the absolute last in line when it comes to the evolutionary development of humanity they are they are the ones that are leftovers if anything from a prior quote-unquote evolutionary lineage okay this is the lowest form of evolutionary life on the totem pole of human form because it is absolutely not a true human being it is something that lacks the genuine characteristics of a real human being which is why I don't accept possibility number one personally once again I'm throwing it out there as a potential okay and people should seriously entertain it as a notion and really think about it absolutely again I have done that process of taking this in and processing it and really deeply thinking about all the possibilities when it comes to this possibility number one that psychopathy is a naturally occurring phenomenon and it is not it was an evolutionary quote-unquote adaptation and I personally reject that as the answer to the reason that psychopathy primary psychopathy so let's look at this second third and fourth possibilities for Psychopaths these existence in our world when we come back after this break you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone the final segment of what on earth is happening here this evening on Republic Broadcasting I'm gonna just briefly briefly outline these other three possibilities and then I'm gonna try to take a few phone calls so as not to leave the callers hanging I know I wanted to get more calls in but I'll go over these possibilities next week as well as a review before I get into some new material possibility number two for the possible origins of psychopathy and humanity it was created by God God did it and Psychopaths were put here on the earth alongside human beings as some form of punishment to torment human beings for reasons unknown the creator of the universe just made this absolute condition of mental illness and lunacy and placed these animals here with us to torment us and eat us and you know keep us as their slaves somehow as some form of punishment for something we don't even understand that we did I see this also is a very dark worldview as a poison worldview as a dangerous position to take because it leads one to believe that it's all just predetermined and since God did it there's nothing you could do to fight it if anything is disempowering it's that worldview I also don't take this position I look at the two final possibilities that I'm going to propose as really the only sensible or possible ones and that leads us to possibility number three on slide number eight so we went through slide six and seven as the first two possibilities slide number eight possibility number three human beings did this to ourselves we created this condition in humanity because in our ancient past we may have a we may have arrived at a culture a civilization of high technology at some point in our ancient past where we developed genetic technology and we performed a form of genetic manipulation upon ourselves or a subset of our species in an attempt to somehow create new capab in our species or improve upon our species but in our in our inaccuracy in our genetic manipulation we inadvertently created certain conditions in the human genome and psychopathy was one of them so we inadvertently created it ourselves now that's if you believe the world view that humanity was once a very high civilization but it kind of like you know forged its own path and was in control of its own destiny that's not my particular worldview or how I see the ancient past having played out and I'm gonna be getting into why I don't think that this is the case and why the fourth possibility is the one that I most subscribe to for the actual origin of this condition and that leads us to slide number nine that it's possibility number four that something else did this to us something other than humanity in other words something that was non-human regardless of what you think that may be or what its nature is I'm not going to sit here and argue and debate over the nature of what that thing was that non-human form of intelligence but essentially this possibility could be described like this some other form of intelligence that is decidedly not human created the condition of psychopathy within a subset at least a subset of humanity of human beings either deliberately or inadvertently through some form of genetic modification or a manipulation and to me this makes the most sense and I noticed some people they'll say that makes the least bit of sense to them because they won't want to wrestle with the implication of non-human entities having been here upon the earth with us in the ancient past or even possibly still being among us in the modern day in the current day because they don't want to live in that world they don't want to even concede the possibility that that could be possible yet many many many ancient texts talk about this scenario in extensive detail and yet scientism and modern interpretations of these texts claim that these are just mythological stories told by crazy people in the ancient world trying to entertain themselves you know then I guess people think of archivists of information I consider myself an archivist of information now in the modern day think about how relatively easy that is to do to preserve an archive data datasets we have digital access we have access to technology and machines that make that archiving process easy I offer an archive drive it's called an arc for short amazing repository of knowledge one terabyte of information on every topic you could possibly imagine Under the Sun okay to research and study you don't even have to search the internet it's all right there on onedrive really important material but but you know the ease at which that can even be done in the modern day think about our ancient ancestors the difficulty that they had in preserving knowledge the lens that they had to go and then sets of dark the dark priests class and the controllers that they were up against to try to take them out would murder them for attempting to spread this information and in that time period it was a direct risk to your life to your physical life back then we have it easy in comparison to spread this knowledge to do the great work in comparison to our ancestors who were attempting to do this work to enlighten their fellow brothers and sisters we have it simple so think about the level of difficulty they would have to go through to preserve this with nothing but ancient so-called technologies non technological civilization you know different forms of ancient writing pressing forms into tablets into clay writing down things on Pyrus with Reed on huge Scrolls I mean you know we its cake now in comparison we could throw it on digital devices that are mobile take it everywhere you could have a liar of the library sitting right here in my hand a tablet six thousand books on a tablet our ancestors would weep if they knew we had it that easy compared to what they had to do so why would they have just told random stories they were meticulously trying to preserve an account of history as far as I'm concerned and we'll be getting into those histories in later weeks on this show starting next week let's go to your calls for the last few minutes I know I didn't allow a lot of time I apologize for that let's talk to ganzalo and Toronto guns all your live on what on earth is happening are you with am i coming through clearly yes there you go we don't have a lot of time um okay um I just like say thanks for the show first of all true and my question to you would be in terms of psychopathy when did you come across it because funnily enough I see even some musicians and other people integrating their encounters with Psychopaths and pushing it off in their art yeah I've probably been studying it for the greater part of twenty years of my life now so I'm I've been aware of it from for the large larger part of two decades and have studied it in different capacities from a spiritual perspective from you know scientific intellectual perspective in the sense of psychology and neuroscience etc and also looking at its origins or attempting to delve into the explanation for its origins over probably the last decade of my life so it's been a long journey a long study for me and most people haven't even begun a study of this most people are not maybe not most but many many many people are still in denial of its existence let alone having started at an actual rigorous study of it and that needs to change we need to make more people aware that this is something that we really need to become aware of and in depth to understand these beings were all around us you know there's not as many of them as there are good people most certainly but they are out there and they're in positions of power psychopaths weasel their way into positions of power in this world we prop them up we're the ones who prop them up I hope that answers your question let's see if we could squeeze one more call win let's go to Tyler and Tennessee you're live on what on earth is happening welcome Hey sir I don't know what your name is this first time I've listened to you I'm mark passio my websites what on earth is happening dot-com doing a show here every Saturday night 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Eastern freedom man that's what it's all about you've got to groove on freedom like the good book says welcome you are listening to what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches its critical moment of choice and now here is your host mark pascio welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening here on republic broadcasting i'm your host mark pascio my website what on earth is happening dot com the network's website republicbroadcasting.org today is saturday april 5th 2014 this show is live right here on republic broadcasting every saturday evening from 10 p.m to 1 a.m eastern time that's 9 p.m to midnight central we have a great show lined up for you here today i'm going to be continuing to discuss the possible origins of psychopathy on the show tonight and what we're really going to be doing is going to the phones to get people's opinions on the possible origins of where psychopathy came from within humanity i'm really interested in hearing from people because it's a very interesting dynamic you know when you get into people's minds and you ask them about what caused this where did this come from where do you think this came into being from it tells you a lot about where the human mindset is at so i'd like to try to put my finger on that pulse tonight and in doing so let me give the call in number right off the bat you can call in throughout the show to give me your take on what the possible origin of psychopathy the condition of a human being a subset of human beings having the in ability lacking the actual capacity to feel emotions in the physiology to feel the repercussions of what they do through their behaviors to another living being so the call in number to join us here on what on earth is happening eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again the call-in number eight hundred three one three ninety four forty three all right i did that so um i have a couple of quick event announcements and um i i wanna uh let people know i'll be uh doing three radio appearances this week the first will be on alchemy radio with stevie gibbons that is monday april 7 2014 that's from 10 a.m to noon eastern time the website to listen in live on uh that show is alchemyradio.net i will be on cancel the cabal with stephen roberts this is part of people's internet radio you could check that out at peoplesinternetradio.com i'll be on that show on wednesday april 9th from 7 p.m to 9 00 p.m wednesday april 9 7 to 9 cancel the cabal peoples internetradio.com and of course i'll be on down the rabbit hole with popeye great show on the truth frequency network uh truthfrequencyradio.com you can also check out popeye's site i'll be on uh down the rabbit hole with popeye federal jack.com on friday april 11th from 10 pm to midnight eastern time the truth freedom prosperity screening and discussion night will be taking place on the third thursday of every month at the guerin recreation center that's at 1600 jackson street in philadelphia that is taking place thursday april 17th at seven o'clock p.m thursday april 17th 7 o'clock p.m this month we're going to be showing the documentary film i am fish head i am fish head is a documentary about psychopathy about the condition of psychopathy about what it actually is how prevalent it is in society and most of all how human beings allow this condition to continue unchecked because one many of them don't know anything about it and two they won't stand up for their rights and actually do something about it and take right action when it comes to standing up against psychopaths especially the ones that are controlling our society so that's the event announcements i have for tonight also there is a support donation button on the what on earth is happening dot com website uh if you feel that you've gained uh value from the information up on that site and through the radio show and podcast feel free to make a voluntary donation through the donate button on the left hand side of the page uh images for today's show again i always uh usually prepare slides for the show today i only have one it's a light day is regarding uh images that are posted because um again i'm not really gonna introduce a whole lot of new material uh i'm going to basically review uh some things that we've already talked about regarding psychopathy and again i really want to hear people's take on the origins of this condition it's i i feel that's very important because it's a question that is very rarely ever asked how many people are even looking at the causal factor or the origin of this condition where did it come from what put it here with us you know did it develop over time is it something that's natural you know is it something that uh is highly unnatural and uh something uh did this put us in this condition deliberately or possibly inadvertently by accident um you know it you never hear people talking about that because to acknowledge that psychopathy even exists and to understand it you then have to go to that implication where did it come from that's the that's a lot of the reason why a lot of people don't even want to acknowledge it exists i still get emails i told people this last week i tell people this when i'm interviewed on other shows i still get emails from people trying to convince me that psychopaths don't exist at all that there's no such thing as this condition that it's an invented condition you know and and psychiatrists want to make this up so that they could put people on drugs on psychotropic drugs and i realize yeah do a lot of psychologists and psych psychiatrists want to do that absolutely there's no question in my mind that uh there's a lot of invented mental conditions so that they could put people on expensive drugs psychopathy is not one of them ladies and gentlemen and the reason i know that is because i worked with a lot of psychopaths in my past if you're around people like this and you know definitively that they have this condition after understanding a description of it i don't need anybody trying to convince me that this isn't real okay i know it definitively from first-hand experience out around these individuals all right and i'm i'm telling you it isn't just that they became that way over time many of them are just are like that and this is a really great book to read on this whole topic is the sociopath next door by dr martha stout maybe i'll post a link to it in the uh in the podcast uh by the way this is podcast number 150 for what on earth is happening a little bit of a milestone the 150th episode tonight um but uh to go back to what led me into this is uh uh again there's not gonna be a whole lot of uh brand new material for for in-depth study and new material as far as that's concerned tonight i really want to get my your take on the origins of psychopathy and there is one image that goes along with the show tonight it's up on the radio show page or posted with the podcast again this is podcast 150. and it's essentially all of the different possibilities for the origins of psychopathy what i'd like to hear is if anybody has any additional possibilities so we'll go to your calls throughout the show you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us um welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on republic broadcasting i'm your host mark pacio my website what on earth is happening dot com before we go to the phones i just also i want to briefly mention uh we are in the middle of the uh season of the year known as the season of sacrifice i broke it down last week on this show and um uh lo and behold during the week we had a mass shooting in the middle of the season i think actually toward the beginning of the season of sacrifice um clearly a false flag clearly another uh justification for gun control and the further shutdown of an already closed society uh and i just wanted to mention i mean you look at some of the numerology involved the last four fort hood shooting nine killed and they uh they rounded it out real nicely this time four more killed for a total of 13 between the two you know they they love their little number jabs and and and uh you know little games that they play as far as numbers are concerned don't they but um uh just expect more things like this as this 40-day time period unfolds and i wouldn't be you know uh letting down your guard just yet because uh usually around april 20th they have some big things uh in the works april 19th and 20th and then around may first is another big time of the year to watch for uh blood rituals so um just uh you know just talking about it last week and then it happens right right there very shortly thereafter so um i i the the the phones are open for anything anybody wants to talk about actually i i'd prefer to hear about what you think the possible origins of psychopathy are but that we're not limited to that if you want to call in and ask questions about anything i've covered it's fair game so the call-in number to join us 800-313-9443 once again 800-313-9443 to join us on what on earth is happening let's go right to the phones uh bob from cincinnati my friend you are live on what on earth is happening welcome you were too kind thank you mark mark congratulations on 150 episodes this is a great milestone and it was such a pleasure to see you and barb and the other oh bob did we lose you there we did oh bob call right back in producer will put you back through all right call back in bob great to hear from bob from cincinnati it looks like he had some phone problems there uh hopefully we can get him back on uh let's go to uh rafael in indiana raphael you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark nice to speak to you finally um just want to say uh thanks for everything you've been doing and keep up the great work thank you um i have a question sure i'm kind of like being kind of torn and trying to figure out what i'm actually trying to i guess distinguish between um our fronting fathers because you know it seems like they took us out of the old the old order and brought us into like the new world order and that's why i'm getting confused as far as like you know what their real purpose was because some of the founding fathers were freemasons but yet some of them you know try to separate from the old world order so that's you know they kind of want to get your insight on that yeah i've talked about this briefly before um i think there were different factions of the quote founding fathers in this country and some of them were indeed what i would consider light freemasons and were working toward true freedom and were really trying to separate from the crown and trying to uh start a life here uh that was uh unfettered by the psychopathic rule of the old world however they didn't go far enough in their understanding of what true freedom entails um many of them didn't apply that to everyone and uh that came through in their allowing to uh of setting up of institutions such as african american slavery in this country uh that we you know from slaves being brought over from uh africa specifically the ivory coast uh and to allow that to continue unchecked as an institution here in america for you know well over the first hundred years after its founding and uh it's just really an unacceptable uh it was an unacceptable state of affairs it's halfway understanding can't accomplish any modicum of real freedom you know we need to go all the way in our understanding and that's not to say that a lot of the founding fathers didn't have an a good understanding of what real freedom is i mean if you really look at thomas paine he was probably the most enlightened among them and that's why i believe he is highly de-emphasized in the study of the origins of america today because of the people in positions of power and who are writing history now they don't want people to look into thomas paine they don't want people to understand he was an anarchist he was against all forms of any kind of a false religion that holds you back from truth from hold you back from an understanding of morality and natural law so i think while uh specifically a lot of the the founders that were in the northern states had a better understanding if you look at um the uh declaration of independence and how it even was voted upon uh the southern states blocked it because thomas jefferson who yes was a slave owner in uh you know the state of virginia he had already made a verbal contract with uh the slaves that were living on his land to release them from uh their their bonds and uh you know regardless of what this the south was going to do so he deplored the practice to begin with but um it was an institutional way of life in the south and many people just you know that's how they were raised so he took it up and then obviously was ready to set it down and and set it aside and said no this if we want to be free we can't do this to other beings so um he um uh had a a decent understanding and was prepared to do what was necessary to cease that practice uh but um if you look at the the uh southern state representatives during the continental congress they um uh refused and went and they looked at the anti-slavery laws in the declaration of anti-slavery clauses i should say in the declaration of independence and they all were all prepared to to walk out of the uh ratification of the declaration in mass and say we're not going to get behind this we're not going to sign it and it's going to die in committee right here unless you take these clauses out and eventually franklin and adams uh you know uh persuaded jefferson and said we have to fight one battle at a time let's go for independence first and you know we'll we'll uh you know fight this battle you know when we come to it but if we don't get their support the support from the rich states in the south now uh we're not going to have any new new country to uh you know try to set up uh some kind of system of freedom in uh i i feel that that this was the dichotomy that was going on people understood freedom at many different levels and they weren't fully enlightened so i don't take the approach that oh they were all just working toward the crown to try to set up some new slave colony here many of them really wanted true freedom but didn't have a perfect understanding of what it meant to be enlightened or what freedom really meant truly so that's my take on on the founders it's it's uh something that can't be explained in a simple way it's a complex interaction between a whole lot of human beings just like what's taking place today in this country not everybody is has an all the way understanding it's the same dynamic and it's perfect as you said a lot of people are in that child mode where they a lot of a lot of people i talk to they think that uh you know they'll call and say all the founding fathers and a lot of them were christians and this and that and they based this on contrary you know christianity and and it's actually you know totally the opposite they wanted to get rid of you know separate from the old church and old religion so to speak and just start a new you know but i think i think they all had different i think they all had different philosophical and religious beliefs there were christians among the founding fathers there were esoteric christians among the founding fathers there were deists among the founding fathers there were atheists among them there there were also um you know people who uh certain of them uh had an esoteric understanding of mystery traditions like freemasonry or rosicrucianism so it's not a simple dynamic that's one thing it's a complicated dynamic that was taking place there stay with us everyone we'll be right back there's a cool silence that we don't dare speak there's a wall between us that there's nothing wrong there's a code of silence and it can't go wrong welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening i'm your host mark pascio oh bob from cincinnati i was looking forward to hearing his call but unfortunately he uh had some phone problems it was great seeing bob out in asheville north carolina came out actually introduced me as part of my new age bs revisited presentation so uh bob uh keep trying to call back in we'll see if we can get you back on the line let's uh i want to thank rafael in indiana for his uh great question uh regarding you know the nature of the founding fathers what they were really attempting to do and you know ultimately uh failed and i'd have have to admit that it's not to say that a new uh incarnation of the dynamic spirit that uh was uh the original driving force behind this country is impossible to revive but uh because they did not really effectively morally educate the entirety of the population and really communicate those values such in depth to people uh you know this country has fallen into tyranny within a 200 less than 200 year period really probably within less than 100 years actually um so uh you know it's a complicated dynamic like i said and you have to study it from many angles and realize that there were many different agendas at work it is not one thing going on were there agents of the crown operating here absolutely i personally think alexander hamilton was one of them were there really good uh men who were involved in freemasonry who are working toward the uplift and betterment of this country and its people yes believe that as well that's absolutely the case so it's not just one thing uh going on there and people who look at it from a uh unidimensional perspective oh they were masons and so they were bad don't understand what was happening in in this country at that time period in history and nor certainly do nor certainly do they understand anything about what real freemasonry is if they try to just group anybody that uh studies it or um you know tries to convey its teachings uh as as all bad so um let's uh go to another caller let's go to melinda in ecuador melinda you're live on what on earth is happening welcome thank you um i wanted to say thank you mark for for who you are and for sharing some great wisdom to humanity in regards to the real truth and a truth based on your direct experience instead of something you learn from somebody else in an educational institution or website it's one of the key elements in changing the world is being aware of direct experience and the knowing instead of a belief system right and um so a little nervous i've never spoken on a radio show but i i am have direct experience with some of the elements that are functioning that are affecting this planet in a negative way and you're speaking about psychopathy and what i'm becoming aware of is that there's a force that is trying to destroy humanity and um i like i believe that they're reptilians in nature and that they're trying to take over humanity and destroy it through division and also through false education so i wanted to hear your comments on that and and uh that's pretty much it i think yeah i'm going to be getting into the possibility of interventionist of aspect of human origins okay and what that means is that the traditional story that we get from archaeologists and anthropologists and biologists and you know uh p people who uh propagate the darwinian worldview um may not be the whole story there may be something else that has been going on here in the ancient past and really led to the condition that humanity finds itself in now and that's why i'm so focused on this uh the answer to this question of what is the possible origins of the condition of psychopathy because if you look at the rest of nature you know it doesn't really fit in it's something that is an anomaly it's you don't see it in really other species you don't see this level of imbalance in the natural world which is why to me if you look at the one slide for tonight's show on the what on earth is happening.com radio page or with the podcast for today um possibility number one that it is just natural nature caused this condition nature caused psychopathy and as a result led to the current human condition of us being ruled by psychopaths doesn't really hold much water a lot of people will look at this and they'll say this is the most plausible condition uh possibility this is the one that occam's razor applies to that it's the simplest that it's just a naturally occurring phenomenon that it's just a set of characteristics that somehow developed over time within a you know percentage of humanity and this was just some sort of an adaptation that human beings underwent you know uh uh maybe environmental conditions drove it etc to me that makes the least amount of sense when you really look at it in its totality and when you uh you know try to come to an understanding of what led to this condition um you have to look in all the possible places you have to say well if it wasn't a naturally occurring phenomenon or some people may think it was uh you know is this just something that was voiced it upon us that was done to us directly and then you have a bunch of possibilities well that could mean it's just this is the way god wanted it you know if you even believe in god you know do would a creator of the universe be so twisted himself herself itself to say i'm going to create this horrific condition here and just leave it here with this species just because what he doesn't like us it doesn't like us um it just wanted to torment us for some strange unknown purpose you know that that's where god gets this the force of creation gets its jollies from well to me that doesn't make any sense either i think those two possibilities one and two make very little bit of sense in my world view and again that's what this will really i think a discussion of this will will show people like what is your world view do you believe nature does things like this do you believe god does things like this do you believe we do things like this or do you believe possibly that some other form of intelligence does things like this and it's not human nature to do something like this you know possibility three from last week was we did this to ourselves we arrived at some technological civilization in our ancient past and you know we thought we were the kings of the universe and we started tinkering with our own genetic code and inadvertently created this condition in the process i'm not ruling that out i'm i'm saying that's also a possibility i'm not saying that's you know uh couldn't be one of the things one of the things that led to this condition perhaps it is um but to me the thing that makes the most sense is that this is something that was done to us to us as part of our origins as part of the conditions that led to our creation as a species and i don't mean our creation as a species by the god of creation and that opens a whole big can of worms that puts people in a fear-based mind mindset often because we're talking about the unknown and then many people will say well you're going to talk about the current human condition being the result of something that a non-human intelligence did to the human species that's a disempowering thing to put out there for people well the truth is never disempowering if that were the truth i'm not saying it absolutely is i'm saying if it were the truth i think it's a possibility but uh if it were the truth would you not want to know that and be in a position of knowledge knowledge is always going to create empowerment only ignorance creates disempowerment so people i hear people who will say i won't even entertain that notion because it's somehow disempowering and fear-based because if people think they're up against something that's not them it's a different species altogether then they shut down completely and they don't want to get involved because they think there's nothing they can do about it and i tell people can you please point to me the place where i ever said ever ever ever there is nothing we can do about our condition because you will never find it you'll never find that in any record of anything i've ever stated the only thing i've said that there's nothing we can can do anything about is the existence of natural law because those are the boundary conditions of the 3d universe they're the boundary conditions of the creation itself and those laws are in place and there is nothing we can do about that except understand that they're in place understand how they work and then choose whether to live in harmony with them or not so we'll go back to the phones on the other side of this break plenty of callers in queue bring whatever questions you have if you want to give your take on the origins of psychopathy that's also welcome we'll be right back folks don't go anywhere um welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening i'm your host mark pacio my website what on earth is happening.com so let's uh continue to go to the phone lines uh fred in georgia you're live on what on earth is happening dot com uh on what on earth is happening welcome hey thanks mark how are you doing i'm doing well uh good i am calling you because i have uh feet on the ground in the trenches with causality known experience with psychopathy okay go right ahead have you ever heard of something called reactive attachment disorder no okay reactive attachment disorder is very common when you adopt kids from eastern european countries and it's because they grew up in orphanages there's a movie that you should find and seek out that we'll explain it to you i think in pictures more than my words could tell you it's called the border b-o-a-r-d-r okay okay uh and what happens essentially wait before i forget before i go into this um i would like if you can i've heard you mentioned it a couple of times to do a show on the original christianity yeah i've essentially done that show already with uh bob from cincinnati on occult empire uh i uh we did an entire show on occult empire on the rosicrucian tradition which is esoteric christianity uh that goes back to the gnostic tradition and the original uh christian tradition in the in the middle east and the turn of the first century uh but it's essentially the same tradition uh one is just the western esoteric variant of that tradition but are you specifically referring to gnosticism or the essene tradition well i think that's probably kind of what i'm referring to because i want to find the original and um yeah if it's in the podcast i'm only up to like 59 now so i would say every real mystery tradition school of thought is teaching that tradition regardless of where its origin is what time period of the world if you want to talk about real christianity it predates the the birth of christ in biblical terms uh that tradition was was still being taught thousands of years before christ was ever born as jesus you know um whether you believe in that as a historical personage or not or you think it's an astro theological allegory is not the point the point is that that tradition the actual gnosis the knowledge of natural law and the knowledge of the way to actually be in the world is the original christian tradition regardless of what other name you want to call it uh true esoteric kabbalah is that tradition true esoteric freemasonry is that tradition true esoteric rosicrucianism is that tradition the tarot tradition of the ancient world is that tradition they were all teaching the same essential elements regarding life regarding the nature of consciousness and regarding natural law and they were they were they were just different systems of correspondences and symbols and uh you know word systems uh t of just teaching people through parable through allegory etc they were just different ways of expressing the same overarching concepts that this tradition's been around since time immemorial it's been here for as long as humanity has been here uh that knowledge really can never be erased and can never be destroyed it can only be um basically uh darkened over you know you could cover it up for a time you know like you could cover somebody's body with a thick blanket or cloth and you know prevent them from seeing what's on the other side of that veil but you what's on the other side is always going to be there you know and it's just a matter of time until we remove the things that have veiled our sight and we'll be able to see and understand uh that those teachings for what they really are and understand they've always been here so uh really if you if you want to get down to it i've really already talked about this in past shows if you want to go back to the shows on kabbalah or freemasonry or you know the show that i did with bob from cincinnati on his show uh occult empire on rosicrucianism they all touch on what i consider to be the true original esoteric tradition it's all one tradition really if you ask me well and that's the feeling i get and and i'm comforted when you say that because um yes that that is the definite feeling when i'm listening to all this stuff so i'll go on to uh the next request i have for you then i'll go into my psychopathy thing um if you can't get jay back on to talk more about um how to help people with psychopathy because um the kids that come from these russian orphanages i think are a clue yes and what you're talking about there fred is secondary psychopathy because they're not psychopaths necessarily from birth this is happening because of the conditions that they're in at a very young age and that's it there's a big difference we have to delineate that difference certainly between primary and secondary psychopathy so those individuals i do believe can be helped without any question without any doubt in my mind secondary psychopathy is reversible with a lot of work with a lot of attention with a lot of care it is reversible primary psychopathy on the other hand is a totally different story and i should have placed in my slide ladies and gentlemen this is a kind of an oversight on my part but i'm assuming that people know what i mean when i'm talking about the origins of psychopathy i mean the origins of primary psychopathy or what's been called genetic psychopathy or psychopathy from birth as a condition as a condition in the human genome that is a defect in the human genome i'm not talking about psychopathy that is generated or brought on by traumatic conditions whether early on in life or later in life so that i should qualify that and perhaps even change the slide and say the possible origins of primary psychopathy and humanity uh the the form that fred here is talking about ladies and gentlemen is uh secondary psychopathy that is is taken on through traumatic circumstance in life and then the emotions get numbed out of the individual and this can happen at a young age so um i absolutely think that's a great idea i think jay has a jay parker who you're speaking of has a lot of great uh techniques for that i've talked about some techniques that can help to balance the mind ultimately you really have to have a lot of people in a caring environment working on that individual that's really what it's going to take one person's not going to do it one just kind of knowledge or techniques not going to do it it's going to take a multifaceted approach from multiple individuals who deeply care and that's what we're really up against ladies and gentlemen we're up against that that's our work that that work that that fred here is talking about to help reverse the condition of a secondary psychopath in in early life that's really our work all the people out there who are still asleep you know they're in this condition of not caring and it mimics secondary psychopathy and they don't care and they don't have knowledge and it's it's our work we have to come together as people who are knowledgeable as people who do know what's going on as people who do care and make that be something that is an infectious energy that propagates to to these people we can't do it one but one on one it doesn't work that way you've heard the adage that like you have to hear something seven different times from seven times from at least seven different people for to even become part of your uh world view that you will even entertain that you will even consider as a possibility let alone understanding and looking into it for yourself and then going you know to uh acquire knowledge about it and understand that it may be true um this is the great work this is the work that i keep talking about that really is ours to do we have to come together and team up on people you know forget about one person trying to convince one other person you're not going to get very far that way just like one person working on one psychopath they're not going to get very far it's going to be very arduous difficult painstaking work that's going to take all the life energy out of that person believe me we need to team up on people we need to bring people information in numbers all at the same time when they hear it from multiple different people then they're going to start saying hey there's something to this they hear from one person it makes that very easy to dismiss that's how the mind works unfortunately that's how we consider the source for a varas for veracity or truthfulness of information unfortunately we say what's my initial impressive impression of this person oh it's not it's not that i totally trust them well then what they're saying can't be true you know we'll pick this up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen stay tuned don't never freedom man that's what it's all about you've got to groove on freedom like the good book says welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening into the second hour of the show this evening uh fred in georgia you had uh uh wanted to uh wrap up your uh comments and uh insights and now we'll move on to some other calls so uh you could finish up go right ahead i will thanks mark first off let me tell you that um your information i think is helping me help my son because he is the secondary psychopathy i think uh by the virtue of being reactive attachment disorder um and natural law is a good rule to be able to explain to him sure and and also the the causal factor of that condition you're probably well aware is the that parental abandonment issue that lies underneath you know it is and and i think based on what i've heard from you it's the destruction of the feminine pillar of care like there's a lack of empathy yeah right and uh it's interesting because i don't know if this has any anything to do with that but he was tested for iq and he's at 98 right his intelligence i'm sorry his intellect he had no problem with the intellect right right his intellect is very high and and he's he's a sweet kid but he's completed his activity and um and you were talking about secondary and primary psychopathy have you ever seen the movie um the uh green lantern i did yes that that is entirely about care the generative principle the green energy the hard energy and they liken it to will because the will is driven by true care you know so that's what that's the force they call that in that movie great movie actually it is you remember the the primary villain wants to make everyone else ugly right right and you know i i i propose to you perhaps the dark occultists being psychopaths themselves want to propagate to capitalism of course if you look at the general trends in society um two parents working uh no close attachment um it really generates this kind of psychology it's atomization it's it's uh basically driving a wedge between everybody in society creating a world whose where the value system is about dog eat dog you know and atomizing people so that they never really come together in in a focused way in a caring way you know that that's what their all their rituals are about the cremation of care ritual is about the destruction of that feminine force that energy of care you know because they know care is what generates our entire reality what we care enough to put our attention on and then put our willpower behind is what gets manifested that's th that's the law of creation that's the law of attraction the real one you know so uh very very powerful insights i'm glad you really understand what they're really trying to do fred because uh many people never come to that understanding and uh they are trying to propagate this disease absolutely they want people to be like them and uh we have to fight that and and you fight that by caring enough and i wish you all the best with your son and i want to thank you for your call and uh i think it can be done it you you're obviously going to have to work on it very very in a very focused way with a lot of other people i i would my best advice in a situation like that i'm not going to just tell you exactly how to do it because there's so many different approaches but my best advice is don't try to take all that onto your own shoulders by yourself work with other people with this individual that you're talking about that you're trying to build up out of that condition the more people who understand the condition and are helping you to do it with willpower i think the better success rate that you'll have the better success you're going to have with with that uh endeavor so all my best to you uh bob from cincinnati back in the queue bob welcome back to what on earth is happening sorry you got cut off last time oh thank thank you mark and and uh i'm so glad i got back through um i missed the last portion of the show and i'll have to go back and check it out but uh thank you once again for your voice from all of us out here on 150 episodes it is a it is such an honor to speak to you again on your relaunch show here on republic broadcasting what on earth has happened definitely and bob it was great hanging out with you in north carolina we had a really great time after the new age bs and the suppression of the sacred masculine revisited seminar that i gave there in asheville we all hung out had a nice meal uh talked until about midnight that that evening and uh just really all got together and had a great time and share a lot of great ideas so it was a great great to see you there and and your wife was there as well and it was just an all-around great time thank you yes it was and uh um i've recently put up a few shows some commentaries i've i've posted your um natural law real law of attraction in new haven connecticut yale lecture um as four parts for occult empire but i i did a little intro and i spoke about how it was such a pleasure and how i had to elbow three or four people just to get near you at that after party uh mark entered mark entertained us entertained our questions it was a one-on-one session over a couple of brews with mark cassio that's right i wouldn't have passed i wouldn't have passed that up for uh uh dinner with the uh the uh top of the the food chain mark uh at the at their new york finery but but uh but thank you for taking my call it was such a wonderful time um freeman fly was there she came up from south carolina freeman and jamie they were both there i mean it was it was just awesome afterward because again you could relax with the formalities of a formal presentation and just relate to people as an individual and as friends you know as people who are all trying to do get the same thing accomplished so that was probably my favorite part of the whole evening and uh the whole weekend and like i was saying before we i i feel that there were teachers who were there there were people who are teaching this information not just coming and hearing about it and learning about it themselves they're at the point where they're getting ready to transition and start teaching this information and that's what gave me a lot of hope at the asheville seminar i think it was uh really great and rejuvenating uh you know for me to see that amongst the people who attended and uh as i told people last week i did recover the audio the audio sounds good it wasn't audio recorded at the computer on the stage but it was recorded through a microphone through the air but it was good quality a good quality recorder obviously and i am working on the video as we speak uh so that should be forthcoming within hopefully a couple of weeks at the most uh my video editing skills are not the uh the sharpest or the fastest but i i you know uh charge my way through it and i'll get a decent video out there uh within a reasonable amount of time so look for that at least within the next month yes our our good new friend steve from florida saved the day yes he did and uh what a great person he's going to be a teacher of this information he already really is i mean what a great guy you know uh you could just tell by talking to him how genuine he was and that's the same dynamic i got from everybody there they're they're they're not only hungry for this information they're hungry to start presenting it to other people that's what we need more of absolutely yes more more voices out there uh just doing whatever they can uh posting a blog uh on one of the blog blogspot or wordpress.com uh going on to the radio shows uh like uh my blog talk of course is my venue uh but there's talk shoot everybody guys get out there uh get your voices out there uh speak natural law as you know it uh it is worthwhile uh mark uh any determination on these psychopaths what uh what's driving uh the the psychopath well like i was saying they they want everybody to be as miserable as they are uh you know there's a great carlos castaneda quote regardless of what anyone thinks of of castaneda you know because he put out allegories as kind of like you know real life stories uh but uh i personally really like his work and i think it's the the underlying philosophical messages in the work that are important not what the actual condition was this is where people always get hung up you know what you know was he really there with this guy was he a real guy is he making it up folks he's putting the uh philosophical understanding into an allegorical work of fiction and there's nothing wrong with doing that okay uh you could get all on his case because he may have passed it off as an actual series of events but you know whatever it does the work stand on its own for the value it's trying to teach people i feel that it does and he talks about the predator mindset the don juan character talks about maybe i'll try to find that during one of the breaks and read it to people because it's all about the the condition of psychopathy and how these controllers try to propagate it bob great to hear from you thanks so much for calling we'll see you on the other side of this break we'll be right back folks education we don't need welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening i'm your host mark pascio i want to actually uh give people another couple of real quick brief announcements uh i'm going to be in st louis missouri uh it's shaping up to be a pretty good event uh it's going to be taking place at the end of may i think it's the last day of may may 31st so uh keep that date in mind i'm going to announce some definite details on it within the next week so uh look for that to go up on my website and i'll be talking about here next week as well when i get more uh fully confirmed details but the date is set for may 31st in st louis missouri so that's going to be the next uh seminar that i'm giving uh also i just want to i put the word out there in an interview this week that's on my news section of my uh my website what on earth is happening.com but uh i figured i'd announce it here officially tonight for the first time that there is going to be a what on earth is happening book it's actively in the works right now and i'm working with an editor to make that happen so uh there will be probably more than one volume at some point but at least the first volume i'm hoping that uh between myself and the editor i'm working with we can uh collaborate on this project and get it done within uh maybe a year's time so uh within the next year there's going to probably be a book out called what on earth is happening and uh hopefully it will be the first in a series so people have been really hammering on me to put this information out there in written form and uh with the gentleman that i'm working with uh hopefully we could make that happen uh within a short order of time i'm really excited about the whole project and i think it's going to be really great when we do finally publish this in uh in a physical book form so for uh hardcore readers out there and for people who prefer the written form format uh the written media uh you know this book is gonna be uh it's gonna hit huge when it finally hits and um you know it will make a great gift for people too who you might want to wake up to what's really going on so uh you know just thought i'd throw that out here for the first time and uh you know i'm now i'm sure lots of people will hound me by email when's this going to be actually out and and and done uh it'll be finished when it's finished that's the answer and uh but uh uh just wanted to let people know it is in the works so that's a really great news and it's big news because the spoken word is my preferred format not so much the written word but i do realize the importance of putting something like that out there and uh we're gonna make it happen so um let's uh let's go back to the phone so let's talk to oh let's talk to alex in new hampshire alex you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark thank you for taking my call absolutely well i have two brief questions sure uh the first question is uh so these uh these people with this occultic knowledge they understand natural law and they understand how it works right and if that's if that's the case why would they try to do such great evil to humanity knowing that um they're going to get a spiritual kick in the butt okay i have answered this question before on previous what on earth is happening podcast but it is very important okay the answer is they are not the ones doing the evil ultimately the ones who are really controlling the dynamic are issuing the orders to other individuals to carry them out by following their orders the order followers are the ones who are doing this with their behavior with their actions to the people of humanity they are the ones who actually accomplish the task so that is the answer how do they think that they are going to escape from the brunt of the karmic consequences of natural law because they're not the ones actually performing the actions order followers are namely the police and the military the people who are going to take upon their life force upon their soul the deepest karmic consequence when it comes to natural law consequences are the people who actually do the violent actions that they have no right to perform against other individuals and those individuals throughout history have been the dupes the pawns the dogs of these individuals who do understand how this works and that is how they are insulating themselves from those consequences because they're not the ones doing them all they're doing is moving their lips they're writing things down on paper writing things down on paper typing at a keyboard moving their lips what are they actually physically doing has anybody been hardcore assaulted by uh david rockefeller or uh you know uh jacob the rothschild recently they they wielded any uh m4 rifles in anybody's head late of late i i don't i don't see that happening and i'm not making excuse for their level of evil please don't see it as such i'm just answering if they understand how natural law operates how are they insulating themselves against the negative effects of it by continuing to propagate evil it's because they're not actually taking the actions other people take the actions and then the consequences get brought down upon those individuals for the most part it's not to say that there aren't going to be any consequences for the kind of false ideas that they've propagated there are consequences for them they've chosen those less severe consequences because i've told people this before ladies and gentlemen listen very carefully to what i'm about to say okay if i had to choose if someone let's say the creator of the universe somehow manifested itself and said you must choose and you have no choice in the matter you must choose between these two eventualities you will go into the body or into the place of one of the psychopathic world controllers who has actually uh tried to to wield influence in this world and convince other people to do their bidding okay or you must go into the body or into the place of one of the people who followed their orders and actually committed those wrongdoings without asking the question is this something that i should be doing because it's morally right and i have a right to do it in a heartbeat i take the situation where i would go into the body or in the place of the world controller in a heartbeat without even thinking about it for a first second because the karmic the brunt of the karmic consequence is always going to be the strongest the deepest the darkest for the individual who carries out the action and no one wants to hear that spoken no one you want to talk about the one of the most painful things there ever is to hear it's what i just laid out right there folks though that's why they call it a police state they don't call it a bank or state folks they don't call it a politician state nor is it called a lawyer state or a judge state okay or a corporation state it's called a police state a totalitarian closed society for a reason it's called that because those are the people who ultimately make it happen who ultimately create that actuality playing out in life experience without those people taking those actions that actuality cannot form cannot manifest in reality get it through your heads ladies and gentlemen that's how the laws of karmic consequence work and that's these controllers know it and they've done a masterful job of getting other people to do their dirty work for them and they continue to do it they continue to just absolutely lick the rear end of these lunatic psychopaths and say yes master can i have another can i have another beating keep some more abuse on me call me your dog they love it they can't get enough of it we'll be right back you know the day destroys the night night divides the day try this is what on earth is happening and i'm your host mark pascio my website what on earth is happening dot com we were talking to alex in new hampshire before the break he has the question about um you know if the controllers of this world understand natural law and know that it's an effect why do they try to break it and disobey it and my answer was they really don't they get people to do that dirty work for them and just as a one uh addendum to what i said before the break i just want to tell make the statement on the air in no uncertain terms very equivocally the most evil people in this world are not the people who issue the commands the most evil people in this world are those who follow them order followers are the depths of evil ladies and gentlemen get as offended as you like scream and and bang on the walls cry in your milk i don't care what you think of that statement it's the truth i'm not here to blow smoke up your rear end i'm not here to make you feel good about the truth the truth is ugly i'm not here to win a popularity contest or have you like me it's not why i do this believe me if i just wanted to be liked i'd be telling people what they wanted to hear all day long the most evil people in this world are people who follow other people's orders i don't care if those orders are high-minded with the best of intentions and even possibly in alignment with morality it wouldn't even matter if they were those if the orders were in alignment with morality to just blindly follow is still an evil act because you are giving up the gift of the creator free will free will to choose for yourself right action over wrong action once you clearly understand the difference there is no conscience in following any order any order no matter how well intentioned conscience does not exist within that being because conscience is the knowledge of the definitive difference between objective moral behavior and objective immoral behavior the objective difference between those two modalities of behavior and as long as somebody is following orders they're not exercising their conscience by definition by definition i hope that definitively answers my stance on that and it's good this is good because to clarify things like that that's why i like to do these question and answer shows we really need to do more of them so people get a clarified understanding of the teachings that i've been putting out on these topics and my take on you know uh on what they have to ask okay uh i'd like to do it more i really do have to move to newer material though because i'm trying to build up to a new thesis and uh i'm slowly on on unfurling that and unpacking it but uh this show is kind of like a build up to that uh and i like taking questions like that so uh i believe alex you had a second question i'll let you come back and finish your second question yes thank you very much for the clarification sure um the second question is have you ever heard of a guy named graham hancock sure i was wondering what you thought about his work on the roots of humanity and ayahuasca i like grant graham hancock's work i think his work with the lost civilization uh in particular that three-part series that he did years ago was was brilliant it was phenomenal um i uh i like his work that he's done with uh anthogenic compounds in the book i believe it was uh supernatural i think his work is is very good um i don't think that you know he gets into some of the areas that someone like myself gets into when it comes to the dark occult not many people do because a lot of them don't have that firsthand knowledge and you know they don't want to get into the speculation so in that sense he doesn't cover the the darkness aspect of what's going on i would say to the extent of some other researchers but nonetheless i i feel his work is pretty solid and uh i think uh people's worldview would begin to expand and open up if they uh took a look at his information about uh lost civilizations uh so i highly recommend his work and of people who he worked with like robert pouval for for that particular information and i think he's uh he's coming online to really understand how deeply controlled this society is and absolutely speaking out against it which i commend him for so uh i've i've no problem with graham's work and i think a lot of people should check it out okay very good thank you very much for taking my call tonight sure you got it alex all right let's uh go to another caller um let's uh hear from milton in minnesota milton you're live on what on earth is happening welcome well thank you so much i love your program and i think that there's a hesitancy recognize when you talk about psychopathy the real evil geniuses behind this a lot of people don't want to recognize colonel tom parker uh who laid out the original plan and even has been commented you know on rbn we have uh deanna sangolo one of the hosts on rbn during that time period uh had been living with turtle tampa and had dated help because she had dated elvis presley and was intimate knowledge of the secret society sure the freemasons who were behind all of this you see now the cia was involved but not to the extent as much as the jesuits the jesuit priests were all behind this along with uh what's the name of that one association that they call it oh yeah the illuminati they were there's such a uh interlocking connection of orders of uh interconnected societies that have all been working toward the same agenda it it it's just it's a hodgepodge it's it's again it's a hierarchy a hierarchy that's built upon um order following built upon uh doing things that you are asked without question because you will receive favors in return uh protecting your your brothers in the network you know your compatriots within the network and uh it's it's a it's a spider's web of interconnectivity that's what we have to understand that it's no one particular group it is a group of psychopathic entities that have all come together that they've all said we can't accomplish this dark work on our own we have to come together and say we're going to work together toward this end goal toward this end game you know that's what they do they're very effective at putting their minds together they call it in the dark occult a mastermind literally this is their name for this uh construct okay what see when we consider the term mastermind people think one person and they're the big planner and everybody else follows them that's not what a mastermind is in the dark occult world a mastermind is a group of individuals that are focused intently on the same work they come together they form one large mind okay all focused on that end goal that end game and they will let nothing deter them from their path they're unified in how they think in the methodologies they're going to use to accomplish that goal they're they're unified in their dark form of care it isn't empathic care but it's it's focused intent it's saying i care about getting this done so much this is what i want more than anything else more than anything else in life and that's a form of care i call it dark care because it's not really empathic care it's not emotion-based care it's just i care so much about getting this done i'm gonna make it my my ultimate goal and i'm going to focus all my energy on it no matter what it takes so they have that as well so they have the intellect they have care in the form of dark care and they have the will to act and they're unified on those fronts so the universe is going to respect entities like that even if they're dark and evil because if they're unified and their thoughts emotions and actions are working on the same page toward the same goal on a focused effort then the universe is going to grant them what they want even if it's something that's bad for other people and people can't comprehend that they they get angry at me for saying that how could you say the universe is going to give them what they want easy because they're unified and we're not the universe respects unity consciousness even if that unity consciousness happens to be dark unity consciousness it's going to respect unity over divisiveness and that's why they're on the same page they're working as a tight-knit unit for the same goals we're all over the place the site of freedom and good and order is all over the place scattered to the four winds on the of the earth can't get together over the basics which is natural law that needs to come first everything else is ancillary to that everything else is icing on the cake until you understand the laws of morality you understand nothing we'll put this up on the other side folks don't go anywhere welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening i want to thank milton from minnesota for his call previously yeah he brought up colonel tom parker you know the former uh handler of elvis presley and uh kind of uh reminded me of the interview i did uh a while back with with bob from cincinnati on his show occult empire on alchemy and we talked about the killing of the king ritual i actually uh recently went back and uh checked out a youtube video that somebody made with some imagery uh from that interview and isolated that particular section where we talked about the killing of the king ritual a lot of people don't know what this ritual is it's a blood sacrifice ritual they bring it out every now and again whenever there's an influential person most of the time an influential male in society who has a some kind of a synchro mystic resonance with the king and what the king represents is sovereignty and what the king represents is natural law again the last slide from my uh natural law seminar was lex rex meaning the law is king natural law is king it's enthroned it's god's law on the throne of heaven that's the macrocosmic uh force at the top of the macrocosmic tree of life of the the second tree of the tarot uh if you lay out the tarot cards according to the kabbalistic tree uh the the major arcana is split into two uh two um half halves of 11 cards each and then you take the first and last card which represents the soul and the micro and the macrocosmic world so the microcosm and the macrocosm they would be the dot cards on that tree of life and if you lay out the numbered cards uh you know 1 to 10 and then 11 to 20 on the two respective trees of life in this system of correspondences you have the the magician which is the mastered self at the top of the microcosmic tree and you have natural law or the justice card the king which represents god at the top of the macro cosmic tree god's law you know god's law rules the universe and man rules himself if he is the magician if he is the sovereign you know he then he's in the image and likeness of the creator he's not the creator of the universe but he's in his image and likeness one who is like the creator uh because he's a creator of his own experience in a way that reflects wisdom you know it's not claiming to be god it's not what's being said there it's saying that we reflect the values and the intelligence and the wisdom of the creator when we rule ourselves in a wise fashion instead of trying to rule someone else or allowing ourselves to be ruled by psychopathic lunatics so um maybe i'll post that video with the podcast i think it's uh really you know can clarify about not only blood rituals that we may see during the season of sacrifice but uh very powerful uh imagery regarding uh you know how these uh psychopaths work to try to kill a symbol you know they're either killing the goddess in some kind of blood ritual you know like columbine high school virginia tech school shooting the columbia space shuttle disaster you name it constantly events named after the goddess you know that are ultimately blood sacrifice rituals and then they have this killing of the king ritual where if somebody really wields a lot of influence and is also coming online to uh taking a moral position they like to take them out especially if they have any resonance with the king like the king uh elvis presley uh the king of pop michael jackson who was starting to speak out against the lunatics in power um you know uh john f kennedy who had camelot that's a resident resonator for king arthur you know and they you know took him out martin luther king etcetera and i touch on this symbolism you know the name symbolism in the uh you know interview that i did with bob but uh i think i i will post that video with this podcast just uh for people to check it out and then you can go and check out the full podcast in in the news section or at uh occult empire uh also i think i want to read on the other side of this next break coming up i did find this um excerpt from i believe it's the book the active site of infinity by carlos castaneda where he explains the mindset of the psychopath he calls it the predator and he gives his take don juan at least gives his take in in this allegory where did the predator mindset come from and how does it control humanity it's a great excerpt i'll i'll read it when i have time in the next segment but let's go back to the phones uh and uh take some more calls uh david from ontario you're live on what on earth is happening welcome david hey how are you doing mark doing well yeah i had a i put a couple of uh post couple things on the uh the um chat wing anyways one of them was the idea that i heard from my father about that human beings had actually gotten this time consciousness level and sophistication and technology perhaps even greater yet failed in evolving and of course like like we are right now at a point where if societies that have nuclear power we're actually to have a serious outbreak of illness or breakdown in society who the heck is going to turn and operate equipment yeah that keeps all these you react we may already be in that scenario uh mr gunderson who's a physicist has been saying since uh fukushima has happened that we may already experiencing that it's a time warp effect and down the road we'll all be gone and this whole thing will reset and it's gonna take such a long time that unless you built it out of stone even then it might not exist again and look what you're going to do to all the other species that didn't deserve that fate you know oh absolutely that's that's the part of like where i've become a vegetarian by way of my wife coming to understand through netflix and i used to joke around how how am i i'm a vegetarian because my wife came with vegetarian food because of netflix and watching all the great um informative documentaries are available there and then on the internet anyways sure and then now through what i've learned from you i'm on one 143 now of your podcast and i'll go back and go over them there's so much information and i've experienced so many such as profound change in my life and i've been on this path and never really hadn't realized and you have allowed you've been a great way shower you've shown me a direction to now i've gone on to going on to more this is never going to stop for me well i appreciate that and that's what i'm here to do i'm just i'm just following my calling as it was laid out for me you know what i mean i mean i understand you know that's all that's what we're all here to do really it's just some of us are starting to remember it and do it that's all that's what i'm that's my next thing i i've got a lot of technology that i could i've always wanted to put forth and use some of my music talents that i have to to to achieve that goal but but that's that's besides the point um the other thing i was wanted to ask is like like corporations like i put is it not strange that corporation governments behave in a psychopathic behavior is this not the quantum the fact people advocating or at least claiming to advocate their sovereignty their sovereign responsibilities exactly as above so below as within so without you know we take on those non-values within ourselves what do you think is going to reflect in the outside seemingly outside world it's just a mirror it's just the mirror of what's inside of us that's why people don't want to hear if you want to change the world you got to change yourself you have to do things differently than you've always done you can't just keep doing the same thing and expecting a different result doesn't work like that yeah you're absolutely right that structure is just a reflection you know it's a reflection of people wanting to abdicate that sovereignty abdicate that personal responsibility and just have someone else take that responsibility for them and it can't be done you can only claim you're doing that you're still ultimately responsible for what you create what we all create we are responsible for for the law of principle corresponds as i'm i've been put to i'm reading the caballon understanding these hermetic teachings right i want to you know uh but anyways correspondence is that like you know the hottest day the the closest day that our northern hemisphere is to our sun is june 21st correct right yet the hottest days are always after sure okay and i was on the i started you know the 2012 phenomena and you know all these focus focus whatever i mean just they're not i'm just kind of getting on top what i'm trying to say is that so i've these people are talking about how the sun i now i understand how actually the sun actually moves through space and around the supermassive black hole and it's spinning so fast that it's gravitational plane and energies are on a plane that's why all galaxies are flattened and and like pi later they're flattened right and they're spinning around that thing yet the most powerful razor the gamma radiation is coming out right down that plane and we passed that plane in 2000 1998. and so those energies will be arriving just as the hottest days of the summer after the solstice i hear you great point david thanks for the call we'll continue with your calls on the other side of this break stay with us you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back don't you ever freedom man that's what it's all about welcome back everyone this is our number three of tonight's edition of what on earth is happening i'm your host mark pascio my website what on earth is happening dot com taking your calls today the number to join us 800-313-9443 once again the call-in number to join us 800-313-9443 i want to read this excerpt from a carlos castaneda book i believe it's the active site of infinity if i'm not mistaken where this quote comes from uh don juan the mexican yaki indian shaman tells carlos castaneda the following in this excerpt quote we have a predator that came from the depths of the cosmos and took over the rule of our lives human beings are its prisoners the predator is our lord and master it has rendered us docile helpless if we want to protest it suppresses our protest if we want to act independently it demands that we don't do so i have been beating around the bush all this time insinuating to you that something is holding us prisoner indeed we are held prisoner this was an energetic fact for the sorcerers of ancient mexico they took us over because we are food for them and they squeeze us mercilessly because we are their sustenance just as we rear chickens in chicken coops the predators rear us in human coops humaneros therefore their food is always available to them carlos castaneda replies to don juan no no this is absurd don juan what you're saying is something monstrous it simply can not be true for sorcerers or for average men or for anyone and don juan responds calmly why why be why not because it infuriates you you know that's why it can't be true you haven't heard all the claims yet i want to appeal to your analytical mind think for a moment and tell me how you would explain the contradictions between the intelligence of man the engineer and the stupidity of his systems of belief or the stupidity of his contradictory behavior sorcerers believe that the predators have given us our systems of belief and our ideas of good and evil our social moors they are the ones who set up our hopes and expectations and dreams of success or failure they have given us covetousness greed and cowardice it is the predators who make us complacent routineary and ego maniacal but how can they do this don juan carlos asked somehow angered even further but by what don juan was saying do they whisper all that in our ears while we are asleep no they don't do it that way that's idiotic don juan said smiling they are infinitely more efficient and organized than that in order to keep us obedient and meek and weak the predators engage themselves in a stupendous maneuver stupendous of course from the point of view of a fighting strategist a horrendous maneuver from the point of view of those who suffer it they gave us their mind do you hear me the predators gave us their mind which becomes our mind the predator's mind is baroque contradictory morose filled with the fear of being discovered any minute now i know that even though you have never suffered hunger you have food anxiety which is none other than the anxiety of the predator who fears that at any moment now its maneuver is going to be uncovered and food is going to be denied it through the mind which after all is their mind the predators inject into the lives of human beings whatever is convenient for them and they ensure in this manner a degree of security to act as a buffer against their fear the sorcerers of ancient mexico were quite ill at ease with the idea of when the predator made its appearance on earth they reasoned that man must have been a complete being at one point with stupendous insights feats of awareness that are mythological legends nowadays and then everything seems to disappear and we now have a sedated man what i am saying is that we have against us not a simple predator it is very smart and very organized it follows a methodical system to render us useless man the magical being that he is destined to be is no longer magical he is an average piece of meat there are no more dreams for man but the dreams of an animal who is being raised to become a piece of meat trite conventional and imbecilic that's from carlos castaneda's the active site of infinity and while don juan there might be putting out a very dark world view i would ask people to listen to what he's actually saying there that a predator that is not part of us has come from the depths of the cosmos and took over this place took over the rule of our lives and they did it by the stupendous maneuver of infecting us with their mindset with their worldview with their ideology our mind is now working as their mind we are taking up their ways we have taken up their ways they gave us he says they gave us our systems of belief they gave us our systems of belief all of our religions all of them not just some of them all of them they gave us the monetary system okay they gave us the slavery system called government and yet we propagated because we have their same mindset very very very difficult for people to hear don juan didn't want i'm sorry carlos castaneda didn't want to hear it from this wise man he didn't want to hear it and wha don juan asked him why can't it be when when carlos castaneda says this is absurd it can't be true he says why not why can't that be true because you get mad at it so you're the arbiter of truth of what happened here in the ancient past long before you were born see this is where people's mindset that won't look at possibilities that may have occurred i'm not telling you you have to accept it as gospel truth but if your mind is close to the possibility that something here happened in our ancient past that we are loath to accept and understand because of how uncomfortable it is you know we may never understand our true origins if that's our mindset we may never understand what put us in our current condition in our current mental condition first and foremost and what created all these disorders these genetic disorders and defects in the human genome human beings have four over 4 000 specific genetic disorders within the human genome no other animal on this planet has that many genetic defects in its genome none zero we're the only animal that's not naturally adapted to living on the surface of this planet except the other animals that we genetically modified like the domesticated dog and cat you know why would that be the case and people will say that's just natural that's how evolution worked upon us i i don't think that's how evolution works period i don't i don't really accept that personally i think that's a a twisted darwinian world view that is actually really stretching for an explanation i don't think it has occam's razor applied whatsoever to tell you the truth not a bit not at all so you know we'll go to the phones after this uh next break and uh hopefully we could you know take more questions or maybe hear your take on this call in number to join us 800 800-313-9443 stay with us everyone we'll be right back we go we gotta wake up from our sleep if it is our soul that we want to keep very eloquent words and the only way we're going to wake up is by developing an open mind when it comes to looking at the possibilities of where the conditions that we are currently experiencing came from ladies and gentlemen you have a closed mind to that good luck because you're never going to understand the possible origins of our species and let me tell you what one of the best methods of controlling the human species is you cut them off from the knowledge of their origins you have a people who you can cut a people you can cut off from the knowledge of their true origins are a people that you're going to be able to control and enslave almost indefinitely but they haven't succeeded at this they're not going to succeed at it you know the other thing is i i feel that this um i want to go back to this first possibility real quick before going to the phones this possibility that oh it's just all natural the whole psychopathy you know interspecies predation it's a natural development this is like some people think some morons i should say think that this is this is the epitome of humanity this is the apex of evolutionary development and these are the alpha humans that don't have the ability to feel i actually hear this i see i've read this in forums with people discussing psychopathy people praising this condition this sickness this illness of the mind praising it as if it's something that's great and should be aspired to like a psychopath in training it's really a secondary psychopath looking up to his owners to his masters you know i mean it really is the mindset of the perfect slave if you really want to get down to brass tacks and call it what it is you know it's it goes hand in hand this whole world view goes hand in hand with this notion that since it's been like this it always has to be this way must be that way can't be any other way i mean i just feel sorry for anybody that that has that world view it's it's it's amazing how many people are stuck there too unbelievable how many people are trapped in that mental condition and that's what it means to have the predator's mind and that means you're going to be locked in the cage called the slavery condition on the earth for a long long long time as long as that's the mindset expect resistance from creation and don't expect freedom do not expect it you pay lip service to that all you want okay and say yeah i want to be free i want there to be freedom i want there to be justice well good luck when that's your mindset your mindset is actually propagating the exact reverse of that and you know people are a long way off from really understanding how this works you know that the mind is ultimately creating the reality we experience if you want things to be different the mind must change i mean that's from day one what i've been saying on this podcast on this radio show until you go in and change the way you think about what you believe to be true don't expect external conditions to change magically it must be changed from the level of mind before it is changed at the level of manifestation so as long as your mindset is exactly what uh carlos castaneda is explaining there told by the character don juan about how the predator's mindset has been taken on by humanity expect to live in a cage for eternity until that changes so let's go to the phones um amber in vancouver you're live on what on earth is happening welcome amber okay she she dropped uh let's try derek in pennsylvania you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey mark hi derek are you doing the all is mind and that's where it begins right that's what we learned at your natural law seminar this past summer so right on with that um before i get to um discussing psychopaths i just want to say it's fabulous news and i wish you uh all the all the success with that new book that's going to be awesome sure it may take a little while but we'll we'll get there and uh it's going to be it's going to be out there at some point so just wanted to announce it because the first thing of putting it into manifestation is you set that intention and speak it speak it out into the universe so right it will be done it's not it's something for uh all us fans and all those people that love truth and i love your work and want to spread the word and look forward to so yeah um well you know after the the last passage you you read it it sounded it sounds like it's an infection or a virus a good way to look at it actually yeah prior to you reading that i i was uh debating myself that it you know could it sounds like it could be number three as an experiment gone bad i i am open-minded to that possibility certainly yeah i mean think about it yeah what are we doing with technology now unwisely a whole lot of stuff you know like what the previous caller talked about about our nuclear technology you know we're not even considering breakdowns in these places that have this form of energy and then who's running these reactors look at what's going on fukushima still to this day it's worse than it was on day one i mean you know what this is doing to the oceans what this is doing to the environment what this is doing to people and animals i mean we built these systems we built these systems no one else did this to us we put this into effect without thinking about the possible you know repercussions irresponsibility thinking totally you know i'm saying we're just it's unintended consequences that uh we don't look yeah because we wanted to we wanted to murder tesla's ideas you know and and take his name out of history so people can't understand that there's abundant energy flowing all around us and it's just a matter of understanding how to tap that natural flow of energy in nature and not have to create these explosive forms of energy which are which are totally wasteful anyway they're not they're not efficient ways of harnessing energy regardless of what anybody thinks you know nature is it is a conservation engine when it comes to energy and uh that's what tesla was attempting to explain to people through his work and we didn't want to listen no because we know better because tesla was trying to implement that technology for free for the betterment of of all people of the earth so the in the industrialist engineers and financiers of his they couldn't allow that playing field to be lev leveled no because they had to stay in total control you know we can't have anything that's going to benefit everybody here what will that do in the third world nations especially where we have to really you know lock them down on eugenics programs you know god forbid the other the other thought i had on uh on um number four was maybe it was created as some type of like uh what if entertainment project and the reason why i say that is because i thought you know as a kid and a you know a young kid who loved movies i remember watching clash of the titans and the gods would just stand around in a circle with like a you know little game piece or little um kind of platform and just the new you know make like little maneuvers of whatever the um i guess you could say the figure was right so i mean that that's how i i could see that being a possibility derek you may not be all that wildly off with that uh speculation uh you know then you think because it may very well be something just like that you know and those movies they're allegories you know there you can't just look at those as fiction the makers of those movies were trying to say something about what may have really been taking place here in the ancient past and beings that considered themselves titans or gods and demigods and did have interactions with uh humanity in the ancient world and lived here among us i'm going to be getting into this in future shows for sure and just to say that um to uh support what you just said you know people think greek mythology is just kind of like a story but i i mean there's numerous accounts of how certain gods interacted with i guess you could say the earthlings or the humans and created i guess maybe i don't know maybe a new species or a whole new race or a whole new breed of of some type of organism well keep entertaining those possibilities derek and you'll go a long way and then start getting some reading materials on it i'm going to be suggesting a lot of reading materials on this these very possibilities in the coming weeks so stay tuned to the show thanks so much for the call we'll be right back ladies and gentlemen stay with us welcome back everyone this is what let's continue with your calls in this hour gary in pittsburgh you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hello gary are you there hello gary yes you're live welcome yeah mark uh gary from pittsburgh i'm the guy with the dvds it was dine international oh yeah how you doing good but i wish i could have hung out for a while but we had a great time and i brought a couple uh i guess newcomers we've got a whole stack of your uh documentaries right here next to me right now we're going to be showing them as we uh move forward doing our uh truth freedom prosperity documentary film screenings on a monthly basis so i want to thank you for all of those great great yeah i got to start uh i think i have your email uh i got i got a new one i was looking at um when you were talking last week we were at another event last week so i didn't get a chance to call um on the way back we were listening to uh your show and you were talking about the season of sacrifice yes i reviewed that last week on the show right and when and when the shooting happened when was the uh fort hood shooting tuesday or something i think so that's the first yeah yeah the first thing i thought about and um i uh you know i keep waiting for something huge to happen here i never realized that 322 was march 22nd yeah what else i learned from you yeah it's right after the uh spring equinox which is uh you know the beginning of this quote season of sacrifice uh it's a highly symbolic time of the year for them because they're you know they're all about the dark sun and the sun you know is the ultimate source of energy and you know their a solar cult it's a dark solar cult ultimately the dark light means uh knowledge being used to control instead of to enlighten and uplift so that's why they take their symbolism after the sun but it is specifically a dark solar cult symbolism well it all makes sense you know i've learned so much from you i've learned so much in the past 10 years um you know like you know waking people up has become a uh art you know uh like you say most people aren't ready for the truth i mean if it doesn't make them feel good they don't want to hear it you know it's it's very disturbing i mean i've become obsessed with bonus i tried to quit doing this for a while and uh i couldn't sleep so it is a great work waking people up and uh once you're doing the great work though you won't stop because you recognize that's all there is to do that's the only work there is here to do that's what we came here to do we're going to wake these people up it's just a matter of how long is it going to take and how uncomfortable is it going to be along the way you know how how rigidly in their calcified mind state are they really embedded but more and more people are starting to chip away at that stone more and more people are starting to come forward and speak the truth unapologetically to others and start to do that great work it's it's happening the question is is is it enough is it in time you know time will tell i can't answer that question i can't tell you i know that definitively but i know more people are coming on to the great work and they're starting to do it they're starting to say i won't resist anymore i'm gonna do the will of creation this is what i came here to do i came here as a spiritual warrior to end slavery on this planet and i'm gonna do that work no matter what it takes you know until it's done and uh when we get more people in that mindset we have more spiritual warriors reactivating on their mission the mission that they came here to accomplish you know i know that you're one of them and the more people that continue to speak the truth other people we're going to have more spiritual warriors coming online and nothing's going to be able to stand up against that force once it becomes like a tidal wave nothing 100 copies of your natural law seminar and i've been giving them out um sweet i don't i don't start with that because it's a little too deep for most people you got to start them out with some light like the gmos or whatever but uh you know it's one thing to wake people up and get them to start looking at the truth that that they i think it's easier to fool somebody than to convince them they've been fooled and um absolutely once you start showing them the truth it still amazes me how people run in fear you know it's like once you see the truth how can you pretend like you didn't see it because that's all they've ever known they've only known the illusion the illusion is the safe cage you know they have their trough there they have their their little box that they live in there they have their mobile box that they go to their slave job there that that illusion is very comfortable it's a very set up nest you know and people are comfortable nesting because it's it doesn't involve the unknown you know it's it's known slavery the known condition is slavery and that's what people are comfortable with and this goes hand in hand with this mindset that since it's always been like that it must always be like this you know that's why people say oh what can i do to change it or it can't be changed that's just how it's always been nonsense uh utter total nonsense this can be changed immediately if people wanted it if we wanted it bad enough if we wanted it as much as we want air to breathe as much as we need food you know if we wanted it that bad we could change this condition practically overnight because all it takes is to change the mind and stop supporting this nonsense you know we do that it's game over and they know it the people who are still trying to protect their paradigm know it and they know it's on a very very fragile edge getting ready to crumble it's going to take the one or two hits to re and it's going to reach resonant frequency and it's going to all shatter like like you know the resonant frequency of of crystal or a piece of glass and when it comes down there's going to be no stopping it it's going to be so rapid that the changes we're going to witness in our society are going to be unheralded and and it's going to be because of people who are putting the word out like yourself and many others that that's the of why that dynamic is going to eventually happen and reach critical a critical mass point i'm not telling you there's not a long long way to go to get there because there is from where the human mind is at now we need a lot more people telling this information to others i can't stress that enough that's what the great work is it's not you knowing it it's you helping others to know it that's the great work that we are charged with amen well thanks a lot for all your work one more sure we used to have a uh a storefront where we gave dvds away we were right beside a laundromat and we had we had a big screen tv in the picture window with speakers out front people could sit down while they were waiting for their laundry well anyway this guy come in um and he was he was talking about 911 and you know he was like demeaning me and you know calling me conspiracy theorists and all that i said listen you know just let me have five minutes your time and i pull up on the computer uh building seven phones because of course he never saw it because they showed it once on the day of the event never again on the mainstream media what was his reaction he started backing out of the store like i had pulled a gun on him yeah and you know what he said to me now this guy was a foot doctor he was a you know he's not dummy he said to me i wouldn't believe that even if it was true yep and that's the state of mental illness called cognitive dissonance that's mental illness see there's a person right who ostensibly is a sane human being that has a job that's respected and looked up to right probably has a family probably has children and he's completely mentally ill literally think about what i just said there deeply that's a mentally ill human being he's witnessing something that actually occurred that was caught on film with his own eyes realizing that can't be explained unless it was a controlled demolition of some kind okay regardless of how you think it was done it was done deliberately on that day okay and it wasn't the result of planes hitting that building obviously okay and he is saying to you i would refuse to accept that our government orchestrated that condition even if it were 100 prove that it was true and this is the mindset that i'm talking about the mindset of i'm the arbiter of truth based on what's comfortable for me as long as somebody's in that condition do you want to know what it really equates to it actually equates to them claiming that they are god what he is claiming indirectly is that he is the creator of the universe because what he's claiming to be is the one who makes truth the way that it is he's claiming to be god okay that's how sick that mindset is that you're saying i am the arbiter of truth truth is determined by what i say it is imagine to be in that position imagine that is your level of unconsciousness that you're going to say because i'm uncomfortable with what really may have happened i'm going to declare it did not occur that way unbelievable a level of mental illness people like that really shouldn't be walking around on the street but unfortunately they are and we're the ones who have to help them gary great call thanks so much we'll continue with your calls in the last segment don't go anywhere so um welcome back folks this is the last segment for this edition of what on earth is happening where does the time fly i mean that is uh that whole show went like in the blink of an eye but uh really having a good time talking to uh callers so let's keep it up and let's uh continue with your calls let's go to phil in boston you're live on what on earth is happening welcome phil hello yes phil you're live go right ahead i um yeah i was i wanted to get into what the other guy last call i was saying about um how to break the news to people about what they see every day sure they don't even know what the days of the week mean that's how that's somehow that's sometimes how i drop the feed to them you know oh that's a good one that's that's a nice gentle introduction you know you even know that the days of the week are named after you know planetary bodies you know yeah and it's all astro theology absolutely and i just keep going with it and then i go into like how and like i had i had like an opinion when i and i started noticing the symbol symbols everywhere around me sure yeah there's this police station i walk by and i notice there's just there's ten lines like the pass on the tree of life and there's a square with a circle in it at the top in a square was it at the bottom and right where doc would be with the windows it was like it was like a symbol stressed like it was polarized out and it was it was all over the police stations oh they're constantly embedding tons of dark symbolism dark occultic symbolism around police and military institutions and and uh you know uh places of operation i mean you know all you have to i'm not sure if uh you're familiar with my uh presentation from the free your mind one conference back in 2011 it was called the occult mockery of police and military personnel if you haven't checked that one out it's definitely one you're going to want to check out regarding this topic and uh to any of the other listeners just go on my videos section or on my youtube channel and uh check that one out because uh these individuals are continuously being mocked and ridiculed by the occultists who are in control um they're uh they're using these uh symbols not only to to mock them but to um place them around the place them around their places of business and work so that they can have a negative energetic impact on their consciousness their mind and uh it also conveys the message to them that they're being actively mocked at a subconscious level not at a conscious level to explain it to them in a conscious way but uh it reinforces that negative energy at the level of the subconscious mind through symbolism through archetypes and uh you know vibratory energies that are conveyed in in form and in color and shape and you know um the the sigils that are all around that institution it's amazing it's an amazing study and you can go really deep into that study and uh you know understand things like the hypercube and the trapezoid constant parts of police and military symbolism again the inverted pentagram used constantly the checkerboard floor of the house i definitely recommend that video but um yeah um they're certainly employing that symbolism and it's a way to wake people up to show it to them and bring it up to the conscious level definitely yeah they're like you can see it in their eyes they're all on a lot of police total adrenaline junkies like to the point where it seems like they're branded you know they're actually brain damaged very very brain damaging chemical adrenaline that's there for the flight fight response when we're in fight mode okay or flight mode whether we want to fight or run away blood is pumping the heart pumps real fast it generates the adrenal response the adrenaline response and blood flows away from the torso and the brain to the extremities where they are where the the the force is going to be needed for fighting with the upper extremities or for running away with the lower extremities that's the state called stress when that happens your internal organs go into a state of shutdown and if it happens chronically enough that's what causes disease in in the internal organs in the torso and the brain is also lacking richly oxygenated blood which ultimately over a long term period causes literal physical brain damage specifically in the neocortical section of the brain and in the limbic brain the midbrain the r complex is getting all the all the blood and all the all the fight and flight is completely controlled by the art complex that's right you know taking over their environment and that's why adrenal junkies are uh especially when it comes to adrenaline junkies that are triggered by violence are some of the most brain-damaged people on walking on the face of the earth people who worship war people who worship violence people who worship you know total control systems you know authoritarianism these are some of the most brain damaged people on the earth on the whole earth literally i'm not saying this figuratively folks very literally damaged brain that the electrochemical mechanisms in the neuro synapses of the brain are severely shut down a brain scan would absolutely reveal this in many ways if a pet or spect scan were done of the neocortex of the brain one hundred percent so even though are throwing their brain off i'm going to the opposite ends of the collar spectrum that a person can see yeah absolutely i mean when they kee when you keep people in these forms of brain hemispherical imbalance what you're doing is promoting more and more unconsciousness and and as they stay in that level of imbalance it's it's a piece of cake to manipulate and control them their their world view is broken when they're in that state of uh brain imbalance only a balance a balanced world view is only going to come into view within the human psyche when the brain is still on its way to being healed and balanced the physiology of the brain has everything to do with the way that we think definitely so we have to and that's the whole point here why aren't we taught about the brain why don't we learn about the human brain from from grade grade you know first grade on forward in kindergarten or whatever you know preschool we should be starting to be taught about our own brains and this is knowledge that is completely absent from all school systems everywhere just about and yet it's probably the most valuable information about how we work we're not taught about how we work no no owners operating manual for the human self you know left out of everything yep externalized pledge allegiance you know to the flag every day they don't even make you say you know give yourself any any affirmation externalize all that power you got it and and then you're just right pickings for the state you know as an order follower phil i want to thank you great call very thought provoking and keep up the great work yourself uh keep putting it out there for people they'll they will listen keep doing it uh let's go on to fred in california fred you're live on what on earth is happening welcome thank you for what you're doing um you're a very brave person i think anybody that uh is a talk show host um discussing this type of stuff especially like on rbn and other talk shows are the front line troops to try and make this a better world or like in my case my children and my grandchildren my condition i've been in extreme pain since 87 and uh bedridden and i'm in pass out pain and uh i read when the towers dropped i started reading history because i wanted to find out what was going on right good way to wake yourself up there yeah i that'll do it fine you know but i found out that uh geez um i had all this time to read and learn where other people are trying to keep their financial noses above water and you don't have time to do it and again that's the big part of the trap get people involved in all sorts of other uh modalities that take their time and that's the spiritual currency unless you're willing to invest at least a decent portion of that currency there's not going to be any return on that investment in the form of wisdom that's the return on that investment unfortunately that's how it works you know there's no easy answer when it comes to that knowledge is the pathway out of this and in order to acquire that you have to devote time and attention great call fred thanks so much for uh bringing up that point very important that's all the time we have for this edition of what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen remember there's only two mistakes you can make on the path to the truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you here next week don't you ever freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Marc Pascal [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm the networks website Republic Broadcasting org today is Saturday April 12th 2014 this show comes out you live right here on Republic Broadcasting every Saturday evening from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Eastern Time that's 9 p.m. to midnight Central Time we have a great show lined up for you here today we are going to be breaching the topic of the possibility of non-human intelligence interacting with our planet and with our species both in the ancient world and the ancient past and in the modern world so this is previously uncharted waters for what on earth is happening but we have to begin to breach this topic and as I said I'm going to introduce it gently not give everybody everything at once because there's a lot of psychological resistance to even looking at this topic and that's what we're going to start talking about here today why is there so much psychological resistance about this topic so that's coming up on this edition of what on earth is happening let me give the call and number right at the top of the show because I'll be taking calls maybe hopefully about halfway through the show and through to the end of the show any questions that you might have if you want to chime in on this particular topic I'd love to hear from you the call a number to join us 800 3 1 394 43 once again the calling number 800 3 1 3 9 4 4 3 I have several event announcements so please bear with me the free your mind 2 conference from 2013 the videos are finally completed and they are up at free your mind conference calm you can go to that website and you could check out all the videos there on the speaker biography pages so when you go to a page of one of the speakers their video will be right there and you could watch it for free online we didn't even end up doing a pay-per-view as we had originally intended we just as the videos uh were finished processing and being edited we just put them on the the page and now all the speaker's videos are actually up on the website for your mind conference calm of course there is no free your mind conference this year in 2014 and I have generally stepped down as the organizer or one of the main organizers of the conference I'm still going to be helping out with this conference in an ancillary capacity and within a capacity as sort of an advisor but I can make the announcement that there will be a for your mind 3 conference in 2015 in April of 2015 it will be in the Philadelphia area a venue is being worked on as we speak it is probably not going to be in Philadelphia proper right in the city it's more likely than not next you're going to be in the suburban area around Philadelphia but we'll have more details as things get confirmed but a new organizational team it's going to be kept in in the original spirit of the first two conferences and I will more likely to not be speaking at the third for your mind conference as well so it is on for 2015 as we originally intended to kind of make this conference in every other year event because doing it every year with a huge conference like this to me it makes it not as special you know and it gives something it gives people something to really look forward to when you space it out a little bit so hopefully the event organizers going forward will keep it as in every other year then in the odd years because it's odd topics you know for people who don't generally fit into the mainstream type of consciousness so you could also check out all of the for your mind to speaker videos at the free your mind conference YouTube channel also that's youtube.com slash fym conference once again the free your mind conference YouTube channel is youtube.com slash fym conference on the news section of what on earth is happening right now three new inter that I did this past week on illuminating the Shadowland cancel the Cabal and down the rabbit hole with Popeye you could check those out those are now posted to the news section coming up this week I have three more interviews I'm gonna be on open your mind radio on Sunday April 13th that's tomorrow from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. the website you can check that out at is o Y M radio calm I'll be on Dark City radio that's a mumble broadcast okay and that is on Thursday April 17th from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. Eastern and the website or the mumble site I should say to join into that radio broadcast is be a WB AG dot and non net org that's a non-0 argh once again be a WB AG dot and non net org I'll be on PI radio on Friday April 18th from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. Eastern time and again when these interviews are completed I will as I usually do post them to the water on earth is happening comm news section the news tab of the web site this coming Thursday April 17th right here in Philadelphia Barb and I will be co-hosting the truth freedom prosperity documentary screening and discussion night it's been on hiatus since November of 2013 we finally got a new venue an actual actually a better venue than where we were previously at this is going to be taking place at the Guarin recreation center at 1600 Jackson Street that's the corner of 16th and Jackson in South Philadelphia this meetup will take place the third Thursday of every month and the first one at the new venue is Thursday April 17th at 7 o'clock p.m. the documentary will be screening this thursday is IM fish head and is a documentary about psychopathy the filmmakers studied psychopathy in our society and showed that people who are in positions of power are much much much more likely to be Psychopaths because Psychopaths gravitate to positions of power in our society they are much more likely to be Psychopaths in positions of power and influence then you know at any other place in society so I am fishhead really explores not only what psychopathy is what a psychopath really is but it explores how we as normally functioning people who are not psychopathic in our nature allow these Psychopaths to rule us allow these Psychopaths to maintain the power and influence that they have and essentially rule over society so that's what the film is going to be about it should lead to an interesting discussion I have a new live seminar to announce that I'm going to be conducting I told people a little bit about this last week but I have confirmed it this week and it is now announced on the website in at the top of the news section I will be speaking live on Saturday May 31st in st. Louis Missouri with an all-day seminar it is called streetwise spirituality and the subtitle for this seminar is what does it truly mean to be awake what do we mean by the term awake and what does it really mean to be awake as compared and contrasted with the new-age definition of what it means to be awake we're going to tell people what it really means to be awake in this seminar so I'll give you some more details on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening right here on Republic Broadcasting stay with us [Applause] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting so as I was saying before the break I will be speaking in st. Louis Missouri on Saturday May 31st 2014 the title of this all-day seminar is entitled streetwise spirituality what does it truly mean to be awake this will be taken place at the Arden Mead Center the Arden Mead Center is at 17 Selma Avenue in st. Louis Missouri six three one one nine the doors will open at 9 o'clock a.m. I will begin the morning session at approximately 9:30 a.m. I'll go for about three hours and then we'll take a lunch break at 12:30 p.m. for about an hour and a half the afternoon session for this seminar will start at 2:00 o'clock p.m. and go to about 5:00 p.m. and it will be followed by a question-and-answer session with the audience the advance tickets for this seminar streetwyze spirituality in st. Louis Missouri are twenty dollars a donation of $20 you can call the number three one four four eight eight four four five four to purchase tickets or you can email the following email address Rae mum at gmail.com I'll spell that it's RA Y M you mM e at gmail.com so you can call that number or email that email address to purchase tickets for this seminar at the door tickets only five dollars more twenty five dollar donation at the door so really excited to be speaking in st. Louis Missouri at the end of next month there is a support donation button on the what on earth is happening website if you feel that you've gained a lot of value from the information that I've shared freely here on this website through this radio show etc through my videos feel free to make a voluntary support donation of with the button that is on the left hand side of the site as always when I present new material there are images that are associated with the show today slides if you will okay there are visual aids or slides that go along with the concepts and ideas that I'm going to be talking about discussing presenting on the show here today as always the images can always be found with the podcast and again this is podcast number 151 but during the live show they are always listed in numerical form underneath the player on the what on earth is happening comm radio show page that's what on earth is happening comm slash radio or you could just click the radio show tab or the radio button on the left hand side of the website so right underneath the player if you're not already listening there you can see images for tonight's show and then there's some numerical links if you click on those numerical link numbers it will bring up a little slideshow and you could follow along as I present the topics of discussion for tonight so the first image of course was just the poster for the seminar in st. Louis the street wise spirituality poster that's again also posted on my at the top of my news section feel free to share it I will probably also be making a Facebook event page for that event and sharing it out with all the people who are friends with me on Facebook image number two let's jump right into the topic for tonight and again the topic is we've been looking at the possibility of psychopathy having a origin that is that was put here there wasn't was not something that naturally quote evolved or just happened in any kind of a natural way or even because of certain sir stances that were present here on earth we were entertaining the possibility that psychopathy was something that was done to the human species that it was created in us somehow by another intelligence an intelligence that is not human for all intents and purposes okay so what we're gonna the topic we're gonna start to breach here is non-human intelligence in general and people you know might say oh what's this gonna become a show about UFOs no not if I couldn't have anything to say about it it is us you know UFOs will be something that we can touch on when it when it comes to this topic but really what I'm looking at is the possibility that we have had interaction in the ancient past with beings that are not human and that that interaction may be continuing up till the current day now when you say something like that there's so much stigma that goes along with this notion there's immediate psychological reaction that goes along with it because of how much ridicule is generally attached to even the the discussion of the possibility that we are not alone here on earth and its really asinine it's childish it's immature it's unscientific it's the sign of a closed mind you know the ridicule that goes along with this topic you know it was said that the mark of true intelligence is being able to entertain a notion without either accepting it or rejecting it and sadly many people in our culture can't do that you know and that's a statement really about where we've gone as far as our mindset is concerned how far gone humanity really is that if you can't breach a topic and talk about it without you know immediately it being dismissed or immediately it being praised and heralded as the second coming you know one of those or the other of those two extreme reactions in mind you know to me that tells me something's really wrong okay as far as the mindset the psychological mindset of humanity is concerned in general so when we're talking about the possibility that the human condition and the sub conditions that are contained therein like psychopathy like the existence of psychopathy in the human genome quite possibly may have had an origin that is not human okay that is born in some other form of intelligent species or intelligent beings to breach that topic again I want to do this in a controlled fashion I want to do this in a way that gets people thinking about some of the really deep causal and psychological questions and factors involved in this topic okay not just saying oh everything is attributable to non-human intelligent beings okay and again I don't like the term alien I don't really like the term extraterrestrial as much because of a lot of the connotations that go along with it I prefer the term non-human intelligence period you know non-human intelligent beings me or beings that have the capacity for intelligence you know such as such as us you know cuz could we really claim that we're intelligent as a species I don't I think that would be a lofty claim there are intelligent individuals on earth most certainly but as a species have we really reached holistic intelligence I don't think I could even make that statement so I consider humanity as species with the capacity for intelligence as I would consider some of these non-human intelligent beings or species or entities that I'm going to be you know getting into talking about on future shows now again the other thing to keep in mind here is no one is saying that they have the absolute truth when it comes to this matter I'm not claiming that never did okay I'm saying that we're going to start talking about possibilities that is that are going to involve some conjecture and that are going to involve incomplete picture of things an incomplete picture of things a fragmentary account or relating of the events of our ancient past and it's like a jigsaw puzzle that's how you have to look at the so you have to look at it as a jigsaw puzzle that somebody opened up the box and threw it in your face in a darkroom that's really what we're dealing with here okay now the pieces are scattered all over the floor in the darkroom okay maybe you bring a couple of friends into the room you know with their phone flashlights or something to that effect and we're going to start looking for those pieces and then we're going to gather them we're going to bring them to the table together and we're going to see if we could see the emergent picture I want to see if we could see that jigsaw puzzle picture emerge on the table as we bring the pieces of the you know a puzzle that are that has been completely disjointed and you know separated because of deliberate obfuscation in many cases and just because of the destruction of knowledge in many cases in the ancient past so let's start to take a look on the other side of this break of why is there so much psychological resistance to this topic in general because you could tell us a lot about ourselves and pick that up on the other side stay with us [Music] you know today disguise the knife night divine today tried to run I'll do the other welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth may very well be happening maybe I should register that domain name what do you think we're talking about the possibility of the ongoing interaction with non-human intelligence with our species and we're asking the question here at the very beginning why is there so much psychological resistance to even consider this possibility why is there so much psychological resistance to the consideration of the possibility of the interaction of non-human intelligence with our species where does that come from in the human psyche and I have some ideas about where that comes from that I'd like to share with the listening audience and again this is slide number two that we're on here the first place that this psychological resistance comes from is probably a place that most people would you know come to the conclusion of on their on their own if they just look at the human condition for even a brief amount of time and that is the fear of the unknown and notice I did not say human nature there okay we're not talking about human nature we're talking about the human condition all right two completely different ideas and what people think of as human nature is largely a poisoned worldview and has absolutely nothing to do with the actual nature of the human being we talked about that on past shows that you know this skewed and poisoned worldview really set p-sets most people thinking down one specific course that can't ever lead to the truth because they buy into a completely psychopathic worldview of what should even be occurring here on this planet you know in their idea of quote human nature what we're talking about here is the psychological condition that our species currently exists in and the psychological condition that we exist in is fear largely okay and we fear what we don't immediately understand see what the conscious mind does is it scans the environment for unknowns it scans the environment that says let me see what's out there do I understand what all of this is do I don't you know know what I'm seeing do I understand what I'm hearing etc it takes an info through the senses it process it and it says do I know about this and if I don't and an unknown comes up then I have to be on guard because that unknown may threaten me threaten my survival etc so then a shield goes up and you know we go into fight or flight mode this fear of the unknown which is largely unhealthy for our species okay really what we should do is confront things with an open mind and a sense of curiosity as opposed to having an immediate fear-based instinctual animalistic midbrain and lower brain reaction to things is put those immediate instinctual reactions on hold for a moment and logically think things through most people can't do that right now because of the condition that they're in the condition of fear so fear of the unknown puts us in the worst place to possibly try to understand anything you're if you're in a fear-based mindset blood rushes away from the brain okay you're not getting richly oxygenated blood in the brain you're not going to do very good thinking in that state of mind okay the the blood rushes away from the neocortical brain which is where a higher-order thought takes place logic intuition etc creativity breaking down and solving problems alright so fear puts us in that state where we're incapable of recognizing the unknowns we're incapable of taking in the data that we're surrounded by and analyzing it and coming to an accurate conclusion about it if you're gonna try to do that in fear good luck you're not going to get very far so another way you're not going to get very far is if you take on this idea that if it makes me some how fearful or uncomfortable I refused to look at it and that's why next to this slide see on the left-hand side of this slide I have this young woman opening a door with some you know mysterious or foreboding light coming out of it you know representing that's the unknown you know that's the place that we're loathe to go the place that we're loathe to look at because of how uncomfortable it makes us or possibly how disturbing it may be and on the right hand side of the image there's a great meme there that says you cannot change what you refuse to confront and if the human condition that we're in that we want to change you know that we want to set back to balance as a result of the possibility of interaction with non-human intelligence and we refuse to confront that out of fear good luck changing it you know you're not again you're not gonna get very far because to solve any problem you have to have an understanding of the causal factors of the problem that's what a diagnosis is about going down to the causal factors not treating the symptoms going down underneath to the causal factors through knowledge and that's what diagnosis means it comes from Greek roots diya is a prefix a preposition I'm sorry in Greek in ancient Greek that means through or by way of and then the word gnosis in Greek transliterated in English GN OS is is knowledge diagnosis literally means by way of knowledge or through knowledge you're going to come to an understanding of the problem so if you don't want to even confront an issue and look at it to even assemble the components of that information the grammar that you need to analyze logically and filter and you know come to an accurate understanding of you're not going to get anywhere when it comes to solving a problem so if ridicule is the immediate response you know I mean good luck if blind acceptance is the immediate response you're going to be in just as disempowered of a position to look at that information and come to an accurate understanding of it neither one of these is we're learning takes place neither one of these reactive places is where true learning occurs true learning occurs when we have some skepticism and some open-mindedness that's where we need to be at that balance point where we'll take information in without immediately accepting it or rejecting it and then analyzing it and looking at it critically so that's what we're going to attempt to do on this show going forward in the treatment of this topic imagine that treating the topic of non-human intelligence extraterrestrial beings the UFO phenomenon etc the the story of the ancient past and possible human origins with an air of intelligence and caution and open-mindedness you know where we're real learning is actually possible from that place you know very few people even attempt to do it from that level of balance so moving forward with this question why are so many people so psychologically resistant to this topic in general the second reason is that many people are in the condition of a completely runaway ego I call this runaway ego calcification and I'm presenting this topic on slide number three here I've called this in the past the arbiter of truth syndrome where people are so in the mindset that it is up to them to decide what is true that ultimately what they're really doing ladies and gentlemen is playing God you know that's what this mindset really is the ego has become so out of control that it is about it is really playing God it's saying what I'm comfortable with I'm going to state that is true doesn't make a difference what the evidence shows I'm not going to actually apply any methodological observation and research and you know the testing you know the data or anything like that no no no I'm just going to say it this is my opinion and it doesn't make a difference whether it's actually real or not I'm going to decide what's true and real for myself because that's what I'm comfortable with now if you don't think that is the epitome of hubris and the epitome of the out-of-control ego mindset I don't know what is you know I can't think of anything else that is the epitome of wanting to be God you know saying I am the arbiter of truth I'm God because I get to determine what's real I get to determine what's true imagine this and here we have a celebrity from Hollywood Tom Cruise making the statement this quote from Cruz here on this slide individuals have to decide what is true and real for them imagine this I mean you know that's what I don't know if that's what he's getting from Scientology or whatever but I'm telling you that's a diseased point of view really really tom for real human beings get to decide what's true and real for them really truth is an independent of us it isn't there for us to observe and come and bring our senses into alignment with into resonance with know that is that isn't what the human task is to do to bring our perception into alignment with truth no no according to Tom Cruise ladies and gentlemen we get to decide what's real and true for us don't you know I mean this is pure mental illness ladies and gentlemen we'll pick this up on the other side ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening don't go anywhere [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening on your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm so we were on slide number three in the images and we were talking about this idea of people wanting to be the arbiter of truth not looking at truth is something that is objective and independent of their perception just the way things are that which is you know this totally demystified understanding of what truth means okay that which is that the way things actually are you know and people want to insist that no it's all about just what's true for me you know and I just want to clarify this for a moment ladies and gentlemen when I talk about the arbiter of truth syndrome here I mean when it comes to objective events that have taken place you know I'm not talking about any level of subjective perception at all in other words like one person may have a severe phobia of insects and another person may look at insects and have absolutely no you know averse adverse reaction to seeing them you know maybe two people are standing in a kitchen and an insect wanders in from you know the backyard or whatever and one of them looks at it goes oh my god that's the most sickening Eve you know evil looking horrendous you know creepy thing I've ever seen and my immediate visceral reaction is want to want it to die okay and the other person says oh this is just a you know another one of the creatures that we share this planet with and I don't really see them as anything that's you know so bad and you know let me just get him out of the kitchen and take him out back into the yard you know these are subjective ways of seeing the same thing it doesn't change the objective fact that the insect wandered in from the backyard and was in the kitchen when these two people were standing there that's what I'm talking about as truth that's not up to us to decide what's real or true when it comes to that okay that actually occurred it happened it's it's not like somebody could be standing there and say well I I'm determining that this didn't you know that the bug was never there you know I mean that's what we're talking about here the level of sickness when it comes to people and their quote interpretation of events you know it's like when it comes to something like 9/11 you know it doesn't make a difference how much evidence is brought forward that the official story cannot be cannot have gone down the way that the government claims it did these people are convinced this is what I'm going to believe in and it and truth be damned it doesn't make a difference you know what what I say is the way it actually happened is the way it actually happened I'm not going to look at any evidence why because that might make me uncomfortable and therefore it's invalid because I have to feel good you know it's magical thinking is what it really is and anybody who thinks that that's how reality works I mean they're not only an infant they're mentally ill literally they not only have a child infant mentality but they're really really really sick so let's move on to slide number three so you know these are the first two reasons that people want to not even look at possibilities they fear the unknown that which they don't currently understand and they have a runaway ego that I like to call the arbiter of truth syndrome that where they're going to determine what's real based on their likes preferences and whims okay what makes them feel good or bad I mean imagine that but here's the real deep reason you know okay the real deep reason you'll have people say oh what's he talking about this for you know why is he getting into this topic this is tinfoil hat stuff or this has all been debunked and we shouldn't even be looking into this area you want to know the real reason here it is right here on slide number for psychological denial due to subconsciously nested unresolved past trauma in the human collective subconscious that's the real reason people don't want to look to this topic ladies and gentlemen and we've been talking about this issue okay we've been talking about people psychologically having the mindset of a traumatized abandoned child which is where this material is ultimately leading what set that condition in motion what put that condition in place here on earth is the ancient events of our past or very well could be so people are in this state of absolute psychological denial or what's called cognitive dissonance seeing things as they are in the world with their own very own eyes with their very own senses and yet psychologically denying the existence of what is and like I say in the past you need to respect existence or expect resistance from the universe you want to talk about why there's resistance from the universe when it comes to human beings condition and why the universe isn't really coming to our aid and helping us to get out of this condition because we will not respect what is we will not respect and accept truth into our minds and into our hearts and then act upon it when we do that there's no power that can stand against us we're standing in the ultimate power that that governs the entire universe when we're in that mode of being in union with truth but when we refuse to accept truth and we refuse to look at what is and we exist in this state of psychological denial akin to wanting to be God by claiming worthy arbiters of truth good luck getting any assistance from the universe respect that which is or expect resistance so the real underlying psychological condition that is present in humanity that is keeping people from even wanting to look at this or ridiculing it right off the bat without ever ever having done one inkling of research one one not even picking up a book and reading up a quarter of it tenth of it nothing nothing just my completely unresearched and ill read and ill-formed opinion is as valid as valid as your decade's worth of research and knowledge imagine that statement this is where people in our society are at that's what they think is a valid point of view to hold it's the epitome of hubris and ignorant ignorin s-- to ignore what is actually there you know and that's the human condition that's not human nature that's the human condition that we can change and need to change and should change here exactly what I'm saying right there we need to change it and we should change it because that condition is from a moral standpoint completely invalid it is an immoral point of view because you're saying I'm going to willfully deny truth and the only thing that can ever come out of that is immoral behavior and ultimately chaotic conditions and what it leads to is slavery which is where we're at for having been in that mindset for so long but don't get it twisted and don't get it confused that's not human nature folks that's what we had the condition we have come into through what has happened to us and what we have allowed to continue because we haven't taken any action to reverse that trend so here's the second big question for tonight which we'll get into deeper in the second hour if there is evidence to suggest and I would suggest there most certainly is evidence to suggest that there are and have been non-human intelligences interacting with humanity not only in the present day but far into our past probably for as long we have existed on this planet why the question needs to be asked what are the underlying reasons that all of the governments in the world would take up the same position most of the government's in the world you can't get them to agree on anything every single government in the world has taken the same position that they are not going to disclose the truth regarding this interaction that has been taking place you know the slide number five here shows this UFO flap that happened back in the 1950s over Washington DC where these fleets of craft buzzed the US Capitol and that is the US Capitol that is a real photograph and those aren't planes okay and this happened multiple times not just once and it got tons of press coverage back then and still people just completely you know say well we don't know what it was but you know whatever we're not gonna look into it any further there's nothing to see here folks you know crafts that don't obey the laws of physics as we know them that don't observe any of the flight characteristics of any known conventional terrestrial aircraft you know buzzing the most heavily air defended space in the world but there's nothing to see there okay we'll pick this up on the other side folks you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be back [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com I do want to tell people before we continue with the show for tonight that the video from the Asheville North Carolina seminar that I recently conducted the New Age BS and the suppression of the sacred masculine revisited the video is about halfway finished being edited and I'm through the morning session I'm through editing the morning session going to be working on editing the afternoon session in the coming week so I don't want to make any absolute promises but hopefully within a week or two at the very most I'll get that up on my site my youtube channel so people can check that seminar that was very successful in Asheville North Carolina last month all right so let's pick up on slide number five where we left off in the last hour again these images are at the water on earth is happening dot-com radio show page what on earth is happening calm / radio or just click the radio show tab on on the site also all as always the images are posted with the podcast for the show okay so the question we were asking is why would every single government in the world faced with the possibility of non-human intelligences interacting with humanity since time immemorial why would every single solitary one of them on the face of the earth once to continue to suppress the truth regarding this ongoing interaction what motive would the governments of the world have to continue to suppress the disclosure of the truth about extraterrestrial non-human intelligences and again when we're talking about non-human intelligence let me just make this clear before we even move forward through this show or any coming shows I am NOT going to get in any kind of a debate about the nature of these beings okay if you want to look at them as simple 3d organic you know beings that happen to live on another planet in this galaxy or another galaxy fine if you want to look at them as extra dimensional beings that live in a higher dimension or frequency of reality fine if you want to look at them as demonic entities that are you know sent here to torment us by you know some evil god or a evil supernatural being I really don't care if that's how you want to look at this looking at however you want the point here is that there are intelligences that are not human interacting with this planet and its people period okay now regardless of what their nature is people may have different takes on that ultimately when I break down what I feel the interaction has been between these beings and us it all comes down to the same thing folks we need to step into our power and step into the power of truth and use the lost word which is know and it doesn't make a difference what their nature is at that point when we decide to do that and decide that we're not going to have anymore of slavery that's when it will end and not a moment until and it won't make a difference what their nature is at that point because once again then we'll be stepping into our sovereignty then we'll be stepping into the power of truth and the universe will not stand against that regardless of what might happen in the physical domain okay so try to answer this question how many people have ever even really sat down and just considered that question you see so many even UFO researchers they spend so much time on the nuts and bolts of the phenomenon you know trying to prove the existence you know the existence doesn't need to be proved to me because I'm an experiencer you know I've witnessed this these craft that can't be explained so you know I don't need somebody trying to convince me of their existence or the possible origins of them are the possible nature of them to me that's not as important as have they been here what have they been doing here what is their relationship to human beings you know what why do they want to interact with us why are they continuing the presence possibly okay and we can get into all of that conjecture and you know even get your your take on it the listeners take on it as well when we go to calls but many researchers you know shy away from this question of saying why what are the actual underlying reasons why no government on the face of the earth wants to come forward and talk about that these beings exist and they have been interacting with this planet well I'm gonna propose three overarching reasons why the embargo on truth has continued and is continuing now and the first of course is the continuity of control alright this is image number six now how do you continue controlling seven billion people in a state of slavery how do you keep seven billion people enslaved a small group of people how do they do that how do you accomplish that well obviously you don't do it by sheer force by sheer violence you know you do it largely through getting them the consent you do it largely through controlling their mind their perception of reality and how do you control that the ultimate form of controlling perception is suppressing what people believe is possible suppressing the human imagination you want to really talk about the highest form of mind control it's getting people into a limited view of who they are their imagination can't break outside of that box they're locked into an ego identity I am my job I am what I do I am my famil family elationship I am the relationship between me and my friends etc you know I am my profession I am my religion you're not any of those things your pure consciousness having an experience in the physical domain to learn and grow oh what a heretical idea that is you know but you know everybody has these limited roles that they willingly put themselves in because they have this attachment to this ego identity the ego role that they're playing out in three dimensional realm in life so when people get attached to that identity they start to take on a very limited perception of what is possible because they believe this and and this goes hand in hand with the worldview we're going to get into talking about that goes into the Darwinian worldview which is a huge part of looking at the psychological dynamic when it comes to this topic huge part okay when you take on this worldview that you are a limited being what you're really doing is you're saying to yourself it has always been this way it is this way now and there therefore it always must be this way nothing can change see that's really what the whole scientism and Darwinian worldview is about human nature is about the survival of the fittest that is about survival only we're instinctual creatures that can never break that programming that's there in nature and somehow that's right and it should be like that yeah you know what that's called more mental illness that isn't just a Darwinian paradigm that's social Darwinism that's Satanism it's the tenets one of the main four tenets of Satanism and most people are in a satanic mindset don't even know what it is have no idea what the tenets of Satanism really are don't even know that they by believing this nonsense being the way things perpetually must be that this whole social Darwinist ik worldview that they have ascribe to the ideology of Satanism and I'm not telling you that I think that's what it is I'm telling you that's what it is I should know I was a priest in Satanism for ten years of my life so you'd think I know a bitter - about about the ideology they espouse wouldn't you we'll pick this up on the other side folks don't go anywhere [Music] Sakuni decides that we don't hear speak between us Largo on truth and not go on ladies and gentlemen it is time to break the code of silence you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we're talking about the possibility of non-human intelligence interacting with humanity since time immemorial on this planet why people are so psychologically resistant to even wanting to discuss that and why the governments all throughout the world have basically put forward an embargo on even looking into that as a possibility and you know shedding tons of ridicule on that on people who want to look into that possibility and explore the evidence for that and the main reason they do that is because they want to perpetuate slavery you know as the farmers of this planet or at least the farmhands you might say they don't want the animals breaking free of their pens then the the way that you keep that from happening is you've got to keep them in a box in the mind you know you have to control what they think you know or at least dissuade them from thinking outside of the box because the ultimate form of mind control ladies and gentlemen is the extermination of the human imagination and I've put a little graphic to that effect on slide number 7 you want to know what the deepest form of mind control that exists is it is the limitation of what people believe is possible and if you put them in that head cage you have them on your strings like a puppet and then you just give the command dance puppet dance golem you know and it's a piece of cake like nothing child's play and that all happens because we have abandoned one of the greatest gifts that we've been given as intelligent creatures or creatures that should be intelligent the imagination the ability to visualize the way things you want things to be the way you want things to be and then make that happen by an act of your will to visualize something different than what is and to understand it doesn't have to be like this it being like this is a choice people it is a choice that is continuously renewed in every moment by the people who are doing it see that's what you don't want to wrestle with because that means the responsibility to change gets firmly placed upon your shoulders okay no one else no one's currently doing this to us we're doing it to ourselves yeah things may have been done to us in our ancient past as a species but that doesn't mean we're not doing this to ourselves right now in the here and now okay and that is perpetuated by the idea that things are not possible to change again this goes back to what I was talking about in the New Age BS material for people who are familiar with that material and for those who are not you could watch the videos on my website in the video section I talked about in there this the the difference in truly knowing the difference of what cannot be changed versus what can be changed and the human condition can be changed you know what it's just a lot of hard work is gonna have to be applied effort knowledge is going to be required care is going to be required courage is going to be required effort is going to be required time is going to be required attention is gonna be required god forbid man now we can't have any of those things expended you know well we got to sit there with a bowl of GMO popcorn and you know watch whatever craps on cable tonight you know that's what we aspire as human beings in the modern day to do you know not learn about ourselves our origins what's been going on here on this planet the immorality of it and how it needs to change and go away this current human condition and it can but see you know why ladies and gentlemen there is a world of difference between can and will oh there's that little word will how many people are willing this change to take place see it's all about the willpower and aligning our will with the creations will with the will of creation itself with the underlying ordering intelligence that underlies all creation you know getting your egoic will out of the way not worrying so much about what you want what do I want how do I want it too what do I want to be true am I am i comfortable with this being true or not who gives a damn whether you're comfortable with it you think the universe cares whether you're comfortable with what is you little you but wait a minute hold on let's rearrange the entire truth of the entire universe because little you doesn't like it being that way doesn't want it to be that way you know absolutely tough isn't it yeah and no one wants to say it like that to somebody that there are an absolute child in the mind thinking like that no it's not about us discovering what's true and confronting it and dealing with it and accepting it for what it is no it's about what work comfortable with I mean please man you know I don't know how it could get any more childish and in basilic absolutely imbecilic and yet this is where the majority of human beings are at make no mistake these folks look one thing I'm not is naive okay whatever else people want to say about me go home right out and say it don't call me naive ever I have my finger firmly on the pulse of where the psychology of this species is that better than almost anyone alive okay when it comes to the understanding of the current human condition now I'm not saying that to to toot my horn or to you know be playing ego games I'm saying it because it's the truth because this is all I've studied for the past twenty years of my life non-stop every day and you can know a thing or two when you study that relentlessly about the human condition yeah things can be known folks so you know to go back to this idea that the ultimate form of mind control is when you put somebody's imagination in a cage that's it you got to wear it you want them right there that's it and that's our people there is that the current human condition yes it is whose responsibility is it to change that ours it's our responsibility to do the great work by relentlessly hammering on these people to get them to change their worldview because the world is not going to change until that worldview changes if you think it's gonna change by rearranging the furniture on the deck of the Titanic good luck to you hope you got a life jacket on because get get ready for what's coming which is sinking into icy waters if that's what you think the world view must change before external manifested conditions can change get over it that's how reality works folks so you want to believe in this utter bullcrap Darwinian paradigm it's just fine for human beings to behave like animals like beasts in the field because that's all we are see that's identity if that's the identity we're taking on for ourselves are we nothing more than any other animal any beast in the field is that what you think of a human being is that what you think of yourself you see that's what it really reveals what you think of you you know because maybe many people are just like those animals in the field they've done no work on themselves they are beasts in their condition not in their nature in their condition we'll be right back don't go anywhere [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm so in the last segment I was talking about the ultimate form of mind control being the destruction of the human imagination and this is how governments ultimately you know through the scientism paradigm and the promotion of the Darwinian worldview as well get people to limit their view of themselves their worldview and what they believe is possible and what they believe can and cannot be changed and the human condition can be changed but again there's a huge world of difference between can and will and that's what this is all about the great work of changing the human condition is about willpower and anybody who's telling you that it's not as lying to you lying to you so let's move forward and take a look at the second overarching reason that the embargo on the truth regarding the existence and interaction with human beings by non-human intelligences continues and this is on slide number eight now and it is the continuity of the dominance of the oil based monetary system and again of course you know the oil cartels maintain this through the perpetuation of the fossil fuel fraud that somehow we need to be reliant on oil and we couldn't convert all of our energy needs to sustainable free clean energy sources and there is such a thing many many very advanced scientists engineers inventors researchers have all come to the same conclusions regarding this and every one of them suppressed or killed you know you have nickel the works of Nikola Tesla you know Thomas Henry Moray pons and Fleischmann Eugene mallove Stanley Meyer and you know the list could go on and on of all the suppressed technological innovations throughout the centuries they're all to keep the world on a totally unsustainable energy paradigm that also has the rate of the planet that we need to sustain our life in tow with it great plan folks well I mean it's so brilliant there's so much wisdom in it I can't even begin to tell you how wise it is and on this slide you know there's people who will take offense and I tell them as always get as offended as you want if you don't think this is what the military is for this no this isn't what you think any military people who may be listening or any people who know military people if this isn't what you think you are the tool for you're a tool ok and I mean that in the absolute Street lingo sense of the word a tool ok that is just being used by someone else to accomplish their agenda their goal their task that they just don't want to get their hands soiled with but they're ok wait where you getting dirty to do it and being in a moral order follower in order to do it to go and pillage resources and not in other countries and you know strong-arm the people there to get that done that's all you're just an attack dog and that's what they're all too happy to call you their dogs so these people call you so what they call you their dogs their pets their animals that's my that's my little dog that I keep in the house and then I I I put them on a chain and I unleash him when I want to attack somebody yeah and they give you a dog tags and you're too stupid to see the connection you're too retarded to see the connection I mean really it's like it's like it's like a two-year-old it's what these people are they're like two-year-olds whose mommy and daddy never paid attention to them so let me go and join up here's my new surrogate family called the the military cult you know I'm gonna go join up and go rape the earth you know and then strong-arm a bunch of people I never met - while I'm at it yeah that's gonna make me feel like a real man whatever it's a bunch of clowns is what it is a bunch of clowns these people are retarded children who never grew up and don't want to grow up you know letting people who hate them and call them they call you they're animals people do I need to say any more than that they call you dumb stupid animals I'm not telling you that from book knowledge or from reading a quote I'm telling you that from their lips to my ears okay in the room with them calling you their pets it's unbelievable and these people still can't see it they decorate you with the regalia of an animal giving you a dog tag and you'd wear it as a symbol of pride absolute utter fools utter fools and you know what we're doing to the earth is is just that that's the icing on the cake I mean and all the other species of animals that live here you know responsible for the extinction of more other life-forms than you know than any other species has ever accomplished because this whole paradigm of the oil monopolies of the oil cartels of this unsustainable paradigm is about taking whatever we want were the takers that's the r-complex the reptile mode I'm going to take and hoard you know and then put myself in a position where nobody can ever break that monopoly and they can't even see they're a drug addict they're a drug addict they're imperialists the people who are helping them do this are imperialists creating these false flag events for more justification because the people are tired of these wars they need to create these justifications to go into these other regions and continue to wage their blood sacrifice is called wars it's a it's a self-imposed noose around the neck all by a bunch of mental midgets who are trapped in the arc complex of the brain and addicted to adrenaline you know and think it has to be this way because they have no imagination and I'll be damned if I'm going to be ruled by people like that not without a fight not without consequence there will be consequence trust it know it know it like you know your name not going to go quietly into the night not this one not this one and I know there's a lot of people who join me in that sentiment a lot a whole lot and at times coming because we're not what we're not doing the great work in enough absolute force we don't have the force of numbers that we need to accomplish the work to do this in mind which is why I keep trying to impress upon people the imperative of the time that we are act you need to speak this to these people I was saying the other night when I went on Popeye showing on truth frequency the other last night on down the rabbit hole I want to start a campaign that is about reaching the military and the police because ultimately if we don't reach these people there's gonna be absolute bloodbath on the earth that's what's coming okay we have to reach their mindset to change it that's what the great work is folks if you haven't figured that out yet you're not paying attention you're not paying attention if that's if you don't understand that so I want to do something called cut off the causers maybe somebody can come up with an even better name but you know just just kicking it around kicking around the idea and discussing some people we need to set and people think of this is is what I'm about to say the equivalent of guilting someone guess there's a reason that guilt exists there is a reason that the emotion of guilt exists it is to be felt just like anger there's a reason for to exist than it is to be felt when something is going wrong that is on that is something that is unjust iniquities are taking place around us inequities are taking place around us injustice is taking place all around us that's what anger is therefore to be felt in the physiology so that you will get up off your rear end and get motivated to do something to change that condition well guilt is there for a reason - it's to make people understand that what they're doing is immoral and believe me I felt my fare more than my fair share of it in my life and that emotion helped me to come out of the dark satanic mindset that I was once in that these police and military are still in so we I want to set some a couple of dates like one day we start you know and we it's a campaign we're gonna relentlessly hammer on the minds of military and police personnel with information their families have to do it their friends have to do it anybody you know that is connected with these institutions anybody you know that's in banking government finance military police etc so any control based institution [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I want to go just finish going over this idea for sort of a concentrated campaign of sorts to start hammering the truth of natural law into people and get them to understand that what they're doing is wrong and needs to stop you know this is what people don't want to hear they don't want to hear they want to hear Oh tell me what I should be doing no I'm gonna tell you what you should stop doing that's the solution the solution lies in the negative pathway this is what the New Age nonsense troglodytes you know don't want you to understand you know all the people who have bought the new New Age kool-aid you know they want they want you to think oh it's all about building something new no it's called stop doing what you're doing that's immoral and then the world will change it won't be enslaved anymore no one wants to hear that though they want to hear some crazy over-the-top complicated solution involving you know doing all kinds of new things well you know what that's not the way that the world is going to change we don't need anything new we need to stop doing what we're currently doing that we have no right to continue to do that's the solution there's the solution ladies and gentlemen and no one wants to hear that you want to know why it firmly places the responsibility on their shoulders you're the one who's causing it by your behavior and they don't want to hear that they don't want to hear it now because it's always somebody else it's always pointing the finger you know so I want to do some kind of a campaign like where we tell the actual causes of the problem meaning the people who are working in the control based institutions that they're the people who are causing slavery on this planet over a sustained campaign of like six months to a year and then at the end of that through the whole time we're giving them ultimatums ultimatums um as your wife I'm leaving you if you don't change and stop doing this job within six months to a year I'm out and I'm going to drag you through the courts and take you for half of everything use their system against them I'm gonna I'm going to sue for full custody of the children so you never see your children again because I think you're a psychopathic lunatic that children shouldn't be around you know that's how hardcore we need to get we need to start making these people 100% do what they're doing with no support from us the idea of supporting these people needs to be withdrawn withdrawn is that guilting them yes it is is that right yes it is yes it is somebody would have every right to withdraw all interactions with another human being disown them as their family member how about if a mother said to their child who's in the military I'm not proud of you you're a disgrace you're a dog of some psychopathic lunatic a so-called elitist the thinks of themselves as god of this world and you're there order following pet and I don't wanna yeah you're not my son how about that you're disowned and anything I'm not leaving you a thing when I'm when I'm gone not a thing you're cut off you're cut out cut out of my will of everything I don't even want to call you son how about that you know see we need to put pressure this is what no one wants to hear pressure is required to create change you're not you're not just gonna happen willfully something - these people are not just gonna say oh my god I was wrong the whole time somebody's gonna have to make them see it and no one wants to hear that you want to know why it has nothing to do with New Age garbage that's why they don't want to hear that because it's a full expression of the masculine force of truth and the so-called Christians out there don't even get me started these fake Christians and they think they are they have anything in common with the words and the message of Christ in the New Testament who said he came here to bring a sword of action between people a sword that would cleave people and create division because there would be those who stand in truth on one side and those who stand in satanic deception on the other side and these fake Christians have the nerve to say oh it's all just about belief you know you just need to accept the this astra theological image as your Lord and Savior it's not about right action Nathan you haven't even read their own scriptures they're there but they're another bunch of clowns these religionists which brings us to the next section to wrap up this this overarching question of why would government's want to cover this all up about interaction with non-human entities throughout human history well that brings us to the ultimate folks and um you're going to see a progression that I was leading to here okay just to wrap up that campaign I was talking about you know at that at that point we need you know at the the the one year or six month point maybe then we say we're cut cutting you off we're not going to continue to support you we don't want to be your family member we don't want you in our lives you know if mothers sisters brothers fathers daughters did that maybe we'd start to make some progress on these people because just sweet talking to them and handing them a DVD that you know they're never gonna watch isn't gonna isn't gonna get it done folks it's not gonna get it done it's not the way to do the great work okay if you think that's all it's gonna take you're sickeningly naive and you don't understand the level of absolute satanic illusion and ego calcification that we are up against and what it is going to take to break that mindset you don't get it yet you got to understand it's going to take a level of extremity that most human beings are not yet prepared for and now is the time to start talking about these strategies and methodologies and to start formulating them and doing them the third reason that this overarching cover-up continues and the main reason it continues is the continued acceptance to get people to continue to accept traditional traditional religious and scientist dogma through the suppression of the truth about human origins about how we came to be the people that we are on this planet and how we came into the current human condition and there's two overarching paradigms or dogmatic worldviews that postulates to tell us how we came into this condition and why we are the people that we are and that is the scientism dogmatic worldview of Darwinism and let me tell you something Darwin was probably the single individual who did the most to harm the entire human species one human being who did the most amount of damage on the human mind in the history of the species was Charles Darwin because what he got people to accept as a religion with no actual scientific proof yes with no actual proof in the fossil record where he himself said it would need to be discovered with many transitional species and not a one has ever been found linking ancient hominids to human to modern humans not one and if you think it has been go find me the proof you will not be able to do it no one will because there is not one shared bone in a hominid skeleton that is shared with a human being skeleton and there is not one transitional species that has ever been discovered with a shared bone between those two species 0 and any anthropologist or biologists will admit that fact if they're telling you the truth and not lying to you and people want to take to our winni and macro biological evolutionary theory as gospel truth as if it has somehow been 100% proven as law in the universe I feel sorry for anybody who's in that mindset because it is a complete scientism left-brain worldview prison and it's just as ridiculous as the creationist worldview the earth is only six thousand years old the Creator put us all here to test this you know and the literalist interpretation the biblical worldview their religion propagates there's your right brain form of imbalance [Music] pick this up on the other side stay with us [Music] you know the day destroys the night night divided today tried to run try to hide welcome back ladies and gentlemen third and final hour of what on earth is happening for this evening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm I want to wrap up some of the points that I was making about the reasons that all the governments of the earth have universally decided to continue the embargo on the truth regarding the interaction with human beings by non-human intelligences regardless of what their nature may be and we made three basic points that the first reason is to continue control if you think about that what is the role what institution fulfills that role government okay they're the ones who are actually performing the actual control the physical control of human beings the second was the continuity of the fake monetary system that is ultimately backed by oil and the oil cartels so now we have the monetary systems the protection of that paradigm as the second reason and the third reason was the perpetuation of religious dogma and religious belief systems whether it is traditional right brained cultural religious belief systems New Age belief systems or scientism left-brain belief systems it's all religion no matter how you want to break it down or look at it it's just whether it's a left brain imbalanced form of religion or a right brain and balanced form of religion but ultimately they do that through the suppression of our true origins why why does that ultimately keep the paradigm of slavery in place well it keeps this idea that this is how it should be in place in the minds of people and that's the death of the imagination well if it should be like this and if it's okay and if it's right for it to continue what do I need to do to why should I try to change anything I can't change anything that's just the perpetual quote natural order of the way things are absolute bunk nonsense there's nothing natural about what's happening on this planet and it most certainly doesn't in any way resemble order it is the 100% artificially imposed mind control based system of chaos and slavery and disorder if you think this is the natural order you are mentally sick literally I'm sana I'm not even saying this like as some kind of a ad hominem attack I'm telling you literally the fact of the matter is that you have a damaged neocortical brain if you got a brain scan it would verify it anybody who has that kind of a worldview is still in a state where one of the brain hemispheres is so chronically imbalanced that it has destabilized the entire neocortical of structure of the brain and the electrochemical activity that has taken place in the neocortical brain is screwed up and a brain scan would show it ladies and gentlemen there would be physical tangible scientific evidence that there's mental illness present in you if that's your worldview if you think that's the natural order you're mentally ill literally again it's not an ad hominem attack I'm trying to explain literally that is the evidence of a broken brain if that worldview is present the brain is broken so ultimately we've gone forward in ascending order of power when it comes to maintenance of this control and slavery system governments actually at the bottom remember when I talked about back on for a former podcast the unholy trinity the three basic forms of mind control that keep everything in a state of slavery government is the child it's the thing that came last it's the thing that was born out of the other two the monetary system is what is the mother to that child it's what run the government it's what makes the government do what it does people thinking that I have to do this for money I have to have a job this is part of my identity this is part of what I do but ultimately it's religion that's running the show folks and it always has been and if you don't understand that if you think religion has waned you don't know anything about the first thing about what's really going on on this world religion is still as firmly entrenched and in charge of this planet as it ever has been ever has been it is all about religion and how it needs to be ended all forms of it all false religions there's only one true religion truth itself that's it that's the only thing that's capable of reuniting you with your divine essence which we have all fallen from truth is the only force that can do that no religion on the face of the earth certainly not government authority certainly not the monetary system nor the New Age movement or any of the cultural religions has the power to do that sorry to burst your bubble religionists but get over it and religion is protecting that more than anything else religion and science shake hand on hands on this because neither one of them will even go near the third alternative which is interventionism the interventionist theory of how the human condition came to be the way it is they will look at that no they want to protect their little paradigms of Darwinism and the poisoned worldview of original sin etc it's all the same thing saying humans are just like this see you can't people can't understand these are the same ideologies there's nothing really different it's just in the approach there's adopt there's a scientist in a white lab coat tell you that human beings are are bad from from there you know from their genes you know or does religions tell you that God you know made us with original sin we were just made with original sin because we went against God's wishes in the garden and take this literalist interpretation of the Bible it's all points to the same overarching worldview humans are just fundamentally bad and flawed by their nature and it always has been this way and it always must be this way therefore don't even bother to try to create any change in the world now it has nothing to do with how people think because their behaviors are driven by how they think and how somebody thinks is changeable you're not a programmed robot that must behave a certain way you have free will this is what both of these paradigms dismiss it's the scientism paradigm of Darwinism macro biological Darwinian theory and social Darwinism postulates essentially there's no such thing as free will everything's just controlled by genes and then the religious paradigm well God's keeping it like this because we disobeyed him and therefore we just has to be this way it's all nonsense it's all bunk something did happen to us and do something to us but it does not have to perpetually be that way human beings are capable of change human beings are capable of evolving human beings are capable of changing how they think and behave by an act of will by an act of will this is what is dismissed by both of these paradigms free will to make change okar and it is possible will we do it that's a whole different story and the reason they keep these paradigms in place is because one of the most effective ways to control a whole population this is the last slide for tonight slide 11 one of the most effective ways to control an entire population is to cut people off from the knowledge of their true origins because our true origins tell us about where we came from and they inform us of who we are now why we are the Bing now that we have become doesn't mean we have to perpetually be that doesn't mean that's just how it is and that's it just tough it can't be changed no it doesn't mean that but it does tell us about who we are right now in the moment and how we got to be that person that's a course heading we learn about where we've been in the course that we're currently on and when we have that information in hand then we're in an empowered position to change that course your calls on the other side of the break stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm I'm going to go to the phones and take your calls on this topic let's go to Patty in Illinois patty you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark absolutely thanks so much for calling will you have for us tonight I have been listening to your podcast since the beginning and I'm actually on number of like 35 and you're talking about imagination and it made me think of one of the podcasts I just listened to on better living through alchemy where you have like a I think I'm something about the key to life and death and it was imagination and and apparently is the only thing that can actually create what the ancient alchemists referred to as the Philosopher's Stone the state of consciousness by which we could create real positive change for the human species that cannot be done without the imagination it is the key to that formula exactly and for myself I have been finding that to be incredibly empowering I am I work as a college professor I teach students going into the medical field and and I see the limitations of these students that are getting brainwashed by allopathic medicine with with with the Rockefeller protocols and that the BA don't you know that the body is just a mechanised robotic machine and nutrition has nothing to do with any of it it's all about just the interactions of molecules that's all you know there it's all there just purpose purposeless you know it has nothing to do with energy certainly has nothing to do with the food we take in you know that's all absolutely based on you know ancient Newtonian paradigm and worldview you know brought into the human body now we're going to apply Newtonian dynamics of physical objects to the human body it makes perfect sense to me doesn't make perfect sense to you Patti one of the mechanisms of mind control for these for these young students coming into the field and you're right it it is a very mechanistic way of looking at life we have reduced life to something that can be manipulated and something that is not a magical wonderful and you know just full of possibilities no I find it hard because I went to medical school and I left medical school because I I felt the brainwashing beginning when I was in my third year of med school and I started doing clinical rotations I didn't want to be a drug pusher I had to leave that system and and I'm teaching in the field because I am passionate about talking about the human body but I'm trying to get across to my students the truth without going against the system and you know one of the things you talked about was we have to start being forceful with this message you can't hold back anymore and so you know when one of my students asked me about chemotherapy I flat-out tell them you know this is a cocktail of drugs that kill cells it killed the same immune cells that you need to fight cancer so if you think that's you know beneficial for our person was dying of cancer you know happen I have to give them the truth and let them come up with the conclusion and it's gonna take courage to do that and it may even come to a point where you might have to take a chance of putting your job on the line this is what we need more people to step up and do and you know the more people who do that the faster things are going to change Patti I want to thank you for your courage and thank you for your call great points and insights let's go to another caller let's hear from Rob and Equador Rob you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark hey Tim hi Rob welcome yes so down here in Ecuador I've been showing your natural or presentation over over several weeks to a group of people great bit of a statement here before a couple of I've got it seems your your method of teaching does nothing to overcome the cognitive dissonance that listeners may experience as a result of considering what you're teaching and you make no apology for that I know further I think you might it might be fair to describe your approach as going for the low-hanging fruit and I think I've heard you say words the effect of your style is your style maybe others can can do the babysitting and I and listening to various of your podcasts and so on it seems that it's almost did we lose you rob if you're still there yeah hi there he really is okay continue sorry it's a it's a VoIP connection from South America so yeah I I was just going on there maybe maybe it's even a disservice to try and wake people who what who don't want to be absolutely not I have to 100% completely disagree that is what we are here to do see the New Age movement has people convinced of this absolutely convinced that that is the correct way to go about doing things that's what's gotten us here my friend that's why we're in a situation of slavery that's the very reason because people said well it doesn't make a difference to me what he thinks what she thinks what they think they're entitled to their own opinion doesn't make a damn bit of difference whether that opinion says has anything to do with truth or morality and Who am I to say something to them that's the exact reason we're enslaved the exact reason think about that and okay New Age movement wants to convince people that that's the proper approach to take in this world just let it go let it be what it is don't exercise your will what happens see let me explain something and Rob I thank you for your call okay I want to explain something to folks regarding this of you and how dangerous it is okay there are two forces at work in the universe this is what see this ideology which is what it is comes forward from not understanding the truth about the occult someone who takes this approach does not understand the occult at all at all there are two forces at work in the universe there is an entropic force that breaks things down and prevents ordering and makes things further and further chaotic and when it comes to the will enslaves it in the scientific terminology this force is known as entropy in the occult terminology this force is known as involution the force of involution which means to tighten up inward to curl inside not to unfurl and to allow to unfold and flower but to ball up and suppress okay that means you're not using the will to order things that means you're not using the will to choose the difference between right and wrong and speak that to others that means you're not controlling yourself and taking control over your voice which is what ultimately orders the mind and by extension orders the universe the universe is spoken into existence and there are too few people who are ordering it therein lies the problem thank you rob for your call because you just explained to all the listeners the fundamental problem of our world that is the fundamental overarching problem of the human condition we want to allow that force of involution to go don't exert the will because that is the hardest thing to do see it all comes back to will folks free will the gift of the Creator what are we doing with it yeah what are we doing with it [Music] we gotta wake up from our sleep ladies and gentlemen and that is what I am desperately attempting to assist people with if only they will hear the message this isn't going to happen on its own this is what religion wants to tell people is that's how the way the world works we are the ones who are in control of this process we do it or it doesn't get done people have to start to understand what the great work really is and they still don't get it as I was saying before the break there are two forces in nature involution is the force the entropic force in nature that breaks everything down prevents ordering within systems and creates chaos and this has been called the satanic force in the occult world as well then there is the ordering principle this is the force of evolution it is the ordering principle in nature and when we stand in that force and align ourselves with what is with the truth with morality then that force of evolution creates for us more and more freedom that is the essential law of attraction in operation throughout the entire universe and it's what every occult school of wisdom has attempted desperately to teach the people of this planet and it's what every dark occult mystery tradition has attempted to prevent the people of Earth from understanding because that's how you keep them enslaved and it is an act of will that will order things and that will create freedom for human beings it is not a process that is in the hands of anybody else biological evolution gets us up to a certain point and then the process is taken over by that little thing called free will and as I asked before the break what are we doing with it well you could imagine that most people are just absolutely defecating on it okay put another colorful expletive in there of your choice all right so look I'm sorry for the intensity people okay but the whole point here is there is no time left we're out we're out of time folks in case you don't understand what's going on in the world you need to open your eyes look around if you can't tell the house is on fire I feel sorry for you I don't know what to tell you we need to express this imperative there's no more time the sweet talk to these people the great work is waking the dead if you're not if you don't have the willpower to do that then admit that you're not involved and get off the playing field that's it I'm not here to talk to the people who aren't going to do that work the entire point of this show and all of my work is not to talk to the dead why would I the whole point is to make new teachers who do fully understand these dynamics so that we can cause a course of resounding truth throughout the earth and when we do that we're gonna wake the dead but not until not until we understand what that great work is and we start to give our will to the will of creation to do that great work that's what doing the true will means and that's what people still don't understand in massive enough numbers let's go to Daniel in Ohio Daniel you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark can you hear me yes I can coming in loud and clear mark I just wanted to thank you for all the work that you've done I've worked my way through your podcast twice now and it's it's really just helped me see the I mean this world for what it really is you blendin honor and uh dr. Jim Byrne on YouTube I mean you guys have just completely turned my life around and almost inexplicable terms but uh what I was calling I thank you for that compliment I consider myself in good company with those gentlemen that you just mentioned I mean I thank you so much for introducing me to Leno on that is the vision of manhood podcast is good for anyone absolutely absolutely I mean just brilliant work brilliant why I can't recommend Lennon highly enough it's really good stuff well just say I like the way you you thanked me for what I do I helped you to wake yourself up I didn't do it for you you did it by an act of your will you did that all I did was say hey you might want to take a look at this that's all I'm just an aggregator of the grammar that's out there you know of the basic building blocks of information that people really need to take into themselves if they want to wake themselves up and you know that's what my work is here to do and it is hard work it's not easy I put so much time people don't see the amount of time that goes into this I've sacrificed a good portion of my life to do this work and in these things don't just get made you know you know nothing just happens by accident you have to sit you have to do the research you have to organize it logically you have to do the graphics you have to do the text I mean you know it's it's not something that just happens automatically every single thing on my website ladies and gentlemen I put up there myself I don't have a webmaster I don't have a webmaster I mean think I learned this the you know communication skills and the the computer skills to do that that's what I basically do for making fake money you know I do tutoring and you know technical support work and building websites and stuff like that but you know thank God that background is there you know and I can do that but and people think that just happens magically on its own that's hard work ladies and gentlemen it takes a lot of time to get done that most people are paid a lot of money to do I receive no compensation for that for that work so you know except in the form of voluntary donations that people find value in it and that's fine you know if they want to contribute I won't turn down a donation I do have a donation button on the page to help assist me with the expenses of daily life and helping contribute to the household in which I live so you know uh but I just want to thank you Daniel for the way you phrased that and you said I simply assisted in that process you did the work to wake yourself up I was an assistant in that work that's what an alchemist really is an assistant to the great work definitely and you might want to do like Lennon did you know like he he made an affirmation to the universe that you know because of the work that he's done and because of the people that he knows he has helped that he deserves he knows that he deserves for the people that have that he has helped for them to help him out monetarily because because is something that we unfortunately need in this crazy world and people people like myself and Lennon we will role most of that back into the work that we are doing you think this doesn't require equipment it you think it doesn't require buying DVDs it doesn't require a printer ink you know it doesn't require an in a fast internet can action which I laughingly call my internet connection fast that's not you know nothing but it's not a real modern high-speed Internet connection this crappy DSL line that I suffer through because off FiOS hasn't come fiber optic internet hasn't come into my neighborhood yet unfortunately but yeah I mean I hear what you're saying you know what we do deserve some abundance in our life to help us to do this work because worst a few of the few people who are actually doing it absolutely absolutely people out there if you can hear me I'm gonna do the Boston Cincinnati style have some fucking passion okay you have to watch our we have to watch our language because we're going out or AM and FM affiliates as well so no problem yes have some freaking passion okay all this stuff about you know you talk to people and if you have any kind of passion in your voice people want to not listen to you or anything like that forget that it's too late for that and we we had to take things into another level that's I just have a quick story here moving into a new house and there's a pond right behind it and I told you know parts of my family that I didn't want any fishing on it just simply because I didn't want any animals can be harmed and it's called it's literally caused a rift in my family just because of it I would never in a million years thought that that would have happened what it has and it's causing so many problems it's amazing just because through you know through through apophysis I didn't want it an action to be done but they feel like they have the right to ingress upon that and in and be pissed off about it it's so crazy Daniel thank you for sticking to your guns and employing your will and waking yourself up to the extent that you have and now getting involved in the process of helping to wake others up that's what it's all about thanks so much for the call we'll pick up with your calls on the other side stay with us welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening this is the last segment for this evening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm let's see if we could squeeze in a few more calls let's go to Raphael in Indiana you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi Marc oh I just wanted to mention I came across an article talked about 15 years later in the matrix still has us and just wanted to make a comment that that presentation alone you did did wonders for helping me wake up and realize exactly what you know kind of happening in this world and not to mention all your podcast but going back to what you mentioned earlier about the police and these order followers a lot of it you know as you mentioned through your podcast there's a lot of it stems from like its care yeah they're like robots and you know it's both in it all stands down to the general public for because like of care is because they don't care because it doesn't happen to them as long as they're in little world it doesn't matter as long as they get their paycheck because you know you mentioned in your previous podcast is like the brutality and things that happened in the G 20s anybody who watches those videos it's like it's just either just amazed at what what goes on and but people don't care because it's not happening to them yeah and see that care that true care we're not talking about familial love or romantic love we're talking about true care about what's actually taking place from a moral perspective that is the force that ultimately drives the will or needs to drive the will if we're to create positive change and until we can get more and more people to develop that true sense of care what I call care with a capital C you know don't expect things to magically change on their own here care has to drive the right action through the will in order for actual positive change to become manifested in our world that's the real law of attraction folks not this bunk New Age variant that's being taught by all these self-help gurus who just want to make a quick buck by tell people what they want to hear they don't want to come out and tell people it's hard to create real change because you really have to deeply care you have to get out of your poisoned nonsense worldview about how evil human beings are and can't ever change and you got to start working on yourself and other people you know that's what real care is all about and if we apply it with our free will there's no force of nature that can hold us back that's what the evolutionary force is ultimately all about that's what is that's what drives it care and the will and then of course understanding and knowledge you know and then we apply that and that's wisdom and that's what drives the force of evolution the ordering principle in nature it's a Raphael anything else I just wanted to come and I just can't take we know for your passion your intensity and everything you do I appreciate that thank you very much thanks so much let's hear from Ivan and Phoenix Ivan welcome my friend Ivan in Phoenix are you are you there yeah I'm here there he is I can hear you now all right good have you been well everything is good and you doing well still doing a great work they're not gonna stop yeah we hope you've never stopped I've listened to some of your last few shows here the last week and I even message barb that you sounded pretty intense and she messaged back that she can hear you upstairs that you were very loud you know some of your shows well there's no question I'm feeling an energetic shift in intensity it's like the universe is saying to the spiritual warriors on this planet right now step up your game boys and girls because you're on the verge of something now is not the time to let it let it M okay now is the time to move forward and press forward we need to keep up the pressure keep up the pressure that is what this whole time period right now is about I can feel it every bone in my body and that's what that intensity is reflecting yeah yeah I agree with you let me see I have so many ideas and so short amount of time let me try and focus real quick you brought up the word order that's something that I was thinking about about a month ago the word order we don't think about that word too much but every we want a world of order but yes every day we go about placing orders right we're on line spacing on order for what we want we go to a restaurant or a school place or any place and we submit an order for what we want and certainly yet we're doing that all the time because we want you know mommy or daddy government to vote or past this or do that so we're always ordering things that we don't realize that we're ordering when we place votes or pray or go to some church or for somebody to arrest us or constantly put submitting orders and then your about getting something in return for the placement of that order Yeah right in many cases it doesn't resemble order at all in many cases it's absolute chaos right because we're people who are subconsciously ordering what they don't want right exactly I think going back to your topic of your show tonight it just real quickly the movie Noah oh you're that and it's pretty interesting how a lot of the religious people's aren't don't really like that right you know so uh connection with like God or anything but I think what they don't like is that they show this is a spoiler for people who haven't seen it but you know it's been out several weeks they should have seen it right now this base shows supposedly like the

Angels they're light and they get cursed and we get turned into rock no it it's be well they show other earthly or unearthly beings with Noah and they're interacting like that's going on I'm like hello you know they call them the Watchers in the movie I went to see it I highly recommend this movie people should definitely go and see it and you'll understand why a big furor is being raised by the community because they want the one of the movie to tell the literalist interpretation of the biblical story when in fact what this movie is actually about is the interaction with ancient human beings of non-human entities that came to this planet and had factions among them that interacted with human beings in different ways some of them wanted to uplift human beings and some of them wanted them vehemently viciously control human beings and you know the the faction that is the the Creator in this movie is the one that warns human beings about a coming calamity on the earth and that you know the human life was going to be wiped out and I'll help certain contingency of human beings to survive that Cataclysm so it's definitely a story about the ancient past and I I kind of really liked up kind of the message of the movie was that human beings are ultimately in control of how we move forward you know it's not up to the the all-powerful fate of some creator it is it is about what what we think about ourselves are we worthy of moving forward and evolving you know it's a it's a self an idea of self when it comes to our worldview you know are we worthy of something more than this are we worthy of something more than then slavery and chaos and destruction and strife you know and this is part of the problem so many people don't think that we are because they're still in the state of self-loathing they're still in that state of self-loathing brought on by these traumatic you know conditions and in that psychological state of abandonment that leads to self loathing and then that leads to them not want to take personal responsibility to change things the all of these underlying themes were present in the movie and it left I left I think the movie left on a pretty up a powerful empowering note that you know the the main character ultimately had to see that there was worth in humanity and it was worthy to go forward and continue and evolve and become something more than it previously was so I highly recommend the film I definitely thought it was pleasantly surprising to me in contained so much more than what I was even expecting and then synchronize eclis you know every time I call you there's some synchronicity happening I did not know what your topic this evening was gonna be and earlier today I could want an older season King Basin book the mist and there was a moon right there's a movie that ties into what you were talking about this evening about extraterrestrial or unearthly beings or entities or things that exist and how humanity shrugs it off and like no that's not possible and all real quick people should see the myth it shows the three types of people the ones left brain right brain and the ones open that that can accept what impossible and how it addresses everything on different religion to the logical thinking people and how everybody is wrong in there also a great allegorical film I definitely recommend that one as well yeah great points Ivan always a pleasure to hear from you ladies and gentlemen that's really all the time we have for this edition of what on earth is happening that brings us to the end of the show hope you've enjoyed listening to the show tonight remember there are only two mistakes that one can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way oh and one more thing don't you ever say die [Music]
